MINNESOTA
HISTORICAL SOCIETY

START

CROOKSTON
POLK COUNTY
JOURNAL

JAN 3 THRU OCT 10
1901 1901

1901

1901

Title: (Crookston) POLK COUNTY JOURNAL

25:39 - 26:27

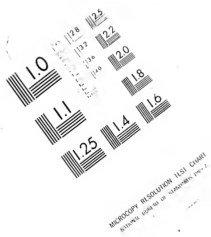
Inclusive Dates: Jan 3 1901 Oct 10 1901

43- 3-1980

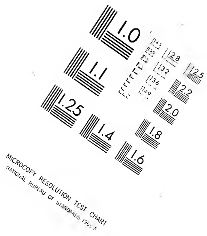
Originals held by: MHS x Other ___

Prepared by: Owens	Date: 2/25/80	Format: 1A x 2B
Filmed by: Seebeck	Date: 3-6-80	Camera No. Red 7
Reduction Ratio: 14	Voltmeter .27/84 + 82	No. Expos.
Prelim. Inspection by:	Date:	Density:
Target Resolution: _______/mm	O.K. ___ Reject ___	Length:

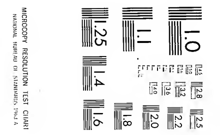
The Minnesota Historical Society has reproduced the material in this microfilm without any purpose of direct or indirect commercial advantage in order to preserve and secure it for private study, scholarship, and research. The material herein reproduced may be protected by copyright law (Title 17, U.S. Code). Any person engaging in further reproduction of this material may be liable for infringement.



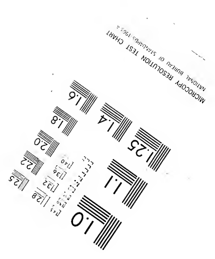
MICROCOPY RESOLUTION TEST CHART
NATIONAL BUREAU OF STANDARDS 1963-A



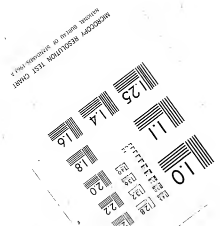
MICROCOPY RESOLUTION TEST CHART
NATIONAL BUREAU OF STANDARDS 1963-A



MICROCOPY RESOLUTION TEST CHART
NATIONAL BUREAU OF STANDARDS 1963-A



MICROCOPY RESOLUTION TEST CHART
NATIONAL BUREAU OF STANDARDS 1963-A



MICROCOPY RESOLUTION TEST CHART
NATIONAL BUREAU OF STANDARDS 1963-A

Bind

January 3 - October 10

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Historical Society

Polk County Journal

Vol. XXV CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY, 3, 1901 No. 39

BIG INCREASE

Reported by the Officers of the United States Land Office for the last Quarter,

INCLUDES P. L. SALE

The Gain in December Nearly Ten Times that of Same Month Last Year.

The officers of the local government land office, by special effort and labor, succeeded in completing all reports of the large volume of business done during the last quarter of the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1900. From these figures, which include the recent pine land sale, it will be seen by a comparison, that the business is immensely greater than that in the corresponding period last year. The figures for the quarter just ended, including homestead entries, homestead entries on reservations, final homestead, final lumber culture claims, and cash entries foot up a total of $234,150.24, as against $25,597.46 in the corresponding quarter last year.

The business for the month of December last year also is greatly in excess of the same month in 1899, the total for 1900 being $19,982.18 as against $7,345.34 the preceding year, all of which is a very gratifying showing for the land office here.

The new year starts out well, as up to noon today seven final homesteads, one cash proof and six homestead entries were filed.

MERCIL-BENOIT.

A Happy Marriage Celebrated at High Noon Tuesday.

At high noon Tuesday occurred the marriage of Onezime Mercil to Miss Eudoxie Marie Benoit, Rev. Father Grandchamp officiating. The ceremony took place at the residence of Frank Benoit, 428 South Ash street, who is a brother of the bride, and the rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers. Eddie Page and Albert Benoit acted as service boys.

The bride wore a tannish lavendar color dress, while the groom was attired in conventional black and carried American beauty roses. The contracting parties were attended by the groom's father and Mr. Julian Benoit, eldest brother of the bride, and only the nearest relatives witnessed the happy event.

Many handsome and costly presents were received from friends in this city and abroad, and congratulations poured in likewise from the large circle of friends and relatives of the new couple.

The bridal party, accompanied by relatives of this city, drove out to Gentilly, where a family gathering took place at the home of the groom's parents Wednesday.

The Journal extends its well wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Mercil, and bespeaks for the happy pair a pleasant future.

THE COLUMBIA CLOSED.

With the Beginning of 1901, Crookston Has One Hotel Less.

Henry Stechman, who for the last nine months has been conducting the Columbia hotel near the Great Northern track on Robert street, has decided to withdraw as manager of that hostelry and closed it up last Monday evening and stored his furniture and household goods until he can find a new location.

The closing of the hotel, Mr. Stechman says, is due to lack of patronage and the high rate of expense in operating the same. He left this morning for the Blackduck country, where he expects to find a suitable location for a new eating house.

MANY ARE COMING.

Next Spring Will Mark Heavy Immigration Here From Iowa.

J. H. Engel, a prominent Iowa real estate man, who visits this section very frequently in the interest of land seekers from his state, returned home Tuesday after a week's inspection of the farm land markets in the Red River Valley. To a Journal reporter Mr. Engel stated that next spring would certainly bring many Iowa farmers into this section of the valley, as many real estate men, both here and in his state, are securing large tracts of farm lands, which they in most cases quarter-section and sell these blocks to men who are seeking new homes. In most cases the new comers from Iowa are men of means and are experienced farmers.

DIES SUDDENLY

Albert H. Gaab is Stricken With Apoplexy and Passes Away.

The many friends of Albert H. Gaab, who for the last twenty months conducted the saloon business on the corner of Second and Main streets, will be shocked to learn of his sudden death, which occurred at 3:15 this afternoon at his place of business. This noon, just as he was leaving his place to go to dinner, he was taken with a severe attack of palpitation of the heart, and in a swoon fell to the ground. Medical aid was immediately summoned, and he was made as comfortable as possible, and for a time the physicians had hopes of saving his life. But the end came, without him ever regaining consciousness.

Deceased was about 35 years of age and came here from Fergus Falls upwards of two years ago. He leaves a sorrowing wife and an infant daughter. The widow is a sister of the Rauch brothers of this city.

The Journal extends its sincere sympathy to the sorrowing relatives and friends of the deceased.

THE DRAINAGE MEETING

Committees Met Last Evening to Perfect Arrangements.

In accordance with the call for a meeting of committees, who have charge of the program work for the forthcoming tri-state drainage convention, a number of members of the various committees met and made reports of the progress of the work. The committee on speakers stated that a number of prominent men, thoroughly interested and fully acquainted with the drainage movement, could be secured for the occasion. Among the list of names presented by the committee are such noted speakers as C. G. Elliott, of Tonica, Ill., Secretary of State Albert Berg, Major Edwards, Geo. B. Winship, John L. Gibbs, of Owatonna, Prof. W. R. Hoag of Minneapolis, and others.

Everything is moving along satisfactorily, and the convention will, undoubtedly, prove a success.

SAW THEM MARRIED.

Several Crookston People Witness an Anoka Marriage.

Mrs. J. N. Nelson and Miss Grace Lusian, accompanied by Gus Alstrom, assistant Great Northern ticket agent, of this city, returned from Anoka Wednesday, where they witnessed the marriage ceremony in which Miss Winnie Langford and Rev. Bachelder, both of Anoka, were pronounced man and wife yesterday morning. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Nelson of this city and the groom is a popular minister of the gospel of Anoka.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

The Gopher Club's Masquerade a Splendid Success.

The new century was ushered in by the Gopher club of this city, with their annual masquerade, which was given at the Crookston Monday evening. Forty or more couples were present and Hall's orchestra of Grand Forks furnished the music. As only members of the club were present, the attendance is considered very good.

Dancing began at 9 o'clock and continued until 2:30 in the New Year's first day. The dancers unmasked at 11 o'clock.

MAKE SOME CHANGES.

County Commissioners Decide to Improve the Jury Room.

The county commissioners composing the building committee of the new court house, held a session yesterday for the purpose of making some alterations in the jury room of the new building. After thoroughly examining into the proposed changes, the committee concluded to remove the petit jury box and replace the vacancy with adequate chairs and seats.

A number of changes and improvements were also ordered for the court room floor, the court room to be supplied with chairs for the grand jury when in court, and several urinals to be placed in the upper story for the accommodation of the public in attendance at court times.

AT IT AGAIN.

Judge Watts Reconvenes District Court This Morning After a Tuesday's Recess.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR

The First Case is Tried Behind Closed Doors Because of its Vileness.

District court convened Wednesday morning after the New Year's recess, and the first case called was that of the state against Bert Johnson.

The defendant is charged with a nameless crime, framed by the legal fraternity, crime against nature. Because of its vileness Judge Watts ordered the taking of testimony behind closed doors. There are several charges of a similar nature, and in the one tried this morning Martin Martensen appeared as the witness for the state. Judge Montague is defending the prisoner, who is a married man and resides on a farm in the west end of the county.

Shortly after dinner the case was given to the jury, and the verdict of this trial will in all probability decide the balance of the indictments returned against Johnson by the grand jury.

Late in the afternoon Judge Watts sentenced Johnson to five years in State prison at hard labor.

In the Kelley case the jury was out nearly all night, and acting upon the damaging testimony given against the defendant, returned a verdict of guilty. Kelley was charged with stealing logs from the Crookston Lumber company. The defendant's attorney, Geo. A. E. Finlayson, asked for a 20 days' stay of proceedings, and sentenced has been stayed.

The Francis Case

When district court convened this morning, the case of Harvey & Co. vs. the Red Lake Falls Lumber Company was first called, but as the action came up amended, and the attorneys for the defense were not ready for trial, the case was postponed to the next term.

The next case brought up, and which is now on trial and may occupy the court the remainder of the week, was the Francis-Carver shooting affair, which occurred at the Fosston fair last fall. During the horse races that were pulled off at the fair, Francis, who is a Bemidji barber, and Carver, the Fosston farmer and lumberman, got into a quarrel about some trivial matter, and Francis pulled a gun from his pocket and shot his opponent in the leg. He was arrested, but gave bonds for his appearance in court when wanted. A great many witnesses have been subpoened on both sides, and the taking of all the testimony will probably require more than two days.

County Attorney Street, of Bemidji, and L. E. Gossman, of this city, appear for the defendant, and County Attorney Holston, assisted by his partner, Hagen, conduct the case for the state.

The outcome of this case is watched with great interest.

PRISON BOARDERS

Sheriff Nygaard Will Move to Halstad.

Sheriff Nygaard, of Beltrami county came in on the Duluth train Sunday with a prisoner, who gave his name as Joe Hanson, and who was sentenced by the city justice at Bemidji to serve sixty days for disorderly conduct.

To a Journal reporter the pine county officer stated that as soon as Theodore Lofgren, the murderer of Tom Hoy, who was stabbed to death by the former a week ago yesterday, had his preliminary hearing, he too would be brought to the Polk county jail for safe keeping until his trial would come off.

Sheriff Nygaard is making preparations to remove to Halstad in Norman county, as soon as his term of office expires, where he will engage in the mercantile business.

The Scheffer Law.

Ben McLaren, who is a resident of the Fifth ward, was arrested last evening for habitual drunkenness, and was tried before Judge McLean under the Scheffer law, and sentenced to five days in the county jail.

UNCLE JO'S COLUMN.

Well, we've had another Christmas. I've been thinkin' about the many Christmases that there has been since the blessed Christ was born, and how much these Christmas days have done for mankind. What a wonderful thought that was that the blessed Lord had when he came into the world as a little helpless baby and grew up and devoted his life to show us how we ought to live. And now the gentle bullowin' influence of that "Peace on earth, good will to men," has come tinglin' down through the ages, touchin' human hearts, and substitutin' love for hate. There's something about that thought that kind of makes folks ashamed of their meanness and selfishness more than anything I know of, but still folks don't let it influence their lives as they ought to.

* * *

What a lot of difference there is in folks. Some folks I know are just as gentle and kind to everybody as they can be, and are tryin' all the time to do all they can to make other folks good and happy. And then there's other folks that like to see their nabors enjoyin' theirselves, but they just as soon see 'em enjoyin' theirselves goin' to the devil as to see 'em do it doin' right and growin' better all the time. And then there is some people that are all bound up in theirselves and don't seem to know there is anybody else in the world that has a right to anything but themselves. Some people will agree with everything you say to 'em, and some people are so contrary that they won't agree to anything. I heard about a man once that was so contrary that he wouldn't eat anything that agreed with his stomach.

* * *

I think it would be a good idea to set the boys to skatin' on the sidewalks so as to cut the ice up and make it easier for people to walk on. I see the store keepers some of 'em leave the sidewalks right in front of their stores so icy and slippery folks can't hardly git across 'em. I thought that was a good idea the Journal suggested to 'em the other day to sprinkle a little salt on the ice, and I thought they'd do it right away. But they seem to think its just as well for folks to walk along in the middle of the road as it is to walk along close to their nicely decorated windows, and slip in once in a while and buy something.

Uncle Jo.

OFFERS $25,000

Omaha City Council Offers That Amount for Cudahy Abductors.

Omaha, Jan. 1.—The city council yesterday unanimously adopted a concurrent resolution, offering a reward of $25,000 for the apprehension and conviction of the desperadoes who abducted Edward Cudahy, Jr., on the night of Dec. 18. For the arrest and conviction of one, the resolution provides a reward of $8,000; for two, $15,000 will be paid, and the whole amount is offered for three principals. The council also asked Mr. Cudahy to withdraw his offer of a reward of an equal amount for the capture of the criminals. The object of the city,s offer is largely to relieve Mr. Cudahy and his family of the fear of reprisals from the bandits. But Mr. Cudahy refuses to withdraw his offer. He has adopted a plan of careful watchfulness over every member of his family however and a well armed guard is constantly on duty.

THE NEW SHERIFF

Will Soon Make Crookston His Permanent Headquarters.

Sheriff-elect Ed Sullivan was over from East Grand Forks yesterday and stated to a Journal representative that he expected to arrive in the city next Monday morning, to make arrangements for assuming the responsibilities of the office to which the people of Polk county elected him last fall. The new sheriff has decided to occupy the residence in the county jail.

E. D. Barness of Fosston, late republican candidate for judge of probate, who will be Sheriff Sullivan's jailor and turnkey, will arrive Sunday evening to remain permanently. His family, owing to the illness of a daughter, will arrive later on.

Valuable Wild Goose.

A sensation is reported to have been caused in New Westminster B. C. by the discovery of $12.50 in coarse gold in the crop of a wild goose, which was killed at Pitt Lake, 28 miles from Westminster. Many prospectors have started for the scene.

MAY GO FREE

The Alleged Circus Rioters Will Again Try to Obtain Release From Jail.

HEARING SATURDAY

Claim Evidence at Preliminary Hearing Was Insufficient to Hold Them.

Another effort is being made to release the employes of the Great Syndicate circus, now in the Duluth county jail, who were arrested last August by the state militia at Cloquet, and bound over to the grand jury from Cass county to answer to charges of riot. Judge Cant yesterday morning signed an order for a writ of habeas corpus returnable in special term of district court Saturday morning, when the question of whether these men should be left in jail until next May will again be argued.

As there is no Cass county grand jury until next May, the circus men will have served nine months in jail when their cases are heard, unless the court takes action in the meantime to free them. If they are indicted by the grand jury, they will have served that term without its being considered in their sentences, if they should be convicted.

In the petition asking the writ they state that they are now being held in jail without due reason, that the complaint on which they were arrested and on which they were bound over does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, that the complaint is not certain as to the offense charged, that it did not mention the petitioners by name, being made out against Doc. Baker, Richard Roe and others, and that the evidence adduced in the hearing before the Cass Lake justice of the peace did not give probable cause for holding them.

The evidence received in the Cass Lake hearing is made a part of the proceedings so the court will have an opportunity to pass upon the question of whether it was sufficient to warrant the justice in holding the petitioners to the grand jury. Copies of the complaint and warrant are also given.

CASE WAS REVERSED.

The Supreme Court Reverses a District Court Verdict.

The case of Miss LaLonde vs. Peake & Adams, which was tried in the district court some time ago, and in which $100 damages were allowed the plaintiff for injuries received in a fall down the defendants' cellar excavation while out horseback riding, has been reversed by the supreme court. Plaintiff had brought action to recover $1,000 damages, but the decision of the lower court even seemed too high for approval.

A. A. Miller and Halvor Steenerson appeared for the defendants and A. R. Holston and L. E. Gossman represented the plaintiff.

MRS. IGNATIUS DONNELLY

Was a Former Stenographer For a Crookston Firm.

The widow of the late Ignatius Donnelly was at one time a resident of this city, coming here from Minneapolis to accept a position as stenographer with Larsen & Carpenter, the machine dealers. Those who remember her state that she is a lady of refinement and high character. She was married to Mr. Donnelly at Minneapolis, Feb. 22, 1898, the marriage at the time creating somewhat of a sensation among the friends on both sides. However, their married life was very happy, and the young widow is deeply bowed by her bereavement.

WHO IS JUSTICE?

A Correspondent Finds Fault with the Journal's Criticism.

To the Editor of the Plaindealer:

The Crookston Journal seems to take great pleasure in roasting East Grand Forks owing to the fact that the grand jury found some indictments against houses of ill-fame in that city. As the grand jury was in this kind of business it might have been well to have done a little cleaning in the city of Crookston, and the same evil could have probably been found in that saintly city. If the Journal which seems to make a business of roasting, would lay their prejudices aside and do a little house cleaning at home it might be as well patronized.

—Justice.

The Journal does not know who "Justice" is, but it does know that Crookston is by far a better governed city morally, than its neighbor at the west end, and the "roasting" referred to by the above anonymous writer, was nothing more than a pointer for the g. j.

FROZEN TO DEATH

Body of Aged Settler Found In a Field Near Austin.

St. Paul, Jan. 1.—A special to the Pioneer Press from Austin Minn., says: James Rochford, aged over seventy years, and an old settler of this vicinity, was frozen to death this afternoon in a field three miles west of this city. His body had lain there for over a week. He left this city with a horse and buggy late Saturday night, Dec. 22, to his daughter's in Lyle. It was very dark and it is supposed that he lost the road, and driving over a rough plowed field, was thrown out and was not able to make his condition known, and so left to perish. He was not missed for several days as he was to be with relatives either here or in Lyle.

Mr. Rochford was a near relative of Tom and Geo. Young of Crookston and they feel deeply grieved at the unfortunate death of their relative whom they regarded very highly.

WASHING EXPLODED

Dynamite Caps and a Clothes Wringer Form Bad Combination.

Mrs. William Clark of Lost Creek, Pa., is in a serious condition, the result of an explosion of several dynamite caps. Mrs. Clark was washing her husband's work clothes, and while putting them through a wringer the caps, which were in a pocket, exploded, tossing her several feet against a hot stove with terrible force, blowing off her left hand, and so badly injuring her otherwise that it is feared she cannot recover.

HAS FULLY RECOVERED

The Percy Baker Victim at Halstad Now Out of Danger.

From latest reports received from Halstad, the scene of the recent shooting in which Percy Baker fired a bullet into the body of Nettie Larson, who had previously refused to marry him, the wounded woman has fully recovered, and has been visiting with friends in neighboring villages. At the time set for Baker's hearing at the November term of the district court at Ada, the girl was unable to appear against her assailant, and the case was postponed for several months.

Will Build Skyscraper

The Aetna Real Estate company has completed plans for a thirty-story building, to be erected the coming summer at the southeast corner of Thirty-Third street and Broadway. The building is to have a frontage of 118.6 feet on Broadway and 97.75 feet on Thirty-Third street, and will be 455 feet high, or 73 feet higher than any other building in New York. The building is to cost $2,500,000, and the site is valued at $1,500,000.

Notes From Exchanges.

Norman Co. Herald: E. L. Berg, the editor of the Borup Weekly Hustler and cashier of the Borup bank sprung a surprise on the boys last week by going to Minneapolis and wedding Miss Christie Sorenson. Berg had been claiming that he had been married for over four months and now that the boys are "on to" him they promise him a warm reception when he returns home.

Governor Pingree of Michigan refuses to appear before the court and answer to a charge for contempt, claiming lack of jurisdiction and that official duties are pressing too heavily upon him in the closing hours of his administration to permit his giving the matter attention.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

CHEAP RATES

That's What the Northern Pacific Railway Gives Tri-State Drainage Delegates to the

JAN. CONVENTION

Other Railroads and Branches Centering Here Will, No Doubt, Follow the Pace,

Mayor Campbell, who is earnestly interested in the success of the tri-state drainage convention, which will convene in this city January 17, and for three days, is in receipt of the following letter from General Passenger Agent Chas. S. Fee, of the Northern Pacific road, and assures those interested in the movement, of very reasonable rates of transportation:

HON. N. CAMPBELL,
Mayor, Crookston, Minn.

Dear Sir: I take pleasure in advising you that for the meeting named above we will make a rate of a fare and one third on the certificate plan from points in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota subject to a total attendance of 75 or more paying full railroad fare of 50 cents or more going, under the following conditions.

Parties attending this meeting will purchase one way tickets at starting point not more than three days prior to the opening of the meeting, take receipt therefor on form "Special Ticket Receipt and Certificate," with which all of our agents are supplied. These certificates when properly filled out showing full fare paid going, not more than three days prior to the opening of the meeting, signed by the Secretary, showing that the holder has been in attendance at the meeting—(provided the attendance is sufficient,) will be honored by our agent at Crookston up to and including one day after the close—(Sundays not included)—for tickets to return to starting point in the territory named above, at one third fare, with a minimum charge of 25 cents.

Yours truly,
CHAS. S. FEE, G. P. & T. A.

While no instructions have been received from the Great Northern railway, it is presumed that that company will also make reduced rates for delegates to the convention.

All county officers, mayors of cities and township officers in the various localities concerned, are ex-officio delegates, and are entitled to seats in the convention.

ANOTHER NEW COUNTY.

The Division Epidemic Is Spreading and May Become Serious.

W. G. Hunt of McIntosh was in the city Thursday, circulating a petition for signatures, urging the voters of Polk county to set off sixteen townships in the western portion of the county and of them form a new county, to be known as Valley county.

The proposed new county would consist of the townships of Hubbard, Scandia, Hammond, Vineland, Tiusid, Roome, Bygland, Fisher, Nesbit, Huntsville, Sullivan, Grand Forks, Northland, Esther, Higdom and Sandsville, and includes the villages of Fisher and East Grand Forks.

Just what purpose this new petition will serve is a conundrum, inasmuch as there is absolutely no hope of carrying out its object, and the movement is not receiving a great deal of support.

Mr. Hunt himself stated to a Journal reporter that he did not expect to see it win, but simply passed the paper around "to stir up the animals." Only a few business men and voters of this city signed the new petition and the circulator of the document returned to McIntosh Friday morning.

Are Successful Again.

Two cases were tried before Judge Watts Thursday afternoon in which the Ray Mercantile Co. and Z. Geroux were plaintiffs against Fay Bailey, et al. In each case judgment was rendered for the defendant, who was represented by Attorneys W. E. Rowe and G. A. E. Finlayson. Evidently the younger element of the legal fraternity of this city is scoring a number of victories which will stand out prominently in the row of laurels achieved by the lawyer boys.

Left Last Night.

Dr R. Wallace Doig, who has been located here in the city for nearly a year past, has accepted a position with the Boston Optical company as its general manager, and left this city Thursday to enter upon the duties of the position. He will be located at Portland, Oregon, where he will go after a short visit at Minneapolis. The Doctor came here in February last and during his residence in our midst has made many warm friends, both by the satisfactory service rendered in a professional way in providing for the visual defects of his patrons, and also as a genial gentleman. Both Mr and Mrs. Doig have ingratiated themselves very unostentatiously into the warm friendship of all who have formed their acquaintance, and their many friends sincerely regret their decision to leave our city. The Doctor leaves behind him many evidences of his skill in the form of satisfied customers who had prior to his advent been unable to secure spectacles that were exactly adapted to their needs.

The Journal joins with other friends in wishing him a prosperous future.

LOST HIS LEG.

A Terrible Accident Befalls Young Adam Shoe in Grand Forks.

Thursday afternoon, shortly after 4 o'clock, the son of Benjamin Shoe of Grand Forks, was the victim of a very serious accident at the oil mill in that city. As no one was present at the time it is not known exactly how the accident occurred, but it is supposed that the boy opened one of the traps of the conveyor of the elevator to the oil mill and that in some manner he slipped and one of his feet was caught by the screw. His cries brought the employees of the mill to the scene and he was at once taken to the Deaconess hospital. Dr. Duggan, who was at once called, saw that amputation was necessary to save the boy's life. The right leg was torn off between the knee and the thigh, and it was first thought that it would be necessary to amputate the other leg also, but later it was found that there was a chance to save the limb, the thigh bone of which was shattered and the flesh badly cut between the knee and the thigh.

The boy stood the operation well, and it is thought that he will recover.

The accident is particularly sad, as the father of the boy returned but a few days ago from Minneapolis, where he went to have his eyes treated, as his sight has been badly affected for some time past, and it was at one time thought that he would become totally blind.

The manager of the mill during Mr. Bannon's absence, Emil Blichfeldt, says that he has feared some accident for some time past, as a number of the boys of the city have persisted in playing in and around the mill despite repeated warning.

A CONTEST CASE

Was up for Hearing in the U. S. Land Office Friday.

An important land contest case was being argued before the receiver of the land office in this city Friday. The contestants are T. P. Hamre of this county, against Mrs. Jennie Cunningham of Red Lake county, and the land in question is an eighty acre tract, situated near Thief River Falls and a valuable piece of property.

In a former contest the defendant in this action won out, and the present action is brought by Mr. Hamre on the grounds of abandonment. J. G. Skomedal and O. Bergquist are the witnesses for Hamre, and from the testimony it would appear that Hamre has a clear case.

Hallock's Telephone System.

Hallock is now equipped with a full fledged telephone system with a list of 75 subscribers. The plant cost the village $3,000 and the annual cost of the service to subscribers is $7. No central office is maintained, but each patron is supplied with an automatic connecting device by which he makes his own connections. This is in the form of a clock dial with a hand which is readily set at any number with which connection is desired, and when this is done that is all there is to it. It is said to be working admirably, and the service is at all times very clear and distinct. The instruments are purchased by the subscribers when they are put in, and the village employes a man to attend to the necessary repairs, when the necessity arises for it.

More Deputies Needed.

What may come of the grand jury indictments of parties in East Grand Forks, is the subject of a great deal of speculation at the present time. The greater number of those indicted have left the city and it is understood that Deputy Sheriff Tom Murray is desirous of having a few more deputies appointed for this special occasion. Whether this will be done or not is still a question, and the outcome of the indictments will be awaited with interest.

$4,000 For Lynching Scrape.

Mrs Lulu Jenkins, now of Chicago, has been awarded $4,000 for the lynching of her husband in Ripley county, Ind., three years ago. Her husband, William Jenkins, was one of five men who were lynched in September, 1897, for alleged complicity in stealing a horse. Mrs. Jenkins brought suit against the sheriff's bondsmen for $5,000, and it has just been compromised by the bondsmen agreeing to pay $4,000.

NEW OFFICERS

Elected This Afternoon by the Junior I. O. G. T. Grand Lodge Convention.

NEXT MEETING PLACE

The Bone of Contention Before Adjourning—Brainerd May be Selected.

The second day of the Junior Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. convention opened Friday morning with increased attendance. The forenoon was entirely occupied with routine work, hearing of reports from committees and adoption of resolutions.

The main work of the day was the election of Grand Lodge officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows:

Grand Templar—A. P. Peterson, Minneapolis.

Grand Counsellor—John M. Dablby, Moorhead.

Grand Treasurer—E. Engson, Hallock.

Grand Secretary—A. M. Wold, Minneapolis.

Grand Vice Templar—N. G. Ehrestrom, Hallock.

Grand Marshall—Geo. Wold, Fertile.

Grand Chaplain—Mrs. Sarah Newton, McIntosh.

The selection of the next place of meeting was the principal point of discussion before adjournment, Minneapolis and Brainerd being the competing cities and the latter having a decided lead.

The convention adjourned at 6 o'clock Friday evening.

HAPPILY MARRIED

Dr. Loe and Miss Twedten at United Lutheran Church.

The United Lutheran church was packed Thursday evening with people who came to witness the marriage ceremony which was performed by Rev. Reinertson and joined for life Dr. A. O. Loe and Miss Olive Twedten. The bride was attended by Miss Margarett Ford, of Sauk Centre, and Miss Mae Loe, of Minneapolis, sister of the groom, and Dr. Loe had as escort Chas. H. Sletten and Edward Mosselin, while Miss Alfa Twedten, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and Dr. Bratrud, of Warren, escorted the groom to church.

After the conclusion of the ceremony about fifty of the invited friends and relatives of the contracting parties, assembled at the residence at the home of the bride's mother, where a reception was tendered the newly married couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Loe left Friday evening for Minneapolis, and after a short honeymoon proceed to Seattle, where they will go to housekeeping.

The happy young couple were the recipients of many very handsome presents.

NEW LAND COMPANY.

Two Well Known and Popular Crookston Men Embark in Business.

Frank M. Brown and George Ralph of this city have associated themselves together and formed a co-partnership to be known as The Red River Valley Land company, for the purchase and sale of all classes of lands in the Red River Valley. This new firm will need no introduction to the residents of Polk county. They are both of them old residents here and are among the best known business men in the city. Mr. Brown will be the manager of the company's business, and Mr. Ralph is to be the secretary. With their extensive and favorable acquaintance and their thorough knowledge of business, and of values as well, they will no doubt receive a liberal patronage. Their office is located in the Rolsch building, opposite the postoffice. They commenced business Jan. 1, 1901.

Just Saved His Life.

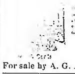
It was a thrilling escape that Charles Davis of Bowerston, O., lately had from a frightful death. For two years a severe lung trouble constantly grew worse until it seemed he must die of Consumption. Then he began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and lately wrote: "It gave instant relief and effected a permanent cure." Such wonderful cures have for 25 years proven it's power to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at A. G. Andersen's drug store.

Held Annual Meeting.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church held their annual meeting Thursday afternoon for the election of officers with the following result: president, Mrs. Ruetell; vice president, Mrs. Milligan; secretary, Mrs. S. L. Wheeler; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Hall. A very enjoyable social followed at which refreshments were served. The reports of the society's work for the year were very satisfactory and encouraging. The ladies have all bills paid and the snug sum of $230 as the result of their year's work. The increase in numbers has been very creditable and a bright outlook for the new year is assured.

Trans-Continental

The New York Herald explains the purpose of J. J. Hill's business in New York as follows: J. J. Hill is in the city in consultation with Morgan, Vanderbilt and the Standard Oil interests. The principal owners of the Great Northern now own the majority of the stock on the Northern Pacific and declares that through a community of interests there will be a great transcontinental system, embracing the Erie, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Great Northern.



[illegible] COUGH KILLER

[illegible] recommended to [illegible] worked like a [illegible] and cured my husband's cough that he had had [illegible] months.

Mrs. A. B. Sisson,
[illegible] Hennepin Ave.,
Minneapolis, Minn.

For sale by A. G. Andersen, druggist.

RAILWAY TIME CARD
CROOKSTON, MINN.

NORTHERN PACIFIC

To
ST. PAUL
MINNEAPOLIS
DULUTH
AND POINTS
EAST & SOUTH

To BUTTE
HELENA
SPOKANE
SEATTLE
TACOMA
PORTLAND
CALIFORNIA
JAPAN
CHINA
ALASKA
KLONDIKE

C. A. SHARKEY, Agent
Crookston, Minn

Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A
ST. PAUL, MINN.

	Arr	Dep't
SOUTH BOUND No. 8 to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and East.	8:28 p m	8:28 p m
NORTH BOUND No. 7 to Grand Forks, Grafton and Winnipeg.	6:48 a m	6:48 a m

A. SHARKEY, Agt.
Crookston, Minn.

CHAS. S. FEE, G. P. A
St. Paul, Minn

THE GREAT NORTHERN

Arrive.	*Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	*Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	*Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6.30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls	9.20 am
4.53 pm	*Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior	9.00 am
6.45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent	9.10 am

KEILER, RYAN & COMPANY

We offer these Exceptional Bargains to clean up stock
before January 1st.

Fancy cleaned Currants per lb	15c
California Prunes. Regular 10c, per lb	8c
Log Cabin Soap powder per pkg	14c
A good laundry soap per bar	3c
Pears, Special two cans for (Ask for Sussex)	25c
Puritas Pancake Flour. Something new. Per pkg	18c
Coffee! We always lead. A good quality. Special, per lb	15c
Tea! You can't match it anywhere. Per lb	35c
Mandarin Starch! Regular price 10c Our price per lb	6c
Anderson's Soups, all kinds per can	10c
N. Y. Apples! Fancy per bbl	$3.50
Dried Pears! Fine for sauce per lb	12c

Great Bargains in LAMPS.

KEILER,
RYAN & CO.,
Successors to Slocum's Grocery.

This Will Interest the Farmers.

The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making

FARM LOANS

at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.

Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist

Dealer in Drug,s Druggist's Sundries.
Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.

Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.

Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.

Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000

TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.

Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Orders Bought.

INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.

C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President.
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

The Riverside Dairy

Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.

E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.

GEORGE Q. ERSKINE, President. WM. ANGLIM, Vice-President
J. W. WHEELER, Cashier. H. ROBERTSON, Asst. Cashier.

Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000

Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.

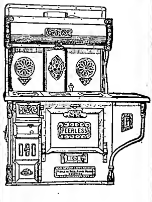
BOARD OF DIRECTORS:
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.

Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

A Six-Hole Steel Range

AT THE...

One Price
Hardware
Store.



FOR

$39

No. 13 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

The Best All-'Round
Family Newspaper......

NEW YORK WEEKLY WITNESS

Interdenominational in Religion. An exponent of Applied Christianity. Independent in Politics.

Only One Dollar a Year.

SABBATH READING.

A sixteen page weekly paper. Solely religious in character. No news; no politics. Stories, poetry; Sunday School lesson; Christian Endeavor and Epworth League topics, Mother's Sabbath afternoon with the children; Miscellaneous religious matter.

Only Fifty Cents a Year.

Free sample copies of the WITNESS and SABBATH READING sent on application.
Address—JOHN DOUGALL & CO.
150 Nassau Street, New York

P. S.—The subscription price of both the WITNESS and SABBATH READING when taken together is $1.25. These combined papers afford a liberal home education.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

FOR A MEETING

Initiative Steps are Taken for a Mass Meeting of Crookston's Citizens to Arrange

FOR THE CONVENTION

The Great Northern Also Notifies Mayor Campbell of a Reduced Rate of Transportation.

Superintendent T. A. Hoverstad of the state experiment farm, north of this city, and Mayor Campbell were in consultation last Saturday for the purpose of arranging for a business men's mass meeting to be held in the near future to lay out a program for the Tri-State Drainage Convention, which will meet in this city January 17, 18 and 19.

Nearly all the representative newspaper men in the sections affected by this meeting are making strong efforts to get a full representation from their respective localities to be here in the convention, and it is not altogether unlikely that from 1,500 to 2,000 delegates and prominent business men will gather here during the convention days.

In a communication to Mayor Campbell this morning, General Passenger Agent Whitney, of the Great Northern railway, states that his company has agreed to carry delegates from the three states and a portion of Manitoba for a fare and a third for the round trip.

A great deal of work is yet to be accomplished in order to make the meeting a success, and therefore every citizen of Crookston should take an active interest in this important movement. A thorough program must be prepared and other advertising matter, setting forth the purpose of the convention, should be sent out into every city and hamlet in the circuit affected by this meeting, in order to secure a good crowd.

Let everyone of our citizens show his interest in the welfare of the movement, by attending the mass meeting which the committee will decide upon this afternoon.

Dr. R. C. Kelsey of White Rock, S. D., secretary of the drainage association, writes that he will be in attendance and read an important paper on this occasion on the drainage question.

HID IT IN A WOOD PILE.

Miser In Prescott, Wis., Had $1,000 so Secreted.

Christian Young, a miser, aged 60 years, died a few months ago at his squalid home in Prescott, Wis. He was so miserly that it is said he would make a gallon of kerosene oil last a year. He was known to have considerable money and when neighbors found him seriously ill they implored him to reveal the place where his money was hidden that he might be properly cared for. It was then found that he had in his wretched home about $35 which he intended should carry him through the winter. This was used in caring for him, but when this was spent no word as to the whereabouts of the rest of his money would he give, prefering to part with his life rather than let others lay hands on his precious gold.

Immediately after his death a rigid search for the wealth which he was known to have possessed was instituted. Every conceivable place was ransacked and the cellar and suspicious looking mounds about the house were dug up but all to no avail. A few days ago, however, the hidden hoard was come upon unexpectedly. The administrators of the estate sold some wood in a shed to Cornelius Meacham of Prescott, who in carting it away found an odd looking bundle in the middle of the wood pile. On opening the bundle it was found to contain two paint cans and in these lay several ordinary looking tobacco pouches. But these pouches were bulging with gold and silver coins amounting to more than $700. Beside these lay an innocent looking match box. It felt light and of no value, but a peep into it revealed three crisp green bills of $100 each.

Mr. Meacham was nearly overcome with excitement at his find. He was an honest man, however, and turned the money into a bank to be forwarded to relatives in Germany.

It is supposed that more money is hidden about the place and the search still continues.

$45,000 Bonds In Miser's Hut.

Forty-five thousand dollars in government bonds with the coupons still attached and running back for 30 years, were found Thursday in a chest in a hut occupied by Hermit Ypsilanti Smith, who died a few days ago near Fletcher, Miami county, Ohio, where he had lived for forty years, and was not known to have a cent. His mind was deranged years ago by the death of his wife. Pension vouchers untouched for years were also found, amounting to about $25,000.

SPECIAL FOR FARMERS.

Ten Weeks' Farming Course to be Given by State University.

The State University management has adopted a very commendable plan to give such farmers as have not the time to spare to take a full course of scientific training in agriculture, an opportunity to take a ten weeks' course to begin the second week in January. This is an experiment but it is confidently expected it will be well patronized and of great benefit to those who attend. It will be very comprehensive in its scope, taking up the qualities of soil, the selection and management of farms, drainage, roads, fences, etc. Next will be a series of lectures on dairy stock, and animal husbandry Chemistry, the composition and value of foods, farm mechanics and farm machinery will be taken up. The curing of meats, farm horticulture, veterinary practice and various other matters will come in for their share of attention in the course also It will afford an opportunity that none who can spend the time to avail themselves of it, should miss. There is no expense in connection with it except the cost of board and other personal expenses, the tuition being entirely free.

HALF A MILLION ACRES

Of State Swamp Lands Deeded to the Duluth & Iron Range Road.

State officials have executed a deed granting to the Duluth & Iron Range road 404,567 46 acres of swamp land. Some of the land was selected by the road and the rest by State Auditor Dunn. It is located in St. Louis, Cook and Lake counties. The transfer of the land was made under the decision of Judge William Lochren of the United States circuit court in the litigation as to the validity of the swamp land grant.

The railway company contended that it could select its grant at its leisure. The state insisted that selections must be made within a reasonable time, that it had been forced to protect the railway's lands, which by this means avoided that expense, and that until selections were made state lands could not be adequately protected from timber thieves and trespassers.

SPORT ON ICE.

Crookston Equine Owners Will Have an Ice Track.

A movement is on foot among owners of fast horses in this city, to have an ice track on the river, extending from the Jerome bridge along the river to Houston avenue bridge.

In order to create interest in this direction it is proposed to have a regular matinee once a week, and have prizes hung up for the successful competitors.

Driving on ice is elegant winter sport, and as Crookston has a number of fast horses and some good looking drivers, the proposed entertainments will no doubt prove a decided success from the start.

It is understood that Archie and Dan McKinnon, Jos Eckert, F. C. Brown, and a number of other possessors of fast horse flesh are interested in the sport, which is sufficient guarantee for enjoyable events on the ice during the winter season.

REAR END COLLISION.

A Great Northern Passenger Bumps Into a Freight Train.

Passenger train No. 3 of the Great Northern, collided Thursday evening with the rear end of a broken freight train, near Towner, N. D., and badly demolished the caboose of the freight train. Fortunately the crew of the latter train had knowledge of the approach of the passenger train, and the accident passed off without injuring any of the train hands.

Photography

Is an art with us. The largest, finest, best equipped studio in northwestern Minnesota. We make photos of every style, from one on a button to life size. Years of experience in photographic work are at your disposal. Why not have the best, when they cost no more than the inferior article? You can get them at Skrivseth's Ground Floor Art Studio, 216 N. Broadway, (near Commercial hotel) Crookston. Visitors are always welcome. wtf

Buried at Minneapolis.

Tribune, Minneapolis: The remains of Thomas Hoy, who died recently at Solway, Minn., arrived in the city Thursday morning, and were taken to Connolly's morgue to await interment. The funeral was held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, only attended by the relatives and immediate friends. Deceased was well known in this city, being one of the family of that name who were pioneers on the East side.

FOR JEALOUSY

A Green Eyed Husband Strikes His Wife on a Crookston Train.

SHE DIDN'T WINK

But Her Liege Lord Thought She Did, and Caused a Sensation at a City Hotel.

W. A. Gill, who claims residence in this city, is gaining unenviable notoriety as a brute, and the Fargo Call Saturday contained the following account of one of his latest acts:

A gentleman from Fargo who was a passenger on the train going to Crookston one night this week had a most unpleasant experience and was the innocent cause of a family row, in which the husband struck his wife while in a jealous fit As they would say down in Missouri "he beat her up a whole lot." The husband's name is said to be W. A. Gill and he comes from down Crookston way. The trouble happened this wise:

Mr. and Mrs. Gill were sitting in the car with their little child, a handsome tot of four years, running up and down the aisle. A gentleman who sat near them was attracted to the winsome little girl by her childish prattle and cute mannerisms. He called to her and soon made friends and was feeding her candy, which he purchased from the train boy. The mother, who was sitting with her husband, was naturally interested in the actions of her baby and frequently looked around.

This apparently aroused the anger of her liege lord, who in point of jealousy would make Othello look like a flannel shirt at the Bradley-Martin ball, and he sought to show his interest in the matter by striking her cruelly in the face. He accused her of winking at the gentleman who was playing with their child, and became so oppressively abusive in his language that several passengers threatened to drop him off the train, if he did not control his speaking apparatus. No more was said at the time but when the husband and his wife arrived in Crookston they resumed the subject in much the same manner. They were stopping at the James hotel, and the landlord under the impression that some one was being murdered, called in a policeman. Gill had been engaged in pounding his wife in a most brutal manner, but when the officer arrived she begged piteously that he be not arrested. Such was her blind love for the man that she could overlook his inhuman treatment of her and cling to him when he was threatened by the law. The officer complied with her earnest request and the pair were left without being molested.

NORMAL SALARIES

Are too Small Says President Ankeny —Summer Schools Condemned.

Governor Lind received the annual report of President A. T. Ankeney of the state normal board Thursday. Among the recommendations it contains is one advising that larger salaries be paid teachers in the normal schools. The average salary of normal school instructors is $1,000, he says, a sum insufficient to get the talent necessary for the best results. In Mr. Ankeny's opinion $1,000 should be the minimum. The salaries of normal school presidents should be placed at $3,000. Mr. Ankeny condemns the present system of summer training schools as unsatisfactory, and suggests that it be abandoned and that continuous sessions be held at all the normal schools.

There were 2,356 students enrolled at the four normal schools during the past year and 379 were graduated.

A STRONG COMPANY

The Thompson Mercantile Co. Reorganized and Ready for Business.

The Thompson Mercantile Co., has been reorganized, the company consisting of Miss Luella May Thompson, J. R. Johnson, J. L. Rankin and M. P. DeWolf and will continue the business carrying a complete stock of Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Shoes Crockery, Etc. They have leased the Graham store building and as soon as the stock can be reduced will move the stock to the new location. Watch their "ad" for bargains.

American Flour Taxed.

It has been discovered by Minneapolis millers that a certain dock corporation of London has been discriminating against them for years by the imposition of a tax of 3½ cents per barrel on flour landed in that town. The point is that flour from other countries escapes this tax. Now that a proposition is made to increase the tax to 4 cents per barrel, the millers think it time to enter a protest. The matter was thoroughly aired at a recent meeting of representative millers at which W. C. Edgar of the Northwestern Miller was present.

The tax does not go to the English treasury but to steamship lines and dock corporations.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the State Agricultural society will be held at St. Paul January 8, 9 and 10. The morning and afternoon sessions will be held at the Commercial club rooms, and the evening sessions at the Capitol. The program as it is prepared gives assurance of an interesting and profitable meeting.

Governor S. R. Van Sant will deliver the address of welcome, and important topics of great interest will be discussed at each session by men of practical experience who are well qualified to handle them. "Experience of a Young Stock Breeder" will be given by J. W. Scott of Austin, Minn., "Wire Grass and its Uses" by Henry Wolfer of St. Paul, "Cattle for the Farmer" by Prof. Thos. Shaw, and many other topics by other able speakers.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Brigham of Washington, D. C., will be in attendance and deliver an address. Also F. A. Converse of Buffalo, N. Y., and W. A. Henry of the University of Wisconsin All papers and addresses will be open for discussion so far as time will permit. One and one-third fare will be given on the railroads and reduced rates at the St. Paul hotels.

Free Of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at F. H. Hillard & Son's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup, Free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents.

No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggists will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really the only Throat and Lung Remedy generally endorsed by physicians One 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value Sold by dealers in all civilized countries. Get Green's Prize Almanac. 2

Claims He's Alive.

Forum, Fargo: An announymous letter has been received in Fargo by the resident agent of one of the insurance companies, holding policies on the life of the late Dr. Musgrove, of Grafton, asking that no money be paid over as the writer of the letter was aware that the doctor was still living, and was not dead as some people supposed him to be. It is thought that the letter was written by a person who probably had some feeling against the persons who are interested in the estate of the doctor. The letter has been forwarded to the district agent of the company to whom it was addressed.

Plastering Fell.

Mrs. J. S. Bell, of 2215 Park avenue, Minneapolis was the victim Thursday morning of a peculiar and painful accident, which injured her so seriously as to make it necessary to take her to the Northwestern hospital. She was sitting alone in one of the down stairs rooms of her home when, without warning, the ceiling began to fall and before she could escape from the room she was badly bruised and cut by the falling plaster and her ankle was broken in two places. In addition to her wounds she received a great nervous shock but is reported as now improving.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. J. W. Gardner, of Idaville, Ind., says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he don't care whether he lives or dies. It gave me new strength and good appetite. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50c at A. G. Andersen's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Warmed the Bed.

A housemaid in the employ of the family of J. C. Fifield of Rochester, Minn., put two hot flatirons in a bed in pursuance of her instructions, while the family were absent attending Christmas festivities, and started a fire which consumed the entire domestic plant.

Paid Dear for His Leg.

B. D. Blanton, of Thackerville, Texas, in two years paid over $300 to doctors to cure a running sore on his leg. Then they wanted to cut it off, but he cured it with one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Guaranteed cure for Piles. 25c a box. Sold by A. G. Andersen, druggist.

Fire! Fire!!

When that cry sounds how people rush to help and sympathize! And when some fireman rescues a woman from the flames, the streets echo with applauding shouts.

And yet if that woman had perished in the flames it is possible that she would have suffered less than she suffers almost daily from the inflammation which disease has lighted in the delicate womanly organism.

That fire of inflammation can be put out. The gnawing ulcer can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only establishes womanly regularity and dries enfeebling drains, but it heals inflammation and ulcerations and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I suffered for four years with what four physicians pronounced ulceration and prolapsus of the uterus," writes Mrs. Ada Brooks, of Kirbyville, Taney Co., Missouri. "Also inflammation of bladder and urethra. My case was chronic and complicated. Had several good physicians but kept getting worse. Had been confined to my bed five months when I wrote to you. I received your reply very soon and then dismissed my physician and began taking Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took eight bottles of his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and began to get better at once. In two months I could sit up in a chair, and kept getting better. In four months could do all my house work, including washing and sewing."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

PHYSICIANS

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
DENTIST.
Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

A. A. Just M. D.
HOMEOPATHIC [illegible]CIAN
AND SURGEON
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the
PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Special Attention to Business Correspondence,
Land Contest Cases,
Mortgage Foreclosures,
Collections,
Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block. CROOKSTON, MINN.

Miller & Foote,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room 3
Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

H. Steenerson,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

Marin & Webster,
LAW, COLLECTIONS AND LOANS. AGENTS FOR RELIABLE FIRE, TORNADO AND HAIL INSURANCE.
Office next to Postoffice. Crookston, Minn

REAL ESTATE AND ABSTRACTS

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans,
Insurance........
OFFICIAL ABSTRACTERS OF TITLE FOR POLK COUNTY. CROOKSTON MINN.

Carpenter & Olson.
LAW, LAND, LOANS, COLLECTIONS.
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reckitt block, Crookston, Minn.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning, 11:00, evening, 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
REV. H. M GREEN, B. D.
Rector

The Singer
Sewing Machine
Has no Equal, Sold by....
IKE & MOLSTAD, Props.
Crookston Music House.
106 Main St. S. - CROOKSTON.

GLOBE
Business College
For 16 years the best Telegraph, Shorthand and Business College in the Northwest. Lowest terms compatible with thorough instruction. A diploma from this college is a guarantee of steady and lucrative employment.
For Catalogue, address F. A. Maron, Prin. W. Seventh and St. Peter Sts., St. Paul, Minn

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, made and dated the 16th day of November, 1882, by Zebedee Lusia, an unmarried man, mortgagor of Polk county, Minnesota, to Nancy C. McConnell, mortgagee, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk county, Minnesota on the 16th day of November, 1882, at 11 o'clock and forty five minutes a. m., in book "1" of mortgages on pages 490, 491, 492 and 493: which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 3rd day of May, A. D. 1883 by an instrument in writing duly assigned by said Nancy C. McConnell to Alzina A. Wylly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich, of the State of Florida, which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk County, Minnesota on the 19th day of July, A. D., 1895, at eight o'clock and forty minutes a m. in book "67" of Mortgages on pages 587 and 588: which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 27th day of June, A. D., 1899, by an instrument in writing, duly assigned by said Alzina A. Wylly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich of the State of Florida to Chester W. Goodrich, which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk County, Minnesota, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 18[illegible], at eight o'clock and forty minutes a. m. in book "67" of Mortgages on pages [illegible] and [illegible] which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1900, by an instrument in writing, duly assigned by said Chester W. Goodrich, of the State of Florida to Ella B. Thomas of Lehigh County, Pa., which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, on the 31st day of August, A. D., 1900, at three o'clock and fifteen minutes p. m. in book "75" of Mortgages on pages 23 and 24, which said mortgage conveyed and mortgaged the following premises in said Polk County, Minnesota, to wit: The east half of the northwest quarter and the east half of the south-west quarter of section No. two (2), in township No. one hundred and fifty-three (153), north of range No. forty-six (46) west, containing 160 acres of land more or less according to the U. S. government survey thereof.

That there is due upon the note and mortgage at this date seven hundred thirty-eight dollars and 19-100 ($738.19) and which said note bears even date with said mortgage and became due and payable five years from date thereof, together with Attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage, amounting to twenty-five (25) dollars.

There is also due upon said mortgage the sum of seventy seven and 37-100 dollars ($77.37) which said Ella B. Thomas assignee of said mortgage has paid as delinquent taxes and interest, duly levied upon said premises for the years 1889 to 1899, both inclusive, which sum has become a lien upon said land, according to the statutes of Minnesota in such case made and provided, making the total amount due upon said mortgage to date, including principal interest, Attorney's fees and taxes, eight hundred forty and 56-100 dollars ($840.56). No proceedings at law having been instituted to recover any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statutes, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the front door of the court house, in the City of Crookston, in said County of Polk, on Saturday, the 2nd day of February, A. D. 1901, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the sum herein claimed to be due on said mortgage, together with all costs and charges to foreclose.

Dated Minneapolis, Minn. December 10th, 1900.

ELLA B THOMAS.
Assignee of Mortgagee.
WRIGHT AND MATCHAN,
Attorneys for Assignee of Mortgagee.
311 Globe Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. 36-42

Contest Notice.

Doc. No. 1238.
Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Crookston, Minnesota, Dec. 19, 1900.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Peter P. Hexum contestant, against homestead entry No. 1025, made Oct. 7, 1896 for se¼, section 1[illegible], township 151 N., range 39 W., by Even A. Sneva, contestee, in which it is alleged that the said Even A. Sneva has wholly failed and neglected to establish his residence upon the said land, and has failed to cultivate and improve the same, and that such default has continued for more than six months prior to the date hereof, and that the said alleged absence from the said land was not due to his employment in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States as a private soldier, officer, seaman or marine during the war with Spain or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged. Said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on January 28, 1901, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Crookston, Minnesota.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed Dec. 19, 1900, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

SYLVESTER PETERSON,
Register
37-40

Final Proof.

Department of the Interior, Land Office at Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at Crookston, Minnesota on January 8th, 1901, viz:

Torkel J. Vatnedal, H. E. 15,398 for the sw¼ ne¼, w½ se¼, se¼ se¼ sec. 31 Tp 148 Rge 47, w.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz:

Ben Jorgenson, Nels Jorgenson, Peter Flo, James Dewar, all of Crookston, Minnesota.

SYLVESTER PETERSON,
Register
33-38

NO DUST!
Great Northern Railway
The Dauntless
Transcontinental
Route.
Built through grass lands. No sand deserts. Runs through the only habitable belt across the continent.

S. L. Collins,
Livery and
Feed Stables
Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.
Main and 3d st. Crookston, Minn.

Polk County Journal,

BY N. S. GORDON.

☞ Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

THE CREAM OF NORTH STAR STATE PUBLICATIONS
Minnesota Press
Home Print Association
NATIONAL PUBLISHERS AGENCY

THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

The nineteenth century is now among the periods of the past. With a very few exceptions none who now witness its close were witnesses of its beginning. Most of those who now witness the incoming of the twentieth century came into the world after the nineteenth century was well underway. As the passing years have carried us along the stream of time we have scarcely realized the rapidity or the importance of the changes that have been occurring. The only way in which we can come to a full realization of the magnitude of such changes is by turning our gaze backward and looking at the conditions as they existed then and contrast them with conditions now existing.

In the year 1800 the population of the United States numbered about 5,000,000, and it may be said the country was inhabited only along its coast line and for a distance of fifty miles in width, from Maine to Georgia. Beyond this limit there was practically no means of communication. We can hardly realize the conditions of rural simplicity which were prevalent in the family and domestic life when the century was born. Few and rude were the household implements of those days. Stoves were scarcely known at that time, though a few were in use among the Pennsylvania Germans. The large open fireplace with its swinging crane equipped with its pot hooks upon which were hung the pots and kettles, and the old tin bake oven, furnished all the facilities for cooking that were then needed. The kitchen utensils were of brass or in many cases of wood, tin not having at that time been utilized for such purposes. The food with which the tables were supplied was of the simplest character, consisting principally of Indian corn and such vegetables as were most easily raised. The sheep on the farms furnished the material for most of the clothing then worn, and the women of the household were the manufacturers. Matches were an unknown invention, and fire was kindled by the use of a flint and steel with a tinder, a piece of punk or of scorched linen to catch the spark. This was often a most laborious and uncertain process and the fire was carefully kept alive all the time to avoid the necessity of rekindling it. When once lost it was sometimes necessary to go a long distance to some neighbor's dwelling to borrow live coals for the purpose. The lights then in use were tallow candles and shallow dishes of grease supplied with a rag which served as a wick. The only knowledge of electricity which was then possessed was what it revealed of itself as it darted from cloud to cloud. Even the almost irresistible power of steam had not then been discovered, and the only means of transportation then in use was by horseback and stage coach on land, and the canal and sailing vessels on the water. The only motive power for propelling machinery then known was the wind and animal muscle. No railroad, steamship, telegraph, telephone or Atlantic cable scheme had then even challenged the inventive genius of man. These are all the product of the century, and from their pinnacles of apparent perfect development seem to point back to the beginning of the century as a period of blissful and unsuspecting ignorance. Practically none of the complex and accurately working machinery which now gathers our harvests, manufactures our garments, or of the numberless conveniences and comforts which seem almost indispensible to us now, were then thought of. These have all come to us as the product of the century.

In letters, arts and arms equal progress and development has been made. In medical and in mechanical science advancement has been equally rapid. In all these and in numberless other respects, the departing year finds us at a stage of advancement so far removed from its beginning as to almost challenge our credulity. At the beginning of the century the earth was holding in its unexplored depths vast treasures of mineral, oil and coal the presence of which was unsuspected by man. In fact but few of the present day utilities of life were at the beginning of the century in use in their present form, and a great many of them were unknown. The 5,000,000 inhabitants of our country have multiplied into 75,000,000. From being the smallest among the nations of the civilized world, America has come to be more populous than any European nation except Russia. One hundred and eighty-five thousand miles of railroad gridiron on our continent, bearing upon their arms of steel, 10,000 locomotives drawing the many hundred thousands of freight cars, and luxurious passenger, dining and sleeping palaces. Within the past seventy years the telegraph has come into existence and there are now over 1,000,000 miles in constant use throughout the world. The submarine cable is a still later invention, and now there are 170,000 miles of them in use. Education and philanthropy too have kept pace with invention and discovery. The growth of commerce, which always means the growth of comfort has been proportionately rapid. The nations of the world have been brought into elbow-touch and face-to-face communion with each other through the growth and development of their commercial relations and the utilization of the electric current.

But while thinking of the wonderful development already made, the question comes have we reached the climax? Is there any possible work along these lines, left for the twentieth century to accomplish? Are there yet unexplored and unoccupied realms for the exercise of the inventive genius of the rising generation and the generations yet unborn? Who can cast the twentieth centuries horoscope? Few if indeed any of us who see its dawn will see its close. The population of the world will undergo a complete change. The generations now in control of the world's affairs will be laid to rest and others will occupy their places. But we believe the world's experience of progress has but just commenced. Inventive genius is just at the threshold of its possibilities. And we who today congratulate ourselves on the attainments we have made, and so complacently point to the achievements of our generation, if we could look ahead and see the results which will be attained one hundred years hence would bare our heads and do reverence to the genius and energy of our posperity.

It is claimed that for once during Mayor Carter H. Harrison's administration, the saloons of Chicago were all closed at midnight Saturday.

Frank James, the once noted bandit, is a candidate for doorkeeper in the house of representatives of the Missouri legislature with good prospect of success.

The Shelly Signal makes the following vigorous suggestion: If they are going to make capital punishment the penalty for kidnapping why not make it for hazing? Your life is just as safe with one class of these brutes as with the other.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., son of the president of the Standard Oil company, has subscribed $250,000 for the founding of a New York institute for learning for poor boys and girls. The school will be ready for occupancy about March 1 next.

The gross earnings tax on telephone companies for the year 1900, in the state amounts to $25,450.73, and has just been paid into the state treasury. This amount is somewhat in excess of the previous year. Forty-five companies are on the list.

The Norman County Herald with its last issue started out on its fourteenth year. Brother Weatherhead, who became editor and publisher of the Herald last summer, is making it one of the best weeklies that reaches the Journal's exchange table.

The free reading room experiment, after a two months' trial down at Fertile, is considered a decided success. The idea originated as a counter action for the saloons and other disagreeable lounging places, and serve as an educational factor in town life.

The annual meeting of the Minnesota State Editorial Association has been postponed from the second to the last Thursday in February. The summer excursion will take the association to the Pan American exposition at Buffalo and include short visits to Toronto and Niagara Falls.

The interior department has recommended to congress the appropriation of a sufficient sum to enable the commissioner of Indian affairs to employ a patrol or guard for each township of the Indian reservations in Minnesota, to guard against forest fires during the dry seasons of the year.

It is publicly announced that President Alphons B. Stickney of the Chicago Great Western Railway will be married nexth month to Miss May Crosby, second daughter of Judge Josiah Crosby of Dexter, Me. Mr. Stickney and Miss Crosby are nearly of the same age and were acquaintances when he was a law student in the office of her father, who had been a classmate of Mr. Stickney's father.

The opening of the Elston hotel at Cass Lake occurred simultaneously with the beginning of the twentieth century. This complete and model hostelry which is equipped with every modern appliance for the comfort of its guests will be an excellent advertisement for this enterprising little village. An opening banquet and ball will be given on the evening of January 15, and a large attendance from Duluth, Grand Forks and other points is expected, half fare rates having been given on the Great Northern road.

The Roseau Times gets after the author of the funeral wolf story in a way that would naturally make him telescope clear down into his boots. Listen to what he says:

> Some puny, pusillanimous, pinheaded, notriety seeking, weak-kneed tenderfoot of a reporter started the story that a party of homesteaders were almost devoured by wolves while burying a child two miles from Roseau. Rats!

Another star has appeared on the senatorial horizon, in the person of the third district congressman, Joel P. Heatwole, which may have some averse influence on Evans' success. The Journal sincerely hopes that the best man may win, and if the men who have the selection of Senator Davis' successor should be unable to agree on either Bob, Mose, Joel—what's the matter with our Halvur Halvor Steenerson, of course.

Judge W. T. Collahan of Todd county has called a meeting of the private judges of the state to be held in St. Paul Tuesday Jan. 15, at the office of Judge E. W. Bazille to draft a bill for the improvement of the probate laws of Minnesota.

During their service it is stated many difficulties have been encountered, and many problems that cannot be solved under present laws, and it to devise remedies for these difficulties the meeting is called.

It remains to be seen what action will be taken in inflicting justice on the murderer of Thomas Hoy at Solway, but from the reports that reach us in regard to the drift of public sympathy toward him, it appears as if the current of moral sentiment and its attitude toward crime is pretty nearly unanimous out there in the jack pine country, and that Lofgren will stand a fair chance of being permitted to form a partnership with Rus Whipple if he so desires.

A bill is being prepared under the direction of Health Commissioner Ohage to be introduced at the opening of the session of the legislature, which will provide for the reimbursing owners of diseased cattle which are killed by order of the meat inspectors. The passage of such a measure will remove the temptation to conceal the fact of animals being diseased, on the part of their owners, and result in an act of justice in many cases, by making restitution to owners who are really unable to bear the burden of the loss of their animals.

Daily Sheaf, Warren: Crookston has a monthly magazine. Its name is the "Gateway Magazine." It is published by The Gateway Publishing Co. From the look of things it comes from the Journal office of that city and we understand it is edited by H. P. Knappen. It is a neat affair and contains some very interesting material from the pens of local writers.

Editor Mattson is entitled to another guess. The Journal disclaims any responsibility for the paternity of the above mentioned magazine, except to the extent of having been the original publisher of the most of its cuts and a substantial portion of its matter.

One of our First district exchanges makes the bold statement that Congressman Tawney has a ghost of a show for election as United States senator to succeed the late Senator Davis, and estimates that the Third, Sixth and Seventh districts are especially favorable to Tawney. If the Third and Sixth are as far from supporting Tawney as the Seventh is in that direction, he had better withdraw from the senatorial race, as out of the latter he wouldn't get a baker's dozen—this district being almost solid for Bob Evans, with the balance for Mose Clapp

The statement recently made by Dr. Anna Hatfield that "Kissing is an intoxicant as potent as any liquor ever distilled," is provoking considerable discussion among people of some prominence in different places. We are not advised whether the lady's assertion is founded on her experience or not. It is generally conceded of course that it is an exhilarating experience to pass through, but it is something new to ascribe intoxicating effects to it. And it will be difficult for us to accept the assertion with full confidence without further testimony. But however the continuance or discontinuance of it, is likely to be a privileged question to be settled in each case on its individual merits.

It is stated with authority that Judge Jamison of Minneapolis will be private secretary to Governor Van Sant The position of private secretary to the governor has become, perhaps, the most important appointive one in this state. Tams Bixby achieved a national reputation as a party organizer while serving in that capacity, and the present incumbent, L. A. Rosing, has won important party prestige in the position. Judge Jamison's fitness for the position will be conceded by every man in Minnesota. He has a genius for politics, is a loyal republican, a sound lawyer and an upright judge. There is every reason to congratulate Governor Van Sant on his selection of a counselor, for such Judge Jamison will undoubtedly be.

General Maximo Gomez will probably be the first president of the Cuban republic. A constitution for the republic has been prepared, which contains the provision that any male citizen over forty years of age who was a citizen of Cuba at the signing of the constitution will be eligible to the presidency. This was for the express purpose of including General Gomez and undoubtedly means his election.

It is the belief of the Journal that the legislature should early in its session take up the grain inspection question and so amend the laws as to place it under the merit system, and provide for promotion by seniority based on demonstrated competency. Minnesota's wheat is the basis of her greatest manufacturing industry. Its honest and uniform grading is a matter of great importance both to her reputation as a wheat market and for the maintenance of a uniform grade of its flour product. To accomplish this, the grading department must be in the hands of men who are experts in that line, and the greater their experience the more competent they will be to conduct an inspection which will at all times be uniform and just to all concerned The appointments in this service have long enough been used as a political football and have, to too great an extent, been made a refuge for incompetency by reason of a lack of appreciation of the importance of the work to be done. But it is a matter which is of great importance to both the producer and the manufacturer, that none but competent men should be connected with this department. We believe therefore that this branch of our state government should as speedily as possible be rescued from the vice of political manipulation.

The Journal is in possession of the advance sheets of the text of State Auditor Dunn's report to the legislature of Minnesota. It is a very complete resume of the financial affairs and land business of the state. Two recommendations are contained in it to which he calls special attention, tax revision and a a board of control for state institutions. In regard to the former he says "recent court decisions have emphasized the necessity of a complete revision of the revenue laws of our state. The time has now arrived when it is absolutely necessary for the legislature to take prompt and decisive action toward securing better revenue laws. The matter is of such vital importance that it will brook no longer delay It requires no extensive or elaborate argument to convince an individual of ordinary intelligence that our present tax law is faulty in the extreme. It has been amended and re-amended until it is a thing of patches and shreds, and is no longer susceptable to amendment in an intelligent manner. It is impossible to erect a solid substantial structure if the foundation is laid in sand. What is needed is a complete new tax law from the ground up. Tax-evaders and tax-title lawyers have no fault to find with our existing revenue laws, but the people who pay their taxes promptly and bear the entire burden of maintaining the public schools, the township, city, county and state governments are far from satisfied with the existing conditions pertaining to matters of taxation."

"Under the present conditions it is safe to assert that at least one-third of the personal property of the state escapes taxation altogether, and of the property listed and assessed a large share of it—probably twenty-five per cent, also virtually escapes taxation, owing to our defective revenue laws. As a general rule the average tax evader is amply able to pay his taxes, but he prefers to fight a tax judgment in the courts. The poor man, or the man in moderate circumstances, usually pays his taxes, no matter how unjust or excessive he may deem them, simply because he cannot afford to indulge in the luxury of litigation. In this connection I would respectfully recommend and earnestly urge the legislature to make provision for the appointment of a tax commission to draft an entire new tax law to present to the next session of the legislature."

He also recommends in this connection that it be understood that this legislature will conclude its labors and adjourn at the expiration of sixty working days from the commencement of its session, with the understanding that a special session will be called in 1902 to sit for thirty days and no longer, and that no other measure except the new tax law (and possibly the law providing for a board of control) is to be taken up at such extra session.

These recommendations commend themselves to our judgment as being wise and well considered.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

—Conductor Lockman is taking a week's lay-off to visit his claim east of Bemidji.

—Ed Lanetot of Gentilly and his brother Fred, the Ada jeweler, were guests of their brother, the accommodating city clerk of this city, on New Year's.

—E. D. Childs started eight horses for S. C. Bagley's camp in the lumbering region Tuesday under the care of Martin Johnson, where they will be employed during the remainder of the winter.

—E. A. Johnson, traveling salesman for the Cudahy Packing Co., who has headquarters in this city, is just recovering from a severe attack of grip, which confined him to his room for four or five days.

—Among the Red Lake Falls visitors yesterday were Lumberman Newton, Attorney Grady and Rev. P. Fayolle, the latter on his way to St. Paul. The two first named gentlemen have legal business at the court house today.

—A. McGregor and family including Uncle Duncan and his violin spent Tuesday evening with the family of E. D. Childs in the Fifth ward. Uncle Duncan's violin has lost none of its old time melody and did full duty on this occasion.

—Harry Halversen returned from Illinois Tuesday, and has accepted a position as brakeman on the Great Northern, a position he held in former years. He will be domiciled with his family in Mrs. McKenzie's residence on North Ash street

—The East Grand Forks drug store, which has been run heretofore by G. F. Peterson changed hands Wednesday, the new firm of A. C. Peterson and D. F. Sinclair taking charge of the business. Mr. Peterson will manage the business, Mr. Sinclair retaining his present position

—Mrs. Ole Miller, wife of Coroner Miller, of this city, underwent a painful operation for tumor of the stomach last Saturday afternoon. The patient is reported quite weak from loss of blood, but hopes are entertained that she will soon rally from her perilous condition, and be restored to perfect health.

—Mayor Patterson of Bismarck is under arrest charged with running a gambling dive. The gambling outfit has been seized by the sheriff and the Mayor is awaiting his hearing. He denies having any interest in the outfit, and has secured the services of Cochran & Corliss of Grand Forks to defend him.

—Halstad Reporter: Mr. and Mrs. N. J. N. Olson left this morning for Crookston, Mr. Olson to work for Mr. Ferguson in the photograph gallery and Mrs. Olson to return to her parents at Ulen for a visit. It is likely that they will decide to make Halstad their home in the near future and that Mr. Olson will take active charge of his gallery.

—A number of changes took place on New Year, among the conductors on the Great Northern, running out of this city. Conductor W. Clarke, who returned a few days ago from an extended trip east, will succeed Freight Conductor Will Remshardt, and the latter will in all likelihood be assigned to the passenger run now held by Conductor Lockman on the Thief River Falls branch.

—Tuesday evening occured the marriage of Irvin Nicholson to Miss Lena Jenson, both of this city, at the residence of Harry Nicholson, residing in the Fifth ward. The contracting parties are well and favorably known here, and enjoy a large circle of friends, who extend congratulations to the happy young couple. The Journal joins with the latter and wishes them a pleasant voyage through life.

—Daniel Sullivan of Leech Lake, who is superintending logging on the White Earth, Leech Lake and Red Lake Indian agencies, under Capt. Mercer, passed through this city Wednesday on his way to Bagley to look after some logging interests. This cold spell, Mr. Sullivan says, is just what lumbermen were looking for, and if the present favorable weather continues the log cut this winter will discount that of many former seasons.

—J. F. Hawkins left Friday morning with his family for Solway, where he will operate a saw mill in the future. He has rented his residence in this city to Frank Jerome, and intends to make Solway his permanent home. While the many friends of the family here will regret to learn of their departure, they will wish Mr. Hawkins success in his new enterprise, and congratulate Solway citizens upon the acquisition of the Hawkins family.

—The board of county commissioners met at their new meeting room in the magnificent new court house this morning for the purpose of formally accepting the new structure, and releasing from further obligation Architect Kinney, who was expected to be in attendance at the meeting. A telegram from the latter, however, to the board, stated that his presence was made impossible today on accout of other pressing business, and that he could not reach the city before Wednesday morning, consequently the board took up a number of other business matters which were presented, and disposed of a quantity of routine items, among which were several petitions and bills.

—Wm. Vannet, the able assistant county treasurer, has returned from his New Year's visit with the family of H. M. Dewart, formerly principal of the city high school, who now resides at St. Thomas, N. D.

—Herman Orehy, W. M. Tanner, C. A. Anderson, Aug. Nordus, J. L. Yeoman and Peter Caspar came over from Fosston last evening, to give testimony in the Francis H. Carver shooting case, which is on trial in district court oday.

—B. B. Brett, the Stephen attorney, came down last evening to act as referee for his clients in the Bloomsness bankruptcy case which came up before Referee Vaule today. The Journal acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Brett.

Prof. John Moore, and wife of this city, are preparing to leave soon for the south to spend the remainder of the winter. The Moore residence has been leased by Mathew D. McEnery, of Alliance, Ohio, special agent of the United States land office department.

—Before Referee Vaule today the hearing of creditors' claims and accounts in the Andrew Bloomsness bankruptcy case is taking place. The bankrupt conducted a general merchandise store at Donaldson and claims assets amounting to $7,000, less $2,800 exemptions, and his liabilities are given at $4.500.

—Sylvester Peterson, register of the Crookston land office, had his "picture" appear in the cartoon column of the Minneapolis Journal of yesterday In defense of Sylvester we wish to state that whoever made that "picture" perpetrated a gross slander on him, and should be made to come up for it, for the object of the cartoon is young and handsome and don't wear checkered pants.

—The Journal is pleased to note that Marve Losey, the unsuccessful candidate for sheriff in the recent election, has secured a remunerative position as collector for the McCormick machine company, for this district. Mr. Losey is a pleasant and competent gentleman, and will be particularly well qualified for his new position from his long experience as deputy sheriff of this county. We wish him abundant success for the future.

MARRIED

Jarvis-Coulter.

At Fisher on Monday the 31st ult. at 6 o'clock p. m. Miss Lillian B. Coulter, eldest daughter of C. L. Coulter was united in marriage to B. Franklin Jarvis, second son of Joe Jarvis, Sr., Rev Mr. Cooke performing the ceremony. The happy couple remained to assist at the marriage of the groom's brother which occurred the following day and left for Minneapolis Wednesday. They will spend a few weeks visiting with friends and relatives in southern Minnesota and Iowa, after which they will return and commence housekeeping at Mallory where they both reside. The list of the happy couple's friends is as extensive as their acquaintance, and all unite in congratulations.

Jarvis-Hunt

At Fisher on Tuesday Jan. 1 at 12 o'clock m. Miss Clara Hunt was united in marriage to Joe Jarvis, Jr., Rev. Mr. Cooke performing the ceremony. After the ceremony a reception was given at the residence of the groom's parents and a delightful time was enjoyed by those who were present. The happy couple are well and favorably known throughout the valley and their many friends are glad to extend congratulations and good wishes for their future. They will commence housekeeping in the Hunt home near Grand Forks.

Nicholson-Jenson

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nicholson in the Fifth ward at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, Miss Lena Jenson was united in marriage to Irvin Nicholson, Rev. Floyd A. Lawson performing the ceremony. A few only of the immediate friends and relatives were present, and the ceremony was followed by a sumptuous wedding supper and a lively social time which was continued until midnight. The newly wedded couple are well known here in the city and have hosts of friends, with whom the Journal unites in wishing them much joy, and a long and happy life in matrimonial harness.

Early Closing.

The clerks union of this city has brought at least one good result, the early closing movement of nearly every business house in the city.

Beginning Wednesday and continuing until Aug. 15 all stores will close at 6:30 every evening except Saturdays. This will give clerks and employers alike an opportunity to enjoy a little recreation at the end of their days' labor, and also prove a saving to many merchants during the dull business season.

CITY AND VICINITY

—Dr. Morley. Specialist Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, Crookston, Minn.

—J. P. Foote was a McIntosh passenger this morning.

—R. Galviu, the Grand Forks tailor, is in the city today.

—J. E. Morrisey is transacting business at Shevlin today.

—Representative Charley Rapp, of St. Hilaire, is in the city today.

—Guy. L. Scott, the Algoona, Ia., land hustler, arrived in the city this morning.

—C. E. Sargent and wife spent Christmas visiting with relatives in the country.

—Martin Guadesron, of the town of Faany, was a business visitor in the city today.

—Director Blockstad, of the Grafton Relief Association, was a Crookston visitor today.

—Wanted, 10 copies Wentworth's Elements of Algebra, second hand. Leave at College office.

—Miss Mary Frederickson of Perley spent Saturday here as the guest of the family of H. Johnson.

—Editor Rishoff of the Gary Graphic is a Queen city visitor Saturday, returning home Sunday night.

—Miss Flora Eikhoff, who has been visiting at Grand Forks for the past few days, returned home Saturday.

—Charley Gaetke, of Ada, came up this morning and is transacting business today in the Polk county capitol.

I have used Dr. Seth Araold,s Cough Killer in my family for thirty years.—Rev. J. W. Cole, Northampton, Mass.

—That awful pain! Mull's Lightning Pain Killer instantly cures. Safe for invalids. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—Sylvester Petersoa, of the United States land office, and City Attorney Gossman were attending to business in St. Paul Friday.

—Mrs. Fortuna Benoit, of Benoit, who has been visiting with relatives in this city for several days, returned home Friday morning.

—For nervousnes and sleeplessness try Lincoln's Hop and Celery Nerve Tablets. 25 cents per box. For sale by A. G. Andersen, druggist.

—A. D. McKinnon, who is attending the State University, came up from Minneapolis las Friday to spend a few days with friends and relatives.

—A Grand Forks boy fifteen years old stole $3:50 from his father and was prosecuted by him for the theft and sentenced to 10 days in jail for the larceny.

—Miss Armeadine Page returned to the Moorhead Normal Tuesday evening.

—The night crew in the Fifth ward round house enjoyed a half holiday Tuesday.

—Will Freeman left Wednesday afternoon for Larimore, where he will be engaged in a meat market.

—New Years day was most pleasantly spent by relatives and friends at the home of Mrs. C. E. Sargent.

—For sale, small drug stock within twenty-five miles of Crookston. Inquire at Journal for particulars.

—Mrs. H. Thoraldsoa, of Grand Forks, visited friends in this city yesterday, and left for Hendrum last evening.

—About twenty couple of young folks attended a social dance last evening at Columbia hall, in the Reckitt block.

—Hon. Halvor Steenerson and A. D. Stephens were passengers for the Twin Cities over the Great Northern last evening.

—A masquerade ball was given at Climax Monday evening and was attended by a number of Crookston's lovers of dancing.

—Mrs. Louis Morin, accompanied by her children, Romeo and Eva, returned from Grand Forks last Friday after spending a week with friends.

—The Ruettell Bros. are expecting the arrival, in a day or two, of their aged parents, who reside at Kincardine, Ontario, on an extended visit.

—Clarence Fisk, of Stewardburg, Manitoba, a cousin of Mayor Campbell, was in the city Saturday and surprised the latter by an unexpected call.

—The members of the Grand Forks police force and the fire department presented Mayor Dinnie's wife with an elegant leather chair for a Christmas gift.

—John Carlson, of this city, will left for his claim in Beltrami county last Monday morning and will remain out there several days, making improvements.

—City Engineer Geo. Ralph went to Ada Thursday to inspect the electric light plant, which was erected there this fall, prior to its being turned over to the city.

—In district court today a divorce was granted to Mary Dick from her husband, Wm. Dick, on the grounds of non-support and desertion. Mrs. Dick was allowed to assume her maiden name, Mary Henning.

—The board of county commissioners will meet again next Monday, relative to the acceptance of the new court house job.

The thermometer Tuesday night took a tumble and lodged down in the 25-pocket, and remained in that locality most of the next day.

—Alex McKinnon returned to Minneapolis Tuesday evening after "seeing in the new century" in company with his brothers and friends.

—The Royal Neighbors and Woodmen lodges, gave a very pleasant dance at their hall in the Fournet block Monday evening.

—E. D. Daniels, after spending his holiday vacation at home returned to Fergue Falls Tuesday evening to resume his studies at the college.

—Stop that Cough right away with Mull's Lightning Cough Cure. It heals disease of throat and lungs. It's pure and good for children. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—The Redmen's pow wow and installation of officers last evening at their lodge rooms, proved an unusually interesting entertainment and was largely attended.

—Rodger J. Bell, the Roseau county democratic statesman and editor of the Times, was an overnight visitor, returning from Grand Rapids, where he spent Christmas with his sons.

—Attorney Funkley of Bemidji has been lured by the glittering prospects of Blackduck's future prosperity to change his location to that place, and will remove there in the near future.

—It is given out that the Great Northern Railway company contemplates the erection of a new depot at Bemidji which is to be 124 feet long, and built according to modern plans.

—John H. Boyd, who recently came here from Nevada, Ia., and engaged in the real estate business, was called home by telegram yesterday, and left on the Great Northern passenger.

—B. F. Moaroe and bride left on last evening's Northern Pacific passenger for St. Paul, where the newly married couple will enjoy a short honeymoon. Upon their return here they will go to housekeeping.

—The law firm of Carpenter & Olson, who had offices in the Rickitt block, has been dissolved, Mr. Olson retiring to accept a position with Senator Grindeland, of Warren. The latter will leave for St. Paul shartly to be in attendance at the legislative session, and Mr. Olson will be left in charge of Mr. Grindeland's legal business. For the present Lawyer George Palmer will fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr. Olson in J. E. Carpenter's office.

—C. M. Twedtea, who resides a few miles west of this city, came to town Monday wearing a broad smile. The arrival of a tiny little daughter at his home last Saturday evening was the cause of it all.

—Chas. Wilson, formerly manager of the John Grove land company at Ada, passed through here Monday on his way to St. Hilaire where he has accepted a position with Julius Pleth, as land agent.

—The funeral of little Laura Playfair, the two and a half years old daughter of E. C. Playfair, was held at the residence on North Broadway last Friday. Rev. Mr. Fraser conducted the service.

—Editor J. J. Soli, of the St. Hilaire Spectator. and E. J. Brink came down from the Red Lake county metropolis Thursday to enjoy a few hours with Crookston friends. They returned home this morning.

—Alex Thompsoa and John Moorhead, day clerk of the Palace hotel, left last evening for St. Paul and Minneapolis for a few days visit and to be present at the opening of the next Minnesota legislature.

—Bert Anderson was distributing the 1901 calendar of the I. J. Lamm company of West Superior Monday among the customers of that concern in this city. The design is of a striking feature, and is the production of Bert's genius.

—The disease of Liver Complaint is alarmingly prevalent and it's dangerous. Mull's Pioneer Liver Cure has brought health to a host of sufferers. $1.00 draft in each $1.00 box as a guarantee. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—The Misses Annie and Nettie Lunde, of Union, N. D., who have been visiting for ten days with their aunt, Mrs. Jos. Buchman, of this city, left Monday for St. Hilaire, where they expect to remain for a week or more with friends.

—Mayor Campbell Monday circulated a petition for contributions from business men for the poor of the city. A similar petition was handed around before Christmas, and the donations were quite liberal and were greatly appreciated by the favored ones.

—Charles Poor of Bemidji has charge of a semi-weekly mail and express line which has been established for the winter between Bemidji and Blackduck, which gives the Blackduckites another boost toward the front.

—Wm. Walworth, better known as the "popcorn man," was taken to the St. Vincent hospital Friday, suffering with a cancer in the throat which has been developing for some time past and is now getting to be very serious.

A very pleasant dance was given at Nebey Thursday night by A. Paulsen. It was well attended and Bergs orchestra of this city, furnished the music for the young folks who tripped the light fantastic until the wee sma' hours of morn.

Geo. Driscoll and J. C. Wonderlick, both of Grafton, came down from there last Friday. The former went out to Fosston to look after his farming interests while the latter resumed his duties as bookkeeper in the Robertson lumber company's office.

—Chas. H. Wentz of Grafton, N. D., one of the brave soldiers of Company C, who volunteered his services for his country and went through the Manila campaign, is now attending the Crookston business college, and is taking a course in the commercial department.

—Lief Swennumson, during the Manila campaign quartermaster of Company "C," of Grafton, but now wheat buyer for the Peavy Elevator company of Bartoa, N. D., came down here last Thursday and was entertained by some of his friends in this city for a day.

—The Gateway Magazine is a new monthly publication which made its appearance on our exchange table this morning. It is a 32-page magazine, well printed and devoted to the Red River Valley country, and C. C. Knappeu is the publisher.

—The Cass Lake Times this week appeared in holiday attire and made a splendid showing. It contained a general write up of Cass Lake county and a number of illustrations of leading business men and business houses of the town, and is typographically neatly gotten up.

—The Hendrum Review says that a dog poisoner in that town would prove a much admired addition to its population, and backs its assertion in the following remark: Hendrum contains more worthless dogs than most towns. During the day the air is filled with the discordant howls and yelps of the fighting curs, and at night—well, they bark at the moon. Dog poisoners are not a class of men that people like to associate with, but if one turned up in this vicinity, he no doubt would be voted a pension by our dog pestered citizens.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moeckel, of Ashland, Wis., arrived in the city Saturday and are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. August F. George. The visitors have many personal friends here, Mr. Moeckel having been engaged in the mercantile business in this city some ten years ago.

—In probate court Monday license was granted to Administrator Welter of the estate of Mrs. J. J. Carey, deceased, to sell certain real estate in the village of Beltrami, this county. The estate of Mrs. Sarah Pearsoa, who died in New York state, was finally closed and the executor discharged

—A. H. Pitkin, representing Wardner, Bushnell & Glassner, of St. Paul, arrived here Monday morning from Mankato, and will make Crookston his headquarters in the future. Mr. Pitkin formerly resided here, and has many friends, who will be glad to number him as a permanent citizen.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hettler, of Buxtoa, N. D., arrived in the city last Thursday on a visit to B. F. Zarracher. Mr. Hettler has many friends in this city, who are congratulating him on his election as superintendent of schools of his county at the recent election.

—Judge Montague returned from Grafton last Saturday evening, where he was engaged for a week or more in trying the Musgrove will case. The hearing of testimony was completed Saturday evening, and the case given to the court for decision, which latter will be made public some time this week.

—Mr. Thos. W. Hoover of Devils Lake, N. D., arrived in the city Monday morning and will take charge of the shorthand department of the Crookston Business College. The management of the College are using their utmost endeavors to put the college in the front rank of educational institutions of its class in the state.

—At a drawing Thursday evening F. Brosseau won an Indian club, John Bergquist a prophet's sash and N. S. Gervais a calumet pipestone. All of the prizes are Indian articles, and incidentally everyone of the lucky ones is a member of the Red Men's lodge of this city. The drawing was conducted in the interest of the Red Men's lodge.

The New York Store

THE MAMMOTH DEPARTMENT STORE.

One Whole Week of Profit Sharing

RAILROAD FARE FREE!

For every dollar's worth purchased we pay two miles of your railroad fare upon presentation of return part of round trip ticket.

Money We Want

Hanging on to old prices is a poor way to get new business. I must sell $10,000 Worth of Merchandise By January 15, 1901

You can help do it, if you read this carefully and get your thinker started in the right direction.

Money We Need

THERE IS MONEY IN IT FOR YOU!

CALICOES From 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

All our standard calicoes, dark and light, 7c and 8c quality at	3c
Percales, 36 inches wide, value 15c, at	7c
Apron Ginghams	5c
French Ginghams, value 10c and 12½c. 10 yards to each customers.	6c

Outing Flannels From 2 to 3 o'clock.

Fine teaseldown outings, pretty designs, new styles, 12½c at	7c
Fine teaseldown outings, pretty designs, new styles, 10c at	5c
Fine teaseldown outings, pretty designs, new styles, 8c at. 10 yards to each customer.	3c

BLANKETS From 3 to 4 o'clock

Fine, soft and fleecy, gray and white, size 10-4 and 11-4, everywhere 65c at	39c
Camping blankets, extra heavy, regular $1.00 at. 1 pair to each customer.	69c

Ladies' and Children's Underwear

Ladies' Jersey ribbed fleeced garments 25c, special	17c
Ladies' Jersey ribbed fleeced garments 35c special	22c
Ladies' Jersey ribbed, heavy fleeced garments 50c, special	33c
Children's Jersey ribbed fleeced, 15c kind, special	8c
Children's Jersey ribbed fleeced, 18c kind, special	10c
Children's Jersey ribbed fleeced, 22c kind, special	12½c
Children's Jersey ribbed fleeced, 25c kind, special	15c

SHEETINGS

Fruit of the Loom, regular 12½c quality at	7c
Lonsdale sheeting, regular 15c quality at	7c
Unbleached LL, quality 7c at. 10 yards to each customer	5c

DRESS GOODS

School house suitings, double width, regular 15c and 18c quality at	9c
School house suitings, double width, regular 12½c quality at	7c
Covert cloth in different shades 38 and 40 inches wide, former price 40c, this sale	23c
Fancy mixtures, former price 60c, now	37c
Mohair novelties, former price 40c, now	23c
Brilliantines in red, blue and gray, former price 75c, now	49c
Ladies' cloth, 52 inches wide, regular price $1.19, now	75c

Men's Underwear

Extra heavy fleeced underwear, good value at 65c, only	39c
25 doz. Men's neckties from 35c to $1.00 at	25c

Silk Shirt Waists

Ladies' fancy silk shirt waists, regular price $3.50 now	$2 25
Ladies' fancy silk shirt waists regular price $4.50 now	2 85
Ladies' fancy silk shirt waists regular price $5.00 now	3 00
Ladies' fancy silk shirt waists regular price $6.00 now	3 45

HOSIERY

Ladies' ribbed cashmere hose, regular 25c kind at	17c
Ladies' ribbed cashmere hose, regular 29c kind at	19c
Ladies' ribbed cashmere hose, regular 35c kind at	23c
Children's ribbed cashmere hose, regular 25c kind at	15c
Children's ribbed cashmere hose, regular 30c kind at	19c

Ladies' Cloaks, Jackets, Capes

Nobby Ladies' Jackets of very high grade Kersey, storm collar, lined throughout, value $25, this week special	$17 00
Ladies' beaver jackets, value $18 special	11 25
Ladies' beaver jackets, value $15 special	9 85
Ladies' beaver jackets, value $12 special	7 19
Ladies' beaver jackets, value $8 special	4 00
Ladies' extra long cloaks of heavy black imported boucle, former price $15; now	7 98
Ladies' long cloaks, formerly $12 now	6 45
Ladies' long cloaks, formerly $10 now	5 10

NOTIONS

1 paper of pins at only	1c
2 spools of thread at only	5c
Pearl buttons in different sizes, per doz	3c
Job lot of silk thread and button hole twist, per spool	1c

Shoes We handle the Pingree & Smith Shoes. None better.

Ladies' shoes from $1.50 to $4.50. On special table at	69c
Boys' shoes from $1.25 th $3.00. On special table at	69c
Men's fancy slippers, value $1.00 On special table at	59c
1 lot of overshoes, regular price $1.00 at	49c

Corsets

Ladies corsets, in all sizes, shades and colors, regular $1.00 and $1.25 kind at	45c

Big Remnant Sale

This week. Remnants of all kinds—Dress Goods, etc.—at half price.

Big cutting and slashing in all departments, for we must reduce our stock before taking invoice.

Sole Agent for Standard Patterns.

A. CHABOT.

THEIR FIRST NIGHT IN CAMP

WHEN Dr. Beecher, curator at Yale university, went to Winslow, A. T., a few weeks ago with seven New Haven friends and asked who would be a good man to conduct an outfit to the Moqui snake dance at Oribi, it was "Chuck" Hardy that was recommended to him.

"Thar's a man," said a native, speaking of Hardy, "who was never known to git inter a hole whatso he couldn't fog his way out of it if yer only let him have his own way and his six-shooter—don't know as yer need to be so pertic'lar 'bout lettin' him have his own way, though, fer he'll have that anyway if he's got his critter on his hip."

Hardy was known in polite society as a "cow rustler," but the sheriff always referred to him in plain English as a "cattle thief." For this outspokenness Hardy admired the sheriff, and always felt rather proud of himself when that dignitary referred to him by the latter title.

A half dozen times he had been arrested, but he was never convicted. Twice he was caught red-handed burning out brands. The foreman of the "Hash-Knife" outfit was unlucky enough to catch him at it the first time, and the following day the foreman was buried. Again a Mexican was impolite enough to interrupt him while he was burning out a "Long H" brand. At Winslow a few days later the Mexican had a bullet taken out of his leg and then left for old Mexico, or, as the cowboys put it, "be drug it clean out of creation."

Over the Indian trail that leads from Winslow to Oribi it is 80 miles. A common saying in Winslow is that a coyote has something to be proud of if he manages to go over the trail without either dying of thirst on the Painted desert or sinking in the quicksands of the Little Colorado. Because of the difficulties to be encountered upon the trip the doctor was careful to get a good man to conduct the outfit, and so "Chuck" was engaged. Like nearly all cow punchers, he knew how to cook—that is, he knew how to fry beef until it resembled a trunk strap, to make something which looked like coffee and to make something else which he called bread.

Just at daybreak on the morning of the start the commissary, piled high with bedding and provisions, rolled out of Winslow across Tucker's flats with "Chuck" up on the high seat driving. Alongside the wagon, riding a half-broken broncho, was Rob Rickets, a tall, loose-jointed puncher, better known as Rickety Bob. Some four hours later, after they had their morning "bawth" and had spent an hour at breakfast, the doctor and his friends left in the light rigs, thinking to overtake Hardy at noon. But when their "luggage was put aboard" the rigs were overloaded, and at noon they were fully ten miles behind Hardy, and were thus forced to do without lunch.

It had been cloudy all morning, and about one o'clock in the afternoon began a typical Arizona rain—a drenching pourdown that lasted unceasingly for hours, and seemed to come but from one little insignificant cloud that hung just overhead. At five o'clock darkness came on. To the west a little above Rabbit's Ear range of mesas settled a heavy bank of dark clouds in which faint flashes of lightning gleamed. The eddying wind would suck one cloud scrap after another from the bank and hurl them out over the flats to reenforce the gushing cloud overhead. All the afternoon Hardy kept the shoulders of his four horses hard against their collars. When darkness came on he had not reached the high ground where he intended to make camp. Water six inches deep covered the flats, and Hardy forced his horses on at a swifter gait than before. The heavy wagon rolled and tossed like a distressed boat as the front and rear wheels dropped alternately to the hubs into soft, miry chuckholes. But Hardy kept on, and at seven o'clock, with a whoop of triumph, he pulled up his tired, weary team on the top of a large sand dune.

After the horses had been fed and a pile of green greasewood, the only fuel to be had, had been gathered, Hardy and Rickety Bob set about making camp. They built a large fire, so that those in the rigs behind might know where to come, and began to prepare supper.

"Say, Chuck," said Rickety, as he rummaged about in the wagon, "do you know we clean plump fergot to bring a coffee mill?"

"No: you don't say?"

"Yes, sir; and the hen fruit what yer got fer them hifalutin tenderfeet air jes' plump made inter an omelet already. And, good gosh! Look at the lid of this here bread oven. She's cracked plump clean acrosst."

"Well," drawled Chuck, "ef that's the case I guess thar ain't none of our friends whatso will suffer a great lot with gout afore they git back, anyhow."

"Say, Chuck," said Rickety, scratching his head thoughtfully and balancing himself on the hind wheel of the wagon, "do you know we're agoin' ter have trouble with them thair mavericks? We air, shore. They's jes' like a lot of bronks. You've jes' got ter give it ter 'em proper the first time yer meet up with 'em er thar's no handlin' 'em at all. So ef I was you I wouldn't feed them critters too strong at the go-off."

"Guess yer right thar, pard," returned Chuck. "I'll jes' go 'em on that proposition to-night."

When Dr. Beecher's party came up a little later "Chuck" was singing to the most doleful tune a re-frain of which ran

"So we'll leave this spot, this dismal hole
And pull for the Rio Grande,
Where in sunlight bright we'll bask and roll
Till the river runs full of brandy.

"Yes, we'll leave this hole, I'll promise you,
To pull for the Rio Grande,
Where the boys are brave and hearts are true,
And the girls are sweet as candy."

"There, doctor!" exclaimed Mr. Callahan to Dr. Eaton, as they drove up. "That's just what I've come 3,000 miles to hear."

Hastily they all left their cramped positions in the rigs and hurried up to the fire. Rickety Bob sat on the ground pounding up coffee in a baking powder can with the muzzle of his six-shooter, firing into the air whenever the muzzle became clogged and didn't cut well.

"Well," said Chuck, cheerily, as he finished his song, "how's this for dampness?"

No one paid any attention to him for a few moments. They were all too much taken up with Rickety Bob. Hardy took the opportunity to look them over, and he did it as carefully as though they had been a bunch of yearling colts which he intended to purchase. Each wore a sombrero with a rim fully eight inches wide, and from their general breezy make-up it was plain to Hardy that some one had been telling them all about the hot, dry climate of "arid Arizona." Finally one of the group turned to Hardy and asked:

"Where do we camp to-night, Mr. Hardy?"

"Right here, sir."

"And the tents?"

"Tents! Why, man alive, don't you know they don't allow tents on an Indian reservation? Why, these here Navajoes would come along here and find us in tents and they'd fog us plumb out of the country, thinking that we was soldiers. No, sir; tents all the time that we was soldiers No, sir; tents air a little too risky fer me."

TEN MILES BEHIND HARDY.

"Well, but what will we do about this rain?"

"Do like Adam did. Lay out and take 'er and thank the Lord fer sendin' 'er."

Tired, hungry and shivering in their wet clothes, the eastern men looked at one another in dismay. Going to the fire Hardy threw the lid off the bread oven and snatched out a biscuit. Peeling off the top and bottom crusts, he took the middle out and threw it against the side of the wagonbed, where it stuck. Then, as though that were a test that put the seal of perfection upon all good bread, he yelled out:

"Here she is; come and git 'er while she's a-steamin'."

Uncovering the meat and pulling the coffee pot out of the fire, he and Rickety Bob took out their jackknives, sat down tailor-fashion on the wet sand and began to "fly at her." Far-away "home-and-mother" looks stole into the visitors' eyes, but they said nothing. Presently Hardy looked up and asked:

"Don't you fellers want nuthin' to eat?"

"Why, yes; we'd like something, but I haven't any knife. Will you lend me yours until I fish out a piece of meat?" said Zeigler Sergeant.

"Shore, Mike. But, say, fellers, thar's a whole passel of knives an' forks an' tin dishes thar in the chuckbox, if yer keer ter use them."

Coming back to the fire after the beds had been made down, Hardy found one of the party washing his feet in a basin of water that had been drawn from the "drinking water" tanks on the wagon.

"Drag it out o' that!" yelled Hardy, drawing his revolver and covering the barefoot man. "Come right out of that er I'll pump yer plumb full of these here lead beans."

"Don't shoot! Don't shoot!" cried the frightened man. "I meant no—"

"Never mind what yer meant," said Hardy, returning his revolver to its holster, "but please jes' remember that the water in them barrels has got ter last us fer drinking purposes fer the next five days."

At that he picked up the basin and poured the water back into the barrel, to the astonishment and horror of the New Englanders. No one dared object to this, and so the incident passed. About this time there was a "let-up" in the rainstorm, and it gave all a chance to get to bed dry. But at midnight the lightning began to flash again and another pourdown came.

As the first big drops fell Hardy and Rickety Bob poked their heads out from beneath their tarpaulin, and, yelling like Comanches, emptied their six-shooters into the air. From that time on there was no sleep for the "professors." Drowned out of their beds by the leaking tarpaulin, they either sought shelter in vain under the rigs or walked about over the sand dune until morning trying to keep warm.—Chicago Daily Record.

The Legal Year.

Up to 1752 the 25th of March was the beginning of the legal year, though the 1st of January was universally recognized as New Year's day.

NEW INVASION OF INDIA.

American Cigarettes Are Carrying All Before Them in the Orient.

The idea that the native Indian eschews all but his native tobacco, which he takes mostly in the form of cheroots, receives a hard shock from the newly issued official Review of the Trade of India. It appears that in 1898-99 the imports of manufactured tobacco, especially in the shape of cigarettes, underwent much expansion.

It is no longer true that the consumption of imported tobacco is practically confined to the Anglo-Indian population. Cigarettes made in America are being extensively imported now with special reference to the requirements of the native smoker, says the London Mail. They are greatly in evidence in and about Calcutta and other large cities, where they are beginning to supersede the unclean and unsavory compounds smoked in native apparatus.

Imported cottons have largely superseded the production of the native handloom; imported mineral oil and dyes have superseded the inferior articles produced in the country, to the great advantage of the consumer; imported sugar is also gradually beginning to thrust back the inferior and dirty sugar hitherto offered to the Indian consumer; and now it seems that Indian tobacco is to recoil before the invasion of foreign tobacco made up in neatly packed cigarettes.

Another turn of the wheel, and when the people have become accustomed to the better article the capitalist will arise and make it on the spot of Indian tobacco, to the advantage of both producer and consumer, as has been done with cotton goods and will be done with sugar.

MARRIED

A double wedding occurred at the Ottawa house last evening, and Rev. Father Grandchamp of the French Catholic church performed the ceremony which made Peter Jeraux and Miss Lida Brink, and Joseph Belongar and Miss May Paul man and wife. For the latter couple Miss Celima Toubin and Elor Brosseau acted as escorts. After the ceremonies dancing was indulged in and the festivities were continued until a late hour. Both young couple will be domiciled for the present in the Ottawa house.

VALLEY COUNTY PETITION

Was Forwarded to St. Paul from McIntosh Saturday.

It appears that the Valley county division petition has been filed in St. Paul having been forwarded by Express from McIntosh last Saturday. It bore the signatures of 1600 persons most of which were obtained in the east end of the county. It is understood that it is to receive the active attention of Senator Ryder in St. Paul, and probably Governor Lind will issue a proclamation for a vote upon the question. The East end divisionists are playing this as their trump card and are confident of winning out by its use.

BIG CORN YIELD.

Results Shown By North Dakota Farmer.

The Fargo Forum prints the following account of a big corn yield:

Ole Hastedalen, a prominent farmer living northwest of Abercrombie, on the Wild Rice river, can demonstrate that corn can be raised in North Dakota even in a season so climatically contrary as was the last. Mr. Hastedalen and a force of six men began the work last Tuesday, of shredding and husking the contents of twelve large stacks, made from eighty acres, harvested a few weeks ago. The work is being done with a Deere & Weber corn husker, the first one sold in that section. The power for the machine is supplied by an 18 horse power engine. The corn is perfectly husked and shredded by the machine which tosses the fodder one way and deposits the ears in a wagon box all clean and ready for market. The machine does the work at the rate of about two wagon loads per hour. After the first day's work, Mr. Hastedalen was enabled to estimate that the yield from his eighty acres would not be less than 4,000 bushels of corn ears.

This should stimulate to a great extent the desire to raise corn by the farmers in the Red River valley, as a means of feed for stock.

SOUTH CROOKSTON

L. S. Hutchens is grinding feed by the wholesale.

There will be a wedding in the near future in the Fifth ward.

Prof. Jesse Childs is home spending his holiday vacation with his parents.

Mr. Joe Veau our blacksmith left on Christmas to visit for a month at his old home in Canada.

W. D. Bailey is selling the Carman people a car load of wood which he had shipped down from his farm at Erskine.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN L ?

What Kind of Land do You Wa ?

Wild Land, Cultivated Lar ood Land, Hay Land,
Heavy Land, Light Land, Land, Land,
City Lots, Village Lots, Bus ss Lots, Residence Lots,

APPLY TO THE

Red River Valley Land Company....

If you have Lands to sell list them with us.
If you want to buy Lands look over our lists.

Come and see us anyway, whenever you want anything connected with land business, or any information concerning the character and quality of soil of any land in Northern Minnesota.

F. M. BROWN, Manager.
GEO. A. RALPH, Secretary.

THE GREAT SIBERIA.

Possibilities of This Vast Country Not Yet Realized by the World.

Fast Becoming Dotted with Thriving Villages—Rich, Productive Soil and Immense Mineral Wealth Yet to Be Developed.

Siberia of to-day is a land filled with thriving villages, and is giving promise of wealth. Consul Smith, at Moscow, has written to the state department an interesting report on that country. He says:

"Ten years ago the name Siberia conjured up a picture of wastes of snow and ice, boundless steppes and coasts white with icebergs. To-day this same Siberia is a land filled with thriving villages of peasant farmers, producing grain and vegetables in plenty, and giving promise of mineral wealth which will astonish the world.

"The world has now to deal with a new factor, and a factor heretofore unconsidered, as is evidenced by the ignorance of the Russians themselves regarding the affairs and conditions beyond their northern border land.

"The lack of exploitation of such evident mineral wealth as is to be found in Siberia is unparalleled in other parts of the civilized world. Of these resources gold is by far the most important, and it is, curiously enough, the least undeveloped.

"Cities of from 10,000 to 50,000 inhabitants are now numerous in Siberia. Hotels supplied with comfortable rooms, restaurants which may be truly said in many cases to be palatial, electric lights and telephone connections are not difficult to find. One may now traverse Siberia with his hands folded if he so wishes, as the elegant weekly vestibule, supplied with bath, piano, dining salon, drawing-room, leather sofas, easy chairs and observation cars, the whole fitted with electric lights and call bells, rolls from Moscow to Irkutsk. The cost of this remarkable journey, 3,200 miles, including sleeper, is but $44 first class.

"To the majority of the inhabitants of St. Petersburg and Moscow Siberia is as unknown as it is to the people of the mountain district of Tennessee. When men of affairs at Moscow were asked what clothes to take to Siberia they replied that furs were always necessary on account of the intense cold. Actual experience in the city of Krasnoyarsk showed that the thermometer registered 110 degrees for days together in the month of August and that any clothes but those made of silk and linen were absolutely unendurable.

"But let Siberia speak for herself; let the globe-trotter get away from the traveling agencies for a month and a new world, where elements of strength and virility soon to be felt in the struggle for existence are but waiting to develop under the touch of western enterprise. Some advance has already been made, as is evident when American mowing machines are seen rattling through the streets of Tomsk, and a policeman may be noted riding a United States bicycle through the dusty highways of Krasnoyarsk. The beginnings are small but the straws blow with the wind of progress."

BREAKS WEDDING RECORD.

Pennsylvania Young Woman Marries Twice and Is a Widow in Two Years.

Wedded twice and widowed once in less than two years and not yet 20 years of age is the startling matrimonial record possessed by Mrs. Howard Gould, whose husband is advance agent for a theatrical company. Two years ago next month Mrs. Gould, who was then Miss Edith Woodling, left her home in Scranton, Pa., and went to New York, where her sweetheart, James W. Garvey, Jr., was being treated in St. Luke's hospital for consumption. Although informed that he was not destined to live she married him. Five months later Mrs. Garvey was back in Scranton, a widow at the age of 18.

Two weeks ago the repertory company played at the Academy at Scranton. Howard Gould, one of the company, was a handsome, fair-haired young fellow, and it was a case of love at first sight. Saturday afternoon last he and Mrs. Garvey were married at Wilkesbarre by Rev. W. J. Hall and came to Scranton afterward for the blessing of the bride's parents.

Gardeners Once Honored.

The term gardener implied much more a few generations ago than it does to-day. Young men paid heavy premiums to get in as apprentices under learned gardeners, and when at the end of the term they were invested with the "blue apron" most of them would compare favorably in general intelligence with the graduates of our modern universities. Of these broadly educated men a notable one, Louis Menand, of Albany, N. Y., recently passed away in his ninety-third year. He was born in the province of Burgundy, France, and maintained his interest in flowers and general affairs till his death.

The Impecunious Author.

Mark Twain forgot, a few evenings ago, that he was invited out to dinner. Most authors, says the Chicago Times-Herald, unhappily have strong reasons for vividly remembering such engagements.

High-Priced Robin.

A Providence (R. I.) pot hunter has just paid $25.45 for the penalty of killing one robin. Robins are now protected the year round by the Rhode Island game laws.

POISON IN A WEARY BODY.

Human Beings Are Subject to a Species of Self-Poisoning by the Eating of Game.

The eating of "high" game is undoubtedly attended with risks and the poisonous effects are probably due to the toxins produced in the earlier stages of the putrefactive process, says the London Lancet. The advantage, of course, of hanging game is that the flesh becomes tender and decidedly more digestible than when it is quite fresh. The ripening process, however, may mean the elaboration of toxins. It has been stated that the production of the characteristic flavors of game is related directly to the amount of sulphuretted hydrogen or sulphur-alcohol set free, but it is rather repulsive to think that the delicate flavors of game is dependent upon that invariable produce of decomposition of rotten eggs—sulphuretted hydrogen. The smell evolved during cooking of "high" game is even more disgusting.

Fresh game sometimes sets up mysterious poisoning symptoms, which have been attributed to the face of the game having been overhurried and fatigued. Fatigue products, indeed, have been separated from overhunted game which when injected into a healthy animal have produced marked poisonous effects. There is no doubt that fatigue products under certain circumstances are also elaborated in the human body and give rise to a species of self-poisoning, characteristic symptoms of which are headache, stupor and gastric and intestinal pains. The flesh of overdriven cattle may prove poisonous from the same cause.

This curious formation of poisonous products in the flesh of animals through a state of terror or exhaustion is a question well worth considering in relation to the wholesomeness of animal foods and emphasizes the importance of slaying animals intended for food in the most humane way.

THEY SUFFER NO PENALTY.

Scores of Men Who Rob Banks Are Never Brought to the Bar of Justice.

"Alvord's theft of $700,000 and Schreiber's of $106,000," said an expert accountant, according to the Philadelphia Record, "go to show that in all business it is impossible to prevent dishonest men from stealing. No matter how thorough the auditing may be, no matter how closely the heads watch those under them, every man who handles money can steal, with a reasonable chance of escaping detection. That more such men don't steal speaks well for human nature, but I must qualify this statement with the additional one that many do steal and are caught, but their employers, while discharging them, do not make public their crimes. It isn't charity which impels the employers to do this, though; it is a fear of hurting the credit of the firm.

"You can safely say that 90 per cent. of the thieving employes of Philadelphia are not brought to justice. Usually they arrange to pay back their defalcations on the installment plan. I know a bachelor of 43 who in his youth robbed the bank that employed him of $4,800, with which he speculated, hoping to make enough to marry. He lost all, was discovered and is still paying off, out of a paltry salary, that debt of shame. I know the histories of scores of defaulters, and in every case the thefts were, in a way, innocently begun. The money was taken with the determination that it would be replaced."

SUICIDES IN ARMY.

Statistics Prepared by Surgeon General Sternberg Show There Is Not an Alarming Increase.

Surgeon General Sternberg has prepared statistics making a comparison of cases of suicides and homicides which occurred in the army during the years of 1898 and 1899 compared with the ten years between 1888 and 1897. It shows that there were relatively fewer homicides during those two years than during the previous decade. The average number of suicides per year in an army of 27,116 for the ten years was 17. The ratio per thousand was .63 per cent. The strength of the army in 1898 is given at 147,795, the average number of suicides, 38, and the percentage per thousand, .26. The strength of the army in 1899 is given at 105,546, and the number of suicides at 30; ratio per thousand, .28 per cent.

During the ten years from 1888 to 1897 the homicides are given at 5.5 per cent., and the ratio per thousand, .20 per cent. For 1898 the number of homicides at 19, and the ratio per thousand, .13 per cent.; for 1899 the number of homicides at 23 and the ratio per thousand, .22 per cent.

New Form of Phonograph.

Among the exhibits at the Paris exposition was a phonograph, invented by Valdemar Poulsen, a Danish engineer, which uses a wire-wound instead of a wax-covered cylinder. The wire is of steel, and over it, in place of the usual stylus, passes a small electro-magnet connected with a telephone transmitter and battery. The sound waves cause a variation in the intensity of the electro-magnet, and the magnet, acting upon the wire passing beneath it, leaves a permanent impression upon the latter. Upon reversing the action the wire reacts on the magnet and corresponding sounds are transmitted by the telephone. In order to obliterate the magnetic trace on the cylinder it is only necessary to revolve it under the magnet while this is subjected to a continuous current.

NEED MORE SCHOOLS.

Deplorable State of Illiteracy Among Porto Rican Children.

Present School System Comprises 800 Teachers and 38,000 Pupils—Those Still Without School Facilities Number 300,000.

M. G. Brumbaugh, commissioner of education for Porto Rico, says the school system now in operation there includes 800 teachers and 38,000 pupils. This is only a beginning, as there are 300,000 children of school age without school facilities, most of whom would enroll if they could. Commissioner Brumbaugh says the hope of the island is in the public schools and that the great illiteracy in Porto Rico must be reduced. The schools are not to be compared with the American systems, but their transformation must be gradual. The report says that the present school law should be wholly abrogated at the coming session of the insular legislature, for many reasons, and a new law passed. A change in the licensing of teachers is needed to protect good teachers "from the competitions and machinations of worthless teachers and from the pernicious interference of politicians." The report urges closer supervision and quotes Dr. Groff, formerly acting commissioner, as saying that the supervisors of the school were at first ex-soldiers, ex-teamsters, ex-packers and other such men, and they had to teach English in addition, but now they are men as qualified as the salary can command and the supervision requires their entire time. There are over 100 American teachers engaged in the schools and the demand is for more, provided they know enough Spanish to instruct the children in their native tongue. One group of these American teachers is denounced, "the seekers after novelty and new experiences, mere adventurers, who imposed upon the administration and the children and who used the salary and position of teacher solely to see a new country for a year and then return. Fortunately these are gone, and the better teachers remain to carry on a really helpful and arduous task. The people of Porto Rico have patiently borne with these adventurers, and quietly longed for their departure."

Thousands of children in this island, says the report, are half clothed, half fed, and half housed. At least 80 per cent. of all the people are illiterate and the crying need is schools to reduce the appalling illiteracy. There are no public school buildings and no public colleges or universities.

YALE GAINS BIG SUM.

Treasurer's Report Shows Large Increase of Funds Last Year.

The Yale university corporation treasurer's report and the budget for the coming year were presented at the autumn meeting. Both were approved. Treasurer Morris F. Tyler says that for the fiscal year ended July 31, 1900, the permanent funds of the university were increased by the sum of $427,336.59; that the general funds of all departments amount to $2,372,994.42, and the funds and assets of the university aggregate $5,247,782.77. The receipts from term bills and other charges to students were $487,022.19; received as income from investment, rents, etc., $255,967.70.

The general university funds have received $210,998.50 of the year's increase noted, the principal additions being from the estate of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, $100,000; from Miss Caroline Phelps Stokes and Miss Olivia E. Phelps Stokes, for the erection of Woodbridge hall, $40,000, and $30,000 from William E. Dodge for a specific course of lectures. Of the remainder of the increase $16,977.65 comes in the form of gifts to the incomes of the different departments and $200,685.25 in additions to building funds, of which latter sum $190,775 has been paid to the bicentennial memorial building fund.

NEED A NAVAL RESERVE.

Secretary Long to Urge Its Establishment Instead of the Present Naval Militia.

Secretary Long, it is said in a special dispatch to the New York Tribune from Washington, will in his report urge the establishment of a naval reserve to supplant the existing naval militia, which is thought to have outlived its usefulness, as shown by its rapid deterioration since the war with Spain. The proposed national reserve is already under consideration in congress, with the indorsement of all naval and maritime interests. It contemplates the enrollment of officers and seamen in the merchant service, much after the manner of the British reserve, at an expense far below that of the naval militia, with the distinct advantage of making experienced seafaring men available for services aboard fighting ships. It will be shown that in case of war to-morrow the United States warships now in service would require at least 500 officers and 10,000 men for fighting complements. With a national naval reserve enrolled this force could be secured and made efficient in a few weeks, while on the other hand the present naval militia could not supply one-tenth the number in twice the time.

Marketing in Buenos Ayres.

Vegetables are usually sold in piles in Buenos Ayres, so that you have to measure quantity as well as quality by the eye; and butchers sell their meat by the chunk, rather than by weight.

ENCHANTED LETTER.

BY WALKER KENNEDY.

(Copyright, 1899, Daily Story Publishing Co.)

After dinner John Saintsbury repaired to his rooms with nothing more serious upon his mind than the writing of two letters. It was a clear, cold winter evening, with just a bit too much of a whipping wind to be comfortable, and it was with a sense of relief that he entered his comfortable apartments and found a cheerful fire blazing in the grate in his sitting-room. Saintsbury was one of those young fellows who may be described as "nicely fixed."

Saintsbury dropped into an easy chair and ran his eye casually over the evening paper. Then came a parenthetical smoke, and he sat down to his desk to write his letters. A fine, spirited young fellow he looked, with his clean-cut features, his well-shaped head, his soft, dark hair and his bright, clear eyes.

Saintsbury's two letters were as dissimilar as it is possible to imagine. One was merely a note to Edith Crawford asking her to go with him to see "Cyrano de Bergerac" the latter part of the week. Yet how fondly he wrote it. He began the note "Dear Edith," writing the words with a caress, and he sat admiring his own rashness, though he knew he was merely writing for his own edification and that the aristocratic Miss Crawford would never see what he had there written. He scribbled the name all over the page and then, with a sigh, laid the sheet aside and began to write the formal note which he always sent to Miss Crawford. Saintsbury was so deeply in love with this lady that it actually scared him. She was so stately, so inaccessibly beautiful, that it almost seemed to him blasphemy that he should dare to love her. He had tried times without number to tell her, but had always failed. For what right had mortal man to make love to one of the saints? And so things had drifted along, and Saintsbury had lived in a sort of divine despair for more than a year.

The second letter which he had to write was for a friend who was in love and wished to send a beautiful letter announcing this fact to the woman he adored, but did not know how to do it. "Write me a letter, John," said Dick, "as if you were writing to your own girl." John endeavored to follow out these instructions. He did not know the name of Dick's sweetheart, and in order to do his best he addressed the letter to Edith Crawford, intending to leave her name out when he copied the letter. He found it easy to write under these circumstances, and when it was concluded he read it over and glowed with the beauty of it. He could find no fault with it, and he felt that he could not improve upon it by rewriting it. So what was the use of rewriting it? Dick had to copy it anyway in his own nervy hand. So he took out a couple of envelopes and addressed them and enclosed the letters, having forgotten all about leaving Edith Crawford's name in his friend's letter.

The next day at the bank he was rung up by his friend Daniels. "I say," said Dick over the telephone, "you didn't know that you sent me a letter addressed to a friend of yours, did you? What's up, anyway, old boy?"

John remembered then that he had forgotten to erase Miss Crawford's name, and he blushed through the 'phone as he replied: "Oh, that's all right. Just scratch her name out, and I think it will do."

"You haven't given yourself away a-plenty, have you?" said Dick.

"Go away, Dick; I can't jabber with you during banking hours."

"All right; but you'd better straighten this thing out soon," replied Dick, with a chuckle, as he rang off.

Saintsbury was really annoyed that he should have left Miss Crawford's name standing in his friend's letter. It was so thoughtless and indelicate in him. And as he worried over the matter a new idea came to him. Could it be that he had swapped the letters and sent Edith's to Dick, and Dick's to Edith? The idea was quite amusing until he remembered that Edith's name was in the beautiful love letter. It was impossible that he could have made such a mistake, but he was vaguely uneasy about it, and that evening he hastened to Miss Crawford's to set the matter at rest.

He found her in the drawing-room alone, and looking pensively into the fire. How beautiful, how tender, how dainty she was in the firelight glow! He entered the room nervously and confused. She arose to greet him, and he observed a slight flush upon her cheeks and a touch of uncertainty in her manner. He shook both her hands without saying anything. She seemed a trifle surprised and a silence fell between them.

He broke in awkwardly: "Did you get a letter from me?"

"Yes," she answered with adorable softness.

"Well did I—did you—can you tell me what I wrote—I mean did I say—?"

"I do not understand you, Mr. Saintsbury," said Miss Crawford, rather distantly.

"Pardon me, but I mean, did I ask you in the letter you received whether you cared—"

"Is it possible you do not remember what you wrote me?" she inquired with beautiful iciness.

"Why, of course; but I fear there has been some mistake—"

Miss Crawford was not only amazed, but she was apparently quite angry. As for him, he was in an agony of doubt. Which letter had she received? If he only knew he felt that he could act. If she had received the love letter, he would have been delighted to let it go at that. At any rate, he knew that his time had come to speak, and with this conviction came resolution and freedom from embarrassment.

"Pardon my awkwardness," he said, with a smile, "and I will explain. Last night I had to write two letters. One asked you to go with me to see 'Cyrano de Bergerac.' The other was written for a friend who asked me to write it as if I were addressing the woman I loved. I began by writing her name at the head of it, and then I wrote a love letter into which my own feelings entered. I don't know which one of these letters you got, but really both of them should have gone to you. Your name was at the beginning of each, you are the woman I love, and you are the woman I was writing to in both letters. I did not intend to let you see this by letter. I expected to tell you by word of mouth if ever I got the courage to do so."

"Then," said Edith, with a sort of sweet dismay, "this letter was not for me?"

"Oh, yes it was. It went straight by mistake. That was all," said John.

"But what becomes of the invitation to see 'Cyrano'?" asked Edith.

"Bother Cyrano," cried John, now grown entirely brave. "What I want to know is whether you accept the invitation to become Edith Saintsbury?"

"I suppose I will have to, for I am dying to see 'Cyrano.'"

And that is how it came about.

THAT CHILI SAUCE.

"The household art is the only dower
I can bring save myself to him I wed,
Can you find the root and earn the flour?
Then I can make home and sweet white bread!"
—Harpers.

The last scarlet bar of the glorious autumn sunset was fading out behind the tall poplars along Turkey creek when Barstow Brown's creaking old farm wagon turned the corner of the road which led to his lonely and ill-kept home.

"There's the light a-burnin' already in Mis' Elviry Richards' window," he commented. "It does git dark awful early nights now. Seems like her'n's the cleanest kep' an' the cheerfulest lamp in the hull township."

And indeed it did seem to illuminate with its friendly radiance the little one-story house by the roadside. It looked like a beacon—a star. It made Farmer Brown think in admiring but unformulated fashion of a steadfast love—pure, unwavering, brilliant. It attracted him. It drew him—the worn and harassed body and soul of him. Unconsciously he tightened the reins. But it was not until the plodding horses stood still in response that he wondered whether he might venture in—and what excuse he could give for his visit.

Suddenly he lifted his head and sniffed—once, twice. Then he hurriedly twisted the reins around the whipstock, clambered down from the high seat.

"Chili sauce! If she ain't a-makin' Chili sauce!" He was hurrying up the short path to the front door, at which he knocked. "I'll tell her I want the receipt for Susie Reilly to make some by. That's the ticket! O—howdy, Mis' Richards! I was goin' home from mill, an' the nicest smell come a-floatin' down the road! Seemed's if I was back in mother's again, and she was puttin' up Chili sauce." He sighed, and moistened his lips at the recollection. "So I thought I'd come in an' find how you make it. Our ripe tomatoes ain't all gone yet. Maybe Susie Reilly could make a quart or so!"

Forty placid and benignant summers had passed over the brown head of Elvira Richards, but where was the girl along Turkey creek who carried herself with more grace and dignity, and what matron could boast such a fresh complexion and bright eyes as she?

"To be sure!" she cried, heartily. "You come right in, Mr. Brown." She drew forward the best rocking chair with the battenberg tidies on the entreating red plush arms.

"'Tisn't much I need make, living alone as I do, but a good storeroom is a fine thing to fall back on. You'll need a lot in your house I'm thinking. I'll give you the receipt with pleasure—and a jar to take home for Susie to taste by. How does she get on, Mr. Brown?"

Barstow Brown looked around the bright little room, at the shining glass lamp with the red flannel wick, which stood behind the row of freshly-potted geranium slips in the recessed window, then back at the plump, white-aproned figure opposite.

"Not too well, Mis' Richards. She's kind of shiftless. It comes natural to some folks to be shiftless. Seems like the work allus keeps a bit ahead of her. Seems like she can no more catch up with it than—than she could with a cotton-tail. But she means well. Most shiftless folks allus means well. I got to be movin'." He rose reluctantly. "The young ones—they'll be a-missin' me."

"Land's sake, now, an' you couldn't wait till I make you a cup of coffee? No? That's too bad. Wait till I get you the Chili sauce anyhow. What's that? Could you come out to the kitchen while I'm gettin' it? Why, of course, Mr. Brown!"

Twittering and stepping briskly, Miss Elvira tripped ahead, and Barstow Brown plodded after. He was aghast at his own temerity, but the appetizing smell of the Chili sauce drew him to the kitchen, as the white brilliance of the lamp had drawn him to the parlor.

"My!" he breathed, and stopped short. "This—beats—" He was looking around the gayest, coziest, most immaculate little kitchen he had ever beheld. From the black mirror of a stove, with its golden grin through the opened draft, to the shining plates on the dresser, the row of crimson-filled glass jars on the table, the dishpan that glittered like silver, and the cat asleep on the braided mat, all things bespoke industry, energy, comfort.

Something in his attitude of timidity, in his look of wonder that was almost one of awe, in his neglected personal appearance, went straight to the woman's warm heart of Miss Elvira Richards. He had been such a spruce, good-looking fellow 15 years ago! Her glance, that was keen if kindly, noted all things—the shirt with the band all but gone, the coat with holes at the elbows, more than all the hollows at his temples and in his cheeks. Those—and the weak tears that came into his eyes! She busied herself writing out the recipe—and talking.

"It ain't any too easy, I guess, with only Susie. She never was a hand to look after children—and there's three to your place. I expect it ain't been like home since—since Cyrilla went away."

Barstow Brown was silent. It had not been a happy home before Cyrilla died. But he could not tell Miss Richards that—no, nor anyone else. Only he had meant—had honestly meant—to ask Elvira to marry him before the pretty, painted, flippant little city girl had come down to the country town and taken his fickle heart captive.

"Here's the receipt—and here's the jar. Yes, you must take the big one; and—why—Barstow!"

For there was a look in his eyes she had not seen since those happy days before Cyrilla aired her city graces on Turkey Creek.

"I'm a good deal of a failure, Elviry," said Barstow Brown. "I don't know but you'll turn me out when you hear what I been wantin' to say ever since it would be right an' proper to talk that way. But the farm's a good one an' the house could be made the best hereabouts if 't was fixed up right, an' the children—"

"They're dear children!" declared Miss Elvira—and she meant it.

"Well, they like you awful well. You allus was a one to git around youngsters. I—I—" he dropped his eyes—"I guess you know what I mean, Elviry—what I want!"

"Of course I do!" she cried, cordially. "You want the receipt—and the Chili sauce."

"Now, Elviry! You know I want—you."

"Well, you got to take them if you take me!" Her tone was delightfully coquettish. "I got one in each hand!"

He stared at her—eager, half-incredulous.

"Do you mean it—really? There's been others—"

"There's been others," Miss Elvira agreed complacently, "but—I haven't took any of 'em—have I? There—now, Barstow Brown! Do behave! I reckon I might git ready in three weeks, but—your team will be clean froze waiting. O—Barstow! I didn't think 't was in you to act so dreadfully silly. Land's sake—look out! Let me set down this jar of Chili sauce, anyways! There—now—go! It'll be all of nine o'clock when you get home—Barstow—Brown!"

POOR LITTLE TUBBS.

When the cold weather came on Archie and Tubbs had to quit school and go forth to "rustle." Archie is nine and Tubbs seven years old, and if they were washed, curried and lighted up with Eton jackets and Tam o' Shanters they'd look all right walking with nursie in Lake Shore drive. But they live near the gashouse, where their mother does "rough washing" at 40 cents a dozen, and their father spends his time looking for a job in a pail of beer. His name is Tubbs, and his younger son, as the favorite child, is also called Tubbs for short, his full name being Ignatius D. Tubbs. Archie being two years to the good, is a much better "rustler" than Tubbs, and old man Tubbs, always willing to give honor where honor is due, has begun to transfer his favor from little Tubbs, who often comes home empty-handed, to Archie, who never fails to "fetch in" a few dimes or their equivalent in old clothes. The good Mrs. Tubbs, however, clings to her little Tubbs, who has volunteered the information that sometimes Archie substitutes stratagem for diplomacy, "lifts" portable articles of plunder and "holds out on the house" everything smaller than nickels and dimes.

Still the slender soul of little Tubbs smote him each time the old man laid the laurel wreath upon the brow of the more successful Archie, and while Tubbs Sr. was over in Center avenue turning cast-off clothes into cash, at Zlinkski's three balls and no strikes, the boy would yearn for the day when his fear of coppers and his feeble legs would be transformed into the courage and speed of Archie himself. But try as he would, the small Tubbs could not even overcome his terror of pet dogs, janitors, fat boys in good clothes and other frightful denizens of back yards and the porches of flats. When the two boys "worked" together it was Archie who led the way up the long back stairs of apartment buildings; it was he who ventured first into forbidden areas and knocked at ominous-looking doors, upon which the dirty knuckles of little Tubbs made scarcely a sound.

At last it snowed, and Mrs. Tubbs' neighbors quit using "wash things" to such a degree that her laundry work didn't earn one dollar a week. When the stove got cold and Mrs. Tubbs sat down on a soap box and began to weep, Tubbs allowed that "if a honest family couldn't live by fair means it was time to quit." He said he was just ready to quit, that he was "drove to it" and that "they wasn't no use tryin' to be on the square." Then he went down to the Gem saloon and waited for Archie and little Tubbs to come home, and while he was there a driver for a brewery wagon came in with his trousers in his boots, a pea jacket and a pair of buckskin gloves, and bought the crowd three rounds of drinks.

Meanwhile little Tubbs and Archie were doing "stunts" on South side back porches with small success and incessant rebuffs. Pet dogs seemed to fly out of every door like so many jacks-in-the-box. Fat boys in good clothes were making snowballs and throwing them as if they were paid for it. Janitors were everywhere sprinkling salt and scraping snow as if there were no small boys who needed the pay and were able for such light work. At last little Tubbs essayed a fourth floor flat where neither dog, janitor nor boy confronted him. He knocked four times before he courageously got into his heels, and then he gently kicked the door. A fat, old woman, with gold glasses, opened the door, and the steam that came out bore the smell of roast apples. Tubbs nearly dropped with joy when she said "Come in." She looked so kind that he added a few crimps to his usual rigmarole, improvised a few words about a sick little brother and no fire, and wound up with a gentle suggestion about "old clothes for papa or mamma."

She was so touched that she gave him two roast apples in a dish and left him alone in the warm kitchen while she went to look for a few "old things." When he left her he had "two bits" gripped in his torn pocket and an old sealskin sacque over his shoulder. The sacque, the lady said, was for mamma, and the "two bits" was to buy something nice for the sick little brother. Tubbs wondered as he flew for home what the "old man" would "get on the fur coat" and whether "maw" would buy soap or corn beef for the quarter. He was sure of one thing and that if he could only land his booty in the family stronghold his stock would go up several points in Tubbs' quotations, while "maw" would praise him to his heart's content.

What with the roast apples and the running and the pleasant anticipation, little Tubbs was all aglow when he passed the Gem saloon, where the big Tubbs was waiting with an eye on the barkeeper for another free drink, and one on the window for Archie and the "Kid." Little Tubbs went by so fast that the old man didn't catch him till he was in his own door. Then he grabbed the frayed, worn sealskin, held it up by the coal-oil lamp and said:

"See here, did you git it, or lift it?"

"I got it!" panted little Tubbs, going to his mother with the "two bits" yet secreted for her.

"Then it's al right! You done noble, my son—so long's you didn't lift it. Remember we don't want you to do nothin' but what's square!"

When he had looked at the tattered lining and got an estimate from "mam" as to what Zlinski would "give on it," old Tubbs started for Center avenue, figuring as he ran how much he could hold out on the "old woman" and how many trips between home and the Gem the growler could make on, say, $1.15. Then a policeman saw him running with the sealskin sacque flapping on his arm, and yelled: "Halt!" He kept on running, and the policeman ran after him with a mob of small boys joining in the chase.

It took four days to straighten the business with the police. The fat old lady had to come down and identify the sacque, which was finally awarded to Mrs. Tubbs, and she got four dollars on it at Zlinkski's. Little Tubbs never knew why it was that his father never praised him for his star performance. A plush cap was his share of the four dollars, but this did not console him for the following valuation placed upon him by old Tubbs in a conversation with "maw":

"You want to watch that kid. He'll git us into trouble yit. I never will git over that sealskin business. It come nigh ruinin' me!"—Chicago Daily Record.

AKeen Clear Brain.

Your best feelings, your social position or business success depend largely on the perfect action of your Stomach and Liver. Dr. King's New Life Pills give increased strength, a keen, clear brain, high ambition. A 25c box will make you feel like a new being. Sold by A. G. Andersen, druggist.

—For coal and wood Vance & Stone.

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

Angus.

Mr. Moe spent Christmas with his family in Halstad.

J. F. Montgomery took the train for Crookston Thursday.

J. F. Montgomery spent a few hours in Warren Saturday.

Wm. Wattam and Will Stevens spent Christmas in Warren.

Mrs. Wood and Miss Wood of Warren attended the sociable Friday night.

Alf. Campion and F. C. Stevens arrived home from Bemidji Saturday morning.

Will Whitman arrived on Thursday's train to spend a few days among relatives.

The superintendent of the Duluth elevator company spent a few hours in town Saturday.

Mrs. H. R. Campion and daughter attended the Christmas exercises at Euclid Monday evening.

Raymond Perkins and sister, Blanche are spending their vacation with their parents at this place.

The Ladies Social club gave a sociable in the M. N. A. hall Friday evening. Quite a number of the Euclid young people attended.

Mrs. Chapin, Miss Teal, and Messrs. Cloverdale and Ballon accompanied the minister to this place Sunday from Euclid.

Mr. Stevens and Alf Campion took the train for Bemidji Wednesday where they went to secure work for their horses in the woods.

Mrs. King spent a few hours in Warren Thursday and was accompanied on her return home by her daughter. Alice, who had spent a week in Warren

Fisher.

Miss Clara Olson is at home for a two weeks vacation.

Miss Mary Smith is spending the holidays at her home at Herman.

Miss Anna Mooley of Emerado, N. D., is the guest of Miss Letitia Moran.

Arch. Crawford and Melbourne Griffith spent Sunday with old friends

Mrs. Jos. Tagley is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Olson.

Miss Letitia Moran, a teacher at Perley is home for the holiday vacation.

Dr. J. F. Warren of Leed, N. D., spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brownlee.

Mrs. E. A. Sweet left Wednesday for an extended visit with relatives at Hamilton, N. D.

Misses Myra Finny and Blossom Leake and David Finny of Emerado, N. D., spent Christmas vacation with Miss Edna Sweet.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hanson of Ada spent last Monday with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Kingsland.

Mrs. G. McLean of Great Falls, Mont., is here for an extended visit with her niece, Mrs. Holzinger.

Miss Mae Erwin is spending the holidays at home. She will resume her studies at Winona next week.

At the Methodist church on Christmas eve a very interesting program was rendered by the children of the Sunday school. Santa Claus presented each member with a gift and a sack of candy.

Warren.

Henry Clarke and wife of Angus were business callers in the city yesterday, returning home on the evening train.

The head officials of the St. Hilaire Lumber Co. were in town yesterday transacting business, and went south on the evening train.

Frank Jerrue has rented the lower story of the old court house and has it filled with flour and all kinds of feed, including baled hay, all of which he is selling at market prices.

Hans Swanson has sold his dray, wood and coal business to Knutson & Holson, who will conduct the business hereafter. Mr. Swanson has accepted a position as traveling salesman for the Standard Oil Co.

New Year's eve the I. O. O. F. of this place gave a ball at the opera house with a large attendance and an enjoyable time was had by all who were present. We did not learn what the proceeds amounted to but it must have been quite a handsome sum. The Anderson boys furnished the music for the occasion and it was first class in every respect.

Quite a festive reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noble, five miles north of the city, last Friday night on account of their recent marriage. All who were there enjoyed themselves thoroughly and it is the wish of those present at the reception as well as this entire community that the young couple find life's journey a happy one.

In last week's news I see some of our notes got terribly mixed. In one place where we should have named several parties as getting Christmas presents one would think by reading the item that Ed Hinchmen got all the presents. But Ed says he wants it distinctly understood that he only got his share of the presents, but is very proud of what he got.

It seems that the overland mail route west from here to the Fork postoffice is getting mixed up. Ole Folson contracted to carry the mail, commencing about the first of July, 1900, for three years, but today another party appeared at the postoffice and demanded the mail, claiming that he had a contract to carry the mail for one year. Postmaster Matison refused to let him have the mail on account of his not having the proper order.

Donaldson.

J. B. Main went to Kennedy Monday.

Christmas passed off very quietly here.

K. J. Lind was out trying his new gun Friday.

J. B. Main and wife returned from Warren last Thursday.

A. F. Hallberg celebrated his fifty-third birthday Saturday.

J. N. Sjoholim and A. Blomsness visited Hallock between trains, Monday.

Parties and social gatherings are very frequent here. Too numerous to mention.

J. J. Lind had the misfortune to lose his pocketbook containing $16 50, Sunday evening.

Ye Scribe has been too busy attending parties so the news will be somewhat decreased for this week.

Ole Solem, who some time ago went to Utah, writes that his health is improving and that he likes the country first rate.

T. W. Dargan has changed positions from elevator manager to a thresher overseer, which he thinks is a very cold job.

T. W. Dargan and Joe Scribner and ladies were up at Hallock Wednesday and Thursday taking in the skating contest.

Miss Pearl Laughlin of Kennedy made Miss Mary Killfoyl of this place a very prolonged visit last week. She returned Saturday.

Miss Edith Hams left here for Wylie Monday evening, where she will join some of her best friends. Wish her a happy journey, and John will be happy also.

Geo. Seeger was called to Thief River Falls Saturday, as his brother-in-law was seriously ill. Later a telegram reached here that he died Monday morning at 4 o'clock.

Thief River Falls

Kerwin Kinsela, who runs the stage from this place, to Red Lake agency, reports good skating all the way.

The new bell for the Third ward school house has been placed in position and the children will be strictly on time next term of school.

The electric light plant is now almost complete, and is only waiting the arrival of a few small articles to make its completion possible.

The Indians have now received their annuity, and those of them that have any money left, are laying in a stock of skoderoaboo (fire water) which they seem to have no trouble in obtaining.

Last Friday morning a steel range exploded in the residence of Mr. Winslow. The real cause of the explosion is not known, but the inmates were badly frightened, although the damage to the house was slight.

The fire department are making extensive preparations to celebrate the closing of the nineteenth century, and the beginning of the twentieth century, by giving a New Year's ball, and the indications are that it will be a grand success.

Henry Karow, one of the pioneers of this city is very ill and is not expected to recover, the doctors say it is Bright's disease. Mr. Karow has been engaged as butcher, until his present illness rendered him unfit for duty.

Mrs. P. Morisette, who died recently at Colorado Springs, was a resident of Thief River Falls, for a number of years. Her husband owned and operated a barber shop at that place, until the illness of his wife compelled him to seek a better climate for her. Their many friends here mourn her departure and sympathize with the bereaved family.

Ada.

A Happy New Year.

Mrs Zan Farley from Crookston is visiting her parents of this place.

Peter Matson is sick with appendicitis. Dr. Holmes is tending to him.

Rollin and Walter Moffatt visited their brother, Victor at Hendrum Christmas.

Joe Herringer moved into his new quarters Monday last week and Tuesday had his grand opening.

John Bjorem, who is working for Mike Nygaard at Farris, is spending Christmas with his folks at this place.

Martin Heystad, formerly of this place but now engaged as chief police at Climax, is spending a few days with friends here.

Ed. Wolf spent Christmas day with his folks in Pleasant View and Hjalmar Johnson enjoyed Christmas with his folks in Rockwell.

Miss Lizzie Jacobson, our popular postmistress, is spending her vacation with her folks in Anthony while Miss Blanche Lyons is taking her place at the post office.

Mr. and Mrs A. J. Vaugsness spent Christmas day with Sylvester Peterson at Crookston. Mr. Vaugsness returned the same evening while Mrs. Vaugsness stayed a few days.

The Nobles Theater company which played here all last week was quite well attended and is a company that deserves credit. They gave a live pig at their closing performance Saturday night and Frank Gerber was the lucky one.

Senator Myrno left Thursday night for St. Paul to be on hand early for the opening of the senatorial session. Before leaving he sold his half interest in the hardware and machinery business to Hans Holden, who has been his head man for the last number of years. Mr. Holden, who is well posted in the business and has a large acquaintance, will undoubtedly make a good success.

Prof. H. H. Aaker and wife came up from Moorhead Sunday morning to spend part of their Christmas vacation with Mr. and Mrs. G. Gilbertson They left Tuesday afternoon for a visit with O. H. Aaker of Twin Valley.

Christmas eve at 5 o'clock occured the marriage of John N. McNiel, a contractor and builder of this place, to Miss Sarah Westley of Minneapolis. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Park of the M. E. church at the rooms of the bridegroom. A few of the nearest friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony.

Christmas has again been here with its festivities and happiness and especially to the young folks. Christmas eve was observed with Christmas trees in the Norwegian Lutheran church, Hauges church and in the Congregational church, and most likely in a few homes. Christmas day services were held in most of the churches. There was nothing to disturb the general Christmas peace and quiet Christmas has been enjoyed.

Climax.

Our public school will open up again on Wednesday.

Dr Johnson spent Sunday in Eldred on professional business.

Mrs. D. G. Scobey left for her home in Fargo Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Ostby visited relatives at Hendrum over Sunday.

F. T. Smith of Reynolds is in town looking after his interests at this place.

Norman Rosholt spent Friday and Saturday visiting his uncle at McIntosh.

Prof. B. Aune attended the State Educational Association held at Fargo last week.

Little Willie Messner held the lucky number at the draw last week, receiving a horse for 45 cents.

Miss Thoreson, our music teacher, leaves for Minneapolis shortly, to resume her studies there.

Mrs. H. P. Hanson left for her old home in Albert Lea, Minn., last week to spend some time. While she is gone Mr. Hanson expects to move his household goods to McIntosh, where he has purchased a farm.

Erskine

Katie Zinn is home for the holidays.

A. C. Bratton was a Fosston visitor on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson were visiting at Fosston Sunday.

Mrs. A. C. Bratton returned home Christmas morning from an extended visit with her brother in Iowa.

Swan Ness, of Fertile, was over this week to take in the reunion party at the home of his parents Wednesday evening.

The Echo is on the ground floor now. Whether the change of location will improve its reverberations remains to be seen.

A. B. Isaacson, of Warren, is going to put in a large general store at this place in a few days. There is still room for more.

Geo. Q. Erskine came up from Fargo, Monday with a party of surveyors and went out north of town to survey some timber land that he is about to dispose off.

L. R. Larson is passing a subscription list for the purpose of raising funds to purchase a new organ for the Synod church. Let every one sign it and thus help the noble cause along.

Wednesday evening Olous Olson and Pete Roisum were returning home from a drive out in the country, they were compelled to cross a lake in the vicinity of Ness farm and as the horses commenced to cross, the ice gave way, letting the team and party into the water, from which they succeeded in rescuing themselves after a hard struggle. It was a narrow escape. The team was in the water about two hours before they were rescued.

Key West.

Charles Krueger has moved to Key West to spend the winter.

Loieffenbaugh called on Mr and Mrs. Rob't Morrison Sunday.

Mr. John Risto and family spent Sunday at the B. Kerisch's, returning Monday.

John Beveridge who was slightly indisposed the latter part of last week is around again.

Threshing is about done in this vicinity. Mr. Thos. Rutherford has taken his machine home for the winter.

It is with deep and heart felt sympathy we have to announce the death of Mrs. Rob't Gunness of Key Stone which occurred Dec. 29, 1900 at their residence, of typhoid fever. She was a devoted wife and mother and leaves three small boys and a heart broken husband to mourn her loss. Mr. Gunness has the sympathy of the entire community in his bereavment.

Lengby.

C. Murrow was over from Ebro Tuesday.

August Wimer made a trip to Fosston Thursday.

A. and G. Lillo loaded two carloads of wood today.

Otto Olson was a passenger to McIntosh Sunday.

Luie Jenson made a visit with Julius Fredrickson Monday.

A grand dance was given at Hotel Dewey Saturday evening.

Sunday school will be held in the Carlson school house next Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

The Wingaard family of Brandsvold are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Olson this week.

Otto and Martin Olson are building a camp on John Stave's land where they have bought the timber of a forty of land from which they intend to work and cut the timber into cord wood this winter.

A grand masquerade ball will occur in Argall hall Saturday evening, Jan. 12. Admission 20 cents.

Robert Johnson, a brother-in-law of P. A. Sederberg, went with Mr. Bakke to run the engine for him.

Alling Olson has been visiting with his brother Andrew the past few days, and left for Fosston Wednesday.

Mr Bakke finished his planing at this place Saturday and left for Winser, where he has a good job engaged.

J. D. Aakhus stepped off the east bound flyer Sunday after having enjoyed a week's vacation. He went to teaching school again, Monday, in the Carlson district.

Birkholz

We had beautiful weather for the time of year on Christmas day.

Misses Olina and Emily Dalen are visiting relatives in the southern part of the state.

Rev. Hanson, our former pastor, was with us again last week. He is much beloved by the members of his congregation here.

The families of W. F. Dunning and J. W. Northrup were invited to a fine Christmas dinner at the hospitable home of Bouce Dunning. All had a very pleasant time.

The young people surprised Mrs. Frank Nelson one evening last week by coming en masse with refreshments and in goodly numbers for a merry evening. She received a nice present from the surprisers.

Three New Planets.

Geneva, N. Y., Jan. 1.—Dr. William R. Brooks, director of Smith observatory in this city, has discovered three small planets near Eros, by means of photographic plates. While developing a negative, he noticed that there were apparently other bodies than Eros on the plate. The brightest one of them is somewhat brighter than Eros. They belong without doubt to the series of planets and other bodies which are revolving between Mars and Jupiter, of which the first one, Ceres, was discovered Jan. 1, 1801.

Literary Notes.

Among many interesting and instructive articles in the January number of the American Review of Reviews the complicated Filipino land question is discussed by Mr. James B. Rodgers, who has spent much time and labor in the investigation of Luzon land titles. It is a number of great interest and value.

A specially timely paper in the January number of the North American Review is one on "The New Power in the South Pacific," written by Mr. Hugh H. Lusk, on the occasion of the establishment of the United States of Australia under the novel title of "The Australian Commonwealth." Mr. Lusk sketches the history and growth of the Australian colonies, describes the rapid development of their resources, and points to the rich promise the new commonwealth holds out of becoming a great, powerful and opulent people. Australia is to Great Britain the most valuable of all her colonies. The external influence of Australia in the South Pacific is bound to make itself felt before long.

Credit Problem Solved

Blue Earth, Minn., Jan. 1.—A new departure was introduced by a local firm to-day which will be watched with no little interest by Minnesota merchants who have endeavored to solve the credit problem. The firm does a general merchandise trade, and in order to place its business entirely on a cash basis, has opened a banking department. Customers who desire credit are given an opportunity to obtain money at the banking department, giving their notes, which are drawn for short-time loans without interest. The cash thus obtained goes to the mercantile side of the establishment, which is thus kept on a strictly cash basis. The proprietors are sanguine over the new plan and others are watching to see the outcome. So far as known, this is the only country store in the state operating such a system.

We Buy Land! We Sell Land!

For quick returns list your farms with the Wheeler Land and Loan Company.

COLD IN DEATH

One of Minnesota's Most Noted and Able Men Joins the Great Army Beyond.

IGNATIUS DONNELLY

After a Lingering Illness Passes Away Surrounded by His Wife and Relatives.

Special to the Journal.

Minneapolis, Jan. 2.—Ignatius Donnelly died at the home of his father-in-law in this city at twelve o'clock last evening, surrounded by his young wife and other close relatives. Deceased has been rapidly failing for some time, and heart failure is assigned as the immediate cause of death. The funeral will take place at St. Paul next Friday, Jan. 4.

Ignatius Donnelly, author, statesman and journalist, as he was, first saw the light in the city of Philadelphia, Nov. 3, 1831. He was educated in the public schools of that city, studied law, was admitted to the bar and practiced. He came to Minnesota in 1857, was elected lieutenant governor in 1859, and again in 1861, and was then elected to congress, serving from Dec. 7, 1863, till March 3, 1869. Besides doing journalistic work he has written an "Essay on the Sonnets of Shakespeare," "Atlantis, the Anti-delavian World," in which he attempted to demonstrate that there once existed in the Atlantic ocean, opposite the straits of Gibraltar a large island known to the ancients as "Atlantis."

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

A Warren Citizen Attacked by an Unknown Person.

From The Journal's Correspondent.

Last Saturday night about 9 o'clock while L Loughrige was on his way home some person or persons, unknown at this writing, attacked Mr. Loughrige near the southwest corner of the school house yard and made a stab at his breast with a knife, cutting entirely through all of his clothing. But Mr. Loughrige is one of the kind of men that are seldom caught napping, consequently he pulled his gun and fired a shot at the would-be assassin, but just at the time he fired he was struck a blow on the head which felled him to the ground and he missed his aim. Evidently the would-be murderer then got frightened and ran away. When Mr. Loughrige gained consciousness he was by himself, struggling to get up. Mr. Loughrige is bent on bringing the culprits to justice and it is intimated that there are probably two or three connected with the crime.

Official Meeting.

The officiary of the Baptist church held its annual meeting Tuesday night, and transacted considerable business of importance to the interests of the church. L. Sargent and E C. Ferguson were elected trustees to fill vacancies on the board, August Alstrom was elected clerk, E. C. Ferguson treasurer, T. E. Clysdale financial secretary and R. E. Smith, deacon to succeed himself. E. C. Ferguson was elected superintendent of Sunday school and N. B. Finch president of B. Y. P. U.

A pulpit committee was also elected and it is expected that steps will soon be taken to secure a permanent pastor. The meeting authorized the transfer of the two lots in Jerome's addition known as the Sprague lots in Washington avenue to the school board, for the erection of a school house.

Froze His Ear.

Chas. Wentz, one of the students of the Crookston business college, who resides at Grafton, spent New Year's day with his parents, and returned last evening. He reports very cold weather up north and in driving from his home to the depot at Grafton, he badly froze his left ear.

ROYAL
Baking Powder

Makes the bread
more healthful.

Safeguards the food
against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Notes From Exchanges.

Beltrami Independent: Jason Weatherhead of the Norman County Herald says: Editor Gordon publisher of the Crookston daily and weekly Journal may be a republican and in consequence a bad man, but he is getting out a rattling good paper.

Dr. Seth Arnolds cough Killer for asthma cannot be beat. S. B. Gellespie, Guthrie Center, Ia.

Proclamation.

State of Minnesota, Executive Department.

Whereas, pursuant to chapter one hundred and forty three (143) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1893, "An act to provide for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," as amended by chapter one hundred and twenty-four (124) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1895, being "An act to amend sections two (2) and four (4) of chapter one hundred forty-three (143) of the General Laws of the year 1893, providing for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," a petition was filed with the Secretary of State on the 13th day of December, 1900, praying for the creation of a new county out of territory now lying in Polk County, said State, to be named Nelson County and described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at the southeast corner of township numbered one hundred and forty-seven, north of range thirty-nine west of the 5th principal meridian in Minnesota, thence running west along the south boundary line of townships one hundred and forty-seven of ranges thirty nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Norman counties, to the southwest corner of township one hundred and forty seven, range forty-three; thence running north along the range line between ranges forty-three and forty four to the northwest corner of township one hundred and forty-nine, range forty-three, thence east along the north boundary line of said township last named and townships one hundred and forty-nine, ranges forty-two and forty one, to the northeast corner of said township last named, thence north along the west boundary line and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty, range forty to the northeast corner of said township last named, thence north along the west boundary line, and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty-one, range thirty-nine, to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence south along the range line between ranges thirty-eight and thirty-nine, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Beltrami Counties to the place of beginning, all of said territory being within the County of Polk and including and embracing the whole of townships numbered one hundred and forty-seven, one hundred and forty-eight and one hundred and forty-nine ranges thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, township one hundred and fifty, ranges thirty-nine and forty, and township one hundred and fifty-nine range thirty-nine.

And whereas said petition has been duly considered and found and certified to as conforming in all respects to the provisions of said laws:

Now therefore I, John Lind, Governor of the State of Minnesota, pursuant to the authority in me vested by the laws aforesaid, do hereby direct and proclaim that the question of the creation of the proposed new County of Nelson be submitted to the voters of said Polk County at the next general election, to be held in this State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1902.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Minnesota to be hereto affixed this 20th day of December, A. D. 1900.

ALBERT BERG, Secretary of State.

JOHN LIND, Governor.

[SEAL]

39-42

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss. In district court.

Agnes Bruggeman, as executrix of the last will and testament of John H. Bruggeman, deceased, plaintiff.

Against

D. W. Luke, W. B. Wood, the Merchants National bank of Crookston, James Pulkrabek and Pulkrabek, co-partners under the firm name and style of Pulkrabek Bros., and John Birkholz, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants and each of them:

You and each of you are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the action above entitled, which has been filed and is now on file, in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to said complaint upon the undersigned at his office in the City of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated Dec. 26, 1900

A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiff,
Crookston, Minnesota.

39-44

Timber Culture Final Proof.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., Jan. 2, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that Simeon J. Lanterman has filed notice of intention to make final proof before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at his office in Crookston, Minnesota, on Friday, the 15th day of February, 1901, on timber culture application No. 3592, for the se¼ of section No. 2, in township No. 150 N. range No. 47 W.

He names as witnesses:

Frank Williams, Elery C. Davis, Henry Jones and James Jones all of Crookston, Minnesota.

A. F. GEORGE,
Receiver.

Burlington Route

Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis

"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.

P. S. Eustis,
Gen'l Pass. Agent,
Chicago, Ill.

Geo. P. Lyman,
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B. & Q. R. R.
St. Paul, Minn.

Polk County Journal.

Historical Society

MINNESOTA
HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

VOL. XXV | CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1901 | No. 40

NEW FACES

Greet the Visitors to Polk County's New and Elegant Court House Today.

CO.BOARD ORGANIZED

And the Newly Elected Officers Take Possession of Their Respective Offices.

Tuesday was a day for many changes in the new court house population, and people who visited the various offices in the fine county building were greeted by new faces. Every new officer elected at the recent election took charge of his respective official duties today, and the changes wrought by the late republican landslide gave particular evidence of its severity. A number of the best offices, which for ten years,were presided over by populistic officers, were today turned over to the successful republican successors.

Thos. Lawrence, for two terms sheriff, with his deputies, stepped out this morning to make room for Ed Sullivan and his corps of assistants, and the auditor's office will in future be under the supervision of John Petterson, who will be ably assisted for a time at least by ex-Auditor Gleason.

John Dwyer, who held the office of register of deeds, by force of the fusionists, had to vacate to his republican opponent O. O. Christianson. He, too, has an almost entire new force of deputies and clerks, who will form the acquaintance of the county's taxpayers during the next two years.

County Attorney Helstoo, who during the present term of court has made an enviable record in prosecuting violators of the law, is succeeded by W. E Rowe, who will make a strong effort to establish a reputation as a criminal lawyer during his term of office.

For the management of the public schools and the examination of public instructors, Thos. Casey will appear dignified in the office of county superintendent, and Alex M. Gray will step off the rods in acres and look after the surveyor's office.

G. S. Chesterman will examine into questionable causes of deaths occurring in this county during the next two years.

The balance of the officers remain unchanged, Judge of Probate Hagen and County Treasurer Peterson having been re-elected, and the term of the Clerk of Court Lommen will not expire until two years hence.

The new board of county commissioners also met this morning and the first work to occupy their time, was organization. This resulted in the election of Commissioner K. O. Bradvold as chairman. T. T. Morken is the only new member of the board and succeeds Hugh Thompson, of the Fifth district.

After the new officers are all thoroughly settled down to business, the affairs of the county will be guarded and looked after by as competent a set of county officers as ever inhabited the Polk county building, and the taxpayers will find that they made no mistake at the polls when they choose them at the polls.

BARRY'S CONDITION

An Old Acquaintance Says he is Undoubtedly Crazy.

Hugh Quigley returned last evening from Langdon, where he has been for the past two days in conference with William Barcy. He has known Mr. Barcy ever since the two were boys and has therefore been very much interested since the killing of Mellem last week. He went to Langdon for the special purpose of finding out whether or not Barry was mentally unbalanced, and after spending two days with him he said to a Herald reporter upon his return:

"There is not the slightest doubt as to Barry's being insane. He is not violent, but I realized the moment I saw him that he was "off" very decidedly, and after talking with him a great deal I became firmer in my convictions that he was mentally unbalanced. In carrying on a conversation he cannot stick to one subject for any length of time. His mind seems to be wandering incessantly.

"A wonderful change has come over the man since I saw him about two years ago He is not at all the same. His eyes have the stare of a mad man. This is not at all surprising, as there is insanity in the family. At the present time he has two aunts in an asylum in London, Ontario, and his brother Richard, who is at Milton now was at one time in the same institution. His sister, over whom the present trouble arose, was also in the London asylum a few years ago.

"Barry still thinks that he did what was right. He had placed implicit confidence in Mr. Mellem and two winters had left him in charge of his farm while he took a trip to Canada. His sister was on the farm both these winters, but Barcy had never suspected that there was anything wrong between them When he made the discovery that his confidence had been betrayed and that his sister was ruined, and that Mellem refused to make what reparation was in his power, he did what he thought was right in the defense of his sister's honor. That is the view he takes of it. The trouble has hastened his insanity, and if it had not occurred he might never have shown any evidence of it."

DEATH OF ARMOUR

The Noted Chicago Meat Packer Dies From Heart Trouble.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Philip Danforth Armour — philanthropist, financier and multi-millionaire, head of the vast commercial establishment that bears his name, died at his home 2115 Prairie avenue, at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon

A muscular affection of the heart, known to the medical profession as myocarditis, was the immediate cause of death. He had been slowly recovering from pneumonia that for three weeks had threatened his life.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning his heart gave way under the strain of his recent illness, his pulse running up to 103. That was the beginning of the end.

The death of his son, Philip D Armour, Jr., in southern California, on Jan. 29, 1900, was a great shock to the health broken man.

After the death of Phill D. Armour, Jr., the vast interests of Armour & Co., which had been carried on as a co-partnership, were incorporated under the old name of Armour & Co.

So carefully had the plans for the future been made that the death of Mr. Armour will have little effect on the outward working of the great enterprise with which he had been so closely identified. It is believed all the Armour properties will be held intact until the grandchildren come into their own.

Philip D. Armour was born May 16, 1832, in Oneide County, New York

MISS BARRY IN THE ASYLUM

'Twas for Her That Her Brother Killed Young Mellen

Jamestown, N. D., Jan. 8.—Miss Barry, whose statement to her brother brought about the killing of William Mellen of Milton, was brought to the asylum by Sheriff Robertson of Cavalier, She is tall, dark and unattractive. Her face has the usual look of a maniac, with eyes starting straight ahead and her general appearance is that of a spinster of 35. At the hospital her case has been defined as one of "agitated melancholia" a state of mind said to result from too much brooding over one particular subject. The truth of Miss Barry's statements to her brother has not yet been determined, but probably will be within a week or so. On the conclusions of the hospital physicians will depend the fate of William Barry to a great extent.

A HORSE CASE,

Occupied the Attention of the Court Wednesday.

In district court this morning the case of J. H. Ferris, of Grand Forks, against A. Beamer, of Petersburg, N. D., was called and was on trial the entire forenoon.

It appears that Beamer while a resident of this county, was in possession of a valuable horse belonging to Ferris, and that the animal died through the neglect of the defendant while on his farm. The plaintiff now seeks to recover the value of the horse, which he places at $125. The jury in the case retired at noon.

In the afternoon the case of Julia C Musgrave against W. G. Smith, as administrator, involving some real estate in the town of East Grand Forks, is up for trial. A. A. Miller represents the plaintiff, and Grover & Massee appear for the defendant.

KNUTE NELSON

The Senior U. S. Senator has the Unanimous Endorsement of Minnesota Republicans.

FEELING AFFECTION

For Nelson Apparent, and His Nomination in Both Houses Does Away With Caucus.

St. Paul, Jan. 8.—The caucus of republican members of the Minnesota senate, which took place last night, was a short one, but, for a beginning, took on quite a glow. The glow was warmed into a flame when the caucus came to the point of nominating Senator Knute Nelson for a second term in the United States senate. Nomination of Knute Nelson by both branches of the legislature last night renders unnecessary the proposed caucus for this evening to nominate Senator Nelson, and, therefore, the caucus is called off.

The temporary organization consisted of Senator Somerville, chairman, and Senator Grindel, secretary. Senator Stockton called the caucus to order. Senator Lord offered a resolution placing the following names in nomination for appointments in the senate, and the state was adopted unanimously:

Secretary, S. A. Langum; first assistant, A. D. Countryman; second assistant, W. D. Smith; sergeant-at-arms, Thomas Downs; assistant sergeant-at-arms, George W. Geesey; enrolling clerk, George D. Montgomery; assistant enrolling clerk, William H. Alton; clerk enrolling room, A. W. Bentley; engrossing clerk, A. G. Macon; assistant engrossing clerk, A. Lewis; clerk engrossing committee, H. W. Brown; file clerk, Harry Burkhardt, Jr.; assistant file clerk, Frank E. Force; keeper cloak rooms; William Bateson; doorkeeper, W. H. Forsythe; assistant doorkeeper, H. E. Plymat; sergeant-at-arms committee room, H. J. Knutson; sergeant-at-arms gallery, John H. Gjerness; clerk railroad committee, Z. D. McKillip; clerk judiciary committee, J. A. Martin; assistant clerk judiciary committee, W. B. Richardson; clerk finance committee, James A. Stuart; post office messenger and fireman, Andrew Quam.

HALT ON SMALLPOX.

Physicians Discuss the Situation on Range and in Camps.

The spread of smallpox in the logging regions of northern Wisconsin and Minnesota resulted in a meeting yesterday of members of boards of health of both states with Secretary Bracken of the Minnesota state board of health at the Spalding hotel in Duluth. The purpose of the meeting was to decide if possible upon some uniform action best calculated to prevent the spread of the disease. In the meeting were a number of local physicians, including Dr. Robertson, health commissioner of Duluth; W. E. Harwood, of Eveleth; Dr. J. D. Budd of Two Harbors; Dr. Gould, of West Superior; Dr. C. B. Eby, of Mountain Iron, and Dr. Sewell, of Two Harbors. M. O. B. Wingate, of the state board of health of Wisconsin, was also at the meeting.

It was decided that the only sure means of stamping out the disease is to encourage vaccination, enforce quarantine regulations and provide isolation hospitals at such points as may seem desirable under the circumstances. The shooting of the young woodsmen at a lumber camp near Sparta, Minn., a few days ago while trying to escape from a smallpox quarantine, had much to do with stirring the physicians to action.

IN COURT TUESDAY.

A Former Decision of the District Court Will be Tried Again.

A number of witnesses arrived from Fosston on Tuesday night's passenger summoned here to testify in the case of Campbell & Soderberg, respondents, Vasso Bros., appellants.

Campbell & Soderberg bought cattle some two years ago and sold under contract to Vasso Bros. One of the shipments the firm rejected and later on brought an action to recover damages in the sum of $500, for not obtaining the quality of stock contracted for.

The case was tried in the district court a year ago and a verdict was rendered for the defendants. Vasso Bros. appealed to the supreme court, and the latter tribunal referred the appeal back to the district court for a new trial.

Among the witnesses in the new trial, which came up today, are J. E. Campbell, L. Soderberg, Ben Tyndell, Jack Galloway, Jorgen Malland and E. Odeguard of, Fosston, and A. Throxson, of Mouse River, N. D.

AGAINST HAZING.

Senator Vest's Amendment to the Army Bills so Aimed.

Washington, Jan. 9.—To the pending army reorganization bill Senator Vest Monday afternoon offered the following amendment:

"The officers in charge of the West Point military academy shall make and enforce such rules and regulations as will prevent the practice of hazing; and any cadet found guilty of participating in such practice shall be expelled from the academy and shall not be reappointed to the corps of cadets therein."

ALD. ROWE RESIGNED.

His Duties as County Attorney Conflicting With That Office.

At the council meeting held Tuesday, Alderman W. E. Rowe presented his resignation as a member of that honorable body from the Third ward, and the same was accepted. This step was made necessary in accordance with the state law, providing that as county attorney he was ineligible to act as one of the city fathers. Ex-Alderman Rowe's friends and constituents will regret to learn of this action, as he was regarded as one of the most independent and fearless exponents of their interests while a member of the city council.

The vacancy caused by his resignation has not yet been filled, but the council, who has the naming of the successor, will probably appoint some one at its next meeting. Who will fill the place is not known at this time, but a number of the friends of Allen McKinnon are anxious to see that gentleman have the word "alderman" prefixed to his name.

ELEVATOR BURNED

St. Anthony & Dakota Company Loses a House at Milton, N. D.

Milton, N. D., Jan. 8.—At 8:30 yesterday morning fire was discovered in the interior of the St. Anthony & Dakota elevator. The alarm was sounded and the department quickly responded, but it was soon discovered that the whole interior was a seething mass of flames. The power house was saved however, by keeping a stream of water constantly playing on it. The Imperial elevator was also threatened with destruction, but was saved. The capacity of the house that burned was 70.000 bushels and it was valued at $5.000. It contained 20.000 bushels of wheat and 3,000 bushels of flax. Origin of the fire is unknown. S. B. Sanford, agent, was the last man in the building at noon yesterday. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

NOT A CANDIDATE

William J. Bryan Says He's a Private Citizen.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—At the Jackson day banquet W. J. Bryan said he intended to continue the discussion of public questions and did not desire to be embarrassed therein by being placed in the attitude of a candidate for any office. He said he was now a private citizen, and had excellent prospects of remaining so.

Regarding reorganization, he said if any was needed it should come from within and not from those who had deserted the party in the past campaigns.

STILL UNDECIDED.

The Meeting of Street Fair Directors Don't Materialize.

The meeting called for Monday evening at the city hall, at which time the directors of the Crookston street fair association were to decide whether or not they would turn over the funds remaining in the hands of the executive committee to the tri-state drainage convention, failed to materialize, as only two of the large number of directors were present.

The meeting was postponed until some further action can be decided upon.

HITS N.P. HARD

The Road Loses its North Dakota Indemnity Land Case on a Test Case.

PROOF REJECTED

The Railroad Then Sold the Land and Settlers Sued to Recover.

Washington, Jan. 9—In the United States supreme court Monday, opinions were handed down by Justice Harlan in several cases involving the question whether it was competent for the secretary of the interior upon receiving and approving the map of definite location of the Northern Pacific road in the states of North Dakota and Washington to make an order withdrawing the odd numbered sections of the lands within the indemnity limits from settlement.

The test case in the list came from North Dakota, the title being Fred Hewitt, plaintiff in error, vs. Emil and Friedrika Schultz.

The land in question was settled upon by Hewitt in 1882, but his proof of settlement was rejected on the ground that it had been withdrawn in 1873 by the secretary of the interior as within the limits of the Northern Pacific indemnity. The railroad company then sold the land to Schultz and his wife, and they entered upon the possession of it. Hewitt immediately began proceedings to recover the land, which were decided in his favor, reversing the supreme court of North Dakota.

The decision of the court supported the holding of Secretary Vilas, rendered in 1888, which decision has since been upheld by the interior department.

MRS. C. K. DAVIS

Will Make Her Home in Washington —Compiling Mr. Davis' Works

Washington, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Cushman K. Davis is already compiling her distinguished husband's works on law, politics, diplomacy, literature, war and miscellaneous lectures. She will be assisted by Bishop Hurst, of the Methodist church, who was an old and esteemed friend of the late Senator Davis.

Mrs. Davis denies that she has any intention of going to Paris to live. She said:

Nothing is further from my thoughts than going to live in Paris. I shall live in Washington in the home on H street, where I had expected to spend such a pleasant winter with my husband and in the preparations and alterations of which for this purpose he took so keen an interest prior to his illness.

My intention of making Washington my future home is in accordance with my husband's wishes. He knew that I have been very happy here, and, further, that the climate suits me far better than in St. Paul. More than that, the place suits me because of my natural fondness for politics. It was on this latter account as much as anything else that Senator Davis urged me to make my home here.

I would like to correct several statements which have been published in regard to my husband's will. The statement that it was made several weeks before his death is entirely erroneous. It was made in 1885, and left me all of his personal effects, including his library, which is a very valuable one. It is not true that he desired to have this library sold. It was willed to me, and will not be sold.

LIGNITE APPROVED

Experiment With North Dakota Coal in Minneapolis

An experiment was made Saturday with the Wilton lignite coal in heating the Guaranty Loan building at Minneapolis.

The lignite was substituted for other steam coal in the furnaces, and it has been found to burn very satisfactorily. A test is being made as to the comparative cost of heating with lignite and other forms of fuel.

Large quantities of the lignite coal are now being brought to Minneapolis and the outlook is that it will shortly come into very general use for heating purposes in private houses. Stoves are being manufactured exclusively for burning lignite, and when burned in these stoves the North Dakota coal proves a very satisfactory form of fuel.

DISTRICT COURT CHAFF.

The Carver Bros. Cases Occupied the Law Mill Tuesday.

At the opening of the district court Tuesday the case of Carver Bros. vs. the Crookston Lumber Company was first called and did not reach the jury until shortly before three o'clock. This is an action in which plaintiffs seek to recover the sum of $2,200, on a lien which they held on logs lying in the Crookston boom.

H. Steenerson appeared for defendants and A. Miller for the plaintiffs.

The case of the state against O. P. Hines, who was thought to have been mixed up in the Germania house deal, was dismissed for want of material evidence for the state

The balance of the afternoon was taken up with the Carver Bros. case, which they brought against E. J. Hodgson.

HE SET FIRE

Wanted to Burn Down the Fosston Woolen Mill.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last Saturday evening, a citizen of Fosston, who was passing the woolen mills at that place, discovered fire in one of the apartments and promptly gave the alarm. The flames were extinguished by the application of a few buckets full of water before any material damage resulted from the elements which would have destroyed the plant only for the timely discovery.

Investigation as to the cause of the fire, plainly showed that its origin must have been the work of an incendiary, and on Monday morning the owners of the mill caused the arrest of a young man named Carver, who had formerly been in the employ of the company, but who for some reason had been discharged about two weeks ago. At the time of his examination the young fellow was at a loss to give an account of his whereabouts about the time the fire was discovered, and further interesting disclosures in connection with the attempted burning of Fosston's main industry are looked for.

A NEW DRAINAGE BILL

Seventh District Members Would Do More Work

The legislature from the Seventh congressional district are talking drainage. Senator Myron of Ada has a bill prepared which he will introduce again this season much on the same lines as the bill introduced by him in the senate a year ago. The seventh district solons expect to caucus on the matter within a short time.

OFFERS TO TELL

Will Turn States Evidence if Promised Immunity.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 9.—In a letter mailed at Lincoln, a writer, who represents himself as one of the kidnappers of Edward Cudahy, Jr., has made a formal offer to turn state's evidence against his confederates, in return for immunity for himself. This guaranty has been made by the chief of police, Donahue, and Mr Cudahy.

PAPER MILL FIRE.

Hennepin Paper Plant at Little Falls Badly Damaged.

Little Falls, Minn., Jan 8.—The Hennepin paper mill burned early yesterday morning, causing a total loss of $75,000 or more. The insurance is $63,000. The pulp mill was damaged. The fire was first discovered in a small wood room between the two mills.

Died.

The Hon. B. Sampson and wife have the deepest sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances in the loss of their beloved son, William McKinley, who was taken from this earth at 12:30 Tuesday morning, aged three years and five months. The funeral will occur Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence. The Journal extends sympathy to the bereaved parents and family.

I have used Dr. Seth Arnold,s Cough Killer in my family for thirty years.—Rev. J. W. Cole, Northampton, Mass.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE OUTLOOK

For the Tri-State Drainage Convention is Growing Better as the Time Approaches.

STREET FAIR FUNDS

Remaining Unused to be Added to the Convention Expense Fund.

Saturday forenoon Mayor Campbell personally circulated a petition to those who contributed to the last street fair and in a conversation with the mayor he stated to the Journal reporter that every person he met was anxious to make the Drainage convention a success and that he has only met with three refusals to sign the list referred to in yesterday's Journal. The names of these he would not divulge.

Those so far who have signed the list to transfer the fund is as follows: N Campbell, S Peterson, T A Hoverstad, E D Childs, N. S Gordon, A F George, W E Rowe, C C Bowen, D McKinnon, Thomas Morris, F. H. Hillard & Son, John Kiewel, N K Olson, J J Molstad, H E. Anderson, H W Smith, N Rapin, N P Stone, Fontaine & Anglim, R Rosenthal, H L Falk, Jos F Koehnel, Chas A Hitchcock, E J Keating C D Billings, W H Olds, Sylvester, Mercil & Co, Larson & Carpenter, T M Sorlie, P L Reane, A Anderson, A K Austin, J A McMannus, J E Waterstraudt, Rosenberg Bros, Carl Riedesei, J Crawford & Son, A Eiken, Earnest Rolsch, Marin & Webster, W E Walker, S Melby, Crookston Pool Co, Nick Ershfeldt, Berquist Bros, Ole J Vanle, Christianson & Strander, J F Stadsvold A Koeppe, S A Wallace, W S Lycan, Miss T M Nelson, N S Gervais, O C Rood, L Ellington, H G Ebbighausen, A L Fuller, M Ericsson, J R Rasmussen, W G Peterson, T E Clysdale, Ellingboe & Austin, Finch, Smith & Co, K K Austin, Austin & Locken, Sundet Bros, M Magnussen, Westerberg & Son, Vance & Stone, Louis Morin, L I Benoit, J E O'Brien & Co. Oliver Mercil, G H Holt, Joseph Winfield, Noi Lauctot, Alberic Chabot, Fred D Shaw, E M Walsh, K O Flakne, L E Gossman, J W Wheeler, A R Holston, L E Larsen, Collins Bros, M A Mosselin–C C Hoch, Iverson Sisters, M L Rose, Geo Purvis, J H Peterson.

Mr. Campbell further stated that he was informed that another petition had been presented to the parties who have control of the fund to turn the same over heretofore and the same was refused for the reason that the majority of those interested would not sign the petition, but he had no doubt but the fund would be promptly turned over upon presentation of this petition, inasmuch as it clearly contains a very large percentage of those who donated to the fund. The committee, who has had charge of the remaining street fair funds which is stated to be $253 84 as shown by the books kept, are W. E. McKenzie, A. D. Stephens and John R. McKinnon.

The transferring of this fund will insure the success of the great Tri-State Drainage Association and at the same time put a stop to the question that has been continually raised as to what has been done with the remaining "Street Fair Fund."

Owing to the fact that a number of parties who contributed to the street fair fund are absent from the city, and for lack of more time, Mayor Campbell did not secure all of those entitled to sign.

DID INCORPORATE

The Fosston Windstacker Company and Capitalize at $100,000.

Sam Sorenson returned from Fargo this morning on his way home to Fosston. While in the North Dakota metropolis he organized a stock company for the manufacture of the Fosston Windstacker, a very successful invention, with a capital of $100,000.

The original members of the Windstacker company for a long time made overtures to Crookston capitalists and business men to interest them in their enterprise and locate the factory in this city. No encouragement was offered, however, and the company, in order to enlarge their business, was forced to look up another location. Fargo, with its usual progressiveness, "recognized a good thing when she saw it" and now will get the factory for this machine into her city limits.

Free Farms in Western Canada.

Any parties wishing information regarding the homestead lands of Western Canada can obtain same by attending a free lecture on this country to be held in the town hall, Friday, Jan. 18, at 3 p. m., when Mr. B. Davies, Canadian government agent, will give an address and general information regarding the Canadian West. Come and learn about this great country and how to obtain a free farm of 160 acres.

B. Davies, Canadian Gov't Agent, 154½ E. 3rd St, St. Paul, Minn.

WHY NOT PLANT TREES?

It Proves a Profitable Industry in Southern Minnesota.

Treeplanting in many parts of prairie country, is not meeting with a great deal of favor, although it could be made profitable in the course of time. The following clipping from the Austin Transcript shews what a southern Minnesota farmer realized out of one tree in 37 years time:

C. De Remer of Nevada has just cut a cottonwood tree planted in 1863 which was 100 feet high and measured four feet in diameter at the butt and cut in stove wood two feet long made nine cords. It took one man five days to cut and split it.

The editor of this paper is intimately acquainted with Mr. De Remer, who is one of the early settlers in that part of Minnesota, and often looked up the tree mentioned.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

A Prominent Crookstonite Rated as a Minister While Abroad.

Sometime before the holidays Dan McKinnon, the popular landlord of the Palace hotel in this city, concluded to pay a visit to the scenes where his cradle stood in old Ontario, and where he grew to manhood. Arriving in a small village one Saturday evening, he put up at a fashionable hotel with bar attachment, and soon after supper retired to his room, without first forming the acquaintance of the landlord. As is customary with Dan, even at home, he usually appears in full dress Sunday mornings, and on this occasion he made no exception to his established rule, only adding to his personal appearance a snowy white shirt and a tightly closing standup collar.

It wasn't for the want of an eye-opener that Dan wended his steps into the barroom after breakfast, the next morning, but because he noticed a number of stragglers entering the mysterious sanctum, and he desired a little conversation to break the monotony of quiet Sabbath life in Canada. He entered the bar, not thinking how much like a minister he appeared to the strangers inside, and like a flash of lightning the bartender was out of business. One after another came up to the bar for a drop—but with a suspicious look the bartender would shake his head and point to the minister-like appearing stranger.

After a time the landlord entered and at once realizing why his business suffered a temporary falling off, advancing towards Dan and said:

"Mr. McKinnon, I have a very nice parlor up stairs, warm and comfortable, and I am certain you would enjoy it more than this room. May I show you up?"

Dan took a tumble and arose to follow the invitation. When outside and ascending the stairway, he handed the landlord his card, which read:

"The Palace Hotel, Crookston, Minn., Dan McKinnon, Proprietor. Fine bar in connection."

The Canadian landlord read the card and looking up at Dan, staggered backwards, exclaiming. "By gosh, shake with me, and let me take you back to where I found you. I want to introduce you to the best lot of fellows you ever met."

Of course, Dan followed. The mystery was soon cleared up. The Sunday law is being rigidly enforced in Ontario, and Dan had been mistaken for a minister—one of those who form a sort of enforcement league in Canada, and who are after the violators of Sunday law.

SKIPS TO CANADA.

But Will Return After he Secures His Bride.

Mr. R. J. Ferguson, who formerly conducted a confectionery store on Robert street, and lately bought the Olson photograph gallery on Broadway, left Saturday evening for Hensall. Ontario, where he will be married on the 15th instant, to Miss Hattie Johnson, of that city. The young couple will return to Crookston, after spending a short honeymoon in the east, and will be at home to their friends after February 15.

The Journal extends congratulations to the happy young pair.

HALLOCK WOODMEN.

Are Enjoying a Large Increase in Membership.

Deputy Grand Master Workman Olsen, of the A. O. U. W. Jurisdiction of Minnesota, passed through here Monday on his way to Hallock, where he installed new officers in the evening, and at the same time, assisted in the initiation of twenty-two new members into the order. The Hallock Workmen lodge has been enjoying rapid and steady growth for some time, but this is the largest class ever initiated at one time since its organization.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE SHIPPING BILL WILL NOT "GO OVER."

Filibusters Disgusting Friends of the Army Bill—Letters Received by Senator Hanna—Practical and Patriotic Thoughts.

WASHINGTON. Jan 8.—Congress has reconvened after the holiday recess, and the work of getting legislation through before March 4 is under full swing. The senate is up to its ears in the consideration of the army reorganization bill, and, despite the statements to the contrary, it is assured of an early vote. In the house the subject of reapportionment is occupying attention as I write, and a hullabaloo is being raised by the representatives from certain sections of the south lest the disfranchised voters be eliminated from consideration in the fixing of the number of "male inhabitants over 21 years of age actually entitled to vote" as the basis of representation in future congresses. Enough has already transpired in this connection to show that the fears of the disfranchisers are thoroughly aroused

⁂

The impression has gone abroad that the action of the senate in supplanting the shipping bill as unfinished business with the army reorganization bill places the former in the category of bills that are likely "to go over," and which means to fail for the lack of consideration. The impression is quite erroneous. The filibustering that goes on now is and can only be directed against the army bill, and it will be impossible for any one to assert that it is in order to defeat the shipping bill that the filibustering tactics are being resorted to in the senate. By the time the friends of the army reorganization bill have had a good full dose of filibustering they will be in no mood to encourage a further display of it in opposition to other important legislation.

⁂

Since Senator Hanna has blossomed out as an orator and a contributor to magazines he has been overwhelmed with letters of congratulation, of advice, and many contain stray bits of valuable information. It was my privilege to be permitted to go over one day's batch of letters he received bearing on the shipping subject, and some of them were very interesting. One man, for instance, from Oregon writes him as follows in part: "The press seems to have gone daft on the subject of 'tramp' steamships, as though no other class of vessels carried cargoes. You probably know, but seemingly many newspaper editors do not, that it is the regular line ships which build up trade, not tramps, the latter merely taking care of the overplusages at times. You are on the right track in legislating so as to establish direct lines of steamships to the ports of the world. They are the vessels that build up a nation's trade."

⁂

Another, a Democratic ex-member of congress from Georgia, writes him as follows, in part: "And it is upon this point [that providing for the admission of certain foreign built vessels owned by Americans] that I think the bill is so liberal. We in the south have believed that if foreign built vessels were placed under American registry we could as a nation do much to solve the 'shipping problem.' We have thought, too, that their admission would force our home builders to reduce their prices. But I saw very clearly in the Fifty-third congress that no such bill had even a ghost of a show of passing. I happen to know that nearly as many Democrats opposed it as Republicans, and I don't think this sentiment has changed. But your bill lets in, as I understand, 300,000 or 400,000 tons of foreign built ships on condition that their owners build new tonnage in our home yards as great as that admitted. This is a stroke of genius, and if Democrats reject this chance to get a partial free ship bill it seems to me they will never get another. You may make such use of this letter as you care to."

⁂

Strangely, in the same mail and from the north—right in New England, too—comes a strong expression of hostility "to letting any foreign built ships under our flag, much less to any subsidy, so long as we have shipbuilding material and builders to put it together in ships the equal of the best the world over." But this writer further says: "What I hope most to see result from a subsidy bill is the construction of ships of the very highest speed, capable of outsteaming anything else afloat. These are the kind of ships we need and just as many of them as we can get. Don't be influenced by the clamor for 'tramps.' This is not a country where 'tramps' are welcome. We want something more respectable and more useful. One has but to go back to the Spanish-American war and remember the invaluable services of the swift steamships of our only line in the Atlantic trade to be able to realize the superior value of the very swiftest ships."

⁂

Senator Hanna's characteristic remark after reading over these suggestions was that they indicated that the object lessons of the Spanish-American war were by no means lost upon our intelligent citizens, and that patriotism is still far above partisanship with a vast majority of our people.

J. B. ACRES.

Old People Made Young.

J. C. Sherman, the veteran editor of the Vermontville (Mich.) Echo, has discovered the remarkable secret of keeping old people young. For years he has avoided Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Heart trouble, Constipation and Rheumatism, by using Electric Bitters, and he writes: "It can't be praised too highly. It gently stimulates the kidneys, tones the stomach, aids digestion, and gives a splendid appetite. It has worked wonders for my wife and me. It's a marvelous remedy for old people's complaints." Only 50 cents at A. G. Andersen's drug store.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.
GEORGE Q. ERSKINE, President. J. W. WHEELER, Cashier.
WM. ANGLIM, Vice-President H. ROBERTSON Asst. Cashier.

Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000

Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.

Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

Crookston Dry Goods Co.

Muslin Underwear.

SPECIAL...

We have given our customers a great advantage to buy Muslin at a great saving price. Now comes our special in Muslin Underwear. No lady can afford to miss this sale because the manufacturers wouldn't sell at the prices we quote them.

Chimese
50c Kind for 35c
75c Kind for 50c
$1 00 Kind for 75c
$1 50 Kind for $1 15

Remember all our garments are made of good muslin, trimmed with Hamberg insertion and lace.

Skirts
75 85c Kind for 50c
$1 00 Kind for 75c
$1 50 Kind for $1 00
$1 75 Kind for $1 25

Drawers
50c Kind for 35c
75c Kind for 50c
$1 00 Kind for 75c

Agents for the most popular Pattern on the market—McCall's Bazar. Price 10c and 15c.

Night Gowns
50 60c Kind for 38c
$1.10 $1.15 Kind for 75c
$1 40 Kind for $1 00

Our Electric Service.

A "Continuous Service" of electric current throughout the entire twenty-four hours is better than a so-called "bobtailed" midnight or all night service.

A "Low Voltage Service" which is absolutely harmless is better than a high voltage service, which accidental contact with kills instantly.

A "Protected Service" which insures an uninterrupted service is better than an unprotected service which every accident discontinues, always without warning and generally at the most critical times.

With an unprotected service motor users keep a steam plant in reserve ready to start at a moment's notice—light consumers must keep oil lamps in readiness for every emergency. In one case the company supplying the service furnishes the protection—in the other case the consumers furnish their own protection.

A "Universal Service" which enables a consumer to draw a current supply for every known commercial electrical appliance from one system of interior wiring is better than a service which requires a separate system of interior wiring for each different class of work.

A "Direct Current Service" is better than an alternating service, not only on account of its absolute freedom from danger, but also because of some classes of service it requires less current to do a given amount of work.

In Short, an Electric Service, Like Most Other Commodities, Has all Degrees of Quality.

A 24-hour, protected, low voltage, direct current service which is universal in its application, highly efficient and absolutely harmless, represents the highest quality—in fact a perfect service.

An abbreviated, or, as it is generally called "bobtailed," unprotected, high voltage, alternating supply, represents the cheapest and poorest grade of service.

The city of Crookston is the only city on earth of its population which has a 24-hour, 110 volt, direct current, protected electric service, supplying light heat and power from one system of interior wiring.

Any citizen may claim, therefore, without hesitation, that it has the Best Electric Service of any city of equal size in the world.

He may also claim, without fear of intelligent contradiction, that no city on earth, no matter how large, has a better service.

In fact, there is no such thing as a better service at the present time—when there is ours will be better; until there is others cannot be.

These statements may seem rash, but we know, and knowing, still challenge all competitors.

If you are not using our electric service yet, try it; you will be pleased with its quality.

The average cost of lighting 105 residence houses last year was $22.68.

The average cost per lamp per month was 13½ cents.

Find out from the superintendent what it will cost to wire your residence. We will equip it ready to turn on the light and will not charge you so much as one penny's profit over and above the actual cost to us.

If you have not the time to call—telephone.

Crookston Water Works, Power & Light Co.

A HOLOCAUST

Frightful Loss of Life in a Minneapolis Lodging House Sunday Morning.

EIGHT PEOPLE PERISH

Fire Fills the Structure With Smoke and the Unfortunate Ones Succumb.

Minneapolis, Jan. 6.—A fire broke out in the four-story building at 115 Washington avenue south, Minneapolis, at 2 o'clock this morning. Four men were taken out dead. Four more were unconscious, three of whom will probably die.

The ground floor of the structure is occupied by the Standard Furniture company, and the second, third and fourth floors were used as a cheap lodging house, known as the Harvard. Rooms were furnished at 15, 20 and 25 cents. The fire started in the furniture store and the building was filled with a dense smoke before many of the lodgers had made their escape. The department soon checked the spread of the flames but the smoke, however, had its effect on those who were caught in the building. Shortly before 3 o'clock the bodies of four men were taken out and sent to the morgue. Four others were taken out, and it was believed at 3:15 that but one could be saved. Neither the names of the men whose bodies were recovered nor the missing could be learned this morning.

The property loss will be considerable, as the havoc wrought by the water was extensive. To the oils and varnishes in the furniture store is attributed the dense smoke that caused such a great loss of life. The dead are:

Nat Perley.

Frank Skidmore, oiler, Pillsbury "A" mill.

Joseph Erickson.

Night Clerk Bentley.

Michael Monahan.

George Rudey, Temple Court barber.

D. Scholield.

H. Jacobson.

A DOG'S FIDELITY.

A Moorhead Bull Dog Saves a Drunken Man's Life.

A beautiful example of a dog's fidelity was shown a few days ago says the Fargo Call, when a white bull dog owned by A. J. Rustad of Moorhead, saved Jack Collins from freezing to death. The dog and Collins were boon companions ever since he worked for Rustad, and it is said that Collins saved the dog from many a hard fight by his timely aid. A few days ago Collins went on a drunk of more than ordinary dimensions, and in his wanderings walked down a dark alley and fell in the snow. The dog stuck close to him and when the animal saw that Collins was helpless he sought to attract aid. It was a long time before he could make known in his doggish way that a friend was in danger, but after a great deal of barking and running some men followed the dog to where Collins lay in the snow. He was picked up and taken to the police station, where it was found that his feet and hands were badly frozen. Collins is now at Darrow's hospital and is getting along very well. His fingers and toes are in a serious condition but it is thought that he will recover without losing any of his member.

SUICIDE FROM GRIEF.

Loss of His Brother Unsettles a Lonely Man's Mind.

Tower, Minn., Jan. 6.—Brooding over the the death of his brother who was run down by a train a few weeks ago, unsettled John Eliason's mind so that he shot himself about 9 o'clock this morning in his cabin a few miles south of this city.

Two passers-by found him just dying.

A note written in Swedish said that, as his brother who was his best friend was dead, he thought it best to die also.

WILL IS SUSTAINED.

The Probate Court Allows the Dr. Musgrove Will to Stand.

Grafton, N. D., Jan. 6.—The will of Dr. Musgrove is sustained, according to the decision of Judge Mackenzie, of the county court, which he rendered yesterday. A number of relatives, who are non-participants in the will are contesting its validity against the beneficiaries whom it is alleged are non-relatives. The first hearing of the case in probate court was concluded a few days ago after a continuous hearing lasting over nine days. The estate will go to probate and Judge Sauter has been appointed administrator.

The decision simply ends the first chapter of what promises to be a long legal fight, and a bitter one, if the prosecutors mean all they say at the present time. The next step for the case is in the district court of Walsh county and it will be docketed so that it can be tried at the regular term in June. Some racy testimony is promised for the next trial.

WILL IT CARRY?

East End Taxpayers Bound to Have County Division.

This county has a prospect of a very lively county division fight at the next state election. The two rival towns of the eastern part of the county are Fosston and McIntosh. Twice within the last few years the division question has been fought over and defeated. But the campaign is now so arranged that division must carry. Hitherto McIntosh has voted for Columbia county, with McIntosh as the county seat, and Fosston for Nelson county, with Fosston as its seat. Immediately after the November election each place began circulating petitions on the quiet for another vote. It was soon learned that both petitions provided for exactly the same territory. A race was run for the governor's office to get the petitions filed and the executive has promised to recognize both propositions.

CARELESS ALL AROUND.

North Dakota Couple Married Without Proper License.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 5.—A rather embarassing situation has resulted from the performance of a marriage ceremony on Wednesday evening for S. J. Thompson and Miss Annie Hall of Minto, by Rev. Edgar W. Day of the Presbyterian church, Fargo. Mr. Thompson secured a license in Walsh county, intending to be married there. Later he concluded to come to Fargo and never thought the license was not good in Cass. Rev. Mr. Day did not notice the license carefully, taking it for granted the groom had patronized the local county court. The marriage is legal regardless of the error, but Mr. Day is open to a fine ranging from $50 to $500. The couple went to Walsh county and to avoid any possible doubt as to the legality of their union it is said they will have another ceremony performed.

SAD CONDITION

Yesterday the Son and Today the Father Goes to Asylum

Even Hildal, who was yesterday examined as to his mental condition, before Judge Hagen was declared insane and taken to the Fergus Falls insane asylum last evening. Hildal and his father were living together alone about six miles northeast of Nielsville, the old man, who has been demented for a number of years being cared for by the son. Of late however, neighbors observed the strange conduct of the younger Hildal, which resulted in the examination and commitment.

This left the old man entirely alone, and he was brought to this city this morning by C. C. Melsness, of Nielsville, and this evening he will be taken Fergus Falls to join his son in the asylum.

WEDS SMALLPOX PATIENTS.

Ceremony Performed in the Pest House of Cloquet, Minn.

Cloquet, Minn., Special, Jan. 4.—A wedding ceremony under novel conditions was performed here Wednesday by Rev. Heard of the M. E. church. The bride is the daughter of a well-to-do Minneapolis family, and the groom a young man who has of late been her constant attendant. Three days ago the bride was taken sick with smallpox and removed to the pest house, accompanied by the groom, who has had the disease. The ceremony was performed through an open window, the officiating clergyman standing without with one witness, and the couple within the room attended by the pest house physician in his smallpox robe.

A SPLENDID SHOWING

The Crookston Post Office for the Last Quarter Shows Gain.

The post office receipts for the last quarter, comprising October, November and December, show a decided increase over the corresponding period of last year. The registered business alone amounted to over $200 more for this quarter, than a year ago, and Postmaster Eikeu states that the balance of the business of the office is in the same proportion.

The total receipts for the three months were $4,110.41 as against $3,632.02 in 1899. While the work of the office has materially increased the office force remains the same, and the net gain goes into Uncle Sam's treasury.

A HOTEL FIRE

The Old Windsor Hotel at East Grand Forks Burned Down Yesterday Morning.

FIREMEN WORK HARD

To Save Adjoining Buildings From Destruction — Loss Partly Covered by Insurance.

About 6 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the old Windsor hotel at East Grand Forks, which was owned by Philips & Coburn, and the flames spread so rapidly that nothing whatever of the contents could be saved, and the entire two-story frame structure was soon reduced to ashes. The alarm was turned in and the fire department responded promptly, but the flames had gained such headway that it soon became apparent that there was absolutely no hope of saving the building.

An adjoining building occupied by M. Sullivan as a saloon had a close call, and was a number of times on fire. When it was found by the fire boys that the burning hotel was beyond saving their energies were directed to stop the fire from spreading further, and to check the flames where they did, was only accomplished after a desperate fight.

The loss on the building and contents is estimated at about $4,500 with $2,600 insurance.

The owners of the lots upon which the hotel stood, propose to rebuild as soon as the debris can be cleared away and will put up a solid two story brick block.

BY DIRECT VOTE.

The State Superintendent to be Chosen by Popular Vote.

The recent annual meeting of the Minnesota Educational Association at St. Paul put itself on record as in favor of the direct election of the state superintendent of schools.

Prof. D. L. Kiehle of the University of Minnesota, offered the resolution, which was unanimously passed, recommending the following charges in the administration of the state department of public instruction: That the state superintendent of public instruction be elected: that he be placed on a salary and footing equal to other state officers and that the administration of the office be under civil service rules, providing for efficiency and continuity of service.

The enrollment of the association for the coming year yesterday reached 825 as against 443 last year.

EDDY'S BILL

Which Will Open up the Red Lake Reservation.

As it would be impossible to pass a measure throwing open the Indian reservation at this short session of congress, Representative Eddy had inserted in the Indian bill a clause which authorizes the secretary of the interior to negotiate by and through an inspector with any Indians for any portion of their respective reservations and surplus unalloted lands, any agreements thus negotiated to be subject to subsequent ratification by congress. The bill with the above clause has passed the house and, unless objected to in the senate, we may expect to see an inspector here before spring to negotiate with the Indians.—Thief River News.

FIRE AT CASS LAKE.

An Early Blaze Destroys Two Eating Houses.

About 6 o'clock Friday it was discovered that the Commercial hotel at Cass Lake was on fire. The flames were fanned by a healthy breeze and soon spread to the adjoining building which was occupied as a boarding house, and known as the "Whaleback." Both buildings, together with their entire contents, were soon reduced to a smoldering mass of ruins

The origin of the fire is not known but is supposed to have been caused from an overheated stove.

The loss is total, and amounts to upwards of $3,500. Insurance not known

Coffee and Sugar War Ends.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Private advices have reached Chicago that the war between the great sugar and coffee trusts, a battle which has been stubbornly fought for more than three years, between Henry O. Havemeyer on the one side and John Arbuckle on the other hand, which has cost the trade rivals approximately $25,000,000, is to be brought to a close.

Negotiations have been closed in New York and Chicago, whereby Arbuckle will nominally give up sugar refining and become dictator in the coffee trade; H. O. Havemeyer and the sugar trust will practically give up their coffee roasting plants, with which an effort was made to crush out John Arbuckle, and handle only the sugar business.

LOFGREN GOES FREE

The Alleged Slayer of Tom Hoy at Solway is Dismissed.

The case of the State vs. Lofgren, charged with the murder of Tom Hoy at Solway Sunday evening, December 23, as stated in last week's issue, was heard before Judge Baxter at Solway, Friday, who after hearing the evidence, dismissed the case, and Lofgren is again a free man.

The State was represented by Chas. Scrutchin, in the absence of the county attorney, while L. H. Bailey conducted the defense

The State had made a very strong case against Lofgren, out of the evidence at hand, Mr. Scrutchin putting forth a vigorous prosecution, which was ably met by Attorney Bailey for the defense, with the above result.—Beltrami News.

ANOTHER DIVISION

Sixteen Towns in Western Polk are Included.

Polk county is up against another division proposition, the leaders of which are working hand in hand with McIntosh. The sixteen townships in the western portion of Polk county are included, and the name proposed is Valley county. The proposed new county would consist of the townships of Hubbard, Scandia, Hammond, Vineland, Tinsid, Roome, Bygland, Fisher, Nesbit, Huntsville, Sullivan, Grand Forks, Northland, Esther, Higdom and Sandsville, and includes the villages of Fisher and East Grand Forks.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

THE NATIONAL PARK

Congressman Page Morris Will Not Oppose Proposed Investigation.

Judge Page Morris said Friday at Washington that he did not intend to oppose the proposed resolution for investigation into the national park scheme for Northern Minnesota, and intimates that, perhaps, the investigation, after all, will be necessary in order to show the advocates of the park just what difficulties lie in the way.

RESULT OF BOOZE

Nearly Frozen to Death While in a Drunken Condition.

Jack Collins imbibed too freely at Moorhead New Year's Day, and during the night was found in one of the Moorhead alleys in an intoxicated condition and with his feet badly frozen. It was only by the merest chance that he was discovered or he might have frozen to death, for the night was a bitterly cold one. The unfortunate fellow was taken to the Darrow hospital where it is hoped that amputation will not be necessary, although he is in a very bad shape. Collins used to act as a driver for John Haas at Moorhead, and is a well known character in this city.

Thief River Falls.

The funeral of Henry Karow took place in the M. E. Church Jan 2, at 2 p. m., Rev. Lieuing officiating. The entire community extends their sympathy to the wife and daughter who are left to mourn his departure.

The Modern Woodmen had the installation of officers Jan. 3, there was a large attendance, and an enjoyable time was had by all. The local camp has employed a deputy and numerous applications are coming in at every meeting.

The New Years ball given by the fire department was a social success. All the best people in town turned out with their wives and sweethearts, and the ball room was filled to its utmost capacity and far exceeding the expectations of the Fire Laddies and adding a neat sum to their treasury.

The Electric Light plant has not commenced running yet; the Turbine was put in place and everything was in readiness to start Dec. 29 but when the water was turned on, it was found that the foundation for the flume was not substantial enough and as the city intends to have everything in first class shape before starting it, decided to make the foundation more substantial before starting the plant in earnest. The work is progressing rapidly and satisfactory and from present indications it will be only a few days before we will have electric lights.

His Wife Saved Him.

My wife's good advice saved my life writes F. M. Ross of Winfield, Tenn., for I had such a bad cough I could hardly breathe, steadily grew worse under doctor's treatment, but my wife urged me to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me." Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Asthma, Hay Fever and all maladies of Chest, Throat and Lungs are positively cured by this marvelous medicine. 50c. and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottle free at A. G. Anderson's drug store.

No one needs to be told to try to cure a cough. But any one will be glad to be told of a means of cure which will be thorough and lasting. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine which can be confidently relied on to cure diseases of the organs of respiration. It cures obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis and bleeding of the lungs. It cures when nothing else will cure, and the local physician says: "There is nothing more that we can do."

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

The dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid by less meritorious medicines, will sometimes try and sell a substitute when the "Discovery" is asked for. No substitute medicine will satisfy the sick like "Golden Medical Discovery." It always helps. It almost always cures.

"Two years ago a severe cough started on me and I was also bothered with catarrh," writes Mr. F. Skjod, of Danewood, Chisago Co., Minn. "I could not sleep nights, as the cough was worse at night. I tried several cough medicines, but to no avail, until a year ago, when I got so bad I could not breathe through my nose at times. I then tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and at the same time using Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, I am a well man. I can thank Dr. Pierce for my good health, and will recommend his medicines to any one suffering from the same trouble."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

THE...

One Price Hardware Store.

Will close at 6:30 every evening except Saturday until further notice.

No. 73 Broadway L. E. LARSEN.

STEVENS RIFLES AND PISTOLS

HAVE FOR 37 YEARS HELD THE FIRST POSITION FOR ACCURACY, DURABILITY AND SOLIDITY.

The Diamond Model Pistol.

Made with six or ten-inch barrel, open or peep sights, blued barrel, nickel plated frame, long grip, with walnut stocks. If not carried by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.

With 6-Inch barrel, . . $5.00
With 10-Inch barrel, . . $7.50

Send stamp for catalogue describing complete line containing valuable information to shooters.

THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

Timber Culture Final Proof.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., Jan. 2, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that Simeon J. Lanterman has filed notice of intention to make final proof before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at his office in Crookston, Minnesota on Friday, the 15th day of February 1901, on timber culture application No. 3582, for the se¼ of section No. 2, in township No. 150 N. range No. 47 W.

He names as witnesses:

Frank Williams, Flery I. Davis, Henry Jones and James Jones all of Crookston, Minnesota.

A. F. GEORGE.
Receiver.

Contest Notice.

Doc. No. 1238

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Crookston, Minnesota, Dec. 19, 1900.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Peter P. Hexum contestant, against homestead entry No. 1025, made Oct. 7, 1896 for se¼, section 15, township 151 N., range 39 W., by Even A. Sneva, contestee, in which it is alleged that the said Even A. Sneva has wholly failed and neglected to establish his residence upon the said land, and has failed to cultivate and improve the same, and that such default has continued for more than six months prior to the date hereof, and that the said alleged absence from the said land was not due to his employment in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States as a private soldier, officer, seaman or marine during the war with Spain or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged. Said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on January 28, 1901, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Crookston, Minnesota.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed Dec. 19, 1900, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

SYLVESTER PETERSON,
Register.

37-40

Proclamation.

State of Minnesota, Executive Department.

Whereas, pursuant to chapter one hundred and forty-three (143) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1893, "An act to provide for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," as amended by chapter one hundred and twenty-four (124) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1895, being "An act to amend sections two (2) and four (4) of chapter one hundred forty three (143) of the General Laws of the year 1893, providing for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," a petition was filed with the Secretary of State on the 13th day of December, 1900, praying for the creation of a new county out of territory now lying in Polk County, said State, to be named Nelson County and described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at the southeast corner of township numbered one hundred and forty-seven north of range thirty-nine west of the 5th principal meridian in Minnesota, thence running west along the south boundary line of townships one hundred and forty-seven of ranges thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Norman counties, to the southwest corner of township one hundred and forty-seven, range forty-three, thence running north along the range line between ranges forty-three and forty four to the northwest corner of township one hundred and forty-nine, range forty-three; thence east along the north boundary line of said township last named and townships one hundred and forty-nine, ranges forty-two and forty one, to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence north along the west boundary line and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty, range forty to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence north along the west boundary line, and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty-one, range thirty-nine, to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence south along the range line between ranges thirty-eight and thirty-nine, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Beltrami Counties, to the place of beginning, all of said territory being within the County of Polk and including and embracing the whole of townships numbered one hundred and forty-seven, one hundred and forty-eight and one hundred and forty-nine ranges thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, township one hundred and fifty, ranges thirty-nine and forty, and township one hundred and fifty-one, range thirty-nine.

And whereas said petition has been duly considered and found and certified to as conforming in all respects to the provisions of said laws:

Now therefore I John Lind, Governor of the State of Minnesota pursuant to the authority in me vested by the laws aforesaid, do hereby direct and proclaim that the question of the creation of the proposed new county of Nelson be submitted to the voters of said Polk County at the next general election to be held in this State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1902.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Minnesota to be hereto affixed this 20th day of December, A. D. 1900.

ALBERT BERG, Secretary of State.
JOHN LIND, Governor.
[SEAL] 39-42

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, made and dated the 14th day of November, 1882, by Zebedee Losia, an unmarried man, mortgageor of Polk county, Minnesota, to Nancy C. McConnell, mortgagee, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk county, Minnesota, on the 16th day of November, 1882, at 11 o'clock and forty-five minutes a. m., in book "I" of mortgages on pages 490, 491, 492 and 493; which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 3rd day of May, A. D. 1884 by an instrument in writing duly assigned by said Nancy C. McConnell to Alzina A. Wyly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich, of the State of Florida, which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk County, Minnesota, on the 8th day of July, A. D. 1895 at eight o'clock and forty minutes a. m. in book "67" of Mortgages on pages 587 and 588, which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 27th day of June, A. D., 1890, by an instrument in writing, duly assigned by said Alzina A. Wyly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich of the State of Florida to Chester W. Goodrich, which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk County, Minnesota on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1895, at eight o'clock and forty minutes a. m. in book "67" of Mortgages on pages 585 and 586, which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1898 by an instrument in writing duly assigned by said Chester W. Goodrich of the State of Florida, to Ella B. Thomas, of Lehigh County, Pa.: which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County Minnesota on the 31st day of August, A. D. 1900 at three o'clock and fifteen minutes p. m. in book "95" of Mortgages on pages 23 and 24, which said mortgage conveyed and mortgaged the following premises in said Polk County, Minnesota, to wit: The east half of the northwest quarter and the east half of the southwest quarter of section No. two (2), in township No. one hundred and fifty-three (153), north of range No. forty-six (46) west, containing 160 acres of land more or less according to the U. S. government survey thereof.

That there is due upon the note and mortgage at this date seven hundred thirty-eight dollars and 19-100 ($738.19) and which said note bears even date with said mortgage and became due and payable five years from date thereof, together with Attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage, amounting to twenty-five (25) dollars.

There is also due upon said mortgage the sum of seventy seven and 37-100 dollars ($77.37) which said Ella B. Thomas, assignee of said mortgage has paid as delinquent taxes and interest, duly levied upon said premises for the years 1889 to 1899, both inclusive which sum has become a lien upon said land, according to the statutes of Minnesota in such case made and provided, making the total amount due upon said mortgage to date, including principal interest, Attorney's fees and taxes, eight hundred forty and 56-100 dollars ($840.56). No proceedings at law having been instituted to recover any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statutes, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the front door of the court house, in the City of Crookston, in said County of Polk, on Saturday, the 2nd day of February, A. D., 1901, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the sum herein claimed to be due on said mortgage, together with all costs and charges to foreclose.

Dated Minneapolis, Minn., December 10th, 1900.

ELLA B. THOMAS,
Assignee of Mortgagee.

WRIGHT AND MATCHAN,
Attorneys for Assignee of Mortgagee.
811 Globe Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. 36-42

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.—ss. In district court.

Agnes Bruggeman, as executrix of the last will and testament of John H. Bruggeman, deceased, plaintiff,

Against

D. W. Luke, W. B. Wood, the Merchants National bank of Crookston, James Pulkrabek and Pulkrabek, co-partners under the firm name and style of Pulkrabek Bros., and John Birkholz defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants and each of them:

You and each of you are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the action above entitled, which has been filed and is now on file, in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to said complaint upon the undersigned at his office in the City of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated Dec. 26, 1900

A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
Crookston, Minnesota.

39-44

Final Proof.

Department of the Interior, Land Office at Crookston, Minn., Nov. 17, 1900.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at Crookston, Minnesota on January 8th, 1901, viz:

Torkel J. Vatnedal, H. E. 16,398 for the sw¼ ne¼, w½ se¼, se¼ se¼, sec. 34 Tp 148 Rge 47, W.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz:

Ben Jorgenson, Nels Jorgenson, Peter Flo, James Dewar, all of Crookston, Minnesota.

SYLVESTER PETERSON.
Register

33-38

MOST TRAGIC

Town of Milton Shocked by a Most Terrible and Deliberate Murder of a Farm Hand.

AN AWFUL STRUGGLE

The Victim Requested by His Slayer to Choose the Mode of Death —Knife or Rope.

A special telegram to the Grand Forks Herald this morning says:

Langdon, N. D, Jan 4—There was a commotion in the community yesterday morning when the news came in over the telephone to State's Attorney Dickson, giving the meager details of a tragedy that promises to be unparalleled in the history of this county. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning William Barry, a farmer residing about four miles south of Milton, stabbed Andrew Mellem in the throat, leaving a gash that almost severed the head from the body. Mellem had been employed by Barry as a farm hand at intervals for the past eight months, and was a single man about 25 years of age. Barry has been a resident of the south end of the county for about 15 years, is well fixed financially and has been always looked up to as an ideal citizen, has been regarded as a man who is strictly honest, and always practiced the principle of minding his own business, being of a quiet and reserved disposition.

The story that Mr. Barry tells is substantially as follows:

Wednesday night he had been doing chores, and on coming in from the barn he found his sister in tears. On being questioned by him she confessed that for some time she and Mellea had been unduly intimate, and that she had discovered that she was pregnant. There had been a secret engagement of marriage, and just prior to Barry's entrance, she had pressed Mellem to carry out the agreement, which he had declined to do. Barry, enraged, went in search of Mellem, but could not find him. Returning to the house he found that his sister had disappeared. He began a search for her, which continued all night. Toward morning he found her lying on the prairie with hands and feet badly frozen, the night having been very cold. He placed her in the care of a neighbor and returned home.

Going to the barn he found Mellem inside doing the morning chores. He told Mellem what had occurred, and that he had resolved that he must die. He gave Mellem the choice of death by the rope or the knife, and demanded that he choose at once. This Mellem declined to do, and Barry then took a rope and with it attempted to hang his victim to a beam overhead. Mellem resisted, and a desperate struggle ensued, lasting, Mr. Barry thinks, about 15 minutes. Barry weighs about 260 pounds, and Mellem but 140, but so desperately did the latter struggle that the plan of hanging was abandoned. Barry then took out his watch and told Mellem that he had just five minutes more to live, and recommended that he say his final prayers, and the latter, too exhausted for further resistance, knelt on the floor of the stable and implored Heaven for forgiveness and mercy. Promptly at the end of the five minutes Barry closed the watch, returned it to his pocket, and with a knife with which he had armed himself stabbed the kneeling man in the neck. The wounded man died almost instantly. Barry then drove to Milton and gave himself up.

The Mellem murder case near Milton has been the subject of much discussion since the details of the horrible affair became known, as Barry is known by a number of people of this city, who have always regarded him a man of great will power, and no one of his acquaintances ever believed him capable of committing such a terrible deed.

As an illustration of Barry's coolness after committing the deed, and driving to Milton to give himself up, he first saw a doctor and sent him to the neighbor's house where he had left his sister early in the morning before driving home to kill Mellem. He stated that he had killed Mellem and to come and take care of the body, and to later come and see him. He next 'phoned to his own brother to go to the farm and see that the stock was taken care of properly, as he had murdered Mellem and was going to give himself up. Having made these arrangements he put himself in the custody of the officers at Milton.

The coroner's jury that held an inquest over the body of Mellem returned a verdict shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday that the deceased had come to his death as the result of a wound in the throat inflicted by a knife in the hands of William Barry.

Later in the day Barry was taken to Langdon, where he is in the custody of a deputy sheriff, but was not placed in jail, as he has no desire to escape. He appears to be perfectly confident that he will be cleared if it is demonstrated that his sister is in a delicate condition, as he feels that his act would then be justifiable. If it proves that she is not pregnant then he says he should be hung for the murder of an innocent man, and that he would offer no protest and in fact would prefer to die if he has made such a terrible mistake.

It was found that Miss Barry was not very severely frozen, and her condition was such that she was taken to Langdon with her brother. When she awoke at the neighbor's house, where she had been taken by Barry after he found her lying on the prairie the night before, she showed unmistakable signs of mental abberation, and her condition did not improve after her arrival at Langdon. It was decided that she should be taken at once before the county board of insanity, which was done. The hearing lasted during the entire afternoon, and will be resumed today. It is understood that she will without doubt be ordered committed to the asylum, as she is quite violent at times, and is not rational at any time. It was stated that she would be taken to Jamestown this evening.

It was also stated last evening that Miss Barry had been confined in an asylum in Ontario 17 years ago, but this is not known to a certainty. It was also stated that one of Barry's brothers was an inmate of an asylum in Canada at the present time.

William Barry came to Grand Forks from Huron county, Ontario, seventeen years ago a poor lad, but by hard work and good judgment has acquired a handsome amount of wealth. In size he is almost a giant, standing over six feet tall, and though very powerful, he never engaged in fistic encounters.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

Has world-wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Boils, Sores, Felons, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Chapped Hands, Skin Eruptions: infallable for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's.

NEW SECRETS

Another Chapter of the Cape Nome Mining Scandal Is Now Opened to the Public.

INVOLVES MR. DICKEY

Strong Influence at Work to Postpone Action Until After Congress Adjourns.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The Cape Nome mining scandals have broken out afresh in both branches of congress. There are new and rather sensational developments, and in addition to the serious charges preferred against Judge Arthur Noyes, of Minneapolis, clerk of the United States District Court C. E. Dickey, also a Minneapolis man, is now under the fire.

It is charged that Mr. Dickey, while acting in an official and confidential capacity, violated the rules and regulations of the court and gave away important information to the San Francisco syndicate, which is now pounding hard to have Judge Noyes removed or impeached. It is learned that Mr. Dickey has been discharged as clerk of courts in Alaska.

Members of the California delegation are opposed to any proposition to have the congressional investigations postponed. Thus far nothing has been done towards pressing either house or senate resolutions for investigation, and strong influences are being brought to bear to tide matters over until after congress adjourns. The men and influences who are demanding that Noyes be removed appear to be supremely confident that they will make a strong case if they are given the opportunity, and if the chance is denied them they insist that [illegible] will issue statements, backed up [illegible] sworn statements, that will startle [illegible] congress, but everybody else. [illegible] the other hand, friends of Judge Noyes profess to be perfectly satisfied that they will be able to show that all charges and allegations against him have been inspired by selfish interests [illegible] insist that, inasmuch as Judge Noyes is amenable to the department of justice, that branch of the government and not congress should make the investigation, and have accordingly filed their case with Attorney General Griggs.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL.

Fertile Reaches Out for a New Dignity And Will Probably Get It.

Fertile, Minn., Jan. 6.—The town is very much interested in the proposed changes in its school system that will be considered at a special meeting this month. At present the schools outrank those of many larger places. A. W. Rankin, state inspector of grade schools, at a recent visit, promised to recommend to the state board that Fertile be placed on the list of state high schools. The town already has a full high school course, but receives no state aid for it. The only change required to make the school eligible for the state aid of $700 or $800 annually is an additional room. It is proposed to build an addition of two rooms at a cost of $1,500, which would answer this requirement and furnish another room for the grades which are now testing the capacity of the school building.

The school board figures it will make money by providing the improvement necessary to get the state aid. Several other towns in this part part of the state are trying to be raised to high school rank, among them Fosston, Bemidji, East Grand Forks, Halloek, Breckenridge and Perham.

THIS ISN'T GERMANSKI.

Some Skis and Two Coats In a Marshall County Court.

Frank Traseuski claimed that Albert Souirowski stole two coats from him and had him arrested yesterday. The corroborating witnesses were Kattie Zebertowich and Ludwik Povlwiski. G E. Carski appeared for the plaintiffski, and Patrick McClernonski for defenski. Judge Hughski saidski grand larcenski in second degreeski and bound the fellow over to the grand juriski. Tom Fullerski took the prisonerski down to the county jailski last nightski. Poor fellowski.—Marshall County Bannerski.

Made Young Again.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again" writes D. H. Turner of Dempseytown, Pa. They're the best in the world for Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Purely vegetable. Never gripe. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's Drug Store.

THE PLOW INDUSTRY

Chicago Capitalists Organize a Combine with $65,000,000

Chicago, Jan. 4.—The Chronicle tomorrow will say:

A combination of plow companies of which there have been rumors for two or three days, will be launched next week with a capitalization of $65,000,000. Chicago men who have been the prime movers in the preliminary negotiations stated yesterday that all obstacles to the deal had been removed.

Charles R. Flint, president of the United States Rubber company, is reputed the financial power behind the combination, but it is said the presidency of the company will go to a western millionaire of practical experience in the manufacture of plows.

Thirty-one firms are said to have agreed to enter the new concern, which will probably be called the American Plow Company.

The promise is that the combine will be able not only to reduce the price of plows to farmers, but also will turn into its own treasury a profit greater by $5,000,000 or more than the total at present accruing to members under their expensive methods of securing trade. The headquarters of the new company will be either in New York or Chicago.

August Flower.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at F. H. Hillard & Son's

Sold by dealers in all civilized countries. Get Green's Prize Almanac. dweowl

Will Confirm Sale.

A special Washington correspondent said Friday: It is understood today that the sale of green pine on White Earth reservation, which took place in November, will all be confirmed, including the Weyerhaeuser purchases, which is exactly in the same condition as others.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN LAND?

What Kind of Land do You Want?

Wild Land, Cultivated Land, Wood Land, Hay Land,
Heavy Land, Light Land, High Land, Land,
City Lots, Village Lots, Business Lots, Residence Lots,

APPLY TO THE

Red River Valley Land Company....

If you have Lands to sell list them with us.
If you want to buy Lands look over our lists.

Come and see us anyway, whenever you want anything connected with land business, or any information concerning the character and quality of soil of any land in Northern Minnesota.

F. M. BROWN, Manager.

GEO. A. RALPH, Secretary.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

GET OFF EASY

Alfred Viegen, Who was on Trial, for Shooting Weigel at Eldred.

ACQUITTED BY JURY

The Court Imposes a Fine of $50 Upon George Francis the Barber.

The jury in the Veigen shooting case rather furnished a surprise in bringing in a verdict for acquittal. Circumstances were rather of a damaging nature, but the jury apparently thought that the long confinement in the county jail was sufficient punishment, and returned its verdict accordingly.

In accordance with the jury's statement, asking that only a light fine be imposed on Geo. Francis, who shot Carver at Fosston, Judge Watts let the prisoner off with a $50 fine, which was paid. The shooting the jury thought, was under great provocation, and other mitigating circumstances favored the light fine.

The court adjourned after dinner, until Monday morning as the county attorney had no further criminal cases ready for trial.

In Probate Court.

In probate court Friday Judge Hagen heard the application for admitting to probate the will of Walter Alderman, deceased, formerly a resident of this city. The prayer was granted, and O. O. Christianson was appointed executor of the will.

The will in the estate of the late Anna Klinger, a full account of which appeared in the Journal last week was upon petition of the heirs, set aside, and Fred Rauch of this city was appointed administrator of the estate.

The estate of Ole S. Spokely was closed and the final accounting admitted.

LARGELY ATTENDED

Was the Funeral of the Late Albert H. Gaab Yesterday.

Probably the largest funeral turnout witnessed in this city for a long time was the cortege which brought the remains of the late Albert H. Gaab to their last rest resting place in Oakdale cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Promptly at 2 o'clock, headed by the Crookston band, the members of the order of Red Men, to the number of about eighty, left their hall and marched to the residence of their deceased brother on North Broadway, where Rev. Weudt conducted short services. After concluding the services at the house, the procession formed and the band played a dirge on the way to the German Lutheran church where the funeral sermon was delivered by the pastor of the church.

It was after three o'clock when services were over and the large procession formed again and proceeded to the burying ground. The ceremonies at the grave were most impressing, and were conducted by the officers of the lodge of Red Men. This was the first death that has occurred since the organization of the order here, and the burial ceremony, which had not been exemplified here before, attracted much attention and favorable comment. Just before leaving the grave every member advances and in dropping a twig of evergreen upon the coffin says "good bye" to the departed brother and friend. After this a live white dove is held over the grave and allowed to soar skyward. Altogether the Red Men's burial ceremony was very impressive.

COLLEGE BARN BURNED.

N. D. Agricultural School Loses a $5,000 Building.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 7.—The barn at the state agricultural college was destroyed by fire last Friday. The flames seemed to have been started by spontaneous combustion in the feed rooms on the second floor. All the stock was saved. The loss to the building and material is about $5,000, with $3,000 insurance.

HIS SIXTH ANNUAL.

Rev. Fisher, of the Congregational, Speaks Very Encouraging.

Sunday morning as a prelude to the sermon Rev. Fisher read his sixth annual pastoral letter in which he said among other things—"Never during his ministerial life has your pastor begun a year of service with greater hopefulness, and with better assurances of loyalty than the present.

In common with the noblemen of the Christendom of the Western continent we share the hope of a great spiritual uplift and advance. Our past success has been largely the result of special faithfulness on the part of a few. May the immediate future find many in the ranks of loyal service for country, God and Truth. "To individual faithfulness God has entrusted much of the real good and progress of the world."

GAS EXPLOSION AT FISHFR

Raises a Building and Does Other Damage—Injures Nobody.

Last Saturday afternoon a number of citizens passing the store building known as the Gleason store at Fisher and occupied by T Lee as a millinery store, noticed the strong smell of gas eminating from the building, and surmising a gas pipe leak, an investigation was instituted.

One of the investigators concluded to go down in the cellar to examine the pipes, and in doing so struck a match, which caused the accumulated gas in the air tight space to explode. The building was fairly lifted from its foundation, the windows blown out and demolished, and about fifteen feet of the sidewalk in front of the building picked up and thrown in the street.

Aside from receiving a thorough scare the occupants of the house escaped without injury, and the damage to the building is also very light.

WANT TO KNOW

His Whereabouts for His Pecuniary Benefit.

Chief of Police Gouyea has received a letter asking for information regarding one Henry K. Gelhaar, who left home in Syracuse, N. Y., May 13, 1894, since which nothing has been heard or seen of him by his relatives or friends. His present address is wanted in a matter of pecuniary benefit to him as well as his relatives, and it is desired that a special effort be made to locate him. He is described as a man 39 years of age, 6 feet, 1 inch in height, weight about 175 pounds, medium complexion, dark hair, gray eyes and walks somewhat stooped. He was a job printer by trade and was in business for himself at the time he left Syracuse. He speaks both English and German fluently.

A BUSINESSLIKE MAMMA.

Presents Her Two Daughters to Wife-Seeking Bachelor and Gives Him His Pick.

Having advertised in a paper for a wife, Perkins Williams sat down to receive proposals. Mr. Williams is a prosperous farmer and lives two miles south of Cortland, N. Y. When he had received 100 favorable communications he selected the choicest few and opened negotiations. None had been finally closed when an elderly woman and two younger ones drove up to Mr. Williams' front door and inquired for him.

The elderly woman announced that she had come on a business matter and would stay to dinner. Mr. Williams entertained his guests sumptuously. When it was over the elderly woman pushed back her chair and, waving her hand toward the two girls, said, briskly:

"Now, Mr. Williams, I have read your advertisement. You seem very comfortable here. These two girls are my daughters, Ethel and Marion Bodkin. They are willing to marry. Take your pick."

Mr. Williams looked them over, including Mrs. Bodkin, and decided on Ethel. The wedding day was set for Thanksgiving, and the Bodkin family drove back to their home where Perkins Williams will present himself for his bride on the day appointed.

POPULARITY OF GOLF GROWS.

Dr. Dudgeon Calls It Most Valuable Scottish Gift to the World.

The popularity of gold in England grows apace. Wherever a bit of ground at all suitable for the sport is found there the golfer is sure to be seen. This was well demonstrated the other day when Mr. Balfour opened the Hawksworth Golf clubhouse. Small as the village is, that golf house cost the large sum of $10,000.

Apropos of this, people have just been reading a little book called "The Prolongation of Life," by Dr. R. E. Dudgeon, written chiefly for those who have had to abandon their accustomed business or occupation and begin as it were a new mode of life, of which they have had no previous experience.

In a chapter on exercise Dr. Dudgeon, who exultantly declares that Scotland never gave the world a more valuable gift than golf, describes the national game and its health-giving qualities with enthusiasm.

A Renting Conundrum.

Here is a conundrum that the agent of one of the big up-town apartment-houses in New York is wrestling with: "Why is it that $500-a-year people always insist on inspecting apartments that will rent anywhere from $1,500 to $2,500 a year?"

Sailors' Church at San Francisco.

In a sailors' church in San Francisco the pulpit is a complete reproduction of the stern of a noted clipper ship, and after services on Sunday tea is provided for sailors who attend.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE PAST RECESS CENTERS OF INTEREST IN CONGRESS.

River and Harbor, Appropriation, Army Reorganization and Shipping Bills—Foreign Steamship Influence Against Last Named Measure.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The holiday recess is nearing its close, and members of congress are returning to the city to take up anew the details of national legislation. In the house interest will center during the first few days succeeding the holidays in the great river and harbor bill—the $60,000,000 omnibus measure which has somewhere, by some one, been characterized as the greatest piece of log rolling in the world. The members of the committee which drafted the bill have done some heroic work in pruning down its unwieldy proportions from an $80,000,000 to a $60,000,000 "proposition." After it has run the exciting but brief gantlet of the house it must be sent to the senate, where it is referred to the committee on commerce.

∴

There is some significance in the fact that the same committee of the senate which has favorably reported the shipping bill is the one that the river and harbor improvement bill is referred to when it reaches the senate. It takes a long time to carefully study the provisions of such a vast measure as the river and harbor bill, and it would not be at all surprising if the senate commerce committee did not interfere with the fullest consideration of the shipping bill in the senate while it was giving in committee the fullest consideration to the river and harbor improvement bill. Meanwhile, of course, in the senate precedence will be given to the appropriation bills and, it is expected, to the army reorganization bill.

∴

Considering the bitter partisan feeling that has run so high on the subject of army reorganization and the disposition of the senate to debate indefinitely any measure of national importance on which the great political parties take sides in opposition, there is a growing feeling that the outcome of the whole discussion may, after all, be a continuance of the existing law for a couple more years, leaving for congress in the long session and in the light of subsequent developments the perfection and passage of just such a measure as our military needs in our changed conditions indicate as desirable.

∴

Next in importance and of consuming interest is the shipping bill. Recently there has arisen a very general feeling of confidence in the ultimate passage of some kind of a shipping bill before the close of the present session. It would be a strange thing, but not entirely out of the range of probability, to find the provision admitting foreign built ships to American registry either eliminated or vastly changed before final passage. This has been regarded as one of the features most likely to attract and hold the votes of Democrats, as the free admission of foreign built vessels to American registry is in line with their demands for a long time back. And yet if this provision is stricken out it will not be by Republican votes.

∴

The real facts seem to be that the opponents of the bill find it much easier to get into communication with Democrats than they do with Republicans, and, as the former are prone to believe statements that are made to them in apparent good faith and with seeming plausibility, they have absorbed an immense amount of misinformation concerning the provisions and objects of the bill. The opponents of the bill are most happy when they are mystifying people concerning its provisions. And so it is that men are working at cross purposes in perfect good faith and are doing precisely what the enemies of the bill desire to have them do—divide on all kinds of points to a degree that will make it impossible for a majority to unite upon the entire features of any proposed measure.

∴

If the most dangerous congressional opponents of the bill are not led by the foreign steamship lines in their opposition to the bill, they are, at least to a great extent, guided by the line of argument that has been put forth in the interest of these great foreign lines. The lines of foreign steamships that have as their American terminus the port of New York alone receive in freight and passenger tolls from the American people considerably over $100,000,000 each year. These people know that the passage of the shipping bill means a long period of fierce competition with American ships and a consequent reduction in the rates of transportation that will wipe out practically all of the profits in the business for years to come even if American ships do not succeed in wresting from them a fair share of the carrying.

∴

So the remaining couple of months of the session promise to present a battle royal between American and foreign interests, with the chances favoring the foreigners, so far as the "potency" of their "argument" goes, but with the great preponderating American sentiment backing up the friends and advocates of the bill. The friends of the bill have nothing else upon which to rely for support and in which to hope for success but the sentiment, patriotic and determined, of the American people If the foreign interests menaced by this sentiment suffer as a consequence, we may be sure that the American people will benefit in reduced ocean freight charges and in larger and surer markets for their surplus products

J. B. Acres.

NORTHERN PACIFIC

To ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS DULUTH AND POINTS EAST & SOUTH

To BUTTE HELENA SPOKANE SEATTLE TACOMA PORTLAND CALIFORNIA JAPAN CHINA ALASKA KLONDIKE

C. A. SHARKEY, Agent Crookston, Minn. | Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A ST. PAUL, MINN.

	Arr	Dep't
SOUTH BOUND.
No. 8 to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and East.	8:28 pm	8:28 p m
NORTH BOUND.
No. 7 to Grand Forks, Crafton and Winnipeg.	6:48 a m	6:48 a m

A. Sharkey, Agt. Crookston, Minn. Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A St. Paul, Minn

THE GREAT NORTHERN

Arrive.	*Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	*Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	*Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6 30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls.	9.20 am
4.53 pm	*Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior	9.00 am
6 45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo..........	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent.	9.10 am

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

PHYSICIANS

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
Dentist.
Wallace Block. Crookston, Minn.

A. A. Just M. D.
Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
Attorney and Counselor at Law.
Special Attention to: Business Correspondence. Land Contest Cases. Mortgage Foreclosures. Collections. Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

Miller & Foote,
Attorneys at Law,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
Attorney at Law,
Room 3 Fournet Block. Crookston. Minn.

H. Steenerson,
Attorney at Law,
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

REAL ESTATE AND ABSTRACTS

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans, Insurance........
OFFICIAL ABSTRACTERS OF TITLE FOR POLK COUNTY. CROOKSTON MINN.

Carpenter & Olson.
Law, Land, Loans, Collections.
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reckitt block, Crookston. Minn

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning, 11:00, evening, 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
Rev. H. M Green, B. D. Rector

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

NO DUST!
Great Northern Railway
The Dauntless Transcontinental Route.
Built through grass lands. No sand deserts. Runs through the only habitable belt across the continent.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist
Dealer in Drug,s Druggist's Sundries. Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.
Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.
Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

This Will Interest the Farmers.
The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making
FARM LOANS
at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.
Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

The Riverside Dairy
Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.
E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.
Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000.
TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.
Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Orders Bought.
INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.
C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

Burlington Route
Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis
"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.
P. S. Eustis, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.
Geo. P. Lyman, Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B & Q. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

S. L. Collins,
Livery and Feed Stables
Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.
Main and 3d sts. Crookston, Minn.

The Singer Sewing Machine
Has no Equal, Sold by....
IKE & MOLSTAD, Props.
Crookston Music House.
106 Main St. S. - CROOKSTON.

The Best All-'Round Family Newspaper......
NEW YORK WEEKLY WITNESS
Interdenominational in Religion. An exponent of Applied Christianity. Independent in Politics.
Only One Dollar a Year.
SABBATH READING.
A sixteen page weekly paper. Solely religious in character. No news; no politics. Stories, poetry; Sunday School lesson; Christian Endeavor and Epworth League topics, Mother's Sabbath afternoon with the children; Miscellaneous religious matter.
Only Fifty Cents a Year.
Free sample copies of the WITNESS and SABBATH READING sent on application.
Address—JOHN DOUGALL & CO. 150 Nassau Street, New York
P. S.—The subscription price of both the WITNESS and SABBATH READING when taken together is $1.25. These combined papers afford a liberal home education.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY Notice in "Inventive Age" Book "How to obtain Patents" FREE
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

ARGYLE.

O. L. Melgaard and daughter are both reported on the sick list.

D Coutts transacted business at our neighbor town on the north, Monday.

Mrs. I. Morck, of Warren, spent Wednesday and Thursday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Laramie of Crookston, spent New Year's day with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Bernent, of Larimore, N. D., are visiting relatives here.

Wm. Platt and Otto Stoltz took Saturday evening's train, Mr. Stoltz going to Minneapolis and Mr. Platt to Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett returned home Tuesday morning from a holiday visit at the Twin Cities.

Mrs. Chamberlain and son, of Badger, returned to their home Tuesday morning.

Miss Jessie Whetstone went to Warren Wednesday to visit friends. She returned Saturday morning.

Mrs. L. Bennewitz and daughter, Clara of Warren spent last week with relatives here.

Miss Helen Franklin and Miss Blanche Edson returned here Saturday morning after spending the holidays with home folks the former at Warren, the latter at Litchfield, this state.

Harry Wallace of St. Paul spent New Years' Day with his parents here. He returned home Wednesday.

Miss Irma Wielder, who spent the holidays here returned to Big Woods Wednesday.

M. Seilstad who has been employed at Olson & Holen's store, left for Minneapolis Thursday where he will spend the remainder of the winter.

McINTOSH.

Chas. Stromquist is very ill.

John Olson left Monday for Reynolds, N. D.

John Distad returned Tuesday from Oregon.

Miss Kate Zinna returned to Erskine Sunday.

J. P. Foote returned to Crookston Saturday.

G. E. Pratt returned from Duluth Saturday.

T. R. Brownlie returned Saturday from Mexico.

Ray West returned Friday from Crookston.

Miss Sullivan returned from Crookston Saturday.

Chas L. Conger returned from Minneapolis Sunday.

D. L. Horton arrived here from Maple Bay Monday.

Carl Johnson returned last Thursday from Seattle, Wash.

Ole Bjorgo went to Fosston Saturday and returned the same day.

Thorman Rosholt left for Crookston Sunday where he is attending school.

Ed. Moe and Roy Rosholt left Sunday for Grand Forks to attend college.

Edwin Stovern left for Northfield Sunday, where he is attending school.

Miss Olga Iverson and Miss Thompson left for Moorhead last Saturday.

O. O. Norveson came down from Bemidji Monday for a short visit with friends.

Geo. Warderberg returned from Moorhead Saturday, where he has been spending the winter.

Miss Rodgers returned from Red Lake Falls last Saturday, where she has been spending Christmas.

Mrs. P. Bodine arrived from Minneapolis last Friday for a short visit with Mrs. H. H. West of this city.

BIRKHOLZ.

Simon Mortenson came back from Crookston Saturday.

Hustoo Patterson went to his home at Big Woods the last of the week.

W. F. Dunning went to Warren last Tuesday to attend to a real estate deal.

The Rev. Anderson preached a fine sermon to his congregation on Sunday.

Miss Lena Dalen, who has been home during the holidays, will return to her school at Argyle soon.

—Miss Nora Knutson of Big Woods is visiting at John Anderson's. She attended the Northland ball Friday evening of last week.

Thos. Figenskau's dance and raffle for a sewing machine came off on Friday evening. Pete Westerland was the winner of the machine.

ST. VINCENT.

Our school re-opened Monday after the holidays.

R. H. Lapp was transacting business at the county seat last week.

Geo. Cowan now has a position as clerk in the store of R. H. Lapp.

Capt. Cowan, who has been visiting friends in Hallock, returned home last Friday.

D. McCleary of Northcote came in on Wednesday's train, returning the same day.

The large safe now in the office of the Department of Collection of U. S. customs here is to be shipped to Warroad.

W. F. Mackay has a new camera which takes pictures 8x10 in size. Will is getting quite proficient in the art of photography and we expect to see some excellent work from his new machine.

ADA.

The K. P.'s installed their new officers Saturday night.

Walter Moffatt began his school again Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Geo. Weatherhead is visiting with her parents, the Gaetkes, for a few days.

Alex Holden made a trip to the Twin Cities Monday and expects to spend the week there.

Misses Etta Baker and Nettie Olson and Mr. L. Stenseth visited with Gilbertsons New Years Day.

Miss May Waterman returned Sunday morning from a visit in the southern part of the state.

Fred Ward returned Thursday morning from St. Paul, where he had been for medical treatment.

Albert Myran left Thursday night for St. Paul, where he has secured a clerkship in the senate.

Mrs. H. Ewart returned from Minot, N. D., Monday evening where she has been visiting relatives.

Lewis Plund entertained the members of the K. P.s at his home east of town Tuesday evening.

The schools opened up again Monday with quite a few more attendants than before Christmas.

Florence Deich left Monday night for Fergus Falls, where she is going to work at the hospital as a nurse.

M. A. Bratland has been appointed trustee for Anderson & Pepple of Borup who have gone into bankruptcy.

Ed. Wolf is contemplating a trip to Stoddard, Wis., one of these days, to visit with his brother George who is station agent at that place.

Aug. Linnel, who formerly run the pump here for the Great Northern, but now stationed at Crookston, shook hands with friends here Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stumpf entertained a few of their friends Monday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Simonstad, who are here from Benson visiting the Stumpfs.

The Masons and Eastern Stars held a joint installation at the Mason's hall Monday night. After the instillation the Stars had prepared a bounteous supper, which was partaken of.

Ole Smesrud left Thursday evening for Hot Springs, Ark., where he goes for medical treatment. Pete Vhije came down from Fisher Wednesday night to take charge of Ole's business while he is away.

The county commissioners met for the first time in the new year Tuesday to approve the bonds of the newly elected county officers. There are two new members on the board, Christ. Bell and H. O. Hermanson, who succeed Jens Anderson and M. E. Bjorge.

Addi Jacobson has severed his connection with the One Price Clothing House and has gone to work for Olmstad & Co. again. Onstad and Jacobson formerly worked together for Bangs & Co. until they burned out, and then went into a general merchandise business for themselves. After running about three months they were burned out and dissolved partnership, Jacolson going to work for Olson & Roesch.

MAPLE BAY.

Harry Klinger drove to Dugdale Monday.

P. B. Hunter was a Fertile caller Monday.

Wm. Klinger visited at Crookston last week.

T. Rustad was at Dugdale Monday on business.

S. D. Felsing transacted business in Crookston Tuesday.

G. G. Gustafson spent last Thursday and Friday in Fertile.

Misses Estelle Hunter and Carrie Moen left Monday for St. Cloud where they will attend the state normal school.

Elias Gustafson sold forty acres in the town of Woodside Monday to Otto Kakgle of Fertile for $365.00.

KNUTE.

Lars Myer and M. Estby are on the sick list.

There are now 45 pupils enrolled in district No. 171.

T. Jenson talks of selling out and moving to British Columbia.

B. Benson and J. G. Fleming were at Erskine Saturday.

C. Solberg and daughter Johanne were at Erskine shopping Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahlen attended church at Erskine Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Jenson visited friends at Woodside Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Solberg, formerly in business in Crookston, now Knute tillers of the soil, were visiting at T. Jensen's Sunday.

STEPHEN.

Rev. Hoard of Argyle preached at the M. E. church last Sunday.

Peter Lofgren of Pelan is attending to business interests here this week.

Dr. DeMars, of Hallock, is attending Geo. Crawford, who is reported seriously ill.

Mrs. Frank Russell and two sons left for Chicago last Friday for a few weeks trip.

Dec. 30 a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gunderson. The little one passed away early the next morning.

From Jan. 7 to April 1 all leading merchants here will close their stores at 7 p. m., except Saturdays.

A movement is on foot to organize a farmers' elevator at this point. A meeting to perfect an organization has been called for Jan. 9.

John Landbeck, who has been assisting C. E. Carlquist in his jewelry store left Saturday for Litchfield, for the purpose of studying to become an optician.

The ladies' league met at the home of Miss Dawe last Friday. Miss Dawe sent in a number of teams to convey the Stephen ladies to her home and they not only enjoyed a delightful sleighride, but a very pleasant afternoon at her home.

One may ask the question here, "Is it cold enough for you?" and be simply passed up with a scornful look; but to ask "When will we have our electric lights?" places the questioner in imminent danger of an early death. It is even rumored that the village council are about to enact an ordinance making it an offense subject to hanging.

CLIMAX.

J. H. Johnson, formerly of Eldred, is spending a few days in town.

Hans Homme expects to move his family to his claim in Red Lake very shortly.

S. A. Locken came down from Bemidji last Saturday evening to spend a few days at Climax.

The Modern Woodmen lodge will give a public installation of officers at the hall next Thursday evening.

Andrew Spokeli has purchased the residence of H. Homme and will move his family from Neilsville here to live.

Martin Hegstad, our city marshal, returned last Friday from Ada, where he went to spend New Years with friends.

Norman Rosholt drove over to Mayville, N. D., Saturday, returning Sunday, visiting with his uncle, Casnier J. Rosholt.

The masquerade ball was fairly well attended New Years evening. Ole Bye captured the gentleman's prize and Miss Bertha Satermo the lady's prize.

Several of the young folks of Climax went to Neby last Sunday evening to attend the drama "Jeppe-pan-Bjerget," rendered by home talent at the Neby hall.

Andrew Steenerson received a telegram from his sone Arne at Minneapolis stating that he had diphtheria. Mr. Steenerson left for Minneapolis Saturday evening.

H. P. Hanson, our genial machine man, who has had charge of the machine interests of Smith of Reynolds, is preparing to leave town with all his household goods this week and become a farmer in the vicinity of McIntosh. J. Haug, of Buxton, will take Mr. Hanson's place.

Miss Julia Reinart, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. J. Eide, returned to Milbank, S. D., to resume her work in the public school, last Friday, but receiving a telegram which reached her at Halstad, Minn., that the public school would not open as intended on account of an epidemic of scarlet fever, she returned to Climax on the next train.

SOUTH CROOKSTON.

Business opened up very quiet on the beginning of the new year, but we hope it will soon improve.

T. S. Hutchins has returned from St. Vincent, where he has been visiting his parents. He reports good times up the line.

H. J. Nicholson is quite sick with typhoid fever. We hope he will soon be well again and able to take his place on the road.

W. W. Brown is doing a good business at Berlin hotel in spite of the quiet times. Mr. Brown is a good hotel man and liked by all who know him.

County Surveyor Gray has moved into his office in the new court house and will be doing business there this week. Mr. Gray is an able and competent man for the position which he now holds and we wish him all kinds of success. Go and see Gray if you want a good job of surveying done.

EXCEL.

Geo. Kisch of Comstock is in Excel for a few days.

P. B. Melberg, of Viking, was in town a few days ago.

Mr. Montgomery and wife of North Dakota are spending the winter with Mr. E. Warner, Mrs. Montgomery's father.

John Swanson, one of Excel's prominent farmers, lost a valuable horse a short time ago, making three he has lost in the past year.

It was according to reports that they had a most enjoyable time at the dance at Earl Ortloff's last Sunday night, standing room was at a premium.

Mr. Molstad, a farmer in the north east part of the town, had the misfortune to hurt his eye, and he was obliged to go to Crookston for treatment.

Simon Warring is at work on his new house and the young folks are looking forward to a housewarming.

Mr. Crozier, Sr., of Germantown was in Excel last week.

RED LAKE FALLS.

School opened again Monday for the winter term.

Arthur La Plante has accepted a position with Theo. La Bissioniere as salesman.

Eldige La Tendress left Monday for Cass Lake after a week's visit with relatives here.

The Montreal House will soon be opened under the management of Allier Pulot.

Amie Faternoress left Monday on the Great Northern to attend St. John's college.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Sareck mourn the loss of their infant daughter who died last Thursday.

Antoine Bacham, took the Great Northern for Cavalier, N. D., where he will visit relatives.

Mrs. Alphonce Cote and Miss Ida Lellen, who have been visiting relatives in town for the last two weeks left for Benson Monday by the way of Grand Forks.

Noel Delorme left on the second inst. for St. John's college, where he will take a commercial course.

Helen Brady took the Great Northern for St. Hilaire to resume her position in the city school at that point.

S. Gabeau and Tellisphore Robillard and wives attended the Boivert-Ducharme wedding at Terrebonne last Sunday.

Mr. N. Charlebois and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Hudson, were at McIntosh visiting Onezim Roux Saturday and Sunday.

DONALDSON.

Youngren Bros. shipped a carload of hogs Monday.

Martin Hennum visited Hallock between trains Thursday.

J. H. McVetty from Grand Forks, was a caller here Monday.

K. J. Lund was at Kennedy Monday getting his Christmas presents.

School started here Monday under Carl Anderson, our former teacher.

A. Blomsness and A. Lund were down to Crookston courting last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Borgesson accompanied a relative of theirs to Fertile Saturday.

Miss U. E. Cedarholm, our school teacher, returned here on Saturday's train.

Geo. Roberts and Tom Fuller was up talking to some of our citizens Monday.

Erik Hoglund thinks that his whiskers will not grow because the weather is too cold.

F. C. Taft took in the sights at Stephen Saturday, and transacted some business.

Peter Lund returned from Minneapolis and Kenyon Friday, where he has been visiting with his family.

All the ladies went to Stephen Monday evening to be present at the Maccabee club, returning Tuesday.

Olaf Oleson, son of Magnus Olson, took his leave here Saturday. He will stay with his aunt for the future in Goodhue county.

Sam Houracks, the barber from Kennedy, was applying the knife to some of the faces in this neighborhood Saturday.

Miss N. E. Cedarholm was taken seriously ill Saturday evening and kept getting worse until Monday, when Dr. Groneruде from Kennedy was called to attend her. She is now improving.

ANGUS.

H. C. Clark and wife spent Tuesday in Warren.

A. T. Campion left on Tuesday for the woods.

H. C. Clark and wife were in Warren on Saturday.

Rev. Latimer spent Wednesday and Thursday in town.

Jess Campion left Monday night for St. Anthony Park.

Jess Campion and A. Evans drove to Grand Forks Saturday.

Miss Nellie Chapin visited with Mrs. Montgomery Tuesday.

F. Bussell returned Saturday from his visit to Little Falls.

Mrs. . . F. Montgomery spent Friday and Saturday in Warren.

A. Evans and Robert Shannon were in Euclid on Friday night.

Mrs. Montgomery attended the dance in Euclid on Tuesday night.

Mr. Harrington, superintendent of the Duluth Elevator Co., was in town Monday.

School commenced in districts No. 59 and No. 71 on Monday, after two weeks' vacation.

KENNEDY.

The new year and new century is starting in clear, crisp and cold.

The Kiever boys have gone into the lumber woods with their horses for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Justus Anderson entertained a number of their friends Friday evening.

Religious services will be conducted by Rev. Johnstone next Sunday evening at 8 o'cloc .

Everybody who own teams and calculate to build this season are busy hauling lumber from the Roseau sawmills.

The interment of the remains of David McKee, who recently died at Fergus Falls, took place at Northcote Saturday.

A series of revival meetings are being conducted here this week by Rev. Johnston, assisted by Presiding Elder L. Dodds.

Our local harness dealer, P. O. Peterson has changed the name of his storeroom to that of bridle chamber. (Since when?)

It has been said that speech was given man to enable him to conceal his thoughts, but it was a needless precaution in many cases.

Our tonsorial art'st, Sam. Horracks, has lately changed his quarters and is now properly installed in the best room at the Oakland hotel. Sam is a hustler.

Will Marrisson came over from Drayton Monday on business. Will said a rumor had reached Drayton that his best girl had gone off and got married, so he came over to make sure.

A very pretty wedding party was given by Mr. Swan Soreuson and wife at their home Saturday. The young couple were married Dec. 31 and we join their large circle of friends in extending congratulations.

GENTILLY.

Mrs. Charley Trapiner of this place is ill with a cold, but it is hoped she will soon recover.

Mrs. Levi Branlett of Red Lake Falls has returned home, after a week's visit with her parents at Gentilly.

Mrs. Cesire Vaudlm is seriously ill. Mrs. Vaudlm is past 75 and her age is very much against her recovery.

Mrs. A. H. Little of Gentilly has gone on a visit to Red Lake Falls to see her sister who resides there.

The blacksmith here is very busy now-a-days shoeing horses and mending broken sleighs, caused by bad roads.

The Gentilly Creamery association has bought a lot of wood from Joseph Cullier of Red Lake Falls very cheap. The factory will be able to run the full season this coming summer.

H. T. Gendron has taken inventory of his stock on hand and finds himself satisfactorily ahead of last year in stock and financially. He is one of those men who started from the foot of the ladder and worked upwards.

Remi Fortier, received a message from Rev. Tellion the late Gentilly pastor who has gone on a visit of three months to France. Rev. Tellion said he was on the steamer St. Louis in New York harbor ready to start when he sent the few words of farewell to all.

LENGBY.

Otto Olson was a passenger west Friday.

A. J. Olson made a trip to Fosston the past week.

Mrs. John Stave took the train for Fosston Monday.

Ed. Welte is going to school in the Carlson district.

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Skavlebo entertained friends Sunday.

N. O. Nelson was one day a visitor in Fosston the past week.

Remember the grand masquerade ball next Saturday evening.

Frank Ostman is working for Saterstorm & Olson this week, taking inventory.

Cina Olson came over from Brandsvold today to visit with her relatives here.

Elmar Hilliard who has been on the sick list for some time is improving nicely.

Mr. Hall, the Western Union man, was here the past week putting in some new batteries.

Miss Randine Wiemer went to Fosston the past week, where she is engaged in the hospital.

Mrs. A. J. Saterstrom and daughter Pearl and son Elmar, visited with friends in Grand Forks the past week.

W. L. Hilliard is out east rustling to get his saw rig home. He will saw lumber here again this winter.

Ole Linberg finished a sleigh Monday for Charley Hilliard, who will leave this week for Leon where he will do some logging for John Riste.

E. H. Noel is sick with the grippe and his little daughter Pearl is quite sick with brain fever. Dr. McKinnon was telegraphed for yesterday to come to their aid.

Mrs. Mathia N. Ensrud was at Crookston the past week and proved up on her claim. Ole O. Lomman and Gae K. Ringstad were her witnesses. They all returned Saturday.

WARREN.

Mr. Grindland left Saturday night for St. Paul.

Wm. Cuthil of Argyle spent Thursday in the city.

Mrs. Clark of Angus visited friends in the city Saturday.

Mrs. Montgomery of Angus visited friends in the city Friday.

Mrs. Moore left Saturday evening for an extended visit in California.

Mrs. Huggard of Minto, N. D., visited friends in the city last wek.

Louisa Grindland left Saturday night to resume her studies at Red Wing.

Geo. Peck of Argyle is attending the county commissioners' meeting this week.

Miss Flora Lamberson returned Friday to Minneapolis to resume her studies at that place.

Mrs. Fish and two sons, Roy and John, returned Monday morning from a three months visit in Iowa.

Mr. Gill left Friday night for his home in Chicago after visiting a few days at the home of Mr. Lamberson.

Miss Bertha Loughrige returned last week from Thief River Falls near which place she taught a term of school.

The Bankrupt store that has occupied Berget's building for several weeks has closed. The goods left unsold were shipped to Red Lake Falls.

Misses Susie and Leorna Easton left Monday evening for Minneapolis to resume their studies at the university, after spending their vacation at home.

About forty young people gathered at the home of L. Loughrige Monday evening in honor of his youngest son's 17th birthday and gave him an agreeable surprise. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games until 12 o'clock, when an elegant lunch was served. All went home well satisfied with the evening's enjoyment.

--Mrs. Robert Smith and daughter, who live five miles east of the city spent the holiday season among relatives in Osceola, Wis. This locality has won quite a reputation for its mineral water which lays claim to great medicinal qualities. From a sample which Mrs. Smith so kindly brought us we judge it might do what it is claimed for it.

ROYAL
Baking Powder

Makes the bread
more healthful.

Safeguards the food
against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

GOV. VAN SANT

Minnesota's New Governor is Formally Inaugurated at the State Capitol Today.

HOUSES ORGANIZED

Governor Van Sant Will Deliver His Message at Ten Yesterday. Morning

Special to the Journal

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 8.—The legislative bodies of the State of Minnesota assembled at the capitol this morning, at ten o'clock, at which time Gov-elect S. VanSant was formally inaugurated as the state's chief executive. Both houses were full, organized and the election of the various slates, which had been prepared before hand, went through without a miss.

The governor's message will be read at the opening of the session at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The state agricultural meeting which opened this morning is a grand success. The attendance is very large and a great deal of earnest interest is manifested in the proceedings.

MIDLAND CANAL COMPANY

Will Have Their First Annual Meeting in this City,

The directors of the Midland Canal Company, which meet in this city January 18, will on that day hold their first annual meeting in the office of Nat Campbell, for the transaction of such business as may come before them

The company is organized under the laws of the state of Deleware, and has a capital stock of $1,000,000. The objects and purposes of the company are the improvement of the Minnesota river and the Red River of the North, drainage and prevention of overflows, and the reclamation of swamp and low lands, and the cleaning and storage of water for drought periods. A further object is the dredging of streams benefitting navigation in all parts of the country tributary to navigable streams.

The present officers of the company are as follows:

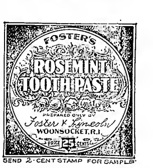
J. A. Johnson, Fargo, N. D., president.

A. W. Edwards, Fargo, N. D., vice president

R. C. Kelsey, White Rock, N. D., secretary.

J. L. Cashel, Grafton, N. D., treasurer

H. F. Miller, Fargo, N. D., general counsel.



SEND 2-CENT STAMP FOR SAMPLE

For sale by A. G. Anderson, Druggist.

$1.00 a year The Criterian 10c a copy

The Best Illustrated Monthly Magazine of the Kind Published.

Its pages are filled by a brilliant array of writers and artists. Its authoritative and independent reviews of books, plays music and art, its clever stories strong special articles, love or and verse, with fine illustrations, make it a necessity in every intelligent home. The very low subscription price—$1.00 per year—puts it within the reach of all. Reliable agents wanted in every town. Extraordinary inducements. Write for particulars.

A Trial Subscription Will Prove It.
Write Today for Sample Copy.

CRITERION PUBLICATION CO.,
Subscription Department, 41 East 21st St., New York City

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Polk County Journal.

VOL. XXV CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1901 No. 41

CITY COUNCIL

Adjonrned Meeting was Held Tuesday—All Members Were Present.

$200 CONVENTION

Expenses Provided For by Appropriation For Salary of Mayor.

The adjourned monthly meeting of the city council was held last Tuesday, ten aldermen were present, all chairs being filled but the one made vacant by Alderman Rowe's resignation.

Bills of the Crookston Waterworks, Power & Light Company for light for the last half of the year 1900 for $2,129.94, and for hydrant service for the same period for $2060, were again brought up and after slight discussion it was decided to pay one half of the amount, and refer the other half to the finance committee to report at the next meeting of the council as to what would be a just and equitable compensation for the service rendered.

A further bill for $264.35 for light and water service at the city hall building was referred to the finance committee.

Chairman Chesterman of the poor committee reported that he had guaranteed the payment of a certain bill for the support of Dave King, and it was voted to put the money in his hands for such purpose.

The question of the support of the family of the man Taylor, who was recently sent to the penitentiary to serve a sentence for wheat stealing, came up and the poor committee were authorized to expend such amount as was found necessary for their support.

A communication was read asking for aid for Nick Schumann, which brought out the statements by different members of the council that his persistent dissipation furnished the only reason for his inability to support himself and the city attorney was instructed to prosecute him under the Schaffer low for being a common drunkard.

The taxes upon the homes of Mr. Durkee and of Mrs. Suprenant, both of whom are receiving aid from the city, were rebated, it being thought a useless formality to go through, to appropriate the money to pay them from the poor fund.

A bill of Mrs. Kelly for services rendered in Tom Wylie's family during their visitation of diphtheria, for $17.50 was allowed and ordered paid at $10.

One hundred and thirty-six dollars was appropriated to be paid to the aldermen for their per diem allowance for services rendered at council meetings.

A communication from the Maple Bay Wind Stacker Company was read setting forth that the company had decided to change from their present location to one which would afford them railroad facilities, and had Crookston in view among other points as a possible location, but that the decision of the matter would depend upon the question of the encouragement received. And an appropriation of $1,000 to be used in the purchase of a site for a factory was asked for. The council was unanimous in its desire to encourage the location of the enterprise in the way suggested, but inasmuch as the charter contained no provision for such appropriations, they decided to adopt a resolution expressing the sense of the council that the request be granted provided it could be done legally, and this was adopted without dissent, and the matter was referred to the finance committee with instructions to investigate and report at an adjourned meeting which it was decided to hold for that purpose on Tuesday night of next week.

A communication from Mayor Campbell was read in which he touched first upon the matter of water and light service, and suggested that steps be taken to secure an electric plant and water power, or to secure a reduction of the present exorbitant charges, both for the city and private consumers.

Second, that in view of the fact that the ordinances of the city are not adequate to the present needs and conditions of the city in many respects, that a committee of one or more of the members of the city council to act in connection with the city attorney and the mayor, be appointed to frame and report such amendments thereto as may be found necessary for the proper government of the city.

Third, he called attention to the approaching drainage convention and asked that a suitable appropriation be made for the purpose of defraying the necessary expenses of holding the convention and entertaining the delegates thereto.

Fourth, that pending the passage of the proposed ice and snow ordinance, immediate action be taken by the city to cause the sidewalks to be cleared of all ice and other obstructions so as to make them safe for public use and travel.

Fifth, he recommended that some means be provided and every precaution taken to prevent the outbreak of smallpox in this city, and to control it if it should appear, and to this end suggested that a place be provided for the detention and isolation of any person who may be exposed to or become affected by such or any other contagious disease, provided the present pest house is not suitable for the purpose.

Alderman Chesterman stated that he believed the present pest house is in suitable condition and sufficient for the needs of the city in this respect, and volunteered to investigate and ascertain the facts in regard to it.

It was then decided to appropriate the sum of $200 as salary of the mayor, to avert the too heavy drain upon his finances to meet the expenses of the coming convention.

No action was taken upon the mayor's suggestion in regard to providing for a revision of the charter, but this matter will probably be taken up at a future meeting, as there is an evident need of some action along this line.

The meeting adjourned a few minutes after 9 o'clock.

COOOKSTON WANTS IT

Manufacturing Enterprise Seeking a Location.

The Maple Bay Wind Stacker Company have decided to locate their business on the line of a railroad where they can have shipping facilities, and are considering the advantages this city offers to them in that and other respects. Our citizens should interest themselves in the matter of improving this opportunity to secure a very desirable addition to our city's business. The company is composed of substantial and reliable men, and as soon as a location is decided upon, will incorporate with a $50,000 paid up capital with the expectation of increasing in to $75,000 in the near future.

The wind stacker which they are engaged in manufacturing is said by those who are acquainted with it, and whose experience in such matters justifies confidence in their opinions, that it is the simplest and most effective device for the purpose for which it is designed of any yet invented, and that it is bound to win its way to a continually widening patronage. This being true, Crookston wants the manufacturing plant located in our midst.

The blower has now passed its experimental stage and is pronounced a success. The first machines were manufactured three years ago and gave satisfaction from the start, but only a few were put out that year. The next year the output was doubled, and during the last year sixty-five were put out. It is expected that this year the business will be more than doubled, and what the future has in store for it is beyond conjecture. The city council are awake to the importance of the opportunity and are unanimously disposed to extend what encouragement they can to influence the company's decision in favor of our city. The company intends to erect a good substantial factory building 50x150 feet, two stories in height, which will be increased in size from time to time as the business development requires it. They will from the beginning employ about fifty men, and the number will be increased as the business is enlarged.

Since the above was written the managers of the company have been interviewed in the matter, and make the statement that it has been decided to locate the enterprise here. They say:

"We have not yet decided what material will be used in the construction of the factory building, but as it will not cost a great deal more to build it with brick, I believe that is what will be used.

"Work on the new building will be commenced not later than the first part of February, and when once started it will be pressed with all possible vigor to have it ready for occupancy. There is no doubt in my mind as to the success of the concern, as the shipping facilities are much more favorable here, than where we are now located."

TROUBLE TO LOGGERS

Smallpox Thus Far of a Mild Type, Resembling Cuban Measles.

In speaking of the smallpox in the lumber camps, the Mississippi Valley Lumberman has the folowing:

"The only death reported thus far from smallpox camps of northern Minnesota is that of one John Swanson, near Sparta, Minn., who while running the quarantine guard got a bullet through his heart. The disease thus far has been of a mild type, proving to have been a severe case of fright or a case of Cuban measles. Actual smallpox is rare in the woods. But the very rumor of its being there is causing not a little trouble to loggers.

"One of the first ill effects of the smallpox scare is to cut off the supply of laborers. Though labor was plentiful a few weeks ago, it is now scarcer because of the fear of the plague. Men are deserting in some quarters, fearing quarantine and subsequent loss of wages, or fearing the disease and the rough treatment that awaits the sick. It is doubtful if the actual danger from smallpox in the pine woods is today as great as the danger out of the woods.

"It is openly charged by many that the quarantine and the scare are abetted by certain physicians who see a 50 cent fee in every lumber jack in the woods. No doubt there are doctors who would sow all kinds of scare seed to reap a harvest of this kind. While the woods have many honest physicians, the woods is a great breeding place for medical men whose skill is confined to getting fees."

Filipino Memorial.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Teller presented in the senate yesterday a memorial from native Filipinos stating the present warfare of the Americans in the islands was futile and that they proposed to fight until death, for which reason they asked that the United States leave the islands.

Senator Teller asked to have the memorial printed as a public document but Senator Hawley objected, declaring it a treasonable denunciation and an attack upon our soldiers.

UNCLE JO'S COLUMN.

I wonder what has become of that paving question? I've kept hearing about it every once in a while until now lately it seems to be sleepin' the sleep of the just I guess. Now I've got it all figgered out in my head what I think we ought to do about that paving business. We'l, say we have settled on the macadam pavement, and that's the kind we are goin' to put down. I guess that is about the way it stands so far. Then I'd buy a crusher and a steam roller the first thing, and the city would own them. We'll be wantin' 'em right along. The roller would be useful on the other streets every little while, and we ought to have it for that.

* * *

Then I'd hire somebody that has had experience with that kind of pavement and knows just how to do it, to come here and superintend the job, and I'd set the men here in the city to work at it. I'l buy that pile of stones up there at the court house of the county if they'd sell 'em right, and I'd have the farmers out east here haul in enough more to finish up the job. I just believe that would be the best way to do that pavin'. I don't believe very much in givin' local contracts for such kind of work here. Somehow it always seems to me it costs too much that way.

* * *

That city hall building experience is an instance of the way it works. It's a shame the way that building was botched. It's a standing testimony to the incompetent management of the building committee, and the architect and everybody else who was responsible for it in any way. The ceiling in the council chamber was eight inches nearer the floor in the middle of the room than it was at the sides before it was trussed up, and the roof had sagged so it held a lake of water on it. And then the bell was so nearly boxed in by them wide corners of the tower that the sound couldn't get out. And now the council has put $484 into raisin' the top of te tower up, and liftin' the bell up into it. The plasterin' is comin' off inside too, and it will have to be replastered soon. Take it all 'round that buildin' ought to have been in better cond.tion when it was twenty years old than it is now, and it's only two years old.

* * *

I wonder what's the mater with McKenzie's snuff now. When he took snuff everybody usto sneeze. Some of 'em kind of hated to do it and they'd talk about him awful and I usto think sometimes when they'd tell so much about him, that they wasn't goin' to sneeze any more for him. But he'd notice it if they didn't, and he'd tap his box again and take another pinch in the other side of his nose and look right at 'em, and they'd sneeze all right. But somehow there ain't so much McKenzie sneezin' now as there usto be.

* * *

Mac was awful sure he was goin' to make them county commissioners sneeze again all he wanted 'em to, and so he moved his dorsal Tribune down there to East Grand Forks and let that leadin' republican weekly claim go and called it independent, and thought he'd got that dose of snuff fixed up about right, and they'd sneeze for him good and plenty. But Bert Seymour, he had a card up his sleeve, and when the time came just right the board decided to substitute the Courier for the Tribune in the printing combination. He worked the Times in all right, but his dorsal Trib got laid out cold. So now he'll have to work up some other scheme for it, to keep the breath of life in it till he can find some sucker to take it off his hands. —Uncle Jo.

DRIVING ASSOCIATION

Is Organized and a Fine Ice Track Laid Out.

In accordance with the call issued Tuesday signed by Dan McKinnon, for a meeting of owners of driving horses and contributors to the ice track a number of horsemen met at the Palace hotel in the evening and perfected the Crookston Driving Association. Mr. McKinnon, after stating the purpose of the meeting to those present, reported that the ice track on the river was completed and in fine condition, and moved the election of officers for the new association.

Nat Campbell nominated Alex Thompson as president of the association, and he was unanimously elected. Nat Campbell was chosen vice president, J. P. Fahalender secretary and Dan McKinnon treasurer.

The officers of the a ssociation, together with H. Peterson, who was appointed by the president, constitute the board of directors.

The president and vice president were named a committee to select classifiers, judges, time keepers, etc., for matinees that will be held, these officers to continue only for the specified matinee.

As track manager, Tommy Johnston was unanimously chosen.

It was voted that the board of directors prepare a set of rules and regulations governing the new association, and report at a future meeting to be called by the president.

The meeting throughout was very enthusiastic and well attended, despite the stormy night, and adjourned subject to the call of the president.

Divorced and Remarried.

For four long years Mrs. Annie Lydia Mikkelson, who makes her home in that naughty city of East Grand Forks waited for the return of her husband, Carl J. Mikkelson, who disappeared about that time and never informed his Annie of his whereabouts. The deserted wife worried along alone, as no children issued from her marriage with Carl J., until she finally became tired of single blessedness and resolved to have the ties that bound her to the man who left her alone in this wild and wicked world, separated by legal process.

She did. Some time ago Annie Lydia appeared before Judge Watts, and through her attorneys, Holston & Hageh, made it plain that she was entitled to resume her former name, and today the judge granted her the much needed decree.

While the proceedings were under way in the court room, a thin faced and rather modest appearing man was seen in the corridor of the court house, moving about nervously and apparently laboring under great stress. The doors of the court room suddenly opened and out stepped Annie Lydia, happy and smiling, and whispering to the thin faced man something like, "It's all over now."

The pair straightaway marched down stairs together to Clerk of Court Lommen's office and procured a marriage license, and ten minutes later the two were made man and wife. Annie Lydia's new husband is Ben Swanson, and he owns a farm near East Grand Forks. The happy couple will be borne to their future home on the 5 o'clock train this afternoon and their friends will wish them continued happiness.

"THE ELSTON"

Cass Lake's New Hotel Formally Opened Tuesday Night.

The leading society event of the season at Cass Lake was the formal opening of "The Elston," the elegant new hotel erected last fall by Ed Elston, which occurred there Tuesday evening.

A large number of tickets at ten dollars apiece had been sold for this occasion and although the weather was unfavorable, the attendance was large and the affair one that will not soon be forgotten by those who participated. Music for the opening ball was furnished by Prof. W. W. Hall's Grand Forks orchestra, and was the best ever heard in a Cass Lake hall, and the banquet, which was served shortly after twelve, merited the appreciation of all present.

The Elston is an up to date hostelry and opens under very auspicious conditions. With the present able management it cannot help but prove a financial success to its owner.

IT IS QUAY

He is Elected U. S. Senator From Pennsylvania.

The state senate Tuesday at three o'clock selected M. S. Quay as its choice for senator. The ballot was as follows: Quay 26, Guffey (D.) 12, Dalzell (anti-Quay Rep.) 10. Huff and Smith one each.

Determined Suicide.

Leeds, N. D., Jan. 16.—Martin Halland made a clean job of suicide in his shack west of this town. Noting that no smoke issued from the building in which he lived, neighbors broke in the door. A gruesome sight met their eyes. On a narrow bunk made of pine boards lay the body of Halland, partly naked, filthy, and frozen stiff. His left hand grasped the barrel of an old Springfield rifle stock, which was clasped at the butt by his feet. The muzzle was close to the head. Over the right eye was a large bullet hole, and on the wall were scattered the man's brains. Halland had taken off the trigger guard of the gun to make it easier for his foot to touch the trigger. He had been dead several days. Halland had $2,000 in the bank, owned a farm and was in good circumstances. He was 26 years old.

She Went West

The Journal of last Friday contained an account of a young girl of Grand Forks county being sent by her parents to attend school in the city, and later on being found in one of the East Grand Forks bawdy houses. Since then the girl has lived in this city until last Monday. She had learned that her parents were looking for her, and fearing to be again found in bad company, she concluded to leave for the coast, where she promised to lead a pure life.

Parties here who knew her claim that the young girl deeply regretted her awful mistake, and express the belief that she will surely mend her ways in future.

Polk County Members.

Polk county's legislative members have been assigned places on committees as follows: In the senate, Senator Ryder is a members of the drainage educational, game and fish laws, grain and warehouse, labor, municipal corporations and printing committees. In the house Representative Cunning is a member of the committee on agriculture, elections, local bills and roads, bridges and navigable streams, and Representative Oppegaard is a member of the committee on engrossment, grain and warehouse, public lands and temperance.

The Right Idea.

George Egley, one of the prosperous and progressive farmers from Argyle, came down Tuesday for the purpose of investing in thoroughbred live stock. He inspected the fine herd of Shorthorns and Herefords on the R. A. Wilkinson stock farm.

Mr. Egley has conceived the necessity of doing something else besides wheat raising, and if he finds Mr. Wilkinson's stock to suit his taste, he will purchase several head of young cattle and ship them to his farm for breeding purposes only.

Subscribe for the Daily Journal.

THEY INVITED

The Tri-State Convention Committee Extends Cordial Invitation to Many.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

And Reduced Railroad Rates Should Tend to Bring a Big Crowd.

The arrangement has issued the following invitation and has a corps of clerks at work addressing and sending them out broadcast. The circular says:

The committee in charge of the convention extends to you a cordial invitation to attend upon one or both of the days above mentioned and take part in the proceedings as your judgment may dictate.

A lively interest is being manifested in this event all over the northwest, and some of the ablest speakers in the country, men thoroughly familiar with the different phases of this important question, will be present at the meeting. The following is the program:

FRIDAY, JAN. 18.

Address of Welcome—Mayor N. Campbell, Crookston, Minn.

Great Floods of the Red River Valley—Cause and Cure—Frank Ives, Cass Lake.

Survey of the Waterways and Reservoirs of the Red River Valley—Col. R. Davenport, Assistant United States Engineer, St. Paul, Minn.

Waterways as a Means of Transportation—Dr. R. C. Kelsey, White Rock, S. D.

Red River Valley's Claim on the State Swamp Land Fund—Hon. A. Grindeland, Warren, Minn.

Red Lake and its Tributaries—Hon. Ira C. Richardson, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Education in its Relations to the Industrial Conditions of the State—Hon. J. H. Worst, President of the North Dakota Agricultural College.

Undeveloped Resources of the Red River Valley—Hon. Ledru Guthrie, Grand Forks, N. D.

FRIDAY, JAN. 18.

The Best Methods of Constructing Open Ditches—Geo. A. Ralph Crookston, Minn.

Maintenance of Drainage Ditches—Prof. W. R. Hoag, Professor of Civil Engineering, University of Minnesota.

Roads and Road Building and Their Relation to Farm Drainage—W. M. Hays, Professor of Agriculture, University of Minnesota.

The Needs of Drainage in Roseau County—Hon. Albert Berg Warroad, Minn.

The Practical Results of Drainage in the Red River Valley—Hon. Ezra Valentine, Breckinridge, Minn.

The Geological Survey of the Red River Valley—Chas. M. Hall, Professor of Geology, Fargo, N. D.

Drainage in Kittson County and the Difficulties connected With It—Hon. W. F. Kelso, Hallock, Minn.

The Farm and What It Will Produce When Properly Drained—Hon. John L. Gibbs, Owatonna, Minn.

The railroads in North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Manitoba have made a special rate of one and one third fare for the round trip. Be sure and take a receipt for your railroad fare and present same to the secretary of the convention, who will see that you are given a rate of one third fare for return trip.

WAS IN BAD COMPANY

Faithless Wife of Grand Forks Man Found in Wine Room.

The Grand Forks Herald Friday morning related the following new sensation:

Great indignation is felt over certain occurrences that came to light in Judge McLoughlin's court yesterday, as a result of which a well know family in the city will be broken up. The story of the trouble, with the exception of the names of the principals, is as follows: Wednesday evening one of the business men of the city returned home at about 10 o'clock at night and found his wife absent. He thought nothing of this and waited for a couple of hours before he even wondered what was keeping her away till such an hour of the night. He began searching for her and during the search he was given information that aroused his suspicion.

He went to the East Side and after a search of an hour or so located her in the basement of one of the saloons in company with a young girl about 18 years of age, the daughter of respectable parents who reside in this city. What occurred can be imagined. It seems that the two women were awaiting the arrival of a couple of men with whom they had made dates and the rest of the story need not be told.

The husband was heart broken, as up to this evening he had never had any doubts as to his wife's virtue. Yesterday he sought legal advice and a suit for divorce will follow. As to whether any steps will be taken in connection with the girl or not has not yet been decided, but it is possible that the woman will be prosecuted criminally.

As this is the second case of the kind that has occurred within the past week or ten days, it is considered time to call a halt. Some of the disgraceful performances that have been winked at heretofore on account of family connections have come to be altogether too frequent. They are a disgrace not only to the parties directly implicated, but to the entire community, and should ocasion arise in the future, a scandal may be aired that will be a warning to others. Matters have come to such a pass that it is deemed proper to take some action in the matter by a number of prominent citizens, and the authorities are likely to make an example of some one if practices of this kind are continued.

It was stated on good authority last evening that a young lady had arrived in the city some time ago, sent here by her parents to attend school. No word having been received from her for some time, her parents wrote to the city for information. It has developed that she is an inmate of one of the houses of ill fame on the point. It will be remembered that a similar case was reported but a short time ago. Such a condition of things is considered deplorable by a number of those who are in a position to learn the full details before the public are acquainted with them, and an organized effort is to be made to put a stop to them.

AGED WOMAN DEAD

Mrs. Janet McLean Passes Away in East Grand Forks.

At the residence of her son-in-law, Cameron Anderson of East Grand Forks, Mrs. Janet McLean, widow of the late Gilbert McLean, passed away at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. McLean was born 70 years ago in Scotland. About 40 years ago she with her husband and family emigrated to Ontario, Can., where she has lived until last year when she came to reside with her relatives in East Grand Forks. She leaves three sons and four daughters. The sons are Wm. McLean of East Grand Forks, Dr. McLean of Chicago and Jas. R. McLean of Hot Springs, Ark. The daughters are Mrs. C. Anderson, East Grand Forks, Mrs. Maxwell of Park River, N. D., Mrs. Weir, Ontario, Can., Miss Jean McLean, East Grand Forks.

The deceased was very highly esteemed by all who knew her. She was always a faithful member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral services will be conducted at the Mendenhall Memorial church on Thursday at 2 p. m.—Plaindealer.

Couldn't Blow It Out.

A well known resident of St. Hilaire arrived in the city Monday and registered at the Commercial hotel. The night clerk showed him to his room shortly after 10 o'clock and turning on the electric light for the stranger, returned to the office. Imagine his surprise when shortly after twelve the St. Hilaire man appeared half dressed at the top of the stairs, calling for the night clerk to come to his room and "blow out the darned light," as he couldn't think of going to bed with it burning, and he had exhausted all his superfluous blowing powers for nearly two hours. Of course, the accommodating night clerk complied with the request, thinking to himself, however, that such a big fellow, who appeared to be rather of more than ordinary intelligence, ought to know enough to turn out an electric light glim, even if he lived at St. Hilaire.

Suit Was Continued.

The suit of Andrew Olson against the city involving a matter of about $3,000, which he claims is still due him for work on the Fifth ward sewer which he built on contract in 1898, was taken up in court Tuesday. Three witnesses were examined and the fourth was on the stand, when it became evident that the prosecution of the case was disposed to get outside of the proper limits fixed by the complaint. After a series of objections by the defense, which were sustained by the court, an explanation was made that the case could not be tried along the desired line on the complaint as it stood, and Attorney Steenerson, who was the plaintiff's attorney, asked the privilege of amending the complaint, which was granted, and the case set over until the spring term of court.

Died at Fargo.

The news of the death of C. J. Genting, which occurred at Fargo Sunday afternoon, will be received with deep regret by his many friends in this city. Mr. Geating was one of the representatives of the Nichols & Shepard Co., and had charge of that firm's business in this city and vicinity, and while here he made many friends. He stood high with his company as one of the most energetic and available employes, and transacted business in this city not later than a week ago. Upon arriving at Fargo he was taken down with typhoid fever, and passed away Sunday noon. His wife and two children survive him.

New Telephone Invention.

The Electrical Review, published in New York Saturday, announces the purchase by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company (the Parent Bell Company) of the patents of Dr. M. I. Pubin of Columbia college which it states covers the art of ocean telephony and which will enable telephone messages to be sent over any length of land lines.

It further states that the sum of $200,000 has been paid to Dr. Pubin for the invention, with an annual salary to him during the life of the patents of $7,500.

Refused $10,000 a Year.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 16.—The board of trustees of the Central Congregational church yesterday increased the salary of Rev. Charles M. Sheldon from $1,200 to $1,800 per year. Mr. Sheldon refused an offer of $10,000 a year while in London.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

NORTHERN PACIFCI ACCIDENT

Broken Rail Causes Four Coaches to Leave Track—no One Injured.

The east bound train on the Northern Pacific narrowly escaped destruction as it was passing the station at Green, two and one half miles west of Maplrown Friday morning. The train was not quite an hour late and was going at about forty-five miles an hour, when the rear cars of the train struck a broken rail. The engine and forward coaches passed the defective spot safely but the rear passenger coach, dining car and sleepers all left the track and bumped along a distance of at least a quarter of a mile before the train was brought to a stop. The occupants of the cars were shook up rather badly, but no injuries whatever were sustained. What concerned the passengers most was the feeling that the cars would turn over.

Attorney W. P. Miller was on the train and riding in the sleeper. He says he had just left his berth and was dressing when the accident occurred and several ladies were doing the same. The latter showed exceptional presence of mind and none of them made a scene. Mr. Miller says that it was plainly evident that the cars were saved from destruction by the automatic couplers which served to keep the cars right side up. The steps and platforms of the cars which left the track suffered considerable damage, but they were replaced with other cars on arrival at Fargo. An old railroad man who was among the passengers said that he had been on the road a quarter of a century and this was the luckiest accident he had ever experienced. The train arrived at Fargo shortly before 9 o'clock, and left in good shape about fifteen minutes afterwards.—Forum.

SPARRING MATCH FAKE

That's What the Grand Forks Exhibition Proved to Be.

Mr Rhodes, of Mayville, and Mr. Kelly, of New Jersey, gave what was termed a sparring exhibition at East Grand Forks Friday night, and the latter discovered early in the game that he was nomatch for his larger antagonist. His seconds came to the same conclusion along about the fifth round, and threw up the sponge. The crowd wouldn't have it that way, and insisted that the fight should proceed. During the next two rounds blood flowed from the Jersey man's nasal organ, and everybody was delighted. It was only a question of time until the knock out blow should be administered, when the annoying sponge was thrown into the ring again. The crowd was wild. It had come for blood and had not had enough. Cries of "Go on," "Fight it out," "Soak him one," "Put him out," and other like expressions came from all over the room. The defeated man came forward and tried to explain that he was whipped. He was howled down. There was yet room for a brutal finish, and the crowd demanded it. Mr. Kelly not caring to to stand up for the sole purpose of being felled like an ox, took on his gloves, and the spectators dispersed very much disappointed. If this sort of thing is a "scientific sparring contest for points," Grand Forks can get along very well without any more of them. Such an occurrence is a disgrace to the city.

MORRIS IS MAD

And is After the Scalp of Post Office Inspector Meyers.

Judge Page Morris preferred charges at the postoffice department at Washington Friday against Postoffice Inspector Meyers, of the St Paul inspection department.

Mr Morris is very indignant over what he considers the ill treatment of Assistant Postmaster Foote at Anoka. Foote was short in his accounts something like $150, and when Inspector Meyers called for an explanation the assistant postmaster told him that he would have to go all over the books and see if he could discover any errors.

It is claimed that Meyers told Foote that the only thing for him to do would be to sign a written statement, admitting that he had stolen the money. Foote refused to do this, whereupon Meyer reported him for prosecution.

Judge Morris says that Meyer shall lose his position if he has to take the matter up to President McKinley.

He says that Meyer threatened and undertook to bulldoze Foote into making a statement that would have branded him as a criminal.

CLANDESTINE MARRIAGE

A Fargo Young Couple That Didn't Get Papa's Consent.

The marriage of Peter J. Olson and Miss Helen Hammas at Grand Forks on Wednesday was announced Friday. Miss Hammas went to Grand Forks for a few days' visit, and the first her parents knew of her marriage was a telegram received that evening from the groom announcing "your daughter was married this afternoon." The young couple have many friends in Fargo, all of whom will wish them the greatest measure of happiness in their new relations.

The groom is deputy grand master workman of the A. O. U. W. of the Minnesota jurisdiction and has many friends and acquaintances in this city. He passed through here Tuesday morning on his way to meet his future better half at the Forks.

Sad Story of a Young Girl.

The picture of a 14-year-old girl, homeless, friendless, motherless and environed by influences that are leading her to the black depths of shame and disgrace, is a pathetic one, but such was the reality when the police took little Carrie Johnson to the station charged with vagrancy. Her story is known to most people of this city, as she is the girl who figured in the John Grass rape case recently tried in the district court. The girl has a mother living but the parent is housekeeping for a man on Front street and there is no room in the domicile for Carrie. For some time she has been accepting favors from a man on Front street and has eked out a precarious existence thereby. Last night when she was picked up by the police she was taken to the house where her mother is living, but the door was closed upon her and she was told to do the best she could. The poor girl's best is not much of a success and the police were obliged to take matters into their own hands. She was taken to a hotel and will be under official notice until her case can be brought to the proper authorities. Perhaps some of the charitable societies may here find work for them to do.—Call.

THE SENATORIAL SITUATION

Hon. H. Steenerson Is Interviewed on This Subject.

A Journal reporter this morning approached Hon. Halvor Steenerson on the senatorial question, which is rapidly developing political anxiety throughout the state, and from an interview with that gentleman, it is no more a guess to learn where he stands on this most important issue. In substance, Mr Steenerson, who is generally regarded as one of the foremost republicans of the state, and particularly so in this section, in substance said:

"What do I think of the senatorial situation? Well it is getting to be quite interesting. Evans, the leading candidate, seems to have got to the end of his rope. Although popular as a lawyer and stump speaker in some quarters, he has not got the united support of his own district. He has never had any legislative experience and of course it would be in the nature of an experiment to send him to the senate. Mr. Clapp, the candidate next in strength at the present time, has the prestige of having served six years as attorney general with marked ability and this gives him a distinct advantage of Evans, whose public service is limited to the United States attorney's office. The next candidate in the race, Mr. Tawney, will in my opinion, prove the most formidable of any. He has a record of six years' service in congress, where he has risen to a position of the greatest influence. His recent fight on behalf of the farmers and dairymen in his support of the Grout bill ought to count. It was one of the most important victories won for the people in recent years.

There are large numbers of members of the legislature who are not pledged to any candidate so far as the Davis succession is concerned. These men will naturally think it wise to select a man whose legislative ability and loyalty to the people has been proved and established rather than to try experiments.

I predict therefore that the race will soon develop into a race between Clapp and Tawney with the chances in favor of the Winona man.

The suggestion that Tawney's success would injure Gov. Van Sant is not well founded—it would not in the least, but rather help him.

I. O. O. F. INSTALLATION

Was a Swell Affair at Their Hall Friday Evening.

Of all the society events that have been indulged in this season, the installation of the I. O. O. F. and Valley Encampment No. 9 officers Friday, proved one of the most pleasant ones, and was largely attended.

Short talks formed a part of the program, and was participated in by Dr Just, Messrs Campbell, Chesterman, McAskill, Creamer, Gleason, Crawford, Holston, Billings and others, and the speakers delivered themselves of their parts more than ordinarily creditable. Miss Gertie Gleason entertained the audience with several piano and vocal recitals, which were of a high character and highly appreciated.

The installation completed the audience sat down to a swell banquet, which had been prepared by the ladies of Rebekah lodge, and a short hop concluded the program of a most enjoyable evening.

GOT A DIVORCE.

A Well Known Vocalist Has Trouble With Her Liege Lord.

There has been trouble in the family of J. H. Zimmerman, the well known musician, formerly a resident of Fargo, which culminated at Brainerd last week, in the granting of a decree of divorce to Mrs. Zimmerman on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. Zimmerman lived in Fargo for a number of years, and his wife was a prominent member of Fargo's musical circles, being a vocalist of rare ability. It is understood the defendant made no appearance in the case and the decree was granted in default.

Want Their Money,

A number of farmers of this county who two years ago were insured in the Scandia Mutual Hail Insurance company of this city have retained as their attorneys Messrs. Holston and Hagen, and will bring action against the company to secure payment on notes given the plaintiffs in 1899, as collateral and in payment of losses sustained by them from hail that year.

It will be remembered that the Scandia was hit pretty hard that season, and their business last year was again seriously affected by hail losses, and the actions to be brought are to enforce payments of the notes given in settlement.

A New Society Fad.

In the matter of salutations, says an exchange, the curtesy has had a revival. Not the ceremonious inclination of the times of our stately grandmothers, but a curious little dip, a slight bending of the knee, that among the social traditions of best mannered French women has always had place. This is now imitated by the young girls of America when accepting the hand of an older woman extended in greeting, particularly if that lady be her hostess. As the fashion was inaugurated by those having the advantage of social prestige it bids fair to become popular.

CHARLIE ROSS' FATE

He Was Drowned by His Abductors in New York Bay.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Senator Plunkitt of Manhattan has introduced in the senate a bill to punish kidnaping of children under 16 years of age by imprisonment of not more than twenty-five years.

Senator Plunkitt said he had facts in his possession concerning the abduction of Charlie Ross in 1874, which had never been published. He said:

The abductors of Charlie Ross were New York river thieves, Mosher and his companion. The wagon in which Ross was carried away was hired in New York by Mosher and driven to Philadelphia. The wagon was driven about thirty miles out of Philadelphia and abandoned. Mosher and his companion, accompanied by their victim, took a train to New York. Fear kept Charlie Ross quiet. At New York Ross was taken on one of Mosher's river craft and finally, to prevent detection, Charlie was thrown overboard in the bay, after being tied to iron so as to sink.

The New Yorker who let the horse and wagon to Mosher never claimed his property, for fear of being charged with complicity. When Mosher was shot while attempting to rob the Van Brunt mansion at Bay Ridge, he attempted to explain the Charlie Ross affair, but death came as soon as the name passed his lips.

HE CAUGHT A FOX

And a Fine Specimen of the Carnivorous Family at That.

A. B. Davis, the genial manager of the Western Land Company, while out with a number of land seekers Tuesday in the vicinity of Euclid, caught sight of a full grown fox on the prairie and having his celebrated grey hound, "Billy Marble," with him, he set the latter out after his foxship. It took "Billy" but a few moments to capture his object, and a shot from a revolver ended the fox's earthly existence. Mr. Davis last evening left for St. Paul and took with him the hide of his capture, to have it stuffed by a St. Paul taxidermist. Tuesday was a very cold day and despite the hot chase "Billy Marble" had after the fox, he froze a part of his anatomy, which will render him temporarily unfit for fox chasing. Upon his return next week Mr. Davis expects to be accompanied by his wife.

WAS SUSTAINED

The School Board Stands Firmly by Its Superintendent.

Some time ago Superintendent Hitchcock, of the city schools, expelled the young son of John Monroe for continued unruly conduct, and Mr. Monroe appealed his case to the members of the school board.

The meeting of the board was held this morning for the purpose of hearing the case, and it was unanimously decided that Superintendent Hitchcock was justified in his action.

Unless the young lad, who had tried to run things his own way in school, concludes to apologize to Miss Winters, his teacher, for his former poor conduct, he will have to get his education in some other institute than the city schools.

Uncle Tom Denounced.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 12.—F. Hopkinson Smith, artist and lecturer, addressed the Newton club Thursday night and incidentally scored Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which he said did not portray the truth of southern life and was the cause of precipitating the civil war. He said:

"I left the south when twenty years old, but not before I had seen something of the life in Virginia. It is true when an estate was broken the slaves were often bought by neighbors, but with a view of keeping them together near the old place. When a vicious slave was met with he was often sent to the rice fields of South Carolina to prevent his corrupting others. There was no other way to dispose of him.

"This book, 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' is the most vicious book that ever appeared. It compares with Kennan's first book on Russia. I could go into the prison today and write a similar book. The book precipitated the war and made the north believe nothing but the very worst of the south. We are not inhumane people. We are all alike. It is an outrage to raise the north against the south. The book was an appalling, awful and criminal mistake."

Blew Out The Gas.

One evening this week as Dell Baughman the general traveling representative of the Janny, Semple Hardware Co., was retiring to his room in the Prescott Hotel at Grand Forks he noticed a strong odor of escaping gas. He immediately notified the night clerk and a search was made which revealed the fact that the gas was coming from a room occupied by a lady boarder with her infant child. The door was soon opened and the gas turned off and two lives saved.

Was Very Prompt.

M. E. Walsh, agent for the Travelers Life Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., Friday handed Mrs. Thomas, widow of the late Dr. Thomas, who died about two weeks ago, a check for $2,500, this being the amount of the policy deceased carried on his life in that company.

The promptness with which Mr. Walsh adjusted this policy, is an indication of the reliability of the Travelers.

Hydrophobia Scare.

Just before Thanksgiving a mad dog ran through Ramsey, two miles from Anoka. He snarled at Claude Hall, who was working on the Johnson farm, but he was driven from the place. Mrs. Hall stepped into the wood shed where the dog was and when he turned toward her his mouth was dripping with blood streaked foam. She closed the door in alarm. The animal, which was a huge mastiff, went to A. E. Merrill's farm bit a valuable cow; from there to C. G. Richardson's, where he set his teeth in a large dog. He then went to Henry Schwab's and bit a heavy draft horse in the nose. Geo. Harthorn's farm was the next place he visited, and here he killed outright two fox terriers. At Clarence Porter's he got into a fight with a dog and Mr. Porter killed him. Last week Mr. Merrill's cow was taken with peculiar symptoms and died. Schwab's horse also died from similar symptoms, and Richardson's dog had to be shot. The strange feature is that none of those who saw the dog realized he was mad. The death of the animals has caused considerable stir in Ramsey.

MINNESOTA NO. 163 WHEAT

Experiment Station Pronounce it the Best Tried in Six Years

Bulletin No. 8 issued from the department of agriculture of the Minnesota state university, is devoted to a description of a variety of wheat which has been originated by that department by a system of rigid breeding by selection which was begun in 1889. During the first two years only one seed was planted in a hill, that the best plants might be chosen. During the past six years its average yield as reported in the bulletin is 29.5 bushels per acre. The lightest yield reported during that time was 19.9 in 1897, and the heaviest was 42.7 in 1895. It is claimed that ordinarily under similar conditions of culture, it will out-yield blue stem about four bushels per acre. So far as its milling and baking qualities are concerned, tests which have been made indicate that it is identical with our best No. 1 hard wheat. Quoting from this bulletin:

"Everyone who has this wheat should raise and sell it for seed that every farmer may have seed of it. No other wheat has such a pedigree of actual performance as to yield of grain and money value per acre in Minnesota. Other of our new wheats are pressing it hard; some which promise to surpass it in value are now under test at University Farm, but at present this wheat should be the most in demand of any wheat in Minnesota. Every farmer or seed dealer who is so fortunate as to have some of this seed to sell should have no trouble in selling it at a profit.

"Taking the figures of the Experiment Station at their face value, as we do, it is reasonable to hope that this variety, if generally used, especially in Southern Minnesota, would increase the average yield of wheat on our farms at least one bushel per acre. If this be true, every bushel of this wheat now in existence and in good condition for seed is worth very much more than seed growers and dealers are asking for it. We are already receiving orders for this wheat in quantities from two bushels to one hundred bushels. We prefer to sell in quantities not less than two bushels. Since we can fill only a part of these orders from the experiment farms, we refer them to those to whom we sold this wheat in 1899 and 1900.

"We have sent out a circular requesting those who have seed of this variety to sell, to list it with us that we may refer to them those from near-by points who apply to us for this wheat. We can thus further aid in widely distributing this new variety, and also accommodate buyers and sellers. Good prices should prevail for seed of Minn. No. 163 wheat."

NEW DEAL.

Shipping Bill Now In Charge of Senate Steering Committee.

Washington, Jan. 12.—There is a new deal in connection with the shipping bill. It has been practically taken out of the hands of the committee of commerce and is now in charge of the steering committee of the senate. There is a decided difference of opinion on the republican side concerning the shipping bill. Nearly everybody favors legislation for the encouragement of the merchant marine, but it is difficult to get an agreement as to details. Some are willing to appropriate a total of $9,000,000 year, while others insist that $4,000,000 is an outside limit. Some want to subsidize direct lines of steamships from the ports of the United States to those of certain where it is possible and profitable for America to build up a market if transportation facilities are provided.

A number of republicans in the senate will speak and vote against the bill in its present shape, and they insist upon amendments which Senators Frye and Hanna and other members of the committee have not been willing to concede.

But since the bill has been referred to the steering committee, Senators Allison, Aldrich and Spooner have it in hand, and they are trying to fix it up so that it will be agreeable to every republican. When they have finished the revision they propose to give the democrats a fair opportunity to debate it, and then if they show a disposition to filibuster, the senate will be held in session continuously night and day until the bill is passed.

Is a Good Scheme

Miss Mary Moss, principal of the Carman graded school, has hit upon a happy expedient to relieve composition writing for her scholars of its disagreeable phase and give it a novelty and attractiveness which makes it delightful. She corresponded with an acquaintance in Texas who is also teaching school, and arranged for the sixth grade classes in the two schools to correspond with each other, giving descriptions of such places and things around them as may be of interest. The letters are submitted to the respective teachers by the classes before they are mailed and by them corrected and handed back to the writers, who re-write them and then forward them. The plan has proven very successful in stimulating interest in the work.

The Courier Is Happy.

The fight for the County printing at Crookston this week, was a spirited one from start to finish and took up no small part of the county commissioners valuable time, and resulted in the Courier, the Crookston Times, the Fosston Thirteen Towns and the McIntosh Times being named as the official papers for the ensuing year, with the Crookston Times as the acting legal official publication.—East Grand Forks Courier.

A Girl With Grit

Will "go" until she drops, and think she's doing rather a fine thing. Very often the future shows her that she was laying the foundation for years of unhappiness. When the back aches, when there is irregularity or any other womanly ill, then the first duty a woman owes to herself is to find a cure for her ailments.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in cases of womanly disease will insure a prompt restoration to sound health. It regulates the periods, stops unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free of charge. All correspondence absolutely private and confidential. In his thirty years and over of medical practice Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured more than half a million women. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va. "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have no headache now, and no more pain in my side, no bearing-down pain any more. I think that there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

NORTHERN PACIFIC

To ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS DULUTH AND POINTS EAST & SOUTH

To BUTTE HELENA SPOKANE SEATTLE TACOMA PORTLAND CALIFORNIA JAPAN CHINA ALASKA KLONDIKE

C. A. SHARKEY, Agent Crookston, Minn. | Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A St. Paul, Minn.

SOUTH BOUND	Arr	Dep't
No. 8 to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and East	8:28 pm	8:28 p m
NORTH BOUND.
No. 7 to Grand Forks, Grafton and Winnipeg.	6:48 a m	6:48 a m

A. SHARKEY, Agt. Crookston, Minn. CHAS. S. FEE, G. P. A St. Paul, Minn

THE GREAT NORTHERN

Arrive.	*Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	*Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	*Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6.30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls	9 20 am
4 53 pm	*Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior	9.00 am
6 45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent	9.10 am

The Singer Sewing Machine

Has no Equal, Sold by...

IKE & MOLSTAD, Props.

Crookston Music House.
106 Main St S. - CROOKSTON.

S. L. Collins,

Livery and Feed Stables

Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.
Main and 3d sts. Crookston, Minn

NO DUST!

Great Northern Railway

The Dauntless Transcontinental Route.

Built through grass lands. No sand deserts. Runs through the only habitable belt across the continent

Proclamation.

State of Minnesota, Executive Department.

Whereas, pursuant to chapter one hundred and forty three (143) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1893, "An act to provide for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," as amended by chapter one hundred and twenty-four (124) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1895 being "An act to amend sections two (2) and four (4) of chapter one hundred forty-three (143) of the General Laws of the year 1893, providing for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," a petition was filed with the Secretary of State on the 13th day of December, 1900 praying for the creation of a new county out of territory now lying in Polk County, said State, to be named Nelson County and described as follows, towit:

Commencing at the southeast corner of township numbered one hundred and forty-seven, north of range thirty-nine west of the 5th principal meridian in Minnesota, thence running west along the south boundary line of townships one hundred and forty-seven of ranges thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Norman counties to the southwest corner of township one hundred and forty-seven, range forty-three, thence running north along the range line between ranges forty-three and forty four to the northwest corner of township one hundred and forty-nine, range forty-three; thence east along the north boundary line of said township last named and townships one hundred and forty-nine ranges forty-two and forty one, to the northeast corner of said township last named, thence north along the west boundary line and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty, range forty to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence north along the west boundary line, and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty-one, range thirty-nine to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence south along the range line between ranges thirty-eight and thirty-nine, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Beltrami Counties, to the place of beginning, all of said territory being within the County of Polk and including and embracing the whole of townships numbered one hundred and forty-seven, one hundred and forty-eight and one hundred and forty-nine, ranges thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, township one hundred and fifty, ranges thirty-nine and forty, and township one hundred and fifty-one, range thirty-nine.

And whereas, said petition has been duly considered and found and certified to as conforming in all respects to the provisions of said laws;

Now therefore, I, John Lind, Governor of the State of Minnesota, pursuant to the authority in me vested by the laws aforesaid, do hereby direct and proclaim that the question of the creation of the proposed new County of Nelson be submitted to the voters of said Polk County at the next general election, to be held in this State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1902.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Minnesota to be hereto affixed this 20th day of December, A. D. 1900.

ALBERT BERG, Secretary of State. JOHN LIND, Governor.
[SEAL] 36-42

Contest Notice.

Doc. No. 128.
Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Crookston, Minnesota, Dec. 19, 1900.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Peter P. Hexum contestant, against homestead entry no. 125, made Oct. 7, 1898 for se¼, section 12 township 151 N., range 39 W., by Even A. Sneva, contestee in which it is alleged that the said Even A. Sneva has wholly failed and neglected to establish his residence upon the said land, and has failed to cultivate and improve the same, and that such default has continued for more than six months prior to the date hereof, and that the said alleged absence from the said land was not due to his employment in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States as a private soldier, officer, seaman or marine during the war with Spain or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged. Said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on January 28, 1901, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Crookston, Minnesota.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed Dec. 19, 1900 set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

SYLVESTER PETERSON, Register
37-40

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, made and dated the 16th day of November 1882 by Zebedee Lusia, an unmarried man, mortgagor of Polk county, Minnesota, to Nancy C. McConnell, mortgagee, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk county, Minnesota, on the 16th day of November, 1882, at 11 o'clock and forty five minutes a. m., in book "I" of mortgages on pages 490, 491, 492 and 493; which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 3rd day of May, A. D. 1882, by an instrument in writing duly assigned by said Nancy C. McConnell to Alzina A. Wyly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich, of the State of Florida, which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk county, Minnesota, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1885 at eight o'clock and forty minutes a. m. in book "67" of Mortgages on pages 587 and 588 which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 27th day of June A. D., 1889, by an instrument in writing, duly assigned by said Alzina A. Wyly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich of the State of Florida to Chester W. Goodrich which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk County, Minnesota on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1885, at eight o'clock and forty minutes a. m. in book "67" of Mortgages on pages 585 and 586 which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1890, by an instrument in writing, duly assigned by said Chester W. Goodrich, of the State of Florida to Ella B. Thomas, of Lehigh County, Pa., which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, on the 31st day of August, A. D., 1900 at three o'clock and fifteen minutes p. m. in book "58" of Mortgages on pages 23 and 24 which said mortgage conveyed and mortgaged the following premises in said Polk County, Minnesota to wit: The east half of the northwest quarter and the east half of the south-west quarter of section No. two (2) in township No. one hundred and fifty-three (153) north of range No. forty-six (46) west, containing 160 acres of land more or less according to the U. S. government survey thereof.

That there is due upon the note and mortgage at this date seven hundred thirty-eight dollars and 19-100 ($738.19) and which said note bears even date with said mortgage and became due and payable five years from date thereof, together with Attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage, amounting to twenty-five (25) dollars.

There is also due upon said mortgage the sum of seventy seven and 37-100 dollars ($77.37) which said Ella B. Thomas, assignee of said mortgage has paid as delinquent taxes and interest, duly levied upon said premises for the years 1889 to 1899, both inclusive, which sum has become a lien upon said land, according to the statutes of Minnesota in such case made and provided, making the total amount due upon said mortgage to date, including principal, interest, Attorney's fees and taxes, eight hundred forty and 56-100 dollars ($840.56). No proceedings at law having been instituted to recover any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statutes, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the front door of the court house, in the City of Crookston, in said County of Polk, on Saturday, the 2nd day of February, A. D. 1901, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the sum herein claimed to be due on said mortgage, together with all costs and charges to foreclose.

Dated Minneapolis Minn., December 10th, 1900.

ELLA B. THOMAS,
Assignee of Mortgagee.
WRIGHT AND MATCHAN,
Attorneys for Assignee of Mortgagee.
311 Globe Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. 36-42

Timber Culture Final Proof.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., Jan. 2, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that Simeon J. Linterman has filed notice of intention to make final proof before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at his office in Crookston, Minnesota, on Friday, the 15th day of February 1901, on timber culture application No. 3792, for the se¼ of section No. 2, in township No. 150 N. range No. 47 W.

He names as witnesses:
Frank Williams, Elery C. Davis, Henry Jones and James Jones all of Crookston, Minnesota.

A. F. GEORGE.
Receiver

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE PROGRESSIVE HOUSE AND THE DILATORY SENATE.

"The Most Deliberative Body on Earth" Harassed by Filibusters, But Statesmanship Will Win—A Reckoning For Enemies of American Shipping.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Progress is the watchword in the house of representatives and delay is the byword in the senate of the congress of the United States. With the most commendable promptness the house is disposing of urgent and important measures. The new apportionment bill is the most notable measure passed in the house during the past week, and it is likely that the river and harbor improvement bill, carrying with it provision for an expenditure of close to $70,000,000, will be sent to the senate for its consideration before the week closes.

⁂

In the senate, meanwhile, the army reorganization bill has become the weary subject of daily discussion. It is as clear as noonday that a few senators who are entirely irresponsible—men about to retire to private life—are the stumbling blocks to effective and necessary legislation on the part of the senate. There are outcroppings at times, too, of cabals, not entirely composed of the irresponsible, who do their work in a secret and cunning manner, almost defying detection. Not a little of the delay in the passage of important bills through the senate can now be traced to these powerful but carefully concealed cabals.

⁂

The senate has reached a stage where the control of legislation is vested in the hands of a few, who are able to say what legislation shall pass by being able to say what legislation shall not pass. In this indirect but none the less effective manner the control of affairs has been absorbed by a few powerful men—men whose names seldom appear in print, men who rarely engage in debate, men of the least prominence, but of the greatest influence in "the most deliberative body on earth." This sort of thing has been tolerated for a long time, but there are many signs of a determination on the part of the growing and restive majority to put an end to an intolerable senatorial oligarchy.

⁂

It so happens for the moment that the filibusters in the open are discredited and uninfluential men in the senate—men who for petty spite or for even less worthy motives are seeking to prevent the enactment of needed legislation in a reasonable and businesslike manner. Things will be so crowded at the end of the session that it is more than likely that a number of measures will be pushed through that would never be placed upon the statutes but for the hurry and disregard of consequences so much in evidence in the closing days of a congressional session. And it is because this is so, it is because these poor, weak things are willing to show their hands in the open, that it is unnecessary for those more powerful senators whose purposes the filibusters are serving to even lift a finger or do a thing.

⁂

How the appropriation bills are to be properly discussed and passed is now becoming a problem. The passage of the army reorganization bill is assured, there is much of doubt concerning the apportionment bill, and the Nicaragua canal bill seems to have fallen by the wayside—it has, for the time being at least, been side tracked. The shipping bill seems to have more strength than any measure not an appropriation bill, and its active friends seem confident of its passage. It is a question, they say, whether the interests of the American people or of foreign shipowners shall prevail and be considered in the congress of the United States. If the bill is defeated and if our people are compelled as a consequence to go on indefinitely paying $175,000,000 a year to foreign ship owners in ocean freight rates that are steadily growing higher, there will be a reckoning between the people and their representatives one of these days that the latter will long remember.

⁂

The notion that the great bulk of the people are willing or disposed to master the intricacies of the shipping bill, or of a tariff bill, or of a river and harbor bill, or of any great measure is ridiculous. The people cannot devote the time to this sort of thing; they send men to congress to do that for them, depending upon their ability to enact honest and effective laws. When a few men in congress come forward, therefore, and put forth as an excuse for their withholding their support of any great public measure that it does not precisely suit them, and yet they offer nothing to take its place, and by their action prevent the enactment of needed legislation, they stamp themselves as incompetent or as impracticable.

⁂

This applies to the shipping bill and to any other great measure. The one named has passed through every stage of legislative consideration except that of debate in both branches, and even as to the latter the senate has in part thrashed out some of the provisions of the bill, sufficient in themselves for anybody who chooses to to make up his mind whether the great principles of the bill are worthy of his support or not. Matters of detail, if incorrect in operation, may be easily corrected. The principle should be either established or rejected, and this is precisely what the people are expecting at the hands of their representatives in congress.

J. B. ACRES.

AN EPIDEMIC OF GRIP

Seems to be Prevailing Throughout the Country.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—"How many people that ride to their homes tonight in the street cars will bring to kin at home the time germ of grip from expectorations and from breathing in which influenza poison prevails."

Physicians asked this question today. They say that most of the grip now raging in this city is caused and spread by contagion from mingling in crowded cars. Through the spitting nuisance, it is said, billions of the poisonous bacilli are winged to those who otherwise might not be exposed to the contagion.

New York, Jan. 11.—While several large cities are having an epidemic of grip in a worse form than for many years, the physicians say it is a mild type. But mild as it is the sickness is spreading rapidly, though last week in the whole city it caused only thirty-six deaths. In January, 1899, there were 237 deaths from grip.

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—Physicians say the grip is spreading throughout the city with the rapidity with which it has claimed more than 100,000 victims in New York and Chicago. Few deaths have been recorded but the general increase in pneumonia, which has its inception in the grip, is causing alarm.

Substitution is Suspicious.

The attempt by a dealer to sell his customer a substitute in place of the article the buyer calls for at once places that dealer under the ban suspicion. The only reason why the buyer does not invariably realize the suspiciousness of substitution and promptly resent it, is probably in many cases the money transaction involved is so small that it does not suggest the motive for fraud. Suppose ajeweler advertises a diamond at $50. He places it in his window. A would be buyer enters the store and asks for this particular diamond. But the jeweler says, "I can give you that diamond if you want it, but here's another that's just as good as the one advertised." The buyer's suspicions would be aroused at once. He would insist on the stone in the window and he'd keep an eye on it to see it wasn't changed. But in the case of a fifty cent transaction it is different. The buyer often accepts the substitute which is offered as "just as good" as a widely advertised article, although the substitution is just as suspicious in a fifty cent transaction as in the one involving fifty dollars.

Look at the question from another point of view. A sale of stock is advertised. There are horses with pedigrees and records to be sold. Farmer Brown attends the sale with the purpose of buying one of these good horses. But the seller says to him' "that horse you want is a good horse, of course, but I've got another that is just as good which I'd like to sell you."

"Has he just as good a pedigree?"

"Well, no, he hasn't any pedigree to speak of."

"Has he any record?"

"Well no, we never held a watch on him that I know of, but he's just as good as the horse you want."

Would Farmer Brown buy the "just as good" horse? The question answers itself. And yet this same farmer will allow himself to be swindled time and again by accepting "just as good" articles in place of those he called for. The article he called for has, so to speak, a pedigree and a record. It's a standard in the markets of the world. Yet in place of this standard article he will accept a substitute which nobody konws anything about, an untried, unproved article which has no record of value, and no proof of origin.

Let the buyer who is offered a substitute bear in mind that substitution is suspicious, and that a substitute always carries the ear marks of a swindle.

Preparing Whitewash

It looks to us from the following West Point item in regard to the Booz hazing investigation, as if a heavy coat of whitewash is in process of preparation. But it would really seem as though, if Superintendent Mills is, as he says, opposed to fighting, his opposition is not very effective, and that it would be a good plan to relieve him and put some one in charge that can do away with it. The item reads:

Col. W. W. Mills, superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point, occupied the witness stand during the morning and afternoon session of the congressional investigating committee with the exception of a few minutes during which Horace C. Booz testified that the evidence given by him before the military court on Dec. 26 was correctly reported on the record.

Col. Mills occupied the attention of the committee at the night session.

Several times during the day several congressmen comprising the committee expressed themselves as being pleased with the efforts he was making to stamp out hazing at the academy.

The colonel put himself on record as being opposed to fighting, and said it was not a traditional institution at the academy.

Seventh District's Wants.

The republican senators and representatives of the Seventh district met at noon in the railroad committee. Senator Grindeland was chosen chairman and Albert Berg secretary. It was decided to ask again for a $100,000 appropriation for the drainage of state lands in the Red River valley and elsewhere. A bill will be drafted by the chairman and a committee of two others to be appointed by him. The members from the Red River valley are also going to try to get lower freight and express charges, and a committee of four to devise ways and means will be appointed by the chairman. The senatorial fight was not mentioned.—Minneapolis Journal, Jan. 10.

Crookston's Greatest Sin.

Rev. F. A. Lawson, whose subject for his discourse at the Methodist church Sunday night was given out as "Crookston's Greatest Sin," took the ground that this sin was not the saloon business, though it is supporting in its midst twenty-eight saloons whose maintenance means that hundreds of men are hopelessly committed to their support to their own eternal ruin. Nor is it the sin of Sabbath breaking, though this is so nearly universal on every hand in our midst, or yet the sin of gambling which is so prevalent here and so fascinating and alluring in its influence.

But Crookston's greatest sin, he maintained, was the sin of unbelief. That this is the sin which has in all ages prevented men from entering into the rest which God has prepared for his people. And that is the sin which overshadows all other sins which prevail in our city.

Rev. Lawson's sermons are always deeply interesting and he has a very forceful and attractive style of delivery which holds the unflagging attention of his large congregations from the opening to the closing sentence.

Street Car Collision.

Hennepin avenue and Fifth street, Minneapolis, was the scene of a street car collision about 10:30 Wednesday night. A Fourth avenue south car was attempting to round the curve, but the ice on the tracks made it impossible for the motors to gain much headway. A Bryn Mawr car going east on Hennepin had slacked up so as to allow the Fourth avenue car to get around the curve, and the motorman, supposing the larger car would make the curve in time to allow him to pass down Hennepin, started his car.

The Fourth avenue car, however, did not move, although the motor wheels were revolving at the top of speed. The result was that the Bryn Mawr car crashed into the other one.

Several windows were broken in the Bryn Mawr car and the front almost completely demolished. The motorman was slightly injured by the glass of the front windows which were shattered. The passengers in both cars received a slight shaking up, but no one was injured and the damage to the cars was slight.

Died

Miss Rosy Roy, aged 15 years, died at the home of her parents on Hunter street at noon Monday. She was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Piere Roy, and was apparently a robust, healthy young lady up to the time of her recent sickness, which commenced a week ago Monday with what appeared to be at first only a severe cold, but which rapidly developed into a severe case of grip, and caused her death. She was a bright, vivacious girl, highly esteemed by all her acquaintances and friends. Her loss falls with peculiar force upon the hearts of the afflicted family, inasmuch as they have just recently met with a similar loss in the death of the youngest boy Arthur, who was take naway a few weeks since with diphtheria.

The Journal, in common with the many friends and neighbors of the family, extends its sympathy in the hour of this great sorrow.

The funeral was held yesterday at 10 a. m. at St. Ann's church.

High School Presentation.

At the high school last Monday occurred a very neat little incident which consisted of the presentation to the school by the freshman class, of a representation of one of the ten panels made by Luca Duca Robbia, an Italian sculptor of the fifteent hcentury, and hung in the singing gallery in the cathedral at Florence. The particular panel of which this is a representation is called the "Boys' Singing Scroll," and is a beautiful work of art.

The presentation was made in behalf of the freshman class by Clifford Dufour with a neat little speech which rather surprised even his most intimate friends, and was replied to by Miss Ruberta Childs of the senior class in a neat and humorous way which delighted the school. The panel was secured in New York and was intended to have been presented as a part of the exercises of Christmas eve, but failed to arrive in time for that occasion. It has been given a position of honor on the school room wall immediately underneath the portrait of Miss Frances Willard.

Had a Runaway

Mayor Campbell who, besides presiding over the destinies of the city, now and then sells a piece of real estate, had a customer this morning to whom he wanted to sell a piece of choice land near Fisher. He hired a team from one of the livery barns last Monday and proceeded out in the country to show his man the land. Arriving there the hospitable and acommodating head of the city invited his man to take a stroll with im on the land, and in doing so left his horses unhitched, and before he could "Jack Rabbit" the horses wheeled around and on a dead run started for home. They got here all right, minus the buggy, which the mayor picked up along the road, and brought with him a farmer's team that was procured to drive the horseless real estate man back to Crookston.

All that was left whole of the rig was the ring of the wagon tongue, and that got bent.

Got Pinched.

While switching in the yard near the round house in the Fifth ward last Saturday night, Switchman Irving Nicolson met with an accident which cost him the thumb and first and second fingers of his righth and. In coupling the engine onto some box cars, his hand was caught between the bumpers and badly smashed. It was apparent that none of the injured members could be saved, and Nicolson was taken to the Riverside hospital, where Dr. W. H. Smith performed the necessary amputation, and the patient made as comfortable as possible.

Nicolson was only very recently married, and he has the sympathy of many friends in his misfortune.

Old People Made Young.

J. C. Sherman, the veteran editor of the Vermontville (Mich.) Echo, has discovered the remarkable secret of keeping old people young. For years he has avoided Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Heart trouble, Constipation and Rheumatism, by using Electric Bitters, and he writes: "It can't be praised too highly. It gently stimulates the kidneys, tones the stomach, aids digestion, and gives a splendid appetite. It has worked wonders for my wife and me. It's a marvelous remedy for old people's complaints." Only 50 cents at A. G. Andersen's drug store.

SWIFT AMERICAN SHIPS.

Their Importance in the Transportation of Perishable Products.

UNFOUNDED OPPOSITION TO SUBSIDIES.

Value of Ocean Flyers to the Government in Time of Peace or War—Build Up the Nation's Ocean Trade and Augment Its Naval Power.

[Special Correspondence.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.

Considerable opposition to the payment of subsidies to swift American steamships has developed in the press of the country. The statement has been widely circulated that these ships merely carry passengers abroad to spend American money, and to bring back wines and silks for luxurious citizens, and that such ships, so employed, are of no help to American commerce. What is wanted, these opponents declare, is cargo carriers, the low-powered steamships that take cargoes wherever they offer, and carry them wherever they are consigned, regardless of established lines. And these are the ships, they go on and assert, that have given Great Britain her preeminence as a maritime power.

All this sounds plausible, and somewhat logical, and, if not analyzed by those having knowledge of the facts, helps to create an unfavorable and hurtful sentiment toward the shipping bill now pending in congress which properly considers swift steamships, as well as slow ones. As a matter of fact, the swift steamships carry those products from the United States that are the most valuable, and, in many cases, the most perishable. Were it not for the fast steamship California fruits — a growing business—could not be exported to Europe; with them, the exportation of Pacific coast fruits steadily grows and prospers. All kinds of dressed meats, ham, bacon, lard and an infinite variety of agricultural or farm products, that have gone through various stages of manufacture are sent abroad in swift ships.

Swift ships carry the mails; and it is essential that the mails be carried with the utmost rapidity. Invariably swift ships are parts of regularly established lines, and they make regular and frequent voyages to and from their terminal points. The swifter, the greater, the more powerful the ships, the more profitable their use is to their respective terminal countries, but the truth is the less remunerative they all are to their owners. They carry the most expensive cargoes that go both ways, the manufactures upon which labor and skill have been expended, and which return the largest sums to their producers.

But these are the ships, the large, powerful, swift ocean flyers, that are most useful to the nation in time of war. They are at once available as carriers of important dispatches, in cases where celerity is of the utmost importance; they are useful as auxiliary cruisers, they can be quickly transformed into cruisers and then prey upon and destroy the enemy's commerce; they can act as scouts for fleets, and keep them informed regarding the movements of the enemy, keeping in touch with the enemy and eluding capture through their swiftness. This was well illustrated by the four great ships of the only American line in the trans-Atlantic trade, during our war with Spain. They were steaming at full speed between 500 and 600 miles a day, far out upon the Atlantic, keeping watch for Spain's cruisers, ready to report them to the flying squadron at Hampton Roads. It was this scouting work, so effectively done, that compelled Spain to send Cervera far to the south, when but for them Cervera might have threatened if not seriously and irreparably injured our great Atlantic and Gulf seaports.

The swift steamships are the nearest attainment to the [illegible] the consummation of the highest hopes of the artists engaged in their construction, at once an effective demonstration of man's best handiwork, and at the same time an invaluable aid to the nation when most in need of aid. Such ships are the final outgrowth of regularly established lines where a trade has been built up at great expense, after many years of faithful effort, and through a service that is thorough, complete and attractive. They are the best of the [illegible] and a nation whose people fail to appreciate them does not grasp the full significance nor the full value of sea power.

The so-called tramp steamships, the vessels that carry cargoes wherever destined, are merely the carriers of the surplus cargoes that accumulate after harvesting, or at exceptional times, when the regular lines are overcrowded. But it is the regular lines that build up a nation's trade—never the tramps—and they often do it for years at a loss, until they are thoroughly established and have a remunerative paying business. And Britain's sea power lies in her great steamship lines, not in her "tramps."

☞If the agents of foreign steamships are deliberately working to defeat the pending shipping bill—as is being said all over the country—congress should be warned. The American people are not in the mood to see legislation helpful to a great American industry defeated in the interest of foreigners.

☞Congress is not, of course, deliberately conspiring to injure any foreign interests. But if the latter happens to monopolize any great American industry, as they do the carrying of our imports and exports, and congress in legislating to promote this industry in the United States does hurt foreign interests, that is a mere incident, not the objective.

☞If the foreign steamship lines are spending money lavishly to defeat the shipping bill now pending in congress, as is asserted in Washington press dispatches, it must be that the bill in question would hurt the foreign ships. If that be so, it must follow that it would help American ships. Congress should not be slow to follow this argument to its logical conclusion.

☞Congress, as a body, cannot escape its obligations to the American people in the matter of providing legislation for the revival of our shipping in the foreign trade, by saying that this or that bill is not just perfect. The people elect congress to legislate in the interest of the American people and they have no time to study all the details. Results count.

☞Members of congress cannot be any more concerned to keep at home and circulating among American workingmen and business men the $200,000,000 now annually paid to foreign ship owners for doing our foreign carrying than the people are themselves. What the people expect is that this sentiment will find expression in an effective statute before adjournment.

SUNSHINE FOR BRIDE

Brilliant Day For a Wedding of Most Extravagant Magnificence.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 15.—Although in the depth of winter, this well known watering place took on a semblance of its summer gaiety, because of the wedding of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, probably the most wealthy of the third generation of the Vanderbilt family, and Miss Elsie French, a charming Newport girl, and former playmate of the bridegroom, the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Orne French, a resident of the city for many years.

A brighter sun never shown on any bride, and in spite of the crispness of the air, it did not seem to be a winter's day.

Is Yet Undecided.

The redemption of forfeited tax sales has hit anothe robstacle in the decision rendered by the supreme court in 1899. Recently the county auditor wrote for further information regarding the matter and Monday he received the following answer:

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 11, 1901.

County Auditor, Crookston, Minn.

Dear sir:—It has not yet been decided whether or not we can accept the judgment under the 1899 law as the basis for redemption, under the recent decision of the supreme court. A case is pending before the district court in Ramsey county upon that matter, and as soon as it is fully decided by the supreme court, we will promptly notify all county auditors.

Very truly,
—R. C. Dunn,
State Auditor.

In accordance with the above advice County Auditor Petterson will not receive any redemptions until all points are fully decided.

Andree's Will Opened.

Vienna, Jan. 10.—Prof. Andree's will, which he gave instructions should be opened at the end of 1900 if he had not returned from the Arctic expedition, has been read. It was accompanied by a series of letters from prominent scientists, encouraging him in his dangerous enterprise, and one from M. de Fonville warning him of it.

On this letter Andree had written in pencil: "It is possible he may be right, but it is too late now. I have made all my preparations and cannot draw back."

The will is short and the introduction seems to show that Andree divined the fate in store for him.

It reads: "I write, this day, my last will and testament. Therefore, it is valid. I start on a journey today such as history has been unable to show. My presentment seems to tell that this terrible journey will signify my death."

The remainder of the will divides Andree's real and personal property among his brothers and sisters.

Novel Gift.

Leadville, Col., Jan. 12.—The club with which Col. Roosevelt was struck at Victor when he spoke there September 26, has been presented to him. The club has been trimmed with Cripple Creek gold and bears the inscription: "To Theodore Roosevelt from the Citizens of Cripple Creek and Vicinity."

When Roosevelt's train arrived at Divide he found three hundred gold camp people with the Gold Coin Mine band on the platform. He was greeted with cheers and music, after which Postmaster Sullivan of Cripple Creek made the presentation speech.

His Wife Saved Him.

My wife's good advice saved my life writes F. M. Ross of Winfield, Tenn., for I had such a bad cough I could hardly breathe, steadily grew worse under doctor's treatment, but my wife urged me to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me." Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Asthma, Hay Fever and all maladies of Chest, Throat and Lungs are positively cured by this marvelous medicine. 50c. and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottle free at A. G. Anderson's drug store.

Sued for $32,000.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 12.— Mrs. Lizzie Simmons, colored, whose husband was drowned at the Great Northern crossing of the Spokane river near Natatorium park a month ago, when a river ferry capsized, has started joint suit against the Great Northern and George S. Deeks & Co. for $32,000. She alleges that the ferry from which he husband was thrown was not in a safe condition and that the railway and contracting companies were equally negligent in allowing the ferry to be operated while in an unsafe condition.

Sunday Morning Blaze.

Comstock, Minn., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Fire broke out yesterday morning in the basement of Haveland & Asgaard's general merchandise establishment in this village and when discovered had gained such headway that nothing could be saved from the burning building, and together with its contents it was reduced to ashes. The origin of the fire could not be ascertained but it is thought the result of an overheated stove.

The loss is estimated at nearly $3,000 and is partly covered by insurance.

Police Have the Grip.

New York, Jan. 12.—According to the board of health, la grippe has developed to serious proportions in this city. The hospitals are all overcrowded and it is said there are more cases of the disease in the city now than there was at any time during any previous epidemic of la grippe. The records of the police department show that 420 members of the force were off duty on account of the disease. This total represents about ten per cent of the enlisted force of the city.

Big Land Sale.

The sale of Northern Pacific lands in North Dakota to a syndicate has been concluded and the syndicate will take immediate possession.

The sale embraces a very large tract covering 1,500,000 acres lying between the Missouri and the James rivers. The land comprises the last of the original federal land grant to the Northern Pacific in 1864. The deal was closed by the Hunter-Windle Land Company of Minneapolis. The syndicate is composed of Carlos Boynton, a capitalist, William Hoerr, banker, L. Patterson of Mankato, and the Hackney Land Company of St. Paul. Deeds to the lands will be given as soon as the syndicate can incorporate. The deal has been in progress for two years. The land sold lies in Stutsman, Logan, Kidder, Burleigh, McLain, McIntosh and Emmons counties, with scattering tracts in adjoining counties. This cleans up all the Northern Pacific lands between the lakes and the Missouri river, excepting the St. Paul & Duluth grant.

The intention of the syndicate is to sell the lands for grazing purposes, for which they are admirably adapted. The tracts make ideal ranches. The lands will be handled by the Hackney Land Company of St. Paul, as agents. Over 700 applications are already on file.

ENTIRE FAMILY INSANE

One Suicided, Remainder Committed to the Fergus Asylum.

The Hildal family who lived 6 miles northeast from Neilsville, are not there any more. One of the boys two years ago tampered with his heart with a pair of scissors and died from it. His father, not being strong mentally, took the manner of his son's death much to heart, and became insane. His remaining son, Even, stayed at home and cared for his father and that made him insane, too. Last week both father and son were taken to the Fergus Falls insane asylum.

Lost His Moustache

There has been quite a sensation in university circles since Saturday afternoon over an occurrence which took place in the building Saturday. It appears that there is an unwritten law among the gentlemen students that no member of the senior class, or any other class for the matter of that, shall wear a moustache.

One young gentleman, who is especially taken with his own reflection in the glass decided that a moustache was the only thing lacking in his personal appearance. He decided to raise one and defy public opinion at the "U" and the unwritten law at one and the same time. But alas, and alack. He underestimated the resources of his fellow students when he considered himself capable to get the better of them all.

Last Saturday a number of the students decided that his hirsute adornment had reached the proper age for plucking and forthwith laid plans to gain possession of it, peacefully if possible, forcibly if necessary.

The student was called upon in the supposed absence of any member of the faculty and the case laid before him, but he failed to see it in the same light as his brother students. Force then became a necessity. Fortunately or unfortunately he managed to escape from the room in which his tormentors had laid their plans before him, and dashed up the stairs followed by several who either could not or would not raise such a handsome adornment to their upper lip. A professor was met in the uper hall and of him Mr. Senior sought protection. It was granted and his pursuers fined ten marks.

This was a small matter to them, however, and they simply bided their time. During the evening the senior ventured beyond the bounds of safety without a body guard and in a giffy was captured, forced into a room and in less time than it takes to write it, one side of his beautiful moustache was clipped off with a pair of unfeeling scissors. He was then allowed to depart, but when next seen was as clean shaven as during his early childhood.—Plaindealer.

Had it Down Pat.

A teacher in one of the Boston public schools had instructed her pupils in hygiene, and toward the end of the term, wishing to see how well they could remember, told them to write out a life story of the human body, says the Household. The following is copied from the "story" of one small boy with the confident assurance that he knew it was all right, for he had studied very hard over it:

"The human body is divided into three parts: the head, the thorax and the abdomen.

"The head contains the brains, if there are any; the thorax contains the heart and the vital organs; and the abdomen the vowels, of which there are five, a, e, i, o and u, and sometimes w and y."

Binding Twine Prices.

The board of prison managers last Wednesday fixed the prices for twine for the season of 1901. Sisal and standard will be furnished for seven cents per pound; mixed twine 8½ cents, and pure manila 9¼ cents. This is a large reduction from the prices which prevailed last year, being a 1-cent cut for mixed grade and a 3-cent for sisal. No pure manilla was manufactured last year.

The Useful Telephone.

Two young ladies in Baltimore went to the theatre the other night and being under the impression they had a latchkey, the family retired and were soundly sleeping when the young ladies arrived home. Their utmost efforts in the line of racket making failed to secure them admission, until a neighbor across the street was aroused, and telephoned over to the father that his daughters were seeking admission.

More Smallpox.

Fergus Falls, Jan. 11.—Smallpox has broken out in the village of Vining, in the center of the county, and the families of Ed and Gustaf Gysler have been quarantined. The board of education has ordered the schools of the village closed and the people of the neighborhood are being vaccinated as fast as the physicians can do the work.

A Bad wound.

J. C. Everhard, a wod chopper, who was employed on the Wentworth farm in cutting cord wood wasb rought in Monday and taken to the hospital. While chopping this morning his ax slipped and struck his right ankle and passing down the severed n part of the heel. He suffered great loss of blood and is very weak.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Polk County Journal,
BY N. S. GORDON.

Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

A bill has been introduced into the legislature which provides for the restoration of capital punishment in the state of Kansas, and it has a fair prospect of becoming a law.

Gov. Van Sant, having been telegraphed to by the Cincinnati Post inquiring if the Jeffries-Ruhlin prize fight would be permitted in Minnesota, replied promptly, "No prize fights in this state while I am governor."

The Twentieth Century Edition of the Bemidji Pioneer, illustrated and printed on fine book paper, twelve pages in size, is a very creditable publication and reflects credit upon its enterprising publishers. The Pioneer is always a welcome visitor upon the Journal exchange table.

What an unreasonable privilege it would be to allow the democrats to cast a solid vote for United States senator for some luke warm republican, whom the party did not want, and help to elect him! Such trifling with this most important question will hardly be tolerated, and certainly should not be.

The board of prison managers held their monthly meeting at Stillwater last week, and Warden Reeve reported the miscellaneous cash receipts of the prison for December to be $25,659.52. Of this the sum of $21,131.79 was from sales and collections on account of binder twine, $2,980.63 from the Union Shoe & Leather company for convict labor.

The Minneapolis Times is authority for the statement that Fred Connor, appointed to the new police force, has been detailed as Mayor Ames' orderly. It will be his duty to lead the doctor on his trip between the office and the city hall, and see to it that no ill befalls him. Connor is a good pugilist, and if anyone tries to assault the mayor he will find himself up against a serious proposition.

A Tennessee editor who made a reckless but positive prediction in regard to the outcome of the election, and challenged his readers to watch the result and see how accurate he was, now owns up as follows: "We are now able to state we missed it by exactly the space between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans east and west and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico north and south."

A matrimonially inclined young lady of Grand Rapids wrote to a Duluth job printing establishment recently asking for prices on two hundred wedding cards. The firm replied that owning to the cost of making the plate engraving the first 100 would cost $10.00 and the second 100 would cost $3.50. A few days later the firm received a second letter from the girl enclosing a postal order for $3.50 and instructions to send the second 100 only.

At the recent meeting of the Minnesota Agricultural society Secretary E. W. Randall, in his report and financial summary, stated that there was now a balance in the treasury of $18,285.61. Of this $10,000 would be set aside by the board in order to pay premiums in case rain should cause the financial failure of any future state fair. It was estimated that the balance, $8,285.61, would be sufficient to pay the preliminary expense of the fair of 1901.

The Duluth Evening Herlad has just added to its establishment an up-to-date new perfecting Potter press, with a capacity of 24,000 eight page papers per hour. Under its present management the Herald has become one of the best newspapers in the northwest and the Journal takes occasion to congratulate the Zenith City evening paper upon its splendid success. Only for the overbearing black headlines of the paper, the Herald would be an ideal publication.

Senator Davis is quoted as saying a short time before his death: "I know human history, and I know that in the first century something happened that destroyed the old world and gave birth to the new. The ressurection of Jesus would account for that change, and I do not know of any other adequate solution that has ever been proposed." Thus, it seems to me, the conclusions of philosophy, the rationale of science and the teachings of revealed religion, point unerringly to immortality.

The new administration has determined not to allow gambling machines to run in Minneapolis saloons and cigar stores. Supt. of Police Ames has instructed his men to see that all such devices for alluring money out of the pockets of the unwary be taken out of all resorts. Those automatic machines which exhibit obscene pictures upon the payment of a nickel have also been tabooed. It remains to be seen how long this worthy reform will be persisted in.

In its last issue the E. G. F. Courier says: "The western end of Polk county has good reason to feel proud of their choice for representative on the county board, T. T. Morken, of Northland township. Although Mr. Morken has scarcely got his chair warm in the commissioners' chambers yet, he is right in the middle of all business transacted and has already gained the confidence and good will of the balance of the board, which means a good deal for one meeting.

President Northrop of the State University made the announcement in chapel Thursday morning that he had received a letter from one whose name he did not care to mention, but whom everyone would recognize as having authority, stating that representatives from the fraternities of the university were taking high school boys into prominent saloons down town and treating them to wine and beer. The president says that such "treating" must be stopped, and stopped at once. If any fraternity is found to be indulging in such rushing, its chapter at the university will be dissolved.

The Minneapolis Journal's latest cartoon is worthy of a passing comment. In the foreground is a donkey lying on his side, from whom the last spark of life has evidently departed. Upon his flank he bears the brand "Dem. party." Doctor Grover Cleveland is hard at wrok with a huge hypodermic syringe pumping into his side a "reorganization salt solution," while Doctor Dave Hill is pouring "salt" into his ear. In the background, Doctor Whitney is rolling a barrel of salt toward the scene of action in evident haste to be in time so as to avoid suspension of operations. The title of the cartoon is given "Trying the Salt Resusitation Method."

The latest reports from South Africa indicate that the situation is growing worse rather than better from a British standpoint. And it is evident there is a growing dissatisfaction in England over the persistent prosecution of the war. Lord Coleridge recently absented himself from a political meeting which had been called and in a letter explained his actions in these words:

"I loathe and detest this war, and the authorities who brought it about, the mode with which it is conducted and undignified excitement over the defeat of a handful of peasants defending their country at the hands of ten times their number of trained soldiers, backed by the wealth of England."

The grip has come to be the most popular disease of the day. Not only is it universally prevalent, in the United States, but all over the world it is claiming its victims and interfering with the prosecution of the world's business. The death record is largely increased through its ravages, though of course in a majority of cases it is comparatively light. Various rules are being published to aid people in avoiding it, but they all practically simmer down to the one rule to take commonsense care of your health, and if taken ill do not neglect to call a physician at once, before the dangerous complications set in.

The spreading of small pox nearly all over the northwest is assuming an alarming attitude, and too much precaution cannot be exercised to check the growth of the dreaded disease. Fergus Falls has several fully developed cases and Dr. Bracken, of the state board of health, after officially diagnosing a case there Saturday, said:

"There is no question at all about the disease being small pox. The marking is perfectly plain, but you can tell the people of the city that there is no occasion for either alarm or excitement."

In view of this official statement, there seems no plausible reason why there should be "no occasion for either alarm or excitement."

A big fifty ton engine jumped the Duluth Transfer track at Oneota Saturday morning, broke through the trestle work and went sizzling down through ten feet of water poking its nose into the mud at the bottom of the bay, taking with it the tender and one logging car. The accident occurred about 9 o'clock. The engine was pulling a train of logging cars along the trestle which runs parallel with the shore line between West Duluth and of enterprising and inventive men in running at any great speed, but suddenly, near Thirty-ninth avenue west, it struck a lip on a switch rail and wentoff the track. The weight of the engine cut through the trestle work and let it down into the water. Besides the engineer and fireman there were several men on the engine, but they had sufficient time to get off before it went through. The engine was No. 137. It is almost as large as some of the big engines on the Duluth & Iron Range road and is almost entirely submerged.

It is reported that Professors Pickering and Wendell of the Harvard observatory have just made some important discoveries in regard to the new planet Enos. From these discoveries it is found that that observatory took photographs of this planet as early as 1893 and now by comparison of these photographs with the one recently taken, they have decided that the planet is probably not more than 20 miles in diameter and at times comes nearer the earth than any other planet. It belongs to a group of planets that comes between Mars and Jupiter, but Enos breaks away and often comes this side of Mars, thus being nearer the earth than any celestial body except the moon.

The outcome of the trial of the three young men for the brutal murder of Jennie Bosscheiter of Paterson, N. J., will be watched for throughout the country with intense interest. And inasmuch as there is no possible doubt of the identity of the criminals, nothing short of their conviction and execution will be accepted as satisfactory. The horribly revolting method of their crime and the unmentionable details connected with it, connected with the fact that it was not an isolated case except in its termination, has aroused the feeling that nothing short of the execution of the criminals will furnish an effectively deterrent object lesson to the other young men at that, and other places, who are pursuing a similar course of crime.

As the West Point investigation progresses, it becomes more and more apparent that the standard of manhood at that institution is a disgrace to the country. William R. Bettison of Kentucky testifies that during his connection with the school, twenty-one fights have occurred. His manner in speaking of them indicates that he thought they were all right, too. He said he knew of five fights between cadets during his first year, and was present at two of them. Nine fights occurred during the term of 1899-1900 and seven during the present term. Bettison recalled the names of the participants in nearly all of these fights. He said none of these fights had been investigated by the authorities, and consequently no one punished. He had never been a principal in a fight, but had officiated at several, and was the chairman of the "scrapping committee," which decided when a fight was to be arranged.

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution at a recent meeting urging upon congress the necessity of immediate action in the matter of the proposed national park, to the end that it pass the required law for its establishment. A bill to appoint a joint commission to investigate the proposition is now before the lower house in congress, and it will probably be taken up at an early date. We believe the establishment of this park would operate to the advantage of the state at large, and that it should receive prompt attention. It involves the question as to whether these reservations which contain the last remnant of the once magnificent pine forests of this state which now belongs to the federal government shall be at once denuded of these forests, or whether the timber shall be preserved under forestry rules.

The recent abduction cases have called attention to the inadequacy of the laws of the different states in the penalty provided for this offence. It is a crime for which the penalty can hardly be too severe. The abduction of a child for the purpose of extorting from its weathy parents a large sum of money for its ransom, when successful, is an [illegible] suggestion to other persons of vicious character to attempt the same experiment. It is getting to be altogether too common a crime. And the question of providing an adequate penalty for this crime is attracting attention all over the country. It should be so severe and so unerring in in its application that all temptation to obtain money in this way will be dispelled by the terror of its consequences. Many of the states are already waking up to the deficiency in their laws and it is likely tha there will be a general movement during the coming sessions of the several legislatures to apply a remedy and provde adequate penalties.

Ex-Gov. John Lind exhibited an amount of spleen on the occasion of his retirement from office, which plainly dislosed the character of the man. First, he took occasion in his closing address to declare in an insinuating way that his successor was not legally elected. This was an act which was unbecoming, ungentlemanly, and ill-timed, showing that his discretion had been overcome by the bitterness of his disappointment, and that he had not the ability to rise above it. Next and immediately following his retirement, he proceeded to administer a thrashing to Editor Black of the St. Paul Dispatch in retaliation for certain published charges which appeared in the Dispatch during the election campaign. This, too, was an act which was incompatible with the dignity appropriate for one who had just retired from the highest office in the gift of the people of the state. And these two acts, which disclose so plainly the true measure of the man, will not add lustre to his official career or awaken regrets over his failure of a re-election.

The county board of Marshall county has fixed the salary of the county superintendent at $1350 a year, and of the county attorney at $900. The county treasurer's salary is estimated at $1200 for the present year.

Hon. W. W. Barrett, superintendent of the North Dakota department of irrigation, forrestry and fish, is said to have secured and have in his possession a petition for his reappointment, which is thirty-three feet in length. The number of signatures it bears is not stated, but naturally there would be enough of them on that length of paper to constitute what might be considered quite a strong petition.

There is absolutely no apparent reason why the republican legislators now assembled at the state capitol, should not consider it for the best interest of the state and the republican party to settle the senatorial question by a republican caucus, and in so doing prevent the probable participation of the democratic members, who in a close contest, might jeopardize the chances of selecting the choice of a majority of republicans. There should in the estimation of the Journal, be no delay in holding such a caucus, and thus get the legislature to devote its attention to the states business as early as possible.

Senator Cashel of Walsh county, N. D., has introduced a bill providing for the selection of candidates for election by popular vote at the polls. Such primary election is to be held in lieu of all caucuses and conventions, and it is to occur on the Tuesday following the third Monday in July of every year in which a general election is to be held. It applies, however, only to members of congress, state officers and county officers and the following officers on the years of their regular election, viz: Presidential electors, judges or the supreme and district courts and members of the legislative assembly.

For all other elections and special elections for the offices enumerated herein, the nominations shall be made as now provided by law.

The bill appears to be very complete and perfect in its details, and in its general purpose may well be taken up and imitated by Minnesota's legislature. The Journal has already heretofore announced itself as favoring, this method of placing candidates for office in nomination. It is believed there is quite a general feeling in this direction too, and that some action will be taken toward it during this session of the legislature.

REDISTRICT THE STATE.

Nobody is so sure to get left as the "smart" man in politics. Yet there is no end to the attempts to get ahead and manufacture advantage by the exercise of mere smartness. It is astonishing what short memories people have and how they keep on relying upon little games for political success.

Of this nature is the proposition to retain the present districting of the state and allow the two members additional that must be allotted to Minnesota to be chosen at large. It is argued that the present districts are entirely suitable and satisfactory and the people have got accustomed to them; that it would not be easy to carve out nine districts without more or less complaint; that the choice of two congressmen from the state at large would add interest and animation to the state contest and this would be quite as satisfactory to the people.

On this last point we venture to dissent quite emphatically from the conclusions of those who follow this line of reasoning. The burden of proof is upon them. It is the custom of Minnesota to select her congressmen by separate districts. If there is to be a departure from the rule, the reason for it should be given. None such whatever is to be found. The problem of reapportionment is no more difficult now than it will be at any time, or than it has been in the past, when there were changes in the number of representatives. The suggestion is purely artificial and has to rest upon artificial reasons.

As a matter of fact, representatives at large are scarcely as useful at Washington and they are much more likely to make confusion and ill feeling in politics at home. Legislation in the lower house at Washington depends largely upon combinations of interest between the representatives from different districts. It is not as easy for a man whose constituency is the whole state to form part of such combination and his practical working efficiency is impaired. But this is nothing when compared with the dickering and the ill feeling that would be produced at home. If the state were not already districted, it might be easy to select nine representatives at large. But now two out of the seven districts of the state would have two congressmen each and the others but one. It will never do and a mere mention of the objections ought to be enough to settle its practical political unwisdom.—Red Wing Republican.

Insurance Swindles

New York, Jan. 11.—The Evening Journal says warrants have been issued for the arrest of four persons who are accused of swindling the Colonial Insurance company, of New Jersey, by securing insurance on the lives of persons about to die, and by other methods. The four men for whom warrants were issued include a newspaper editor, the beneficiary under the policy, a medical examiner, an undertaker and a prize fighter, who acted as agent for the company.

The Evening Journal says: "It is said that the Colonial Insurance company has been swindled out of large sums of money secured on bogus policies, and that there has been a wholesale traffic in dead bodies between Bellevue hospital in this city and a certain undertaking establishment in Union Hill, N. J."

ELECTORAL COLLEGE

State Presidential Electors Met Monday and Cast Vote.

The Minnesota electoral college met in Gov. Van Sant's office Monday and formally cast its vote for McKinley and Roosevelt.

Wm. E. Lee was elected chairman of the college and was also designated as messenger to carry the vote to Washington. John L. Geissel was secretary.

The messenger will receive 25 cents for each of the 3,000 miles traveled on the trip to Washington and return. The others are due to receive $3 for each 20 miles or fraction thereof traveled, to St. Paul, and $3 for attending the meeting, but there is now no fund from which to pay them. The legislature will have to make an appropriation to pay them.

The members of the college studied the vote prior to the session and came to the conclusion that the law should be changed. The difference between the highest and the lowest electoral vote on each side indicated that many voters did not cast a full vote, and that in a close year, the difference might result in the election of the college, part of which would be for one ticket and part for another.

In order to obviate this danger, the college passed a resolution declaring it to be the sentiment of the college that the law should be changed that the markings of a ballot in one place should be counted as a vote for that electoral ticket.

A copy of the resolution was left with the governor to present to the legislature. It reads:

"Whereas, the result of the last general election shows that Wm. E. Lee received 190,461 votes, that H. W. Stone received 180,466 votes, and that the other seven republican presidential electors received each a different number of votes, ranging between these two extremes; that on the democratic ticket Rudolph Schiffmann received 112,901 votes, and T. C. Hodgson received 106,020 votes, and that the other seven electors received each a different number of votes ranging between these two extremes; that this result shows the voter did not in all cases express his full vote for either presidential candidate, and,

"Whereas, in case of a close vote in the state this discrepancy would result in electing some of the presidential electors for one candidate and some for another, and,

"Whereas, the vote for electors is impersonal, the intention being to vote for a regularly nominated candidate for president and vice president. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, in the opinion of the electoral college of this state, the law should be so amended that the marking or the ballot in but one place should be counted for the full electoral ticket of that party."

SALT INJECTIONS

Effective in Saving Congressman Neville's Life

Washington, Jan. 11.—Armed with salt, physicians and trained nurses for forty-eight hours have been engaged in a hand to hand fight with death over the prostrate form of Congressman William Neville, of North Platte, Neb. The physicians say they have apparently won a victory.

This feat of medical skill and science was accomplished with four quarts of salt water. The solution was pumped into the veins of the dying man in various places on his back and breast by means of the ordinary sort of syringes used for hypodermic injections. The use of salt was a last resort, the patient having lost a great quantity of blood from hemorrhages caused by the pneumonia and having become so weak that he could not open his eyes. His death was expected at any moment, and his case was regarded as hopeless, in particular on account of his age. He is nearly 60.

By injecting salt water for his heart it was thought that his life would be prolonged for a day or two at least. His family were not in the city, but were on the way to his bedside. The purpose of injections has been fulfilled, and today the assembled family, including his wife and children and nephew, were cheered by the statement that death had been driven off by the wonderful power of salt.

Congressman Neville served through the War of the Rebellion as an officer of Company H, One Hundred and Forty-second Infantry, and wounds received in battle made his case more difficult to manage. His district in Nebraska comprises thirty-two counties and he is known in all states as a stanch friend of the dairy interests.

Oleomargarine War.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Jan. 10—The dairy and creamery men of South Dakota have inaugurated a war on the manufacturers of oleomargarine and other adulterated food products. The creamery men claim that through a lack of adequate laws, oleomargarine and other adulterated articles of food are having full sway in South Dakota. It is used by unscrupulous persons to preserve dairy products—milk and cream — to be sold to an unsuspecting public as food. The proposed new law will, it is believed, put a stop to these practices and will result in a war to the bitter end between the creamery and dairy men and the manufacturers of oleomargarine and other adulterated food products.

New Brake Invented.

London, Jan. 10.—The Geneva correspondent of the Daily Mail credits an engineer named Planta with the invention of a mechanical brake that will stop a train running 25 miles a hour within 8 yards, and 50 miles an hour within 20 yards. Passengers can apply the brakes by pulling the alarm cords. The shock is less than that caused by existing brakes. The correspondent adds that the government will adopt the invention on trains throughout Switzerland.

BURNED HIM

Kansas the Scene of Another Case of Burning at the Stake.

Lansing, Kan., Jan. 16.—Fred Alexander, the negro who assaulted Miss Eva Roth last Saturday, and who was yesterday formally charged with the murder of Pearl Forbes, the factory girl who was assaulted and [illegible]ed by her assailant on Nov. 6, was taken from his cell here yesterday afternoon by a mob of three hundred men who stormed the penitentiary, hurried him to the scene of the attack on Miss Roth and there burned him at the stake. Two companies of militia were ordered to the scene but arrived too late to prevent the mob's action.

The detailed description given of the affair is horrible in the extreme. The unfortunate man earnestly and persistently protested his innocence, but the enraged mob ignored his protestations and continued their preparations, chained him to an iron stake, piled wood around him, saturated both the wood and the victim's clothes with coal oil and set it on fire. The flames leaped about him and seemed to convey to him for the first time the real conviction of what was for his fate. His torture was not very prolonged, for in about five minutes from the time the match was applied he was hanging limp and lifeless by the chains that bound him.

NEW PENITENTIARY

Warden Reeve Asks for Appropriation for Such Purpose.

Stillwater, Jan. 10.—Warden Reeve, of the state prison, has had plans and speifications prepared for a proposed new building at the prison and the legislature will be asked to appropriate $38,000 to erect it. It is designed to be absolutely fire proof and built of stone, with brick trimmings. The location is east of the cell house and the building is planned to be 196 feet by 36 feet and two stories high in addition to the basement. In it are to be located a large dining room, an immense bath room of forty rooms, a bakery, laundry, cook room and tailor shop. The specifications call for the best materials, including steel structural iron, tile floor in the bath room, and hard maple floor in other rooms. The present dining room is much too crowded and the bath room is badly needed.

SECRETARY WITHOUT PAY

Flickertail Enforcement League Executive Committee Meeting.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 15.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the State Enforcement League the report of Secretary A. Lindelie for the past nine months was read, and showed that the league had been very active in the prosecution of the violators of the law.

The report shows that during that time 226 actions had been started, the great number of which were successful in stopping the sale of liquor in the places run by the defendants in the actions.

The resignation of A. Lindelie was tendered and accepted, and Robert S. Bosard was appointed to serve as secretary till the first day of April, without salary. It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the league at Fargo on the 28th of March.

Smallpox in Law School

Madison, Wis., Jan. 11.—The law school of the Wisconsin university was closed today on account of a small pox scare, one of the students having been stricken with the disease. Over three hundred students were exposed. It is feared if the disease continues to spread the whole university may be closed.

Habeas Corpus Granted.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who wrecked the finest saloon in Wichita, will gain her liberty Saturday after spending two weeks in the jail here. The supreme court has granted a writ of habeas corpus. The decision abolishes the quarantine. When she gets out she says she will raid other saloons.

Wouldn't That Jar You?

Retrenchment has struck Grand Forks county commissioners with a vengeance. At a meeting Thursday it was decided to fix the salaries of all the deputies, clerks and janitors at the flat rate of $40 per month, and no deviation. And the air around the court house in that city is sulphuric. Some of the deputies have heretofore received as high as $120 per month. It is probable the whole force will walk out.

FOREST DESTRUCTION.

There is a strong movement in the northwestern states for congress to make a national park at the head waters of the Mississippi, in order to save from destruction very nearly the last virgin forest of pine existing in America. The movement finds voice in the February number of the Delineator in a description given of the work undertaken by the Women's clubs of Minnesota. Their forestry work will have interest for the state of Wisconsin and Michigan, in fact, the country at large.

Telephone to Cuba.

New York, Jan. 16.—The first undersea telephone built according to the invention of Michael I. Pupin is to be put down between Florida and Cuba for the United States government by the buyer of the patent, the Bell Telephone company.

The company equipped a line from Bedford station on the Harlem railroad which ran partly under water, to New Bedford, Mass., thence to Albany and on to Pittsburg. The test was so satisfactory that about two weeks before its option expired the company paid the money and closed the contract with Pupin.

CITY AND VICINITY

—County Auditor Petterson spent Sunday with his family at McIntosh.

Rose Mint Tooth Paste makes the teeth white and the breath sweet. 25c per jar.

D. McEachern, of McIntosh, passed through here Sunday night on his way to St. Paul.

Slocum & Sargent Tuesday began the erection of a large ice house near the N. P. passenger depot.

—That awful pain! Mull's Lightning Pain Killer instantly cures. Safe for invalids. 25c. S. A. Wallace.

—In probate court Tuesday the last will and testament of Betsy Simpson, of this city, was admitted to probate.

—Judge Holt last Monday united in marriage M. N. Nelson of Marshall county and Miss Mary E. Hueseth of this city.

—Mrs. W. J. Anderson, of Grand Forks, came in Tuesday morning and be the guest of Mrs. Sylvester Peterson for a few days.

—For nervousness and sleeplessness try Lincoln's Hop and Celery Nerve Tablets. 25 cents per box. For sale by A. G. Andersen, druggist.

—Conductor Harry Walker, who had so far recovered from grip as to venture out, has had a relapse, and is again confined to his bed

C. C. Bowen has just completed a fine piece of papering in C. C. Hoch's Wabasha Buffet interior which is nothing unusual to say for Bowen.

—Mrs. Dan McKinnon was taken suddenly ill Sunday noon with fainting spells, and a physician was summoned. She soon rallied, and is much improved today.

—Among the prominent farmers in the city Monday were O. Ringdal, E. P Remme, Ole Horstad, S. O. Ottedal and H. C. Hendricks, all of the town of Garden.

—J. H. Boyd, the real estate man, returned Saturday from Nevada, Ia., where he was called by telegram a week ago, on important business matters.

—The sheriff's office was today moved into the county attorney's office in the court house, the latter official preferring to have his office in the Reckitt block.

—Manager Swanson of the Western Union Telegraph Company will leave this evening for Grand Forks, where he will relieve the manager of the W. U. T. for a week or so.

—Harry Halverson, who recently returned from Evansville, Indiana, has leased the Woodbam cottage on forth Broadway. His family arrived from his late home Saturday.

—The sons of Scotland in this city are making arrangements for the observance of Burns' day, January 25, and, as at former occasions, the program will not lack in its perfection.

—Two marriage licenses were issued today, the first to Peter Matson, of Ada, and Miss Laura Vraa, of Fertile, and the other one to Peder L. Wigen and Miss Clara A. Johnson, both of Neilsville.

—The Journal has it from a reliable source that Hon. M. J. Daly, fusion candidate for congressman for this district at the late election, will be one of the principal speakers at the tri state drainage convention this week.

—Attorney E. O. Hagen had as guests on Sunday Dr. Oscar Barleson, of Fergus Falls, and J. C. Chamberlain, of Badger, Roseau county, both of whom were former classmates of Mr. Hagen. They returned to their respective homes today.

—While billposter Gale Dunlevy was sticking up "Brown's in Town" bills Monday, M. R. Brown happened along and noticing the date of the show, remraked: "That's Brown's (his own 63rd anniversary, and Brown will see "Brown's in Town" on Brown's birthday."

—Stoner, the new town out in the Black Duck country, is having a building boom. A gentleman from this city who passed through there last week says that there are now at least one thousand people on the new townsite, and buildings are going up in every direction.

—Deputy Sheriff Swenson, of Marshall county, came in Monday evening, having in charge John Johnson, an insane man about 55 years of age, whom he took to Fergus Falls on the night train. The unfortunate is doubly afflicted, suffering badly from a cancer of the mouth, besides mental disturbance.

—County Auditor Adam Zeh, of Red Lake Falls county, was a passenger for St. Paul last Monday, to be in attendance at the meeting of the County Auditors' Association of the state, which convenes there today. He was joined here by Auditor Petterson, and ex-Auditor Gleason, who is president of the association.

—President Robinson, of the Red River Valley Burns club Monday said to the Journal reporter that no program will be arranged by this club for the celebration of Burns day in Crookston this year. This is due to the fact that a large number of its members will participate in the celebration at Grand Forks.

Landlord Chas. B. Hill, of the Columbia hotel of Moorhead, accompanied by ex-County Auditor Ole Kittelsrud, came up from the wicked Red River city Monday morning and were piloted through the city by Col. John R. Rasmussen. Among other notable sights of Crookston, the court house was one of the main attractions viewed by the trio.

—At the band concert next Friday evening the audience will have an especially fine musical treat served to them through Mr. Ryan, of the Ryan-Kiler & Co. grocery firm of this city, who will render several banjo solos Those who have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Ryan before, pronounce him an artist in the manipulation of that instrument.

—The operation performed upon Mike Reitmeier, who resides in the town of Lowell, this county, was very successful and the young man was able to leave the hospital last evening and return home.

—Miss Nora Rasmussen, of Moorhead, is visiting her sister, Mrs. O H. Dahl, as well as other relatives.

—Brown & Ralph, who recently opened a real estate agency in the Rolsch block, have an attractive sign painted in the offices window.

—The funeral of little William McKinley Sampson, who died Tuesday morning, occurred Friday afternoon from the home of the bereaved parents.

—Jake Schlosstein, Harry Wyand and Oscar Jensen are preparing their logging outfit, and will soon leave with twenty horses for the woods out at Bemidji.

—The easthound Great Northern was three hours late Thursday and reached here shortly before midnight. The delay was due to late arrival of the overland train at Grand Forks.

—I. K. Messelt, of Mentor, who is a prominent candidate for state weighmaster at Duluth, came in on the evening train Thursday, and is looking up endorsements for his appointment.

—Rev. C. E. White has resigned the pastorate at the Presbyterian church at Stephen, and passed through here Thursday on his way to St. Paul, where he will be stationed in the future.

—Daniel Howard, of Cresco, Ia., and F. P. Wells, of Minneapolis, are visiting with J. F. Creamer. Mr. Howard is a brother-in-law of Mr. Creamer's, and will remain for a short time only.

—Stop that Cough right away with Mull's Lightning Cough Cure. It heals disease of throat and lungs. It's pure and good for children. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—George Pfister, who for a number of years conducted a meat market at Warren, has sold out his business there and is looking for a new location. He was in the city over night and went to St. Hilaire this morning.

—Representative Chas. Rapp came up from the state capitol Friday and passed through the city on his way to St. Hilaire, the legislature having adjourned at the close of yesterday's session until Monday morning.

—Mrs. Henry Burkhart is preparing to leave on a three months visit with relatives at Wabasha. Mr. Burkhart, who is acting as file clerk during the present legislature, will return with his wife at the close of the session.

—J. H. Pratt, who a few years ago conducted the St. James hotel on Main street and later on went to Manitoba to work on the Canadian Pacific railway, returned from there Thursday and will remain here the balance of the winter.

—Henry Schlosstein, one of the substantial farmers of Crookston township, was in the city Thursday and stated that the new century opened very auspiciously for him, the latest at his house being the arrival of a tiny little daughter.

—Wm. Munch, who is now filling a position in C. C. Hoch's establishment, is in possession of an excellent sample of a blue ribbon sugar cane stock, which measures over twelve inches in length and is 1½ inches in diameter. He secured this specimen of plant while in Texas.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Demars, who were recently married in this city, returned from their honeymoon trip to Wabasha Friday and Saturday the young couple left for Devils Lake, N. D., where they will reside in future. Mrs. Demars is a sister of the Burkhart brothers of this city.

—Neil McDougal, be of Lockhart farm repute, left Saturday for his claim in Itasca county, where he will superintend his logging operations. John Reilly will accompany him and look after the cooking at the camp Mac's entire crew will be made up in this city and will number eight or ten men.

—The first of a series of literary lectures at the Crookston business college occurred Friday night and was well attended. Attorney Holston delivered a very able address to the students, and if the rest of the lectures prove as effective as the first one, the purpose of the course will easily be achieved.

—Miss Emma J. Woodall has been compelled to resign her position as teacher in the Fourth ward school, on account of ill health and the school board has employed Miss Kate Marin to fill the vacancy. Miss Woodall's retirement is a great disappointment to the little ones, many of whom declare, "she is the best teacher they ever had."

—County Surveyor A. M. Gray is in receipt of a letter from his brother, Dr. W. A. Gray, who is located at Smiths Falls, Ontario, stating that he would soon start on a trip over here and take a look at western life, and incidentally do a little moose hunting. Dr Gray, although still young, is a retired practicing physician, and a former schoolmate of Dr. Dunlop of this city.

—Mrs. H. E. Nesne, of Crookston came up Saturday for her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ralph, who will make her home at the Nesne residence for some time. Mrs. Ralph last Friday night was seized with a dizzy spell while making the fire, and sustained slight injuries to he forehead. She had been alone in her cottage adjoining the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. N Bourdon.—Red Lake Falls Courier.

—Geo. L. Hall, the handsome and versatile representative of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, who has headquarters in this city, witnessed the chess games played between H. N. Pillsbury of Minneapolis and a number of Grand Forks players at the latter place Friday night. Mr. Hall says Pillsbury is a marvelous expert at this famous game, and played a number of boards at the same time blindfolded.

Stops the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, no Pay. Price 25 cents.

—Emil Griebstein and Lena Hangen, both of Keystone, were granted license to wed.

Gen. Rutherford of Keystone, left Wednesday with a four horse team for Solway, where he has a logging contract.

—One of the official acts of the secretary of the new driving association performed, was to assist a disabled driver off the track.

—Mrs. N. P. Stone went to River Falls, Wis., Monday night to take care of her daughter, Miss Ida Stone, who is suffering an attack of typhoid fever at the home of her aunt in that place.

—Manager John Gillespie, of the bonanza Stephen farm, up in Marshall county, passed through here Monday on his way to St. Paul. He expects to return in time to take in thedrainage convention.

—A. L. Eidemiller, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington railway, is in the city, and in company with Assistant Ticket Agent Alstrom, of the Great Northern here, is distributing the Burlington calendar for 1901.

—Jos. Eckert, the obliging chief clerk of the Crookston hotel is on deck again after a few days' tussle with the grip, and his voice through the telephone has once more assumed its accustomed melodious sweetness. Hello, Jo!

—The disease of Liver Complaint is alarmingly prevalent and it's dangerous. Mull's Pioneer Liver Cure has brought health to a host of sufferers. $1.00 draft in each $1.00 box as a guarantee. 25c. S. A. Wallace.

—Work was begun on the new Great Northern passenger depot at Bemidji Wednesday. The new structure will be of frame, and large enough to accommodate the steadily increasing business in that thriving young city.

—H. Stechman, formerly proprietor of the Columbia hotel in this city, came in from the Black Duck region Thursday and reported building operations out there booming. His new hotel is now in course of erection and will be opened for business within a very short time

—Dr. Robinson is the happy possessor of a musical cat, which he prizes very highly. The other night Tom showed symptoms of sickness and the genial doctor got up from bed long after midnight and procured the cat doctor to save his pet's life. That's what he did.

—Editor Edgley, of the Erskine Echo, so the Journal reporter learns, contemplates the removal of his paper and plant from the present location to either Kennedy or Argyle early next summer. Bro. Egley is a hustler and publishes a live newspaper. Any locality may feel proud of his editorial ability.

—"Bob" Burton, familiarly known in this city and throughout the northwest as "Poker Bob," died last Friday at Breckinridge, and his remains were taken to Minneapolis for burial. Burton was a well known character in this section for many years and during the last few years accumulated quite a good sized chunk of earthly possessions.

There is a movement on foot among the Irish residents of Warren to organize and prepare to properly celebrate St. Patrick's day. There is not a very large number here who trace their immediate ancestry to the Emerald Isle, but enough to carry to a success such an enterprise as is contemplated Let 'er go, boys.—Warren Sheaf.

—The jury in the case of the Hollwood Register Company vs. J. N. Oman of McIntosh, which was tried Thursday, returned a verdict for the defendant, as the evidence plainly showed that he had countermanded the order originally given for a cash register, and the agent who secured it failed to cancel the same and afterwards tried to bluff Oman into payment for something he didn't want.

—Our real estate men are all enjoying a new experience this winter that is as mysterious in its cause as it is pleasing in its effect. Never before has there been such a movement in land during the winter months as there has been this winter. In fact, as a rule, business in that line is suspended from the time it freezes in the fall till the return of warm weather. The fact that no great amount of snow has fallen as yet is very fortunate, as prospective buyers can see the quality of the land they examined.—Warren Sheaf.

—J. G. White, who for the past six months has been in charge of the large dry goods department in Fontaine & Anglin's store, has severed his connection with that establishment and left for Minneapolis Sunday evening where he has accepted a position. During his brief stay here Mr. White has made many friends who will regret to hear of his departure. His late employers speak highly of him as a competent salesman, and were sorry to lose his services.

—The new ice track, which was used for the first time Sunday afternoon, attracted a large crowd of spectators to witness the speed of some of the fleet-footted equines, which were stepping over the icy driveway. Some good time was made, and proved that there is some excellent horse flesh owned in this city. Bert Anderson's pacer, "Poor Jim," made his first appearance on the track and made a good showing. "Poor Jim" promises to be the coming horse. Sunday morning

—Major J. H. Fraine of Grafton, who was in town Monday defending a land contest case, is one of the brave soldiers of the late unpleasantness with Spain. At the time of the attack on Peatte, Major Fraine made his charge with the second battalion of the North Dakota troops, and suffered the greatest loss of men experienced at any one time during the entire campaign. When the smoke of the battle had cleared away the North Dakota regiment had five soldiers dead and fifty-two wounded.

Chris Espe, who has been down in the Itasca country for a few weeks, has returned and speaks encouragingly of that section. He was particularly well pleased with the surroundings of Island Lake, a small body of water in Itasca county, about two miles wide and three long, which contains a narrow strip of land nearly one mile in length and containing about thirty-nine acres. The lake and island are owned by a man named Hutchinson, and the former is full of fish, while the latter has a goodly growth of trees and shrubbery, making it a beautiful spot of nature.

—Will Walsh and Miss Anna Gemhe were married Tuesday at the residence of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Walsh, on Summit avenue, Rev. H. M. Green performing the ceremony. The groom is one of the first born children in Crookston, and has hosts of friends here and wherever he is known The young bride also enjoys a large circle of friends who extend congratulations to the happy couple.

The New York Store

THE MAMMOTH DEPARTMENT STORE

We are going to try and break a record and at the dullest time of the year.

Here is the Story Briefly.

BIG REDUCTION IN OVERSHOES		MEN'S CAPS
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies—worth $1.00, now	75c	Men's Caps worth 50c, now	40c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.25, now	95c	Men's Caps worth 75c, now	65c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.50, now	$1 15	Men's Caps worth $1.00, now	75c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.75, now	$1 35	Men's Caps worth $1.25, now	95c

TWO LOTS OF SHOES

Lot 1 we start with	69c	Lot 2 we start with	59c

Ladies' all Felt, Fur Top Juliets in quilted silk, plain and plaid. 99c

Big Reduction on Dress Goods, Ladies' Shirt Waists, Silk and Flannel. Ladies' Jackets, Cloaks, Capes, Fur Coats, etc., at about Half Price.

"WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE."
COME AND SAVE MONEY.

A. CHABOT.

Sole Agent for Standard Patterns.

WARREN.

Dr. Wattum returned from St. Paul Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanton of Argyle were in the city Friday night.

Hettie Searls went to Grand Rapids Friday to teach a term of school.

Mrs. Schantzen went to Euclid Monday night to visit friends for a few days.

Lilly Tripp invited a few of her friends in Thursday night to help celebrate her birthday.

Geo. Peck returned to Argyle Friday morning after a week's work as one of the members of the county board.

L. M. Oleson will handle the register of deed's office for the next two years at least, with Hans Jinsdahl as deputy for the present.

Mr. Dogobeey is instated as treasurer for Marshall county for the next two years, and Mr. Fosberg is sheriff, with Mr. Nelson as deputy.

At this writing one of the worst storms of the season is raging and how long it will last is a conundrum which we will not attempt to guess.

Mr. and Mrs. Winchester entertained their friends Friday night in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Winchester, who leave soon for New York city.

The Tea Test social given by the Epworth League at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rafferty Saturday night drew quite a crowd and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Frank Searls has sold his farm north of town and talks of going to Washington next month. Mr. Barnes is also going. We are sorry to see so many old settlers leave here, but wish them an abundance of success in their new homes.

We understand that A. B. Isaacson, who has just finished a five years' term as register of deeds for Marshall county, was offered the deputyship as sheriff, but refused the same, and that he is going to seek some new town and start in business for himself.

At The Episcopal Church.

Special services will be held Jan. 24, 25, 26 and 27, with preaching and instruction by the Rev. Arch Deacon Webber. Hours of service, 9 a. m., 4 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., each day. All are welcome.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

HALSTAD.

G. O. Benson left Tuesday for St. Paul.

Mis Mary Emmerud, who has been dressmaker here for the last two years left Saturday for her home at Montevideo.

J.O. Nygaard returned last Thursday from a visit with friends and relatives at the Twin cities, and the southern part of the state.

Ed Houske went to St. Paul last Saturday and returned Monday, bringing home John Stene, who has been at Bethesda hospital and was treated for consumption. John will not live many days.

C. Ed. Nordby and M. A. Ranem left for St. Paul last Saturday in response to a telegram received by Mr. Ranem stating that Mrs. Ranem had committed suicide at the Bethesda hospital at St. Paul last Friday. Mrs. Ranem was staying at the hospital being treated for some kind of nervous sickness, and it was reported she was doing nicely. They returned Monday with the remains and the funeral was held Wednesday in the Lutheran church. The bereaved husband has the sympathy of the entire community.

The K. P. lodge had their installation of officers last Monday night and as usual a social hop and oyster supper afterwards. The following were installed into their respective offices:

C. C.—G. E. Benson.
V. C.—E. E. Dahl.
P.—C. L. Sulerud.
M.W.—I. Iverson.
K. R. S.—J. O. Nygaard.
M. F.—A. Eckern.
M. E.—S. E. Bergh.
M. A.—G. J. Gilberts.
I. G.—J. I. Nelson.
O. G.—Peter Houske.

ANGUS.

A. Evans was in Euclid on Tuesday night.

Mr. H. R. Campion was in Crookston Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. King were in Warren Thursday.

F. R. Stevens spent Thursday night in Crookston.

F. M. Zenner came up from Crookston Wednesday.

J. F. Montgomery spent Wednesday nigh in Crookston.

Herman Ostelok was in Crookston Tuesday on business.

J. M. Palmer and D. H. Miller drove to Crookston Tuesday.

Mr. Warrenington, superintendent of the Duluth Elevator Company, was in town Friday.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company of solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly. $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses, straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn, St., Chicago.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

AGREED TO DIE

Thrilling Experiences of Women In Pekin During the Siege.

New York, Jan. 16.—The thrilling experience of Miss Mary Condit Smith, sister-in-law of Major General Wood, and the other women who were shut in the British legation at Peking during the siege, were kept in a diary by Miss Smith, who has sold the diary to New York publishers for $10,000 for reproduction in book form. Miss Smith tells a remarkable story of the doings in the legation during the siege She says:

"We grew to be horribly expert in pistol practice. Every woman in the legation was provided with a pistol, and the vital spots, where a well directed bullet would kill instantly, were pointed out to her. Every day we practiced target shooting, and firing, most horrible of all, with blank cartridges at ourselves, to steady our nerves and accustom us to the sound of a pistol.

"At sight of the first Boxer scaling the wall or forcing the gates of the legation, we were to place the muzzle of the pistol in the mouth and blow off the top of the head. Should any woman's courage fail her, the men of the legation, down to the lowest, were pledged to instantly shoot the woman, until not one should be left alive when the Boxers took possession of the place.

"For days and nights together not a soul in the legation dared to sleep, but stood ready at any moment to use the pistols in their hands, which, tired as they were, never once relaxed their hold upon the weapon of death.

"On one never-to-be-forgotten occasion we were actually lined up with the men in a solid line in front of us, for it was momentarily expected that the Boxers would gain possession. Had they done so at that time not one woman would have been alive, for at a given signal from those on the watch the men were to turn and shoot us down as we stood.

"The indescribable horror of that time will never be effaced from my mind. Night after night since then have I lain awake, going all over it again, or sink into sleep only to be tortured with dreams as harrowing as the actual experiences."

OLD RESIDENT DEAD

Henry Sheperd, an Early Settler, Dies at Riverside Hospital.

After a two weeks' illness, Henry Sheperd, a long time and well known resident of this city, died at Riverside hospital Wednesday. The deceased located at Fisher in the latter part of the seventies and a few years later came to Crookston where he has resided ever since. He was a well educated gentleman and during the early days in this city held various official positions, among others that of city justice and police officer. He leaves no relatives in this country so far as known and did not belong to any secret order. At the time of his death he was 71 years of age.

VERY LIVELY

Promises to be the Tri-State Drainage Convention Friday and Saturday.

LARGE DELEGATION

Will be Present From Nearly Every Point of the District Affected.

Grand Forks business men, like in every other locality, are taking an active interest in the coming drainage convention, and the Herald this morning says:

A lively interest is being manifested by the people of Grand Forks in the tri-state drainage convention to be held in Crookston on Friday and Saturday of this week. The great success of the convention held in this city is still fresh in the memories of all and those who took such an active interest in the question at that time will do all in their power to agitate the matter till active steps are taken by the government to accomplish the objects advocated at that time.

Mayor Dinnie yesterday announced the committee that will represent Grand Forks at the convention as follows:

John Dinnie, L. Guthrie, F. S. Lycan, Geo. B. Clifford, Stephen Collins, W. A. Gordon, F. P. Nash, Geo. B. Winship, E. C. Carruth, F. A. Brown, Thos. Beare, Jas. Elton, W. B. Wood, S. S. Titus, J. B. Mooney, E. J. Lander.

On account of pressure of business a number of the committee will be unable to attend the session on Friday, but it is expected that the full delegation will be present on Saturday. The train service is excellent for this, as it is possible to go over in the morning and get back to the city at 5:30 in the evening, and for this reason it is expected that a number of others aside from those on the committee will attend. The program includes addresses from people of national reputation who have made a life-long study of the subjects assigned them and therefore the meeting cannot fail to be of interest to every resident of the valley. It is understood the attendance from all the valley towns will be very large, and the gathering will be a most enthusiastic one.

The people of Crookston have taken a great interest in the matter and all the arrangements to be made by the local committee for it have already been completed. The visit to Crookston will be enjoyed by all the delegates to the convention, as that city has long been famous for its hospitality, and it affords the people of Grand Forks especially great pleasure to have an opportunity to greet her citizens.

DRAINAGE NOTES.

Hon. Ledru Guthrie, former president of the Drainage Association, and a leading attorney of Grand Forks, has been substituted as speaker for George B. Winship, owing to the latter's illness. Mr. Guthrie is well versed in the drainage movement and will deliver an interesting discourse on this subject.

Mayor Campbell, after being allowed the necessary expense money by the city council, to defray legitimate outlays for the drainage convention, called upon the members of the Crookston band and stated to them in well chosen remarks his mission. He wanted them to consider themselves engaged for the coming event and asked them to state their price for playing on the two days. The mayor was not a little surprised at the magnanimous liberality the organization showed, and the interest taken by them in this matter, when the leader informed him that there would be no charges on their part for the entire session of the convention. This display of generosity on the part of Crookston's crack musical organization will certainly be fully appreciated by every citizen and patron of the band.

Prof. Chas. M. Hall, B. S., for a number of years connected with the government geological survey, and now professor of geology of the North Dakota Agricultural college at Fargo, has written Mayor Campbell that he will be in attendance at the convention and proposes to take an active part in the work.

The arrangement committee has four men out in the country distributing advertising matter for the convention. Polk county will, no doubt, furnish more than its proportion of the attendance.

CUSH. K. DAVIS

Deserved Tributes Paid the Late Minnesota Statesman

Saturday was a day of eulogy in memory of the late Cushman K. Davis, and eloquent were many of the tributes paid the departed statesman.

The address of Charles A. Towne is regarded as one of the most eloquent ever delivered in the senate chamber. It dealt with many salient features in Mr. Davis' life, which other speakers had omitted. In referring to Mr. Towne's remarks, the Associated Press reports say:

When Charles A. Towne rose to speak, there was an air of genuine expectancy which permeated the vast audience.

And from the first sentence until the close of his eloquent and effective panegyric the Duluth orator held the galleries spellbound. Towne is a word painter, an idealist, a poet and an actor.

The theme was one which furnished a wide latitude for his cultured mind and splendid diction.

He began by saying that in these sacred precincts the works of eulogy and praise always leaped from willing tongues whenever one of the members of the august body had passed away.

No words that he could marshal could do justice to the memory of Davis. His life and his character, although shining bright at the zenith of his fame, would, nevertheless, be better understood and more fully appreciated by the world as history comes to be written.

Mr. Towne at some length alluded to the poetical and ideal side of Davis' character. He was lord of a wonderful creation when in his library surrounded by his favorite authors.

He quoted liberally from Davis works on the law in Shakespeare and said that the English language contained no finer classics than the lecture of Davis on Hamlet. Mr. Towne said:

"Mr. President:

"The language of eulogy has many times awakened the echoes of these august walls. Often in this place have affection, gratitude and admiration paid their unstinted tribute to great talent, exalted character, valiant deeds and useful service.

"Here whatever is high in purpose or excellent in performance has again and again been celebrated by all that is noble in thought and eloquent in speech.

"Today, with whatsoever humbleness a voice may raise itself to mingle with these mighty memories, there is that in the subject of this observance which vindicates propriety by transforming presumption into duty.

"His countrymen at large had hardly reached a just appreciation of the native genius and the vast and varied acquirements of Cushman Kellog Davis when envious death obscured the light, whose radiance had but begun to shine in its peculiar sphere and with its own original lustre.

"The people of his commonwealth, among whom he lived his simple, unostentatious, busy life, in a familiar association of more than thirty years had come to know him well.

"His name is a household word throughout the state of Minnesota. His varied endowment, his wide and accurate scholarship, his versatile capacity, were common knowledge; and when he was called, as his fellow citizens knew he sometime must be, to a large opportunity upon the theatre of the national history, they looked confidently forward to a career that should leave all his countrymen as well assured as they themselves already were of his right to a place in the pantheon of American greatness."

A FIRE PANIC

Causes Loss of Lives and Many Injured in Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Six people were crushed to death and as many more seriously injured in a panic which followed a man's cry of "fire" late Saturday afternoon in West Twelfth Street Turner hall. About 800 people were in the place, gathered to witness the performance of a play entitled "The Greenhorn."

The play was in Yiddish, and the audience, comprising for the most part women and children, were all Hebrews. The hall stands in the center of a district densely populated by Jews.

The play was nearly over when the cry which caused the panic was raised, and within five seconds after it rang through the hall the entire audience was converted into a frantic mob, every member of which was fighting for the safety which lay beyond the doors of the building.

Around the upper part of the hall extends a balcony which is open only at one end. Here was seated 150 women and children, and the women at the farther end of the balcony, away from the stairway, seeing that the rush toward the exit was blocked to them and their children, began at once to throw the little ones over the railing to the floor below.

The children fell into the midst of the maddened throng, and were at once trampled under foot.

It is known that three of the dead were children who were thrown from the balcony and were trampled by the crowd, with not a chance for their lives.

Following the children many of the women sprang from the balcony upon the crowd below, and others swinging over, hung by their hands before they dropped.

On the main floor the crush was much worse than in the balcony. The main exits from the hall and the only ones known to a majority of those who frequent the place, are two doors in the south end of the main auditorium that open upon winding stairs, eight steps down, unite into one broad flight leading to the main door at the Twelfth street front.

Around these two doors a frantic mass of men, women and children was packed, all struggling fiercely to force their way down the stairs.

At the landing where the two flights of stairs winding down with the main hall unite, a woman stumbled and fell.

In an instant a score of people were down, and before the rush was over four lives had been crushed out in a space of four feet wide and six feet long.

Within a few minutes after the beginning of the panic it was all over, and the police and firemen, who came hurrying to the scene of the disaster, were called on to do nothing beyond carrying away the dead and injured and keeping back the thousands of people who tried to force their way into the building.

The alarm of fire was false, there having been no blaze at any time.

The furnace in the building was somewhat defective, and at times allows sparks to pass up through the registers. It was the sight of these sparks rising into the room that frightened the man who raised the cry of fire.

Six persons are known to have been killed and some others are missing and forty are more or less injured.

A New Method

The Bulletin has a number of subscription accounts against supposed responsible parties which are offered for sale at a very low price. Names and amounts will be made known on application at this office.—Fisher Bulletin.

Made Young Again.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again" writes D. H. Turner of Dempseytown, Pa. They're the best in the world for Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Purely vegetable. Never gripe. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's Drug Store.

AERIALLY

Is the Way we are to Travel Before the Close of This Century.

AN AIRY PREDICTION

Indulged in by a Visionary Newspaper Writer in Washington.

"The conquest of the air will be one of the achievements of the twentieth century," said a Smithsonian scientist. "Aerial navigation has been the dream of enterprising and inventive men in all the ages, and that dream is now near to its realization."

It is a fascinating prospect, this possibility of flitting around from city to city with as much ease as we now go from house to house in the same town. It is estimated that it will be possible to go from New York to London in about 36 hours.

"The aerial navigation of the future," continued the expert, "will not only be much swifter and more direct being in a straight course over moor, mountain or bog, wood, ravine, or river but it will also be much safer than ordinary locomotion by rail and steamer at present, for as the traffic on our railways and steamboats steadily increases the risk of accident on the crowded line and ocean thoroughfares due to a set of objects all moving in one horizontal plane, increases continually as the reports of accidents show. But the flying machine of the future will travel directly and independently through the air from point to point. It will incur no risk from drowsy or overworked signalmen, from inevitable imperfections or in obstructions upon the permanent way, from changes and contingencies due to the running of excursion trains or extra traffic, from icebergs or floating bulks, rocks, shoals, treacherous currents, unreliable compasses or other hindrances to safe navigation. If it meet or overtake another machine in the air it has the whole wide ocean of air above or below it in which to pass in safety, besides an unlimited field on either side. An endless number of external sources of accident will be eliminated. Once let the machine be stable, strong, safe and powerful enough for its work and it will represent the safest kind of locomotion ever invented.

"It will compete with the railroads for light traffic, such as the transport of mails, on terms which must apparently confer an overwhelming advantage. The revolution made in locomotion by the flying machine will be at least as great as that caused during this century by the introduction of railways and steam navigation.

"Without going into technical details, it may be stated that these machines will probably be of very moderate size, much less than the huge navigable balloon for military purposes, for which they will be most valuable, and will, as I happen to know, be speedily adopted. For ordinary or civil purposes they will, no doubt, be small at first, but it is impossible to set limits to their future development. The web, or superposed webs, of aeroplane, part steadying, part sustaining, which will be their leading external feature, will be inclined during flight at a very small angle with the horizontal. Inside this, or below it, there will be a long low car, presenting a minimum surface to the air, in which passengers, light baggage or mails will be carried. The machines will run at a tremendous pace, probably up to or even exceeding 100 miles an hour. It need surprise no one to hear, any day, that the problem of aerial navigation has been solved at last."—Washington Times.

KILLED THE BILL

At Least it is Not Likely to Come up at This Session

Washington, Jan. 15.—The anti-oleomargarine bill is killed for this session. It will not be reported out of the senate committee on agriculture, neither will it be added as a rider to the war revenue bill. Secretary Lyman J. Gage appeared before the senate committee yesterday and his statements clearly show that he is opposed to the measure. He said that the government which is now about to reduce the revenues does not need the money that would accrue from taxing oleomargarine.

"If it is designed as a revenue measure," said Secretary Gage, "we do not need the revenue, and if it is not to be classed as a revenue measure, it is certainly a misnomer. I am speaking from the practical side of the question as related to the revenue features of the bill."

Mr. Gage produced a report from a traveling revenue agent which created much surprise. The report showed that in certain sections of the country the farmers are selling their milk at cheese factories and buying oleomargarine.

The report set forth that the farmers were ordering oleomargarine in ten pound packages and after getting good prices for their milk were making a profit of at least 10 cents per pound as between the price of butter and oleomargarine. The house bill is regarded as dead for this session.

Mysterious Signals

New York, Jan. 15.—Wm. A. Eddy Bayonne, N. J., says that since 1892 he has drawn from his kite wire hundreds of electric signals, both regular and irregular, which may have come from some planet, and that the signals have been usually in groups of three, regularly timed like a Morse sounder. When the ends of the kite-sustained steel wires are separated by silk strands, the sparks jump at 12-second intervals.

Then there are mysterious disappearances of all electric action for several minutes.

These electric sparks come from a high point in the air not near to the low tension electric currents of trolly and live wires.

Mr. Eddy is about to begin a careful series of measurements of these spark lengths. He does not believe that the Morse sounders affect his wires because the dynamo electricity sticks to its wires and does not radiate to unknown distance so far as known, as do the high tension sparks used in wireless telegraphy, and the same high tension sparks drawn by him from the clouds.

Mr. Eddy says that these spark signals may come from an outer planet, because electricity travels at the rate of 190,000 miles a second and is as tireless as light, which travels 188,300 miles a second as measured by a rapidly revolving toothed wheel.

Great variability in effect is produced when there is apparently no change whatever in the condition of the upper air, so far as known.

Mr. Eddy has been trying to decipher these signals since 1892. It is also to be noted that Tesla's signals came from Pike's Peak, and at a high point in the air.

Mr. Eddy points out that electricity is superior to light because an interruption can be transmitted while light suffuses around a dark shadow, especially if the shadow is of small diameter.

GOT A SMELL

Would Like Some of Red Lake County's Good Things.

Evidently little Billy, our down street contemporary, wants more fat patronage, and has reached out after some of the county printing in Red Lake county. The Courier says:

"The Crookston Times had a bid in for the job work at the meeting of our board of county commissioners this week. The Times got a smell of the good thing in the Red Lake county crib last fall when the Courier of this city sent them an order for the county ballots and other work that could have been better done at home. The chickens are coming home to roost. The county orders will not come C. O. D., however."

BUSY LAND OFFICERS

The Business at The Crookston Land Shop is Firm.

The officers of the United States land office at this point report continued activity in the land business, and the proportion of homesteaders greater than is usual at this time of the year. This morning alone six homestead entries and four final proofs were filed. This is about the average of the daily amount of business transacted at this office since the first of the new year, and if it continues at this rate the showing at the end of 1901 will be larger than any previous year.

Sam McClure, of Stillwater, secured another acres of pine land for the sum of $618.

Resuscitated by Salt.

Hamilton, O., Jan. 14.—The efficacy of sodium chloride (common salt) in stimulating heart action was demonstrated in a remarkable manner by Dr. W. Z. Kumler in this city Saturday.

Dr. Kumler was called Saturday afternoon to attend Marcus Sauer, 62 years old, of 516 South Second street, who had long been a sufferer from dropsy. He found the patient apparently quite dead. All the symptoms immediately following dissolution, including perfectly cold extremities, absence of respiration, heart action, and pulse were manifest.

Dr. Kumler resolved to try the salt solution as a final resort. At 1:37 p. m. he injected a quantity of warm water containing 25 per cent of salt in the left arm. In 20 seconds there were signs of a pulse, and it was plain that circulation was being revived.

In 25 minutes a second hypodermic was administered this time in a branch of the brachial artery, in the upper left arm.

In 20 minutes from the second injection respiration was full and rythmal, color returned to the patient's face and he recovered consciousness and asked for food.

Nourishment in the form of broth was administered and soon after Mr. Sauer took a drink of water, one of the best symptoms of returning functional activity. Mr. Sauer was improving last night.

Broke His Leg

What has long been expected happened Sunday eve. and the city will have to answer to a damage suit, because of neglecting to keep the sidewalks clear from snow and ice.

Sunday evening about 10 o'clock as Frank Benoit and N. S. Gervais were walking on the sidewalk in front of the building adjoining the Boston store on Roberts street. Benoit slipped on the icy walk and in falling fractured the small bone of his right leg just above the ankle. He was assisted to his residence and a physician who was called in reduced the fractured member and the injured man is resting easy today.

Ever since the rain of several weeks ago, the sidewalks and outside stairsteps have been in very bad and unsafe condition, and many a pedestrian has experienced a fall as a result of the slippery state of the sidewalks. Not long since Fritz Reyer fell and broke his leg; a wood sawer, whose name is unknown to the Journal reporter, fell and broke his wrist, but neither of the latter two have filed any complaint. Benoit, however, will bring suit for damages as soon as he is able to leave his room, as the ice on the spot where the accident occurred is nearly two inches thick, and, it is claimed, no effort has ever been made to place the walk in a passable condition.

Railroad Ejected.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 12.—Traffic on the Chicago & Southwestern railroad is blockaded southeast of this city and government mails are at a standstill, the result of attempted condemnation proceedings against Wesley Grantham, a farmer.

Grantham obtained several years ago a writ of ejectment against the railroad company, and, failing to secure a settlement, placed the writ in the hands of the sheriff, who at once took a force to the farm and tore up a lot of track. The company's representatives rushed into court and sought an injunction, but this was denied today.

Hundreds of farmers, sympathizing with Grantham, gathered and established an armed guard over the land. During the night two railroad bridges one of them sixty feet long, were dynamited.

M. W. A. Resist Her Claim.

The case of May LaChapelle against the Modern Woodmen of America is on trial in Duluth before Judge Cant. The plaintiff is suing to recover $2,000 on an insurance membership which her deceased husband had in the organization, which is defendant. The defense made is that after he was a member of the order, LaChapelle engaged in the saloon business, and this being strictly against the rules of the order, he forfeited his membership. He had paid his fees all along and they had been accepted by the order. Harris & Norton are attorneys for Mrs. LeChapelle and Chas. G. Laybourn, of Minneapolis, a brother of Geo. R. Laybourn, of this city, is defending the suit.

Was Pension Day.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Not since the Fifty-first congress has the house passed as many private pension bills at a single sitting as it did yesterday. In all 170 special pension bills were passed at yesterday's session. The most important was one to increase the pension of Gen. Americus V. Rice, from $36 to $100. Gen. Rice was wounded several times during the civil war and lost a leg at Vicksburg. He was formerly a member of congress from Ohio and was the author of the arrearages of pension act. The senate had passed a bill to increase his pension to $60 and the house raised the amount to $100.

Floods in Mississippi.

Vicksburg, Miss., Jan. 12.—Ten inches of rain, which fell during the past 36 hours, has paralyzed the railroads entering this city. All trains between here and Meridian have been annulled; and trains on the Vicksburg and Yazoo and Mississippi Valley are delayed many hours. At Baker's Creek the tracks of the Alabama & Vicksburg are from four to six feet under water and the creek is still rising.

Every country road entering the city is impassable, bridges are down and in many places along the hillsides the entire roadbed has been destroyed.

Will Sell His Body.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 11.—Walter Richey, of Delaware county, under sentence to serve a term of years in the Michigan City prison, has offered to sell his body to an Indianapolis medical college for $200, and the proposition will be accepted in a legally drawn document. Richey was but recently married, and he will stipulate that the money for his body, which medical students will hack to pieces, be paid his wife. Richey expects to live only a short time, and the money paid for his body will constitute his estate.

Will Keep Boarders.

New York, Jan. 11.—Left practically without means of support for herself and her three children, Mrs. Alvord, wife of the note teller who confessed to robbing the First National bank of $620,000, will open a boarding house in this city. She has rented her house in Mount Vernon and while her husband is serving his term in prison for theft she will try to make enough money to keep herself and to educate her children.

Received $2,000 Check.

Two years ago Agent M. E. Harbin sold Arthur R. Mattes, who was at that time cashier of the St. Hilaire Lumber Company, a life insurance policy for $2,000. This morning he received from his company a check for $2,000, made payable to Albert L. Mattes of Brainerd, as special administrator of the estate of the policy holder, who it appears died in Colorado about three weeks ago. He had paid two premiums of $87.12 each on the policy.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

Has world-wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Boils, Sores, Felons, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Chapped Hands, Skin Eruptions; infallable for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's.

COUGH KILLER

Price 25 Cents.

Bought the first bottle of DR. ARNOLD'S COUGH KILLER in 1878. Have used it ever since when in need of a Cough Remedy.
F. M. Smith,
Shelbyville, Ill.
Box 196.

For sale by A. G. Anderson, Druggist.

All kinds of work in our line done now at the

One Price Hardware Store.

Also Bicycle Repairing.

N. 213 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

PHYSICIANS

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
DENTIST.
Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

A. A. Just M. D.
HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Special Attention to
- Business Correspondence.
- Land Contest Cases.
- Mortgage Foreclosures.
- Collections.
- Probate Matters.

Room 18 Wallace Block, CROOKSTON, MINN.

Carpenter & Olson.
LAW, LAND, LOANS, COLLECTIONS.
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reekitt block, Crookston Minn.

H. Steenerson,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

Miller & Foote,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room 3 Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans, Insurance........
OFFICIAL ABSTRACTERS OF TITLE FOR POLK COUNTY. CROOKSTON MINN.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning, 11:00, evening, 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
REV. H. M GREEN, B. D
Rector

Stevens Ideal Rifle.
No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.

Made in all the standard calibres both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, [illegible]. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.

[illegible] are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will [illegible] express prepaid.

[illegible] describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.

J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.—ss. In district court.

Agnes Bruggeman, as executrix of the last will and testament of John H. Bruggeman, deceased, plaintiff,

Against

D. W. Luke, W. R. Wood, the Merchants National bank of Crookston, James Pulkrabek and Pulkrabek, co-partners under the firm name and style of Pulkrabek Bros., and John Birkholz, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants and each of them:

You and each of you are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the action above entitled, which has been filed and is now on file, in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to said complaint upon the undersigned at his office in the City of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated Dec. 26, 1900

A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiff,
Crookston, Minnesota

39-44

Order For Hearing Proof of Foreign Will

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.—ss.

In Probate Court, special term, January 15 1901.

In the matter of the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased.

Whereas, Certain writings purporting to be duly authenticated copies of the last Will and testament of Emilie A. Jennings late of Pierce county Washington, deceased, and the probate thereof in the Superior court in said county and state have been delivered to this court:

And, Whereas, Wallace H Jennings has filed therewith his petition, representing among other things that said Emilie A. Jennings lately died in said County of Pierce, State of Washington testate, possessed of certain real estate, situated in said County of Polk and State of Minnesota on which the said Will may operate, and that said petitioner is the executor named in said Will and praying that the said instrument may be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be to I. C. Jennings issued thereon;

It is Ordered, That the proofs of said instrument, and the said petition, be heard before this court, at the probate office in said county, on Wednesday the 13th day of February, A. D. 1901, at two o'clock in the afternoon, when all persons interested may appear for, or contest the probate of said instrument.

And it is Further Ordered, That notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Polk County Journal a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston in said county.

Dated at Crookston the 15th day of January, A. D. 1901.

By the Court,
OLE E. HAGEN,
Judge of Probate.

JOYFUL SURPRISE

Daughter Whose Death Has Been Mourned or a Year Returns.

Around Mary Owens, of Cincinnati, Ohio, there is a story that rivals all efforts at fiction. To her patient and loving mother, who lives at 1422 Elm St., the girl has come to life. Nearly a year ago the mother stood over a slab in the morgue and wept over a bloated corpse that she said was her daughter. The body was that of a girl and was found floating in the water at the foot of Fifth street in the Ohio river on the night of May 9. It was bloated and almost beyond recognition. The corpse was hauled to the morgue and the papers told the news of another tragic death in the Ohio. Whether the corpse was that of a suicide, a murderer's victim or whether drowned by accident probably no one will ever know. Descriptions were published of the corpse and many people called at the morgue, but none identified it until Mrs. Owens appeared. Her daughter had been missing since the third of the month, and all the search by the police failed to bring forth a clew. When Mrs. Owens saw the corpse she believed it to be that of her daughter, but she was determined to be sure, and she sent her husband to look at the body. He said it resembled Mary, and if there was a scar on the cheek he could be certain it was her. The swollen face was carefully examined and sure enough there was a scar. This settled all doubt and they said the corpse was that of the girl.

The saddened mother claimed the body, and the records of the coroner and police say the corpse found in the river at the foot of Fifth street on the night of May 19 was that of Mary Owens. The case was closed.

The grave has been kept green, flowers have been planted and they grew. All this was in loving remembrance. The tears of love and sorrow that dropped upon it will drop no more, for the dead has come back to life. Last Saturday the mail man handed her a postal card. It was simply written and in a few words asked the mother to meet her daughter at the depot. She was surprised. She did not understand it, and all day she wondered. At the depot her daughter, the girl she had sobbed for, the girl whom she thought she had buried, stepped from a train alive and well. There was a happy meeting. They went home and the scene was one of joy for the mother. Mary's story was the old, old one. She went to Indianapolis with a man whose name is suppressed for the present. He lived with her for some time and then deserted her. She finally decided to return home, and there she was in her mother's arms alive and well and not the water bloated corpse that was lost in the mother's memory of her, which was tenderly laid away.

The girl says that she will cut no more capers, but will stay at home hereafter.

THE CASE WAS DISMISSED

A Damage Suit for Breach of Promise Fails to Materialize.

What promised to become a sensational trial at this session of the district court, accompanied by a quantity of racy testimony, was Saturday wiped out by the non-appearance of the plaintiff.

Martha Steller, a young woman of East Grand Forks, had brought an action against John Vosler, a well known business man of the same place, in which she demanded the snug sum of $5000 for violation of promise to make her his wife. Early last spring defendant undertook a three months' trip to Europe, and upon his return he was surprised to learn that the young woman, during his absence, had sworn out a warrant against him for seduction. When the warrant was served on him he gave bonds for his appearance. The proof for the allegation appeared too flimsy, and Judge Watts dismissed the case, and the damage suit was the next step to annoy the defendant, who enjoys an undisputed character and was only recently married to an estimable young lady of Grand Forks.

Since the failure to appear against Vosler, the whole prosecution very decidedly looks like an attempt at blackmail, and parties who claim to know something about the affair say that relatives of the woman are the cause of all this unwarranted trouble, and that they wanted a piece of Vosler's bank account.

Minnesota Fruits and Flowers

The above is the title of the latest publication of the Minnesota State Horticultural Society, a valuable illustrated work of 513 pages, comprising the issues of the "Minnesota Horticulturist" for 1900 and other matters pertaining to the work of the society.

This book, handsomely bound in black cloth, is sent free postpaid to all members of the society, who also receive the illustrated monthly magazine of forty pages (above referred to) issued by the society, and some valuable plant premiums for purposes of experimentation. Any person may become a member of this society for the current year by the payment of $1.00 to the secretary.

Upon application a folder will be sent giving full information as to the work of the society, its methods, publications, premiums, list of officers, etc. This folder also contains a list of Fruits, Ornamental Trees and Shrubs, selected by the society as especially adapted to growing in Minnesota, which every Minnesota planter should have and study with care.

Sample copies of the society's magazine, the "Minnesota Horticulturist," will be sent to all applicants enclosing 2 cents postage. Ask your editor about the society. Address and remit to A. W. Latham, Sec'y., 207 Kasota block, Minneapolis, Minn.

Simple but Valuable.

Anyone who has never tried the efficacy of a shell or case of iron placed around an ordinary stove of any kind will be surprised at its usefulness as a heat distributor. The theory of its operation is easily explained, but most people who have never seen one in use are skeptical as to its advantages. But it will certainly double the heating capacity of any stove in a large room without any increase in the consumption of fuel, and every country school house should have this simple device in use, as well as every store, hall, church or other large room in which a stove is [illegible]ng purposes. Once used in such places it will be indispensable. And the application of the same principle to radiators in rooms that are heated by steam or water would no doubt be correspondingly advantageous. The shell should surround the stove entirely, except at the end or side where the door is situated, and should come down to within, say four inches of the floor, and extend to the top of the stove. It should practically conform to the shape of the stove, and a space of at least three inches between it and the stove body should be left.

This draws the cold air from the floor, heats it in its passage through the opening surrounding the stove and carries it in a continuous current to the most remote parts of the room, so that the distribution of heat is nearly uniform throughout the entire room. As is well known, without this device the air in the vicinity of the stove is overheated, and in the remote corners little advantage is derived from it.

AWFUL DEED

A Minneapolis Mother Kills Her Own Daughter.

Mrs. Matilda Helstrom, the wife of Louis Helstrom, janitor of the Lincoln flats, Minneapolis, Sunday morning murdered her 16 year old daughter Alice by beating her about the head with a long necked pint bottle.

The mother, who was unquestionably insane at the time of the commission of the awful crime, explained she did not want her daughter to live, because she was too pure.

After being taken to the county jail, Mrs. Helstrom became somewhat rational and said to the matron:

"Oh, why did God let me do such a thing?"

The tragedy was one of the most shocking that has ever taken place in this city, and was discovered by the father, who met the mother as she was leaving the girl's bedroom with a bloody bottle in her hand. He immediately divined that something terrible had happened, and, rushing into the room, a ghastly scene met his eyes. On the bed lay his unconscious daughter, with blood streaming from gashes in her head. That a struggle had taken place was evident from the position of the body, the head being on the floor and the limbs and lower part of the body on the bed.

The child regained consciousness shortly after, and then gave the only story that has been told about the tragedy. She said she was awakened by a severe blow upon the head. The mother had evidently supposed that one blow would be sufficient to kill her daughter. Upon seeing her daughter recover the mother renewed the assault, and the child attempted to defend herself. A brief but fierce struggle ensued. Mrs. Helstrom soon overpowered the child and then rained blows upon her with the bottle. She ceased in her attack only after the daughter had fallen insensible on the bed.

When seen in the county jail Mrs. Helstrom bore unmistakable evidence of insanity in her appearance, manner and talk. She said her daughter was "too good for this world, and I killed her so she would go to heaven."

There is an abrasion of the skin on Mrs. Helstrom's forehead, indicating that she may have attempted to beat out her own brains after the fatal assault. But she says the mark on her own head was accidentally received during the struggle.

The remains of the murdered girl are at the morgue, where an inquest will be held today.

The jail officials are dreading the hour when Mrs. Helstrom shall recover from her attack of insanity, which is looked upon as temporary. When the woman fully realizes what she has done, a scene is expected, and there is a fear that the shock will result in permanently unbalancing her mind. Late yesterday afternoon there were indications that her mind was becoming normal. A physician was sent for and an opiate administered. This produced a sleep from which she did not awaken during the night.

Missed Her Visits

A New York lawyer who employs a woman collector had a debtor who owed him $1250. When giving her the account to collect he instructed her after this manner:

"Go up to his office every day; don't give him a minute's peace. Hound the very life out of him till he pays. Just walk right in, no matter who is there, and demand that $1250. He can't turn you out, because I did for him what no other lawyer in New York could have done, and it behooves him to be humble"

For three months she obeyed those instructions literally. She traveled up and down the elevator so often that every body in the building came to know her as "——'s dun," and the man hated the very sight of her. One day she was sick and couldn't go down town. A second day she stayed away, and still a third. About 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the third day, as the lawyer sat in his private office talking to a client, the door was opened suddenly and a towheaded little boy stepped audaciously into the room.

"Say," he said, "I'm ——'s boy, an' my boss wants to know why that woman ain't been over for that $1250 he owes you?"

Talk by the Yard.

The Martin Telephone Co., of Webster City, has adopted the novel expedient of metering the talk which is going on over their lines, and claim that they are the first independent telephone company in the United States to install such a system. Hereafter, telephones will be placed in residences by them at a fixed rate, and a meter will be attached which will record all outgoing calls, but will keep no count of those which are incoming. All calls over the number of 200 a year will be charged for extra. The new system will go into effect at once, and the company expects a considerable increase on revenue from the innovation.

Law School Reopened.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 12.—The university law school, which was closed on Thursday on account of a small pox scare, was thoroughly fumigated and reopened yesterday.

BAILEY'S OPINION

Of Cubans Is Not Flattering—Says They Must be Governed.

Washington, Jan. 12—Representative Bailey of Kansas has just returned from an extended tour in Cuba and he takes a rather pessimistic view of the situation there. He does not consider the people fit for self government, and he has no confidence in the native leaders now in charge of affairs under the supervision of the United States. He speaks with admiration of Gov. Wood and the other Americans in office. He says:

"The great body of Cubans haven't accumulated anything, and as a rule they are not worth anything. They are unintelligent and illiterate. They have a sentiment of liberty in their minds without any conception of its meaning. They construe liberty to mean license. Their only idea of government is power, oppression, coercion. To the Cuban, government means a job and an easy time. The Spaniards have taught them that.

"I believe if the United States should withdraw from Cuba there would be a revolution within ninety days. My firm conviction is that Uncle Sam has got to keep his strong hand in Cuba. Yet ultimately, it seems to me we are bound in honor to give them a trial at self government. That was an unfortunate sentiment that dominated congress when the Teller resolution was passed.

It is a condition, not a theory, that confronts us—we have promised them self government. But pending that the United States would make a grave mistake, prove false to those people who have gone there and made investments and prove recreant to the great trust imposed upon us by turning them over again to riot and revolution. That is what it would mean at this time.

ANOTHER COMBINE.

Railroads Arranging to Conduct Express Business.

Chicago, Jan. 12.— Absolute control of the vast interests of the nation's express companies may fall into the control of a railroad financial power. Preliminary steps toward such an object are said to have been taken under the guidance of J. Pierpont Morgan, James J. Hill and others who are figuring prominently in the recently reported railway deals, and that the general scheme has been outlined. The report has it that the powers intend to conduct the express business of the country as a regular department of the railroad operation, strong provisions being made to have all railroads act in harmony.

While nothing definite regarding the plans is obtainable, it is claimed to be the intention of the railroad officers to refuse to renew contracts with the companies when the remaining life of the contracts are not long, and to make outright purchases of franchises where the contracts still have long lives before them.

The express companies have contracts ranging all the way from five to twenty years and at the expiration of their legal agreements they are at the mercy of the railroad companies.

Duluth Rail Traffic.

The December report of the Lake Superior Car Service Association shows that 25,529 cars were handled in and out of Duluth during the month, making 272,010 cars for the year 1900. This is the largest year's work on record with the exception of 1899, when a total of 301,776 cars were handled through the association.

During the last month of the year there were 1784 cars of hay and straw; 497 cars of flour and feed; [illegible] cars of corn and oats; 285 cars of general groceries and merchandise; 293 cars of sugar, syrup and salt; fruit and vegetables, 182; meat and live stock, 354 cars beer, 120 car loads, oil, 150 cars; furniture, 30 cars; lumber and forest products, 3686 car loads; wood, 201 cars; brick, tile and sewer pipe, 123 cars; stone and sand, 360 cars; cement, lime and clay, 90; wagons, 15 cars; iron and machinery, 500 car loads; empty barrels, 77 cars; windmills, 6; ice, 18 cars; lumbermens' outfits, 40 cars; grain, 4105 cars coal and coke, 11,558 cars.

Unique Post Office Business.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—The Chicago postoffice has been again called upon to act as agent in a novel way. A woman at Elwood, Ind., being sick and aged and having two children who cannot be properly cared for by herself and relatives, has written to ask that they be adopted by some one with means. The request was sent by special delivery letter, addressed as follows:

"A wealthy gentleman, willing to take care of two children. To any part of the United States outside of Indiana."

A clerk at the Elwood, Ind., postoffice marked the letter "Try Chicago," and sent it on its way.

Superintendent Cahill of the Bureau of Correspondence got the letter.

"But I have four children of my own," said Mr. Cahill, "so what can I do?"

The letter was forwarded to Miss Jane Adams, of Hull Home, with the request that she try to find a refuge for the children.

After $20,000

The adverse tone of Gov. Lind's message will not deter the Minnesota Sugar Beet company from having a bill introduced for the appropriation of $20,000 as state aid, the grant to take the form of a bounty. President Gustav Theden says that if this measure is defeated another will be introduced giving the courts jurisdiction so that suit to recover may be begun. This course will be necessary in view of the fact that a state is non-suable by virtue of its sovereignity. It will not be asked by Mr. Theden that the bounty be continued another year.

More Hazing Results.

Wm. Phillips, a student of Colby college, is critically ill at his home in Bangor, Me., from fever and hemorrhage of the kidneys caused as he says, by blows received in the course of hazing by sophomores last fall.

Phillips entered Colby college in September, and it was during his initiation in the fraternity of Delta Upsilon that he received the blows complained of.

He says he was blindfolded, when some "sophs" came up behind and struck him two fearful blows in the small of the back, remarking that "that was the goat."

Phillips says the blows "almost killed him." He lost his temper and went in for a free fight.

After the initiation was completed he was lame for weeks, and when he came home at Thanksgiving it was observed by his parents that he was not well, and physicians were called.

He has steadily failed since coming home and now suffers nightly from convulsions.

Phillips' parents will have an investigation made.

MAY PARCEL CHINA.

Indications That England and Russia Are so Figuring.

London, Jan. 12.—The Daily Mail makes the following important statement:

From a trustworthy source we learn that Lord Salisbury has agreed to cede to Russia the railroad from Non-Chwang to Shan Hai-Kwang. It is not known what compensation will be received for the concession.

Leading financiers versed in Chinese affairs who were interviewed yesterday by a representative of the Daily Mail, appeared to think, if the news was correct, it indicated that Lord Salisbury recognized the impossibility of preventing the partition of China, and that Russia would get the north and Great Britain the Yang Tse valley.

Prince Uchtomsky's mission to Peking, says the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail, was to secure a conference on the following basis: In return for renouncing her claim for war indemnity, Russia demands an indefinite instead of a 90-day poney on the Liao Tung peninsula and of Port Arthur. In other words, she demands annexation, as well as the complete Manchurian railway, which under the existing agreement reverts to China after ninety years.

SHE SUICIDED

A Halstad Woman, who Became Discouraged From Sickness.

News has been received from Halstad, Minn., telling of the deliberate suicide of a well known woman of that place.

Her name was Mrs. Ramm and she had been doctoring at a hospital in Minneapolis for nervous troubles, to which she was addicted.

On Friday night while the attendants were away she managed to escape the room in which she was confined and climbed out a window onto a balcony on the second story and taking a piece of stout cord she tied it to a beam and hung herself, death ensuing in a few seconds, as she was discovered almost immediately, but life was extinct.

No cause can be attributed for the performance of the awful deed unless that she was temporarily insane, but her condition at the time was not such that would warrant such an action, as she was much better than she had been for several days and had been around the wards during the day as she was feeling too well to remain in bed.

She was over thirty years of age and well known in her home city, which was greatly shocked at the report.

The grief stricken husband left for the cities and the remains will be shipped to her former home.

Tesla Confident.

New York, Jan. 11.—Nikola Tesla is at work on a transmitter and a receiver that he believes will establish as an accomplished fact communication between this planet and Mars. He said:

"I am prepared for the greatest experiment that has ever been made on this planet. Sooner or later I shall establish communication with Mars.

"I am certain that the inhabitants of that planet have many times endeavored to signal this earth, but we have never had instruments of sufficient delicacy to receive their messages, nor instruments powerful enough to answer them. At last we have the former, and I will soon have the latter. It will remain then only to decipher their messages and answer them.

"It is more than possible that the Martians will read our messages to them before we can read theirs, because I believe they are a more advanced people than we are."

London, Jan. 11.—Signor Marconi in an interview said that he did not consider communication with Mars impossible, provided the planet is inhabited. The matter of distance could be overcome.

His Coffin Killed Him.

Sharon, Pa., Jan. 12.—Abram Rothmyer, aged about 73 years, some time ago became imbued with the notion that after his death body snatchers would sell his body to some medical college. He did not believe in cremation, so he had a heavy metal casket, with an equally strong lock, made at Cleveland. He had the casket set on one end in a room.

Rothmyer seemed to take special delight in daily inspecting the receptacle sacred to the dead. A few nights ago he was trying to move the heavy casket when it fell on him. He died Thursday. Physicians say a blood vessel in his head had been ruptured.

Rothmyer was buried in the coffin that caused his death.

Buying West Indies

Copenhagen, Jan. 12.—Negotiations for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States are seemingly approaching a settlement. The matter has been placed in the hands of the financial committee of the rigsdag with a view of arranging the price. There is a powerful opposition to the sale of the islands here.

Was on a Tear

A moose raised quite a disturbance up at Farris last week, killing two cows, three dogs, and made a raid on Mike Nygaard's general store. Twenty-four bullets penetrated its hide before it was killed.—Ada Index.

This Will Interest the Farmers.

The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making

FARM LOANS

at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.

Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist
Dealer in Drug,s Druggist's Sundries.
Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.

Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.

Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.
GEORGE Q. ERSKINE, President. WM. ANGLIM, Vice-President
J. W. WHEELER, Cashier. H. ROBERTSON Asst. Cashier.

Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000

Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.

Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

The Riverside Dairy

Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.

E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.

Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000.

TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.

Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Orders Bought.

INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.

C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

Burlington Route

Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis

"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.

P. S. Eustis, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.
Geo. P. Lyman, Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B. & Q. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

$1.00 a year The Criterion 10c a copy

The Best Illustrated Monthly Magazine of the Kind Published.

Its pages are filled by a brilliant array of writers and artists. Its authoritative and independent reviews of books, plays, music and art, its clever stories, strong special articles, humor and verse, with fine illustrations, make it a necessity in every intelligent home. The very low subscription price—$1.00 per year—puts it within the reach of all. Reliable agents wanted in every town. Extraordinary inducements. Write for particulars.

A Trial Subscription Will Prove It.
Write Today for Sample Copy.

CRITERION PUBLICATION CO.,
Subscription Department, 41 East 21st St., New York City

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

FELTON.

James Rowe was a Felton visitor on Tuesday last.

H. W. Bentley's children are sick with scarlet fever.

Three new cases of diphthera are reported west of town.

F. E. Stearns and W. H. Byfield were Ada visitors Friday.

Lars Guma returned from his Pelican Rapids visit Thursday morning.

S. R. Wadley returned Sunday morning from his Augusta, Wis., visit.

Julius Grinners, of Douglas county, is visiting at the Grinners home this week.

Grip is quite prevalent in this locality and the doctor is kept very busy these days.

Martin Ballangrud drove from Borup Thursday evening to renew old acquaintances.

Miss Laura Clevelan d of Fargo visited friends in this vicinity the latter part of the week.

Miss Bertha Gnisuer returned Sunday from Borup where she had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Haus Ballangrud.

John Erickson of Moorhead arrived here Sunday morning for a few days' visit with his daughter, Mrs. E. A. Anderson.

Geo. Lillie left Monday for Minneapolis and other points in the south part of the state for a short vacation visiting old acquaintances.

.. dance and rafle for a fiddle was held at Leroy Rowe's place, northeast of town, Saturday night. A good time was reported by those who were in attendance. N. T. Beaaflat held the lucky number and drew the fiddle.

Conrad Gunrud came down from Borup for a short visit with friends.

The little adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parents, who live west of town, died very suddenly last Thursday. The cause of her death is claimed to be diphtheria. Dr. McIntosh was called to give medical services but death came before the doctor reached there. The little girl was eight years of age.

Mrs. H. W. Bentley died very suddenly last Thursday morning after a short illness. Mrs. Beatley had been ailing since last Sunday with quinsy and grip and gradually grew worse until the disease had developed into congestion of the lungs. Dr. McIntosh was in attendauce and did all in his power to relieve her sufferings, but after lingering a few hours, death claimed her spirit. She leaves a husband and four little children, a mother, four brothers and two sisters to mourn her loss. The funeral was held at Fargo from the Salvation Army hall.

DUGDALE.

Jos. Miller, Sr., has gone to Crookston to attend a pension examination.

J. S. Brown, Great Northern pump repairer, was out here today repairing a pump and tank.

Friends of Mr. Ole Johnsrud and Geo. Anderson from Thief River Falls are here on a visit.

O. H. Camp is busy loading and buying wheat at this point. Wheat is coming very rapidly nowadays.

Camp & Rickey have sold a large number of articles for the silver wedding that is to take place soon.

H. C. Camp is starting a wood yard at Dugdale. He expects to buy several car loads to ship to North Dakota.

A. O. Anderson, the Dugdale blacksmith, is keeping his anvil warm every day shoeing horses and repairing sleds.

Mr. and Mrs. Loule Wisse are arranging to celebrate their silver wedding and have invited a number of friends.

The Maple Bay Blower Manufacturing Company have made arrangements for ground in Crookston to build a new plant there.

The dance given by Peter Moen the other evening was well attended and a good time was reported by the Dugdale people. A big supper was given free to the crowd.

H. C. Camp was unsuccessful in selling out his hardware and furniture store, the party at Bemidji who intended to buy it having backed out. But Mr. Camp was not sorry for it, as he is doing a good business everyday.

FOSSTON.

Mrs. Dr. McKinnon is seriously ill with typhoid fever.

Al Berg better known as McCormick Berg, has been appointed local telephone inspector.

G. I. Houghtaling, who has been on the sick list for a few days, is able to be at his place of business again.

Mrs. H. J. Hanson left yesterday for Halstad Minn., to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Rannm of that place.

The farmers in this vicinity are having a wood harvest now. Several car loads are shipped from here daily, besides what is sold to merchants and local consumers.

J. O. Brandt has moved his stock of general merchandise from the C. L. Larson building to the one formerly occupied by Johnson & Reckensrud as a furniture store

BIRKHOLZ.

The Ladies' Sewing Society met at Ole Hendrickson's Wednesday.

The prayer meeting Wednesday evening was held at Mrs. Hillards.

The Young Ladies' Aid Sosiety will meet at Mrs. Emil Johnson's the next time.

The wedding of Henry Thompson and Miss Clara Figenskau occurred in Grand Forks on Wednesday, the 9th of January. The reception was held in the hall at Northland on Saturday evening. A very pleasant time was reported. The bride is one of our most popular and well beloved young ladies, and the groom is a most exemplary young man. They have the best wishes of the whole neighborhood for a long and happy life.

MENTOR.

I. K. Messelt is in St. Paul on political business.

Jos. Tagley lost his fine hunting dog by poisoning one day last week.

R. Barker, who is attending court at Crookston, spent Sunday with family.

There was a dance in the Woodman hall last Saturday evening. The attendance was small.

Jos. Tagley is putting in a fine office in his store this week. A. H. Mores is doing the work.

It is reported that F. Bain will remove his stock of merchandise to Montana in the near future.

Henry Nuleran and Louis Johnson of Woodside returned from the lumber camps out east last week.

Mentor is a great wood market. Your correspondent counted 36 teams unloading wood at one time last Thursday.

The hay press is at work every day in the vicinity of Mentor, and several car loads of hay are shipped out of here every week.

Fred Pollard was taken sick with the grip while cutting cord wood over in Woodside last week, and had to come home for repairs.

Several cases of grip are reported in town. Messrs. Jos. Tagley, Fred Magnus and C. A. Engstrom have had a severe attack of it, but they are now able to be around again.

N. J. Nelson, general agent for the McCormick Company, spent Friday in Mentor closing up a contract with Jos. Tagley for the sale of his machines in this vicinity for next season.

There was a double christening at the home of Martin Madson last Sunday. Messrs. Madson and Engstrom each had a baby baptized. Rev. S. E. Odlaud performed the ceremony.

The people of Mentor have reason to congratulate themselves on having one of the best conducted schools in the county, in one of the best conducted school houses. A Journal representative visited the school one day last week and can say that few towns of the size of Mentor possess it equal. The building which was completed last fall, is a two story frame structure, 30x36, and is modern in all respects. The lower story only is occupied at present, the upper one being used for the social gatherings of the village. It is the expectation to make it a graded school and employ a second teacher another year, receiving pupils from the other school districts. The school is in charge of Miss Anna Wilson of Crookston, and she is universally beloved by her pupils and their parents. The enrollment at present is 45, with an average daily attendance of 34. Grip, scarlet fever and other kindred diseases, which have been prevalent this winter, account for the small average attendance.

Two men having taken lodging at the Mentor Hotel last Wednesday, attempted to leave the next morning without first having settled their board bill. Mr. LePage heard them coming down stairs, and wondering what they were up to so early, dressed hurriedly and went into the office, only to find one man gone and the other ready to leave. When he was asked to pay for his lodging he said the other fellow had the money and he would go and call him in. Mr. LePage let him go and he took a half circle around the town and skipped out. A few minutes later one of the boarders came down, and reaching for his overcoat in the usual place, found it gone. The two strangers were suspected. Two men started in pursuit. They found their men about three miles east on the ralroad track, making for the timber country. They were halted and the coat demanded, but they denied having taken it, but when threatened with arrest they promptly fished out the coat from the brush and turned it over. They were then allowed to proceed on their way.

CLIMAX.

Ed Semling of Halstad spent a day in town last week.

S. A. Locken returned to his home at Bemidji last Saturday.

Andrew Spokell went to Crookston Saturday on legal business.

Syver Syversen and Dr. H. S. Johnson were Crookston visitors on Saturday.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Ostby, on Monday, a baby girl. Mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Isaac Slette, formerly assistant at the Climax bank, has accepted a position in the Bank of Halstad.

Julius Spokel and Arne Johnson left for Black Duck last Saturday and expect to engage in business there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Taft of Donaldson is visiting friends and relatives in town. They expect to visit the Twin Cities before returning home.

The public installation of officers of the Woodman lodge occurred last Tuesday. The Climax quartette assisted in the program, after which lunch was served, followed by dancing and card playing until after midnight.

Andrew Steenerson returned from Minneapolis last Saturday morning where he was called by his son Arne, who was sick with an attack of diphtheria. Arne is improving rapidly and will soon be able to resume his studies at college.

FISHER.

Harvey Webster spent last Sunday visiting here.

Rev. E. A. Cooke is conducting revival meetings in the M. E. church this week.

Miss Carrie Butler of Chippewa Falls is here visiting her sister, Mrs. C. U. Webster.

Melbourne Griffith and Geo. Crawford of Crookston visited old friends here last Sunday.

Mrs. Jos. Tagley returned home on Monday after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Olson.

Miss Marie Onstad is spending two or three weeks at home. She will return to her school near Stephen on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Laughlin were pleasantly surprised on Monday evening by quite a number of friends, the occasion being the anniversary of their marriage.

After two weeks' vacation, school opened on Monday with Prof. Anderson as teacher. Although we regret to part with Prof. Casey, we welcome Prof. Anderson and wish him success in his new field of work.

KEY WEST.

Frank Sutter was seen on our streets Monday.

Geo. Diffenbaugh bagged two jack rabbits on Thursday.

Hans Anderson transacted business in Key West Monday.

Miss Sadie Morrison of Euclid is visiting friends around Key West.

Mrs. R. Buchanan is visiting friends in and around Fisher this week.

Mr. Richard Buchanan drove to Grand Forks Monday on business.

Miss Minnie Buchanan was one of our Key West callers on Thursday.

John Brown went to Grand Forks on business Friday, returning on Saturday.

James Buchanan and Myrtle Haney of Fisher are the guests of R. Buchanan and family.

Owing to the sand storm on Sunday last we were deprived of the blessing of divine services.

John Anderson, son of Hans Anderson, is very ill with typhoid fever. They have removed him to the hospital with the hope that he may receive better care than it is possible to give him at home.

DONALDSON.

K. J. Lind visited Hallock between trains Friday.

John Stromberg is busy hauling his wheat to market.

J. B. Main is on the sick list, but his case is not serious.

S. O. Myre is taking care of the store while Mr. Taft is absent.

Mrs. Mulvey and Mrs. Kindler took a ride after Nellie Monday.

Ole Myre of Kennedy came over Sunday to visit his brother Swan.

Hans Bakke, from Stephen, was a pleasant visitor here Saturday.

The whole threshing crew of George Inger went to Kennedy Monday.

The 20th day of Xmas was celebrated here in good old Swedish style.

A surprise party was held out at Youngren's and at Diamond's last Saturday.

Andrew Lund is taking a lay-off now, since he got through at the St. Anthony.

J. J. Lind is taking a sojourn down at Red River this week. Wonder what is up, John?

A Blomeness drove up to Hallock with his trotter Thursday, returning the same day.

M. Nichols is packing his ice house at present so as to be ready for the warm weather next season.

Mr. and Mrs. Borgesson returned from Fertile Friday where they were visiting friends and relatives.

The fishermen are coming around now, which is also a good thing. We can now have some fresh fish.

Photographer Lind was out taking views Saturday. The most important one was M. Olson's threshing rig.

It is rumored around that J. J. Lind has matrimonial intentions, but as to the certainty, no one seems to know.

A Felt took a trip to Drayton some time ago to have his glasses inspected. It was done to perfection, so he says.

Miss Bessie Nichols is making quite a stay in town. She is the companion of Miss N. E. Cedarholm during her vacation.

C. F. Taft and wife left Wednesday for Crookston and Climax, where they will spend a few days with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lund entertained a large crowd of both young and old people Saturday evening. Everyone reports having a splendid time.

T. Thompson was here Wednesday evening giving us some lessons in physical culture. Many funny jumps and motions were to be seen that eventful night.

A. F. Hallberg, our landlord, is not feeling quite well at present. He has been in bed two days, but we hope for his speedy recovery.

Geo. Inger just got through threshing Friday evening and will now go to Rosean with his engine and saw mill to saw lumber all winter and next summer, until threshing comes again.

THIEF RIVER FALLS.

P. Meehan, the ex-lumberman of this city is in town looking as substantial as ever.

Eugene Browning has made an assignment to Finch, Smith & Co., of Crookston.

The city council has raised the liquor license of $750 for the coming year. A move in the right direction.

Isidore Lewin has closed his store at St. Hilaire, and is now to be found at the old stand of the Red Star.

C. J. Vinton of the Thief River Falls Lumber Co., was in town the other day to look over the company's mill.

I. C. Richardson has sold his law practice to Bagley & Mabey, and will attend strictly to postoffice matters.

R. Oen has again assumed control of his hardware business, which for the past year has ben leased by Granum Bros.

The busines at the new bank far exceeds expectations of the officers, and Cashier Simons is handling his share of the cash.

Ira C. Richardson of this place was elected state delegate for Red Lake county to attend the state convention of the M. W. A.

O. H. Nelson has moved his stock of candy and stationery from Red Lake Falls to this place. He likes a live town and knows this to be one.

The store lately occupied by Mullarky & Hanson is being repapered and will soon be in first class shape again. It will be occupied by K. M. Hanson and Benjamin Christianson as a general store.

The saw mill company is making some extensive improvements in their plant, such as lengthening the smoke stack over thirty fet, fixing the burner and many other things about the mill.

The Modern Woodmen are booming here. The charter is open, and deputy work is beginning to show itself. Several new applications are being received at each meeting. Let the good work go on.

The electric lights shone for the first time in our city Friday, Jan. 11, and the city has taken on a metropolitan look. Much praise is due Supt. Peterson for the efficient work of putting in the lights.

ARGYLE.

L. S. Bayreil visited at Warren Thursday last.

Geo. Runnels left Wednesday evening for Shevlin.

Dr. R. Whetstone left Monday evening for St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stanton spent Friday evening at Warren.

Mrs. Johnson of Fargo is visiting her sister, Mrs. T. F. Stone.

Mrs. Rev. B. Hoard who has been quite sick is slowly recovering.

J. J. Sutton transacted business in Argyle between trains Thursday.

Miss Louise Zamzow, of Portage, Wis., arrived Saturday morning to remain some time with her brother and family.

Miss Lizzie Reinhart, of Crookston, came up Saturday morning to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. G. Kivell.

Robert Bennett and Oscar Peterson went to Crookston Monday where they will attend school for the rest of the winter.

Robert Corry, who has been working for the Robertson Lumber Co. for the past eight months left for Grand Forks Wednesday night.

William Clark, agent for the M. and N. elevator here took the train Monday evening for his old home in Scotland, where he will visit for some time.

Miss Maggie Dundas, who spent her hollidays with home folks here, returned to St. Cloud Monday evening, where she is attending Normal School.

ELDRED.

Olaf Locken is on a visit at Ada.

Miss Euge Aruess is clerking at Boyer Bros.

Albert Peterson is attending school nowadays.

The Royal Neighbors meet on Thursday the 17th inst.

Miss Anna Tweten of Nellsville is visiting in town.

C. C. Tygeson has sold his farm and has purchased a threshing rig.

The Misses Bonkind entertained Miss Clara and Thea Bangen on Monday.

P. Halstenson, H. O. Glesrud, Mrs. Stubson were part of the Crookston visitors om here on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Krogen and Mr. and Mrs. Morten Leikuess have returned from a visit at Stoughton, Wis.

The Woodmen camp installed their officers last Wednesday. T. M. Boye, V. C. F. L. Davis, Adv.; J. E. Elg, banker; Gordon Mitchell, clerk.

SOUTH CROOKSTON.

Mis Gillian Myers, daughter of C. A. Myers, is quite ill but is on the gain.

Alex Lattie left on Friday last for Barnesville, where he will make a short visit with friends.

Caruan has a barber shop at last, and it is the duty of every man to patronize it if they expect to keep it.

A new baby boy came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bailey last Saturday night and he says he came to stay.

Miss Minnie Ahles won the case she had with S. Bisazza last Monday over a show case the latter claimed he had bought of her, but had never paid for.

Robert Nicholson is able to be out again after a long siege of typhoid fever. Rob looks very bad and we hope he will soon be able to go to work again.

Mayor Campbell has ordered H. R. Phillips to resume his duties as patrolman for the Fifth ward, which is right. Good for you Nat, you are in the right, and we will stand by anybody in the right in the Fifth ward.

MAPLE BAY.

H. A. Bakken drove to Fertile Sunday.

Chris. Nelson was a Crookston visitor last Friday.

D. D. Horton was a Crookston visitor Thursday.

H. O. Wik and P. B. Hunter went to Fertile Monday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnson, on Friday, the 11th, a daughter.

The Maple Bay Dairy Association will hold its annual meeting for election of officers on the 16th.

Rev. Greenlee of Fertile was here Monday evening and christened the little daughter of Mrs. Spence.

Dr. Risjord of Fertile was called Saturday night to attend the little girl of Rev. Odland, who is quite sick.

K. J. Ike and J. H. Byron, representatives of the Singer Co., were here Monday on business with P. B. Hunter their local agent.

St. VINCENT.

Ex-Senator Cronkhite of Argyle, passed through our village last week, enroute to Winnipeg on business.

We have been having some beautiful winter weather, but today, the 15th, it comes pretty near being a genuine blizzard.

The camp of Modern Woodmen installed their officers on Tuesday evening, the 8th. They are to give a ball at Reid hall on Friday evening, Jan. 25, and are preparing for a grand time.

Our county commissioners met at the county capital last wek. Commissioner Gamble of this place was elected chairman for the ensuing year, an honor well merited by Mr. Gamble.

All of E. A. Nelson's friends in this county, and they are legion, are extremely sorry that E. A. did not secure the appointment of state superintendent of public instruction. Mr. Nelson has ever been a tireless worker for the republican party. In season and out of season his labors have always been for the principles laid down by that party. And, judging from what your correspondent knows personally of Mr. Nelson's work for the present state officers he was justly entitled to the position he sought.

McINTOSH.

Dr. McEachron left for St. Paul on Sunday.

John Peterson returned to Crookston Sunday.

Chas. McCarty returned from Crookston Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Conger left for Crookston Wednesday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. A. Alrick, a girl on Monday.

Edwin Stovern returned from Northfield last Friday.

H. P. King made a business trip to Crookston this week.

M. L. Forth, of E.. River, visited with friends here last week.

C. T. Lanman and Anton Jenson returned from Crookston Friday.

Mrs. H. West and Mrs. P. Bodine visited Erskine friends last week.

K. A. Bolstad returned Monday from a business trip to the county seat.

Mrs. A. F. Cronquist and children of Erskine visited with friends here this week.

Miss Hannah Solberg returned Friday from a short visit with friends at Mentor.

J. O. Mauger made a business trip to Bemidji Wednesday and returned the same day.

Henry Hanson returned Monday from a two weeks' visit with friends in Douglas county.

Mrs. S. Tufte came down from Fosston Thursday for a visit with the Broach family.

ERSKINE.

Hans Hanson was a Fosston visitor Sunday.

Nels Waldahl returned from Solway Monday.

Mrs. Chase is visiting in Woodside this week.

N. O. Narveson did business at the county seat this week.

Gunder Steenerson visited at Solway between trains Sunday.

Do not forget the dance in M. W. A. hall next Friday evening.

Mrs. A. F. Cronquist and children visited at McIntosh Friday.

A large crowd of young folks took in the M. W. A. dance Friday.

Dr. McKinnon of Fosston was called this week to attend Mrs. Egley, who is ill.

Knut Steenerson of Pelican Rapids visited with his brothers here Saturday.

C. E. Dillon made a trip north of town looking after his hunting dog, Rex.

C. C. Nash, Emil Johnson and C. Christianson were McIntosh visitors Tuesday.

J. H. Hiler of East Grand Forks was in town Thursday looking after his wood cutting.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Holmboe and son Jens visited at the Narveson residence and returned Sunday.

A meeting will be held at the G. and E. hardware store Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. for the purpose of starting a creamery here.

LEESTON.

Miss Lena Temanson is attending the Crookston College.

Miss Hanaa Solberg is visiting with the Kilvicks nowadays.

Mr. K. Tedmanson has just put in a lot of fine Maple Lake ice.

Mr. Temanson is hauling lumber from Crookston nowadays.

The elevator will be opened as usual with Mr. Temanson as buyer.

Mr. J. Giller is in Grand Forks buying a new line of goods for his store.

Miss Randy Lee has returned again from North Dakota, where she has been teaching school.

Last Saturday K. Tedmanson and son Gilbert were doing business at the county seat.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Ringquist, Jan. 6, a boy. All concerned are doing nicely.

Next Saturday, Jan. 19, there will be a dance given at T. Hansen's, in the town of Onstad.

Last Sunday the young folks at Kilvick's gave a party in honor of their cousin, Miss Solberg.

Mr. John Kilvick is hauling lumber from Crookston for a new barn. This is a step in the right direction.

Mr. A. Bertils is doing chores and Anna Abrabamson is cooking for Mrs. Giller while her husband is absent in Grand Forks.

Last Tuesday Mr. John Strom and Tom Haukos left for their claims east of Thief River Falls.

Mr. Gravley and daughter of Thief River Falls are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hans Torquinson.

Last Tuesday Mr. C. R. Snyder, superintendent of the Thorpe Elevator Co., was seen on our streets.

There is a new blacksmith here now and he will get quite a bit of work, as our nearest one is at Maple Bay.

There is one dog less in this corner of town and, and Mr. Bertels has killed one of his many canines, namely, Rover.

Last Saturday there was a grand dance over at Nephews, with a very large crowd in atendance. Dancing was kept up until early morning.

Miss Tella Baud of Freeborn county, this state, who has been visiting with the Temanson's since Christmas, has returned to her sister's at Minneapolis.

Last Saturday John Strom, Tom Haukos and Nils Fosso were doing business in Crookston. Nils at the same time filed on 160 acres east of Thief River Falls.

Subscribe for the Daily Journal.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Makes the bread more healthful.

Safeguards the food against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

ADA.

D. C. Jones was down form Gary on Sunday.

O. A. Lund and lady visited with his cousin at Twin Valley Sunday.

Hans Holden left Tuesday night for the Twin Cities to buy his spring stock.

W. J. White made a trip to Fergus Falls Friday and returned Monday morning.

Judge Moen attended the state meeting of the judges of probate at St. Paul this week.

Louis Bloom is reported to be down with typhoid fever. Dr. Stuart is attending him.

G. Gilbertson has been on the sick list for some days, but is now able to be up again.

Miss Hannah Moffatt visited with Cora Wilson at Crookston the first part of the week.

The Ada Social club gave an extra dance Friday evening and quite a few enjoyed the hop.

Mrs. A. Rolfe returned Thursday morning from a visit with friends in the eastern states.

Geo. Weatherheard came over from Hunter, N. D., Saturday night to visit his wife and parents.

Editor Solomonson of the Twin Valley Times was here as a delegate to the M. W. A. convention Thursday.

Victor Moffat and W. J. Grady were over from Hendrum Thursday as delegates to the Woodmen's county convention.

Hjalmer Johnson severed his connection with Olson & Roach Saturday evening and is at present enjoying a vacation with his parents in Rockwell.

Dawes How, the genial traveling salesman for Janney, Semple, Hill & Co., of Minneapolis, was around shaking hands with his customers Tuesday.

The M. W. A. held their county convention here Thursday afternoon and elected G. Kittilson as delegate to the state convention to be held in St. Paul in February.

Aug Bussle has opened up a feed store in the Martla Baug building and has already disposed of a few car loads of feed. Feed is a scarce article around here and farmers are obliged to buy most all of their feed. Hay is also a scarce article and the good quality is sold for nine and ten dollars per ton.

LENGBY.

A. J. Saterstrom made a trip to Ebro Friday.

Miss Dorthia Lillo left for Crookston Monday.

Alfred Stave made a trip to Fosston Saturday.

Albert Lillo returned from his trip west Saturday.

Ole Linberg made a quick trip to Fosston Saturday.

Ole Frederickson took the train for Fosston Monday.

A. Johnson has got a sore eye and is keeping it covered.

P. A. Sederberg made a flying trip to Shevlin on Friday.

The doors and windows for the Syuon church arrived Monday.

Elmer Hilliard is well again.

E. H. Noel and Miss Pearl are reported much better.

Anton Welte and Miss Ida and Frank went to Hansville to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Levoye Saturday.

A. Nyster, who has been chopping cord wood for G. Evja, left for his home in Marshall county on Friday.

John Monson, who came over from his claim near Bagley Saturday to take in the masquerade, left for Fosston on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Welte, formerly of this vicinity, now of Bagley, came over Saturday to visit relatives and friends, and left for home Saturday evening.

The masquerade ball Saturday evening was a big success from beginning to end. The hall was crowded to its utmost. Julius Frederickson was the manager and sold those nice badges. Ed. Goodenden of Pine Lake and Will Hilliard furnished the music. Many of Fosston's young people came over and a few from Bagley. The scene of the crowded floor of dancers in their neat and funny looking dresses was real attractive and interesting. About 12 o'clock supper was served at the Hotel Lengoy.

Free Of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at F. H. Hillard & Son's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents.

No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggists will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really the only Throat and Lung Remedy generally endorsed by physicians. One 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries. Get Green's Prize Almanac. 2

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Polk County Journal.

VOL. XXV CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1901 No. 42

TRI-STATE DRAINAGE

Two Days Convention at Crookston--Matters of Vital Importance Presented.

THE CONTROL OF THE SURPLUS

Water, the Most Serious Question that Confronts the Farmer in the Valley.

At the opening of the meeting Friday morning the attendance was not quite as large as was expected, but before the close of the session nearly one hundred delegates had registered.

The convention was called to order by T. A. Hoverstad and he was on motion duly elected temporary chairman. Dr. R. C. Kelsey, of White Rock, S. D., was elected temporary secretary.

On motion the meeting instructed the chairman to appoint a committee of three on permanent organiation, a committee of the same number on credentials and a committee of seven on resolutions.

The Crookston band then favored the convention with a selection, which was highly appreciated, during the time Chairman Hoverstad prepared his list of committees which was announced as follows:

Committee on Permanent Organization—Ledru Guthrie of Grand Forks, Geo. Ralph and O. L. Hamre of Crookston.

Committee on Credentials—Elias Steenerson of Crookston, P. Fairweather of Euclid and H. Henderson of Halstad.

Committee on Resolutions—A. W. Edwards of Fargo, J. Arbuthnot of Winnipeg, Geo. B. Winship of Grand Forks, R. C. Kelsey of White Rock, S. D., N. Campbell of Crookston, C. M. Hall of Fargo and R. Davenport of St. Paul.

Chairman Hoverstad stated that the Hon. Frank Ives of Cass lake, whose name had been placed on the program for an address on the "Great Floods of the Red River Valley—Cause and Cure," was unable to be present, but forwarded a paper to be read before the convention.

He was therefore requested to read the paper to the convention, which he did. It was a very carefully prepared paper, and gave evidence of the writer's familiarity with his subject, and was received with appreciation.

The band rendered another selection, after which the chairman called on Major A. W. Edwards of Fargo to address the convention.

He responded and prefaced his remarks by saying that although not on the program, after listening to the delightful music he felt impelled to do his share toward entertaining the convention. His remarks, which were brief were along practical lines, mentioning his experience and observation in the Red River valley, extending over nearly a quarter of a century.

He spoke of the project to build reservoirs at the head of the Otter Tail and Red Lake rivers, and that the scheme had been declared feasible by the government engineer. That the government is willing to make such appropriations as are needed for the relief of this section of the country, if fully advised as to its needs.

His remarks were listened to with great atention and applauded warmly.

J. Arbuthnot, mayor of Winnipeg, was called on for remarks and responding, he explained that he had not expected to be present and had made no preparation for participating in the discussions that might come up.

But he gave a brief recital of the situation of his city as related to the question of the floods of the Red River valley, and of their interest in the question of measures to avert them.

The convention adjourned till two o'clock to give the committees opportunity to prepare and make their reports.

AFTERNOON.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Hoverstad. Announcement was made of the appointment of a permanent committee for the purpose of calling future conventions as follows:

Mayor Johnson of Fargo, Dr. R. C. Kelsey of White Rock, S. D.; Ledru Guthrie of Grand Forks, T. A. Hoverstad of Crookston, M. Gould of Big Stone City, S. D.; P. P. Chase, Harwood, S. D.; Geo. B. Winship, Grand Forks; A. W. Edwards, Fargo, and [illegible] Richardson of Thief River Falls, Minn.

The committee on permanent organization reported, recommending for permanent chairman of the convention N. Campbell of Crookston, for vice chairman T. A. Hoverstad of Crookston, and for secretary J. P. Mattson of Warren.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted and Mr. Campbell took the chair, and welcomed the convention with a short address which was received with applause.

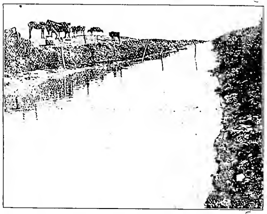
Mr. J. P. Mattson, the newly elected secretary, was introduced in the convention and accepted the position.

Col. R. Davenport, assistant United States engineer of St. Paul, was then introduced to the convention and delivered a very interesting and instructive paper on the subject, "Surveys of the Waterways and Reservoirs of the Red River Valley."

The paper called out many questions as to geographical conditions, all of which Col. Davenport was able to answer with accuracy, and this added to the value of the paper.

This paper is given in full in this issue of the Journal, and will be of value to preserve for future reference.

Dr. R. C. Kelsey, of White Rock, S. D., read his paper on "Waterways as a Means of Transportation," a synopsis of which is as follows:



SNAKE RIVER DITCH
Showing its helpfulness in stock raising.

The most ancient canal known to me is the Imperial canal of China, called the Grand canal. It is 650 miles long and is the work of various ages, and is but partly artificial. Its construction was commenced about 700 years B. C. The most ancient artificial waterway is the Suez canal in Egypt. The necessity of, and advantage afforded by the reduction of rates of transportation by water routes cannot be overlooked. The water route is cheaper than railroads, even in a restricted way like a canal. In its report the committee on canals of the state of New York says, under date of Jan. 15, 1900:

"The canals connecting the Hudson river with Lakes Erie, Ontario and Champlain should not be abandoned, but should be maintained and enlarged. In our judgment water transportation is inherently cheaper than rail transportation. By the enlargement of the canal and the introduction of improved methods of management, we believe that the canal rate can be reduced to two-thirds of one mill per ton per mile, or very nearly as low as the lake rates. Ocean, lake and canal rates are from one-third to one-fourth lower than rail rates. The late Albert Fink, than whom there was no higher authority on the transportation question, made a statement before the Windom committee some twenty years ago that the Erie canal regulated the rates not only on the railroads of New York state, but on every trunk line connecting the lakes with the Atlantic ocean. This statement has never been successfully disputed, and it will continue to be true if the waterways continue to keep pace with the railroads in enlargement and in management. For more than eight years money has been spent on the waterways connecting the Hudson with the lakes, and during fifty years these waterways are enlarged and improved to keep pace with the increase in traffic and help decrease the rates of transportation. The development of Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica and other New York cities along the canal route has been due in a large measure to the commerce secured by the canals. And it is because of these large commercial centers, built up by the canals, that without the great mineral resources and manufacturing industries of Pennsylvania, New York state has been able to maintain its position as the most wealthy state in the union. Now consider the results that will follow the completion of a waterway from the Gulf of Mexico to Winnipeg. I think I may safely say that in a few years all the cities along the line would many times double their population. They would not be surpassed in power as a commercial center by any community in the United States. The enormous interests of the people of the great northwest in raising food products, of which one-fifth is exported for foreign consumption, naturally leads the people of this section to see the cheapest possible freight line for conveying these products to their final destination. We believe that all water routes from this section to Europe will be of great benefit to us, enabling us to compete on more favorable terms with the great producers of India, Russia and the Argentine Republic.

The possibilities of manufacturing development along the line of the Red River of the North, and the chain of water ways to the south should not be overlooked.

Mr. Warren Upham, author of Monograph 25, U. S. Geological survey, makes the following statement relative to this district:

"Very valuable water power, some of which are now used, while many others have not been improved nor surveyed, exist on the head streams of the Red River above Breckenridge on its tributary, the Pelican river on the Red Lake river and its tributary, the Clearwater,on the Rainy and Winnipeg rivers at the Grand Rapids of the Saskatchewan, and on the Nelson. The many rapids and water falls of this region will doubtless some day become the sites of large manufacturing cities, where the wheat of the prairies may be made into flour, and the timber of the adjoining forests will be manufactured into lumber, paper, furniture and wooden ware.

In order to furnish the increase of the volume of discharge, the waters from the watershed of Red Lake could be assembled in one reservoir, and those from the Otter Tail might be gathered in Lake Traverse as a reservoir formed by means of a dam at Breckenridge. At the latter place the banks of the river are twelve feet high while at Pembina they are fifty. It is more than likely that by dredging and clearing the boulders from the river at Goose Rapids the slope of the river can be so improved that with a uniform discharge of 1,200 cubic feet per second no future improvements will be needed. The Otter Tail river, during exceedingly dry periods furnishes about 200 cubic feet per second at Breckenridge and Lake Traverse reservoir would hold 31,050,000 cubic feet, and could be supplied from the discharge at Breckenridge.

The Red River of the North flows through a plain of soft alluvium, underlaid with a great bed of clay. At Connolly's and Goose Rapids the river has cut through a number of these deposits. The slope of the river is small and uniform. The improvements suggested, viz: the removal of the rapids promises to practically convey the river into a great canal. The total fall in 395 miles to the international boundary is 194.5 feet, or about 0.49 feet per mile.

Major Edwards was again invited to address the convention and make such suggestions as he deemed best in regard to action to be taken by the convention. He responded to the invitation and after expressing pleasure at the addressess and commending them for the information they contained, he suggested that a committee be appointed from each state represented here to memorialize the legislators of their respective states asking that they take steps to call upon congress for such action as is needed to provide the needed relief in the premises. Also further conventions should be called and pains taken to secure the attendance of our members in congress so that they become fully informed in regard to the situation.

Two petitions from settlers along the route of Lost river were presented asking that the convention take action looking toward securing an appropriation for the purpose of opening the channel of that stream and thus averting the overflow of the lands along its banks in times of high water. These petitions were referred to the committee on resolutions.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Major Lockwood of St. Paul and to Col. Davenport for the paper furnished by the latter to the convention.

SECOND DAY.

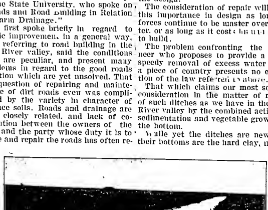
The meeting was called to order by Prof. T. A. Hoverstad, who stated that Chairman Campbell had requested him to occupy the chair, as he had other matters which demanded his attention. He stated that every person who had been mentioned as speakers for the day at the session of Friday was in the city and would appear as announced. The band favored the meeting with two selections, after which Hon. Ezra Vallentine delivered a short address on the subject of "The Red River Valley's Claim on the State Swamp Land Fund," which had originally been assigned to Hon. A. Grindeland, of Warren, Minn., who was unable to leave his senatorial duties and be present at the convention today. His address was very concise and direct, taking up the matter of the swamp lands which were ceded to the state for the specific purpose, as expressed in the act, of applying the proceeds to the reclamation of those lands by drainage. All these lands were years ago donated to the different railroads of the state, but none of these railroads had entered the six counties in which the lands were located. In 1893 he had prepared an address in regard to the use that had been made of these lands, and delivered it before the state legislature, in advocacy of the appropriation asked at that time for the purpose of opening the closed water courses leading into the Red river and its tributaries, and for opening existing streams in the Red River valley in the counties named, selected under the swamp land grant was 270,740.98 acres of which all but 9,577.70 were taken by railroad companies whose roads do not enter the Red River valley. And a constitutional amendment which had been adopted, operated to appropriate the 9,577 acres still remaining outside the railroad grants for educational and charitable purposes.

T. A. HOVERSTAD,
Manager of the Northwestern Experiment Farm at Crookston, and one of the leading promoters of the drainage convention.

If the lands had been sold and the proceeds applied as provided in the act of congress, the Red River valley need not ask for appropriations to assist in draining her lands. But it is no more than an act of justice that the proceeds of these lands, which belonged to the valley, having been taken from it and applied to other purposes, the valley should in some measure at least be reimbursed by appropriation of a part of the amount thus diverted from it. And in asking it of the legislature we are not mendicants, but are simply asking for the return of our own.

Congress had granted lands to other states in the same way but in no other state had the proceeds been diverted from the purpose specified by the grant but had been applied according to the terms of the grant. Mr. Vallentine has for many years made the subject of drainage a matter of special study, and is authority on the subject. His remarks were timely and appropriate, and his ideas concisely presented. He was followed by Prof. W. M. Hays of the State University, who spoke on "Roads and Road Building in Relation to Farm Drainage."

He first spoke briefly in regard to public improvement in a general way, then referring to road building in the Red River valley, said the conditions here are peculiar, and present many problems in regard to the good roads question which are yet unsolved. That the question of repairing and maintenance of dirt roads even was complicated by the variety in character of surface soils. Roads and drainage are here closely related, and lack of cooperation between the owners of the land and the party whose duty it is to make and repair the roads has often resulted in the defeat of both the good road and the proper drainage of the farms.



SAND HILL RIVER DITCH POLK COUNTY.
This ditch exerts a marked effect of over 20,000 acres of wheat land.

That while road-side ditches were useful as a factor in solving the drainage question, they should not be expected and could not be made to supply all the provision needed for carrying off the surplus water. That often the land adjacent to the road should be sacrificed to the extent of deepening a natural water course through it so as to carry off the water in the spring quickly, even at a disadvantage to the outlines of the fields. That neighborhoods should systematize the matter of caring for the surplus water and providing for its passage, rather than to each one selfishly consider his own interests exclusively in the matter. That by thus systematically seeking for the lowest levels and carrying the water over them, great good would be realized by all in making early seeding possible. He gave some black-board illustrations showing how effective work had been done on the Experiment Farm by its system of drainage.

He touched slightly upon the matter of rotation of crops and fertilizing the soil, and at the close of his remarks was interrogated upon several points mentioned.

The professor is a very pleasant and earnest speaker and has the science of farming well in hand, having not only a theory in regard to it, but has developed his theory by actual experience.

Prof. W. R. Hoag was called upon for a few minutes' talk, which he made introductory to his intended address for the afternoon. The convention then adjourned till 2 o'clock p. m.

AFTERNOON.

The meeting was called to order at the appointed hour by Prof. Hoverstad. The question of practical methods of drainage was taken up informally and a half hour was devoted to its consideration, during which remarks were made by George Ralph and William Arnold of Crookston, Levi Steenerson of Climax and Andrew Homing of Lost River. The two latter gentlemen devoted their remarks to the improvement of the Red river, and opening the channel of Lost River respectively. Mr. Steenerson though that the Red river should be improved above Belmont by a system of locks and dams, or it should be condemned and declared non-navigable above that point. Several suggestions were made by him which are pertinent to the question of improvement of the waterways of the Red River valley.

Mr. Homing explained the condition of Lost River and the relief which the petitions presented to the convention yesterday contemplated.

Prof. Hoag was next introduced and delivered an exceedingly thoughtful and exhaustive address upon the subject of "Maintenance of Drainage Ditches," a synopsis of which is given here. Following his address a series of stereopticon views were given to illustrate the points made in his remarks.

Mr. Hoag's address was as follows:

Every work constructed under economic design under engineering supervision must satisfy the [illegible]tions imposed by the commercial world as well as by those fixed by the material and forces with which it has to do.

Without tracing the controlling considerations which should govern in the selection of any design, in turn will fix the cost and its probable length of usefulness; we believe it will be granted that small first cost does not argue a preference of design, neither does a long life of an engineering structure, of itself, constitute commercial economy. Neither does small repair or its absence altogether, when considered alone, mean engineering excellence or business agacity.

Repairs are as legitimate as first cost or cost of operation. The engineer displays his skill as much in providing for the maintenance of his works against the harmful actions to which it is subjected, or the natural deterioration of the material of which it is made, as he does in fixing the general features of the design.

The consideration of repair will hold this importance in design as long as forces continue to be master over matter, or as long as it costs [illegible] to build.

The problem confronting the engineer who proposes to provide a more speedy removal of excess water from a piece of country presents no exception of the law referred to above.

That which claims our most serious consideration in the matter of repair of such ditches as we have in the Red River valley by the combined action of sedimentation and vegetable growth in the bottom.

While yet the ditches are new and their bottoms are the hard clay, underlying all this region, in which it is difficult for the perennials to get a start, comparatively little difficulty will appear from this cause.

It may require a half dozen years for this tendency to develop to any aprehensive stage in the majority of the ditches which have a sufficient slope, i. e., from three to five feet to the mile.

Those having less than this, say from one and one-half to three feet per mile, have such a slight velocity that even the first season resulted in a considerable filling up of sediment and the following year brought a considerable growth of flags, rushes, arrow-wort and other aquatic plants.

The uninterrupted growth of these, of course, will soon terminate the usefulness of the ditch.

These same conditions, however, especially the presence of cultivated fields, will bring conditions favorable to the filling up of the ditch with sedimentary deposits. This action, it is believed by the commission, is that requiring the closest attention as it is most likely to finally limit the usefulness of the whole system.

With a slope less than two feet per mile, a still worse evil develops. The lower four miles of the Rabbit river ditch, in Wilkin county, has a slope of about one and one-half feet per mile. This does not create sufficient current to prevent an accumulation of debris which comes to the ditch from the cultivated fields, and a filling up of the channel takes place. If the ditch is without water except at flood season, vegetation soon gets a foothold and then the usefulness of the ditch is at an end. The Mustinka ditch in Traverse county is well advanced in this stage, and, until repaired, will not furnish full relief in time of flood. With these few exceptions, the ditches are enlarging gradually, as it was planned they should, are fulfilling all expectations of the projectors and are contributing their full share to increasing the wheat area and general productiveness of the already famous Red River valley.

A word now as to what it costs to keep these ditches in repair. Possibly one half of them have not been a dollar's expense to the county since they were made in 1895 or 1896, if we except the matter of bridges. This cannot be offered, however, as proof that the next five years will bring no expense.

On the other hand, it has cost over two hundred dollars to repair the damage to a single ditch occasioned by a single rain. Several ditches, among them the Mustinka, the Rabbit river, the Felton and Wldsky Creek, now require a few hundred dollars to remove the sediment and vegetable growth and thus bring them to their former efficiency. Except the past season has developed points of weakness which, on account of no inspection, are not known to the state, it is safe to say that compared to the original cost, to say nothing of a comparison to the great benefits, the item of repair is too small to justify being entered at all in the account.

"The Practical Results of Drainage in the Red River Valley" was the subject of the next address, which was delivered by Hon. Ezra M. Vallentine of Breckinridge, Minn., than whom no one in the state is better qualified to speak upon this subject, he having been connected with it and been one of its first and most active promters from the start. His remarks were direct and concise, and his address was full of interest and instruction from first to last. He was followed by Prof. Charles M. Hall of Fargo, who spoke upon "The Geographical Survey of the Red River Valley." His address, too, was full of interest and value and was highly appreciated by the attendants of the convention.

W. M. HAYS,
Professor of Agriculture University of Minnesota, one of the leading speakers at the convention today.

The committee on resolutions presented several resolutions, which we give to our readers herewith:

Crookston, Minn., January 19, 1901.

Be it Resolved, by the delegates of the great Tri-State Drainage Association, in convention assembled, that the thanks of this body be extended to the press of the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Manitoba, and especially the press of the city of Crookston, for the extensive reports made of the proceedings of this convention, and in advertising the same; to the Crookston band for the excellent music furnished during the proceedings of the convention, and to the war department at St. Paul for information furnished this convention; to the railroads for the low rate granted the delegates in attendance, and to the mayor and city council and the citizens of the city of Crookston for the many favors shown and courtesies extended to the visiting delegates.

Crookston, Minn., January 19, 1901.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Convention:—Your committee on resolutions respectfully submits the following report:

Whereas, there now resides in the valley of the Red River of the North, and its tributaries, nearly one million of people, and the assessed valuation of the property thereof approximates one billion of dollars, and,

Whereas, over twenty millions of acres embraced in said area are not only assessed, but subject to damage and overflow during the high water seasons, and the lives of the residents thereof endangered by fevers and kindred diseases resulting therefrom, and,

Whereas, the loss, lives not considered, as a result of said overflows and lack of proper drainage, and flowage of water, has for many years averaged approximately the sum of one half of a million of dollars annually, and,

Whereas, by the expenditure of the sum of one million dollars all necessary surveys could be made, and a system of locks, dams and reservoirs be constructed, and in addition thereto over seven hundred miles of waterways be opened to navigation, and,

Whereas, the section of country to be benefited is capable of maintaining at least five millions of people, if the improvements herein suggested could be made, therefore.

Be it Resolved, by the delegates in convention here assembled, representing each and every part of the territory embraced in the said Red River Valley of the North and its tributaries, which includes a part of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota, that the congress of the United States be, and hereby is, petitioned and urgently requested to appoint a federal commission to consist of three persons, one each from the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota, to investigate the proposed work and matters above mentioned, in conjunction with a committee from congress, and report at the next session of that body.

Convention Resolutions.

We, the representatives of the State of Minnesota in attendance of the great Tri-State Drainage Association, do hereby adopt the following:

Whereas, the state of Minnesota now has a valuable property, costing about Two Hundred Thousand dollars, in the twenty-two state ditches situated in the Red River Valley, on the Minnesota side, and

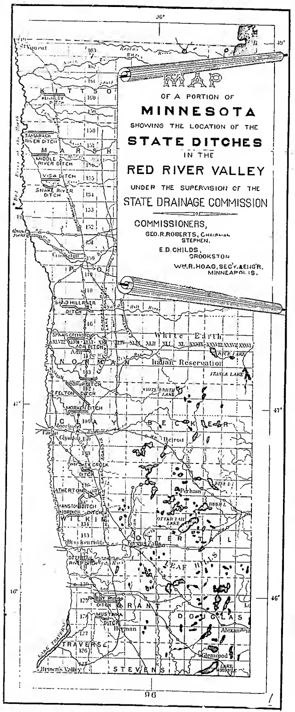
Whereas, this system, to remain effective and valuable, must be kept in repair, and

Whereas, the law provides that these repairs shall be made by the respective counties in which the ditches are situated, when the need and nature of such repair has been ascertained and recommended by the State Drainage Commission, after an inspection of the same has been made, now therefore,

Be it Resolved, that a sum should be provided each year by the present legislature of Minnesota, necessary to cover the expenses of said commission, which sum shall not exceed One Thousand dollars per annum.

Be it Further Resolved, that in case the present law is inadequate to compel the several counties wherein said ditches are located, to keep the same in repair, as hereinbefore cited, then the law should be amended so as to be binding and compulsory upon said counties, to carry out the instructions and recommendations of said commission, in the matter of making repairs.

Resolved Further, that the members of this convention from the state of Minnesota, urge the Minnesota legislature to appropriate One Hundred Thousand dollars, with which to continue the making of large drainage canals in the flat lands of the northwestern part of the state.



Crookston, Minn., Jan. 19, 1901.

We, the representatives from the counties of Pembina, Walsh, Grand Forks, Traill, Cass and Richland of North Dakota, and the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Norman, Clay, Wilkin, Traverse, Big Stone, Lac Qui Parle, Swift and Chippewa, Minnesota, and the counties of Grant and Robert of South Dakota, in convention assembled at Crookston, Minn., Jan. 18 and 19, 1901, for the purpose of promoting the development of the natural resources of the Red River Valley of the North, which embraces within the United States nine million acres of the most fertile agricultural land in North America, pass the following resolutions:

Whereas, there exists certain federal surveys organized under the department of the Interior of the United States, for the purpose of pursuing geological, agricultural, topographic and scientific surveys, and,

Whereas, these surveys are of prime importance in the economic development of young or partially developed states, and,

Whereas, these federal surveys are secured by co-operation on the part of the states interested, therefore,

Be It Resolved, that this convention heartily endorse any legislation which favors the co-operation of the states with the United States in securing and pursuing these surveys, and,

Resolved, that this convention also urge upon the legislative assemblies of these several states represented to establish state highway funds, and to provide state officers to bring about the co-operation between counties and districts, and to provide for the building and maintenance of our public highways.

Resolved, that copies of these resolutions be sent to each of the legislative assemblies of the states represented at this convention.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 19, 1901.

We, the representatives from the counties of Pembina, Walsh, Grand Forks, Traill, Cass and Richland, of North Dakota, and the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Norman, Clay, Wilkin, Traverse, Big Stone, Lac Qui Parle, Swift and Chippewa, of Minnesota, and the counties of Grant and Roberts, of South Dakota, in convention assembled at Crookston, Minn., Jan. 18 and 19, 1901, for the purpose of devising means for the construction of certain dams along the borders of the valley of the Red River of the North and to promote the development of the natural resources of this valley which embraces, within the United States, nine million (9,000,000) acres of the most fertile agricultural lands in North America, pass the following resolutions:

Whereas, We believe that by the construction of dams at several points where streams draining large areas enter this Valley, we would thus create reservoirs which would impound the spring floods sufficient to prevent the danger of sudden inundations and

Whereas, The water thus held would be available for use later in the season in furnishing power, water for irrigation and an abundant supply of pure water much needed by the cities along the Red River during the dryer summer months, therefore be it

Resolved, that we hereby respectfully petition His Honor, the secretary of the Interior, that he request the directors of the Topographic and Hydrographic surveys, organized under the Department of the Interior, to complete speedily the topographic survey and map of the Valley of the Red River of the North showing elevations for every twenty feet of vertical interval; and to establish and maintain gage stations, to measure the discharge and velocity of the current at several points on the Red River of the North and its principal tributaries, and to complete such other investigations as belong to the hydrographic survey of the region, locating natural sites for reservoirs, determining the discharge and capacity of the streams, etc., that we may direct our efforts in self protection and in the development of our resources with greater intelligence and economy.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to His Honor, the Secretary of the Interior.

WHEATON SMALLPOX

Now Fourteen Cases in That Town—Hotels Quarantined.

The smallpox situation at Wheaton is assuming alarming proportions. At present there are fourteen cases of smallpox in the town, both the hotels are quarantined, the Palmer hotel being occupied by 35 people (traveling men and schoolma'ams.) The cases are reported as of a mild form, but the disease continues to spread notwithstanding the efforts to stamp it out. The quarantined guests at the Palmer are making the most of their uncomfortable situation, have organized a musical club and on Tuesday gave the people of the town an impromptu open-air concert from the balcony of the hotel.

It was reported in Fargo yesterday that Conductor A. C. VanHorn of the Milwaukee was stricken with the disease at his home in Ortonville. Mr. VanHorn has been coming to this city regularly and his last trip to Fargo was made Jan. 12, and it is impossible to learn those who have been exposed. The report was made by the trainmen of the Milwaukee and could not be confirmed at Ortonville last night. Conductor Spellman has taken Mr. VanHorn's run during the latter's illness.—Fargo Call.

PROTECTION

Of the Red River Valley From Spring Floods by Reservoir System.

COL. R. DAVENPORT'S

Explanation of Same in Paper Read Before the Convention at Crookston Jan. 18, 1901.

The surveys and examinations of the Red River of the North and its several tributaries so far made by the United States have consisted of a general survey of the main river, in 1873; a survey of Big Stone Lake and Lake traverse, in 1897, and a survey of a portion of Red Lake and Red Lake river, in 1899. In connection with the latter a survey is also proposed of Otter Tail Lake and river; the foregoing, together with a number of minor local examinations, gaugings, gauge reading, etc. to supply additional information, made at times during the period mentioned, but more particularly and systematically during the past two years, practically covers the work that has been done in this connection.

The result of the survey of 1873 was the adoption of a plan for the improvement of the main river by dredging and the removal of obstructions, and the proposed construction of two locks and dams on the section of the river known as "Goose Rapids. The plan of constructing locks and dams was, however, abandoned, and the entire improvement of the river was carried on by dredging and the removal of obstructions.

This work was commenced at Moorhead in 1879 and has been carried over the entire river to the boundary line except for a few miles on Goose Rapids.

The dredging was done with a view of making available a three feet low water channel from Moorhead to Grand Forks, and a four feet low water channel from Grand Forks to the boundary line, and this was accomplished several years ago. It has, however in some localities been found necessary to redredge the bars several times, as the sliding river banks frequently cause the bars to reform. The duration of the dredged channel appears to range from three to five years. Owing to this movement of the river banks and the gradual disappearance of the excavated channels to keep the river open for steamboat navigation at low water stages, it will be necessary for the government to maintain a dredge for practically continuous work on the Red River bars.

The stretch of river now open for steamboat navigation is only about 180 miles in length, from 37 miles south of Grand Forks to the boundary line, the remainder of the river between Grand Forks and Moorhead having been closed to navigation by the construction of a number of pile bridges, for roadway purposes (erected without legal warrant) during a period in which there happened to be no steamboats running on that section of the river.

Under the plan of improvement by dredging and the removal of obstructions the work done to the close of the year 1900 was as follows:

Dredging, 893,229 cubic yards.
Snags removed, 731
Boulders removed, 517 cubic yards.
Overhanging trees removed, 8,823.
Stumps removed, 204.
Piles removed, 23.
Drift piles, 8.
Length of channel excavated, 188,159 lineal feet, a little over 35 miles.

Wing and training dams constructed with the dredged material, 231,582 lineal feet.

In 1886 the Red Lake river was included in the project of improvement of the Red River of the North, particularly that portion between Thief River Falls and Red Lake, with the view of benefitting navigation on that stream by the removal of the obstructions from the banks and channel. Up to this time mainly between Thief River Falls and High Landing, the following has been accomplished:

OBSTRUCTIONS REMOVED.
Overhanging trees, 2,858.
Boulders, 2,414 cubic yards.
Snags, 340.
Stumps, 141.

In 1900 the lower portion of Red Lake river, between East Grand Forks and Fisher's Landing, was added to the work, and during the past season 176 snags, 17 piles, 14 stumps and two boulders were removed from the banks and channel of that section of the river.

Up to this time $303,000 has been appropriated by congress for the improvement of the Red River and its tributaries, of this sum, $9,174.70 has so far been allotted to the improvement of Red Lake river.

The survey of 1897, Big Stone and Lake Traverse, was made for the purpose of determining the practicability and probable utility of making those lakes into storage reservoirs, and of connecting the said lakes by a lock and canal, and thus making available some sixty miles of lake navigation.

This examination resulted in plans and estimates being submitted covering the suggested improvement, ranging in cost from $350,000 to $745,000, of which sum by the way, it was estimated that from $75,000 to $225,000 would be required to pay for the land that would be overflowed or damaged by proposed reservoirs.

No action has been taken by congress in connection with this matter since the plans were submitted. As a result of this examination, Big Stone lake was found to have an area of 517,310,000 square feet, and Lake Traverse an area of 386,330,000 sq. feet, with a 12 feet range on Big Stone lake and a three foot range on Lake Traverse, the holding capacity of the two lakes being estimated to be 7,366,710,000 cubic feet, 6,207,720,000 and 1,158,990,000 cubic feet respectively.

The water shed of the lake is estimated at 2,215 square miles, 1,232 square miles for Big Stone Lake basin, and 983 square miles for Lake Traverse basin. The average runoff from the watershed it was estimated would fill the reservoir and leave a reserve capacity of 380,000,000 cubic feet, in seasons of average rainfall. Such a quantity of water would be sufficient to supply 900 cubic feet per second for ninety days. Under the plans proposed the water from the reservoir could be used almost entirely to flow into the Minnesota river, or the water from Lake Traverse could be discharged into the Red River, whenever there should prove to be any surplus above the quantity required for navigation on the lakes. The estimate of the quantity of water that would be available for a reservoir at that point was based upon what was determined to be the average rainfall and probable runoff for that section of country. In years of maximum rainfall, water in excess of about seven and a half billion cubic feet could not be retained.

The survey and investigation as to Red Lake and Red Lake River, partially completed in 1899, was to determine the feasibility and probable utility of making a storage reservoir of Red Lake, for the benefit of navigation on the river below both Red Lake and the main Red River, and also as to the possibility of materially reducing the flow of water from that section of country during flood periods. A survey of Otter Tail Lake and river, with the same objects in view is also proposed. In connection with these surveys, the regular measurement of the flow of water in Red Lake River and Otter Tail River was commenced in 1899, which measurements it will probably be necessary to continue for some time longer. An accurate knowledge of the quantity of water that flows in these rivers during a considerable period of time is of material importance for the calculations required in connection with this investigation and no final conclusion can be arrived at until these measurements are completed.

From the examinations so far made the following has been determined:

Red Lake has an estimated area of 386 square miles; with this area and a possible range of four feet, two feet above and two feet below the mean level, the holding capacity of the lake is estimated at 54,195,609,600 cubic the lake. The watershed of the Red Lake basin is estimated at 1,930 square miles.

With the average rainfall estimated for that section of the country at 24 inches, and the run-off estimated at one-eighth of the rainfall, the quantity of water that would run into Red Lake during an average year would be 13,451,328,000 cubic feet, just about sufficient to affect the level of the lake one foot.

The proportion of run-off to rainfall is an uncertain quantity, depending upon many conditions, such as the nature of the soil, the slope of the country, the quantity of the rainfall, etc. The average rainfall used in this case is the mean of a number of years' observations at various points east and west of the locality in question; the proportion of run-off to rainfall is estimated from the result of a season's observations in the Red River valley; the measurements now being taken on Red Lake and Otter Tail rivers is for the purpose of supplying additional data in this connection.

As much of the necessary information has not as yet been obtained, no estimate of the probable cost or of the plan of construction has been prepared for either of these proposed reservoirs, feet, a capacity probably sufficient to hold all the water that could under any condition of rainfall and run off, reach with the limited range of Red Lake, however, for an average year estimated one foot, as previously mentioned, the cost including that of the lock and dam that would be required, would probably be within reasonable limits, particularly as it is considered that but little damage would be done to adjacent lands by flowage.

Otter Tail lake, also under consideration as a storage reservoir, has an area of about 24 square miles, with a watershed estimated at 943 square miles. With the supply from the watershed figured on the same basis as that used in the case of Red Lake, there would be available for storage in that lake 6,572,332,800 cubic feet of water, sufficient to raise the lake ten feet above its normal level, or such storage could be divided between Otter Tail lake and some of the other large lakes in the same vicinity, with the estimated ten square miles of Rush Lake added, the height of a reservoir that would hold the average supply could be reduced to about seven feet, and by including other large lakes in the system, any further desired reduction in the height of the reservoir could readily be obtained.

No estimate of the cost of a dam or dams for a reservoir in that locality has as yet been prepared, but as the streams on which dams would be required are known to be rather narrow, the cost of construction would probably not be very great; the question of land damages in that locality is, however, liable to be of considerable importance, as with any height of flowage in excess of three or four feet, considerable areas of land would probably be affected.

The three localities referred to, as possible sites for reservoirs on the Red River watershed appears to be the limit of possibilities in this respect.

Considered simply in connection with the improvement of navigation on the Red River and its tributaries, the storage and supply of the three possible reservoirs, based on the estimates previously mentioned, would be as follows:

Lake Traverse, 1,158,990,000 cubic feet.
Otter Tail Lake, etc., 6,572,332,800 cubic feet.
Red Lake, 13,451,328,000 cubic feet.
A total of 21,182,650,000 cubic feet.

Sufficient to furnish a daily supply of 668 cubic feet per second for an entire year, or by slightly reducing the discharge during the winter months, a supply of 1,000 cubic feet per second could be furnished for the benefit of navigation during the usual low water periods in the summer. About 38 per cent of this supply would be to the river between the outlet of Otter Tail Lake and Grand Forks, and the remainder would be added to the river north of Grand Forks.

Four hundred and seventeen cubic feet per second of the quantity of water previously mentioned is estimated as the average daily flow from a reservoir on Red Lake river, which as previously suggested, could be proportioned between a summer and a winter flow that would be most favorable for all purposes.

As to the probable value of the three possible reservoirs under consideration, for the reduction of floods in the Red River valley, much of the data upon which the calculations must be based, except as to the general particulars respecting the three possible reservoirs which has already been given, is still incomplete, but comparison of the watersheds that can be controlled, in part at any rate, with the entire watershed of the Red River to an extent indicates what may be possible in this connection.

The watershed of the Red River above Moorhead and Fargo is about 5,428 square miles, the proportion of this watershed that could be controlled during years of maximum rainfalls, based upon the same figures as the data previously outlined, is estimated at 18 per cent at Fargo and Moorhead. At Grand Forks, above the outlet Red Lake river, with a watershed of 18,664 square miles, the controlled area is but four and one-half per cent.

At Grand Forks, below the outlet of Red Lake river, (with the Red Lake watershed and reservoir basin included) the total watershed is estimated at 24,405 square miles, of which the controlled area represents about 11 1-2 per cent. The average controlled area at Grand Forks would be about 7 1-2 per cent of the entire river watershed above that point.

Finally, at Pembina, the controlling area would be about 9 per cent of a total watershed of about 23,000 square miles.

The average controlled area of the watershed for the entire river in the United States would appear to be about 11 per cent if all to the reservoirs under consideration were constructed.

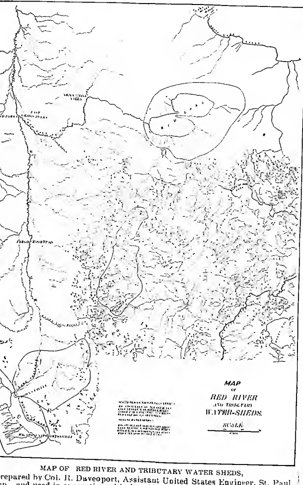
Just how much of the flood height or volume the control of such a percentage of the watershed would represent, has not as yet been determined.

The height reached by the floods on the Red River, above extreme low water, during the past twenty years were:

1882—
Moorhead, 30.6 feet.
Grand Forks, 43.5 feet.
Pembina, 38.5 feet.
1893—
Grand Forks, 45.5 feet.
1897—
Grand Forks, 46.8 feet.

The average velocity of the river north of Grand Forks, at flood stages, is estimated at two miles per hour.

The flood discharge of the river at Grand Forks is estimated to be from 40,000 to 50,000 cubic feet per second.



MAP OF RED RIVER AND TRIBUTARY WATER SHEDS,

Prepared by Col. R. Davenport, Assistant United States Engineer, St. Paul, Minn., and used in connection with the address delivered by him before the Tri-State Drainage Convention at Crookston, Minn., Jan. 19, 1901.

TWENTIETH CENTURY

Heart Will Supplant Mind in Controlling World's Action.

(Communicated.)

The passing of the old and the dawning of the new century has furnished a prolifically suggestive subject for thought, and for prophesy as well, in regard to what will be the extent of development in science and invention during this century. Some apparently reckless prophesies along these lines are already going the rounds. And yet the most sanguine of them even, may be realized. However, we believe that great as may be the progress of the world in these directions, the most remarkable exhibition of advancement and progress will be furnished by the moral conditions which then exist and the elevated standard of character prevailing. During the past history of the world there was a period when muscle was king. Brute force was the dominating factor in dictating the world's movements. Gradually intellect asserted its superiority over muscle and has come to dominate in the affairs of men almost universally. And this triumph of mind over matter has manifested itself by wresting from muscle its weapons of warfare and subjugation, and setting it to work co-operating in the development of the world, and bringing the hitherto widely separated nations into closer touch and sympathy with each other and to a recognition of the great fact of the universal brotherhood of man.

But gradually we are ascending toward a still higher plane, and we believe that at the close of this present century, humanity will be found to have reached an era where heart has supplanted mind in controlling the affairs of men. Unquestionably this is the divine purpose, and has been so from the beginning of time. Progress toward it has been slow and devious, but he who fails to recognize the fact that it has nevertheless been onward toward it is not a thoughtful student of history.

The achievements of the past, however, are but the foundation of the structure. As mind has supplanted muscle and turned its dominating energy into contributive forces, so must heart supplant mind and utilize its larger power in lifting humanity up toward its Creator. As the heart rules the life, the individual is controlled by a principle of love, and being thus controlled he approaches the fulfillment of his Creator's will and becomes measurably like Him. And in the prevalence of this principle of love in the affairs of the world at the close of the twentieth century, will the most marvelous progress have been made. Much was done in this direction during the closing years of the last century. But we believe a marvelous change will have occurred at the close of this. The forces which today are most active and potent in destroying all that ennobles humanity will have been overcome. The saloon with all its blighting influence, and many other forces now potent for evil, will have been put away and no longer tolerated. Truer views of life and its possibilities and responsibilities will then prevail. War and bloody strife among the nations of the earth will be practically, if not entirely done away with. Aggregations of wealth, except so far as may be necessary for handling the enterprises of the world, will no longer exist. Philanthropy will have banished poverty to a large extent, and the universal brotherhood of man will have come to be generally recognized.

In these conditions toward which advancement in science and invention are only stepping stones, will be manifested the greatest and truest progress.

The destiny of mankind is in this direction and the more fully we recognize the fact and lend our aid toward its accomplishment, the better it will be for ourselves.

A GREAT SUCCESS

The Thief River Electric Light Plan Has Proven itself So.

One week ago Saturday the current was turned on in the electric light system of this city and the plant has given excellent satisfaction to all citizens. Superintendent Peterson must be given great credit for his excellent work on this plant and no less can be said for all others connected with the enterprise. The lights are remarkably clear and steady and the arcs especially are of the very latest model and a great improvement on the old variety. Eleven arc lights make the business portion of the city as light as day, while about five hundred incandescent lamps are already in place and more going in daily. The plant promises to be a great success and the city has proved its wisdom in not allowing it to go to private enterprise.—Thief River News.

Old People Made Young.

J. C. Sherman, the veteran editor of the Vermontville (Mich.) Echo, has discovered the remarkable secret of keeping old people young. For years he has avoided Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Heart trouble, Constipation and Rheumatism, by using Electric Bitters, and he writes: "It can't be praised too highly. It gently stimulates the kidneys, tones the stomach, aids digestion, and gives a splendid appetite. It has worked wonders for my wife and me. It's a marvelous remedy for old people's complaints." Only 50 cents at A. G. Andersen's drug store.

CITY AND VICINITY

—Alex Fournet has business to attend to at Bemidji today.

—C. A. Khos came up from McIntosh last evening and will remain over until tomorrow.

—That awful pain! Mull's Lightning Pain Killer instantly cures. Safe for invalids. 25c. S. A. Wallace.

—Attorney W. H. Lee, of Thief River Falls, had legal business in the city yesterday and returned home this morning.

The wife of Albert Cleven is reported seriously ill and her physician states that she is threatened with pneumonia.

—Miss Edith Poehler, sister of Mrs. W. A. Marin of this city, arrived from Minneapolis this morning and will remain here for a short visit.

Ben Strawbridge came over from Cass Lake yesterday afternoon and hurriedly transacted his business to be able to return homet his morning.

Stop that Cough right away with Mull's Lightning Cough Cure. It heals disease of throat and lungs. It's pure and good for children. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

J. H. Doty of St. Peter and W. H. Rounsville of Dodge county, form a trio of landseekers from the southern part of the state who are in the city at present, with a view of securing Polk county farm lands.

The Great Northern Railway Company have placed a telegraph office at Rickets, a point near Bemidji, for the accommodation of lumbering concerns along the different spurs into the woods centering there.

—The disease of Liver Complaint is alarmingly prevalent and it's dangerous. Mull's Pioneer Liver Cure has brought health to a host of sufferers. $1.00 draft in each $1.00 box as a guarantee. 25c. S. A. Wallace.

—Geo. Nelson, who resides at Euclid, while hauling wood to town had the misfortune to break one of his legs. He was riding on a load Tuesday afternoon, and when a short distance from town the top of the pile slipped off the sleigh, throwing him to the ground with the above result.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly. $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

K. A. Aker, one of the prominent farmers of Climax, was here Wednesday on his way to Park River, N. D., where he will look after some of his real estate interests and visit a short time with relatives. Mr. Aker, besides successfully managing a big farm, also takes an interest in politics, and two years ago he was the republican nominee for sheriff of Polk county.

—Mrs. O. P. Johnson, of Thief River Falls, passed through here Tuesday accompanied by her daughter, whom she will place in a hospital at Minneapolis. The girl is nine years old and is suffering from what Thief River Falls physicians term tuberculosis of the spinal column. Mrs. Johnson expects to remain with her child during the time required for the little one to be cured of the malady.

—Upwards of eighty members of the Masonic lodge turned out Tuesday to pay their last tribute to their dead brother, P. C. Shapleigh, and after viewing the remains at the residence of C. F. Mix, the lodge escorted the body to the Great Northern depot, from where it was taken to Monticello for burial. W. G. Lytle, Major C. H. Mix, Ed. Walsh, Alden Braley, G. C. Wild and J. W. Wheeler acted as pall bearers. C. F. Mix and wife accompanied the remains to their last resting place.

Literary Notes

The Saturday Evening Post announces the commencement of a serial story of twelve parts by Morgan Robertson, to appear at an early day. It is a story of love and adventure entitled, "Masters of Men," and is connected with the new navy, a rich orphan who has entered the navy as an apprentice and a young ensign fresh from the naval academy being the central figures. It is claimed that this is the best among this popular writer's stories.

It Pays to Raise Pork

P. F. Huntley, of Taopi, sold in Chicago Monday, Jan. 7, sixty hogs which netted him $1,000. They were all white, well bred, well fed and the best lot on the market that day, and topped the market at 5.40. The average weight was 327 pounds. It would seem from this record that hog raising pays. Few farmers with one hundred and sixty acres of land but could raise a carload of hogs each year, and barring accident and disease, realize a handsome sum which would drown the cry of "hard times" among the farmers.

Wife as an Asset.

In North Dakota the value of a wife is demonstrated by the recent experience of some of the county treasurers in the difficulty they have had in securing surety bonds, as provided by law. In one or two cases the treasurers were single men and the surety companies were afraid to take the risks. In addition to the lack of matrimonial assets some of the officials were not men of property, which operated against them, and the bonds for treasurers are very large on account of the large sums handled.

For Northwestern Immigrants

Copenhagen, Jan. 22.—A. Johnson, mayor of Fargo, N. D., is here as the guest of L. S. Swenson, the United States minister. He is working up the project of emigration in the northwest of America. Mr. Johnson will go to Sweden, Norway and Finland.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine
Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets
the remedy that cures a cold in one day

MILL OF JUSTICE

Started up For Business at Bemidji January 22.

A special term of district court for Beltrami county convenes Tuesday, Jan. 22, Judge McClenahan presiding.

Owing to number of criminal cases pending, and the other time consumed in the disposal of the Whipple murder case, during the regular session, the civil calendar, together with pending criminal cases not disposed of, were continued, the date of the special term having been fixed as above stated. No grand jury will be summoned and only civil and criminal cases in which indictments have been returned by the last grand jury will be considered.

There are in the neighborhood of 75 civil cases to be passed upon, together with the criminal cases, among the latter being the cases of Ensign Miller, last spring in charge of the Salvation Army corps here, under rape, and several others held on minor charges.

In this connection it might be of interest to know that since Beltrami county was organized four years ago, there have been but four criminal convictions in the district court, the first man to receive a sentence being Robert Kinney, the slayer of Jerry Root, sentenced for life by Judge Holland in 1898; Frank Wilcox, six months in the state prison for highway robbery, 1899; Chas. Lock, burglary, two years, 1900; and Larson, who shot Dahle at Bagley this fall. Not a bad record compared with those boasting "peaceable" communities, like Polk and other counties which send a great deal larger number than that to the pen twice a year. We can boast of less men spinning twine, anyhow, than most counties.—Beltrami County News.

Looking For Cut

For some time past there have been rumors of a contemplated retrenchment in the salaries of Great Northern officials. Before leaving for New York last week President Hill is understood to have sent notices to the heads of every department that he desired a detailed statement of all expenses. He is also reported to have asked for opinions as to what reductions in salaries could be made. The information is said to have been prepared and sent to the president's office, where it will be considered by him upon his return from the east.

The best information obtainable looks for a cut of at least 10 per cent in the salaries of all the officials about the general offices, and probably many along the line of the road. It is known that certain officials are considerably exercised over the matter. Traveling agents may be dropped.

To Punish Kidnappers.

The crime of kidnapping, if practiced in Minnesota on the Cudahy plan, would not receive the punishment it would merit, under existing laws. The possibilities of the situation were forcibly brought home to the minds of the legislators Thursday when Representative Sweet introduced in the house a bill amending existing laws covering kidnapping. The measure proposed by Mr. Sweet not only enlarges the scope of the old law, but increases the maximum penalty to twenty years. Nearly every possible phase of kidnapping is covered, especially such conspiracies as were practiced so successfully in the Cudahy case. The bill was referred to the committee on judiciary.

Death of Mrs. John Johnson of Fisher.

After a lingering and painful illness Mrs. John Johnson, of Fisher, passed away Thursday surrounded by her family and a number of intimate friends.

Deceased was for a long time a sufferer of cancer, and this malady claimed her as its victim as above stated. She was a sister of George Reiley, a former business man of Crookston, and was generally beloved and respected by all who enjoyed the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The funeral was held from her late residence Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Best of Everything.

The most of the type on the Crookston Daily Journal is now set up with a Mergenthaler, the latest improved type setting machine. We admire the taste of the one who selected the face of the type. Mr. Gordon is an enterprising and progressive newspaper man and stops nothing short of getting the best of everything for his already well equipped plant. We believe this is the first and only linotype machine in the Red River valley on the Minnesota side.—St. Hilaire Spectator.

Lucky Escape.

Miss Olgo Olson who was reported to have perished in the storm Tuesday, was happily found yesterday snugly entrenched in the Larson farm house a short distance from her home. She left Warren on Tuesday afternoon to walk home, but was overtaken by the storm and became lost and wandered about until nine o'clock in the evening, at which time she luckily found her way up to Mr. Larson's house, where she was taken care of and found by her nearly distracted parents the next day.—Warren Register.

Gets a Fat Office.

Gov. Van Sant has appointed Fred C. Schiffman, of St. Paul, chief oil inspector of the state.

There has been considerable speculation respecting the appointment it having been stated that Eli Warner was a candidate for the place.

Mr. Schiffmann is well known in St. Paul, being among the leaders of the young republicans of the city and state. The appointment is said to be worth $26,000 a year.

For Two-Cent Rate.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 19.—Two bills reducing railroad passenger fares to two cents were introduced in the assembly today, one by Miller, making the reduction apply only to railroads earing over $3,500 a mile; the other by Silkworth, making a straight two-cent fare on all roads in Wisconsin.

HE FORGOT TO QUALIFY

And a Beltrami County Commissioner Will Lose His Office.

To be elected to public office and then disqualified is not an every-day occurrence, but Bemidji, or rather Beltrami county, furnishes such an instance. Wm. Wright was elected county commissioner from the Bemidji district last fall, and at the organization of the board last week he was made chairman of that august body.

As appointing officer he named himself chairman of a number of committees, and among others that on county printing. The board at its last meeting transacted a lot of the county's business and also awarded the printing to a local paper, this under strong protest of another contemporary which had also made a bid for the publication and printing of official matters of the county, but was turned down by the board.

Several days later, and after the time specified for qualification of newly elected officers had expired, it was learned that Wright had failed to comply with that duty and consequently was in no wise competent or authorized to transact business for the county. Notice was served on him that the commissioner district from which he had been elected was without a representative and that the vacancy existing would be filled by the appointment of a suitable person, the chairmen of the various towns in the district having the power to appoint.

This unexpected sequel invalidated all the work done by the board, and as the appointive powers are not too friendly to Wright it is not at all probable that he will fill the office.

The friends of the local paper which was turned down by the board at its meeting will make an extreme effort to secure the appointment of a commissioner friendly to their side and thus gain the last laugh—because it's best.

At any rate it is questionable if any of the board's actions are legal, and the neglect of Wright to qualify as prescribed by law has stirred up a great deal of political comment on both sides.

A BIG TIME

Did the Royal Neighbors Have Last Night.

The Royal Neighbor lodge of this city at the meeting Friday night initiated a class of twenty-four new members. The list of candidates originally consisted of twenty-nine applicants, but five of these were taken sick during the week and consequently unable to present themselves for initiation in the mysteries of the Royal Neighbor lodge.

The Degree team of East Grand Forks lodge, twenty-three strong, came over on the evening train and assisted in the evening's work, and representatives from the Fisher, Wylie, Maple Bay, Red Lake Falls and other lodges were also present to witness the lodge work.

After the close of the work the ladies of the members served a sumptuous supper—one of the finest spreads ever—and this was followed by a social hop which lasted until almost four o'clock. The affair was a pleasant social event and everybody present enjoyed it hugely.

Difficulty About Bonds.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 17.—Some of the county treasurers are having trouble to secure bonds and in one or two instances they have been unable to secure the proper credentials to assume their new duties. The last session of the legislature passed a law providing that all treasurers should be bonded by surety companies instead of the old fashioned way of having their personal friends go good for them. In a few cases for some reason the surety companies companies have refused to bond. To further complicate matters, the retiring treasurer in two instances have served two full terms, the limit allowed by law, and are not entitled to keep the cash any longer. Arrangements will probably be made by which the officials will be able to secure guarantees from the surety companies by paying a large bonus and having personal friends sign a bond to the surety people.

To Beat Tax Dodgers

Representative A. K. Bush has introduced in the house a measure similar to the Iowa "ferret law," which is designed to assist in discovering property which is concealed by tax dodgers. The law provides that 15 per cent of all taxes so collected shall go to the parties who discover such property which is taxable, but is untaxed. Boards of county commissioners are authorized to contract with persons to discover such property. Before the county treasurer can list such property he is requested to give the property owner ten days notice, in which time a meeting must be arranged at which the property owner may present such objections or statements as he sees fit.

Comments on The Convention.

Fargo Forum: The drainage convention at Crookston which closed a two days' session Saturday, was one of considerable importance to the residents of the Red River valley. The scope of discussion—the questions and answers, were free and frank, and the best of good nature prevailed. All the gentlemen present were interested in the cause, seeking the same end, all doing their best for the cause. The mayor and the citizens of Crookston were attentive, hospitable and obliging. The local press boys looked after the outside representatives, and all participating seemed glad they went. The next drainage meeting will be held in Fargo in the spring.

Moorhead Will Raise License.

The charter commission of the city of Moorhead which met yesterday were confronted by a petition signed by 49 legal voters praying that the liquor license be raised to $1,000.

Inasmuch as this constitutes more than five per cent of the legal voters of the city, the commissioners are obliged to submit an amendment to the charter to the people at the coming election, Feb. 19, at their ratification. In order to carry, the amendment must receive three-fifths of all the votes cast.

GRAIN INSPECTOR

St. Anthony Elevator Man of Minneapolis is Mentioned.

L. D. Marshall, superintendent of the St. Anthony Elevator Co., is favorably mentioned for the position of state grain inspector. Mr. Marshall is well known all over the northern part of the state and his appointment would give great satisfaction to the Seventh district. Marshall has been in the business all his life and knows as much about wheat as any man could know. And then again, he has a reputation of being honest, and that's the qualification that most inspectors lack.—Marshall Leader.

Had Fortunate Escape.

At 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon an exciting runaway occurred in Jerome's addition and the escape from instant death of both horses is almost miraculous.

E. Krause, a German farmer from near Euclid, was engaged in loading coal from Vance & Stone's coal sheds, which are located near the Northern Pacific tracks in Jerome's addition, and had tied his horses to a post. An approaching freight train frightened the animals, and breaking the hitching strap, they started on a wild run around the circle. When they reached the railroad crossing on Loring street they found the road obstructed by the train, and changing their course they proceeded northward along the track until they struck the trestle work of the railroad bridge. Here both horses fell, and in their struggle to get up again, they were precipitated to the ground below, a distance of nearly 25 feet. The front part of the sleigh also went down with the team, and strange to say, neither horses or rig were badly damaged, the former receiving only a few slight scratches, which the owner claims will not amount to anything.

They Saw a Doe.

A quartette of local sports took a drive out in the country northeast of the city Tuesday afternoon and when about four miles from here two of the party, who had taken different directions, espied a young doe within short range.

The party consisted of W. E. Rowe, Ed. Huntley, Geo. A. E. Finlayson and one of Couvrette's livery drivers, and their mission was after jack rabbits. The former two ran onto the deer and if it hadn't been for the knowledge of the game laws, the present county attorney would have been awfully tempted to empty his rifle on the unsuspecting doe. As it was, only a cold chill chased down the hunter's backbone, and they all returned empty handed.

J J Carey's Bondsmen Settle.

At a special meeting of the board of supervisors of Reis township on Wednesday, says the Beltrami Independent, Leo Gnadt and Tom Sandem as bondsmen of the former town treasurer, J. J. Carey, presented a petition signed by a majority of the taxpayers of the town asking that the said bondsmen be relieved from paying the shortage that, existed in Carey's treasurer accounts. This the supervisors refused to do, but after due consideration a compromise settlement was effected to cover only the last term of Carey's office. Gnadt and Sandem gave their notes for $425 to the town of Reis, payable Dec. 1st, 1901.

Skrivseths Gallery

is the place to get good photographs. 216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

Notes From Exchanges.

—J. F. Hawkins keeps his saw mill humming from daylight until dark these days. He has recently received an order from Crookston for 75,000 feet of bridge timber.—Solway Press.

—Geo. O'Brien, Chas. Henderson and Albert Thompson went out Monday after a couple of black foxes that were said to be running around about a mile and a half east of the village, but the foxes turned out to be wolves and O'Brien shot one and will get a good bounty for his work. He went out the next morning after the other, but it could not be found.—Fisher Bulletin.

—While loading logs in Hagli township, out near Blackduck, Chas. Woodward broke his left arm and started for the house, two miles away. He had taken his gun with him in the morning in hope of getting a shot at some game. On his way home he caught sight of a young doe, which he shot. Then, loading the deer on his shoulder he carried it to his home and had his broken arm attended to.—Thirteen Towns.

Independent, Beltrami: The Crookston Journal has just added to its plant a Mergenthaler typesetting machine. It's a dandy, too, and Brother Gordon is as proud of it as a peacock with its feathers all spread. One man operating on a keyboard similar to a typewriter does the work that formerly took four compositors to do. The Journal plant is now only surpassed by the excellent paper which it prints.

—The Hallock Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company held its annual meeting at Hallock last week and reviewed the business of the year. There are now 305 policies in force, amounting to a total of $352,145. The company is growing steadily and will reach the half million mark. There is great satisfaction over the management of the company, which has made a saving of several thousand dollars in insurance to the farmers of this county.—Hallock News.

—During Tuesday's snow storm, the passenger train drove into a flock of sheep just north of Hallock, killing seventeen. The train slowed down so that only a few were caught by the pilot of the engine, but the sheep sought shelter from the storm by getting under the cars and were there crushed to death. Several more sheep of the same flock got in the way of the freight train during the night, so that P. Carrigan, the owner of the flock lost 25 or 26 in all.—Hallock News.

Stops the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, no Pay. Price 25 cents.

Eat and Run.

There isn't a man who would be seen running through the street munching a piece of pie. Why not? Because it would mean dyspepsia and stomach trouble? Not at all; but because it wouldn't look well. As a matter of fact many a business man snatches a lunch in such a hurry that he might as well take it on the run. That is one reason for the prevailing "stomach trouble" among men of business.

There is a certain remedy for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The worst cases of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach have been cured by this medicine. It cures where all other means have failed to cure.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carnes, Esq., of Taylorstown, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. There was a gentleman told me about your medicine, and how it had cured his wife. I thought I would try a bottle of it. Am now glad I did, for I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They stimulate the sluggish liver, and cleanse the system of impurities. They should always be used with "Golden Medical Discovery" when there is need of a laxative.

Narrowly Escaped Death.

What came very near proving a fatal accident to young Carl Nelson was narrowly avoided by the timely arrival of a physician. The young man is the son of Charles Nelson, janitor of the Rickett block, and is employed at the round house in the Fifth ward. After returning from work Monday evening he went to his room, where he had a mixture of cough medicine and brandy, which he used in breaking up a severe cold. Near the medicine bottle stood a flask containing wood alcohol, and in grabbing the bottle he mistook the wood alcohol bottle for his remedy flask, and before he discovered his error had deposited a small glass full into his stomach. The deadly poison had a severe effect on Nelson, but Dr. J. Marion Smith, who was speedily summoned, applied a stomach pump and saved the young man's life.

While not yet fully recovered, and still confined to his room, the young man is entirely out of danger, which resulted from an oversight.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION.

Program for the Meetings to be Held Here and in McIntosh

Notice is hereby given that the next examination for state teachers' certificates for Polk county, will be held at the high school building in the city of Crookston Feb. 7, 8 and 9, and at McIntosh Feb. 8 and 9.

All teachers writing to make up conditions must not neglect to bring their limited certificates. You are also requested to bring pens and penholders, as the manuscript must be written with pen and ink.

Applicants for first grade certificates will meet at the court house in Crookston Feb. 7.

The following is the program:

FIRST DAY, FEB. 7, 1901.

A. M.—9:00 to 10:00—Plain Geometry. 10:10 to 11:10—Either Physical Geography or Gen. History. (Applicant's choice.

P. M.—1:30 to 2:30—Natural Philosophy. 2:40 to 3:40—Algebra.

SECOND DAY, FEB. 8, 1901.

A. M.—8:00 to 8:30—Filling out and collecting application blanks. 8:30 to 8:50—Spelling. 9:00 to 10:00—County Superintendent's Professional Test. 10:10 to 11:10—Reading. 11:20 to 12:20—Grammar.

P. M.—2:00 to 3:00—United States History. 3:10 to 4:10—Physiology and Hygiene. 4:20 to 5:20—Drawing (optional.)

THIRD DAY, FEB. 9, 1901.

A. M.—8:00 to 9:00—County Superintendent's Professional Test, completed. 9:10 to 10:10—Arithmetic. 10:20 to 11:20—Geography. 11:30 to 12:30—Music (optional.)

P. M.—2:00 to 3:00—Civil Government.

N. B.—Penmanship and composition will be marked on the papers in United States History. —Thomas Casey, Co. Supt. of Schools.

NORTHERN PACIFIC

To ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS DULUTH AND POINTS EAST & SOUTH

To BUTTE HELENA SPOKANE SEATTLE TACOMA PORTLAND CALIFORNIA JAPAN CHINA ALASKA KLONDIKE

C. A. SHARKEY, Agent Crookston, Minn. | Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A. St. Paul, Minn.

	Arr	Dep't
SOUTH BOUND. No. 8 to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and East.	8:25 p m	8:28 p m
NORTH BOUND. No. 7 to Grand Forks, Grafton and Winnipeg.	6:18 a m	6:48 a m

A. SHARKEY, Agt. Crookston, Minn. CHAS. S. FEE, G. P. A. St. Paul, Minn.

THE GREAT NORTHERN

Arrive.	*Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	*Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	*Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6.30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls..........	9.20 am
4.53 pm	*Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior..........	9.00 am
6 45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo..........	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent..........	9.10 am

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

PHYSICIANS

A. A. Just M. D.
Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners
Office Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
Dentist.
Wallace Block. Crookston, Minn.

ATTORNEYS

James M. Maybury,
Attorney and Counselor at Law.
Special Attention to: Business Correspondence, Land Contest Cases, Mortgage Foreclosures, Collections, Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block. Crookston, Minn.

H. Steenerson,
Attorney at Law.
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

Miller & Foote,
Attorneys at Law.
Offices corner Broadway and Robert streets Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
Attorney at Law,
Room 3 Fournet Block Crookston, Minn.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN
Services every Sunday. Morning 11:00, evening 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
Rev. H. M. Green, B. D. Rector

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans, Insurance........
Official Abstracters of Title for Polk County. CROOKSTON MINN.

Carpenter & Olson.
Law, Land, Loans, Collections.
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Ricktt block. Crookston, Minn.

All kinds of work in our line done now at the

One Price Hardware Store.

Also Bicycle Repairing.

N. 213 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

The Singer Sewing Machine
Has no Equal, Sold by...
IKE & MOLSTAD, Props.
Crookston Music House.
106 Main St. S. - CROOKSTON.

Stevens Ideal Rifle.
No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.

Made in all the standard calibers both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, 24 inches. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.

If these rifles are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.

Send stamp for catalog describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.

THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

Polk County Journal,
BY N. S. GORDON.

☞ Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

THE CREAM OF NORTH STAR STATE PUBLICATIONS
Minnesota Press Home Print Association
NATIONAL PUBLISHERS AGENCY

Hennepin county's printing expenses for the year 1900 foots up to the nice little sum of $32,339.50, and Ramsey county's printing for the same year cost $ 14,355.90.

A movement is on foot in St. Paul looking toward the purchase of the Mississippi Valley telephone plant by the city. At the meeting of the board of aldermen Tuesday night a resolution was introduced authorizing the appointment of a committee of five to consider the matter.

The Alaska Forum, which issued its first number Sept. 27, 1900, is a spicy little three column folio, published by W. R. Edwards at Rampart, Alaska, once every week at the merely nominal price of $12 per year. No doubt W. R. inherits his editorial proclivities from his father, Maje Edwards of the Fargo Forum.

A good story is being told by several of our exchanges at the expense of a hotel man who did not keep the best place in the world. A traveling man was standing outside the door when the landlord came out and beat the gong, at which a dog sitting on his haunches near by set up a terrible howl. Turning to the dog, the man said: "What in h—l are you howling about, you are not obliged to eat here."

Mayor Ames, of Minneapolis, has ordered all nickel-in-the-slot machines and picture boxes removed from their usual places, and refuses to tolerate these little amusements (?) under his present administration.. Ames, since he saddled over to the republican party has not alone improved his politics, as evidently a deep purpose of moral betterment has overcome the erstwhile democratic wide open policy mayor of Minneapolis.

Our new fellow citizens at Tutulla, in the Samoan Islands, finding the Americans who come among them disregard the rules laid down by the missionaries of the London Mission Society, who have charge of the religious work there, in regard to observance of the Sabbath, have decided they want to be released from their operation also, and have applied to Commander Tilly by petition for the repeal of the fourth commandment.

The annual report of Dairy Commissioner Bowler or the year 1900 shows the following facts: There are in the state 582 creameries, which have handled 972,799,299 pounds of milk, making therefrom 44,007,933 pounds of butter; $8,055,914.55 have been paid to patrons for milk and $930,739.35 have been paid for operating expenses. The average price paid for milk per one hundred pounds is 68 6-10 cents, and the average price paid for butter per pound is 17 5-10 cents.

Cumberland county, Maine, boasts of a preacher sheriff, and it is claimed that Rev. Samuel F. Parsons, of Portland Maine, is the first preacher in this country to be elected to the office of sheriff. He was the nominee of the prohibition party, and although opposed by the republican and democratic candidates, was elected by a good plurality. It is said that he was the first man to vote the prohibition ticket in Maine, and his election was the result of the disgusted temperance men of all parties at the notorious violation of the Maine law. It is said that no city of reasonable respectability has as many "rum shops" as has Portland, and Rev. Parsons' efforts to wipe out the traffic will be watched with interest all over the country. Prohibition in prohibition Maine would be a novelty indeed.

The terrible tragedy enacted at Leavenworth, Kansas, last week in burning a negro at the stake to avenge an alleged crime, should be put down as one of the most bloodthirsty acts of a civilized community imaginable. The violation of law, either by a man or a mob, cannot but be condemned. If people are wronged the law provides remedies, although it is true that it works slowly at times. It seems that if something could be done towards increasing the speed of the law's machinery in cases of terrible crimes, where there is no question as to the guilt of the accused, it might have a beneficial effect on public sentiment in some parts of the country and prevent the frequency of such awful affairs as that at Leavenworth. If a man is arrested for some revolting murder or assault and there is every evidence of his guilt, there should be no chance for delay in meting out justice to him. There is an opportunity for some remedial legislation along those lines.

The newspaper publishers down in Mower county in bidding for the county printing this year shut their eyes, put cotton in their ears and made their bids on the "sight-unseen-hit-or-miss plan." And when the commissioners opened the bids they read, $275, $250, $170, $100, $75 and $69 respectively, for any old amount of printing they might want.

The case of McKenzie vs. the city of Crookston which was on trial Monday before Justice McLean, and was decided by the jury in favor of the plaintiff, ought to furnish an object lesson to the city council and those in charge of the business of the city, impressing on their minds the importance of doing business in a business way, and making contracts for work to be done, embodying the intended conditions in language that is direct, concise, free from ambiguity, and that expresses in plain terms just what is meant to be included, and nothing else.

The impending change of rulers in Great Britain suggests a strong probability of a turning point in England's career. The late queen has without doubt been the principal factor in securing and maintaining England's prestige among the nations of the world. And her passing away may soon be followed by a revolution in England's political affairs.

In regard to her international relations, in St. Petersburg comment is already freely indulged in, and the czar's subjects freely admit that her majesty has been one of the main bulwarks of peace. The power of an English sovereign is greater than commonly supposed, and the change of sovereigns may produce a revolution in international politics.

No announcement of a death has ever been made, or perhaps ever will be made, which is of wider interest than that of Queen Victoria, which occurred this afternoon at Cowes, in the Isle of Wight.

The decease of her uncle, William IV., which occurred June 20, 1837, left the throne of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland vacant, and she was proclaimed queen June 21, 1837, and crowned at Westminster June 28, 1838. Since that time she has ruled over the destinies of her kingdom with such unvarying firmness and discretion, that she has not only endeared herself to every one of her subjects, but has commanded the respect and admiration of the entire civilized world. She possessed a knowledge of German, French and Italian, and after she was sixty years of age took up the study of Hindoo, of which she had acquired a conversable knowledge at the time of her death.

Her long experience as a ruler and her profound knowledge of international politics were without parallel among the sovereigns of Europe and no monarch in modern history has been so universally respected and beloved.

There is now considerable quiet speculation going on as to what report will be made by the West Point investigating committee. J. S. Van Antwerp, a newspaper correspondent who is "next" to existing conditions in Washington, writes that it is sure as fate the strongest pressure that social, personal and political influences can exert, will be brought to bear to get as much whitewash in the report as possible. But we believe that congress has now become sufficiently informed in regard to the barbarity which has become a fixed habit in the West Point academy, and of the aroused public sentiment regarding it throughout the country, to recognize the fact that nothing short of an entire change in the management will be accepted. To plead for the present management that they were ignorant of the practices which have been established there, or that they considered the matter unimportant, or that they were unable to restrain them, furnishes no excuse for retaining them. Either case being true, would be a sufficient cause for their removal at once. No less radical action should be considered appropriate to the situation. Senator Allen of Nebraska, in a ringing denunciation of the West Point conditions as disclosed by the investigation, said a few days since: "If you will give one of the old revolution generals who is determined to do his duty, authority over that institution for six weeks, you will see that he will stop it."

Nor is the action of the senate committee regarded as being adequate to meet the needs of the situation. It simply reiterates what has already been prescribed and disregarded. The regulations now in force prohibit hazing, and the superintendent of the academy is supposed to see that these regulations are enforced and obeyed. But it has not been done. And but for the fatal results of the practice becoming so conspicuous as to attract the attention of congress, and lead to an investigation, there would now have been no move toward a reformation in the matter. What the country now demands is a heroic reform.

Grinnell Iowa, Jan. 21.—Thomas Goppock, Fairfield, is said to have been driven insane by samples of medicines sent him as a cure of epilepsy. A few hours after taking the medicine he became a raving maniac.

GONE TO HER REWARD

Queen Victoria Bids Farewell to Her Children and Closes Her Eventful Life.

ALL GREAT BRITAIN IS IN SORROW

And Deeply Mourns the Loss of Their Much Beloved Ruler and Queen.

Cowes, England, Jan. 22.—(Special to the Crookston Daily Journal.)—"The queen is dead" were the sad words which passed from lip to lip tonight as the announcement was made that the life of Queen Victoria had gone out to her Maker, and that the eventful career of one of the most noble women on earth was at an end.

The end came at 6:30 this afternoon and was peaceful. The royal family had gathered about the death bed of the sinking queen, and amid tears and sorrow witnessed the passing of the beloved ruler of Great Britain.

At noon today she was still conscious and bade farewell to her children and grandchildren, and others of the royal family who surrounded her, and shortly before the final summons came she joined in prayers that were being said for her.

All Great Britain mourns the loss of the dead ruler, and flags are at half mast on all public buildings, and the house of lords is being heavily draped in mourning colors.

The following facts in conection with the departed queen's life will be of interest to our readers:

On May 24, 1819, a girl child, who was to rule millions of people in widely separated portions of the habitable globe, was born in dingy old Kensington palace. She was the only daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Kent, granddaughter of George III., then king of England, and niece of the then Prince of Wales, afterward King William III. In due time she was christened Victoria, and from the beginning her education and training were of the most careful, for, while it would have been a wild fancy indeed that had predicted such a career as she was actually destined to fill, there being at that time several lives between her and the throne, her father and mother, her grandmother, the dowager Duchess of Coburg, also grandmother of the Prince Albert who was to be prince consort of England's queen, and indeed George VI. of England himself, regarded her as very likely to be the sovereign of England before her death. Prince Albert, when he courted Victoria years afterward, said to her that he had been told from childhood that one day he was to marry the queen of England, and she was to be the queen.

The Duke of Kent, who was the fourth of seven dissolute sons born to King George III., died when Victoria was yet an infant, leaving behind him an enormous indebtedness. This was due not only to his extravagant way of living, but also to the fact that his royal father adopted the utmost parsimony in dealing with him. At one time the duke was sent abroad with an allowance of but two pounds a week, and on another occasion all his traveling expenses were put into the hands of the captain on whose ship he sailed. It was this state of affairs that caused the widowed duchess to live with great simplicity—a mode of life indeed that doubtless had a great deal to do with the sterling character of Victoria when she ascended to the throne.

To wise hands was entrusted the care of the royal infant. Healthful outdoor exercise, plain and wholesome food and the utmost regularity and punctuality were the order of the day. The idea that not only her own time, but that of others as well, was valuable was fostered in Victoria's mind. The greatest care was taken to guard against vanity and love of display or power, and it was not until she was 12 years of age that she was informed of her possible future. It is told of her by the Baroness Lehzen that on receiving this information, "the princess, having lifted the forefinger of her right hand while she spoke, gave me the little hand, saying: 'I will be good. I understand now why you have urged me so much to learn even Latn. I understand all better now. I will be good.'"

Victoria became of age on May 24, 1837, and on June 20, less than a month later, she was declared queen of England, William IV., having just died. It was in the middle of the night that the young girl was notified that she had become queen of Great Britain and sovereign of an empire so vast that on it the sun never sets. The messengers who conveyed to her the news of her accession to the throne were the archbishop of Canterbury, the lord chamberlain and Sir Henry Halford. They experienced a great deal of difficulty in obtaining admission, as the entire palace at Kensington, where the young princess resided, was wrapped in deep slumber. Having at length made their way to the apartment adjoining her bedroom, they caused her to be summoned. A few seconds later she appeared, enveloped in a loose white dressing gown and shawl, her long hair falling over her shoulders and her bare feet in slippers.

On being informed of her new dignity, she burst into tears, and then, addressing herself to the archbishop, exclaimed: "I beg your grace to pray for me." The whole party, consisting of the little queen, the prelate, the lord chamberlain and the late king's physician, Sir Henry Halford, then knelt, and there, in the middle of the night offered up prayer to heaven that she might be strengthened from above and guided to the blessing of her people.

That was how Queen Victoria commenced her long and prosperous reign and now it may be well said without fear of contradiction that her prayer offered up on the night of her accession has been fulfilled and that her reign has proved a blessing to her people.

The coronation ceremonies occurred on June 28, 1838. Never had England's metropolis been so crowded. Places along the line of the royal procession brought a high premium. By dark on the preceding day the people began to gather.

At daybreak on the 28th the popular enthusiasm had reached a high pitch. The procession outdid anything of the kind that had before been witnessed in London. Besides the troops, which were ordered out in full force, there were twelve royal carriages, each containing two ladies and two gentlemen, and each drawn by six prancing horses. Then came the queen's state coach, drawn by eight cream colored horses, and attended by a yeoman at each wheel and a footman at each door. The coronation itself was held in the vast building always used for the imposing ceremonies of English royalty, Westminster Abby. Victoria's train of royal crimson velvet and ermine was borne by eight young ladies of noble birth. Cannon boomed trumpets sounded, and men and women cheered outside the building, and from every part of the sacred edifice were heard enthusiastic cries of "God save the queen." Hats and handkerchiefs were waved aloft, peers and peeresses put on their coronets, and bishops donned their caps. The guests included other sovereigns, and they yielded to no one in the enthusiasm of the moment.

Queens enjoys a privilege which is withheld, save in leap year, from women occupying a less august position in the social scale, namely, that of themselves making the offer of marriage, instead of waiting to receive the proposal from their suitors. And it was therefore Queen Victoria who a year after her coronation at Westminster Abby, on June 28, 1838, invited her cousin, Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, to share her life with her. It is only stating the truth to say of this marriage, however, that it was one that had been agreed upon for many years, providing Victoria herself approved of the young man. For a time she is recorded as having been not well pleased with him, but there is no doubt that she fell in love with him before the union was proposed by her. The nuptials took place on the 10th of February, 1840, at the Chapel Royal, St. James palace. The wedding breakfast was given at Buckingham palace, and the honeymoon which only lasted three days was spent at Windsor castle.

THE QUEEN'S SUCCESSOR

The Kaiser of Germany Considered by Some as Rightful Heir.

London, Jan. 21.—"Was it love alone for his dying grandmother that brought the kaiser so hastily to England?" queried one of the crowd who watch the emperor of Germany leap from the train at Charing Gross station.

There is a question as to whether the kaiser is not the more rightful heir to the throne of England than Wales. Some political writers in Germany openly proclaimed it last year, and were suppressed for les majeste.

There is no salic law in England, and women have frequently occupied the throne. Victoria herself was chosen because she was the eldest heir, although there were other junior males. The kaiser's mother, Empress Frederick, is the eldest child of Victoria, and it might be claimed that she should be sovereign of England instead of Wales, in which case the kaiser, as her eldest child, would inherit it.

Thrones have been claimed many times on far less rights than these.

The Prince of Wales is in an alarming condition of health. The prince is very far from being a strong or robust man, despite his appearance. He is a sufferer from heart disease to such an extent that when he had to submit to two very painful operations a couple of years ago in connection with his broken knee cap, his doctors were afraid to administer any anesthetics, lest he should succumb to the influence and pass away while undergoing the operations.

After the death of his eldest son he became to such an extent subject to melancholia, culminating in physical as well as nervous prostration, as to give very serious cause for alarm.

That he has been deeply affected by the events of the last few days was apparent to all who saw him at the railway station. The excitement and the loss of sleep have been too much for him, and no one who has been aware of the true condition of his health during the last two or three years can feel surprised that there has been in his case, too, collapse.

Indeed it is within the bounds of possibility that there may be a sudden and untoward culmination of his heart trouble before many hours are passed. In that event his own popular belief that he would not live to reign would be realized. He often spoke about this belief, and is known to have made a large bet to the effect that he would not live to rule over England as king.

NEW FLAX GRADE

The Minnesota Board of Grain Appeals Issue an Important Circular.

The Minnesota board of grain appeals has issued a circular of great importance to producers and consumers of flaxseed. It creates an immediate grade, just below "No. 1 northern" flaxseed, to be known as "No. 1 flaxseed."

There has been much complaint on the part of farmers whose seed failed to reach standard, and was labeled "rejected." The new grade covers a small range, but will include a large share of the crop. It will go into effect June 15, in time for the next crop, but not affecting the old seed. The circular issued by the board follows:

To the Producers and Grain Merchants of the Northwest: Based upon our experience during our term of office, we, the board of grain appeals for the state of Minnesota, after a careful consideration of the best interests of the producer and consumer, have concluded to revise the flax rules and to establish an additional grade of flaxseed, to be known as "No. 1 flaxseed." These grades to take effect on and after June 15, 1901. A copy of the rules is hereto attached.

No. 1 Northwestern—Flaxseed to grade No. 1 northwestern shall be mature, sound, dry and sweet. It shall be northern grown. The maximum quantity of field, stack, storage or other damaged seed intermixed shall not exceed twelve and one-half per cent. The minimum weight shall be 51 pounds to the measured bushel of commercially pure seed.

No. 1 Flaxseed—No. 1 flaxseed shall be sound, dry and free from mustiness, and carrying not more than 25 per cent of immature eld, stack, storage or other damaged flaxseed, and weighing not less than 50 pounds to the measured bushel of commercially pure seed.

Rejected Flaxseed—Flaxseed that is damp, immature, field damaged or musty, and yet not to a degree to be unfit for temporary storage and having a test weight of not less than 47 pounds to the measured bushel of commercially pure seed.

No Grade Flaxseed—Flaxseed that is warm, mouldy, very musty, wet or otherwise unfit for storage, or having a weight of less than 47 pounds to the measured bushel of commercially pure seed, shall be no grade.

FIRE AT STEPHENS

Sixteen Horses Perish in the Flames Together With a Lot of Grain.

Stephen, Minn., Jan. 18.—At an early hour this morning the barn of Andrew Olson was completely destroyed by fire. The loss will be very heavy as Mr. Olson had a large quantity of grain and hay stored in the building.

Sixteen horses which were in the burned structure perished in the flames in addition to which all the harness, 200 bushels of oats and ten tons of hay were destroyed.

The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. There was no fire in or around the building. As far as known there was no possibility of the fire having been started by spontaneous combustion or through an accident.

The loss will fall very heavy on Mr. Olson, who loses nearly every horse he owned. Very little, if anything, was saved from the barn that was of value. As can readily be imagined the flames spread with frightful rapidity and when discovered the building was a mass of fire and it was utterly impossible to reach the livestock or anything else within the building.

Every effort will be made to discover the incendiary and if found he will be given a lesson which he will never forget at the hands of the residents of the vicinity, who are highly indignant at the outrage.

There is not a dollar of insurance on any of the property destroyed, Mr. Olson making application for a policy on the same only a day previous. The loss is variously estimated at from $7,000 to $10,000, the barn alone having cost over $2,000 only a year ago.

WAS AN EDITOR

That's Why He Failed to Rise When Others Did.

A North Dakota minister, to test the effect of prosperous times upon his congregation, asked, "All in the house who pay their debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception, rose to their feet. He seated the crowd and said: "Let every man who is not paying his debts stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry individual, clothed in his last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position and leaned upon the back of the seat in front of him. "How is it, my friend," inquired the minister, "that you are the only one in this congregation who is unable to meet his obligations?" "I publish a newspaper," he meekly replied, "and my brethren here who just stood up are my subscribers, and—" "Let us pray!" exclaimed the minister.—Ex.

Mrs. Nation Discharged.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 19.—The county attorney dismissed that charge against Mrs. Carrie Nation, stating in effect that the woman was irresponsible.

TOUCHED HIM

Until he Tumbled to the Racket and Then the Old Man Changed His Mind.

SHE YOUNG, HE OLD

Two Much Would-be Sister-in-law And a Hired Girl Too Much For The Old Man.

The old adage, there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," is exemplified in the case of John Casselman, of Grand Forks county, whose age is given at 78 years, and Miss Bessie Trydahl, a brunette of 22 summers, the announcement of whose intended marriage caused so much surprise a few days ago. It now appears that the deal is off and that Miss "Betsy" as she is familiarly known, has departed for her former home in Walle township.

The story briefly told from the standpoint of Mr. Casselman is that the young lady in the case wished him to furnish the wherewithal to purchase a trousseau befitting their coming nuptials. This he agreed to do and gave her several hundred dollars, the last time drawing a check for $100. A few days later she had ambitions to have a $15 fur jacket, and "touched" him for that amount. Mr. Casselman informed his fair fiancee that she did not require it in his opinion and at any rate to wait until after their marriage. He was then informed that after their marriage she expected to have a hired girl and have her two sisters come to live with her. Mr. Casselman "balked." He told her that crops had been poor the past year and that he was not in a position at the present time to support the whole or even a good part of Grand Forks county.

Bessie then declared the deal closed and informed the soon-to-be-groom that unless he married her she would commence a breach of promise suit against him for $12,000. She had already consulted an attorney and intended to make him marry her or pay big damages.

Mr. Casselman then consulted his attorneys with the result that a marriage license was procured and Bessie informed that he stood ready and willing to fulfill his part of the contract. When the time arrived, however, she failed to put in an appearance, having, so it is alleged, departed for the parental roof. Just how firm her grounds are for a breach of promise suit are, under the circumstances, can only be told when she brings her case into court.

HIS SCHEME BALKED

President J. J. Hill and His Plan for the Milwaukee Road.

President Hill's denial of being interested in Milwaukee & St. Paul stock, published yesterday, was a source of amusement to local officials who called attention to his words:

"I cannot say," said he, "that the proposition has never been considered, but it has never been more than a remote possibility. It has reached the point where it might be called a possibility. There is no change in the situation. It is still a possibility."

From a "remote possibility" the matter failed to reach the point of a "possibility," but he concludes, "It's still a possibility."

As a matter of fact it is generally believed that Mr. Hill defeated his own scheme by his well known inclination to talk too soon. He is reported to have fully matured a plan whereby the Milwaukee might be leased, and went ahead on that basis without consulting his legal advisors. When attention was called to the legal obstacles in his way the matter had to be dropped. The same condition was seen some three years ago. He is understood to have then been able to secure the Northern Pacific, and he even went so far as to elect himself president and prepare a list of officials whom he meant to decapitate, but there, too, legal objections arose, and Mr. Hill was unable to realize his cherished ambition.

As far as his not holding stock in the Milwaukee & St. Paul is concerned, it has been pointed out that he could own considerable and there would be no records to show this fact. It might be owned in the name of his friends. In such case his denial would be technically correct.

Anent Asbury Hospital.

The board of directors of Asbury hospital re-elected the officers whose terms have just expired at the annual meeting in the Hennepin Avenue M. E. church Thursday afternoon in Minneapolis. The list is as follows:

President, Rev. J. F. Chaffee; vice president, Dr. J F. Force; treasurer and superintendent, Sarah H. Knight; secretary, Henry M. Farnham; medical examiner, Dr. F. A. Dunsmoor; chairman Deaconess home committee, Mrs. W. Joyce.

Mrs. Sarah H. Knight, treasurer, reported cash on hand Jan. 1, 1900, $765.94; expenses for the year, $23,200.22; cash on hand Jan. 1, 1901, $944.21.

It was announced that J. J. Hill of St. Paul had offered to give ten per cent of either $50,000 or $100,000 when either amount was raised. There is already $21,000 in sight toward the acceptance of Mr. Hill's offer.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company of solid financial reputation. $936 salary per year, payable weekly. $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses, straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn, St. Chicago.

CITY AND VICINITY

—Editor C. K. Semling, of the Halstad Reporter, came up Friday to attend the drainage convention, and made the Journal a pleasant call.

—Trainmen on the Great Northern report seeing wolves in the vicinity of Shirley. They are said to be large and fat, and not the least shy.

—Miss Georgiana Leduc, for a time a compositor in the Journal office, left Saturday for a visit with friends at Minneapolis, Fond du Lac and Duluth, and will not return before spring.

—Chas. Summer, a half breed merchant at the Red Lake agency, arrived in the city Thursday, being attracted here by the tri-state drainage convention. He is deeply interested in this measure and anxious to see it materialized.

—Sheriff and Mrs. Sullivan are now nicely domiciled at the new home in the Polk county jail at Crookston, where they will be pleased to receive all East Grand Forks friends who chance to visit the county seat.—Courier.

—Superintendent Casey has just returned from a tour up in the west and north ends of the county, visiting the schools. He reports these institutions in a nourishing condition, and is pleased with the results of his first official visit.

—The jury in the Paper, Calmenson & Co., and Moses Giller case, returned a verdict for the latter in the sum of $137.63. The case was known as the "scrap iron case," and occupied the attention of the district court for nearly three days.

—The law firm of Finlayson & Boyer, who were heretofore located in the Peake block, corner of Main and Robert streets, have removed to their new quarters in the Rickett block, the offices recently occupied by Judge Watts as court chambers.

—R. J. Ferguson accompanied by his young bride, whom he went to marry over in the Queen's Domain, returned Friday to the city. The young couple are receiving the congratulations of their numerous friends, and will be at home to them after February 5.

—In probate court Friday Judge Hagen heard the application of Fritz Miller for extension of time to file claims against the estate of Michael Brady, deceased. The prayer was granted and the probate case, which was set for hearing yesterday, was postponed for one week.

—"Robby Burns Day" is fast drawing near and up to now nothing definite has been done by the Red River Valley Burns society for the proper observance of the day. Who will make the start? Surely the admirers of Scotland's bard will not overlook his anniversary musing, etc.

—Gus Schmidt of Crookston, well known here, got off one of his jokes on the Journal reporter last week and Joe bought. He was introduced to a wooden Indian. We'll wager several cords of wood coming on subscription that Joe gets even with August with the accent on the Au.—Spectator.

—J. A. Button, stenographer for the law firm of Miller & Foote, Saturday sent word to his employers that he had very important business at his home and could not appear at his post of duty. It was a little daughter that arrived at his home who required his individual attention, and all is well.

—Twenty-five miles southeast of Fargo it is reported that the remains of a [illegible]-year-old child, that died before Christmas, are still retained at the home of the parents. The authorities have been asked to interfere. The parents are said to be financially able to pay the expenses of the interment, but have some peculiar personal scruples against parting with the dead body.

—Prof. Hoverstad, of the Crookston Experimental Farm, offers to hold a farmers' institute in Hendrum some time this winter, if the farmers of this vicinity desire one held. The only expense would be hall rent. This is a very good offer and all in favor of having him come will please notify the Review of the fact, and if sufficient interest is shown he will be here.—Hendrum Review.

—Before O. J. Vaule, referee in bankruptcy, Friday afternoon a continued investigation into the insolvency of Spiro Bissaza was held by the trustees of the bankrupt merchant. A number of claims filed against Bisazza, and some accounts against private parties, were investigated, and other matters connected with the failure reviewed. No particular changes from the original statement were found necessary.

—In the Enright case, which was up in the district court Friday afternoon, Attorney Finlayson, who appeared for the defendants, filed a demurrer against the indictment as returned, and Judge Watts will sustain the order unless the prosecution can procure additional evidence. The trial of the case against May Fowler for running a house of ill repute was deferred until the June term of the district court, when it will be disposed of.

—G. L. Thomas, of Forest City, Ia., a member of the Howard Land Company, who have an office at Fertile, this county, made his first trip up this way Friday. He is well impressed with northern Minnesota. His company is making extensive preparations for immigrants from his neighborhood into this section next spring, and stated to a Journal reporter that at least from three to five car loads of Iowa farmers had so far signified their intention of removal. Most of them will come prepared to proceed to work without having to look for implements and teams to pursue their labor.

—Some of the more prominent North Dakota farmers are already shipping in seed wheat for spring seeding. They are afraid to trust the last year's crop and are procuring seed in Minnesota and South Dakota. This is reported from many sections of the state. The small farmers are unable to procure their needed seed grain easily, but plans are on foot in some localities for a number to go in together and procure a car. It is the small farmers, who have little ready cash, who are likely to be left behind in the spring. Many farmers of Minnesota, along the Red River valley, are also shipping in better seed.

—C. C. Hoch is again reported on the sick list. Grip is having a second hold on his physical make-up.

—Rev. Father Hufnagel, of St. Mary's church, left Tuesday for Duluth, and will not return before Saturday evening.

—Smith & Walsh, the ditch contractors, made a shipment of thirty horses to the lumbering camp out at Solway Tuesday morning.

—Mrs. Rudy Rasmussen, who has been visiting with her parents here for several weeks, returned to her home at Moorhead Thursday.

—Swan Skoglund came down from Warren to receive treatment for his impaired hearing. Dr. Morley is attending to the patient.

—Conductor Harry Walker was a passenger to Warren Tuesday, to visit with a sister for a short while and recuperate from a severe attack of the grip.

—Mike Anders, the popular landlord of the Markham hotel at St. Hilaire, was a Crookston visitor Saturday evening, and incidentally greeted a number of friends.

—The firm of Benson & Lillemoe of Erskine has been dissolved and a man by the name of Osaasen has purchased the interests of the junior member of the firm.

—Chas. Chounard, foreman of the Great Northern construction crew on this division, went to Bemidji Tuesday morning with a force of men to commence work on the new depot at that point.

—Mrs. T. B. Hunt left Monday evening for Altoona, Wis., where she was called by the serious illness of her eldest son, Frank Hunt, well known in this city, who is down with typhoid pneumonia.

—Henry Burkhard, file clerk in the present legislature, came up from St. Paul Saturday evening and returned Monday. His wife and family accompanied him back, and will visit at Wabasha for a month or more.

—The new Congregational church at Moorhead was dedicated with appropriate exercises last Sunday. The church is a handsome structure built of red pressed brick, trimmed with brown stone, and cost with furnishings $8,000.

—Alphonse Lalonde, of this city, and Miss O'Neill, of Louisville, this county, were married at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Ann's Catholic church, Rev. Father Grandchamp officiating. The happy couple have many friends here and in the county who extend congratulations.

Ex-Clerk of Court Rasmussen of Moorhead, for many years presiding over the destinies of that office for Clay county, and father of J. R. Rasmussen of this city, arrived Monday morning to visit with the latter for a day or two.

—Bagley & Mabey, two young and promising attorneys, have formed a partnership and succeeded to the law practice of Attorney Ira C. Richardson, at Thief River Falls. The Journal takes pleasure in recommending the new firm to people who are in search of legal advice.

—It is not likely that an alderman will be appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman Rowe, of the Fifth ward. There are only two more meetings to be held before the spring election, and no one seems anxious to take the appointment for such a short space of time.

—John Elg, of Eldred, one of the jurors in the Elwood case, was taken suddenly ill Tuesday and had to be taken from the jury room to the Scandia hotel, where he is still confined to his bed. The jury of which he was a member was out all night and the strain apparently was too much for him.

—A large number of the friends of Chris Grassel gathered at the latter's residence Saturday evening to attend a social dance which had been arranged by the host. Merriment reigned supreme until a late hour, and all present were unanimous in their praise of the enjoyable time prepared for them by Mr. and Mrs. Grassel.

—Minnesota is to have two additional congressmen, making a total of nine, and it will be the duty of the present state legislature to form the boundaries of the new districts. The counties in the northern portion of the Red River valley will undoubtedly form one of the districts, and Crookston will be about in the center of it.—Thief River Falls News.

—The meeting and installation of officers of the local lodge of Maccabees Tuesday night in Odd Fellows hall was one of the best attended and most pleasant social events in the history of the lodge in this city. The supper served was superb, and 325 persons sat down to partake of it. The event will long be remembered by all those present as a very enjoyable gathering.

A man named Grush, who conducts a confectionery business at Euclid, met with a painful accident Monday night. He was walking on the icy sidewalk on Main street at the corner of Ebbighausen's saloon, when he slipped, and in trying to hold himself struck his right hand on the sharp edged railing surrounding the cellar way and received several severe cuts which were dressed by Dr. W. H. Smith. It required several stitches to close the lacerated hand but the patient is doing nicely today.

—The "smoke social" which was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. McKinnon on Main street Tuesday evening for the gentlemen of St. Mary's congregation, proved a very enjoyable social event. Fully fifty guests were present, who indulged in the pastime of burning the weed, and the ladies of the church had arranged delicate refreshments. A mistake was made in the announcement that dancing and cards would be indulged in, as the ladies say that this was not intended.

—Wm. Gunness, one of the jurors who has been in attendance at the district court during the present term, is by no means a bad fellow, but last Saturday evening some of his friends, who were inclined to question his on his personal friendship to a party implicated in a trial, came very near arousing his ire. Had it not been for his cool headed and well balanced mind, some of the said friends might now occupy a sick man's place in bed. As it turned out, "Bill" bought the cigars and nudged the Journal reporter 'to keep it out of the paper."

—Chas. Lee, one of the students at the Crookston Business college, will give a recitation at the college hall on Friday evening, entitled "Ole Olson."

—The Singer Sewing Machine Company has opened a branch office in this city, comprising a territory of eleven counties. K. J. Ike has charge of the office as manager.

—Mrs. VanArnum Tuesday received $2,500 on a policy held by her son on his life in the Northwestern Mutual Insurance company of Milwaukee, through Messrs. Miller & Foote, agents of the company at this place.

—Cashier Ellington, of the Scandia bank, returned from St. Paul this morning after spending a week with the politicians at the state capitol and assisting in choosing General Clapp for United States senator to succeed the late C. K. Davis.

—Incidentally it is stated that the Creighton Bros., William and James of this city, are distant relatives of the late Queen Victoria. Just what relationship exists between the parties the Journal reporter failed to learn, but it dates back about two or three generations.

Herbert Hunt, fireman on the Great Northern, had one of his big toes badly crushed Tuesday at the roundhouse by dropping the smoke stack of an engine on his foot. Dr. Dampier will save the injured member, but Charley will use crutches for a while.

CHANGE OF FIRM

R. J. Rosenberg & Co. Succeed Rosenberg Brothers.

The firm of Rosenberg Bros., who for several years have been conducting the Great Western clothing store on Main and Second Sts. in this city, has been dissolved by mutual consent. Ben Rosenberg, the senior member of the firm will continue the business on Second street and M. Rosenberg has formed a new partnership with R. J. Rosenberg, recently of Minneapolis, and the new firm will operate the clothing store in the Peake block, 108 Main street. The firm has also leased the adjoining store room, and is having it fitted up to accommodate a large sock of new clothing which they will add to their present stock for the spring trade.

YOUNG RASCALS

They Break Into a Blacksmith Shop and Obtain Tools.

The other night, while the perpetrators should have been housed in their little couches, several well known school boys, ranging in age from ten to fourteen years, gained an entrance through the back door of Wilson's blacksmith shop on Fletcher street, and took from the premises a lot of tools and the works of a clock, which had been left on a desk. Chief of Police Eck at noon today called on the mischievous lads as they were returning from school, and obtained a confession from one of the gang, telling him the description of the missing articles. They had hid their plunder in a snow pile near the shop, where every missing article was found, as stated by the young rascals.

As everything was returned, Mr. Wilson refuses to prosecute the offenders, but a repetition of their act might land them in the city calaboose.

ONLY GOOD FEELING

Prevailed Among Republican Politicians After Clapp's Nomination.

Attorney Willis E. Street, the blonde politician and statesman from Bemidji, came up from St. Paul Monday on his way home. While at the capitol he had occasion to look in on the senatorial contest, and in his own words, "was pleased at the result of the caucus Saturday afternoon."

"General Clapp," Mr. Street admitted, "is one of the best known and most popular men of the state, and his election as successor to the much lamented renowned and able statesman, Cushman K. Davis, is a just reward for his faithful services to the people of Minnesota.

"Everybody seemed pleased at the result, and even the most bitter opponents of the successful candidate were satisfied and joined in the enthusiasm which followed Clapp's nomination. He will make an ideal senator, and the republicans of the state made no mistake in their selection for a successor to Senator Davis."

August Flower.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at F. H. Hillard & Son'

Sold by dealers in all civilized countries. Get Green's Prize Almanac. dweowl

Gets Thirteen Years

New York, Jan. 18.—Cornelius L. Alvord, Jr., the defaulting note teller of the First National bank, was on Wednesday sentenced to thirteen years' imprisonment. The amount of his defalcation was $690,000.

His Wife Saved Him.

My wife's good advice saved my life" writes F. M. Ross of Winfield, Tenn., for I had such a bad cough I could hardly breathe, steadily grew worse under doctor's treatment, but my wife urged me to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me." Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Asthma, Hay Fever and all maladies of Chest, Throat and Lungs are positively cured by this marvelous medicine. 50c. and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottle free at A. G. Anderson's drug store.

The New York Store
THE MAMMOTH DEPARTMENT STORE

We are going to try
and break a record
and at the dullest time of the year.

Here is the Story Briefly.

BIG REDUCTION IN OVERSHOES
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies—worth $1.00, now 75c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.25, now 95c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.50, now $1.15
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.75, now $1.35

MEN'S CAPS
Men's Caps worth 50c, now 40c
Men's Caps worth 75c, now 65c
Men's Caps worth $1.00, now 75c
Men's Caps worth $1.25, now 95c

TWO LOTS OF SHOES
Lot 1 we start with 69c
Lot 2 we start with 59c

Ladies' all Felt, Fur Top Juliets in quilted silk, plain and plaid 99c

Big Reduction on Dress Goods, Ladies' Shirt Waists, Silk and Flannel.
Ladies' Jackets, Cloaks, Capes, Fur Coats, etc., at about Half Price.

"WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE."
COME AND SAVE MONEY.

A. CHABOT.
Sole Agent for Standard Patterns.

OLD RESIDENT GONE

T. C. Shapleigh Once Register of the Land Office Passed Away.

Soon after 5 o'clock Monday evening death removed from the midst of his many friends and relatives T. C. Shapleigh, one of Crookston's honored and most highly respected citizens and pioneer settlers. Mr. Shapleigh was taken ill with grip a little more than a week ago, and for a time it was thought that he would recover, but pneumonia set in and claimed the life of the now peacefully sleeping man.

Deceased had been a prominent and influential citizen of Minnesota for many years, having resided in Wright county prior to coming to Crookston about 25 years ago. During his residence in Minnesota he has served the public in various capacities, having been register of the land offices at Detroit and Oak Lake before coming to Crookston, and since that time served two terms as register of the Crookston land office, has also served as clerk of the district court, as a justice of the peace and in various other capacities, and in each and all he performed his duties with strict integrity. He was very prominent in Masonic circles in Minnesota and was at one time Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of this state.

He was a man of very strong convictions, was ardently fond of his friends and was ever willing to do them any service in his power. On account of the many offices he held, he had a very extensive acquaintance, not only in the vicinity of Crookston, but throughout the entire valley and state, and the announcement of his death will be received with general regret.

He has been a widower for a number of years and leaves three children to mourn his departure; Charles C. Shapleigh of Moorhead, Mrs. C. F. Mix of this city and Mrs. Stearns of Minneapolis.

At his request the remains were taken to Monticello, Minn., at 9 o'clock in the evening over the Great Northern road, and the cortege left the residence of C. F. Mix, in Jerome's Addition, where the dead man breathed his last, shortly before the time specified, under the auspices of the Masonic lodge.

State Auditors Association.

County auditors from all parts of the state held their third annual session at the court house in St. Paul Tuesday. Former County Auditor C. J. Minor presided. The new officers are: President. John Gleason, Polk county; vice president, C. J. Minor, Hennepin; secretary, E. J. Miller, Big Stone; treasurer, L. M. Stevens, Becker. The bill providing for uniform auditing of accounts throughout the state was discussed. The county treasurers of the state also held their annual meeting.

Easy to Trace Effect.

Herald, Austin: One of our draymen remarked that his business was the dullest this season for 16 years. The merchants did less advertising this season than for many years. It's easy to trace effect to the cause.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION

A Coming Event Which Will Make Crookston Popular.

In a correspondence to the Western Fireman and Journal of Public Works, published in Chicago, a contribution from this city, in speaking of the coming state firemen's convention, writes as follows:

In your valuable magazine, at your earliest convenience, you might make mention of the fact that the convention of the Minnesota State Firemen's Association will convene this year in the Queen City of the Red River valley, Crookston, when it is fully expected that the largest number of delegates ever assembled at any previous convention will gather. The local department are going to spare neither time nor money to make this the banner year in the history of the association, and as the fire laddies of Crookston, coupled with their generous hearted business men, are far famed as entertainers, every delegate and visitor visiting the Queen City at that time, the 11th, 12th and 13th of June, may rest assured of a hearty welcome and a hot time in the old town that night.

Intending delegates to this convention should get their photographs taken before leaving their homes, so they can leave something to be remembered by, as it is feared by many and expected by our citizens of Crookston that the Queen City and the great Red River Valley of the North at that particular season of the year will have so many beautitudes and fascinations that some will stay with us and file their claim on what few acres are left for homeseekers in the great bread basket of the world.

It is expected, and in fact assured, that the most prominent speakers in the state will address the convention; there will be a monster parade, a great many other sights and good things for the firemen when they come.

The ladies of our beautiful city have a great surprise in store for America's greatest heroes, the volunteer firemen. There will be a great display of exhibits, and not least amongst them by any means will be the new $1,350 hook and ladder truck recently purchased by the city from the Seagrave Company, of Columbus, Ohio, which is going to be the finest piece of apparatus in the northwest.

A racing tournament, as well as the gun club shoot, will take place at the same time. The lowest rate will be secured for the convention, as President Tom Morris and the indefatigable secretary, Thos. R. Johnstone, are leaving no stone unturned to secure the same, and many side attractions for the boys will be prepared for their benefit. Everybody will be welcome.

ODD FELLOWS VISIT

Some Crookston Three Linkers at Grand Forks Monday Night.

Hans Baberg, Peter Snyder, C. D. Billings and wife, Tim Hastings, Dr. J. E. Boles, Geo. R. McLain, John Crawford, Brown, Rolfstad, S. J. Wilson, McAskill and Wm. Lawrence formed a party of Odd Fellows who went to Grand Forks Monday night to attend the reception tendered by that lodge to the members of the Crookston lodge.

At the conclusion of the regular program cards, kroklnole and checker tables were brought out and those who desired engaged in play. The orchestra also struck up lively airs and those who enjoy dancing tripped the light fantastic till supper was announced. Tables were set in the small room for 70 and the refreshments were very fine and were served in a manner that reflected credit upon those in charge. The visitors were shown every possible courtesy and appreciated to the fullest extent the pains that had been taken to make the event a most pleasant one, which it certainly proved to be. After supper cigars were passed and a general social time indulged in. Dancing was kept up till a late hour.

Spain Wants to be Present.

Madrid, Jan. 22.—The military and political papers of Madrid, commenting on the notice in the Havana Gazette inviting bids for raising the wreck of the Maine, called upon the government to insist that Spain be represented during the operation with a view to vindicating the national honor.

Made Young Again.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again" writes D. H. Turner of Dempseytown, Pa. They're the best in the world for Liver. Stomach and Bowels. Purely vegetable. Never gripe. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's Drug Store.

This Will Interest the Farmers.

The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making

FARM LOANS

at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.

Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

COUNCIL MEETING

City Fathers Held an Adjourned Session Tuesday For Unfinished Business.

THE MAYOR COMMUNICATES

Reports on Expenditure of His $200 Salary Allowance and Returns Balance.

At the appointed hour for opening the meeting last night, there were present Aldermen Arnold, Anglim, Childs, Kirsch, Rosenthal and Stone.

The president of the council being absent, Alderman Kirsch took the chair and on motion Alderman Rosenthal was elected clerk pro tem. The regular order of business was suspended, and business of a general nature taken up. Alderman Childs called attention to the fact that at the last session of the legislature, which occurred two years ago, he had been delegated to secure the passage of a poor law, which would relieve the city from the unjust burden it was compelled to bear in having thrown upon it so frequently paupers who were not residents of the city. That at such time a bill was drawn and introduced into the legislature and its passage urged, but was defeated through the opposition of Representative Foss, who is not at this time a member of the legislature. And that it is now probable that if it is again introduced its passage can be easily secured. That the bill in question was framed from the law in Massachusetts, which has been in operation 20 years, has been adopted by several other state, and has stood the test of the courts, and if passed will provide the relief needed by the city, as well as other cities and villages in the county.

The council decided to authorize Alderman Childs to act in the matter of introducing and securing the passage of the bill, and this action was taken.

Alderman Stone brought up the matter of continuing the opening of Broadway and Main streets to the north, calling attention to the fact that they now terminate abruptly at the line of Davis' Addition. After some discussion the council referred the matter to the street and bridge committee, with instructions to ascertain the cost of continuing Broadway to Grant avenue and Main street to the city limits, and to report at the next regular meeting of the council.

Alderman Stone called up the matter of repairing the Sampson's Addition bridge, and an estimate was submitted by the city engineer, of the materials needed for the purpose and the cost of same, which amounted to $234.62, including the necessary labor.

Purchasing Agent Anglim was instructed to purchase the timber required and the clerk was instructed to advertise three times in the daily and once in the official paper, for bids for necessary labor, such bids to be opened at the next regular meeting of the council.

Two communications from Mayor Campbell were read, one of which was a report of the expenses incurred by him in connection with the recent drainage convention, and enclosing a check for $28.29, being the balance of the $200 voted to him at the last meeting of the council.

This report was accepted and the clerk directed to turn the check over to the treasurer to be carried into the general fund.

The other communication took up the matter of a city park and recited in substance the following facts. That there is now in the park fund the sum of $183.50. That on April 16, 1895, the sum of $1379.71 was by the council taken from the park fund and placed in the general fund, and at the same time the sum of $100 was taken from the same fund and placed in the bond fund. That this was done without any authority of law, and that these amounts had never been replaced. That if the park fund had been properly taken care of the original sum paid by the taxpayers would now aggregate in round numbers $2500, which would enable the city to secure a desirable location for a park. And it was submitted that the funds which had been enriched at the expense of the park fund having now ample funds on hand for the purpose, the park fund should be reimbursed.

The recent action of the council in taking moneys from the general fund to balance the sewer bond fund and the city hall bond fund was criticized, and the statement made that he was unable to find any authority in the law for such action.

Attention was called to the fact that there is now left in the paving fund the sum of $9575.14, which is immediately available for paving purposes, and that the council should take action in the matter of paving, to the end that the money collected for this purpose should be so applied, and suggestion was made that the stone could now be purchased and brought into the city at lower cost than later on in the season. This communication lacked a signature and was referred back to have the omission supplied. At this juncture the absent members of the council and the city clerk arrived and the pro tem incumbents of the chair and clerkship surrendered to the regular incumbents.

Alderman Ellington, to whom at a former meeting had been referred the matter of investigating the question of securing the services of an expert accountant to examine the city records, and to make such changes in the method of accounting as might be found necessary, reported that the bank examiner's assistant, who is a very competent man and now engaged in the same work in connection with the records of St. Paul, could be secured the first of next month at an expense of $10 per day and car fare here and back.

Alderman Cromb thought no such expense need be incurred; that the city now has a good system, and nothing better is needed.

Alderman Childs was glad to learn the city had a system, and that it is a good one. That having had occasion to refer to the records at many different times, and experienced great difficulty in finding papers, sometimes failing utterly after long search, he had supposed that no system was in use, and he thought action should be taken in the matter. But Alderman Cromb's vigorous and emphatic opposition resulted in the report being accepted and tabled, and the committee discharged.

Attorney Gossman reported that in the suit of W. E. McKenzie against the city, a judgment for $74.50 had been awarded him, and now it remained for the city to pay the amount or to appeal it. He advised its payment, and the council so ordered.

In making this report the city attorney took occasion to call attention to the fact that there had been culpable carelessness in giving orders for the publication of the city's business, inasmuch that notices which should have been run only once or twice, had been given in to the printer to run till forbidden, and then allowed to run indefinitely.

Other notices which should not have been published at all, but personal service made of them, had been published and unnecessary expense incurred thereby. As an instance of this he mentioned the bid for medical attendance upon city dependants, which could have easily and with mere nominal expense been served personally upon the resident physicians, instead of being published for many successive weeks in the daily paper at a heavy expense.

It was expected the matter of encouragement to the Maple Bay Wind Stacker Company to locate here would come up for action, but word was received that they were not yet ready to negotiate, and the question was deferred. The meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Personal Property Taxes.

We commence this week the publication of the list of personal property taxpayers of the county by townships, with the amount of tax that each party must pay. This list is printed gratuitously for the benefit of our readers. Preserve these lists for reference. We shall continue their publication until they are complete for the county. The taxes are now due at the county treasurer's office, and must be paid before March 1, as on that date the penalty goes on.

ANDOVER.

Anderson Andrew, Crookston	$ 5.98
Anderson, Tollef, Crookston	4.62
Aspass, H. J., Crookston	7.29
Aspaas, Jens F., Crookston	10.47
Bivins & Son, Crookston	25.82
Bernath, Ed, Crookston	6.44
Burnham, A. Crookston	11.53
Bjoin, T. H., Crookston	13.17
Christianson, Carl, Crookston	1.81
Carey, Pat, Crookston	5.14
Carlson, Chas. J., Crookston	2.65
Davis, L., Crookston	7.49
Duval, Charles, Crookston	21.40
Duval, Louis, Crookston	5.39
Engebretson, Ole, Crookston	3.18
Eastman, G. W., Crookston	5.26
Fosberg, Conrad, Crookston	1.65
Grebrok, Gunsten, Crookston	3.18
Grebrok, Gunder, Crookston	5.07
Grebrok, Jorgen, Crookston	2.94
Grebok, Knut, Crookston	3.18
Gulseth, K. P, Crookston	5.25
Gulseth, Gustav, Crookston	3.71
Hardie, Christ, Crookston	1.82
Helgeson, T	7.25
Hendrick, Andrew, Crookston	1.78
Hendrickson, Nels, Eldred	1.56
Hooper, G., Crookston	2.53
Hehalch, Mrs. A. E., Crookston	9.98
Johnson N. P., Crookston	2.62
Jorgenson, Ed, Crookston	2.12
Jorgenson, B. O., Crookston	7.43
Jelle, Jorgen, Crookston	3.44
Knutson, Sam, Eldred	3.10
Knutson, J. C., Crookston	8.03
Letness, John, Eldred	.54
Landahl, Lewis, Crookston	2.20
Low, Q. A., Crookston	12.62
Locken, L. H., Crookston	5.87
Matheson, Andrew, Crookston	1.88
Matson, Charles, Crookston	5.33
Nilson, John, Crookston	6.84
Nilson, Peter, Crookston	1.78
Peterson, H. C. Crookston	12.96
Rose, J. M., Crookston	7.26
Rose, R. A., Crookston	1.59
Rill, Fred, Crookston	5.50
Robert, Joseph, Crookston	3.22
Simonson, Ole, Crookston	5.55
Simpson, Alex, Crookston	9.44
Samuelson, Erick, Crookston	11.71
Stokke, Ole, Crookston	2.23
Soper, W. S., Crookston	1.13
Soper, N. H., Crookston	10.55
Scribner, H. C., Crookston	7.89
Scribner, E. B., Crookston	9.32
Thygerson, T., Crookston	7.01
Thorlefson, C., Crookston	1.28
Thompson, E. D., Crookston	15.75
Thygeson, C. C., Crookston	3.02
Thompson, Thor, Eldred	1.91
Volland, Ole J., Crookston	5.26
Welter, Fred, Crookston	7.70
Vance & Stone, Crookston	16.83
Yates, J. R., Crookston	6.32
Minn. & Dak. Elevator Co., Crkstn	71.77

ANGUS.

Anderson, A. L., Angus	8.28
Anderson, Nels, Angus	1.52
Brash, A. E., Angus	31.58
Campion, Mrs. H. R., Angus	5.54
Campion, Mrs. William, Angus	10.78
Clark, H. C., Angus	.20
Christofferson, A., Angus	12.00
Clover, S. M., Angus	4.78
Duluth Elevator Co., Angus	48.89
Evans, G., Angus	13.51
Evans, Arthur, Angus	.49
Finlayson, Agnes, Crookston	15.27
Freberg, Nels, Angus	5.19
Gabrielson, John, Angus	6.67
Glaus, Emil, Angus	1.41
Goodwin, John B., Angus	8.77
Hummer, M. J., Angus	1.19
Hanson, Anthon, Angus	7.97
Independent Elevator Co., Angus	55.77
King, Richard, Angus	2.12
Lake, L. J., Angus	12.76
McLennen, C. D., Angus	2.89
Minneapolis & N. El. Co., Angus	33.12
Miller, D. H., Angus	28.81
McLennen, John, Angus	21.51
McLennen, F., Angus	16.80
Montgomery, H., Angus	.90
McLennen, William, Angus	13.98
Osterloh, Louis, Angus	9.80
Osterloh, S. H., Angus	9.12
Perkins, C. R., Angus	.90
Palmer, J. M., Angus	14.06
Proshek, J. F., Angus	5.09
St. Anthony & Dak. El Co., Angus	47.85
Salstad, Hans, Angus	3.60
Snelling, Kate, Angus	10.56
Stevens, F. R., Angus	14.06
Stroble, J. A., Angus	2.17
Stroble, A. F., Angus	.55
Stroble, Fred, Angus	17.49
Stroble, William, Angus	.44
Tans, Frank, Angus	5.74
Tanson, G., Angus	2.16
Wolhaupt, John, Angus	1.89
Winchester, W. H., Angus	30.65
Winchester, G. C., Angus	48.14
Cowden, J. L., Angus	.18

BRANDSVOLD.

Anderson, Ole, Fosston	.98
Anderson, Jorgen, Fosston	1.75
Asleson, Ole, Fosston	3.76
Amundson, Andrew, Fosston	1.38
Amundson, John, Fosston	1.95
Anderson, Ole, Fosston	2.74
Afseth, John, Fosston	1.77
Arneson, August, Fosston	2.60
Berg, Torger, Fosston	2.64
Brokke, Lasse, Fosston	4.95
Bratvold, K. O., Fosston	3.03
Bergdohl, Ole H., Fosston	1.35
Berge, Nils T., Fosston	1.16
Berge, Ole O., Fosston	1.27
Boull, P. G., Fosston	1.01
Bergebakken, Esten, Fosston	3.48
Bradland, Bernhard, Fosston	2.08
Berg, Gustaf, Fosston	1.96
Christianson, Bernt, Fosston	1.72
Dunrud, Kristian, Fosston	3.15
Dunerud, Ole O., Fosston	2.66
Dunerud, Hans, Fosston	1.97
Ekren, Michael, Fosston	11.03
Eaton, Mary, Fosston	2.39
Ekeberg, Anna, Fosston	1.46
Eggen, Hans, Fosston	1.44
Flaskerud, Knud, Fosston	1.47
Fossbakken, Paul, Fosston	3.52
Freydenlund, Hans, Fosston	.22
Fyffe, Alexander, Fosston	3.43
Gangstad, Peder, Fosston	1.54
Gaastjon, A. O.,	2.01
Hedlund, O. G., McIntosh	1.72
Hedlund, C. A., McIntosh	2.43
Halvorson, William, McIntosh	4.95
Hegland, Thor. M., Fosston	3.14
Hove, Johannes, Fosston	2.20
Halvorson, John, Fosston	4.57
Haroldson, R. K., Fosston	3.02
Haugen, Chr., Fosston	9.22
Hambleon, Ole, Fosston	.68
Johnson, Andreas, Fosston	.10
Johnson, Edward, Fosston	.17
Jacobson, John, Fosston	1.33
Johnston, Harry, Fosston	3.31
Jenson, Jens, McIntosh	2.26
Knudson, Sone, Fosston	.84
Lee, Olof O., McIntosh	1.84
Lee, Ole O., McIntosh	1.71
Lee, John, Fosston	.64
Lavass, Sam, Fosston	.57
Lien, Osmund, Fosston	.64
Larson, L. B., Fosston	.64
Lofthus, Lars, Fosston	.74
Lovvig, Hans, Fosston	1.63
Lenes, Berel, Fosston	1.34
Melquist, Nils, Fosston	.25
Melbsnoen, Ole, Fosston	1.42
Moe, Ole C., Fosston	2.10
Moen, Ole O., Fosston	3.46
Myklejard, Ole, Fosston	1.85
Masters, Erick, Fosston	1.38
Melfald, Knud, Fosston	1.40
Molbo, T. O., Fosston	2.52
Nelson, Molv, Fosston	1.12
Nelson, Thore, Fosston	2.08
Nelson, N. O., Fosston	7.35
Nilson, Nils S., Fosston	4.87
Nosse, Jacob O., Fosston	6.13
Nygaard, Ole, Fosston	5.34
Olson, Nicolai, McIntosh	1.61
Ott, Halvor, Fosston	2.62
Olson, Hemmund, Fosston	.38
Mark, Fred, Fosston	2.76
Pederson, Emanuel, Fosston	1.66
Paulson, Paul, Fosston	2.79
Rose, John, Fosston	.56
Rykroken, Esten, Fosston	1.55
Reed, Anton, Fosston	1.62
Rustad, Kristian, Fosston	1.29
Rustad, Martin, Fosston	1.06
Rose, Mathias, Fosston	.51
Rooland, S. T., McIntosh	1.28
Rendahl, Berat, Fosston	1.02
Swanson, Swan, McIntosh	2.12
Simonson, Joe, McIntosh	2.40
Sagmoen, E. P., Fosston	1.52
Strand, Arnt, Fosston	1.96
Strand, Hartvik, Fosston	4.01
Sather, F. E., Fosston	1.49
Skinnand, Ole, Fosston	.52
Sather, Peder, Fosston	.93
Storley, [illegible], McIntosh	1.84
Sand, Ole, Fosston	.56
Tuveng, John, Fosston	1.11
Torgerson, Engebret, Fosston	1.50
Torgerson, Gustav, Fosston	1.38
Torgerson, Ole, Fosston	1.72
Torgerson, Martin, Fosston	1.22
Tangen, Ole H., Fosston	3.38
Tuttle, Gro, Fosston	1.49
Uterk, John, Fosston	1.17
Vigoren, Ellin, Fosston	4.02
Vingard, Nils, Fosston	3.38
Vassend, Halvor, Fosston	1.60
Vaa, John, Fosston	2.54
Voblen, A. J., Fosston	2.36
Wold, A. E., Fosston	4.01
Visland, Karl, Fosston	.34
Vikland, C. A., Fosston	.64
Yeoman, John, Fosston	.32

BRISLET.

Anderson, George, Warren	7.64
Dean, George A., Warren	18.91
Engelstad, N. R., Warren	12.66
Edgar, Jemima, Warren	3.74
Erickson, Charley, Warren	7.86
Frank, A. P., Warren	24.04
Gramm, Isaac, Warren	3.78
Hanson, John, Warren	3.80
Hanson, S., Warren	.32
Jarrett, Guy M., Warren	13.16
Klaven, H. P., Warren	5.42
McCrea, W. R., Warren	5.40
McDonald, N. C., Warren	46.49
Nelson, John B., Warren	4.74
Oleson, John, Warren	2.60
Peacock, George R., Warren	4.88
Peterson, Andrew, Warren	6.99
Peterson, Gustof, Warren	8.67
Peterson, John, Warren	7.62
Rutz, Peter, Warren	2.21
Ibsen, Nels O., Warren	5.77
Conklin, F. B., Warren	10.63
Tollar, C. A., & Co., Warren	55.35

BELGIUM.

Benoit, Frank, Dorothy	1.76
Blever, Leon, Euclid	4.73
Blever, Henry, Euclid	3.58
Corovan, H., Euclid	2.97
Goergen, Henry, Euclid	.48
Goergen, John P., Euclid	4.11
Hamre, Louis, Dorothy	4.31
Kohler, Christ Jr., Euclid	1.06
Kohler, Christ Sr., Euclid	8.82
Laroche, Dominique, Euclid	3.75
Laponssiere, Jane, Dorothy	5.15
Langel, Joseph, Euclid	3.70
Masbak, Olof, Euclid	1.54
Meckler, Christ, Euclid	5.60
Meyers, Frank, Euclid	2.91
Stroud, John, Euclid	6.13
Salenting, John P., Euclid	1.65
Useldinger, G., Euclid	7.43
Westand, Nick, Euclid	2.24
Welland, Jack, Euclid	2.24
Anderson, Lewis, Mentor	2.55
Anderson, John, Mentor	1.17
Anoth, O. O., Erskine	.81
Amundson, Iver, Erskine	2.25
Anderson, A. A., Erskine	5.36
Anderson, Henry, Erskine	4.49
Bjelland, Even E., Erskine	1.36
Bjelland, Hans E., Erskine	3.37
Bjelland, Even T., Erskine	1.50
Bratvold, Gilbert, Erskine	1.40
Brown, John, Mentor	2.46
Berg, Sam, Erskine	1.30
Carlson, Hans, Erskine	.26
Carlson, Peter, Erskine	7.20
Carlson, Ole, Erskine	14.38
Christianson, C. M., Erskine	.57
Clauson, Otto, Erskine	1.99
Doherty, Pauline, Erskine	.76
Dion, Wilfred, Lambert	2.40
Distad, Erik, Erskine	.75
Espeseth, Knut G., Erskine	19.08
Espeseth, Peder, Erskine	.23
Engeland, Peter, Erskine	1.62
Evenson, Even, Erskine	3.09
Espeseth, G. K., Erskine	1.33
Espeseth, G. K., Erskine	1.20
Gunstenson, Gunsten, Mentor	4.13
Gaasvigen, Markus, Erskine	1.38
Hagen, Anne J., Erskine	.87
Holland, P. E., Erskine	2.64
Herlgstad, Lars, Mentor	.36
Hagen, T., Mentor	3.37
Heskin, Halvor, Erskine	1.16
Hagen, Hans, Erskine	1.12
Hoblem, Fredrik, Erskine	[illegible]
Hagen, John, Erskine	1.85
Hoel, Andrew, Erskine	1.17
Higdem, Anders, Erskine	.84
Iverson, Ed, Erskine	.78
Jorgenson, Peter, Erskine	3.84
Jones, John P., Erskine	1.61
Johnson, Lars B., Erskine	2.07
Jordahl, A. A.	1.60
Johnson, Thor, Erskine	2.12
Larson, Ole, Erskine	2.45
Lee, P. G., Erskine	1.47
Lee, Hans O., Mentor	4.83
Linseth, Sivert, Erskine	2.16
Lee, Lars, Erskine	3.33
Lee, Lenhard, Erskine	.33
Melsness, E. O., Erskine	5.60
Martinson, Laurits, Erskine	3.07
Nelson, John C., Erskine	3.53
Noer, Hans, Erskine	3.25
Nelson, Ole A., Mentor	1.17
Ness, Sven, Erskine	.86
Nelson, Marit, Erskine	2.36
Olson, Halvor, Erskine	.96
Olson, Julius, Erskine	2.31
Pederson, John, Erskine	2.97
Pederson, Jens, Erskine	1.17
Pederson, Magnus, Erskine	3.06
Rusten, Nils A., Erskine	8.07
Rusten, Richard, Erskine	2.00
Runhaug, T. O., Erskine	4.33
Ronne, Henry, Erskine	2.43
Ryggen, Arne, Erskine	.30
Ryggen, Ingeborg, Erskine	2.40
Skiple, Erik E., Mentor	1.87
Skjide, Henrik E., Mentor	1.20
Sevalrud, P. N., Erskine	3.26
Sevalrud, Hans N., Erskine	.27
Sather, Andrew, Erskine	1.11
Sletten, S. J., Erskine	2.30
Sveum, Peter, Erskine	2.61
Swenson, Nils, Erskine	4.23
Thompson, Erik,	.50
Trytlen, O. O., Erskine	3.18
Voblen, Knut, Erskine	1.84
Wold, O. T., Erskine	3.14
Anderson, Ole, Erskine	.27
Olson, Gideon, Erskine	.26
Dahl, Thor O., Erskine	.25

BYGLAND.

Anderson, Aamund, Fisher	4.60
Aasrud, Knut E., Bygland	.29
Anderson, Peter, Bygland	.87
Anderson, Martin B., Bygland	3.32
Aakhus, E. D., Bygland	.56
Anderson, Ole, Bygland	1.20
Amble, John, Bygland	1.01
Aslagson, Betsy, Mallory	.96
Aseltine, A. C., Fisher	6.50
Aakre, John H., Bygland	3.02
Anderson, Andrew, Bygland	1.14
Anderson, Tarald G., Bygland	9.14
Baxter, Roberts, Grand Forks, N.D.	5.46
Brenden, Olaf, Grand Forks, N. D.	.38
Barlow, George H., East Grand F.	2.02
Beherman, Herman, Grand Forks	1.68
Berland, Thor A., Bygland	5.62
Besteland, Ammund, Bygland	4.37
Dagagne, S. & F Fellon, Bygland	9.32
Danielson, Torkel, Wig.	12.27
Egeland, J. M., Bygland	5.18
Flaat, S. K., Bygland	11.06
Flaat, Arne K., Bygland	4.78
Forkey, Emma, Grand Forks	1.05
Grebrok, Ole A., Bygland	2.02
Gauther, Dolor, Grand Forks	1.60
Gaston, James, Bygland	1.01
Gennan, Frank L., East Grand F.	1.08
Granger, Robert, Fisher	4.95
Genrard, John, Grand Forks, N. D.	1.15
Grundyson, Arny, Wig.	12.64
Helgeson, H. P., Fisher	3.01
Hegg, John Jr., Fisher	4.83
Halvorson, Osmund, Bygland	.32
Haverson, Tellef, Bygland	.80
Homme, Torgrim, Bygland	.51
Ottman, E. J. & C. P., Grand Forks	3.11
Hanrahan, Thomas, EastGrand Forks	2.75
Isaacson, Osmond, Bygland	1.00
Isaacson, Ole, Bygland	.60
Jorgenson, Jacob, Fisher	7.73
Knudson, K. K., Bygland	7.67
Kvestoe, Gunder, Fisher	9.18
Lindom, Ammund H., Fisher	1.55
Lyngholm, Sam, Fisher	4.79
Lyngvold, Anthon, Bygland	6.42
Lagvold, Ole O., Bygland	5.60
Lealos, Patric, Bygland	7.58
Moen, Aslak, Bygland	2.93
Monow, John, Bygland	.67
Metevier, Alphonse, East Grand F.	.25
Moum, P. J., Bygland	5.96
Moum, Fingel & Warder, Bygland	4.00
Moum, S., Bygland	.50
Newton, A. B., Wig.	11.36
Ose, Gunder K., Wig.	.81
Ose, Ole K., Wig.	2.20
Opstad, Taral V., Bygland	.81
Olson, Selman, Bygland	2.22
Olson, Olaus, Bygland	.22
Olson, Asben, Bygland	4.30
Ovnan, Gilbert, Bygland	5.46
Pederson, Halvor, Fisher	2.08
Pederson, Anders, Bygland	.54
Amund H. B. & Rykstad, Fisher	6.82
Svenungson, Sven, Fisher	4.77
Svenungson, Jacob, Fisher	4.14
Solstad, H. P., Fisher	4.23
Segurson, Halvor, Bygland	.88
Sorenson, Osmund, Malory	2.26
Salverson, A., Fisher	156.90
Sweet, E. A., Fisher	.90
Sweet, H. D., Fisher	7.89
Thorson, Halvor, Bygland	3.75
Torgnson, Knut, Bygland	.55
Thompson, Ole, Bygland	.93
Vigen, Osmond, Bygland	.46
Vigen, Ole, Bygland	1.58
Vigen, Thor O., Bygland	1.24
Vestren, Johanne, Bygland	.43
Worden, August, Bygland	5.92
Worden, Fred, Bygland	3.96
Waldner Bros., Bygland	5.20

CHESTER.

Anderson, August, Lindsay	4.11
Anderson, Andrew, Espelvete	2.56
Berg, H. C., Lindsay	[illegible]
Brendhaug, A. O., Lindsay	2.42
Boe, T. T., Espelvete	3.19
Brokke, O.O., Espelvete	1.12
Borden, Napoleon, Lambert	[illegible]
Bronden, Joseph, Lambert	.48
Brelland, H. O., Lindsay	1.68
Berg, M. J., Lindsay	1.18
Dahl, Ole E., Espelvete	[illegible]
Dranky, T. T., Espelvete	1.21
Engebretson, Ole, Lindsay	1.72
Flatland, Sven, Espelvete	1.16
Flatland, Ole, Espelvete	1.60
Gunderson, Ole, Espelvete	2.03
Gunstenson, Torger, Espelvete	.13
Graver, T. N., Lindsay	2.78
Homme, Sven, Espelvete	1.19
Homme, M. E., Espelvete	4.40
Hanson, Ole, Espelvete	4.17
Jansen, J. H., Espelvete	2.18
Janson, C. A., Lindsay	2.60
Knutson, Andrew, Espelvete	.29
Knutson, Torger, Espelvete	.78
Kristianson, Ole, Lindsay	.96
Kristianson, M. J., Lindsay	.58
Lee, Ole J., Lindsay	1.77
Lambdeau, Petter, Gully	2.46
Lajambe, Phillip, Lambert	1.86
Lizotte, Eugene, Lambert	2.96
Mor, Ole K., Espelvete	2.20
Matson, Ole J., Lindsay	4.41
Nilson, Jorgen, Espelvete	3.91
Omlie, S. S., Espelvete	.87
Orme, J. W., Lambert	1.48
O'Neil, L. J., Lambert	18.79
O'Brien, Machalle, Lambert	4.04
Bogorstad, C., Espelvete	.78
Ralsland, Torger, Espelvete	.41
Shome, Ole T., Lambert	.37
Salvehus, Ole J., Espelvete	.72
Salvehus, G. J., Espelvete	1.13
Slettevold, Ole O., Espelvete	2.00
Skibicke, Stephen, Gully	3.36
Strande, Ingeborg, Lindsay	2.50
Sonden, Ole, Lindsay	2.64
Sogneskar, Ole R., Espelvete	.63
Tueten, C., Espelvete	3.22
Torgerson, Mrs. T. G., Espelvete	1.04
Telgen, A. K., Lindsay	4.10
Bender, Philis, Lambert	12.47
Shank, Lucie, Lambert	.55
Larson, Gustof, Lambert	.55

FOSSTON.

Mrs. S. L. Johnson is reported seriously ill.

Several of the boys attended the dance at Bagley Saturday night.

The Sixty-three club was entertained by Mrs. Babcock Monday evening.

Joe Nicoli is on the sick list and Wallace Wheeler is running his dray line.

Frank Hawkins was down from Solway Tuesday after repairs for his saw mill.

Robert Neving, the Clearwater Lake lumberman, was doing business here Tuesday.

Dick Horton of Mentor came up to attend the installation of officers of the Woodmen Wednesday night.

Clifford Staples, who had his leg broken Christmas eve, is able to get out now with the use of crutches.

The base ball club will give a masquerade in the opera house Feb. 14. Music will be furnished by Frank Juliet, the harpist.

S. L. Swanson started Tuesday for Hot Springs, where he expects to remain about three months. Klabeau is the whole thing at Swan's now.

Peter Johnson was appointed justice of the peace at the last meeting of the village council to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Umland.

Guy. L. Scott moved his office fixtures to Bottineau, N. D., Monday and the Fosston branch of the G. L. Scott Land & Loan Company is a thing of the past.

S. M. Hume is closing out his stock of general merchandise and his sons, Frank and Charley who have been managing his business here, will leave for the west in about sixty days.

SOUTH CROOKSTON.

Mrs. McLaren is on the sick list, having a touch of the grip.

James Phillips has been on the sick list, but he is on the gain now.

We are glad to see Robert Nicholson able to be out again after quite a siege of fever.

Mrs. C. A. Myers has been sick in bed for a week with the grip, but she is on the gain now.

Sickness is the prevailing feature of the Fifth ward these days. The grip seems to be catching us all.

A little girl baby arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smunk on Monday last, and she came to stay.

Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. McLaren and Mrs. Longheed are all wrestling with a siege of the grip, but we hope to see them about again soon.

W. W. Brown is doing a rushing business at the Berlin. The boys all know that when they go there they will be well used and fed.

What is the matter with the Maple Bay Blower Company locating in Carman. There is lots of room over here and we would like to see them locate on this side of the river.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.
Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000.
TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.
Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Orders Bought
INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.
C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist
Dealer in Drug,s Druggist's Sundries.
Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.
Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.
Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.
George Q. Erskine, President. Wm. Anglim, Vice-President
J. W. Wheeler, Cashier H. Robertson Ass't Cashier
Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000
Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS.
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.
Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

The Riverside Dairy
Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.
E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

C. L. Dobner, Pres. H. G. Hobner, Vice Pres. S. F. Staples, Sec and Treas.
Northern Real Estate and Mortgage Company.
(INCORPORATED)
THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.
First Class Farm Mortgages for Sale. Farms bought and sold. List your farms with us. Money loaned on improved farms in this neighborhood. Office over First State Bank.
REFERENCES—First State Bank, Thief River Falls. Scandia American Bank, Crookston. Scandinavian American Bank, St. Paul.

Burlington Route
Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis
"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.
P. S. Eustis, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.
Geo. P. Lyman, Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B & Q. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

S. L. Collins,
Livery and Feed Stables
Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.
Main and 3d sts. Crookston, Minn

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS AND DESIGNS.
Send your business direct to Washington, saves time, costs less, better service.
My office close to U. S. Patent Office. FREE preliminary examinations made. Atty's fee not due until patent is secured. PERSONAL ATTENTION GIVEN—19 YEARS ACTUAL EXPERIENCE. Book "How to obtain Patents," etc., sent free. Patents procured through E. G. Siggers receive special notice, without charge, in the
INVENTIVE AGE
illustrated monthly—Eleventh year—terms, $1. a year.
E. G. SIGGERS, 918 F St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

NO DUST
Great Northern Railway
The Dauntless Transcontinental Route.
Built through grass lands. No sand deserts. Runs through the only habitable belt across the continent.

EDWARD VII REIGNS

He Succeeds to the Throne, Made Vacant by the Death of England's Sovereign.

IS PROCLAIMED KING TODAY

And Parliament Takes Oath of Allegiance---The Civilized World in Mourning.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 23.—The queen of England is dead and Edward VII reigns. The greatest event in the memory of this generation, the most stupendous change in existing conditions that could possibly be imagined has taken place quietly, almost gently, upon the anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria's father, the Duke of Kent.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The house yesterday adopted a resolution expressing profound regret and sympathy for the English people on account of the death of Queen Victoria. President McKinley was requested to communicate the expression to the British government, and as a further mark of respect to the memory of the queen, the house immediately adjourned. The action of the house was particularly impressive in that the resolution was adopted without a word of dissent or deliberation.

In accordance with this request, President McKinley sent the following message of condolence to King Edward VII.

"His Majesty, the King, Osborne House, Isle of Wight: I have received with profound sorrow the lamentable tidings of death of her Majesty, the queen. Allow me, sir, to offer my sincere sympathy and that of the American people in your personal bereavement and in the loss Great Britain has suffered in the death of its venerable and illustrious sovereign, whose noble life and beneficent influence has promoted the peace and won the affection of the world.

—William McKinley."

While the cabinet was in session during the noon hour, the president and his advisors were in receipt from time to time of all the news which came from Osborne house, so when the end came later in the afternoon it found appropriate messages of condolence framed and even orders ready for execution looking to the half masting of the flags over the executive departments and the carrying out of the usual formalities.

The half masting of the national ensign was an unusual tribute to the memory of the deceased sovereign. It is said that this has been done rarely on occasions of funerals of some great ruler, but never before in the case of the death of a monarch.

The actual dispatch of the message from the president to the new king of England and of Secretary Hay's to Ambassador Choate was delayed only long enough to receive the physician's statement announcing the demise of the queen, and then it was sent forward at once and copies were forwarded to the press.

London, Jan. 23.—The body of the queen was embalmed and will probably be taken to Windsor Saturday. The coffin was brought from London. It was thought the queen was dying about nine in the morning, and carriages were sent to Osborne cottage and the rectory to bring all the princes and princesses and the Bishop of Winchester to her bedside.

LAUDER SUSTAINED

North Dakota Jurist Upheld by the United States Supreme Court

Forman, N. D., Jan. 19.—The supreme court of the United States has just handed down a decision in the case of Huitt vs. Shutta, tried at Forman three years ago by Judge W. S. Lauder. The question involved was whether the secretary of the interior had power under the law to withdraw land within the Northern Pacific indemnity grant from settlement under the homestead law.

Judge Lauder decided that the secretary had no such power and that the homesteader was entitled to the land as against the railroad or those claiming under it. The case was appealed to the supreme court of this state, where the decision of the district court was reversed.

Now the supreme court of the United States reverses the decision of the supreme court of this state and sustains Judge Lauder. The decision is of great importance, as it will settle many disputed titles in this state.

BARRY HELD FOR MURDER

The Preliminary Hearing of The Cavalier County Murderer Closed.

The preliminary hearing of Wm. Barry, who murdered Andrew Mellen in cold blood two weeks ago for alleged intimacy with his sister, was concluded last evening and Barry was held for trial at the next term of court. Bail was refused by the court and Barry will be incarcerated in the jail at Langdon until his trial.

The next term of court opens three weeks from Monday, but it is admitted by both sides that the defense will not be ready to go to trial at such an early date. It is reported that there are hereditary traces of insanity in Barry's family, and that he has relatives in an asylum in Canada and that the defense wish to secure evidence of this nature to be presented at the trial. It will be impossible to procure the depositions necessary by the time court opens and the trial will undoubtedly be postponed until the June term of court.

During the preliminary examination on request of the defense the court room was cleared and only interested persons admitted to hear the evidence. It is claimed by the defense that if the public at large was allowed to hear the evidence at the examination it would be an impossibility to secure a jury in the county when the case was called for trial. Much dissatisfaction was expressed at the ruling of the court in excluding spectators, as many persons had traveled miles to hear the testimony.

The question of Barry's sanity is exciting almost as much interest as his crime. Many declare vehemently that he is as sane as a person could possibly be, while on the other hand his friends and those who uphold his action declare that he shows signs of insanity in his daily life.

TOWNE ALONE

The Minnesota Man's Record During the Short Term he Served.

Senator Chas. A. Towne is having a hard time trying to be a democrat. He has received notice that the democrats in the Minnesota legislature will not nominate him for either long or short term but has no comment to make.

Acting Vice President Frye called Mr. Towne to the chair Thursday afternoon and he presided over the senate for an hour. During Towne's occupation of the chair Senator Mark Hanna came in, and, noticing that the new senator from Minnesota was presiding, went up and shook hands.

"I occurred to me," said Hanna, "when I saw you up there in the chair that we were at last in the hands of our enemies."

"Not so bad as that," replied Towne. "But I am the only man in the senate who has served one term in the house, one month in the senate, one week as a member of the senate committee, and one hour as vice president."

Senator Nelson will introduce amendments to the army bill today. One of them provides that civilian appointments under the new army bill, which as now constituted shuts out civilians altogether from getting appointments.

Consul General Goodnow has been advised by the state department that his recommendations for United States consuls at Niu Chwang and Hang Chow, China, have been approved by the state department. At present American commercial interests at these points are looked after by a British merchant. Great Britain, Russia and Japan have consuls at Niu Chwang, but the United States sells more goods there than any other country.

BIG BLOWOUT

Helena Celebrates W. A. Clarks Election to the Senate.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 18.—The election of W. A. Clark to the United States senate was made the occasion at Helena for a celebration probably never equaled in Montana, not even seven years ago when the town went wild over defeating Anaconda for the capital.

A special train arrived from Butte last night bringing the Boston & Montana band and many Butte people. The band paraded the streets, escorting Clark and several friends in carriages through dense crowds, while the air was redolent with red fire and fireworks and the mountains rang with bursting bombs.

Clark made several speeches along the route, winding up at the Montana club, where champagne flowed like water. At the bars of three leading hotels in Helena and several other saloons drinks were set out from 8 to midnight at the expense of the millionaire, and patrons could get anything they wanted. Gray haired men and beardless youths participated in the celebration.

Clark has received telegrams of congratulations from United States Senators Mason, Jones of Arkansas, Heitfeld, ex-Senator Faulkner, President Mellen of the Northern Pacific, Sam Hill, and many others.

GETS IT

Van Sant Names Dearth for Insurance Commissioner.

Gov. Van Sant Friday afternoon appointed Elmer G. Dearth insurance commissioner. Dearth for a number of years was publisher of a country newspaper, and served in the capacity of insurance commissioner during Gov. Clough's regime. He is a son in law of the erstwhile democratic chieftain "Mike" Doran, of St. Paul.

Clerks Speculated

Washington, Jan. 21.—Several clerks in the dead letter office of the postoffice department have been dismissed on charges of having bought packages at the dead letter sale, knowing in advance their contents and falsely representing their character in the catalogue. The clerks dismissed are R. C. Walton, Mrs. Lilian E. Brown, Chas. Abert and Chas. Hardin, the last named being the head of the property division.

Word comes from Langdon to the effect that Wm. Barry, who has lately been held to the district court on the charge of murder in the first degree, is showing signs of weakening of the mental faculties and it is said on good authority that four more weeks of the awful strain on his mind will find him an inmate of the mad house in company with his unfortunate sister.

Up to the time of the preliminary trial he did not appear to realize the awful crime which he had committed, and even thought that he would do the same thing over again.

Since the examination, which ended Thursday, he has undergone a complete change and now broods over the crime from morning to night in a manner that is very distressing to those interested in his welfare, and it seems clear that insanity is his destiny.

The unfortunate occurences which led to the death of one man and the unbalancing of the minds of two human beings are greatly to be regretted.

Gold Near Victoria.

Victoria, Jan. 21.—Gold has been found in paying quantities on the beach between Otter Point and Sooke harbor, thirty miles from Victoria. There are several miles of beach and it has been staked out its entire length.

NELSON AND CLAPP

They Are Elected Without Trouble to Represent Minnesota in The U. S. Senate.

McNAMEE VOTES FOR CLAPP

The Vote Was Along Strict Party Lines, With But One Single Fxception.

It required but fifteen minutes for the Minnesota state senate yesterday morning to dispose of its most important business, that of voting for two Unitedt States senators, which was done without any frills or flourishes.

Exactly at 10:22 Senator Young moved to proceed to the election of a United States senator for the six year term, beginning March 4, 1901, and also moved to dispense with all nominating speeches.

Before the motion was put Senator Ives, who is the only humorist so far developed this session, asked if the senator making the motion to shut off oratory had noticed that the democratic caucus the previous evening had deputed several eloquent gentlemen to make nominating speeches. Notwithstanding, the senate unanimously adopted Senator Young's motion, and the roll call proceeded. The only absentees were Senators McKusick and Ryder, republicans, and Fitzpatrick, democrat, and the vote stood as follows:

Senator Knute Nelson, 42 votes, the full republican membership present.

Judge R. R. Nelson, of St. Paul, the choice of the democratic caucus, 18 votes, the full democratic membership present.

The announcement of the result was greeted with applause, and immediately after Senator Sheehan moved to proceed to elect a successor to the late Senator Cushman K. Davis, also without speech making.

There was the same result on this ballot, with the exception that Senator McNamee, and old line democrat of St. Paul, cast his ballot for his friend and neighbor, Moses E. Clapp, instead of Chas. A. Towne, the caucus choice.

The vote stood: Clapp, 47; Towne, 17.

NEXT SENATOR

General Clapp Was Born in the Hoosier State.

Moses E. Clapp has been a resident of Minnesota less than twenty years. He was born at Delphi, Ind., in 1854, and spent his boyhood and youth in Wisconsin. His father, the late Norman Clapp, resided at New Richmond and was for a number of terms a member of the Wisconsin senate. Moses studied law at New Richmond and in 1881 came to Minnesota, locating at Fergus Falls. In 1886 he was elected attorney general of Minnesota and was re-elected in 1888 and 1890.

General Clapp has been prominent in republican politics and between conventions has been frequently mentioned for the governorship, but has failed to receive the nomination. He was selected as the senatorial candidate by a small corterie of St. Paul politicians even before the demise of the late Senator Davis, whom he has been named to succeed. He was the first active candidate to enter the field.

SENT TO ST. PETER

Mrs. Helstrom who Murdered Her Daughter Adjudged Insane.

Mrs. Matilda Helstrom, who clubbed her daughter to death last week in Minneapolis, has been committed to the insane asylum at St. Peter. Mrs. Helstrom said she believed she had been under hypnotic influence for some time before the deed. For days before its commission mysterious voices had directed her to kill the girl. Her first blow with the bottle had awakened the girl, who sprang from bed, but was soon knocked senseless.

Mr. Helstrom testified that his wife had been the victim of melancholia for some time Neighbors noted that she acted queer.

Prior to the examination there was a dispute as to which court, district or probate, had jurisdiction over the woman. County Attorney Boardman maintained that, there being no complaint against her, insanity being so apparent the case should be disposed of by the probate court

FOUND GUILTY

Murderers of Jennie Bosschieter Must Serve Time.

New York, Jan. 10.—Walter J. McAllster, Andrew J. Campbell and Wm. Death, three of the four persons indicted for the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, a mill girl of Paterson, N. J., who was murdered on the night of October 8, were last night adjudged guilty of murder in the second degree. According to the New Jersey law the maximum penalty for the prisoners is life imprisonment.

WAS UNABLE TO ESCAPE

A Former Grand Forks Woman Cremated in Her Shanty Near Botlineau.

The Grand Forks Herald of Tuesday contained the following account of the cremation of a former resident of that city:

News of a most shocking accident that occurred near Botlineau has been received by relatives in the city. Martha Shetler, mother of Mrs. Busch, who was living in a claim shanty 25 miles from Bottineau, was burned to death some time Saturday morning. She was living in the shanty alone, though her son Rutherford was living in another shanty but a few rods distant. It was he that sent the telegrams to relatives in this city, and no details were received.

It is supposed that Mrs. Shetler had got up early Saturday morning and built a fire to warm the house and had then returned to her bed. Her son, who found the ruins of the shanty, and buried beneath the debris the charred body of his mother, was nearly crazed with grief, as was Mrs. Busch.

Mr. Busch left yesterday for Bottineau and will bring the remains to this city for interment. The deceased had been a resident of this city for two years till last April, when she settled on her claim near Bottineau. She was well known and kindly respected.

Burning to death, isolated as she was from civilization, the case is one of the saddest that was ever recorded in this section of the country. She was 50 years of age, had been a widow for a number of years and leaves three children, Mrs. Ed Busch, a married daughter now living in Ohio, and her son Rutherford, who is on the claim belonging to his brother-in-law, Ed Busch, the two houses being but a few rods apart. Ed Busch is now in the employ of the Great Northern railroad and resides at 1408 University avenue. While Mrs. Shetler was in the city she resided in an adjoining house.

As the accident occurred 25 miles from Bottineau, it will be Wednesday before any further news of the accident will be obtainable. As no train runs on the Bottineau branch on Sunday, it was impossible for Mr. Busch to leave until yesterday morning, though the news of the horrible occurrence was received Saturday evening.

TWO PLUMS SHAKEN

Gov. Van Sant Makes Two Reappointments.

Gov. Van Sant yesterday appointed C. N. Cosgrove, of Le Sueur, to the board of managers of the state public school at Owatonna, and John H. Rich of Red Wing, to the board of corrections and charities. Both are reappointments, practically.

Old Flame Revived.

Jersey Shore, Pa., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Harriet Francis, Ulysses, Tioga county, and Palmer Shumway, a retired farmer, whose home is near Wellsboro, Tioga county, were married Saturday night.

Fifty-six years ago these aged lovers were engaged to be married. Through jealousy on the part of an acquaintance the engagement was broken and they parted without an explanation.

Both married, and Mrs. Francis reared a family of nine children, while Shumway is the father of six children. As the years rolled by they saw each other several times, but neither spoke.

About five years ago Mr. Francis died, and a few months since the widow came here to reside with her son. About three weeks ago she received a letter from Shumway, whose wife had also died.

The letter pleaded for a reconciliation, and was received with favor and speedily answered by the widow.

Burned the Pest House.

Omaha, Jan. 21.—Two hundred masked men, armed with guns, Saturday night stood off the guards and police and burned the pest house in Omaha.

The building was a small one, recently purchased by the city as an emergency hospital for the reception of smallpox patients, and was to have been put in use yesterday.

The citizens became enraged at the location of the building within the city limits, and Friday night an attempt was made to burn the structure, but it was saved by prompt action on the part of the fire department.

A crowd of men Saturday night gathered near the building, overpowered the guards stationed inside, stood off the police with guns and again set the fire.

They quietly watched the building burn to the ground and dispersed. No arrests have been made.

$18,000 For Pat Crowe.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 21.—At a secret meeting of the city council on Friday it was decided to offer a reward of $5,000 for Pat Crowe, dead or alive, irrespective of the suspicion that he may have been concerned in the Cudahy kidnapping. The conditions make no reference to any particular crime. This makes a total price of $18,000 on the head of Crowe.

Three Little Girls!

After five years constant use of Dr. Seth Arnold's Soothing and Quieting Cordial we have not noticed a single evil effect and now our children "three little girls" are as fat and healthy as one would wish to see. Rev. A. W. Bishop, Olathe, Kan.

For sale by A. G. Anderson, Druggist.

Order For Hearing Proof of Foreign Will.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.—ss.

In Probate Court, special term, January 15, 1901.

In the matter of the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased.

Whereas, Certain writings purporting to be duly authenticated copies of the last Will and testament of Emilie A. Jennings late of Pierce county, Washington, deceased, and the probate thereof in the Superior court in said county and state have been delivered to this court:

And, Whereas, Wallace H Jennings has filed therewith his petition, representing among other things that said Emilie A. Jennings lately died in said County of Pierce State of Washington testate, possessed of certain real estate, situated in said County of Polk and State of Minnesota on which the said Will may operate, and that said petitioner is the executor named in said Will and praying that the said instrument may be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be to I. U. Jennings issued thereon:

It is Ordered, That the proofs of said instrument, and the said petition, be heard before this court, at the probate office in said county, on Wednesday the 13th day of February, A. D. 1901, at two o'clock in the afternoon, when all persons interested may appear for, or contest the probate of said instrument

And it is Further Ordered, That notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Polk County Journal a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston in said county.

Dated at Crookston the 15th day of January, A.D 1901.

By the Court,
OLE E. HAGEN,
Judge of Probate.

Timber Culture Final Proof.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., Jan. 2, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that Simeon J. Lanterman has filed notice of intention to make final proof before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at his office in Crookston, Minnesota, on Friday, the 15th day of February, 1901, on timber culture application No. 3592, for the se¼ of section No. 2, in township No. 150 N. range No. 47 W.

He names as witnesses:

Frank Williams, Elery L. Davis, Henry Jones and James Jones all of Crookston, Minnesota.

A. F. GEORGE,
Receiver

—For nervousness and sleeplessness try Lincoln's Hop and Celery Nerve Tablets. 25 cents per box. For sale by A. G. Andersen, druggist.

Articles of Incorporation.

We, the undersigned, hereby associate under the provisions of Title 2, Chapter 34 General Statutes 1878 of the State of Minnesota and the acts amendatory and supplementary thereto for the purpose of forming a corporation, and to that end do hereby adopt the following articles of incorporation, towit:

I.

The name of this corporation shall be MAPLEBAY WIND STACKER COMPANY. The general nature of the business of said corporation shall be the manufacture of wind stackers for threshing machines; farm machinery and implements and the acquiring and owning of patent rights to such articles and licenses to manufacture the same and such business as may be necessary and incident thereto. The principal place of transacting business of such corporation shall be the City of Crookston, State of Minnesota, and manufactories may be established at such other points as board of directors shall determine.

II.

The time of the commencement of said corporation shall be the first day of February, 1901, and the period of its continuance shall be thirty (30) years from that time.

III.

The amount of capital stock of said corporation shall be Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000.00) and shall be paid in in cash or its equivalent in property, to the satisfaction of the board of directors at such time and in such manner as the board of directors shall determine.

IV.

The highest amount of indebtedness to which such corporation shall be at any one time subject, shall be Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000.00.)

V.

The name and place of residence of the persons forming said corporation are:

Name.	Address
C. W. Russell,	Crookston, Minnesota.
H. Steenerson,	Crookston, Minnesota.
Carl Hendrickson,	Grafton, North Dak.
Albert Bergh,	Fosston, Minnesota.
S. D. Felsing,	Maplebay, Minnesota.
Wm. Klinger,	Maplebay, Minnesota.
Daniel Dow,	Grand Forks, North Dakota.

VI.

The name of the first board of directors shall be:

C. W. Russell,
H. Steenerson,
S. D. Felsing,
Wm. Klinger,
Daniel Dow,
Carl Hendrickson,
Albert Bergh.

And they shall serve until their successors shall have been elected at the first annual meeting of said corporation hereinafter provided for. The government of said corporation and the management of its affairs shall be vested in a board of seven (7) directors, and they shall be elected at the first and each succeeding annual meeting. The first meeting to be held on the first Tuesday in March, 1901. The board of directors shall elect from their own number a President, and Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, and such other officers as the board of directors may prescribe. The duties of the president shall be that of the executive officer of said corporation and such duties as are usually exercised by the executive officer of a corporation. The secretary shall keep the records of the said corporation, and the treasurer shall be the custodian of the funds and keep account thereof and disburse the same upon proper authority. The duties of the vice president shall be to act in the place of the president, if the president is absent or unable to act. The board of directors may, by by-law further prescribe the duties of said officers.

VII.

The number of shares in the capital stock of said corporation shall be Five Hundred (500), and the amount of each share shall be One Hundred dollars ($100.00.)

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have hereunto set our hands this 7th day of January, A. D. 1901.

—C. W. Russell,
—Albert Bergh,
—Carl F. Hendrickson,
—Halvor Steenerson,
—S. D. Felsing,
—Wm. Klinger,
—Daniel Dow.

In presence of Charles Loring, Fred A. Dennis.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss.

On this 7th day of January, A. D. 1901, before me personally appeared C. W. Russell, H. Steenerson, Carl Hendrickson, S. D. Felsing, Wm. Klinger, to me known to be the same persons named in and who executed the foregoing instrument, and they each acknowledged that they executed the same as their free act and deed.

—Charles Loring.

(SEAL.)

Notary Public, Polk Co., Minn.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss.

On this 12th day of January, A. D. 1901, before me personally appeared Albert Bergh, to me known to be one of the identical persons named in and who executed the foregoing instrument, and he acknowledges that he executed the same as his free act and deed.

—John Hillestod.

(SEAL.)

Notary Public, Polk Co., Minn.

State of North Dakota, County of Grand Forks—ss.

On this 8th day of January, A. D. 1901, before me personally appeared Daniel Dow, to me known to be one of the identical persons named in and who executed the foregoing instrument, and he acknowledges that he executed the same as his free act and deed.

—R. H. Bosard,

(SEAL.)

Notary Public, Grand Forks Co., N. Dak.

State of Minnesota, Department of State.

I hereby certify that the within instrument was filed for record in this office on the 16th day of January, A. D. 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m., and was duly recorded in Book Z. 2 of Incorporations, on page 200.

—P. E. Hanson,
Secretary of State.

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.—ss. In district court.

Agnes Bruggeman as executrix of the last will and testament of John H. Bruggeman, deceased, plaintiff.

Against

D. W. Lake, W. B. Wood, the Merchants National bank of Crookston, James Pulkrabek and Pulkrabek, copartners under the firm name and style of Pulkrabek Bros., and John Birkholz, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants and each of them:

You and each of you are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the action above entitled, which has been filed and is now on file, in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to said complaint upon the undersigned at his office in the City of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated Dec. 26, 1900.

A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
39-44 Crookston, Minnesota.

Summons.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK.—ss. In District Court.

SHELDON W. VANCE, and GEORGE F. STONE, Plaintiffs,

vs.

—DUGGAN, TIMOTHY SULLIVAN, —KINSELLA, Copartners as DUGGAN, SULLIVAN & KINSELLA, Defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named Defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiffs in the above entitled action, which complaint has been filed and is now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court within and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office in the city of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint, within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

—A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiffs,
Crookston, Minn.

Dated Jan. 12, 1901. 42-47

Proclamation.

State of Minnesota, Executive Department.

Whereas, pursuant to chapter one hundred and forty-three (143) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1893, "An act to provide for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," as amended by chapter one hundred and twenty-four (124) of the General Laws of Minnesota for the year 1895, being "An act to amend sections two (2) and four (4) of chapter one hundred forty-three (143) of the General Laws of the year 1893, providing for the creation and organization of new counties and the government of same," a petition was filed with the Secretary of State on the 13th day of December, 1900, praying for the creation of a new county out of territory now lying in Polk County, said State, to be named Nelson County and described as follows, towit:

Commencing at the southeast corner of township numbered one hundred and forty-seven, north of range thirty-nine west of the 5th principal meridian in Minnesota, thence running west along the south boundary line of townships one hundred and forty-seven of ranges thirty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Norman counties, to the southwest corner of township one hundred and forty-seven, range forty-three; thence running north along the range line between ranges forty-three and forty four to the northwest corner of township one hundred and forty-nine, range forty-three; thence east along the north boundary line of said township last named and townships one hundred and forty-nine, ranges forty-two and forty-one, to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence north along the west boundary line and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty, range forty to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence north along the west boundary line, and east along the north boundary line of township one hundred and fifty-one, range thirty-nine, to the northeast corner of said township last named; thence south along the range line between ranges thirty-eight and thirty-nine, the same being the boundary line between Polk and Beltrami Counties, to the place of beginning, all of said territory being within the County of Polk and including and embracing the whole of townships numbered one hundred and forty-seven, one hundred and forty-eight and one hundred and forty-nine, ranges forty-nine, forty, forty-one, forty-two and forty-three, township one hundred and fifty, ranges thirty-nine and forty, and township one hundred and fifty-one, range thirty-nine.

And whereas, said petition has been duly considered and found and certified to as conforming in all respects to the provisions of said laws.

Now therefore, I, John Lind, Governor of the State of Minnesota, pursuant to the authority in me vested by the laws aforesaid, do hereby direct and proclaim that the question of the creation of the proposed new County of Nelson be submitted to the voters of said Polk County at the next general election, to be held in this State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1902.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State of Minnesota, to be hereto affixed this 20th day of December, A. D. 1900.

ALBERT BERG, JOHN LIND,
Secretary of State. Governor.
[SEAL] 39-42

Mortgage Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, made and dated the 16th day of November, 1882, by Zebedee Lush, an unmarried man, mortgagor of Polk county, Minnesota, to Nancy C. McConnell mortgagee, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk county, Minnesota, on the 16th day of November, 1882, at 11 o'clock and forty-five minutes a. m., in book "I" of mortgages on pages 490, 491, 492 and 493; which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 3rd day of May, A. D. 1883 by an instrument in writing duly assigned by said Nancy C. McConnell to Alama A. Wylly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich, of the State of Florida, which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk County, Minnesota, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1885, at eight o'clock and forty minutes a. m. in book "67" of Mortgages on pages 587 and 588; which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 27th day of June, A. D. 1889 by an instrument in writing, duly assigned by said Alama A. Wylly, guardian of Chester W. Goodrich of the State of Florida to Chester W. Goodrich, which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Polk County, Minnesota, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1890, at eight o'clock and forty minutes a. m. in book "67" of Mortgages, on pages 585 and 586; which said mortgage was thereafter and on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1900, by an instrument in writing, duly assigned by said Chester W. Goodrich, of the State of Florida, to Ella B. Thomas, of Lehigh County, Pa., which said assignment was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, on the 31st day of August, A. D., 1900, at three o'clock and fifteen minutes p. m. in book "98" of Mortgages on pages 23 and 24; which said mortgage conveyed and mortgaged the following premises in said Polk County, Minnesota, to wit: The east half of the northwest quarter and the east half of the southwest quarter of section No. two (2) in township No. one hundred and fifty-three (153) north of range No. forty-six (46) west, containing 160 acres of land more or less according to the U. S. government survey thereof.

That there is due upon the note and mortgage at this date seven hundred thirty-eight dollars and 19/100 ($738.19) and which said note bears even date with said mortgage and became due and payable five years from date thereof, together with Attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage amounting to twenty-five (25) dollars.

There is also due upon said mortgage the sum of seventy-seven and 37-100 dollars ($77.37) which said Ella B Thomas, assignee of said mortgage has paid as delinquent taxes and interest, duly levied upon said premises for the years 1893 to 1899, both inclusive, which sum has become a lien upon said land, according to the statutes of Minnesota in such case made and provided, making the total amount due upon said mortgage to date, including principal, interest, Attorney's fees and taxes, eight hundred forty and 56-100 dollars ($840.56). No proceedings at law having been instituted to recover any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statutes, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the front door of the court house, in the City of Crookston, in said County of Polk, on Saturday, the 2nd day of February, A. D. 1901, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the sum herein claimed to be due on said mortgage, together with all costs and charges to foreclose.

Dated Minneapolis, Minn., December 10th, 1900.

ELLA B. THOMAS,
Assignee of Mortgagee.
WRIGHT AND MATCHAN,
Attorneys for Assignee of Mortgagee,
311 Globe Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. 36-42

Bankrupts Petition For Discharge.

IN THE MATTER OF SAM SORENSON, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To THE HON. WILLIAM LOCHREN, Judge of the District Court of the United States, for the District of Minnesota.

Sam Sorenson of the Town of Fisher, in the County of Polk, State of Minnesota, in said District, respectfully represents that on the 17th day of October, A. D., 1900, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the acts of congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property and rights of property and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and the orders of the Court touching his bankruptcy.

WHEREFORE, he prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate under said bankruptcy acts except such debts as are excepted by law from said discharge.

Dated this 12th day of December, A. D., 1900.

SAM SORENSON, Bankrupt.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, District of Minnesota, Sixth Division.—ss.

On this 10th day of January, A. D., 1901, on reading the foregoing petition, it is ordered by the Court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 26th day of March, A. D., 1901, before said Court, at Fergus Falls, in said District, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Polk County Journal, a newspaper printed in said District, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the Court, that the Clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness the Honorable William Lochren, Judge of the said Court, and the seal thereof, at Fergus Falls in said District, on the 10th day of January, A. D., 1901.

CHARLES L. SPENCER, Clerk.
By L. A. Levorsen, Deputy Clerk.
(Seal of the Court.)

—School tablets at the Journal office.

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

TWIN VALLEY.

Merchants were busy on Saturday, Jan. 12.

A. O. Lund, a brother of G. O. Lund, is up on a visit.

Peterson & Olson are selling out their stock of general merchandise.

Hans Burgess and A. H. Froshaug were in the Twin Cities last week.

Large quantities of cordwood are daily shipped out of Twin Valley nowadays.

Gilbert Goodrich has completed his dwelling house and moved into town recently.

Miss Minnie Hage left for Butte, Mont., Tuesday evening, where she will continue dressmaking.

Ole Larson, son of Dr. Larson, is contemplating starting a harness shop. The territory is big and the location is good.

Miss Etta Aaker and Nettie Lund are attending college at Grand Forks and Clara Hanson is taking a course in music at Crookston.

Albert O. Waber visited at Crookston and Grand Forks last week and incidentally too, in Henry Thompson's wedding east of Grand Forks while up there.

Meetings have been held and committees named to act and confer in regard to the proposed idea of moving the Home Lake creamery into town. A good idea if carried through, and the creamery would be better in town.

FISHER.

Rev. G. A. Holzinger is sick with the grip.

Richard Plumb, one of the oldest settlers here, died last Monday.

Miss Nellie Brewster is home from a visit with her sister at Bagley.

Mrs. Richard Buchanan of Key West visited relations in Fisher this week.

Arch. Crawford spent Tuesday and Wednesday as the guest of Fisher friends.

Little Malcolm Neely was kicked by a horse last Friday and quite seriously injured.

Rev. E.A. Cooke and Hans Christianson started on Monday for their claims near Thief River Falls.

Rev. and Mrs. Holzinger entertained a number of their friends last Friday evening. The evening was spent in games and light refreshments were served at a late hour.

ELDRED.

E. J. Monson drove to Portland last Monday.

The creamery directors meet on Friday, the 25th.

E. G. Monson has some choice millet seed for sale.

Miss Martha Moen is visiting her sister, Pauline Monson.

John Jevning of Neby transacted business in town on Monday.

Clerk Mitchell has secured six new applicants for membership in the Modern Woodmen camp.

C. J. Gilbert has made a contract with the Minneapolis Threshing Machine Company as general agent for this year.

All those desiring to purchase tickets at the depot at this place, are requested to see a locksmith and secure a key for the door at the main entrance. No admission unless so provided.

So near Bobbie Burns' birthday we are wont to quote his immortal sayings, so all day long his "Well laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglae" comes to the mind of the writer whenever his thoughts revert to our depot effort of some months ago, and then his head rumbles with the following:

"O would some power the Giftie gie us to see Eldred as ithers see us;
It would fra many a wanting free us, there'd be no ego;
We'd not care if the train e'r see us, nor for a depot."

DONALDSON.

Greely E. Carr of Stephen is a business visitor here today.

Constable Lind was out Wednesday on business for the Plano Mfg. Co.

Earl Anderson, our school teacher, is progressing successfully with his undertaking.

Erik Haglund says the pump works too hard, so he will do no such work any more.

It rained in this vicinity Tuesday morning and a blizzard followed in great style.

Tom Conners came in from A. B. Stotsberg's Thursday. Just in time for Dargan's wedding.

Mrs. L. Parker of Bemidji came up on Monday's train to make a visit with her brother N. E. Davis.

The masquerade ball given here last Friday by the Ladies Guild Society was a success. Mr. and Mrs. T. Dargan furnishing the music until early in the morning.

William Rideout and Miss Bertha Dagen, both from Kennedy, came down on Thursday's train to take in the masquerade ball given by the Ladies Guild Society Friday evening.

A new restaurant is to be established in the old harnes shop of A. Blomesnes, Conrad Miller the proprietor is sanguine of success in the undertaking. He will open about the last of this month. wish you good success Con.

We were very pleasantly surprised to learn that Tom Dargan and Esther Halberg were united in marriage last Thursday, the 17th inst. We all extend our heartiest congratulations and best wishes towards the happy young couple, as they are both well and favorably known throughout this neighborhood.

CLIMAX

Miss Lena Olson of Belmont N. D. was a Climax caller on Monday.

Mrs. T. Neyers and Mrs. S. Pederson of Shelly were Climax callers Saturday.

Mr. Turnquist of Crookston was visiting his uncle O. G. Turnquist over Sunday.

Dr. Johnson reports several severe cases of grip in the country about Neilsville.

Norman Rosholt attended the meeting of the stockholders of the Halstad State bank Friday.

Miss Tina Ronnung, the fifteen year old daughter of B. A. Ronnug of Belmont is very ill with typhoid fever.

Miss Mary Johnson who has been visiting with Mrs S. H. Johnson returned to her home in Fargo last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Slette, and Miss Olson of Halstad came up on Monday morning's train to spend a short time with Climax friends.

The young people of Climax enjoyed a fine sleigh ride last Sunday. About twenty participating and all returned home without sustaining any bodily harm.

The Royal Neighbors and Woodmen lodges of this place expect to give a shadow sale the first Thursday in Feb. Preperations are being made for a good time.

Julius Spokell, who went to Black Duck last week with the intention of opening up business there returned Thursday evening having changed his opinion of the place.

FELTON

J. J. Opsahl was a Borup visitor on Sunday.

D. A. Kramar was a Fargo visitor last Tuesday.

Two more new cases of diphtheria cases are reported at Rill .

A. B. Klevegaard visited a few days in Moorhead and Fargo this week.

J. J. Opsahl and T. O. Melby transacted business at Borup Tuesday.

P. H. Byron returned Thursday morning from his trip to Goldfield, Ia.

E. A. Amundson left Saturday evening for Iowa to close up a large land deal.

J. J. Hynes left Wednesday evening for Moorhead and Fargo and other points.

F. E. Stearns left Saturday for Fargo to look for a position as harnessmaker.

H. W. Bentley's children are getting along nicely under the care of Dr. McIntosh.

A. Boyson left Thursday evening for Fargo to attend to some business at that place.

Geo. Tillie left Monday evening for LeRoy, Minn., for an extended visit with friends.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Parents, of Rill, died of diphtheria Friday morning.

Harry Monson acted as temporary clerk in A. B. Klevegaard's store during the latter's absence.

R. B. Pixley and C. H. Corbet transacted business at Moorhead and Fargo Monday and Tuesday.

Ole Erickson of Moorhead come over Friday to post up corporation notices. Election takes place Feb. 28.

W. H. Byfield left Saturday for Mapleton, N. D., for an over Sunday visit with his parents and family.

J. E. Stewart, of Sabin has been in town the past week in the interests of the Dowagiac Company of Fargo.

The diphtheria cases west of town are improving nicely and will soon be well enough to have the quarantine raised.

Miss Nettie Guisness left for Borup Monday to help care for her sister, Mrs. Hans Ballingrud, who is on the sick list.

Deputy Sheriff T L Murphy of Moorhead, was in this vicinity Wednesday visiting his brother, E J, and looking after official business

John Lang returned Monday evening from the lumber woods, and drove to Moorhead Tuesday for a few days' visit, also to attend to some business affairs.

Ole Grinna, of Pelican Rapids, visited with his brothers Lars and Conrad Wednesday and Thursday of this week

Miss Bessie Morin, of Viding, was a Felton visitor Thursday

The free dance and rafle for a wheel was not very largely attended on account of sickness and cold weather, but those who attended enjoyed themselves immensely. T. O. Melby held the lucky number and drew the wheel.

BIRKHOLZ.

John Grimm, who has been ill with the grip for the past week, is able to be out again.

Dell Rhinehart, of Big Woods, is reported seriously ill. He is a son of Captain Rhinehart.

Jas. Chappell and his sister Agnes, and M. Donohue of the Dakota side, were callers at this place last Sunday.

Miss Josephine Dalen, who has a dressmaking establishment at Argyle, is visiting her parents at this place for a few days.

Miss Mary A. Bushaw, who lives on the Dakota side of the river, is not expected to live. She is suffering from typhoid fever.

J. W. Northrup, W. F. Dunning and some of Ludvic Larson's family, were victims of the grip last week. All are reported as recovering.

The Misses Olina and Emily Dalen, who have been visiting relatives and friends in the southern part of the state, came home last Wednesday.

HALSTAD.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Ducklet, last Friday, a boy.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. O. Letnes, last Saturday, a girl.

S. E. Bergh is down with typhoid fever, but is doing nicely. Dr. Bennett is attending him.

James Larson and Assistant Postmaster Miss Maggie Holmberg, visited friends at Shelly Sunday.

Thorwald Thorson of Casselton, N. D., was in town Saturday attending the funeral of John Stiue.

Died, last Thursday, of consumption, John Stiue, at the age of 25 years. The funeral was held Saturday.

Miss Emma Olson of Marsh River has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Isaacson, for the past few days.

MENTOR.

Mrs. Bahn took a trip to Crookston Friday.

F. E. LePage took a trip to Crookston Tuesday.

M. Madson's infant child is very sick with the grip.

Miss Gagner of Terrebonne is visiting with the family of F. E. LePage.

The passenger train ran over a valuable dog belonging to Mr. Eplvig on Sunday morning.

John Bahn took a trip to Crookston Tuesday in the interests of his summer resort on the lake.

Mr. Gilbertson of the Erskine mills came down on business Monday, returning Wednesday.

Mr. Webster, of the firm of Marin & Webster, looked up delinquents in this locality Wednesday.

Lynch, the Grand Forks ice man, is here today making prepartions for cutting ice and shipping it to Grand Forks.

Mr. Mathews, our station agent, reports 52 carloads of hay shipped out of here this season. How is that for Mentor?

The most severe snow storm of the season raged here last Tuesday and Wednesday, stopping all wood and hay hauling for a couple of days.

Mr. N. Berge, a business man from Kirkhoven, this state, is here today looking over Woodside soil with a view to investing. He looked over the old Engstron farm.

Mr. Chaffee is over from Grand Forks today making arrangements to have Andrew Rickie cut and load his ice at this place. Mr. Chaffee will ship to Grand Forks something like 40 cars of Maple Lake ice.

Mentor had quite a sensation at noon today. Fire broke out in a box car partially loaded with hay, which probably ignited from one of the smokers' pipes while loading, and the car and contents would have been doomed but for the timely arrival of Mr. Tagley with his chemical fire extinguisher. As it was, a dozen bales of hay were badly scorched.

ADA.

Olaf Ramstad took a car load of hogs down to the cities last week.

Walter Top made a trip to the lumbering camps around Bagley last week.

A number of young folks pleasantly surprised John Strand Saturday on his birthday.

Albert Myran came up from St. Paul Sunday morning and stayed until Tuesday evening.

Mr. Cross of the Crookston Journal was here Tuesday soliciting subscriptions for that paper.

The census of 1900 places Ada with a population of 1,253, an increase of 631 in the last ten years.

Peter Sharpe left Sunday night for St. Paul as a delegate from the local lodge of the Masons.

Ole Wang has severed his connection with C. R. Andrews & Co., and is at present busy doing nothing.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Systad, Tuesday morning a girl. Both mother and daughter are doing well.

Mike Vaugsness left Sunday night for a visit with friends and relatives in the southern part of the state and in Iowa.

Hans Holden returned Sunday morning from the cities, where he spent last week buying stock for the spring trade.

The whist club has again been organized with about twenty members and have rented the village hall for the purpose.

O.S. Dalby of Ulmay brought in the largest load of hay Saturday that has come in here this winter. It weighed 3,620 pounds and was sold to Mayor Norby for $16.29.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weatherhead left Monday morning for Hunter, N. D., where they will spend a few days before going to Kindred, N. D., where Mr. Weatherhead has bought some interest in a newspaper.

Peter Matson, a lawyer of this place, and Miss Laura Vrau, of Fertile, were married last Friday afternoon by Judge Moen at his office in this city. The young couple have gone to housekeeping in the old Torgerson house, which Mr. Matson recently bought.

The M. W. A. held a public installation of officers last Thursday night, after which a pleasant time was spent in playing whist and chrokinole, and those that favored dancing were given an opportunity. A real Woodmen supper was served at 12 o'clock, after which all went home feeling that the "wood choppers" are pretty good fellows after all.

McINTOSH.

T. Alexander left Tuesday for Bemidji.

Miss Carrie Lade left for Fosston on Sunday.

Miss Kate Zinn returned Sunday from Erskine.

Andrew Stovern returned from Minneapolis Monday.

Miss Mae Darling returned from Fosston Monday.

Mrs. John Distad returned from Fosston last Saturday.

T. S. Berg and J. S. Rosholt returned Saturday from Grand Forks.

J. P.Johnson returned Friday from a business trip to Thief River Falls.

Everett Southmald has gone to
Everett Southmayd has gone to Corney Hanson of Bagley came down for a few days' visit with his parents.

Miss Nancy Egeland returned from a two weeks' visit with friends at Fisher.

Miss Bertha Quesnell, of Red Lake Falls, is visiting Mrs. Charles Charlebois this week.

Nels A. Boe of Dodge county purchased the Ole Ostby farm in the town of Lessor for $5,700.

Miss Grace Sweet left for Alexandria Saturday after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. L. Shaddock of this place.

LENGBY.

Gunder Gunhim was at Fosston Monday.

Albert Lillo went to Crookston today.

Mrs. Ole Frederickson is on the sick list.

Lew Jenson left for Fosston Monday after a visit with friends here.

P. A. Sederberg was over from Ebro on wood business on Friday.

Miss Randine Wiemer came home from the Fosston hospital on Sunday.

N. O. Nelson was with the Bagley business people a few hours on Friday.

Malcolm Swanson started on a trip to Michigan Friday where he will work in the mines.

Andrew Brandt made a trip to Grand Forks last week and returned Saturday with a life partner.

Miss Marie Aspeli returned Friday from a visit with relatives and friends in Clay and Belville counties.

Miss Amanda Frederickson came home Saturday and stayed with her parents till Monday when she took the passenger for Fosston.

ANGUS.

Joe Tans was in Crookston on Thursday.

F. McLennen spent Friday in Crookston.

Blanche Perkins spent Sunday at home.

J. M. Palmer was in Warren on Friday.

M. J. Hummer drove to Warren on Monday.

S. M. Clover drove to Warren on Tuesday.

D. H. Miller drove to Grand Forks Saturday.

Misses Cora and Lena Evans drove to Warren Tuesday.

Miss Clara Christofferson took the train for Argyle on Monday.

The Woodmen held public installation of officers on Thursday night and a dance was given afterwards.

Report of Angus school district No. 71 for the month ending Jan. 18, 1901:
Days taught 20.
Attendance during the month, 36.
Average attandance, 30 7-20.
Average daily attendance per pupil, 16 5-6 days.
Those attending 20 days: John Ehaust, Tony Ehaust, Olga Ehaust, Voldina Ehaust Anna Staska, Annie Nadvornils, Everette Evans, Laura Hummer, Lottie Hummer, Nellie Hummer, Jennie Hummer, Clifford Hummer.

THIEF RIVER FALLS.

Geo. Elliott of Spruce Valley drove into town Tuesday in the storm.

Herb Fuller is spending a few days in town to recuperate from an attack of the grip.

Editor Smiley took the smallpox cure the other day and is now boasting of his big arm.

The Press voting contest is taking on larger proportions, the one in the lead at present having received 1400 votes.

Andrew Anderson of Park River, N. D., has leased a portion of O. H. Nelson's store and is soon to put in a stock of jewelry.

Phil Zeh is contemplating a change and intends to move into H. O. Hanson's building, recently occupied by E. Browning.

Mr. Winslow, credit man for Finch, Smith & Co., of Crookston, is here winding up the affairs of Eugene Browning, who made an asignment a short time ago.

J. Mickelson has been engaged at Breese doing deputy work for the Modern Wodmen. He reports the people up there enthusiastic over the M. W. A.

Benjmin Christianson is at St. Paul to purchase a stock of general merchandise.

KENNEDY.

The smallpox scare is again on the wane.

We now have enough of the grip for the time being.

A goodly number of our people are suffering from the grip.

The St. Anthony & Dakota elevator is closed for the season.

An anti-saloon agitation has been started for effect at the spring election.

Men in love have said more foolish things than men in liquor; and then it takes longer to sober up and settle down.

During the severe snow storm of last week two horses belonging to Hall & Boney strayed off and have not yet been found.

A masquerade ball is advertised for the town hall Friday evening, Jan. 25, and a coon show for the same place on the 30th and 31st.

The M. W. A., in conjunction with the Royal Neighbors, will hold public installation of officers Friday evening, Feb. 1. A big time is promised.

Joseph Estlund has severed his connection with the P. O. store management and intends to spend the balance of the winter at some place of learning.

The series of revival meeting which were conducted here for two weeks by Rev. Johnstone, came to a close last Friday. We now have regular services as before.

A two days' test of the fire apparatus recently purchased by the village has been made. Two representatives of the Watrous Fire Machine Company of St. Paul have been up this week looking after the interests of that company.

WARREN.

Mr. Isaacson returned from Erskine Monday morning.

L. Loughrige left last week on a business trip to Iowa.

Rev. Dodds, presiding elder, preached at the M. E. church Monday night.

The Zenith Social club will give a ball at the opera house Friday evening.

Mr. Bivins and daughter Pauline of Fargo visited friends in the city last week.

Quite a number attended the dance at the hall above Lund's saloon Friday night.

Dr. and Mrs. Wattum entertained a number of their friends at their home Friday night.

Mrs. Schantzen returned Thursday morning from a few days' visit with friends at Euclid.

A party was given at the home of Frank Jerrne Monday night in honor of Otis' birthday.

Mr. Taylor returned Tuesday from Crookston where he has been attending court as juryman.

Mrs. Ed Stevens returned Saturday morning from an extended visit with relatives in the southern part of the state.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Winchester left last week for Wisconsin where they will visit a few weeks, thence they will proceed to their eastern home.

Married, at the home of the bride last Wednesday, Mrs. Nelson and John Ingard. The bride has lived in the city a number of years and the groom is a progressive farmer. Their many friends wish them happiness through life.

SHE'S AT IT AGAIN

Mrs. Nation and a Few Other Females Smash a Few More Wichita Saloons.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 22.—Mrs. Carrie Nation came back to Wichita yesterday after her recent incarceration under a smallpox quarantine, and the net result of ten minutes' of her work are two wrecked saloons, and the pieces of which are being sold. Mrs. Nation was assisted by Mrs. Julia Evans, Mrs. Lucy Wilhoit and Mrs. Lydia Hintz, all of the local W. C. T. U. organization. With hatchets concealed under their cloaks they entered the saloon of James Burns on Douglas avenue and did not leave a complete piece of glass or a working slot machine in the place.

All show cases, both of liquors and cigars, as well as the plate glass windows and doors were broken. With lightning speed they ran to John Herrig's saloon and had everything in the front room, including the plate glass windows, broken when he appeared with a revolver, placed it at Mrs. Nation's head and said that he would blow out her brains if she did not desist.

She yielded before the pointed revolver, and with her companions ran to the Carey hotel bar, where she made her first attack on the saloons of Wichita three weeks ago. The police overpowered Mrs. Nation and her friends and took them to the city prison, followed by two thousand people.

Chief of Police Cubbon discharged the prisoners after they reached the jail and is heartily condemned by the citizens. He made them promise not to wreck any more saloon before today noon.

The damage done by the women is estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000. David Nation, the husband of Mrs. Nation, was in the city but took no part in the wreckage of the saloons, nor did he go to the city jail when his wife was arrested.

The affair created intense excitement and it is estimated that 5,000 people, men and women, viewed the wreck.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 22.—Mrs. Nation caused a new sensation last night by slapping Sheriff Simmons in the face, taking hold of his ears and giving him a rough handling generally. Mrs. Nation was at the Union station in the act of buying a ticket to a neighboring town when the sheriff pulled her sleeve saying: "You are my prisoner, madam." Mrs. Nation turned her face about and seeing Sheriff Simmons, gave him a violent slap across the face. She followed this up by taking hold of his ears with both hands and wringing them vigorously.

The Union station was full of women who began screaming and tremendous excitement followed as the sheriff, who is a small man, struggled with his powerful antagonist.

A policeman came to his rescue and with the aid of some bystanders they succeeded in picking the woman up in their arms and placing her in a cab which was driven rapidly to the county jail. She insisted on being placed in the private room for women, but Sheriff Simmons put her in a cell with a steel rotary, where she began to pray and sing hymns.

TURNED OUT A THIEF

A Former Boston Post Office Clerk In Serious Trouble.

Havana, Jan. 22.—Sheridan, who was formerly attached to the Boston postoffice, and who was appointed two years ago to the postoffice here, has been arrested for stealing a registered letter containing a remittance of $1,300, of which $1,235 was in cash and $65 in a check for the North American Trust Company. The letter was sent by the postmaster of Guantanamo. Sheridan confessed when arrested. He was bonded by the Fidelity Company, which refused to continue his bond on Jan. 15, owing to his gambling habits.

A BIG CASE

Injunctional Proceedings Instituted Against Property Owners.

Attorney M. A. Hildreth came up from Fargo Tuesday on the Moorhead Northern passenger on his way to Bemidji to take part in injunctional proceedings instituted against a number of property owners. Mr. Hildreth says it is the biggest case in which he was ever retained and involves town and farm property valued at $100,000. The International & Minnesota Railroad Company have caused temporary injunctions to be served on a number of Bemidji property holders, restraining them from proceeding further with certain improvements, and it is against the permanency of the injunctions that Mr. Hildreth will fight. The company wants the property for their road through to Canada.

HEAVY DAMAGES

Are Wanted by a Couple of North Dakota Citizens.

John Shoe, the father of the little boy who was so badly injured in the Grand Forks oil mills recently, brought an action in the district court Monday against John Bannon, the proprietor of the mills, for $10,000 damages. The injured boy was playing around the conveyor of the mill and in raising the cover of the latter piece of machinery, had his leg drawn in and terribly lacerated. The little fellow is now lying in a hospital and will recover.

The other suit is by Robert Corry, of Hillsboro, against E. C. Graham, of the same place, and also calls for $10,000 damages. A few years ago Corry married a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham and at first lived on a farm near Reynolds. Mrs. Corry, it is said, did not like farm life, so the family moved into Reynolds. Some time after this Mr. Cory went to the woods near Bemidji, leaving his wife at Reynolds. After he had been there but a few months he was served with papers notifying him that a suit for divorce was started against him by his wife. He did not fight the case and the divorce was granted at Hillsboro a little over a year ago. Corry now alleges that Mr. and Mrs. Graham induced their daughter to apply for a divorce and were at the bottom of all the trouble between them. The principals to the action are well known in this part of the state.

LEASE WANTS RELEASE

From The Matrimonial Bonds—She Alleges Non-Support.

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 22.—Mary E. Lease today filed suit for divorce from Chas. L. Lease in the district court of Sedgewick county. An affidavit as to the correctness of the allegations set forth in the petition was made by Mrs. Lease in New York. The petition charges the defendant with "being guilty of gross negligence of duty in that he has failed in neglect for more than twelve years last past to support the plaintiff and her family and to support them in any way with conveniences such as the defendant as an able bodied man was competent and capable of supplying and furnishing."

Accompanying the petition is a waiver signed by Mr. Lease, signifying his intention of not contesting it. They were married at Osage Mission, Kan., Jan. 30, 1883, and there are four children.

BURKE ACQUITTED

Man Who Killed Charles Grant is Found Not Guilty.

The greatest surprise imaginable is manifest throughout the country by the verdict given by the jury Monday night in the Burke murder trial at Grand Rapids. After a deliberation of eight hours, standing till the last hour eight for acquittal, the jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

This gives Patrick Burke his liberty again after taking two, and some say three, human lives. It revives the impression that there is no law or justice in Itasca county, and Mr. Burke being a young man, this act will give him courage to keep on adding scalps to his belt till father Time no longer furnishes him strength to pull the trigger.—Itasca News.

CLEVELAND SELECTED

As the Place For The Next G. A. R. Encampment.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—A vote was taken by the council of administration G. A. R. yesterday afternoon and Cleveland was selected as the place in which to hold the next annual encampment.

The vote stood Cleveland 5, Denver 2, Pittsburg 1. Denver could not meet all the requirements and Cleveland was selected because a satisfactory guarantee of the city's ability to care for the encampment was furnished by the committee.

Free Of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at F. H. Hillard & Son's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup, free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents.

No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggists will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really the only Throat and Lung Remedy generally endorsed by physicians. One 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries. Get Green's Prize Almanac. 2

Convict Paroled

St. Paul, Jan. 22.—Jas. H. Southall, who secured nearly three quarters of a million by fraudulent manipulation of government timber claims while employed in the United States engineer's office, and was sentenced a few years ago to the penitentiary for ten years, today had his sentence commuted so that his term would expire early in February, and was later paroled and allowed to return home at once. This action was taken because of the serious ill health of his wife, experts having reported to the pardon board that unless her husband was allowed to return home she would lose her reason.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

Has world-wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Boils, Sores, Felons, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Chapped Hands, Skin Eruptions; infallible for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Polk County Journal.

VOL. XXV CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1901 No. 43

Historical Society

UP WITH THE TIMES

The Journal Has Outgrown the Old System of Hand Typesetting and Installed a Modern

MERGENTHALER-LINOTYPE

Brief Description of This Wonderful Labor Saver, Takes Place of Several Compositors.

EARS of continuous experience and careful close study and observation in the work of newspaper publication has demonstrated to us the fact that to keep in the front rank of the publications of the day a newspaper office must be equipped with the latest and best inventions of the age. When we took hold of the Polk County Journal it was our determined purpose to make it the best weekly paper published in Northern Minnesota. And to enable us to do this we were obliged to discard the press then in use in the office which we did, and replaced it with a new Columbian Optimus, than which there is no better press on the market. This press was described at some length in the issue of the Journal of August 17, 1899, and it has in its constant satisfactory service since that time fully justified our expectations at the time of its purchase.

During last July we commenced the publication of the Crookston Daily Journal, having also in regard to this publication a determined purpose to make it the best of its kind in northern Minnesota. Our press capacity was more than adequate for all demands upon it, so that at this point there was no lack. But from the beginning of our experience with a daily publication, we became conscious of an imperative need of improved facilities for setting up type. And during the time which has since elapsed, we have been investigating the different possibilities in that direction, desiring to make no mistake in our efforts to secure the best. As a result of our investigations we decided to purchase and have now installed in our office a new Mergenthaler Linotype machine. This is one of the most wonderful inventions of this age of progress. Wonderfully complex in its mechanism, unerring in the precision of its performance, comparatively silent in its action, susceptibly responsive to the slightest touch of the operator, it performs its mission almost instinctively.

It is not a typesetting machine in the ordinary sense of the word, but casts the type from molten metal, at the will of the operator, by the use of finger keys like a typewriter.

The type is cast in solid slugs of one line each, which are assembled side by side successively ready for use on the press table. This work is effected substantially as follows: The machine contains as its leading members, a large number of small brass matrices, which have the form of a letter Y, and a cut of one of them is used for that purpose at the beginning of this article. These matrices consist each of a flat plate, having in its vertical edge a female letter or matrix (a) and in the upper end a series of teeth (b). There are a number of matrices for each letter or character represented in the key board. As the operator presses the keys which are marked with the letters or characters he needs to use, the matrices corresponding to these letters are liberated one at a time and dropped into position side by side with intervening spaces in the order which they are to appear in print, until a full line is formed. This line of matrices is next carried along to a mold wheel behind which the type metal is maintained in a molten condition by a flame from a gas burner or kerosene lamp thereunder. After the line of matrices is presented in position and locked against and across the face of the mold, the mouth of the pot is closed against the rear side of the mold, and the plunger forces the molten metal from the mouth of the pot into the mold, in which it at once solidifies, forming a complete slug of linotype. After the linotype is thus produced the mold wheel makes a partial revolution, turning the mold slot from the horizontal position in which it stood during the casting operation to a vertical position, and a horizontal blade advances from the rear and pushes the linotype forward out of the mould and between the trimming knives into a galley on the front of the machine where they are assembled in consecutive order side by side. The matrices which have now become empty again are lifted to the top of the machine by another mechanical device and are forced into a channel from which, as they are pushed forward and reach the division in which they belong respectively, they drop into their places ready to be used again. We present in connection with this article a cut giving a front view of the Linotype machine, a cut showing a cast line of type, and a cut showing a line of the matrices as they are assembled ready for use in forming the line reading "Compositors who have operated the machines."

ARM TO CARRY SLUGS OVER IN GALLEY MOLD
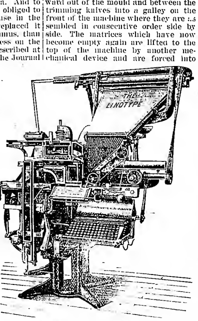
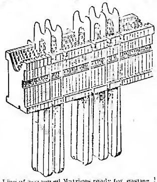
MOLD WHEEL
LINOTYPES READY FOR USE
RECEIVING GALLEY
EJECTOR PUSHING LINOTYPE FROM MOLD TO GALLEY





Line of assembled Matrices ready for casting.

Over five thousand of these machines are constantly in use throughout the world, but their great cost limits their sale to such publishers as have an extensive business. This machine thus briefly described makes our present office equipment the best of any in this part of the northwest.

Our job department is also unexcelled, and we challenge comparison of quality of work and prices for same, with any job printing establishment north of the Twin Cities.

Notwithstanding the complex mechanism of the Linotype machine and the necessity for exactness in its operation, Harry Hill, of Grand Forks, whose services we secured to set the machine up and start it for us, took it out of the crate in which it was shipped, and in five hours put it in condition for service, and it has been running almost constantly since then. This fact is strong evidence not only of careful work at the factory, but also of Mr. Hill's perfect knowledge of the machine and ability as an expert in adjusting it.

compositors who have operated the machines

A cast slug enlarged.

It is now in the hands of A.E. Lyons formerly of Grand Forks, who has had long experience in operating a machine of the same kind and is thoroughly competent for the position, and he is now putting up about forty thousand ems of type daily, exclusive of headings.

He "Was a Lady."

New York, Jan. 30.—The state of mind in which the coroner's jury was left after the inquest into the death of Murray Hamilton Hall, who for years masqueraded as a man and was discovered after death to have been a woman, was shown in the verdict: "Murray Hall came to her death by natural causes. Was a lady."

WILL ASK $100,000

That's the Amount the Chairmen of the Drainage Committees Want of the Legislature.

THE BILL IS BEING PREPARED

And Will be Presented to Both Houses at the Capitol Sometime During This Week.

Senator Grindeland, of Marshall county, a prominent supporter of the drainage movement, passed through here Monday on his way to St. Paul, to be present at the reconvening of the legislature this morning. In conversation with a representative business man of this city, who by the way is also deeply interested in the drainage question, the up country statesman said that the chairmen of the drainage committees of both houses would themselves introduce the bill which is now being prepared, asking for an appropriation of $100,000 for irrigation purposes. Heretofore bills of this nature had been presented by private parties, and did not receive due consideration.

The bill will be ready and introduced in both houses some time this week, and pushed through as rapidly as possible. Senator Grindeland expresses it as his opinion that there is no doubt of the successful passage of the measure in both houses at this session, although it was killed in the preceding legislature at the last moment.

The money to be expended under the provision will be placed at the disposal of an executive committee, consisting of the governor, state auditor, secretary of state and probably one additonal member, who shall be an expert on drainage matters.

THE EIGHT DISTRICT

Proposition for Formation of New Congressional Territory in Minnesota.

The Minneapolis Tribune is authority for the statement that Senator Dougherty, of Duluth, proposes a reapportionment of congressional districts that will provide for one composed of the following counties:

Sixth District—The counties of Anoka, Benton, Chisago, Isanti Meeker, Morrison, Sherburne, Stearns, Todd and Wright, aggregating a population of 189,908, and giving a republican majority of 1,806 in 1898 and of 3,841 in 1900. This is an entirely new district made up of parts of the present Sixth, Third and Fifth.

That is supposed to be the Duluth idea, and provides for another district as follows:

Eighth District—The counties of Aitkin, Beltrami, Carlton, Cass, Cook, Crow Wing, Hubbard, Itasca, Kanabec, Lake, Mille Lacs, Pine, St. Louis and Wadena, aggregating 181,511 in population, and having in 1898 a republican majority of 998 and in 1900 of 7,250. This is largely the present Sixth district, with one county added from the Fifth and less those counties grouped about Stearns in the new Sixth.

That will be decided objectionable to the republicans of some of the counties of the upper Mississippi valley.

USES STRONG LANGUAGE

Senator Turner Denounces Shipping Bill in Unmistakable Words.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senator Frye gave notice in the senate yesterday that he intended to keep the shipping bill to the front even as against the appropriation bills, not yielding to them without a vote of the senate. It indicated a disposition on the part of the senate leaders to force to an early issue the question whether the shipping bill is going to pass at this session. Senator Turner of Washington spoke yesterday in severe arraignment of the bill, declaring it to be > "A lawless, piratical raid upon the public treasury in the interests of a few private beneficiaries and committing the government to an expenditure aggregating $270,000,000."

Before the session closed committee amendments were informally agreed to. The Indian appropriation bill was passed early in the day.

BARRY NOT INSANE

The North Dakota Mudrerer Will Secure Best Possible Defense.

Langdon, N. D., Jan. 30.—Barry still lies in the county jail here awaiting trial, and shows to a marked degree disappointment at the failure of his attorneys to secure his release under heavy bond until the case comes up for trial.

Reports circulated within the past few days that Murderer Barry was losing his mind are totally without foundation. He has arranged for a hard fought defense with the same cool method and deliberation exhibited at the time and subsequent to his killing of Mellum.

Barry is disposing of his means with a generous hand in order to secure the best possible defense for the case, the retainer of counsel stated at being not less than $2,500.

Without a doubt it will be one of the hardest fought murder cases ever brought to trial in this state.

States Attorney Dickson and the noted criminal lawyer, John M. Cochrane, of Grand Forks, on their side can be depended on to leave nothing undone that will aid in bringing to Barry the punishment he deserves for causing the death of a fellow man.

Neither the prosecution or the defense will be ready to try the case when the regular term ofcourt meets on February 11, but there is every indication that Judge Kneeshaw will call a special term during the month following for the purpose. It may, however, be necessary to take the case into one of the adjoining counties for trial.

—N. M. Freeman, who has been working at Larimore for some time, returned to the city last night and will remain.

GRAND FORKS FIRE

Disastrous Fire Wednesday Morning Laps up George Platky's Department Store.

ESTIMATED LOSS IS $45,000

Offices in the Block and Adjoining Business Houses Badly Damaged by Smoke and Water.

Grand Forks experienced a costly conflagration Wednesday morning, and nearly $45,000 went up in smoke. The Herald gives the following acount of the fire:

This morning at about 1 o'clock fire broke out in the basement of Platky's department store, and within an hour and a half of that time the entire store was gutted from basement to attic.

The fire was discovered by Eddie Platky, who was awakened by the barking of a dog in the alley at the rear of the store, the living apartments of the family being over the old post-office building. He thought at the time he smelled smoke and arousing his father they both rushed down stairs and from there to the basement, which they found full of smoke. Eddie at once turned in the alarm and the department at once responded.

When they arrived the fire was confined to the basement but had gained good headway. Two streams were turned on, but the progress of the flames did not seem to be interrupted in the least by these. Two more lines were laid, but even then the firemen seemed to be powerless to confine the fire to the basement. The flames spread from one floor to another till the entire building was one mass of seething flames and it was seen that the building was doomed with its entire contents.

For some time it was thought that the bank and the adjacent stores would be burned also, but at 3 o'clock the firemen had the fire well under control and additional losses were obviated.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Mr. Platky says that he was in the store at 12 o'clock and that at that time there was no sign of any smoke or fire. A few of the family valuables were saved, including several diamonds.

The loss can be but estimated at this time and as near as could be learned is as follows:

Platky's store, estimated loss, $45,000; Insurance $35,000, divided among the various agencies of the city.

Loss on building, owned by Batchelder, Rollins & Parker, $15,000: insurance $27,000.

Aside from this there will be several smaller losses from smoke alone. P. J. Bye's stock of clothing was thoroughly smoked, but it was impossible for him to estimate the damage last evening, but it was fully covered by insurance.

The Misses Fish and Busch, who have dress making parlors over the bank, will also lose to some extent and are uninsured.

At 3:30 a. m. the fire was completely under control. It was found that a little of the stock in the room opening from the Kittson avenue entrance of the Platky store was not burned, but was completely ruined by smoke and water. All the rest of the stock was entirely destroyed by fire. The living apartments were directly over this room, and though the household effects were not burned, they were completely ruined. It was found necessary at this time to chop a hole through the wall leading to the bank and use fire extinguishers and a line of hose to protect the bank property.

What made it more difficult to confine the fire to the first floor was the fact that there was a large open space in the center of the building that led to the second floor, and the flames communicated with the top floor through this in a very short space of time. Not a single piece of goods was saved from the Platky stock.

EDWARD VII.

ENGLAND'S NEW KING.

CATTLE VERSUS WHEAT

A Northern Minnesota Farmer Tells of His Success in the Cattle Raising

Thos. Harborn, one of the most prominent thoroughbred stockman of northern Minnesota, came down from Northcote Tuesday and transacted considerable business while in the city. Mr. Harborn is the owner of a fine herd of Shorthorns, and also raises Poland China pigs. He considers stock raising much more profitable than wheat farming, and talks very encouragingly of his success in that line since embarking in it. He bought two heifers and a bull from Mr. Cooper of St. Cloud, in 1894, paying $300 for the pair, and his returns from that purchase have been much more than five times that amount.

The only drawback he has lately experienced is the rapid advance in the price of lands suitable for herding purposes. Tracts that sold several years ago for $5.00 per acre have more than doubled since, and many farmers are inclined to rather sell grass lands than utilize it for cattle breeding.

ENFORCE VACCINATION

The Spread of Smallpox Prompts Medical Society to Take Precaution.

Minneapolis, Jan. 30.—The formation of an anti-vaccination association and the possibility of an agitation against compulsory vaccination, has aroused the physicians of the city. The Ramsey County Medical society, at its annual meeting held lest evening 'nt the Lowry arcade, put itself on record as decidedly in favor of compulsory vaccination. The following resolution, introduced by Dr. Leavitt, was passed unanimously:

"Whereas, there is great danger of an epidemic of smallpox throughout the United States, and whereas vaccination is the recognized protection against this disease and whereas there is at present an agitation under way against this most useful and sanitary procedure,

"Therefore, be it resolved that the Ramsey County Medical society in regular session does fully and unreservedly indorse the good work done in this direction by the state board and the local board of health."

—Mrs. C. C. Gifford, wife of Landlord Gifford of the Commercial hotel, who has been seriously ill for the past few days at Grand Forks, is reported somewhat improved today.

CITY COUNCIL

Votes One Thousand Dollars to Bring New Factory to Crookston.

The city council met yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in special session for the purpose of disposing of the Maple Bay Windstacker proposition. It required less than twenty minutes from the time the meeting was called to order until the matter was finally settled, and the coming of the Windstacker to Crookston, through the action of the council, is now an assured fact.

Those of the city fathers present at the meeting were Aldermen Childs, Arnold, Stone, Thompson, Kirsch, Anglim, Cromb and Ellington, and the other two members would certainly not have missed the meeting had they been able to attend.

The matter of granting the sum of one thousand dollars to the Maple Bay Windstacker Company was the only question to come before the meeting, and upon motion, duly seconded, the request was granted without a dissenting vote, thus giving Crookston a new enterprise which will add greatly to its rapidly growing manufacturing industries.

The site for the location of the factory for the new concern has not yet been fully decided upon, but in all probability it will be at the north end of the city, a little east of the gun club grounds, between the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroad tracks, and work on the building will be commenced as soon as weather and conditions permit.

WHERE ARE THEY?

North Dakota's Electoral Vote Fails to Show up at Washington.

A special from Washington today says that the electoral vote of Minnesota has been received through the mails by President Pro Tem Frye of the senate. The certificate and vote carried by the messenger, Wm. Lee of Long Prairie, for the electors of Minnesota have not been received, the messenger having not yet put in an appearance. There are three state which have not been represented by messengers so far, namely, Minnesota, Idaho and North Dakota. The law requires that the certificates of the states shall be filed by the fourth Monday in January preceding the count but as the Minnesota vote has been received by mail, it will probably not be necessary for President Pro Tem Frye to call upon the secretary of state to notify the Minnesota electors to take other action. The vote cast for McKinley and Roosevelt will be counted at a joint session of congress to be held early in February.

TOWNE SUCCEEDS BRYAN

And is a Candidate For the Democratic Nomination For President.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Right on the heels of Towne's speech there was talk in the corridors of the capitol among members of both houses of congress about

> The possibility of Towne making himself by the speech the leader of the democratic party and placing himself in line to be Bryan's successor and the candidate for the presidential nomination in 1904.

It is assumed by republicans that the democrats are intending to make another stand against imperialism in 1902 and are by yesterday's events taking the initiative to that end. If the democrats on the anti-imperialism platform can make headway in 1902 by carrying changes and a number of states that were republican in 1900, Towne will logically be the leader, and a great contest on this line would come in 1904 with Towne as the leading candidate for the presidential nominee.

SENATOR MOSES CLAPP

Is Seated on the Democratic Side of the Chamber, Near Senator Depew.

Washington, Jan. 30.—In order to make sure that Charles A. Towne was to be regarded as senator from Minnesota until Senator Clapp's appearance, the senate just before adjournment yesterday evening passed a resolution ordering Towne paid for his services as senator from Jan. 23, the date of Clapp's election, to yesterday.

Senator Clapp sits on the democratic side of thee hamber, alongside of Senator Depew, and in front of Senator Beveridge. Two seats from him is Senator Foraker. These four men are compelled to occupy seats on the democratic side because the republican side is filled.

—Typewriter paper at the Journal office.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

ALL ARE ON STRIKE

A Beltrami County Court, Jury and Witnesses, are Not Willing Work Without Pay,

COUNTY WANTED $10,000.00

As Rebate for Money Paid to Becker County, Prior to Division.

A peculiar state of affairs in district court circles exists out at Bemidji, in Beltrami county, just at present. This county formerly belonged to and constituted part of Becker county, but was detached some years ago and became a domain of its own.

After the organization of the new county and the election of new officers was competed, the managers concluded to replevin something like $10,000 of taxes which had been paid into the treasury of Becker county just prior to the county division. To this move Becker county demurred, and Beltrami became plaintiff in an action in the district court to recover the amount above stated. The case was called for trial in the present term of court, and had been under way for a time, when it was discovered that Beltrami county had no funds with which to prosecute and defray the expenses involved in the case.

The jury which was regularly impanelled and the witnesses subpoenaed for the trial, realizing that they could not get their pay for services rendered, decided to go out on strike, and strike they did.

In narrating the status of affairs, the Journal's informant stated that the whole push connected with the trial, including the court, attorneys, witnesses and jurymen are striking and refuse to go on with the trial until Beltrami county has made provision for and guarantees the costs arising from the trial. It is also stated that the county has exceeded its authorized bonded indebtedness by something like $10,000, and that it will be difficult to raise the required sum for court expenses in this case.

At last accounts, at least, everything connected with it was at a standstill and further developments are anxiously looked forward to.

TWO MORE REPUBLICANS

Supreme Court Decision so Affects Norman County's Officiary.

The Norman county election contest cases, which were recently decided in the district court in favor of two populists candidates, and which were appealed to the supreme court, have been reversed, and this decision will give the republicans of our neighboring county nearly all the county offices The Ada Index of yesterday contains the following announcement concerning the decision: "Gus Bowman this morning received a telegram to the effect that the Supreme Court had decided the Hankey-Bowman election contest in favor of the latter. This also settles the Brattland-Niles contest in favor of Attorney E. M. Niles. Both of these officers will probably assume their duties in a short time." The Supreme Court holds that acts of election officers on the White Earth reservation appointed by the governor, are valid, because they were defacto officers, but the governor had no legal right to appoint them and must do so no more. The governors have for a long time followed the custom of establishing election districts and appointing officers on the Indian reservations. Last year the appointments on the White Earth reservation gave rise to many controversies, and the issue was taken to the courts on a contest for the county superintendency of Norman county, and C. G. Hankey contested the election of G. E. Bowman, and won his case in the lower court.

THE NEEDS OF DRAINAGE

Attention of Present Legislalure Should be Called to This Important Matter.

The Tri-State Drainage Convention, held at Crookston last week, was a well attended and successful gathering. Prominent men, who are thoroughly interested in the matter of drainage, were present from all parts of the valley, from Breckinridge to Winnipeg. The addresses and papers presented were able and instructive, and much valuable information was obtained from the discussions of the various topics. It is to be hoped that one result of the meeting will be the creation of greater interest in this matter, which is of so much importance to the development of this section of the state. And first of all may it serve to call the attention of the present legislature to the needs of the drainage and to the justice of our demands in asking for an appropriation from the state for this purpose.—Warren Sheaf.

A LUCKY FARGO M. D.

Falls Heir to One Million Roubles Left by an Uncle in Russia.

Among last night's arrivals in the city was Dr. J. B. Borns, of Fargo, N. D., en route home from New York says the Minneapolis Tribune.

The doctor's trip to New York was made under most peculiar circumstances. When a lad 12 years old he came to this country from Russia in order to escape the exactions of the soldiery law of that country, which requires every male after reaching the age of 21 years to serve five years in the army, and to remain in the country ten years after that time, so that he can be called on at any time to serve his country, should his services be necessary.

Two years ago he located at Fargo and at the present time is manager of an electric sanitarium in that city. Shortly before the first of the year he received a letter from Russia, stating that he and a brother had been made sole legatees of an uncle, A. G. Borns, a prominent resident of Rastave, Na Donn, Russia.

The letter stated in a few words that the two men were sole heirs to an estate valued at 2,000,000 rubles, and the value of this property can be figured at 49 cents of American money for each ruble.

"On account of my leaving Russia before serving my time as a soldier," says Dr. Borns in speaking of his good fortune, "I sent my mother over to look after the property, and she sailed for Russia last Saturday. The meeting with my relatives was a combination of pleasure and sorrow to a great extent on account of my long absence. It had been but a few days less than 32 years since I had left the old home in Russia, and as a matter of course my mother did not know me. My brother, much younger than myself, of course, I had never met. Through the offices at Washington and New York I had little trouble, and I hope and believe that my mother will not have any in securing possession of the property. Among the assets is a street car system in the city of Rastave, the franchise of which has 42 years to run."

ONE ON EDDY

The Seventh District Congressman Plays Even With a Tramp.

Congressman Eddy of Minnesota rather takes pride in the fact that he is the shabbiest man in either branch of the national legislature. He even tells a story now and then at his own expense. The other day he says he was walking down the shady side of Pennsylvania avenue when he was accosted by a specimen of the genus hobo. The man was ragged, unkempt and haggard. In husky tones he confided to Mr. Eddy that he was hungry, and asked for the price of a meal. The congressman looked at the tramp through his thick glasses, and slowly dug down into his trousers pockets. Finally he fished up a quarter and handed it to him.

"It's all I've got," said Mr. Eddy in his usual solemn tones. "And to tell the truth, I don't know just where my next meal is coming from. But you take it. You look hungry."

The man started to put the coin into his pocket, and then paused. He cast a comprehensive look at his benefactor and then handed it back to him.

"Here, pard," said he, "I'm pretty much on the bum, but there are worse." There were tears in the tramp's eyes. "I believe in doing the square thing. You keep it, and I'll rustle some guy in the next block."

Before he could stop him the kind hearted hobo had forced the quarter into Mr. Eddy's hand and was shuffling on in search of another victim.

FEBRUARY SECOND

The Day Designaled For the Funeral of Queen Victoria.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan., 25, 1:25 a.m.—So hampered have been arrangements at Osborne that the body of Queen Victoria still lies in the bed room where she died. Elaborate decorations connected with turning the dining room at Osborne house into a chapel occupied so much time that although the royal household waited hour after hour for the first private service it was found impossible to hold this yesterday. All being well, however, the function will be performed this (Friday) morning by the Bishop of Winchester in the presence of King Edward, the emperor and almost every member of the royal family. The coffin was brought to Osborne last evening and was taken through the queen's private gate which had not been previously used since her death.

Emperor William was the first person to see it. The coffined body will be transferred this morning to the dining room, now hung with deep purple.

It is decided that the funeral take place at Windsor Castle Feb. 2. The body will be removed from Osborne house Feb. 1. It was the expressed desire of the queen that the funeral be military in character. Officials arrived from Windsor today with state regalia

Old People Made Young.

J. C. Sherman, the veteran editor of the Vermontville (Mich.) Echo, has discovered the remarkable secret of keeping old people young. For years he has avoided Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Heart trouble, Constipation and Rheumatism, by using Electric Bitters, and he writes: "It can't be praised too highly. It gently stimulates the kidneys, tones the stomach, aids digestion, and gives a splendid appetite. It has worked wonders for my wife and me. It's a marvelous remedy for old people's complaints." Only 50 cents at A. G. Andersen's drug store.

A Human Toboggan.

Down in Minneapolis the youngsters are devoting their energies to the tobogganing pastime, and are exercising their ingenuity in adopting different articles which are designed for entirely different purposes, for service as sleds. The latest triumph of their genius, is in the use of a human sled. They take the longest boy in the crowd, lay him down at the head of the slide, his feet pointing down, and then the rest sit down on him as they would on a sled and away they go down the icy slide, the sled raising his head just enough to avoid bumping it on the way. The volunteer sleds are said to be a little less numerous than their riders however.

Made Young Again.

"One of Dr. King's New Life Pills each night for two weeks has put me in my 'teens' again" writes D. H. Turner of Dempseytown, Pa. They're the best in the world for Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Purely vegetable. Never gripe. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's Drug Store.

EXIT CHAS. TOWNE

He is Returning Home From Washington and Threatens to Quit Politics.

EXPECTS TO MAKE MONEY

By Devoting His Entire Time to the Practice of Law.— His Valedictory.

> Washington, Jan. 29.—"I am going out of politics," said Senator Towne of Minnesota yesterday. "I have been in the harness for many years, and am now ready to go in and make some money. I expect to practice law and to keep away from politics altogether." Senator Towne will leave Washington, having made his valedictory on the Philippine question.

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and during the speech of Mr. Towne, Senator M. E. Clapp entered the senate and was shown a seat by Senator Foster of Washington. At that hour Senator Nelson was lunching and no effort was made to have Mr. Clapp sworn in. The general was in evident good spirits and was introduced to several senators. After listening a few moments to Towne he accompanied Senators Foster and Spooner to lunch.

The previous announcement that Mr. Towne would speak, coupled with the report that the privilige to go so might be challenged, drew crowds to the galleries, while on the floor a great number of representatives from the democratic side of the house and on the democratic side there were more senators present than usual. Mr. Towne appeared at his best and was in eloquent speaking trim.

Mr. Towne spoke in full and resonant tones, with more of the graces of oratory than are usually heard in the practical debates of the senate.

In opening his address Mr. Towne referred to the petition presented to the senate a few days ago by 2,006 Filipinos for a cessation of hostilities and for the granting of independence to the people of the Philippines.

He maintained that it would prove "a quickening appeal to the ancient spirit of the republic, or its rejection as to dedicate the twentieth century to a reaction prejudicial, if not fatal, to free institutions."

While discussing events that led to the United States forces being in the Philippines, Mr. Towne referred with particularity to the charge that Aguinaldo had sold his country to the Spaniards for a bribe.

He declared the accusation was "gratuitous in its calumny, when we consider that the official publications of our own government contradict and destroy it."

The senator declared that "we were in alliance with the Filipinos, an alliance sought by ourselves, availed of by us for our own advantage and finally to our everlasting shame in the estimation of honorable men, repudiated by us when we found it no longer necessary and when lust of empire had so blunted our moral sensibility that we could mount from such an act of perfidy to the grand larceny of a nation.

Referring to Admiral Dewey's denial that he had ever treated the insurgents as allies, Mr. Towne said sarcastically:

"I fear that the honest sailor's terminology has suffered from recent contact with the nice discrimination of American diplomacy."

Discussing the acquisition of the Philippines, Senator Towne said:

"It is not easy to fix with accuracy the time when the design was formed to take forcible possession of the Philippine Islands, nor to ascertain the mind in whose gloomy recesses this enterprise of sacrilege and violence first gathered form and pressure.

"There has indeed been evidenced a disposition by its most illustrious spousors, as if their prophetic souls already trembled at the inquisition of after ages, to impute the dubious responsibility to Providence itself.

"I know not which to admire the more, whether the modesty which disclaims credit for the policy or the colossal presumption which challenges and betrays the vaunted confidence of the Almighty.

"No man, no party, no nation can escape accountability for actions attributing their origin to any other source than motives and human judgment.

"The policy of the administration towards the Filipinos must be justified, if ever justified at all, in the forum of the reason and the conscience of mankind."

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Scissored, Pasted and Rearranged for Journal Readers.

It is said that C. S. Mitchell, of the Alexandria Post News, will secure the postoffice at that place. Charley is a good fellow, and entitled to the best his town affords. He would make an ideal postmaster, for he runs an ideal newspaper.

Says the Plaindealer: Three important meetings are scheduled to meet in this city next month. They are the North Dakota Retail Hardware Dealers' association, The North Dakota and Northwestern Minnesota Retail Implement Dealers' association and the North Dakota Retail Grocers' association.

Mrs. Carrie Nation, strange production of creation, hates saloons like all turnation—busts their fixtures by smashation, while the owners stare—and swear "Damnation." Stirs up entire population with her cyclonic gyration; women cheer in jubilation—men say: "By thunderation!" there's one man we pity an' that's Nation." Frisky woman is Mrs. Nation, who gets her mail at Wichita station; sheriff says she more botheration than a cyclone in full operation, is Madam Carrie Nation. Town's scared almost to stagnation, when 'taint trying to dodge Mrs. Nation, who is raising hell and agitation over men's love for intoxication, while she smashes for salvation.—Journal Press.

Morning Call, Fargo: Last evening the bids for the new Frank Lynch block on Broadway were opened in Architect Beebe's office. There were a number of offers but the bid of Bowers Bros. for $15'978 was the lowest and best and thecontract will be awarded to tht firm. There was a wide varience of bids, some being as high as $22,000. The building will be a three story brick situated between the Morton block and Harrington's hardware store. It will be ocupied Mr. Lynch who will deal in carriages, wagons and agricultural implements. The contract specifies that the building is to be finished by the latter part of March.

AFTER NINETEEN YEARS.

A Former Crookston Contraclor Returns From British Columbia.

Nineteen years ago Frank Lander, who was then a contractor in this city, and helped to grade a number of the city's streets, and made other improvements in the young village, left in comfortable circumstances for the west, where he expected to more rapidly find a fortune. He embarked in the lumbering business and everything went well until several years ago when he met with an accident in which he lost his right arm. The arm was badly fractured and Lander has had to undergo several operations since, and has spent nearly all of his worldly possessions to secure relief from his sufferings. Thursday morning he landed in Crookston and during the day called on a number of his acquaintances of nineteen years ago, but found only a few of the pioneers of those days who remembered him. He left for Cass Lake this morning, where he will remain with relatives and friends the remainder of the winter.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION.

Program for the Meetings to be Held Here and in McIntosh

Notice is hereby given that the next examination for state teachers' certificates for Polk county, will be held at the high school building in the city of Crookston Feb. 7, 8 and 9, and at McIntosh Feb. 8 and 9.

All teachers writing to make up conditions must not neglect to bring their limited certificates. You are also requested to bring pens and penholders, as the manuscript must be written with pen and ink.

Applicants for first grade certificates will meet at the court house in Crookston Feb. 7.

The following is the program:

FIRST DAY, FEB. 7, 1901.

A. M.—9:00 to 10:00—Plain Geometry. 10:10 to 11:10—Either Physical Geography or Gen. History. (Applicant's choice.

P. M.—1:30 to 2:30—Natural Philosophy. 2:40 to 3:40—Algebra.

SECOND DAY, FEB. 8, 1901.

A. M.—8:00 to 8:30—Filling out and collecting application blanks. 8:30 to 8:50—Spelling. 9:00 to 10:00—County Superintendent's Professional Test. 10:10 to 11:10—Reading. 11:20 to 12:20—Grammar.

P. M.—2:00 to 3:00—United States History. 3:10 to 4:10—Physiology and Hygiene. 4:20 to 5:20—Drawing (optional.)

THIRD DAY, FEB. 9, 1901.

A. M.—8:00 to 9:00—County Superintendent's Professional Test, completed. 9:10 to 10:10—Arithmetic. 10:20 to 11:20—Geography. 11:30 to 12:30—Music (optional.)

P. M.—2:00 to 3:00—Civil Government.

N. B.—Penmanship and composition will be marked on the papers in United States History. —Thomas Casey, Co. Supt. of Schools.

Will Organize Live Slock Company.

Parties interested in the organization of a new live stock company, whose headquarters are to be made in this city, will hold a meeting for that purpose in this city Feb. 4, at which time articles of incorporation are to be adopted and other matters connected with the new organization perfected.

J. N. Bain, Frank S. Young, of Fisher, and several Fargo parties are interested in the enterprise, which will have a paid up capital of $50,000, and will engage in buying and selling Minnesota and Montana live stock.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to return thanks to our friends who extended us by their kindness and assistance sympathy in bearing the heavy blow which befell us in the sudden death of our beloved little son and brother, Collins. We shall always remember these comforting acts of our friends and neighbors.

—Frank Jerome and Family.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

Has world-wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Boils, Sores, Felons, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Chapped Hands, Skin Eruptions; infallable for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at A. G. Andersen's.

Timber Culture Final Proof.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., Jan. 2, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that Simeon J. Lanterman has filed notice of intention to make final proof before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at his office in Crookston, Minnesota, on Friday, the 15th day of February 1901, on timber culture application No. 3592, for the sel/4 of section No. 2, in township No. 150 N. range No. 47 W.

He names as witnesses:

Frank Williams, Elery C. Davis, Henry Jones and James Jones all of Crookston, Minnesota

A. F. GEORGE,
Receiver

Admit Mormon Books.

The directors of the public library in Reading, Pa., have consented to allow the Mormon elders who are doing missionary work in that city and vicinity, to place some of their Morman books on the shelves in the library. This has aroused considerable indignation in some quarters, but the managers defend their action by saying: "We cannot keep Catholic books out of our library in deference to the desire of a few Protestant readers, nor can we exclude Baptist literature because it may offend Episcopalians. It would be very narrow to allow no Buddhist works to appear on our shelves. It is a fact that the life of Bryan may contain many things that will offend good republicans, and Henry George's 'Progress and Poverty' is so heretical that a reading of it would make many good democrats mad. We have extracts from the writing of Voltaire and Paine and Ingersoll. Shall we banish all this? If so, then out go the Mormon books."

The Looking Glass

It is said by many authors that costiveness is the looking glass of all other diseases. If this is correct it is of the highest importance for every person to know the best mode for its treatment. Dr. Seth Arnold's Anti-Bilious Pills are an old and reliable remedy for Biliousness and Constipation. Price 25 cents per bottle.

For sale by A. G. Anderson, Druggist.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

PHYSICIANS

A. A. Just M. D.
Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
Attorney and Counselor at Law.
Special Attention to
- Business Correspondence,
- Land Contest Cases,
- Mortgage Foreclosures,
- Collections,
- Probate Matters.

Room 18 Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

H. Steenerson,
Attorney at Law,
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

Miller & Foote,
Attorneys at Law,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
Attorney at Law,
Room 3
Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning, 11:00, evening, 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
Rev. H. M Green, B. D.
Rector

Carpenter & Olson.
Law, Land, Loans, Collections
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reckitt block. Crookston, Minn

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans. Insurance........
Official Abstracters of Title for Polk County.
CROOKSTON MINN.

NORTHERN PACIFIC

To
ST. PAUL
MINNEAPOLIS
DULUTH
AND POINTS
EAST & SOUTH

To BUTTE
HELENA
SPOKANE
SEATTLE
TACOMA
PORTLAND
CALIFORNIA
JAPAN
CHINA
ALASKA
KLONDIKE

C. A. SHARKEY, Agent
Crookston, Minn.

Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A
ST. PAUL, MINN.

	Arr	Dep't
SOUTH BOUND. No. 8 to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and East.	8:28 p m	8:28 p m
NORTH BOUND. No. 7 to Grand Forks, Grafton and Winnipeg.	6:48 a m	6:48 a m

A. Sharkey, Agt.
Crookston, Minn.

Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A
St. Paul, Minn

THE GREAT NORTHERN

Arrive.	*Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	*Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	*Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6.30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls	9.20 am
4.53 pm	*Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior	9.00 am
6.45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent	9.10 am

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS AND DESIGNS.
Send your business direct to Washington, saves time, costs less, better service.
My office close to U. S. Patent Office. FREE preliminary examinations made. Atty's fee not due until patent is secured. PERSONAL ATTENTION GIVEN—19 YEARS ACTUAL EXPERIENCE. Book "How to obtain Patents," etc., sent free. Patents procured through E. G. Siggers receive special notice, without charge, in the
INVENTIVE AGE
Illustrated monthly—Eleventh year—terms, $1. a year.
E. G. SIGGERS, 918 F St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

All kinds of work in our line done now at the

One Price Hardware Store.

Also Bicycle Repairing.

N. 213 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

The Singer
Sewing Machine
Has no Equal, Sold by....
IKE & MOLSTAD, Props.
Crookston Music House.
106 Main St. S. - CROOKSTON.

NO DUST

Great Northern Railway

The Dauntless Transcontinental Route.

Built through grass lands. No sand deserts. Runs through the only habitable belt across the continent.

S. L. Collins,

Livery and Feed Stables

Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.

Main and 3d sts. Crookston, Minn

Stevens Ideal Rifle.
No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.

Made in all the standard calibers both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, 24 inches. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.

If these rifles are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.

Send stamp for catalog describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.

THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

FATAL ACCIDENT

A Young Son of Street Commissioner Jerome Falls Under an Ice Sleigh.

A sad accident resulted Friday afternoon on the corner of Ash street and Houston Avenue which wiped out the young life of a seven year old son of Street Commissioner Frank Jerome, almost instantly. From eye witnesses the Journal reporter learned the following particulars of the sad affair:

Teamsters who are hauling ice from a point on the river below where the accident occurred, were coming up town with loaded sleighs, and as they approached Houston Avenue several boys, among them young Jerome, ran toward the teams in an effort to catch bobs. Apparently the little fellow, who is now cold in death as a result, got onto the front runner, but lost his hold and in falling got under the rear runner which passed over his chest, crushing two ribs just over the heart.

The injured boy was taken to a nearby house and medical aid summoned, but his injuries proved fatal, and he breathed his last without gaining consciousness.

Percy Baker Enjoys Jail Life.

The editor called on Percy Baker at the Polk county bastile Sunday, and found him in good hopes and spirits, looking perhaps a little thinner than formerly, but he had a better color. He says he is now cured of the morphine habit, having been reduced at his own particular request from forty grains down to less than one grain per day. He says he has also all the whisky out of him and he is going to keep it out. He is provided with delicacies and reading matter by his many friends who come to see him and up to last Sunday he had read 106 volumes since his incarceration at Crookston. He made very light mention of his coming trial but says that he was so saturated in morphine last fall that between Sept. 10, and Oct. 23rd his mind was a blank, and what transpired during that time he had not the faintest recollection. His trial, we understand, is set for Feb. 1.—Halstad Reporter.

Gooler Goes to North Dakota.

The many friends of L. A. Gooler until recently assistant superintendent of schools of Polk county, will regret to learn that he has decided to remove from Crookston and embark in business at Devils Lake, N. D. Mr. Gooler has formed a partnership with his brother, L. D. Gooler, formerly county judge of Forman, N. D., and an experienced lawyer, and the new firm will open a real estate, loan, collection and insurance office at the place stated.

The firm will be a very strong one as both members are active, affable and well fitted for that line of business and without doubt will be very successful. This certainly is the sincere wish of a very large circle of friends, including the Journal.

Another Cattle Ranch.

A party of six capitalists from St. Paul, headed by Barney Keegan, arrived in the city Sunday and proceeded to Thief River Falls Monday, where they intend to purchase a large tract of land for ranching purposes. The party are possessors of many herds of cattle, which they are at present herding west of Minot, and which they expect to transfer down here in order to be closer to St. Paul and other eastern markets.

One of the party stated to a Journal reporter that they want from four to six full sections of land in one block, if it is possible to secure it in such large tracts, and pay a fairly good price for the same.

Skrivseths Gallery

is the place to get good photographs. 216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

Free Of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at F. H. Hillard & Son's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents.

No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggists will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really the only Throat and Lung Remedy generally endorsed by physicians. One 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries. Get Green's Prize Almanac. 2

The Popular Buffalo Route.

this summer on account of the 1901 Pan-American Exposition will be the Nickel Plate Road. Countless thousands will visit this one of the greatest expositions of modern times. The Nickel Plate road will be the popular line. The excellence of its service is well recognized by the traveling public, and the reputation of its train employes in their uniform courtesy to passengers is well known. When you go east see that your ticket reads via the Nickel Plate Road. Write, wire, 'phone or call on John Y. Calahan, General Agent, 111 Adams St., Chicago, Ill. 2

Be Sure to Remember.

that the popular Pan-American Exposition Route this summer will be the Nickel Plate Road, the shortest line between Chicago and intermediate points and Buffalo. No excess fare is charged on any of its peerless trio of fast express trains and American club meals ranging from 35 cents to $1.00 are served in all its dining cars. Palatial through vestibuled sleeping cars and modern day coaches with uniformed colored porters in attendance on the wants of passengers. The acme of comfort and convenience in travelling is attained through the superb service and competent equipment found on the Nickel Plate Road. Write, wire, phone or call on Jonh Y. Calahan, General Agent, 111 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.—1

WASHINGTON LETTER.

DESPICABLE COURSE OF PETTIGREW, OBSTRUCTIONIST.

Has Lost the Respect of Those Who Once Honored Him—Supported In 1890 a Principle He Now Seeks to Defeat.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota has developed into such an out and out obstructionist that few people remember the time that he occupied a position of influence and power among his colleagues in the United States senate. With the change in sentiment there has come a complete transformation in the man, and all of those previously concealed idiosyncrasies of character which have made him so obnoxious to both sides of the senate chamber because of the virulence of his language have been revealed. He is consuming the closing days of a most ignominious career in the United States as a leader of a clique of obstructionists which may go down in history yet as having compelled the "most deliberative legislative body on earth" to place a limit upon debate.

⁂

On the army reorganization bill, before the final vote was taken, and which so signally sustained the administration and carried into effect the will of the people as expressed at the polls last November, Senator Pettigrew easily took first rank as the most bitter of the radical filibusters. He has permitted himself to be interviewed repeatedly in order to assure the public that his opposition is largely directed against the shipping bill, to defeat which he was quite willing to oppose all other measures, however pressing, that preceded it. Senator Pettigrew has freely indulged in statements impugning the motives of the friends of the shipping bill, and his bitterest invectives and choicest epithets have been directed against the owners of the swift ships under the American flag in the transatlantic trade, while he has not hesitated to charge against his colleague, Senator Hanna, the basest motives for his support of the measure as presented for passage by the senate commerce committee.

⁂

A curious thing has come to light in this connection, however, which will have no effect upon Senator Pettigrew or his position upon the shipping bill, but it will have a widespread effect upon the public mind when the fact is known. It is this: Ten and a half years ago there was before the United States senate a shipping bill which provided compensation for swift steamships carrying the mails approximating in amount precisely the sum now provided in the pending bill and against which all of the pent up virulence and viciousness of the senator have been freely poured forth. Strangely enough, at that time, and with the same ability then as now to learn the real facts in the matter, Senator Pettigrew voted for the passage of that measure, with the result that it passed the senate.

⁂

Since that time a line of ships has come into existence and after several years of operation at a vast annual loss has demonstrated the wisdom of Senator Pettigrew's vote of ten and a half years ago by proving the insufficiency of the amount provided in the bill as it passed the house, the compensation in which was reduced in amount one-third from that for which Senator Pettigrew voted on July 12, 1890. But Senator Pettigrew has undergone a great change meanwhile, and the things he used to see through Republican eyes as justifiable he now sees through Populistic eyes as unjustifiable. The conditions have not changed. They remain the same, and they happen to justify the wisdom of Senator Pettigrew's position upon public matters at a time, long past unfortunately, when he commanded the respect and esteem of his associates and of the country at large.

⁂

And so it comes to pass that Senator Pettigrew is performing the role of an obstructionist and the bitterest opponent of a measure because of a provision in it in 1901 that when in a similar measure in 1890 commanded his support and his vote. There is no explanation needed regarding the provisions of the measure in question beyond the one that the judgment of Senator Pettigrew, as shown by his vote in 1890, has been confirmed by the events that have succeeded it during the decade that has since elapsed. Probably there is nothing that Senator Pettigrew can carry with him into his enforced retirement from public life more vividly than the picture of himself as he was in 1890—right on most public matters—as compared with himself as he disappears from public view—not only wrong on almost all public matters, but displaying his perverted and distorted mind in a manner to call forth the execration of almost all of his colleagues upon each side of the senate chamber.

⁂

Possibly the shipping bill, a measure destined to give the United States that position upon the seas to which it is entitled and has long required, both for defensive and for economic reasons, required the opposition of Pettigrew in order to command the careful consideration of a majority of congress and in order that at this most opportune time it could be enacted into law. Be that as it may, Pettigrew's opposition has succeeded in solidifying the Republicans and a number of broad minded Democrats in favor of the bill, presaging a result most pleasing to all friends of the measure and most promising as to the future welfare and defensive strength of the nation.

J. B. Acres.

TABLE TALK.

Points About Arrangements For a Ceremonious Luncheon or Dinner.

At a ceremonious luncheon beef tea and bouillon are served in covered cups or in small Chinese bowls with saucers. Shell fish, croquettes, broiled chicken, chops and salads are staple dishes for luncheon, with ices, tarts and fancy cakes for dessert. Tea and chocolate are the usual beverages. At a formal luncheon the courses are served as at dinner. The salad may correctly be quite substantial, and lobster, chicken and oyster salads are very favorite dishes.

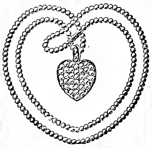
For dinner, after the cloth is smoothly spread, place a pretty centerpiece in the center, and on this a dainty and artistic arrangement of flowers or fruit. The silver for all the courses may be placed on the table when it is set, or it may be placed as required for each course. At each place lay a napkin with a thickly cut piece of bread upon it, a glass of water, a dinner plate and the necessary knives, forks and spoons. Besides these nothing is admissible upon the table at a formal dinner or luncheon but the flowers, fruit, salted nuts, bonbons, olives and other relishes, the candelabra or bouquet lamp of course being accepted.

Unless the dinner is served a la Russe the hot soup plates and soup tureen are placed before the mistress to be served by her. When the tureen and soup plates have been removed, the fish, meat or game should be placed in front of the master with fresh hot plates. The vegetables may also be upon the table. The salad and dessert are both served by the mistress. If fruit is served, it should come next and then the coffee. It is well to accustom quite small children the use of finger bowls, etc., as they may thus be spared much nervousness and embarrassment when away from home in more pretentious households. Finger bowls are brought in just before the fruit is passed. A dainty doily is placed on each dessert plate and the finger bowl is placed on this. The bowl should only be about a quarter full of water. The doily and bowl should be lifted from the plate and placed at the left hand side. The doily should never be used to wipe the fingers.—Table Talk.

Popular Necklets and Chains.

Among the many pretty necklets now in vogue hardly any one is more popular than the single strand of pearls with a pearl heart pendant.

Large turquoise beads and pearls, only slightly misshapen, strung about an inch apart, form a singularly attractive chain. Other chains consist of little plaques enameled in the "new art" style and linked together.



PEARL NECKLACE AND HEART PENDANT.

The Mirror Does Injustice.

One's reflection in a mirror never does one justice. Comfortable thought for the plain and the pretty alike! Complexion, expression and color are all really better than the shining glass makes them appear. Let not her to whom nature has been sparing of her charms despair. If she would see herself in the deceptive mirror as others see her with the eye, or as nearly as possible, let her hasten to a draper's shop and buy a quantity of soft, pure white material—gauze, if possible; if not, swiss or india muslin will answer very well. Be sure and have it pure white, and, after polishing the surface of the mirror, gather the material at the center of the top and bring it down softly at either side, framing the glass in folds of pure white. When this is done to artistic satisfaction, peep in and see what a transformation. The true tints of the complexion, the expression of the countenance and the eyes, the correct color of the hair, will be very accurately reflected. This is one of the milliner's oldest secrets. Many of the most artful of them drape the glasses in the softest drapery of pure white. It is done with the view of giving their fair patronesses the best view of themselves possible, administering in this way a little subtle flattery.

Jewelry Up to Date.

Large and massive rings are coming in again. We see them hand carved in bold designs of bison or lion on either side of and supporting a light flashing diamond, or it may be that two beautiful female figures, like sea nymphs, clasp a rare pearl plucked from ocean's depths, or the head of an American Indian in red gold accentuates the barbaric beauty of a tawny yellow diamond, or "the lady and the serpent" allures one with gems of great price.

Hair brooches have fallen into line with approved articles of personal adornment.

Pendants of many sorts la l'art nouveau represent the height of the mode.

Strings of perfectly simulated pearls make indulgence in the favorite long chains, necklaces or broad collars of these pure white beauties an easy and inexpensive matter.

Baroque, or irregularly shaped, and tinted pearls are all the rage.

Many pretty little sterling stickpins are set with manufactured gems.

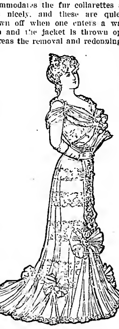
A chain of same kind completes nearly every up to date toilet.—Southern Jeweler.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

IN EVENING GOWNS, LUXURIOUS WRAPS AND SMALL ACCESSORIES.

Girl's Ball Gown—Three-quarter Sealskin Coat and Eton Jacket In Broadtail—Crepe de Chine Popular. A Glory of Gold.

The popularity of the plain short coat in the midst of so much that is ornate and heavily garnished is in part accounted for by the fact that it accommodates the fur collarettes and boas nicely, and these are quickly thrown off when one enters a warm room and the jacket is thrown open, whereas the removal and redonning of a large fur trimmed wrap are affairs of which one thinks twice. However, the truly luxurious woman must have her heavy furs, and a better example of all that is delicious in this line would be far to seek than a three-quarter sealskin coat of today; for instance, one with the new rolled collar, lined with sable, immense soft revers of sable, scalloped bell shaped sleeves and handsome large tortoise shell buttons. Less imposing but equally stylish is an Eton jacket of black broadtail with great revers and collar of white broadtail and broadtail muff to match.



DEBUTANTE'S BALL GOWN.

It is to evening styles that the magic fashion draws us most irresistibly just at this season, for among all vanity's visions are no greater dreams of delight than the confections for the fair young girls whose debut society is now celebrating. One of these appears in the cut—a fascinating first ball gown of net with choux of illusion and pale pink wild roses with dark glossy foliage and garlands of flowers serving as epaulets, while the actual sleeves are in one with the draped bertha. A girdle and ribbon of pale pink satin complete the corsage.

Crepe de chine is the popular evening gown material in soft shades of blue, pink, cream, etc., and very charming is a confection of pale blue crape and silver embroidery.

FASHIONABLE FURS.

Although it smacks of repetition to mention gold, such mention is imperative, for gold continues to be the glory of the toilet.

One seam in front and one in the middle of the back mark the newest skirt model.

A welcome revival reported is that of "pinked out" taffeta ruchings among stylish trimmings for gowns in gauze fabrics.

Vegetables Rechauffes.

Cold vegetables, such as peas, beans, asparagus, Brussels sprouts, cauliflowers, etc., can all be warmed up and served a la maitre d'hotel by tossing them in butter over a moderate fire, with a sprinkling of chopped parsley, pepper and salt and the squeeze of a lemon. Boiled potatoes are best served cut in slices and fried as pommes de terre sautees.

Scalloped Turkey.

One of the ways to manage the "left over" portions of the noble bird now in season is as follows: In a buttered baking dish, lined with crumbs, put alternate layers of half inch bits of cold turkey, stuffing and gravy (or white sauce and crumbs, if there be no stuffing and gravy), cover with crumbs and bake 15 minutes.

A RADIANT NORTH ROOM.

A Flower Bedroom That Is a Tonic to Every One Within Its Walls.

A beautiful cowslip bedroom, which looks out upon the northern hills, has the effect of being flooded with sunshine; though, as a matter of fact, the sun peeps in for only the briefest early morning greeting. The walls are papered with cream colored cartridge paper, and there is a deep frieze where cowslip blossoms run riot. In a pleasant corner near a window is a broad, low divan, covered with cowslip patterned cretonne, and a high back Quaker rocker is softly padded and covered with the same, as also one easy chair. There are several light cane seat chairs, which have been painted with white enamel, and these have fancy cushions tied into the seats and across the upper part of the backs with yellow ribbons. The cushions of one chair are of white duck, embroidered boldly with conventionalized cowslips: for another they are of white India silk flowered with cowslips.

The toilet table drapery is of simple cotton crape cloth of cowslip color instead of silk. The flounce of the toilet table is like the curtains, of white mull with large polka dots sparsely scattered over it, and yellow silk dots have been worked in the center of the polka dots. This has a very brightening effect and was very little work. The curtains are finished with ruffles and tied with yellow ribbons.

On the divan are several large pillows, one covered with cretonne. One, a large round thing, is of heavy twilled white cotton, embroidered with cowslips, scalloped on the edge and laced together over a puff of yellow india silk. Others have fancy silk covers.

The bedstead is a very simple one of iron, finished in white enamel, but it is made very decorative by a simple drapery at the head of cretonne curtains, which are hung in an ingenious fashion. An old umbrella frame was covered on the outside with cretonne and inside with yellow crape cloth. The handle was, of course, cut off, and the ferrule end was painted white. A brass ring was screwed into it, and it was hung from a brass hook in the ceiling. A ruffle of the cretonne surrounds the umbrella, and underneath it, for three-quarters of the circumference, brass rings are sewed. The curtains hook into these.

We give too little thought to the question of environment and color influence. The latter is upon some natures as strong as that of music and as powerful for good or ill, and we should give careful consideration to the surroundings which may "make or mar" those nearest and dearest to us.

Experience has proved, concludes The Art Interchange, that this room has a truly tonic effect upon its occupants. Its cheerful influence is felt by all, and everybody is happy within its walls. Even a querulous, discouraged and melancholy invalid yielded to the beneficent and subtle sway of its radiant colors and forgot her ailments.

Increased Use of the Dinner Coat.

The increased use and abuse of the dinner coat, or Tuxedo, as it is generally called, are very noticeable in New York this season, according to an authority on men's fashions. Several nights ago in one of the most fashionable hotels in New York at least three men out of five wore dinner coats, not in the cafe, but in the ladies' dining room and in the halls with parties of ladies. When this coat was introduced some years ago, it was not intended as a full dress garment. It was a compromise. The Tuxedo might be worn appropriately for all stag affairs and at informal dinners. On these occasions it should be worn with a black waistcoat and a black tie. A derby hat is the proper headdress with a Tuxedo. The custom of making the Tuxedo more of a dress coat has been growing. At least half of the men noticed the other night wore white ties and white waistcoats with their short coats and not a few of them wore opera hats.

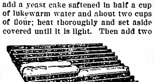
Chicken a la Chafing Dish.

To cook a chicken in a chafing dish, cut it into four pieces and season it thoroughly with salt and pepper. Melt in the dish two scant tablespoonfuls of butter and add to it a teaspoonful of chopped onion. Put in the chicken and cook slowly, turning frequently until it is tender. Then mix the yolk of one egg with half a cupful of cream and cook for one minute with the chicken. Add half a tablespoonful of lemon juice just before serving.

Bread Sticks.

Bread sticks tied up with ribbon are one of the pretty trifles of the daintily set table, and of these the Boston Cooking School Magazine gives an illustration with accompanying recipe:

Scald two cups of milk. When cool, add a yeast cake softened in half a cup of lukewarm water and about two cups of flour; heat thoroughly and set aside covered until it is light. Then add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, less than half a cup of softened butter, the whites of two eggs beaten stiff and flour to make a dough. Knead nearly half an hour. Let rise until double in bulk, then shape into balls; then roll the balls (without flour) on the board with the hands until sticks of uniform size and shape, like a thick lead pencil, are formed. Set to rise in a pan designed for the purpose, leaving them full or half length, as desired. Bake, when light, in a hot oven.



BREAD STICKS, WITH PAN.

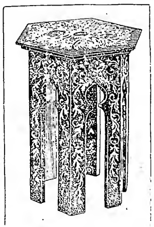
ART OF PYROGRAPHY

A VERSATILE DECORATION CAPABLE OF MANY APPLICATIONS.

The Necessary Instruments, Including Platinum Points, and How to Use Them—Preliminary Practice. Taboret In Poker Work.

The variety of uses to which pyrography may be applied is endless. It lends itself especially to the broad treatment of large surfaces, but it can also be used in the adornment of the most dainty articles by delicate lines and soft shadings, says a Good Housekeeping writer in preface to the following practical instructions:

The iron style of earlier days has been replaced by a point of platinum. Platinum is used for poker work, because it is the only metal that will absorb the gas of the naphtha by which the supply of heat is sustained. The complete outfit consists of platinum points, a cork covered handle, a length of rubber tubing, a naphtha bottle provided with connections for tubing, a spirit lamp and a rubber bulb with tubing attached. It is also necessary to have some alcohol and naphtha. Be sure to have the naphtha bottle tightly corked and never open it in a room where there is a light or the smallest spark of fire, as it is very inflammable. The alcohol also should be handled with care. To do a variety of poker work an outfit of several points is necessary, but it is well for the beginner to have at least two, as illustrated in Figs. c and d. The first of these, c, is the more important, as with it both outlining and shading can be done, but the second is better for backgrounds.

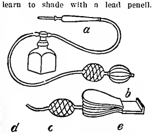


DECORATED TABORET.

Before attempting a design the beginner should practice on a smooth pine board or a piece of whitewood, which is better, as the finer grain makes practice easier. To light the point put some cotton wool in the naphtha bottle and fill the bottle about one-third full of naphtha. Connect [illegible]tle with the cork handle and [illegible] bulb by the rubber tubing, hold [illegible] point in the flame of the spirit lamp until it is thoroughly heated and blow gently by pressing the bulb until the point becomes redhot. The point may now be withdrawn from the flame, and its heat can be kept up and regulated by the pressure on the bulb, which forces the vapor of the naphtha through the tubing into the point, where it burns. The lamp may now be extinguished. The object of the cotton wool in the bottle is to give more evaporating surface. Fig. a shows the apparatus. Sometimes a foot bellows (Fig. b) is used instead of the hand bellows. This is less tiresome and gives the operator both hands for work.

Now grasp the cork handle, not too near the hot point, and try to make true, even lines on the pine board. This at first is very difficult, for an instant's delay in the touch of the point will make a hole or deep dot in the wood, and the line will resemble a smudge. To overcome this first trouble bring the point upon the board with a sweep of the hand and lift it off in the same way. Keep this sweep as even and light as possible until you have a firm, clean line. The beginner will succeed more easily if the point is not too hot.

Try different lines as you would learn to shade with a lead pencil. Make parallel lines, long and short, broad and narrow, even and graded, straight and curved, as shown in Fig. e.



INSTRUMENTS USED IN THE ART.

Designs are to be used in the following manner: Draw them on the wood and burn in firmly and lightly. A quick mode is to trace and design on a piece of tracing paper and then transfer it to the wood by means of impression paper, then burn as described.

Opera cloaks are now almost smothered in chiffon, lisse or mousseline de soie. Ermine and sable mink are the most fashionable furs, and mink is quite charming on strawberry and pastel blues or heliotrope.

Polk County Journal,
By N. S. GORDON.

☞ Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

THE CREAM OF NORTH STAR STATE PUBLICATIONS
Minnesota Press
Home Print Association
NATIONAL PUBLISHERS AGENCY

LONG FAREWELL TO POPULISM

In speaking of the downward gate of populism, the Grand Forks Herald says:

"The election of J. R. Burton, republican, to succeed Lucien Baker as United States senator from Kansas, and the election of Robert J. Gamble, republican, to succeed Pestiferous Pettigrew as United States senator from South Dakota, are events of such far-reaching political significance as to call for more than passing comment.

"The first and most important occasion for general felicitation lies in the fact that these elections represent timely accessions to first class material by the upper house of the Fifty-seventh congress. Both are lawyers, have had wide experience in politics and each sustains an excellent reputation in the commonwealth which he will represent in the senate for the next six years. The new senator from South Dakota, who takes the place of Peppery Pettigrew, is exceptionally well qualified by legal training for the duties of United States senator. He is a New Yorker by birth, graduate of Lawrence University at Appleton, Wis.; has been state senator, United States district attorney, and was representative from South akota in the lower house of two congresses.

Most important to the politicians, is the fact that the election of these men sounds the death knell of populism in the states where it made the rankest growth. Kansas, in fact, has been popularly regarded as "the cradle of populism." It had its birth in such agricultural blights as grasshoppers, weavil, chinch bugs and drouth, and was nourished by farm mortgages and foreclosures.

Good times and good crops, with assurance of financia. stability and business confidence, have brought about a political revolution in these states. Of course no political party can stake its future in good crops or business prosperity. Hard times will come again, no doubt, but they will not be the fruits of uncertainty or doubt respecting the finances of the country. The people can recover from the effects of bad crops, but capital and industry do not recover so easily from continued threats of rotten money.

It is hardly probable, therefore, that an occasional crop failure or temporary recurrence of industrial depression will cause a revival of populism in these states. The recovery from this form of political idiocy may be said to be complete. The people have learned the fallacy and the utter hopelessness of a political creed that is written in disaster and is based upon antagonism to industrial laws that are now recognized as immutable. Populism is dead.

The Journal is constrained to mention the desirability of having a board of trade or chamber of commerce established in our city. Frequent mention was made of this need in the columns of the Journal last spring and winter but it has been allowed to rest many months now. Meanwhile the need has neither been provided for or ceased to exist. On the other hand it is a growing need and is being repeatedly emphasized. The advantages of such an institution must be apparent to every thoughtful citizen who has the interests of our city at heart, and who is at all familiar with our city's needs. Our lack of such an institution is, we believe attributable to the same conditions which are accountable for the apathy which was manifested by our business men toward the recent convention which was held here. At that time the lack of moral support on the part of the majority of our leading business men was painfully apparent. In considering the reason of this we are constrained to the belief that it is owing to taking a too close sighted view of their own business interests. A penny held at a distance from the eye is seen and appreciated at its true value relativly with other things. But placed close to the eye it becomes so large as to shut and exclude everything else from view. On the same principle when our business is viewed at such a distance as to enable us to discover the bearings of surrounding conditions upon it, we can exercise our best judgment in relation to it. But when we become so absorbed in it that it obscures our view of everything else, we are apt to overlook those things which will in the long run affect us most vitally, and ignore them entirely, to our own serious loss. We ought therefore to be careful to avoid being absorbed in our business to that extent that we are unable to take into the range of our vision other matters and questions which may be at a little further distance from us, but may nevertheless have an important bearing on the future prosperity of our city. We need a board of trade to take up dispassionately, intelligently, systematically and persistently the question of our water and light service in view of the recent agitation of the matter, and to advise with the council in regard to it. We need a board of trade to take up the question of paving and of the manufacturing enterprise which is now knocking at our door for admission, and of others which may come up in future. In fact we need a board of trade to take up in an advisory way a great many questions which will be continually arising and presenting problems which can be more intelligently settled in the light of information which could be more easily obtained by such a medium. Shall we not have a board of trade established? What say you business men of Crookston, shall we not take some action in this matter at once?

The senate finance committee have reached some conclusions with regard to the proposed reduction in the revenue tax. The bill as now agreed upon provides for a reduction of about $40,000,000. The tax on beer is to be reduced to $1.50 per barrel, and is repealed on the following: Promissory notes, mortgages, bills of lading for export, powers of attorney, protest, charter party, certificates of all kinds, leases, warehouse receipts, telegraphic dispatches, telephone messages, passage tickets costing less than $30, express receipts, freight receipts, bonds, except bonds of indemnity, legacies to religious, charitable, literary or educational institutions and commercial brokers. The tax on bank checks will remain undisturbed.

It is stated that in her last lucid rally before death, Queen Victoria summoned the Prince of Wales and the kaiser to her bedside and besought them, as they loved her, to avoid war and maintain peace. The prince and the kaiser knelt and swore to do all in their power to reign in peace, never to allow England and Germany to clash and to endeavor to induce all other nations to do likewise. The relations betweer the new king and Emperor William are now very cordial and indications are favorable for peaceful relations between the European nations for the future.

The vacancy caused in one of the commissioner districts in Beltrami county, by the failure of the elected candidate to qualify, has been filled, the chairmen of the various towns in the district having named Earl Carsop, a well known and heavy taxpayer of the county. Wes Wright, the commissioner elected at the recent election, is thus side tracked, and proves another case where majority of votes didn't count.

L. D. Marshall, candidate for state grain inspector, came up Saturday and consulted with his supporters here. Mr. Marshall appears to have considerable strength in wheat raising districts of the state, and is therefore termed the "farmers candidate." Many years of experience in the grain business makes him as well qualified for the position he seeks as any man in the state.

The 105 ex-members of the police department in Minneapolis have decided to institute quo warranto proceedings against Mayor Ames to compel him to show cause why he summarily removed them from the police force Jan. 7. They cite the language of the city charter which says policemen may be removed only "after proper investigation."

The population of Crookston is given by wards as follows: First ward, 975; Second ward, $1,308; Third ward, 550; Fourth ward, 2,007, and Fifth ward, 519, making a total of 5,359. In the census of 1890 we were credited with a population of 3,457. This shows a gain of 55 per cent.

The statement that Queen Victoria reigned the longest of any European sovereign, which was made in the Journal Thursday should have included one exception, Louis Fourteenth of France ascended the throne when a mere boy and reigned for 72 years.

People who think that the French duel is altogether a joke, should read of the wound received by the Jew baiter, Count de Lubersac, whose arm was pierced from elbow to armpit by his antagonist's sword. He will be a cripple for life.

Queen Victoria did not break the record for long reigns, as is generally stated. Louis XIV. reigned 72 years in France. Even deducting his minority, while his mother was regent, he reigned for two years longer than Victoria.

The democrats are trying to find out which is the better democrat; a man whom they have twice nominated and elected to office, or a man whom they have twice nominated and seen defeated for the same office.

A bill is in process of preparation and will soon be introduced in the legislature by Representative Jacobson, to raise the gross earnings tax on all railroads in the state to four per cent.

In response to the notice of his election as United States senator to succeed the late Senator C. K. Davis, yesterday, Mr. Clapp appeared in the senate and acknowledged the honor thus bestowed upon him by a speech of ringing eloquence, which at the same time gave abundant evidence of his masterly grasp of the details of existing conditions in the country's affairs. After a brief reference to the present problems confronting the nation, he said:

"Gentlemen, in the solution of these problems, history, with all its lessons, affords no prescedent. There never yet was a nation endowed with the awful responsibility of the American people under this problem of expansion. But, gentlemen, we need not tremble as we stand confronted with these propositions. We have a guide as absolute and as certain as that pillar of fire by night and that cloud by day which guided the Israelites across the trackless desert; that guide is the matchless, intelligent patriotism of American citizenship.

William Jennings Bryan's latest effort, The Commoner, has made its appearance and the Journal had an opportunity to glance over the first issue, which is dated at Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 23, and flings the defeated presidential candidates name at the head of the first column as editor and proprietor. Its an eight page magazine size journal and devotes all of its space to demo-pop political issues, or rather to Bryan's issues, and gives the publisher an excellent opportunity to see in print some of the ideas expressed in the campaign speeches during the last four years. However, the publication promises to have a wide circulation, and the Journal extends fraternal greeting to its new contemporary.

No towns on earth grow faster than western places and the recent official census developed some surprising facts of increase in population. The town of Warren, in Marsball county, ten years ago was credited with 648 people, and now the census bureau shows it up with 276 souls, an increase of almost 100 per cent in ten years. And yet, Warren's growth has not been as phenomenal as that of some other cities and towns in northern Minnesota, as Argyle in 1890 had 306 people within it bounds, and today 829 are given as the correct number of inhabitants. Stephen also shows up an increase of 100 per cent during the last decade.

Senator-elect Clark of Montana is likely to meet with opposition when he presents imself to be sworn into the senate. The report may not be well founded, but it is reported that at the opportune moment a certain republican will object to the administration of the oath in a manner similar to that adopted in the case of Brigham Roberts in the house, and he will be asked to stand aside. The reason assigned will be that he is not a fit person to be allowed to occupy a seat in the senate. And it is asserted that the vote against him will be large nough to keep him out.

Queen Victoria's reign extended over a period of nearly sixty-four years, which is the longest reign of any English sovereign. George III. reigned fifty-nine years, Henry III. reigned fifty-six years, Edward III. reigned fifty years and Elizabeth reigned forty-five years. She outlived all the members of the privy council who were alive in 1837; all the peers who held their titles in 1837; except Earl Nelson, who was 14 in that year, and has seen the death of all the members who sat in the house of commons on her accession to the throne.

The village council and the saloonkeepers of Redwood Falls are locking horns over the license fee. The council recently raised the fee from $500 to $600, and the saloon men refuse to pay it. The council refuses to recede from its action, and the saloons are now all closed waiting for somebody to change their minds.

Sam Moy of Chicago, otherwise known as the "King of Chinatown," is passing through bankruptcy experiences, "allee samee like Mellican man." His indebtedness is stated to amount to $13,067, and he has $105 worth of assets. He was supposed to be very wealthy and his insolvency bas created a surprise.

It is said that Mr Carnegie is willing to dispose of his steel interests for the merely nominal sum of $200,000,000. Anyone having that amount of spare pocket change might find it a profitable investment.

COULDN'T ASSESS THEM

Beltrami County's Claim to Logs is Denied by State Auditor Dunn.

County Auditor Scott and City Assessor Fort of Minneapolis appeared before State Auditor Dunn Tuesday morning to protest against the claim of Beltrami county for several million feet of logs already assessed in Hennepin county. The logs are the property of T. B. Walker, of Minneapolis, and were destined to that city when the local assessor in Beltrami county attempted to list them as taxable property in that county. On the showing of the men from Minneapolis, Mr. Dunn ruled that the logs properly belonged to Hennepin. They are assessed at $15,000.

DIED AWAY FROM HOME

A Well Known Grand Forks Tailor Suddenly Expires at Grafton.

The people of Grand Forks were shocked Tuesday morning when word reached the city that W. C. St. Clair had died suddenly Tuesday morning at Grafton. He had left there for that place last Saturday for the purpose of securing a place there in which to open a tailor shop. This he had done and Monday had retired for the night in his room. At about midnight his room mate came in his room and found him dead, lying across the bed. A doctor was summoned at once and said Mr. St. Clair had been dead for several hours.

W. C. St. Clair was 48 years of age and was born at Dalkeith, Scotland. He came to this country nine years ago, and after remaining at New York for a short time went to Port Arthur, where he was married to his present wife. He went to Grand Forks eight years ago and at once entered into the tailoring business and has since that time been one of the leading merchant tailors of the city.

He was a member of the Royal Arcanum, and carried insurance in that order. He belonged to the Workmen and was insured in that order also.

He leaves a wife and a family of five children. His parents are both dead and he has but one brother, McKenzie St. Clair, who resides in Grand Forks. He has three other brothers and three sisters in Scotland.

SMALLPOX SCARE

Considerable Excitement Prevails at Bemidji —A Number of Cases Reported.

From reliable sources the Journal learns that the state board of health is becoming alarmed at the rapid spread of smallpox all over the state. New cases are being reported every day by physicians of different counties, and transients from off the Duluth train Wednesday state that the terribly dreaded disease has broken out to such an alarming extent at Bemidji that it may become necessary to quarantine the city.

Up to last evening eight different cases were reported by the local physicians of the threatened town, and grave fears are entertained that more will follow, despite the fact that every precaution is being exercised to prevent the spreading of the disease.

A well known county officer from an adjoining county, who returned from Bemidji on last evening's train, stated to a Journal reporter that a friend of his out there had advised him to leave the town as quickly as possible, as quarantine may be ordered at any moment.

Passengers arriving here at 4:48 this afternoon state that there are eighteen fully developed cases at Bemidji, and seven cases are reported from Cass Lake. The disease is spreading with fearful rapidity.

M. & M. CATTLE COMPANY

A New Local Enterprise With a Paid up Capital of $50,000

The Minnesota & Montana Cattle company is the title of the new live stock association which has recently been organized in this city, for the purpose of buying and sending cattle to eastern markets.

J. B. Messner, of Climax, one of the promoters of the enterprise left Tuesday for Montana, and will go as far as Glasgow, in that state, with a view of securing a suitable ranch for herding cattle.

The officers of the company are as follows:

President—Richard L. Perry.
Vice President—F. L. Murray.
Secretary—P. J. Shelly.
Treasurer—F. S. Young.

The next meeting of the organization will be held in this city Feb. 4, at the office of Martin O'Brien, when all arrangements for operations will be finally completed.

The company has a paid up capital of $50,000, and will have headquarters in this city.

SCENE OF ASSASSINATION

A Prominent Croookstonite Well Accquainted with the Place of Murder.

M. E. Kirsch, one of Crookston's leading and best known citizens, in speaking of the assassination of the governor of Luxemburg, an account of which appeared in the Journal, Monday, is well acquainted with the surroundings where the red-handed assassin completed the destruction of the provincial ruler.

Arlon is the capital of Luxumburg, and the building in which the shooting occurred is a three story structure, over 300 feet in length. Mr. Orban DeXivry, the dead governor, was a middle aged man and greatly beloved by his people. The assassination was undoubtedly due to madness of the perpetrator.

Notes From Exchanges.

Thirteen Towns: The Crookston Journal, which is now "set up" with a modern typesetting machine, the first introduced to Northern Minnesota, is making rapid progress. Its account of the state drainage convention was remarkably complete and interesting.

Globe, Fergus Falls: "They Saw a Doe" is the startling headline in the Crookston Daily Journal. Well, a few years ago does were more common than ducks are now. But the crazy sports, armed with the modern guns, have about exterminated the most harmless and beautiful animal that ever graced this earth.

The Crookston Journal has taken a spurt ahead within the last ten days that has attracted considerable attention. The reports of the Tri-State Drainage Convention would have done credit to a metropolitan daily, and the excellence and completeness which characterized this service has entered into every feature of the paper. A new $3,200 linotype (typesetting) machine has just been put in.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

DEEDS ARE CONTAGIOUS

Whether Moral or Immoral, Says an East Grand Forks Correspondent.

Dear sir:—There are many persons so impressed with the belief that certain kinds of evil should be licensed in order to prevent similar vices in another direction, that they lose sight of the fact that it is just these legalized sins which have wrought the whole mischief.

If all had more faith in God and humanity, there would be no question of doubt in the premises. Good deeds are contagious as well as bad deeds, and if the laws of our land were always made in the interests of the young scarcely a generation would pass before the influence of good would be felt to such an extent as to preclude any possibility of a return to those disgraceful methods for obtaining wealth at the expense of the morals of a nation, and which appear now to dominate nearly every circle of human existence.

The saloon, for example, is becoming a terrible menace in every institution, clogging the wheels of progress and using its ill-gotten gains to further its dangerous work.

From love of money and love of ease thousands of unscrupulous individuals are dealing in poisonous liquors, because wealth is more rapidly made in this business than in any other, but, oh, at what a sacrifice, for the saloon is fast becoming prominent in the long catalogue of vices.

To the temperance hosts, those who have studied carefully and thoughtfully all the points at their command, they are enabled through investigation to discover the causes which bring such sad results, and so often as the liquor traffic entails.

But temperance organizations are not alone in their determination to discourage in every way the use of alcoholics. Many societies of young people are coming to advocate most earnestly the abolition of the saloon. Then associations with active temperance workers leads them to take an interest in all that pertains to the destruction of the "rum privileges."

The hope of our nation lies largely in this direction. It is a pleasing thought that when we lay our armor down our mantle may fall on those who will be more efficient in taking up our labors than we ever have been. Need we say the work must go on until all the countries of the universe can proudly wave the true banner of freedom, which shall be unto all people. Freedom from the bondage of strong drink.

—Julia A. Hunt.
Press Supt. W. C. T. U.
East Grand Forks, Jan. 15.

PAULSON ALIAS FLYNN

Now on Trial at Alma, Wis., for Murder Committed Nine Years Ago.

The Wisconsin murder trial in which Paulson, who was arrested at the instance of Jos. Hillard at Fosston last April, plays a most prominent part, began at Alma today and A. W. Smith, the Fosston chief of police, left Tuesday evening with a number of witnesses from Thief Lake for the place of trial. Just what sort of testimony the witnesses from up north, whose names are W. H. Dennis, Iver Olson, John Olson, Mrs. Eickhoff, A. C. Berlinskie, James Reinhart and wife, and John Haugh and wife, can give in the case is not known, except that it might be to confirm the statement circulated that Paulson had a large sum of gold money when he arrived at Thief Lake. It will be remembered that the alleged murderer of Sarah Selden is charged with stealing $1,000 in gold after committing the murder, and after being arrested and lodged in prison that sum was found on Paulson's person. He broke jail and made good his escape, and for nine years no trace of him could be found, until he met face to face with Hinard, who knew him prior to the commission of the crime, at Fosston, where he was known by the name of Flynn.

Upon being notified by Hillard, Marshal Smith promptly arrested Paulson and he has ever since taken a prominent part in bringing the prisoner to justice.

EXPRESS THEIR OPINION

A Couple of Northern Minnesota Men Are Interviewed in Minneapolis.

Under the head of "Tavern Talk," the Minneapolis Journal of Tuesday contains the following:

P. Helen, merchant, is here from Argyle, Minn. Mr. Holen says that the people of that section of the state were given a good enough object lesson on the need of drainage last fall and will have more of it his spring.

H. C. Misner, merchant, of Euclid, Minn., is at the Nicollet. Mr. Misner states that the farmers of his part of the state will be satisfied if granted a fair show to get their seed in right this spring. The fall weather was contrary and even harvesting was attended by difficulties. Several of the larger farms around Euclid are being carved into smaller tracts and sold to new comers from the east.

KITTSON CO. UNFORTUNATE

The Death of His Wife by Fire Drives Him Insane.

Sheriff Anderson, from Hallock, Kittson county reached here Monday having in charge an unfortunate man from his county, named Eric Larson, whom he was taking to the Fergus Falls insane asylum for treatment.

Larson is about 55 years old, and has been living alone on a farm near Hallock for a year or more. About that time his dwelling house was destroyed by fire and his wife, in attempting to save some of the household goods, received injuries in the flames from which she died shortly afterwards.

The tragic death of his life partner weighed so heavily on Larson's mind that it finally became unbalanced, and he was adjudged insane. His case, it is said, is most pitiable and sympathetic.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

—"Vesterheimen," the Norwegian weekly paper, edited and published by G. T. Hagen, has been moved into the Journal building and will hereafter be printed at this office.

Shelled Corn, Oats, Ground Feed, Bran and Shorts, Pillsbury's Best Flour, Baled Hay, Lignite Coal and Wood of all kinds--Car lots only. For prices, delivered anywhere. Address L. B. GIBBS, GRAND FORKS, N. D.

ANGORA GOATS

I will sell Angora Does in lots to suit purchaser. Bred to my celebrated Billies to kid In May.
Write for prices
A. L. Morris, Bagley, Minn.

In Bankruptcy

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF MINNESOTA, SIXTH DIVISION.

In the matter of William B. Hancock, bankrupt—In Bankruptcy.

To the Honorable William Lochren, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the district of Minnesota.

William B. Hancock of the City of Crookston, in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, in said district respectively represents that on the 8th day of December, last past, he was duly adjudged bankrupt under the acts of congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property, and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and of the order of the court touching his bankruptcy.

WHEREFORE, he prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all debts provable against his estate under said bankrupt acts, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated Jan. 8th, A. D. 1901.

—William B. Hancock,
Bankrupt.

United States District Court, District of Minnesota, Sixth Division—ss.

On this 30th day of January, A. D. 1901, on reading the foregoing petition, it is ordered by the court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 26th day of March, A. D. 1901, before said court, at Fergus Falls, in said district, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Polk County Journal, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness the Honorable William Lochren, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof, at Fergus Falls, in said district, on the 30th day of January, A. D. 1901.

—Charles L. Spencer,
Clerk.

By L. A. Levorsen, Deputy Clerk.
(Seal of this Court.)

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution issued out of and under the seal of the district court, in and for the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered and docketed in the said court, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1896, in an action wherein Standard Paper Co, plaintiff, and Hans Johnson, defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of Ninety-three dollars and Thirty-five cents ($93.35) which execution was directed and delivered to me as sheriff in and for the county of Polk, I have this 29th day of January, A. D. 1901, levied upon the right title and interest of the said defendant, Hans Johnson, in and to the following described real property situated in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, to-wit:

Lots number 29 and 30, and block number 5 in Jerome's Addition in the city of Crookston, in Polk county, Minnesota.

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, as sheriff as aforesaid, will sell the above described real property to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the front door of the court house in the city of Crookston in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 19th day of March, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day to satisfy the said execution, together with the interest and costs thereon.

Dated January 29th, A. D. 1901.

—E. J. Sullivan,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minn.
By Louis Gonyea, Deputy 43-48

In Bankruptcy

BANKRUPT'S NOTICE FOR DISCHARGE.

In the matter of William L. Myers, bankrupt.

To the Honorable William Lochren, Judge of the District Court of the United States, for the District of Minnesota.

William L. Myers, of Bemidji, in the county of Beltrami and state of Minnesota, late of East Grand Forks, Minnesota, in said district, respectfully represents that on the 7th day of July, 1900, last past, he was duly adjudged an involuntary bankrupt under the act of congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property, and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

Wherefor, he prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all his debts provable against his said estate under said bankrupt acts, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated at Bemidji, Minn., this 11th day of October, 1900.

—Wm. L. Myers,
Bankrupt.

State of Minnesota, Beltrami County—ss.

William L. Myers, being first duly sworn says he is the same and identical person mentioned as petitioner in the above and foregoing petition for discharge in bankruptcy, that the statements therein made are true to his own kowledge, except as to those matters stated on information and belief, and as to these he believes them to be true.

—Wm. L. Myers.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 11th day of October, 1900.

—P. J. Russell,
Notary Public.

P. J. Russell, Attorney for Petitioner, Bemidji, Minn.

United States District Court, District of Minnesota, Sixth Division—ss.

On this 21st day of January, A. D. 1901, on reading the foregoing petition, it is ordered by the court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 28th day of March, A. D. 1901, before said court, at Fergus Falls, in said district, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice thereof be published in the Polk County Journal, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness the Honorable William Lochren, Judge of the said Court, and the seal thereof, at Fergus Falls, in said district, on the 21st day of January, A. D. 1901.

—Charles L. Spencer,
Clerk.

By L. A. Levorsen, Deputy Clerk.
(Seal of the Court.)

CITY AND VICINITY

—Mrs. George Tozer is vsiting her sister, Mrs. George Murch.

—H. Halvorson is visiting friends for a few days at Hillsboro, N. D.

Robert Bennett, one of the students at the business college is reported to have frozen an ear while in bed.

—Nine homestead entries, three final proofs and two cash proofs were filed in the U. S. land office Monday.

A marriage license has been issued to Wm. Adair and Miss Runa B. Peters, both of East Grand Forks.

—In probate court Saturday the last will and testament of Mrs. Leonard Mercure, deceased, was admitted and filed with the court.

—For nervousness and sleeplessness try Lincoln's Hop and Celery Nerve Tablets. 25 cents per box. For sale by A. G. Anderson, druggist.

—Auction—Beginning Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 10 a. m., and continuing until all is sold, the People's Store Bankrupt Stock. See other advertising. No disappointing this time.

—K. Austin Monday made a transfer whereby Walter Buzzell becomes the owner of Austin's business which he has conducted on Main street for nearly 18 years.

—Stop that Cough right away with Mull's Lightning Cough Cure. It heals disease of throat and lungs. It's pure and good for children. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—Preaching services will be held in the Methodist church every evening this week. Rev. Lawson will be assisted part of the time by Presiding Elder Dodds. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

—Sixteen new members were added Sunday to the Norwegian United church. The edifice was appropriately decorated and after the services dinner was served at the residence of Rev. Reiportson.

—The electric light and water power plant at Stephen was formally accepted in the city council Saturday. Both concerns are said to be highly satisfactory and in fact much better than the contract called for.

—Mrs. W. E. Wilkins, sister in law of F. Jerome, accompanied by her daughter, came over from Grand Forks Saturday evening to attend the funeral of little Clinton, which occurred yesterday afternoon.

—Judge Montague returned from St. Paul Sunday morning where he argued the case of Gould vs. Duffy before the supreme court. While there he had the pleasure of attending the banquet tendered Minnesota's new senator, Moses E. Clapp.

—Irvin Nicolson, who had his hand pinched between the bumpers of two freight cars recently, which necessitated the amputation of a forefinger and a part of a thumb, is not recovering very fast, and a further operation of a part of the wounded hand may become necessary.

Tom Morris and Thos. Johnstone returned from St. Paul yesterday morning, where they have been spending a week in matters connected with the forthcoming state firemen's convention. Mr. Morris also attended the Masonic grand lodge as a delegate from the local lodge.

Chas. Rauch of this city, who started for Hot Springs Wednesday evening was taken sick when he reached the Union depot in St. Paul and is now a patient in the city and county hospital at the Minnesota capital. He will continue his trip to the Springs as soon as he has sufficiently recovered.

—Carl Schmunk, formerly a resident of this city, who removed to Erskine about four years ago, died there last Saturday evening of consumption, leaving his wife, five young boys and several brothers, who reside here, to mourn his loss. Deceased was about 38 years of age and highly respected.

—Superintendent Hoverstad of the Experiment Farm returned from Halstad Monday, where he assisted last Saturday evening in organizing a creamery association. A temporary organization was perfected and a committee appointed to draft constitution and by-laws, and report at a future meeting.

—W. A. Crever and family returned from Pittsburg, Pa., today after having removed to that place nearly seventeen years ago from this county, and will again make this their future home. Mr. Crever was formerly connected as a share holder in the Standard Oil Company. Many of the family's old time friends will be glad to welcome them back.

—The officials at the Great Northern passenger depot in this city have decided to put a stop to the hangng around of small boys at the depot and will have some authorized person to promptly bounce them, if they don't cease to make the waiting rooms a loafing place. This latter practice has become a nuisance and Agent Bell will enforce the new rule if it takes a special policeman to do it.

—G. O. Bulm, who has been conducting the blacksmith shop on the corner of Main and Fletcher streets, has decided to leave Crookston as soon as he can arrange his business affairs satisfactorily, to locate in California, where his wife went about two months ago, owing to ill health. Mrs. Bulm is rapidly improving by the beneficial climate, and Mr. Bulm expects to remain permanently in the coast state.

—William Maas and Frank Brandt, two of the prominent busines men of Great Bend, N. D., passed through here Thursday evening on their way home from Bemidji, where both men will engage in business next spring. The former intends to start a lumber yard, and the latter may open a harness shop. They report business booming out in the pine country, and both are well impressed with the favorable prospects of the town.

—Press, Solway: While at Clearwater Lake last night Chas. Dickinson had the misfortune to have his right arm broken just below the elbow. He was going into the barn to blanket his team when a strange horse evidently kicked him, rendering him unconscious. When he was picked up his arm was found to be broken and he was considerably bruised otherwise. He was brought to town at once and Dr. Forester, of Bemidji, was sent for, who dressed the injured member.

—That awful pain! Mull's Lightning Pain Killer instantly cures. Safe for invalids. 25c S. A. Wallace.

—Albert D. Lien, whose home is at Bristol, Ia., filed a contest Monday on a fine piece of land in township 151, range 39.

—County Commissioner Eastman left Tuesday night for Prescott, Wis., where he was called by the serious illness of his mother, who is not expected to recover.

T. A. Way, Nath Stoddard, H. G. Gardner and S. X. Way, all of northern Iowa, are being piloted through the northern part of Polk county by C. E. Sthevens in quest of suitable farm lands.

—The disease of Liver Complaint is alarmingly prevalent and it's dangerous. Mull's Pioneer Liver Cure has brought health to a host of sufferers. $1.00 draft in each $1.00 box as a guarantee. 25c. S. A. Wallace.

—Grandpa Walworth, who is lying at St. Vincent hospital suffering from a cancer in the throat, is slowly sinking and his condition today is considered most critical. One of his daughters arrived from Toledo, Ohio, last Tuesday and will remain at his bedside hereafter.

—The Bobby Burns badge, which was gotten up by the Burns society of Grand Forks for the recent birthday anniversary, is one of the finest and neatest designs we have ever seen. Some of the members who attended from this city secured one each as a memento.

—From a resident of Perley the Journal learns that Fred Luslan, who is teaching school at that place, last Saturday evening had the misfortune to wrench his leg and dislocate the knee joint. The fracture was reduced, and Fred is again able to be around, with the aid of a cane.

—Johannes Johnson, who was taken to the Fergus Falls insane asylum recently from Kittson county, and who is suffering from a cancer of the mouth, was taken home yesterday morning by John Hagelund. The unfortunate man is very low, and had to be transferred on a cot.

—J. E. Morrissey is having the little dwelling opposite the Great Northern passenger depot repaired and placed in condition for occupancy. This is the house which was almost destroyed by fire last fall, and in which the family of Bert Hallet, who occupied it at the time, nearly perished in the flames.

—Representative Henricks, of Kittson county, yesterday introduced a bill in the legislature to amend section 156 of the penal code, being section 6441, general statutes of 1894, prescribing murder in the first degree. The bill was referred to the committee on crimes and punishments.

—Archdeacon Weber, who has been conducting daily services at the Episcopal church in this city during the past week, left Tuesday for St. Cloud. The sermons delivered by the reverend gentleman during his stay here were greatly appreciated by those who had the pleasure of hearing them.

—J. B. Montague, one of the substantial building contractors of this city, left Wednesday for the Blackduck country where he has a number of contracts for the erection of stores and business houses. He was accompanied by Messrs. J. A. McPhaul and Chas. Thompson, who will remain out there for a month or two.

—The newspaper fraternity of Polk county was well represented in Crookston yesterday. Among those who made the Journal a professional, as well as pleasant call, were Editor Lanman, of the McIntosh Times: Editor Foss, of the Thirteen Towns, and Editor Howard, of the Fertile Journal. They all took a peep at the new Mergenthaler typesetting machine, now in use at this office.

Citizen: Say for me through the Journal that Friday's sad occurrence, resulting in the death of a little son, of one of Crookston's esteemed citizens, is a very expensive lesson for the little passtime that can be derived out of the practice of "catching bobs." To avoid further accidents of a similar nature, from the same source, I would suggest that the city council pass an ordinance prohibiting this growing nuisance, and authorize the police to arrest any boy or girl caught violating the measure.. Some decisive step should be taken at once in this mater.

Herald, Grand Forks: The police of the city point out the death of the little Jerome boy at Crookston Friday as a result of catching on bobs. The boys of this city have been warned repeatedly that they would be arrested if caugt trying to ride on passing sleighs, and for a time desisted. For the past few days, however, there has been considerable of it, and it would seem that some arrests would have to be made before the boys would heed the warning given. The accident at Crookston was no one's fault but it would not have occurred if the boys had not been attempting that which they had been forbidden to do.

—It is said that the promoters of the new townsites along the Great Northern extension from Lakota will undertake to obtain the necessary legislation for the organization of a new county out of the southwestern portion of Cavalier and the northwestern portion of Ramsey, the boundaries of which it is intimated will encompass the terminal point of the road as well as at least two of the townsites further south. It may naturally be expected that considerable opposition will be met with from the residents of both Cavalier and Ramsey counties in case that projected change should ever amount to anything more than talk.

S. D. Felsing, manager of the Maple Bay Windstacker company was in the city Thursday and returned to Mentor this morning. To a reporter of the Journal Mr. Felsing reiterated that his company would locate at Crookston, despite the fact that Grand Forks and Fergus Falls had both made flattering offers to them to secure their establishment. Mr. Felsing expressed his confidence in Crookston's future, and also that the pending negotiations between city would reach a satisfactory termination. The new establishment to the city's steady growth will add a great many families, as the company will employ from fifty to sixty men the year around, and most of their present employes, who will follow the change of location, are married men.

—A party of about twenty land seekers arrived in the city Tuesday and are getting information as to desirable localities and suitable farm lands. Another detachment came in the evening. They are all from Iowa and mean business, if sufficient land can be secured in large tracts.

—The Modern Brotherhood of America installed the following new officers Saturday evening: President, Jno. McLean; vice president, Elsie Spendley; secretary, Geo. Chesterman; treasurer, Gust Ammundson; chaplain, Mary Strader; physician, Dr. C. E. Dampier; conductor, W. C. Hall; watchman, Peter Huff; sentry, Joh Dorgherty.

—The case of the city of Crookston against the firm of Vance & Stone, which was tried in the district court, was decided in favor of defendants. The case was brought by the city to prevent defendants from further excavating lots owned by them in Jerome's addition, alleging that it would endanger the city's property, as the streets were liable to cave in. The decision is a decided victory for Vance & Stone.

—Wm. Hesse, of Donaldson, who was candidate for sheriff of Kittson county on the fusion ticket last fall, arrived in the city Monday on his way to Solway, where he will look after some business interests. Mr. Hesse is a staunch democrat, and like many others of his political faith, he denounces fusionism with populists in future. "If democrats cannot be elected by their own party in future," he says, "let them stay at home."

OBITUARY.

Larson

As the clock struck ten Sunday morning the home of L. W. Larson, on Houston avenue, was saddened by the death of his aged mother, Mrs. Anna Marie Larson, who closed her eyes forever as a result of a complication of diseases. The deceased would have been 73 years of age on the 9th of next month, and was an old and highly respected resident of this city.

She was born in Denmark and came to this country with her husband, who preceded her in death nine years ago, in 1852, locating at Maiden Rock Wis. After the loss of her husband she came to Crookston, and has made her home with her son, L. W. Larson nearly ever since. She was the mother of eight children, six of whom survive her, two sons and four daughters. They are Mrs. Anna M. Trosdahl, Stephen; Mrs. Florina Hanson, Crookston; Mrs. Catherine Schelde, Ellsworth, Wis., and Mrs. Martha McDonald, Antigo, Wis., and L. W. Larson of this city and J. J. Larson of Maiden Rock, Wis.

Short funeral services will be held at her late residence at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and the remains will be taken to Maiden Rock, Wis., on the Great Northern in the evening for interment alongside those of her husband.

The Journal extends sympathy to the sorrowing family in the loss of their beloved mother.

Cleven

The Journal is called upon to chronicle the unexpected death of Mrs. Albert Cleven, which occurred at 3 o'clock Monday at her home on Ash street. About three weeks ago Mrs. Cleven was taken ill with grip and to this malady later on came catarrhal pneumonia, and although everything that medical skill and loving care could do, all efforts proved futile.

Less than eighteen months ago deceased was joined in marriage to her bereaved husband, at Marietta, Ga., but no children issued from the union. She was the daughter of a well to do family of Marietta, her father being a district judge of the southern state. She was only 25 years of age and beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Her remains will be taken back to Georgia for interment, accompanied by the husband and a brother of the dead woman.

Espe.

At the home of her son, Chris. Espe, Tuesday at 9 o'clock, Mrs. Bertha Espe expired after a long and painful illness, at the advanced age of 61 years. Deceased leaves a number of grown children, among them the Espe brothers, all well known business men of this city. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Chris. Espe's residence.

CAPTURED A HORSE THIEF

After Five Years Chief Eck Succeeds in Locating Him.

Chief of Police Eck is as tickled today as the man who won in the Louisiana lottery, and he has just cause to be, although the value of his "winning" may not amount to as much in dollars and cents.

In September, 1896, a man named Henry Hubbard got away with a span of horses, the property of Haus Larson, who was conducting a livery barn in this city at the time, and not until a year later a warrant was issued for his arrest. But until today all efforts failed to locate the fleeing horse thief. Although the time of validity in the warrant in the chief's hands was nearly expired, he never ceased work on the case and through correspondence with outside officials he finally found himself rewarded for his tireless effort in chasing down a criminal, as today he received a telegram from the chief of police at Faribault stating that Hubbard had been arrected there and was in jail awaiting the arrival of an officer.

Deputy Sheriff Gonyea will leave this evening to bring the prisoner back for trial.

There is a state reward allowed for the capture of a horse thief, and Chief Eck's salary Monday is therefore a little greater than usual.

Skrivseths Gallery

is the place to get good photographs. 216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

—In probate court today L. Ellington, as guardian of Olaf and John Paulsrud, who reside at Neilsville, was discharged and final settlement of the estate admitted.

LENGBY.

Julius Frederickson made a flying trip to Fosston Monday.

N. O. Nelson went to Fosston Saturday evening, returning Sunday morning.

P. A. Sederberg and Ole Linberg spent a few hours with Ebroites Sunday.

Our section crew, which dwindled down to one man besides the foreman the past week, is increased to four again.

Carl Frederickson left for Bagley today. From there he was going to Rice Lake to spend a few days hunting and fishing.

Fishers of Rice Lake have recently brought in several hundred pounds of nice pickerel, which they sold to our merchants. Some of these fish are being shipped to Fosston.

Section Foreman Swift, Operator O. A. Nell, Ole K. Kingstad, Chas. Kempestad, Theodore Ralphson and R. W. Cartwright attended the Woodman meeting at Fosston Wednesday evening.

W. R. Cartwright has been elected president and Prof. Aasers secretary of the debating society, which held a meeting in Argall Hall Saturday evening and debated on the subject, "Which Has Done the Most Good for Mankind, Education or Nature?" A decision was rendered in favor of education by the judges, Mesdames O. M. Olson and M. Larson. Another debate will be held next Thursday.

ELDRED.

Ice is being hauled for the creamery.

Edwin Monson returned from Portland Monday.

C. N. Galland, with E. Emmet's Sons, made the town on Monday.

We are sorry to learn that J. E. Elg is sick and is at a Crookston hospital.

Chris Svisdal, of Crookston, has improved the interior of the hardware store.

Seventeen applications for membership in the Woodman camp is the record for January.

FOSSTON.

"Billie" Tanner drove to Bagley on Tuesday.

Gust Nordus and family are visiting at Grand Forks.

Mrs. A. Kaiser entertained the "63" club Monday evening.

A. W. Foss went to Crookston Monday afternoon, returning Tuesday.

Mrs. Joel Fogelberg, who has been dangerously sick for some time, is now out of danger.

A. Kaiser left for Winona Saturday, called there by a telegram stating that his father was seriously ill.

The engine at the power house broke down Sunday night and the woolen mill was closed Monday in consequence.

Robert Sutton came down from the lumber camps Tuesday and is confined at the Commercial hotel suffering from heart trouble.

Jos. Kronenberg, who has been visiting his family here for the past three weeks, returned to Butte, Mont. where he is in business.

A letter received from S. L. Swanson the first of the week stated that he is improving, but it will be three months before he is fully recovered.

F. C. Nicoll, the cigarmaker, who has been laid up for some time with a broken finger, is again at the bench making his famous Pontella and Exporter cigars.

Will Umland had an exciting time with a bear last week out in the Pinelake country. His dog found Bruin in his den late in the afternoon and before Will could go to the house and get his gun it was dark. He took his gun and lantern and with a companion armed with an ax, started out to despatch Mr. Bear. He shot him once in his den and once when he was coming out. The lantern was hanging on the limb of a tree near the den and when the bear came out he knocked it over. The fellow with the ax took to his heels and left Will to fight it out alone in the dark. Two more shots finished the bear and Will has a fine pelt and 250 pounds of bear meat.

NIELSVILLE.

Nils Muns spent Saturday at the county seat.

The teachers inform us that many of the school children are absent on account of the grip.

Carl Alstad, of Dakota, left Tuesday morning for McIntosh, to attend the funeral of Paul Saga.

Mrs. P. S. Jacobson left Monday evening for Fillmore county, whither she was called by the death of her aged mother.

Supt. Marshall, of the St. Anthony & Dakota Elevator Co., sized up business here Friday, his countenance beaming as usual.

E. C. Onstad has threshed some of the flax that he harvested since Christmas and it is of good quality considering the conditions.

Oluf Paulsrud has secured a position with the Milwaukee Harvester Co. as canvasser and expert, to enter upon his new duties about May first.

Miss Johanna Espeseth visited with friends near Shelly the latter part of last week. She also attended a series of meetings at Zion's church.

Gabriel Vigness, our new dispenser of choice steaks, is hustling ice now days. Monday's snow has lessened the labor connected therewith considerable.

Nil Muns has purchased the Elling Kravig farm situated about six miles to the northeast and consisting of forty acres, at a consideration of $15 per acre.

Edward Tronues has purchased a lot on Spokkeli Avenue, where he intends to erect a fine building in the near future. It will be occupied by his daughter, Miss Beatte Tronnes, who will open up a millinery establishment about March first.

Miss Tille Melsness of Erskine is visiting a couple of days with friends and relatives here. From here she will go to Grand Forks for an extended visit with her sister Mrs. Thomas Moore and family. She will also learn dressmaking while there.

Thursday night John Hestad and family were called upon to mourn the loss of their infant baby, after a stay with them of only a few days. The funeral occurred from St. Peter's church Monday, Rev. Brodland officiating. The little coffin was beautifully decorated with appropriate flowers. Both departments of the schools attended in a body.

ADA.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boech, Thursday morning, a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey, of Sharon, N. D., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Larson.

Prof. and Mrs. Buttler entertained the members of the high school Friday evening.

Mrs. Hans Holden, who has been dangerously ill, is now improving and is reported to be out of danger.

I. R. Severtson and O. A. Lund spent Sunday and Monday with friends at Concordia college, Moorhead.

Miss Jessie Sargent left Tuesday night for St. Paul, where she will spend the rest of the winter with her folks.

Bosworth Bros. will give a mask ball Feb. 14, on St. Valentine's day. A cash prize will be given to the best cupid.

Rev. and Mrs. Park returned from Fergus Falls Friday morning, where they spent two weeks holding revival meetings.

Peter Sharpe returned from St. Paul Sunday morning where he attended the anual meeting of the Masonic grand lodge.

D. C. Lightbourn has accepted a position as assistant insurance comissioner and leaves the last of this week for St. Paul to assume his duties.

D. C. Lightbourn has tendered his resignation to the village council as recorder and it has been accepted and Louis Hintze appointed to take his place.

Ben Brockhof, at one time station agent here for the Great Northern, but now working for the Northern Pacific, spent Sunday here with his numerous friends.

Ed Wolf has severed his connection with G. Gilbertson and leaves this week for Stoddard, Wis., where he has accepted position in a general store as manager.

Will Casselman returned from St. Paul Tuesday morning, where he took a car load of stock last week. He reports fat beef to be in good demand and received as high as $42 for one head.

WANTS $1,500,000

A Big Suit Started Against James J. Hill For Services Rendered.

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—Herbert W. Pearson of Duluth yesterday sued President Hill of the Great Northern for $1,500,000, claiming that amount for services in locating valuable coal land in Washington and Montana.

The New York Store

THE MAMMOTH DEPARTMENT STORE

We are going to try
and break a record
and at the dullest time of the year.

Here is the Story Briefly.

BIG REDUCTION IN OVERSHOES

Overshoes—Men's and Ladies—worth $1.00, now.......75c

Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.25, now.......95c

Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.50, now.......$1.15

Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.75, now.......$1.35

MEN'S CAPS

Men's Caps worth 50c, now.......40c

Men's Caps worth 75c, now.......65c

Men's Caps worth $1.00, now.......75c

Men's Caps worth $1.25, now.......95c

TWO LOTS OF SHOES

Lot 1 we start with.......69c

Lot 2 we start with.......59c

Ladies' all Felt, Fur Top Juliets in quilted silk, plain and plaid.......99c

Big Reduction on Dress Goods, Ladies' Shirt Waists, Silk and Flannel.
Ladies' Jackets, Cloaks, Capes, Fur Coats, etc., at about Half Price.

"WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE."
COME AND SAVE MONEY.

A. CHABOT.
Sole Agent for Standard Patterns.

HE TAKES HIS SEAT

Minnesota's New United States Senator, Moses E. Clapp, is Officially Sworn in.

A POINT AGAINST TOWNE

Is Raised by Mr. Bennett, Secretary of the Senate, Anent the Senatorship.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Immediately upon the conclusion of Mr. Towne's speech in the senate yesterday afternoon Mr. Nelson presented the credentials of Mr. Clapp, of Minnesota, and the oath of office was administered.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Post tomorrow will say that a fine point has been raised over the right of Mr. Towne to continue to hold his seat in the senate now that Mr. Clapp has been given a certificate of election by the governor of Minnesota.

It says that Mr. Bennett, the secretary of the senate, holds that Mr. Towne ceased to draw salary on Wednesday, Jan. 23, when a certificate was given to Mr. Clapp by the governor of Minnesota.

Mr Towne on Friday introduced a resolution favorable to the independence of the Filipinos and was recognized by the chair for that purpose. He gave notice that he would address the senate on it tomorrow and as a result of the telegraphic correspondence. Mr. Clapp agreed not to present his credentials and be sworn in until after the delivery of the speech, but Secretary Bennett has raised a question as to whether Mr. Clapp is not now senator.

VICIOUSLY RECKLESS

A Doctor Rubs Smallpox Virus in Face anP Arms and Mingles With Neighbors.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 25.—A reputable physician of this city has created consternation among the citizens by his rash act in exposing persons to small pox. After gaining admission in a secret manner to a very pronounced case of small pox, Dr. M. J. Rodermund broke the pustules that had formed on the patient and rubbed the virus over his own face, neck and arms. Then he mingled with people of his acquaintance without washing the germs from his body, in order to prove that the disease is not contagious. Those who were exposed were badly frightened. The doctor's children have been excluded from the public schools and his son sent away from college. Dr. Roderman is the author of a book entitled "Murderous Fads in the Practice of Medicine," in which he contends that no contagious diseases exist, that vacination is wrong and dangerous, and that germs do not cause disease. O. B. Wingate, state health office will take charge of the case. Dr. Roderman is emphatic in his statement that he will never be quarantined while alive.

DRAINAGE CANAL CASE

Chicago Canal Promoters Are Overruled by the Supreme Court.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The supreme court today overruled demurrers filed in the case of the Chicago Drainage Canal vs. the state of Illinois and the drainage board. The proceedings were brought by the state of Missouri on account of the supposed pollution of St. Louis drinking water. The effect of the decision is to sustain the contention of Missouri. Fuller, Harlan and White filed dissenting opinions.

U. S. Buys Two Islands.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The senate Tuesday in executive session ratified the treaty with Spain for the acquisition of the islands of Sibuta and Cagayan of the Philippine groupe at a cost of $100,000. There were no votes to spare, a two-thirds vote being needed, and the voting standing 38 to 19. In the debate prior to ratification a number of senators manifested a disposition to oppose the further acquisition of Oriental territory. Senators Lodge and Chandler spoke in behalf of the treaty and Senators Bacon, Money and Pettigrew in opposition. Senator Lodge, speaking for the committee on foreign relations, said that the treaty was made necessary by the failure to include the islands of Sibutu and Cagayan in the original negotiation by which we acquired the Philippines, and that it was necessary to acquire them to prevent Germany getting possession of them.

Democrats Stole a March.

Winona, Minn., Jan. 24.—The democrats in the city council, who are in a large majority, sprung a surprise on the republicans on Monday evening by rushing through a gerrymandering ordinance. It provides for changing the boundary lines of the wards so that three of the wards will now be safely democratic and only one republican, instead of two republican, one democrat and one doubtful. Every precaution has been taken, and there is no possibility of blocking the ordinance so that it will not go into effect for the spring election.

City Government Arrested.

Hamilton, Ohio, Jan. 24.—As an outgrowth of an effort on the part of the Hamilton Light and Coke company to open competition in this city with the municipal gas plant, the whole city government is under arrest, including the legislative and executive branches, charged with contempt of court.

CLAIMS SELF DEFENSE.

A Smallpox Ruarantine Guard is Charged with Willful Murder.

About a month ago smallpox was discovered in a camp of the Northern Lumber company on Ely lake in St. Louis county. The Mesaba Mountain board of health quarantined the camp and apointed a number of guards, among them John Anderson. On Jan. 2 the guard ordered a number of men to go from the stable which was outside the quarantine line, to the camp within the lines. Some trouble ensued between the men and the guard, and Anderson, who was armed with a rifle shot and killed Edward Bartlett. As soon as the quarantine raised a preliminary was held and Anderson was bound over to the grand jury on the charge of murder in the first degree. Anderson claims he acted in self defense.

A REDUCED CUT.

This Year's Lumber Cut May be 50,000,000 Less than Last Year.

The possibilities in the lumber output the coming season are not as favorable as could be desired, and the situation at Duluth is estimated by the News-Tribune as follows:

Local sawmill men predict that the production of lumber here this year will be 50,000,000 feet less than last year, owing to limited logging operations by individuals and firms who have their sawing done by contract. If the reduction of output is realized, the mills on the Duluth-Superior harbor will not produce to exceed 375,000,000 feet this year.

The Richardson & Avery Co., of Duluth, has done the bulk of the lumber selling in the Duluth market during the last two weeks. The firm has disposed of about 10,000,000 feet, most of which goes by rail to interior yards.

JEFFRIES-RUHLIN GO.

"It Would be a Disgrace to the State of Ohio" Says Gov. Nash.

A Columbus special of yesterday says with regard to the proposed Jeffries-Ruhlin fight:

Action was taken by Gov. Nash today to prevent the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight at Cincinnati on Feb. 15. In a letter to Attorney General Sheets the governor declares the fight would be "a disgrace to the state of Ohio, as well as a violation of law," and concludes:

"I hereby authorize and request you to take such steps and commence such actions at law, civil or criminal, as may be necessary to prevent this occurrence, and in so doing to use the name of the state."

A petition is now being drawn up in the case, which will be immediately filed in the courts at Cincinnati, tonight, if the attorneys can reach there in time.

THOSE TAX CASES.

A Favorable Decision for Defendants Would Invalidate Half of Levies.

Bemidji, Jan. 29.—The tax cases of the State against Thomas B. Walker, H. C. Akeley and the Red River Lumber company, involving the constitutionality of the act organizing the counties of Beltrami and Cass, was argued before Judge McClenahan yesterday. The arguments lasted the better part of the day, and the judge reserved his decision. If the case goes for defendants, more than half of the taxes levied in Beltrami for three years will be invalidated, and upwards of $20,000 in county orders voided. The jurymen attending court found themselves up against the matter, as the local banks have refused to buy any further orders, and the term of court may come to an abrupt end on that acount.

$800 AND A MAN GONE.

Michael Murphy, a Hillsboro Citizen's Whereabouls Wanted.

The relatives of Michael Murphy of Hillsboro, N. D., are anxious to learn of his whereabouts. He left his home ten days ago intending to go to the St. Paul city hospital for treatment for rheumatism. When he left home he had in his possession $800. No word has been received from him since, and he is not at any of the hospitals of St. Paul. Friends of the missing man were in St. Paul yesterday searching for him.

IS COMING HOME.

A Manilla Editor Who Talked Too Much, and Is Sorry that he Spoke.

Manila, Jan. 28.—George T. Rice, editor of the daily Bulletin, who was ordered by Gen. McArthur to be deported because of the publication in his paper of the allegations against Lieut.-Commander Wm. Braunersreuther, captain of the port, sailed today. It was ordered that he be held as a prisoner until his arrival at San Francisco.

Rice formerly lived in Red Wing, Minn., and came here with the Twentieth Minnesota.

Mrs. Lease Crippled for Life.

New York, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease is confined to her home, suffering from a dislocated knee, the result of a fall on the escalator, or moving stairway, leading to the uptown station of the Sixth avenue elevated line at Twenty-third street. Mrs. Lease had never read of the escalator, and when she found herself being carried upstairs by the noiseless contrivance she became alarmed, with the result given above. The surgeons attending her say she will be lame for life.

To Cure a Cold In One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

GREAT NORTHERN CHANGES.

It is Rumored that the Breckenridge Division is to be Extended.

Willmar, Minn., Jan. 29.—It is said the Great Northern is contemplating changes which will result beneficially to this city. It is given out that a large freight depot will be erected here the coming spring and that the Breckenridge division will be extended to take in the tracks from Wayzatta to Breckenridge, and that as soon as the change takes place the superintendent's office, now located at Breckenridge, will be transferred to this city.

The Willmar division is to be abolished and the officials here will give their whole attention to the Willmar and Sioux Falls line and its branches, which, since the acquisition of the Sioux City & Northern over a year ago, has been one of the company's most important accessories, and is doing a daily increasing business from Sioux City to the head of the lakes.

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE

The French Citizens Will Observe June 24th with a Demonstration.

As Crookston in the past few years has failed to have any sort of public celebration, the members of Club Lafayette at a meeting held last evening decided to observe their country's patron saint day this year, and consequently June 24, St. Jean Baptiste day, will be observed in a public and grand demonstration of the French national holiday. A committee is already at work perfecting arrangements, and this early announcement of the occasion is made in order to acquaint the citizens of Crookston with the proposed celebration.

The parties connected with the preparations will leave nothing undone or spare money to make the occasion a grand affair.

RAILROAD WHISPERS

What Has Transpired in Railroad Circles Within Twenty-four Hours.

Milford Atkins went to St. Paul on No. 8 last evening on a few days' visit with friends.

H. Halvorson who has been visiting at Hillsboro, N. D., has returned to this city.

Operator G. A. Peck went to Northcote, near St. Vincent, this morning, as permanent agent at that place. The depot at this point has been opened again.

Want Indian Brides.

Some time ago a letter was received at the White House at Washington, which contained a clipping from a French newspaper which stated in substance that the United States government is prepared to pay $10,000 in cash to every white man who will marry an Indian girl before Jan. 1, 1901. And in addition to the dowry he will get with each Choctaw maiden 140 acres of land, and with each Creek girl 160 acres of land, all good agricultural soil, on which diversified crops may be raised. This announcement seems to have brought to the front a large number of Frenchmen who are willing to accept the $10,000 dowry and the quarter section of good agricultural soil, with the dusky maiden as an incumbrance, and have so notified the Secretary of the Interior, who has directed that applicants be informed that the government has made no such offer.

A Few Census Facts.

By the census of 1900 the population of Minnesota is fixed at 1,751,394, or more than 288 times what it was in 1850.

The total acreage of Minnesota is approximately 79,205 square miles, from which it will be seen that there are 22.1 persons to the square mile in the state. The total number of incorporated cities, villages and boroughs in the state is 447.

Celluloid Accident.

The dangerously inflamable character of celluloid should be more generally understood than it is. Another illustration in point has recently occurr when the celluloid comb, imbedded Eachron was leaning over a hot stove wwhen the celluloid comb, imbedded deeply in her hair, took fire. Prompt work soon put out the blaze, but her hair and a large place on her scalp were badly burned.

He Shot the Governor.

Arlon, Luxumbourg, Belgium, Jan. 28.—M. Orlan DeXivry, governor of the Belgian province of Luxumbourg, was assassinated here Saturday morning by a man named Schneider, who afterwards committed suicide.

Schneider, who was in the employ of the provincial government, recently showed signs of incipient madness.

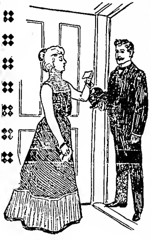
Schneider asked an audience of the governor and immediately after he had been admitted drew a revolver and shot M. DeXivry. He then blew out his own brains.

August Flower.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Hooton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at F. H. Hillard & Son'

Sold by dealers in all civilized countries. Get Green's Prize Almanac. dweow1

—Sam Marin and Peter Noesen, both old residents of the town of Fairfax, are reported seriously ill and the former, who is suffering with cancer of the stomach, is not expected to recover. Mr. Noesen is somewhat improved today.



A CAREER ...BY... ACCIDENT

By HOWARD FIELDING.

Copyright, 1900,
By CHARLES W. HOOKE.

Jane Lestrell is a name that one bears with increasing frequency. The lady has achieved something that may almost be called fame, though she is not yet 24.

I happen to know that her success is due to a singular chance, and as the revelation of this fact may please the envious and will not worry Jane in the least it is here set forth.

At the age of 20, when Jane found that she would have to make a living, she turned naturally to literature. So many people do! Jane had written (uncompleted) romances in blank books with black covers and had once sold a poem to a comic weekly for the generous sum of $2. She felt that she had the gift.

It chanced that she enjoyed the acquaintance of an estimable old maid Miss Prudence Whistler—who earned $20 a week as a reader of manuscripts for a publishing firm, and with this lady she found a haven when dependence upon her dead father's relative became no longer tolerable.

Miss Whistler occupied quaint apartments in a building that harbored a salesroom for secondhand pianos on the ground floor and a strange collection of artistic people—most of them damaged by wear, like the pianos—in the rooms above.

Her friend was away all the day, and Jane sat alone with the muses. Permit me to say, out of the fullness of my heart, that these mythical ladies are very distressing company. Moreover, Prudence Whistler's little parlor was furnished in a style to wear upon the spirits of youth. The chairs and the sofa had come from the ancestral home. They were stiff and straight and upholstered in haircloth. The center table was a strange thing, long and black. Jane thought it must have served an undertaker as a rest for coffins. The pictures were not bad, being mostly details reproduced from famous paintings—faces and figures expressing woe.

The condition of Jane's nerves after a month in this place was such that if any one who suddenly dropped a feather pillow behind her she would have jumped right up through the ceiling into the studio of Diomed Guerin, the animal painter.

It may be that this state of the nervous system is favorable to literary work; I have heard that theory advocated. On the other hand, there is unquestionably a fatality in first stories similar to the so called "beginner's luck" that lures men into the vice of gambling. Let philosophy wrestle with the explanation while history records the fact that Miss Lestrell sold her first story without any trouble at all and received $25 for it.

"Don't lose your head, my dear," said the experienced Miss Whistler. "It may be 97 years before you sell another one."

Jane did not put any faith in this gloomy prophecy, and she went to work upon her second romance with high hope and fierce determination. But she was nervous, as I have already remarked, and her condition was aggravated by the performances of a gentleman named Franz Reinhardt, whose studio of music was directly beneath Miss Whistler's abode.

The tenants in this building knew little of one another, yet there was a rather definite rumor that Reinhardt was an excellent musician in exceptionally hard luck. It was said that he accepted pupils at the absurd rate of 50 cents an hour, and that most of them never paid him.

Jane, who was very fond of music, believed, during the first days of her residence there, that she should enjoy hearing Reinhardt and his pupils sing. There was a register in the wall—a relic of the days when the building had been a private residence heated by a furnace—and it admitted sounds from the studio of music with remarkable distinctness. They did not annoy Jane in the least until she began to be bothered with that second story, and then she suddenly awoke to the fact that Reinhardt sang only one song—"Palm Branches"—and drilled all his pupils—men, women and children—in one single vocal exercise.

Every morning at 9 precisely he would put himself into condition for the day's labors by singing "Palm Branches" four times, using the Italian words, which he pronounced with a strong German accent. "Palm Branches" is a beautiful hymn of praise, but enough of it is enough. It became so familiar in Miss Whistler's apartment that the lady's canary bird used to sing it. The top of the long black table echoed it like a sounding board, and the legs of the haircloth chairs danced solemnly in perfect time.

It rang in Jane's head until she simply had to sing it. There was no other way to get it out of her mind. In the earlier days she would hum it gently. Later, when the habit had grown upon her, she found no relief except by singing it right out at the top of her voice. At first she was afraid that Mr. Reinhardt would hear her and take offense, but afterward she was afraid that he wouldn't.

She found herself imitating his vocal methods. It was mimicry, and it was very rude, but she absolutely could not help it. When the professor was drilling that song into one of his pupils and Jane was struggling with her story, she would find nothing in her mind at last but "Palm Branches," and only by singing it once, good and strong, could she get into condition to resume her work.

It was nearly as bad with the vocal exercise. In fact, after a time it was in one respect worse, for she began to associate it with a particular individual of whom she knew nothing except that he had a voice like 50 mad bulls. He was a diligent person, with plenty of leisure, for he came almost every afternoon and usually remained about two hours. He devoted himself entirely to the vocal exercise, and he always made precisely the same mistake in it.

That is very harrowing to the nerves of the listener. One must have an iron constitution to stand it.

"If he makes that mistake again today," Jane would say to herself, "I shall certainly go down stairs and beat his brains out. No, no; he can't have any! He's done it again for the forty millionth time! Oh, you idiot!"

Then she would sing the exercise herself, sometimes with her head out of the window, for politeness' sake, sometimes defiantly, desperately. And one day, when the story was particularly annoying and the roaring basso more stupid than usual, she went in a frenzy directly to the register and yelled that vocal exercise into it until the antique, dilapidated furnace far down in the cellar rang like the cymbals in a band.

This really frightened her, not only because it was so very rude, but because it was the final convincing proof that she was going mad. For a month she had suspected it. There could no longer be any doubt. She walked to the black table and tore up all that she had written on her story that day; then she lay down on the fur rug in front of the grate fire and began to cry in a very childish and enjoyable fashion.

She was interrupted by a knock at the door. Such an event was practically unprecedented. In her surprise Jane forgot all about the worries of a literary life and the inconveniences of going crazy. She jumped up from the rug and ran to the looking glass, where she performed those feats of prestidigitation common to her sex under such circumstances. Then she opened the door and beheld a slender and graceful young man, bright eyed and magnetic. He was dressed with elegance and good taste, and his manner appealed at once to Jane, who had an especial liking for earnest, hearty, energetic people.

"I beg your pardon," said he. "May I venture to present my card and ask for just one minute of your time?"

"Won't you come in, Mr. Norton?" said the girl, glancing at the card. "I am Jane Lestrell."

He saluted the mention of her name very gracefully as he stepped into the room.

"This is an attempt," said he, "to make a right of two wrongs. The books say that that can't be done, but I'm not dismayed. I am the fellow who sings so atrociously in Mr. Reinhardt's studio down stairs. Sings! Let me say bellows and be truthful about it. I can't sing any more than a cow and I know it."

SHE FOUND HERSELF IMITATING HIS VOCAL METHODS.

"I think you have a great voice," said Jane. "I can hardly believe—"

"That I'm not as big as an elephant? I don't wonder you're surprised. But really, I don't pretend to sing; I come here to help out my friend, Mr. Reinhardt. He's a splendid fellow, and he is very poor. I'm sure he's an excellent teacher of singing, but he doesn't have a bit of luck. None of his pupils can sing. I'm the only one that can even make much of a noise. Now, it's really necessary for a teacher to have some pupils that can become known and attract others. Of course I can never do that, but I can pay for my lessons, which is more than most of them can do. You'll pardon me for mentioning it, but I'm quite well off, and Reinhardt won't take a cent from me except in this way. He's such a good fellow! If you knew him, you'd forgive me for annoying you the way I have with my awful howling. And—and that's what I came up here to say."

"Mr. Norton," said Jane, with her face as red as fire, "did you hear me just now?"

"Why, yes," said he. "We heard you singing the exercise. We've heard you before, and you sing it beautifully. Mr. Reinhardt says that you have a voice like all the nightingales in paradise—that's the way he puts it, and the tears come into his eyes every time he mentions you. He says that you could make your everlasting fortune in concert or opera and win a fame that would reach around the world three times and tie in a double bowknot. That was the way he expressed it, very respectfully, but with his peculiar enthusiasm. I wish you could take a course with him."

"I am taking a course with him," responded Jane. "I sing 'Palm Branches' 25 times a day, and I go through that exercise in my sleep—I really do. I wake myself up with it. And now I'm going to say something perfectly absurd, but it's true. My voice has improved! I really have learned Mr. Reinhardt's method without in the least meaning to do so, and I know that I sing a good deal better for it."

"If I should tell him that," said Norton, "he would die of joy."

"Then please don't tell him," she rejoined. "It's hardly honest to get instruction in that way, and I'm quite ashamed of it. But I'm much more ashamed of having been so childish as to let you and him know that the music annoyed me. I have been so very, very nervous"—

And she told him all about her entry into literature and its painful results.

"You almost tempt me," said she in conclusion, "to give up story writing and try to do something with my voice. I have been told once or twice that I sing quite well."

"FRANZ," SAID HE, "SHE'S COMING DOWN."

"Well!" echoed Norton. "Why, Reinhardt swears that the cherubim and seraphim aren't fit to hum an accompaniment when you are singing! Won't you please come down and sing for him just once? I tell you in the calmest possible manner that Reinhardt would be willing to be burned alive the next minute if you would sing the half of one song for him—the shortest one ever written."

"I suppose that is the way he expressed it," said Jane, with a smile. "I begin to perceive where this extravagant language originates. I don't believe that Mr. Reinhardt is so enthusiastic."

Norton laid his hand upon his heart solemnly, while his fine, dark eyes shone with earnestness.

"If you will think of the most terrible and binding pledge ever uttered by man or woman since the world began," said he, "I will vow to you by it that Reinhardt"—

"I will take your simple word," said she, laughing, "and I will sing for Mr Reinhardt within ten minutes. Will you please prepare him for the ordeal?"

Norton made a graceful exit, and the next moment he burst into his friend's studio.

"Franz," said he, "she's coming down. In one minute you will see what nature was trying to do when she made all the other beautiful women that ever walked the earth. They were mere experiments, Franz, and Miss Lestrell is the first perfect and complete success."

"I am glad she will come," said the blond young German gravely. "She has a good voice, as it sounds through the floor."

Probably Reinhardt's absence of enthusiasm, after Norton's superabundance, piqued Jane somewhat. She is an obstinate girl, with a touch of vanity in her composition. Whatever the cause, she determined to make Reinhardt understand that she really had a voice. So she went to his studio three times a week for many months and worked like a little slave, subsisting meanwhile on the proceeds of a story or two and her own grit.

The result is well known in musical circles. Jane is a full fledged prima donna, and Reinhardt is the rage as a teacher. And, incidentally, Mr Willis Norton has found out what love is—the one thing in this universe that is too big even for his powers of exaggeration. At present his fate is uncertain, but if protestations of devotion can win a woman Norton cannot possibly lose.

The Height of Ingenuity.

Jaggles—What do you think is the most wonderful machine ever invented?

Waggles—The one that puts the folds in time tables.—Judy.

REVENGE IS AWFUL

Startling Developments From the Minnesota Transfer Fire Indicate Desperate Plot.

TWO MEN ARE UNDER ARREST

While the Police Are on the Trail of Others Supposed to be Involved in the Crime.

The St. Paul police believe that they have the men who were responsible for the fire at the Midway Oct. 21, 1900, which caused the death of four firemen and the destruction of a half million dollar's worth of property. They have Seagard Olson and Magnus Jensen under arrest at the central station charged with complicity in the alleged arson.

The story told by those that are credited with having some knowledge of the affair is almost unrivalled in the police annals of St. Paul, and the disclosure was made by one Howard who was confined in the Hennepin county jail together with Olson and Jensen. Howard's confession runs as follows:

"I was arrested in September for selling cattle to Hinman, the proprietor of the slaughter house at Midway. When arraigned I pleaded guilty and Hinman made a statement against me. I was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. In July Seagard Olson, who was a friend of mine, was arrested for robbing a tailor shop in North Minneapolis, and we were both in jail together. Seagard asked me to plead guilty to robbing the tailor shop, and as I had already received my sentence, I knew that it wouldn't make any difference, so I agreed. I went on the stand and proved that I robbed the tailor shop. At the time I wore a coat that had been stolen from the shop and had been smuggled into the jail to me by a girl friend of Olson's named Emlie. She took the coat that I had been wearing, and when I testified in court I told them that I had stolen the coat which I was wearing at the time. The tailor identified the coat as one that had been stolen from him. Olson was discharged. He told me on leaving that he would repay me by burning Hinman's place. I remonstrated with him and urged him not to, but later I received the following note from him:

"We are about to touch up Midway. will be in Chicago at the time, so suspicion will not rest on me. To fix it so that they won't catch on, we have arranged to touch off the McCormick works in Chicago at the same time that we start McCormick's and the slaughter house at the Midway.

—"Seagard."

The note was brought to me by Magnus Jensen. I urged him also to persuade them from burning the place, but it was no use.

All of the parties connected with the commission of the crime have been inmates of the state reformatory at St. Cloud, and Howard has done time at Stillwater once before. The trio number among the toughest of the criminal element in the northwest, and there is little or no doubt as to the truth of Howard's confession.

INDIAN DIFFICULTIES

Growing Dissatisfaction Among the Different Tribes Causes Anxiety.

The disaffection among the Indians in Indian territory seems to be spreading, and considerable uneasiness is being aroused over the situation. The following reports come from different points in the territory:

South McAlester, I. T., Jan. 25.—About 20 full-blood Choctow Indians, camped north of here, passed resolutions deposing Governor Dukes and elected a full blood Indian named Daniel Bell, governor.

It is also said that the full-blood Cherokees are preparing to rise up against the whites and Indians who are favorable toward opening up the country to white settlement.

Muskogee, I. T., Jan. 25.—Chief Brown of the Seminoles yesterday appealed to the authorities here for aid, stating that a number of his tribe threatened to join the anti-allotment Creeks who have been terorizing the peaceable Indians for several days.

It is expected that within twenty-four hours the band of marauders will number over 1,000 armed Indians, sworn to stand against the soldiers.

Marshall Bennett and Indian Agent Shoenfelt yesterday mustered their forces of deputies and Indian police and ordered them to Brush Hill, ten miles west of Checotah, where the Indians are in council and demand their surrender.

Troop A of the Eighth cavalry, ordered from Reno, will leave the cars at Holdenville and make an overland charge into the nation.

Eufaula, I. T., Jan. 25.—Ex-Chief Roley McIntosh of the peaceable or treaty party, and about twenty followers have taken refuge in Eufaula. John Cruk, a leader of one of the insurrectionary Creek Indian bands and some of his men, plan to capture McIntosh and his police.

AN UNSAVORY STORY

And a Strange Marriage Cause Uneasiness Among Pelican Rapids People.

The following rather sensational story of illigitimate conduct of a man, old enough to know better, appeared in the Fergus Falls Journal last week:

Among the marriage licenses taken out the past week was one for Wm. Henshaw and Annie Moore. The parties reside at Pelican Rapids and there is rather an unsavory story in regard to the case. Henshaw, who is about 10, came from Missouri with a woman and a young girl aged about 15. The woman was supposed to be his wife, at any rate they lived together and the child went to the public schools. The girl was somewhat backward and was in a grade with girls about 10 years old. The first thing any one knew that there was anything wrong was when Henshaw and the girl were married by Judge Frankberg. About fifty of the best people in Pelican Rapids called at Henshaw's and wanted an explanation. He was somewhat nervous at so much attention and said he had lived with the woman with the understanding that he should marry the girl when she grew up. The time had now arrived when it was necessary for him to marry the girl at once. The callers notified him to leave town within forty-eight hours and take his shame with him but at last reports he had not yet gone. Henshaw teams and the woman has been doing washing.

IT DOESN'T PLEASE HILL

The Great Northern President Was Bitterly Opposed to Senator Clapp.

It is learned on excellent authority that the sorest man in the state since Moses E. Clapp's election to the United States senate is no other than J. J. Hill. Some newspapers and some political commentators have tried to make it appear that Mr. Hill was really behind Gen. Clapp, who has been his attorney in times past.

But Mr. Hill was opposed to Clapp, and for a reason intensely characteristic of the man. Mr. Hill, notwithstanding his mental breadth, is a man of remarkably strong prejudices. His attitude toward others is often notoriously determined by prejudices rather than judgment.

Moses E. Clapp presided at a pro-Boer meeting in St. Paul last summer and voices his sympathies with the Boers in strong language.

Mr. Hill is a Canadian by birth, and his sympathies are naturally with the English, besides which his business relations have been such as to make him an English sympathizer. The pro-Boer speech was Clapp's finish with Hill. Mr. Hill freely and frankly stated to a caller who came to sound him on the senatorial succession that a man who would go off on a tangent so unreasonably as Mr. Hill conceived Mr. Clapp has done in so rashly expressing devotion to the Boers, was an unsafe man to have in the United States senate.

Mr. Hill further said at that time, about the middle of December, that he preferred Evans to Clapp.

HER NEXT STOP

Scotch Nell is Deported From Moorhead to Breckenridge.

It didn't take the Moorhead police a long time to solve the weighty problem of ridding that city of the famous "Scotch Nell." She was kept in the Moorhead jail all day yesterday after interviewing Judge Sharpe, who thought a thirty day sentence or a ten dollar fine would prove a suitable remedy for her case. This he did, and when Nell told him her opinion on the trivial matter, in her most approved style, he immediately changed the sentence on condition that she leave the city at her earliest opportunity.

She promised to obey the order of the court and left last evening for Breckenridge over the Great Northern.

The police of Breckenridge had now better prepare for the tipping of the earth, or some other surprise, new to the citizens of that noted burg.

His Wife Saved Him.

My wife's good advice saved my life writes F. M. Ross of Winfield, Tenn., for I had such a bad cough I could hardly breathe, steadily grew worse under doctor's treatment, but my wife urged me to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me." Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Pneumonia, Asthma, Hay Fever and all maladies of Chest, Throat and Lungs are positively cured by this marvelous medicine. 50c. and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottle free at A. G. Anderson's drug store.

Pan-American Exposition.

On the American shore of the Niagara River, on the outskirts of the city of Buffalo, N. Y., within short distance of Niagara Falls, from May 1st to Nov. 1st, 1901, will transpire one of the most important events in the history of the Western Hemisphere. The curtain of the Great Show will be raised, which will present the opening scene in a blaze of glory, never before equaled in the history of America. This collossal aggregation of exhibits will show the wonderful achievements of science, exemplified by the matchless genius of the two Americas, and fittingly portray their high educational values.

The Nickel Plate Road has issued an attractive and valuable descriptive folder pamphlet, elaboratively illustrating the Pan-American Exposition fully describing this important event, and elaborately illustrating the buildings and grounds.

The Nickel Plate Road is the short line between Chicago and Buffalo. That popular passenger line offers competent train service between Chicago and Buffalo, as it does also between Chicago and New York City, Boston and all points east, with modern trains, supplied with the latest designs of Drawing Room Buffet Pullman Sleeping Cars, and Dining Car service of the highest order.. The Nickel Plate Road offers meals in its Dining Cars on the popular American Individual Club System, ranging in price to suit the appetite, from 35 cents to $1.00, but no meal at a cost greater than one dollar. No excess fares are charged on any train of the Nickel Plate Road.

Call on any ticket agent for a Pan-American Folder of the Nickel Plate Road, or address John Y. Calahan, General Agent, 111 Adams St., Chicago, Ill. Parties desiring hotel or rooming accommodations at Buffalo or Niagara Falls during any period of the Pan-American Exposition, are invited to apply by letter or otherwise to F. J. Moore, General Agent, Nickel Plate Road, No. 291 Main, St., Buffalo, N. Y. 3

STATE DRAINAGE

An Appropriation of One Hundred Thousand Dollars Will be Asked for That Purpose.

BILL IS BEING FORMULATED

By a Joint Drainage Committee, and Will be Introduced Next Week.

Among the important bills to be introduced during the session of the Minnesota legislature is one being formulated by the joint drainage committee. Wednesday or Thursday of next week, Senator Myran, chairman of the senate committee, and Representative Berg, of the house committee, will introduce in both branches of the legislature a bill providing for the expense of drainage of the state. The sum of $100,000 will be appropriated for the purpose and a commission appointed to carry on the work.

It is considered that the state will be simply loaning the moneys thus expended, as it is well known, especially in the northern portion of the state, that there are thousands of acres of land at the present time worthless and beyond taxation that can be reclaimed if drainage is introduced, and that the revenue thus accruing to the state will more than make up the sum expended at this time to reclaim the land.

The idea embraced in the bill is to have a commission, consisting of the governor, state auditor and secretary of state, and possibly E. G. Valentine, Breckenridge, president of the state drainage commission, who began the operations now about to be executed in the Red River valley, under whose direction the money appropriated is to be expended. The bill itself simply makes provision for the appropriation and the appointment of the commission, and the members of the latter are expected to formulate the best plan by which its provisions can be carried out.

Judging from the expression of those who have stated their views on the subject, the matter is one that will be advocated by every member of the house, as its proper enforcement will be of inestimable value to the people of the state.

The Red River valley is the principal portion of the state that will be benefited by the provisions of the contemplated law, and there is no doubt in the minds of any conversant with the situation but what it is absolutely necessary that this work should be undertaken. Of course, the operations of the commission will not be confined to the state alone; the principal work will have to be done there.

MORE RAILROAD

The Northern Pacific Will Construct an Extension From Milnor to Oakes.

Ellendale, N. D., Jan. 24.—The significance of extension of the Northern ern Pacific from Milnor to Oakes is being more clearly understood now. The great width of the grade on this extension, the heavy steel rails laid, the capacity of the engine house at Oakes, the style of the Y at Oakes and the location of the water tanks east, have all confirmed the observers in the opinion that there is a greater service for the line than that of carrying the surplus foreign traffic from Jamestown to St. Paul and thereby relieving the crowded condition via Fargo. An official of the road has shown a diagram of what will develop within the next few months. The road will be extended from Oakes to Ellendale in a nearly direct line and from Ellendale west a mile or so north of the state line to the Missouri. A surveying party of a dozen men are now at the Missouri locating the bridge. At that point there is an excellent coal deposit, about 29 feet in thickness, and between Ellendale and the Missouri a splendid farming and stock country is tapped, now well settled. Before the season ends this line will reach the main line about Big Horn Junction, Mont., and by using this new line, as a glance at the map will show, the N. P. will have shortened its main line from St. Paul to the coast by over 100 miles. In another year the Black Hills will be reached.

QUESTION OF SANITY

Attorneys Gathering Evidence in Minneapolis for the Barry Trial.

The Minneapolis Journal of Saturday says:

The first move in the trial of Wm. Barry of Milton, N. D., for murder takes place at Minneapolis this week. Judge Cochrane of Grand Forks, who has been employed to assist the state in proving Barry's guilt, is here to gather evidence.

Barry killed his hired man in cold blood. Stabbed him in the neck. His attorneys will enter the plea of insanity. The history of Barry's family is full of insanity, and the sister who was the real cause of the crime is now in the state insane asylum at Jamestown.

Much of the evidence consequently will be that of experts on insanity, and the state is preparing the part of its case bearing on that point. The evidence of several Minneapolis authorities on insanity will figure in the trial.

Stop the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, no Pay. Price 25 cents.

IT'S AN ILL OMEN,

Thinks the wife, to have the wedding ring slip from the finger. "Something is going to happen."

Something is happening. That ring could hardly be pulled from the finger when it was put there a few years ago. Now it slips off by its own weight. How thin the fingers have grown! And the fingers don't grow thin alone. How thin the face is and how thin the once plump form. Almost unconsciously the wife has been fading and wasting away. The strength given to children has never been regained. Drains which should have been stopped have been neglected.

That is a common experience with women, unless some friend has shared with them the secret of the strengthening and healing power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, dries the drains which undermine the strength, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes the baby's advent practically painless and gives vigor and vitality to nursing mothers.

"Words cannot tell how grateful I am for your kind advice and good medicines," writes Mrs. John Cooke, of Hastings, Northumberland Co., Ontario. "I have been in poor health for four years back and this spring got so bad I could not do my work. I went to the doctor and he said I had ulceration and falling of the internal organs, but thought I would try your 'Favorite Prescription.' I took five bottles and three of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, and I can safely say that I never felt better in my life."

A Ladies' Laxative—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One single, small pellet is a laxative dose.

BEMIDJI IMPROVING

There Are Some Visible Signs of Religious Reform in the Wicked Town.

The Crookston papers often point to Bemidji as a horrid town. But now we have proof that there is more Christianity floating around here than at that point. The Salvation Army sold 200 copies of the Christmas War Cry in Bemidji and only 130 in Crookston.—Pioneer.

This is really good news to come from a town with the reputation like that of Bemidji. But there is a doubt existing in our mind, if one-fifth o those who bought the Cry could tell hat paper from a Police Gazette.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

Order For Hearing Proof of Foreign Will

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.—ss.

In Probate Court, special term, January 15, 1901.

In the matter of the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased.

Whereas, Certain writings purporting to be duly authenticated copies of the last Will and testament of Emilie A. Jennings late of Pierce county, Washington, deceased, and the probate thereof in the Superior court in said county and state have been delivered to this court:

And, Whereas, Wallace H Jennings has filed therewith his petition, representing among other things that said Emilie A. Jennings lately died in said County of Pierce, State of Washington testate possessed of certain real estate, situated in said County of Polk and State of Minnesota on which the said Will may operate, and that said petitioner is the executor named in said Will and praying that the said instrument may be admitted to probate and that letters testamentary be to I. U. Jennings issued thereon;

It is Ordered, That the proofs of said instrument, and the said petition, be heard before this court, at the probate office in said county, on Wednesday the 13th day of February, A. D. 1901, at two o'clock in the afternoon, when all persons interested may appear for, or contest the probate of said instrument.

And it is Further Ordered, That notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Polk County Journal a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston in said county.

Dated at Crookston the 15th day of January, A. D. 1901.

By the Court.
OLE E. HAGEN,
Judge of Probate.

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.—ss. In district court.

Agnes Bruggeman, as executrix of the last will and testament of John H. Bruggeman, deceased, plaintiff,

Against

D. W. Lake, W. B. Wood, the Merchants National bank of Crookston, James Pulkrabek and Pulkrabek, co-partners under the firm name and style of Pulkrabek Bros., and John Birkholz, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants and each of them:

You and each of you are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the action above entitled, which has been filed and is now on file, in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to said complaint upon the undersigned at his office in the City of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated Dec. 26, 1900

A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiff.
Crookston, Minnesota.

39-44

Summons.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK,—ss. In District Court.
SHELDON W. VANCE, and
GEORGE F. STONE, Plaintiffs,
vs.
——DUGGAN, TIMOTHY SULLIVAN,
——KINSELLA, Copartners as
DUGGAN, SULLIVAN & KINSELLA,
Defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named Defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiffs in the above entitled action, which said complaint has been filed and is now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court within and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office in the city of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint, within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

—A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiffs,
Crookston, Minn.

Dated Jan. 12, 1901. 42-47

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.
Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000.
TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.
Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Orders Bought.
INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.
C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist
Dealer in Drugs, Druggist's Sundries.
Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.
Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.
Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.
George Q. Erskine, President. Wm. Anglim, Vice-President
J. W. Wheeler, Cashier. H. Robertson Asst. Cashier.
Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000
Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS:
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.
Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

The Riverside Dairy
Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.
E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

This Will Interest the Farmers.
The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making
FARM LOANS
at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.
Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

Burlington Route
Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis
"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.
P. S. Eustis, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.
Geo. P. Lyman, Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B. & Q. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

C. L. DOBNER, Pres. H. G. DOBNER, Vice Pres. S. F. STAPLES, Sec. and Treas.
Northern Real Estate and Mortgage Company.
(INCORPORATED)
THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.
First Class Farm Mortgages for Sale. Farms bought and sold. List your farms with us. Money loaned on improved farms in this neighborhood. Office over First State Bank.
REFERENCES—First State Bank, Thief River Falls. Scandia American Bank, Crookston. Scandinavian American Bank, St. Paul.

$1.00 a year The Criterion 10c a copy
The Best Illustrated Monthly Magazine of the Kind Published.
A Trial Subscription Will Prove It.
Write Today for Sample Copy.
Its pages are filled by a brilliant array of writers and artists. Its authoritative and independent reviews of books, plays, music and art, its clever stories, strong special articles, humor and verse, with fine illustrations, make it a necessity in every intelligent home. The very low subscription price—$1.00 per year—puts it within the reach of all. Reliable agents wanted in every town. Extraordinary inducements. Write for particulars.
CRITERION PUBLICATION CO.,
Subscription Department, 41 East 21st St., New York City

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

DONALDSON.

O. J. Mulvey is down with the grip.

Miss Mary Kinfoyl went to Warren Monday.

Lind and Maine took in the sights at Kennedy Wednesday.

Miss Cedarholm and Miss Bessie Nichols are victims of the grip.

Wm. Hesse left Monday for Red Lake where his claim is located.

Mrs. Kinmer is rapidly recovering from her recent attack of the grip.

A pleasant little party was given by Ernest Warnsee last Sunday.

A. Nichols is busy filling his ice house for the summer's supply.

Ernest Muler took a drive out east Friday last. Wonder what is up, Ernest?

J. B. Maine now owns the driving team, formerly the property of Ang. Mattson.

F. C. Taft and wife returned last Wednesday from their trip to Crookston and Climax.

Donaldson dancers enjoyed themselves at Stephen and Kennedy Friday evening.

A Felt took leave of Donaldson on Saturday and went to his brother's home west of here.

Dennis Wright and Wm. Rideout passed through here Saturday on their way to Thief River Falls.

Miss Nettie Forde returned Friday from Crookston where she has been visiting with Mrs. Murphy. She will likely to go back in the spring.

Magnus Olson is erecting a new stable and feed shed, as he will soon start grinding grain for the farmers in this vicinity, at a low and reasonable rate.

BIRKHOLZ.

Misses Josie and Lena Dalen have gone back to Argyle.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dunning were in Grand Forks on a shopping trip on Saturday.

We regret to say that Mrs. Robert Olson is very ill. Dr. Westeen of Grand Forks is attending her.

Misses Effie and Pearl Whitney have returned from their visit to relatives in Dakota.

John Doyle and Huston Patterson drove down to Big Woods and returned on Saturday.

Bruce Dunning was threshing nearly all last week. The grain seems to be in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thompson are visiting friends and relatives at Gary, Norman county, for a few weeks.

Miss Regina Ausett, of Grand Forks, who has been visiting her parents here for the past two weeks, has returned to the city.

Mrs. Peter Mitmoe, who has been in the Deaconess hospital at Grand Forks, has so far recovered that she came home last Friday.

Quite a number of Dakota people patronize our store at this place. We wonder how it will be when the great natural bridge goes out in the spring?

Johnny Larson is seriously sick. We hope he will soon be able to get around again. Lars Dallum is also very ill with typhoid fever.

THIEF RIVER FALLS.

W. T. Mullarky left Wednesday for LosVegas, Mex.

I. G. Ballard has returned from an extended trip to Canada.

Chas. Evenson is putting a new front in his store on Main street.

Christianson & Hanson have opened up with a stock of general merchandise.

Isadore Servin has opened a clothing store on Third street. He names it the "Twentieth Century Store."

Mr. Jenson, organizer for the Maccabees, is securing charter petitioners with a view to instituting a hive here.

Mrs. P. O. Johnson and daughter Elodie went to St. Paul to consult a specialist in regard to the latter's health.

P. Yeh and C. A. Robbecke are planning a trip to the coast. They will travel through Mexico, Texas and as far north as Alaska.

Miss Mary Quandy has closed her millinery store for a few days. She intends to move her building at St. Hilaire to this place. The will then occupy her own store.

The drug firm of Peterson & Curtis has been dissolved. Mr. Curtis will conduct the business and Mr. Peterson is going to Portland or Seattle to look up a new location.

Last Monday night Ed Dieder, a man residing in the First ward, was found lying in a helpless condition in front of the Cash store. M. Bothern, the proprietor, secured assistance, carried him into the store and sent for Drs. Francis and Tupper. After an examination it was found to be a case of poisoning. The physicians succeeded in resuscitating him, and as soon as the man could explain, he said that he had taken two drinks of what he supposed was whisky, in one of the saloons, and had barely swallowed it when he began to feel cramps. He at once started for home, but lost consciousness and was found as stated above. He has the prompt action of Mr. Bothern and the doctors to thank for still being among the living.

FERTILE.

Mrs. Dunston, wife of Prof. Dunston of this place, is on the sick list.

There will be some radical changes in business circles here in the spring.

James Bain, the jovial stock buyer, made Fertile a pleasant call this week.

The Fertile orchestra will furnish music for a grand masquerade ball at Twin Valley Monday night.

J. A. Erickson was elected as a representative to the grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. last Tuesday evening.

It is stated on good authority that a large general store will be erected on the K. J. Hogan lot on Washington avenue.

H. L. Gaylord has purchased the lot belonging to J. C. Johnson on Washington avenue and will put up a large hotel as soon as spring opens.

Erine Barholz has sold out his share in the Fertile House to his brother Fred. Erine will take a trip to the coast before long to see the country. We wonder if he will go alone.

Drs. Dunlap of Crookston and Anderson and Risjard of this place performed an operation on Mrs. O. O. Kvenvolden. The operation was a very difficult one, but the patient is getting along as nicely as could be expected.

KNUTE.

O. H. Dale's children are on the sick list.

Miss S. Olson is visiting friends in Crookston. Onan is very lonely.

Rev. Finstad preached here last Sunday. There was a large attendance.

Victor Jenson and Alfred Jorgenson are learning telegraphy with W. W. Fleming.

T. Jensen still intends to go to British Columbia in the spring, to engage in fishing.

While cutting shavings last week Miss Selma Neslund cut her hand very badly.

Erik Busk left Monday for Alberta, where he will reside in the future. His family will follow in April.

Geo. Lawrence was out this way today. In the spring he will build a house and barn on his farm.

B. B. and A. J. wonder who writes from Knute for the Journal. Well, just be patient and you may find out later.

The plan to build a creamery at Gossen seems to meet with favor around here. K. Rollag and G. Abrahamson are among the prime movers.

Mr. Sarfelt, of Maple Bay, who owns a portable saw and feed mill, is here and most of the farmers are getting a supply of wood cut and feed ground. His rates are very reasonable.

The pupils of No. 171 held a spelling school here last Saturday night. Victor Jenson was the winner at spelling. After recess a program consisting of declamations, songs and dialogues was given, which was listened to with much pleasure by all.

ANGUS.

John Haska spent Monday in Warren.

L. J. Lake spent Monday in Crookston.

G. C. Winchester was in town on Sunday.

The social Friday night was a grand success.

J. R. Stevens spent Wednesday in Crookston.

C. R. Perkins drove to Warren on Saturday.

John McLennen went to Grand Forks Wednesday.

D. McLennen drove to Crookston Wednesday.

Blanche Perkins spent Sunday with her parents.

Rev. Fraser of Crookston preached here Monday night.

Nels Moe went to Halstad on Saturday night to see his family.

Mrs. R. King and daughter Edith spent Wednesday in Warren.

Some of the young people attended the dance in Euclid Friday night.

Geo. McGlardy came down from Warren Thursday on a visit to friends.

Mrs. G. Evans and daughters Cora and Leora and son Arthur drove to Warren on Tuesday.

Cliff and Falk McLennen and D. H. Miller and son Harvey attended the Burns banquet in Grand Forks on Friday night.

KENNEDY.

Kelly's funmakers are billed to appear in the M. W. A. hall on the 30th and 31st.

Miss Ulrica Cedarholm of Donaldson Sundayed with folks here and proceeded to Hallock.

Joseph Estlund is taking a course at the G. A. college at St. Peter. He went down last Friday.

Track shipment is being revised and a considerable number of cars have been loaded at the dump lately.

A number of cases of grip and consequent sickness are reported in the village and from the surrounding country.

The masquerade ball last Friday evening proved in every way a popular affair. Some fifty maskers attended and everybody had a high old time. Several prizes were given.

Our little village is now as well equipped in the way of fire protection as any town along the line. The plant arrived, was satisfactorily tested, accepted and paid for last week.

The Woodmen and local camp of Royal Neighbors are preparing to give a program at their public installation of officers Feb. 1, the whole to conclude with a banquet. A happy time is looked for.

Dennis Rice and Wm. Rideout, two of our prominent and popular young men, have gone away out east to see what they can do in the way of locating some real estate.... they find anything to their liking, they will file on the same.

Rev. H. . Chilgren was here Tuesday and attended the meeting of the trustees of the different congregations making up the pastorate, to consider the advisability of redivision, the field being now so large as to require the services of two ministers. The proposition carried and will now be submitted to the general conference.

It has been rumored lately that the former Atlantic hotel will be turned into a hospital or local dispensary for the benefit and convenience of suffering humanity. The idea is a good one and will meet with success. We feel sure that when the promoters of the project submit definite plans, the same will be endorsed and favored by our citizens.

FELTON.

Jack Lang drove to Fargo Sunday.

H. O. Dewel was an Erskine visitor Monday.

E. B. Fox transacted business at Ada Friday.

J. J. Opsahl left Tuesday evening for Moorhead.

C. L. Tainter was a Moorhead visitor Saturday.

Dr. Stewart, of Ada, was a Felton visitor Tuesday.

Ole Larson, of Borup, was in the city Friday and Saturday.

Dr. McIntosh was a Crookston visitor Tuesday between trains.

E. F. Swift, the McCormick collector, is in the city this week.

E. A. Amundson returned from his Iowa trip Friday morning.

G. W. Stark left for the woods at Bemidji Wednesday morning.

Mrs. E. A. Amundson and Miss A. Minogue were Ada visitors Wednesday.

J. J. Hayes returned Wednesday morning from his southern Minnesota trip.

Miss Nettie Guisness returned home Saturday evening after an extended visit at Borup with friends and relatives.

J. R. Waters left for Erskine Monday morning to look after a real estate deal.

J. E. Stewart, of Sabin, is collecting for the Dowagiac people in this vicinity this week.

Cashier Jenkins, of the State Bank of Ada, transacted business in this locality Tuesday.

James Corbett left Thursday morning for Bemidji to try and dispose of some baled hay.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Murphy celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary last Monday evening.

E. J. Murphy left Monday evening for Dougherty, Ia., for a short visit with his wife's folks.

A few of the Feltonites attended the dance at Borup Saturday evening. A good time was reported.

Conrad Grinna and C. O. Dokken came in from Borup Saturday for a short visit with friends.

Quarantines are being raised now at Reil and nearly all the patients who have had diphtheria are getting well.

Jack Lang has accepted a position with the Dowagiac people of Fargo and will soon take up his new duties.

Will Lang, of Moorhead, was in the city the first of the week looking after the interests of the Wheeler Land company.

Seivert Johnson's daughter has been very ill for some time, but is getting along nicely under the care of Dr. McIntosh.

Julius Guisness, who has been visiting relatives at this place for some time, returned to his home last Monday evening.

Julius Bilden has purchased a corner lot from A. B. Klivegaard and is contemplating the erection of a new residence in the near future.

W. H. Byfield received a telegram Friday morning from his wife at Mayville, N. D., stating that she was very ill. Mr. Byfield drove to Glyndon and took the N. P. passenger for his home.

MENTOR.

I. K. Messelt has been very sick with the prevailing disease, grip.

Rev. S. E. Odland of Maplebay made Mentor a professional call Wednesday.

Mrs. Emil Bakken leaves today for Dalton, this state, for an extended visit with her parents.

Mrs. Nels Nelson, Jr., returned from the hospital at Foston Sunday, very much improved in health.

Mrs. L. Larson and Miss Inga Stenide went to Fosston Wednesday. Mrs. Larson to consult Dr. McKinnon.

P. Moe drove over from Maplebay Saturday morning and took the train to Fosston, where he went to consult Dr. McKinnon.

President Felsing of the Maplebay Wind Stacker company, was here today enroute for Crookston in the interest of his company.

Ed Sandles, of Woodside, died of consumption last Saturday. He leaves a wife and three small children to mourn his loss.

J. O. Sather has been appointed agent for the Crookston Steam laundry at Mentor, and laundry can be left at Tagley's store hereafter.

V. Chaffee of Grand Forks is here with seven teams and full aparatus for cutting and loading ice from Maple Lake for shipment to Grand Forks. Something like forty cars will be loaded.

N. Narveson of Erskine was here Friday looking up a location for a hardware store. He was very much pleased with our city, and will put in a stock as soon as a suitable building can be procured.

A sleigh load of young people from our village attended a dancing party at the farm home of William Remick on Friday evening last. Every one reports a splendid time, and greatly praises Mr. and Mrs. Remick as entertainers.

Your correspondent understands that they have about organized a co-operative creamery association at Erskine, our neighboring town. That is exactly what the farmers of Grove Park should be up to. It is a well known fact that we average more good milch cows to each farmer than many other places where a first class creamery is in operation. Several farmers make and bring to market from fifteen to twenty-five pounds of butter every week during the winter months. There is also more than half a dozen cream separators in operation within five miles of Mentor. This community is as thickly setled as many of the older counties where several creameries are in operation. This is the right time of the year to go at it. Why not call a meeting at once and see what can be done?

DUGDALE.

John Ricke is on the sick list.

Miss Mary Madison of Fertile is visiting friends here for a short time.

Mrs. John Forsythe, who is very ill, is under the care of Dr. Dunlop of Crookston, and all hope for her speedy recovery.

The mail carrier from Dugdale to Leeston had quite an exciting runaway, but luckily escaped without injury to himself, although his rig was somewhat broken up.

Arthur Adams has returned from Crookston where he underwent an operation for cancer of the hip. Dr. Dunlop performed the operation and the patient is greatly improved.

GARY.

School opened again Monday for the winter term.

Miss Sarah Iverson visited Faith friends Sunday.

Mrs. Henricks visited with Crookston friends last Saturday.

Miss Stena Ellingson took the morning train for Climax last Friday.

Rev. Lien went up to Grand Forks Monday morning, returning the same evening.

A party was given a Larson's Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Lynch, who is soon to depart from this town. Mr. Lynch has secured a position as operator on the Santa Fe Route, and has already been at work there for a month. Mr. Lynch likes Texas, and will take his family down in a few days,

MAPLEBAY.

P. C. Moe was a Fosston visitor Saturday.

Ed Gilbertson and O. Severson visited Fertile Saturday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Hans O. Wik, Sunday, Jan. 27, a girl.

Charles McAnulty of Tilden was at the Bay Monday, after wood.

F. D. Felsing and William Klinger went to Crookston last Saturday on business.

Several of the boys from here attended the Woodmen lodge at Fertile Saturday evening.

[illegible]. B. Hunter spent several days last week at Fosston in the interest of the Singer manufacturing company.

John Wilson returned from Lake Mills, Iowa, Saturday, where he has been for the past week looking after his farm there.

Dr. Risjord of Fertile was called Monday to attend the little girl of And. Christianson who has been quite sick for the past week.

WARREN.

Miss Mary Erickson visited friends at Argyle Sunday.

Mrs. Hong of Thief Lake visited friends in the city last week.

Gornee Evan and wife and two daughters were in Warren Saturday doing some trading.

The ball at the opera house Friday night was well attended and pronounced a grand success.

G. F. Baines, Frank Searls and their families contemplate starting for Sunnyside, Wash., about the middle of February.

L. C. Ketchum has put in a gasoline engine in his market and is now prepared to cut all kinds of meat and sausage in the best of shape.

The L. A. S. will give will give a long and short social at Wood's studio Friday night. All are invited to come and pay according to their weight.

Mr. Zink, of Slab City, in Spruce Valley, brought in a load of cedar posts last Friday. He had 250 posts and received twenty dollars for the same.

L. C. Ketchum's meat carrier made a flying trip to Grand Forks last Saturday night on his wheel, returning on Sunday. He reports wheeling good most all the way between Warren and the Forks.

Mr. Spaulding, of the East Farm, has a force of men baling hay at Thief Lake and he keeps several four horse teams on the road all the time hauling the hay to his farm half a mile west of town. They haul three to four tons to the team.

ERSKINE.

The creamery is a sure go now.

Mrs. C. Christianson is very sick.

L. R. Larson visited at Fosston Tuesday.

Oliver Tweten of Crookston visited in the city Sunday.

L. P. Slatum and N. O. Narveson visited at Mentor Monday.

A. F. Cronquist done business at the county seat Monday, returning Tusday.

W. J. Dargon visited with his family at Crookston Sunday, returning Monday..

Mr. Hoverstad talked creamery here Monday to a good sized audience at Woodmen's hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Zinn and family are going to visit in North Dakota next week, before going to Canada.

J. H. Hiler of Grand Forks was looking over his wood farm this week, returning to the Forks Tuesday.

CLIMAX.

D. G. Scobey spent Tuesday in town with E. O. Miller.

Edward A. Sundseth is the latest addition to the M. W. A. lodge.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sanager, on Saturday last, a daughter.

Arne Johnson returned from Blackduck last Saturday. He thinks Climax beats it altogether.

Miss Emma Satermo left for Donaldson, Minn., last Wednesday morning, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. F. C. Taft.

Our brass band has consolidated with the Neilsville band, and if the boys do their duty in practicing there is no reason why the result should not be a first class band.

J. B. Messner went to Crookston on Tuesday. While he is gone Johnny Ellingson will have charge of the butcher shop.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Eie, Mr. and Mrs. T. Grosfield and Mr. John Swenson of Shelly were Climax callers on Monday, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dr. S. H. Johnson.

Wolves are becoming rather numerous in this vicinity, especially on the Dakota side. They are reported to have been seen in the farm yards in the early morning on several occasions.

Lanager Bros. & Co. have sold out their stock of hardware and machinery, we understand, to H. B. Lanager and F. H. Smith of Reynolds, John Steenersan and E. B. Lanager, formerly of the firm, retiring.

HALSTAD.

Postmaster Iverson went to Fargo on Tuesday evening's train, returning Wednesday morning.

Nels Moe, the wheat buyer at Angus, visited with his family over Sunday and returned Tuesday.

C. C. Sulerud, of Gary, visited with the Suleruds and Semlings over Sunday, returning Tuesday.

Dr. Bennett is kept busy nowadays insuring people against the much-dreaded disease, smallpox, by vaccinating them. He vaccinated 91 patients Monday.

Sam Pederson came home for a short visit last Tuesday. Sam is staying in Fargo having his eyes treated. He was almost blind when he left, but is improving nicely now.

Last Saturday the farmers and citizens of Halstad met at the village hall for the purpose of organizing and getting a creamery built here, and committees were appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws. It's a good thing—push it along.

ROYAL
Baking Powder

Makes the bread more healthful.

Safeguards the food against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

O. C. ROOD

The Cheapest Dry Goods, Furnishing Goods, Shoe and Notion Store in Town.

ONE WEEK OF BARGAINS.

Commencing Monday, Feb. 4th. Sale will continue all week. All Winter Goods Must be Closed Out to make room for New Summer Goods. Prices cut in two.

Dress Goods.	Shoes.
1 lot 50 cent Dress Goods for 37c.	Men's Fine Shoes, worth $1.50 at $1.15.
1 lot 35 cent Dress Goods for 25c.	Ladies' Fine Shoes, worth $1.50, at $1.10.
1 lot 15 cent Dress Goods for 10c.	Misses' Fine Shoes, worth $1.25, at 90c.
	Children's Fine Shoes, worth $1, at 65c.

Big line of Outing flannels light or dark........ 5c
Apron Ginghams, best quality........ 5c
Best Standard Prints light or dark........ 5c
L. L. Unbleached cotton........ 4c
White Outing flannel........ 4c
Heavy Fleece Lined Hose for Ladies, Misses and Boys worth 35c, at........ 18c

All Overshoes and heavy Rubbers at less than cost. Come in and see the new line of Summer Goods—all the latest colors and patterns—French, Scotch and domestic Ginghams, Madras and Dimities.

O. C. ROOD,

Agent for the New Idea Pattern—any pattern 10c.

Polk County Journal

VOL. XXV | CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1901 | No. 44

Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

WAS VERY CROOKED.

The Bisazza Failure Apparently a Piece of Very Much "Bent" Business Transaction.

BANKRUPT SPIRO BISAZZA IS ARRESTED

Under a Warrant Served by Deputy U. S. Marshal Picha, and Placed in Jail.

Another chapter was added to the Bisazza failure last evening, when he was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Stephen J. Picha, just as he and his wife were about ready to board the Northern Pacific passenger train going east. Bisazza was under a cross fire all day yesterday before Referee Vaule at the latter's office, while the attorney for the creditors was putting him through a sweat box deal, in ascertaining the whereabouts of ten thousand or more dollars worth of goods, of which no accounting could be found, and which are believed by the creditors to be fraudulently withheld by Mr. Bisazza. Before adjournment last evening Bisazza was ordered to appear before United States Commissioner Mix, to show cause why he should not be compelled to account for the missing goods, or the equivalent in money. This new and unexpected move seemed to have a sort of a "hurry up" effect upon the insolvent owner of the Peoples' store, and he immediately proceeded to his residence and notified his wife that things were getting too warm for their comfort in Crookston, and that a hasty trip to the coast would have a cooling tendency upon their excited and embarrassed condition. Hurriedly, two tickets were purchased and some time before the arrival of the Northern Pacific passenger, the pair were seen wending their way toward that depot. Their plans, however, were terribly shattered, when upon their arrival at the depot, Deputy United States Marshal Picha stepped upto Bisazza and placed him under arrest. The latter was not to be taken so easily, though, and point blank refused to return to the city. The chief of police had to be telephoned for and the prisoner's counsel. Attorney Steenerson, also was brought into vogue, to say whether or not Bisazza was really a prisoner, or whether some one tried to wring in a bluff on him.

Mr. Steenerson readily recognized Mr. Picha's authority and advised his client to follow his directions. Bisazza and wife, accompanied by the deputy marshall and the chief of police, stepped into a hack and were brought back to the city. The wife of the prisoner was then taken to her residence, and he was hustled off to the county jail, where he was assigned to a cell in the prison ward.

The arrest created a riple of a sensation, and came entirely unexpected to most people who are acquainted with the Peoples' store failure. This morning at 9 o'clock Attorney Hubscheck continued the examination before Referee Vaule, and the latter promised to issue an order sometime during the afternoon, compelling Bisazzs to dig up a certain amount for the missing goods, the exact sum to be decided upon by him after Bisazza's hearing before Commissioner Mix was completed

At 10 o'clock the arguments before Vaule were adjourned, and the prisoner was brought from the county jail to the commissioner's office, where assistant United States District Attorney, M. D. Purdy is conducting the examination for the creditors and Mr. Steenerson appears for Bisazza, who has gotten himself into a mess of unnecessary trouble by his crooked transactions. The examination will be a thorough one and will occupy the greater part of the afternoon. It is plainly apparant from the books of the insolvent, that he conducted his business in a very questionable way, and those who have been in charge sincethe failure, state that there is absolutely no reasonable question as to Bisazza's dishonesty, and his latest attempt, that of getting himself and wife in the clear by running away, lends considerable conviction to this theory.

It is further stated on good authority that instead of being short of $10.000 the sum alleged to be secreted by the insolvent merchant will be nearer $18,000. If he is bound over by the commissioner today, he will have to appear before the United States grand jury at Fergus Falls, sometime next month.

Evidently Bisazza was greatly excited after being placed in jail, and taking a letter from his pocket he tore the paper into a thousand small pieces and threw them on the floor. The two railroad tickets he also tore up into small fragments and deposited them behind a radiator. The letter tearing prompted some suspicion and all the pieces were carefully picked up and are being fitted together, as it is thought the contents of the letter may disclose something of the whereabouts of Weary Willie Willie, who was Bisazza's side partner in his dishonest transactions, and who, if apprehended, could tell a great many things of interest to the creditors of the busted concern. So far only a part of the document has been patched together and it will require some time to complete the task.

The hearing before Commissioner Mix was completed late this afternoon, and Bisazza was bound over to the United States District court n the sum of $5,000. He will be given until tomorrow evening to raise the required bonds, failing of which he will be taken to prison at Fergus Falls to await his trial.

In addition to this Referee Vaule has made his order requiring the prisoner toturn over to the trustees of the creditors $10,000, which Bisazza is alleged to have concealed.

ONLY 10,000 DOLLARS

And Their Whereabouts is What Bothers the Bisazza Creditors.

Frank Habacbeck, attorney for the trustees of the Bisazza insolvency case argued a motion before Referee Vaule yesterday asking why the bankrupt erstwhile proprietor of the Peoples' Store, which concern recently collapsed with a dull, sickening thud, should not be compelled to show up for an accounting of $10,000, a sum which slipped through Bissazza's hands, and of which no trace can be found since the failure. Most of the day wss taken up in hearing the bankrupt merchants testimony in the matter, and other witnesses will be called upon to tell what they know about the disappearance of the money before the creditors of the concern will accept it for granted that little Weary Willie Wilson did not get away with it unknown to Mr. Bisazza.

GRAND FORKS SENSATION

A Minneapolis Couple Goes Away From Home to Air Troubles.

The Grand Forks Herald says that quite a sensation has been caused in that city by the troubles of a couple from Minneapolis. The lady in question has been in the city for a week or more past, and her husband has been here but a few days. It seems she has taken a very decided liking to Grand Forks—to a greater extent in fact than is approved of by her husband. A few days ago they had an interview that was not altogether satisfactory, and the wife says that her beloved husband made threats upon her life. The probable upshot of the matter will be that the lady in question will paddle her own canoe in the future, and it is in the near future.

If this happens there will be some developments that will be of a very interesting character. The people are well known in the Twin Cities, the gentleman in question being particularly prominent there. The trouble here has progressed to such a stage that the police of the city have been called upon and the entire affair will probably be aired in a few days. Until that time the names of the interested parties will be withheld.

MISS BARRY DEAD.

The Cause of the Milton Tragedy Will Not Testify at her Brother's Trial.

Jamestown, N.D., Feb. 7.—Miss Mary Ann Barry, aged 35 years, died at the asylum Tuesday. She had been in the institution since Jan. 6, three days after her brother, William Barry of Milton, Cavalier county, murdered her alleged betrayer, William Mellen. Her death was due to agitated melancholia.

The truth of her statements as to her betrayal by Mellen has been investigated by the hospital physicians, but they will make no statement until the trial of Barry. Should it be proven that her story was merely the fancy of a disordered brain it may have some influence on the trial. The report that the asylum physicians have given out any statement in regard to the matter is untrue.

The remains of Miss Barry were taken east last evening and burial will be at London, Ont., her birthplace. Thomas Barry of Osnabrock, N. D., was present when death came. He accompanied the remains to London.

OUR SENATOR "JACK"

He Wauts to Remove to St. Paul to Become Factory Inspector.

Says the St. Paul Dispatch: The ingenuity of a former St. Paul man is reported to be sorely taxed as to how he can acquire and hold the office of factory inspector before his term has expired as state senator.

Senator J.J. Ryder, familiarly known as "Jack" Ryder, is the subject of this current street gossip. He has been living at East Grand Forks for the past four years, and while publishing a weekly paper there was chosen senator in 1898.

Rumor has it that he will remove to St. Paul, become a factory inspector, quit his newspaper business and Grand Forks, if he can make arrangements to get around the constitutional prohibition that forbids a member of the legislature to hold any state office until his term has expired.

This job of factory inspector is what he is understood to be after. Reports have also connected him with looking for a place under the local democratic administration, but there seems to be little foundation for that. He was a staunch democrat up to 1896, but he quit the party on the silver issue.

BORNE TO REST.

The Remains of Brakeman Louis Hill Taken to Moorhead Last Night.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Louis Hale, who was instantly killed in the railroad accident at Thief River Falls Monday, were conducted at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon, instead of at the Workmen hall, as originally intended, under the auspices of the A. O. U. W. lodge. The body was taken to Moorhead on the evening train for interment, and wss accompanied by a delegation of the members of the Workmen lodge and also a number of railroad men, among whom the deceased stood very highly as a fellow workman and a true associate. Rev. H. P. Fisher conducted the services at the church The Workmen lodge had decorated the casket with a beautiful boquet of natural flowers, upon which were inscribed the initials of the order.

A large concourse of friends of the bereaved family extend sympathy to the widow and her children, as well as to other relatives of the deceased, in this hour of sorrow and anguish.

The Popular Buffalo Route.

this summer on account of the 1901 Pan-American Exposition will be the Nickel Plate Road. Countless thousands will visit this one of the greatest expositions of modern times. The Nickel Plate road will be the popular line. The excellence of its service is well recognized by the traveling public, and the reputation of its train employes in their uniform courtesy to passengers is well known. When you go east see that your ticket reads via the Nickel Plate Road. Write, wire, 'phone or call on John Y. Calahan, General Agent, 111 Adams St., Chicago, Ill. 2

WOLD POISONING.

Too Much Laxity in the Above Case Is Severely Criticised by Marshall County Residents.

CASE NEEDS INVESTIGATION

To Remove and Doubt as to the Old Farmer's Sanity or Mental Incapacity.

In the following article the Warren Sheaf undoubtedly voices the sentiments of every fair minded citizen of Marshal county, who knows the particulars of the mysterious poisoning cases in the Wold household, that have occurred during the past few years, and which are shrouded in deep darkness. The Sheaf says:

On Nov 16, last year, the county authorities brought to Warren from the town of Excel, a farmer by the name of Christian Wold, and the corpse of his thirteen year old daughter, Augusta, who had died shortly before that under suspicious circumstances, for the purpose of making an investigation and examination of the case. Wold was subsequently released as County Attorney Stanton held that the evidence was not sufficient to convict, nor was his mental condition to be sufficiently unbalanced to warrant his bein sent to the insane asylum. An autopsy over the remains of the daughter was held but we understand there was some quibling about paying for the chemical analysis necessary to determine the presence of poison in the stomach. However, th Sheaf is informed that such an analysis was made, and that the result showed the presence of antimony in a sufficiently large quantity to produce death. If committed in Marshal county, as the poison must have been administered by some one, and the people will demand that the matter be sifted to the bottom. There has been too much laxity in this case. We do not know whose fault it is, whether it is the county attorney's or some one else's, but this we do know that the great county of Marshall is rich enough to punish offenders. The man Wold lives on his farm with a ten-year-old son, and another daughter, and for their sake as well as for his own good, and for the protection of society, the case demands investigation. If his mind is unbalanced he is not a safe man to care for these remaining children. And if a crime has been committed it ought to be ascertained and punished.

NEW AND NOVEL.

Was the Entertainment Tendered the Ab-hac-et-ab-hoc Club Last Night.

The entertainment tendered the Ab Hac et Ab Hoc club last evening by Mrs. Boyd Monroe and her sister, Miss Lillian Kelly, at the residence of M. Kelley, 239 Houston avenue, proved a rare treat and furnished delightful amusement for the members present. The program was rather a new one in the amusement line and is called "Millinery and Top Social." Each gentleman had to trim a hat for his lady friend, which the latter had to wear during the entertainment, and the ladies had to provide their gentlemen escorts with a top, which had to be the product of the fair one's handiwork.

Prizes were offered for superiority of workmanship, and Burt Ruettel proved himself an expert at hat trimming, while Miss Olive Fortier displayed great ability at top making and the prizes were awarded to the two persons named.

The rooms were handsomely decorated with trimmed hats, flowers and business signs, and among the latter were some very amusing ones and elicited much merriment. Refreshments were served.

Stole a Coat.

J. P. Lynch is the name, and railroading the profession, a man gave this afternoon as Chief Eck placed him behind the bars in the city lock up. Lynch was passing along Broadway and as he reached the New York Store he noticed a duck coat, sheeplined, covering the frame of a dummy in front of t he building. He approached dummy and soon had him stripped of his wool lined garment and carried it off under his arm. One of the clerks had witnessed the performance of John Peter Lynch, and notified the police, who arrested the man and locked him up. He will have a hearing tomorrow and if he can't prove to the satisfaction of his honor that he removed the wearing apparel for any other than annexation purposes, it may go hard with him.

Nic Schuman is another victim of the vigilant police. Old Nic has of late displayed some peculiar hallucinations one of them the idea that he is an artist. While he was engaged in decorating the walls of a Second street saloon, this afternoon, the police were called and they placed the would be artist under arrest. He will probably be examined as to his mental condition tomorrow. Nic is an old timer here and well known as a harmless toper.

UP IN SMOKE.

Imperial Elevator Company Lose Their Wheat House at Milton.

Yesterday morning a resident of Milton noticed flames coming from the roof of the Imperial elevator at Milton, and though the alarm was at once given, the building was in ashes in a very short space of time, as there were no facilities for fighting such a fire.

The elevator had a capacity of 30,000 bushes and at the time of the burning there was 6,000 bushels of wheat and 4,000 bushels of flax in the building.

F. H. Ellis, who is the superintendent of that line of elevators, was notified of the loss fifteen minutes before the train left Grand Forks for Milton, but managed to get aboard just as it was pulling out. It is understood that the loss is fully covered by insurance. Agent Hatton in charge of the burned elevator, is at a loss to know how the fire originated. The engine house, which was situated but a short distance away, was saved. It was stated that the elevator would be rebuilt in time to handle the next crop.

RICKETT'S WIFE QUITS.

She Got Tired of Vaudeville and Her Chocolate Chocolate Husband.

Willmar, Minn., Feb. 5.—Dave Pickett, the well known pioneer of the colored vaudeville stage, was the star performer in a decided sensation which came to light in this city yesterday. At Litchfield Mrs. Pickett, who is a white woman, left the company and came to this city, hiring out as a domestic in the family of J. B. Learn under another name. Meanwhile Mr. Pickett came to Willmar and instituted a search for his spouse and finally located her at the Learn residence. The eloquence of the redoubtable Dave availed him nothing, and Mrs. Pickett still continues in the service of the Learns and is pronounced a model servant. She is the daughter of well to do parents in Toronto, Ont., and will return to her home in a short time. Mr. Pickett was very much attached to the woman and is quite badly broken up by her late untoward tactics.

LIFE SENTENCE.

Henry Youtsey, an Accomplice in the Goebel Murder, is Sentenced

Georgetown, Ky., Feb. 5—Henry E. Youtsey, stenographer to Gov. Taylor tried as a principal in the shooting of Gov. William Goeble and found guilty, was arraigned before Judge Cantrill late this afternoon and sentenced to life imprisonment.

When sentence was pronounced Youtsey exclaimed:

"I am innocent. I have been convicted by base and infamous subornation of perjury."

No appeal will be taken, and the prisoner will be taken to state prison shortly.

PRESENCE OF MIND.

Nine Lady Teachers Save Their Pupils Before a Fire Occurs.

West Superior, Wis., Feb. 6.—Fire completely gutted the William Kimball public school on Conners Point yesterday morning. There were nearly 800 children in the building, and the nine women teachers got them all out before a stampede could occur, although the building was in flames in a very short time after the fire was discovered. The blaze was up stairs and when the fire gong sounded the old pupils carried the small ones out in their arms. The structure was of brick and was an eight room building. It was built cheaply six years ago at a cost of about $8,000. The insurance amounts to about $7,000. The fire is thought to have started from an over heated hot air pipe.

NORTH DAK' FIRE.

Nearly Wipes Out the Business Portion of a Prosperous Town Across the Red River.

MANY THOUSAND DOLLARS

Go Up in Smoke--St. Hilaire Lumber Company Narrowly Escapes Destruction.

News was received at the office of the Crookston & St. Hilaire Lumber company in this city yesterday, of a big conflagration at Towner, McHenry county North Dakota, where the company has a branch office and lumber yard. The town was visited by the fire demon at an early hour Tuesday morning, and an entire block of business houses were leveled to the ground in a very short time, including two dry goods stores, a drug store, hardware stor, and several other buildings, nine in all.

For a time the St. Hilaire Lumber company's yards on the opposite side of the street was thought to be doomed as a strong wind fanned the flames in the direction of their yard, but through the strenuous efforts on the part of the fire department and the citizens, the devouring flames were checked before they reached additional food for destruction. The loss will foot up probably $30,000 with but a small insurance.

CIVIL SERVICE BILL.

Senator Snyder's Bill Before the Legislature--Will Cause Controversy.

Senator F. B. Snyder's heralded civil service bill was introduced this morning. It is destined to arouse a controversy as it applies to all cities of over 15,000, and representatives from all the large cities of the state will take a hand. The officers of the Minneapolis police department indorsed it last night, and the ex-officers will naturally use all their influence against it.

As Senator Snyder told the Journal last week, the bill is drawn on the lines of the civil service provisions of the defeated charter. It provides for a civil service commission of three members, to be chosen by the city council for one, two and three years respectively, the term being three years. The compensation is fixed at $5 per annum for each 1,000 population in the city which they serve. The commission may employ a secretary, whose salary is limited to the same amount. The commission is to hold examinations for positions and promotions; and submit a list of those who pass to the appointing power, which must make appointments from this list. The act is to take effect Jan. 1, 1902. All who hold offices or positions which come under civil service provisions on Dec. 31, 1901, and those who have held office for sixty days previous to that date are to retain their places without examination, and cannot be discharged except after a trial and a majority vote by the commission. Heads of city departments and all elective officers are exempted from the provisions, also school principals and teachers, clerks of municipal court, assistant city attorneys and mayor's secretaries.

The bill wss referred to the committee on municipal corporations. It was presented in the house by Sherman Smith of Hennepin, and referred to the committe on general legislation.

EDWARD VIII SPEAKS

The New King Promises to Walk in His Departed Mother's Footsteps.

London, Feb. 6.—King Edward has gazetted the following to his subjects throughout the empire:

"To my people: Now that the last scene has closed in the noble and ever glorious life of my mother, the queen, I am anxious to endeavor to convey to the whole empire the extent of the deep gratitude I feel for the heart-stirring and affectionate tributes which have everywhere been borne to her memory."

Alluding to the "common sorrow," the king concludes by a general pledge to "walk in the footsteps of the dead queen in the fulfillment of my great responsibilities."

The king has sent a message to the people of India, and special greetings to the native princes.

A RECEIVER NAMED

The Scandia Mutual Hail Insurance Company Forced to the Wall.

LIABILITIES ARE $20,000.00

The Company May Reorganize After the Present Difficulties are Straightened Out.

While not altogether unexpected, the announcement Friday that the affairs of the Scandia Mutual Hail Insurance Company had gone into the hands a receiver, caused a feeling of general regret on the part of friends of the directors and officers of the company.

This organization opened for business a little more than two years ago, and had to meet with the payment of some very heavy losses to start with so that at the end of the first year's business they were losers to the tune of over $4,000, and last year hardly any business could be done owing to the continued drouth and this together with the former losses embarrassed the company to such an extent that they were practically unable to meet their obligations or pay all of the losses sustained during the two years.

The liabilities are given as $20,000 and assetts at $17,000.

RED RIVER VALLEY NEWS

Compiled From The Journal's Exchanges And Other Sources.

Press, Fergus: Senator Hanshrough of North Dakota has secured unanimous consent for the passage of a bill in the senate for permitting a railroad bridge to be built across the Red River at Fargo. This move on the part of the senator shows that the Fargo, Duluth & Northwestern railway will be built, and thus make the farmers of Orwell and Western happy. The route selected by the company is a very easy one to build over, but it might be well for the company to grade down a few hills and swing into this city.

The Fergus Falls city council has discovered a new way of handling the affairs of that city, and the Press demonstrates the new method as follows: "As all are aware, there has been considerable agitation lately about our electric light plant, and much curiosity was created in a certain $12,000 water wheel and other improvements which the council had secured for the city. In fact there has been some uncomplimentary remarks made about these investments and the tax payers decided that they would go and see the improvements. To head off this system of investigation the council secured a smallpox patient and placed him in the house near the dam. This action at once had the desired effect. The tax payers have kept away from the locality and the council is enjoying a rest."

The business men down at Hawley, who have the handling of public affairs in their hands, have drifted into a deep rut, and for the purpose of extracting the town from a stage of stagnation, a society was organized there, comprising only wide awake business men, who will assist in putting the town abreast with the times. A similar society, if successful would prove a boon to many other places the Journal knows of.

The mayoralty election at Moorhead is growing warmer as time passes on, and up to the present time three candidates are n the field, each one having an issue of his own. A. C. Kuhfeld represents the liquor issue, Wm. R. Tillotson the reform idea, and Wm. Bodkin the "don't-care-continentals" platform. You pays your money and takes your choice at the Moorhead election.

Now, that the Indian vote was counted and made good in the Hankey-Bowman contest, the court house petition will be pushed harder than ever. There can be no doubt but what this question will come to a vote. The majority of people in this county are willing to have the matter settled by a vote, and will not be baffled by a hand full of men in Ada. So says the Twin Valley Times.

UNCLE WALWORTH DEAD

He Passes Away After Long Suffering With Cancer of the Throat.

Another old settler and pioneer of the city passed to the great beyond, when at 1 o'clock this morning at St. Vincent's hospital, William Walworth breathed his last. The deceased was a well known figure in this city, having conducted the peanut stand at the corner of Broadway and Robert streets for a number of years. For a long time he has been afflicted with cancer of the throat, but not until some time before New Years was he compelled to remain inside. He was 84 years old and despite the advanced age, was very active and jovial.

He leaves one son and a daughter to mourn his loss, the latter attending him to the last. The son is a traveling salesman for the DeCamp Fruit Company of Grand Forks, and reached here Friday evening to attend the funeral held Saturday afternoon at 2:30, from Chesterman's undertaking establishment on Broadway.

ARE HOME AGAIN

Two Argyle Citizens Return From a Three Months' Trip Abroad Today.

James Scott, Argyle's prominent citizen and owner of the electric light works and other enterprises at that place, returned Friday from his European trip, after an absence of nearly three months. Mr. Scott was accompanied by W. J. Carson, and together they visited their old home in Scotland, and other points in the old world. They devoted some time in seeing the sights of Greater New York and other great American cities on their return sojourn, and report having enjoyed a most pleasant trip, with the exception of a short illness which had befallen Mr. Carson while at New York.

Mr. Scott purchased a number of presents for his American friends while away, and one of the first ones of the lucky number to be remembered with one of the beautiful gifts was Conductor Hank Murray, as he stepped off the Moorhead Northern train this morning. He was presented with a genuine meerschaum pipe, purchased in Edinborough, Scotland, and he certainly appreciates this token of friendship thoroughly. With the handsome pipe, Hank will surely be warm enough hereafter to smoke most all the time.

PETITION LEGISLATURE

Home Department of Twentieth Century Club of Duluth Passes Resolution.

"Resolved, that in view of the apparent increase of kidnapping throughout the country, we, the members of the Home Department of the Twentieth Century Club petition the legislature of Minnesota to pass a more stringent act covering said crime in this state."

The foregoing resolution, accompanied by an urgent letter, has been mailed to each member of the Duluth delegation in the state legislature and the women declare that it is their purpose to see the members personally at an early date.

At a recent meeting when the resolution was adopted the members were very pronounced in their opinion that the penalty for kidnapping should be made more severe and some even went so far as to advocate life imprisonment as the proper punishment. Others believed 25 years should be the limit. As indicated in the resolution, however, it was finally decided to leave the question entirely with the legislators, hoping that that body would frame a measure so severe that kidnappers would choose states other than Minnesota in which to work.

WHO SHALL DICTATE?

In The Duluth State Normal School, no President Being Named.

The state normal school board adjourned Wednesday at St. Paul without selecting a president for the Duluth Institution. An Associated Press dispatch to the News Tribune said that the board instructed its legislative committee to draft a bill providing for continuous normal school sessions. The principal argument in favor of them is that self supporting students will be enabled to teach and educate themselves at the same time.

Proposed additions to the various normal schools were discussed and the legislative committee was asked to secure as large an appropriation for improvements as possible. It is desired to build additions to the St. Cloud and Moorhead normal schools and to build separate heating plants at the Winona and Mantato schools. Funds are also needed to grade the grounds at the Duluth normal. It is estimated that these improvements will cost between $125,000 and $150,000.

Small Fox Scare.

The smallpox scare which has so rapidly developed at Bemidji and the lumbering points along the Duluth line of the Great Northern railway, is playing havoc with many of the lumbermen who have large contracts for cutting this winter.

Many of the lumbermen who have hired out for the winter, and particularly is this the case with men who have families at home, are quitting work and leaving their camps for fear of the spreading disease.

One of the returning lumbermen, who reached here from Bemidji last Friday informed a Journal reporter that fully thirty per cent of the men employed in the woods would lay down work and return home if the increase of smallpox cases is not checked within a very short time.

Capt. West Dead.

Capt. John West, for many years chief of police of Minneapolis, died at 9 o'clock Saturday night at his residence, 4201 Bryant avenue N., from paralysis.

Capt. West was a resident of Minneapolis and vicinity for nearly half a century and for the greater portion of the time he made his home in the city. He was attending to his duties at the state university when stricken on Tuesday and though removed at once to his home and medical aid summoned, little hope for his recovery was held out. He was unconscious for a greater portion of the time and all day Saturday his death was almost momentarily expected.

Railroad Wreck.

Denver, Feb. 2.—About twenty persons, whose names have not yet been learned, were cut and bruised in the derailment early yesterday of Union Pacific passenger train No. 3. the Chicago, St. Louis & Kansas City fast mail and express, near Hardin, Colo., 60 miles east of Denver.

A broken rail caused the wreck. The engine and mail car passed over safely but the baggage car went into the ditch, followed by two passenger coaches. The Pullman was partly overturned. The injured had their wounds temporarily dressed and were brought to Denver on a special train.

Statements Overdrawn.

Minneapolis Tribune: Fred Silver, Bemidji, is a Minneapolis visitor. "There is no truth to the reports that have been sent out of the smallpox epidemic at our town," said Mr. Silver last night. "True, there have been four cases of very light smallpox, but they were taken to the pest house promptly, and the story that the town was hardly better than a quarantine station is sadly overdrawn."

HE WOULD MEDIATE

German Kaiser Anxious to Help in Bringing the South African Troubles to a Close.

IT'S SO RUMORED IN BERLIN

If Confirmed, Would Indicate the British Cabinet has Formed New Views.

London, Feb. 2.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News mentions a rumor that Emperor William is willing to mediate between Great Britain and the South African republic.

The correspondent recalls that Germany has sympathetically and repeatedly declined to do so unless the British and the Boers invoked her aid, and remarks that if there is any truth in the rumor it would indicate that the British cabinet had abandoned its negative attitude regarding mediation.

There is no doubt that could Emperor William conclude his visit to England by lending a hand to end the struggle he would please a vast majority of his own people, which has hitherto watched the circumstances attending his visit with uneasy suspicion.

BLACK FOR PAULSON.

The Stories of His Whereabouts After the Murder Are Contradicted.

Alma, Wis., Feb. 5.—Testimony has been introduced in the Paulson case showing that a skiff was taken from the landing at Stockholm on Lake Pepin, about five miles from Paulson's home, on the evening of the murder, and found next morning at Lake City, across the lake. Mr. Cox and others swore that they saw the defendant at Lake City on the evening of June 16, the day of the murder. This is contradictory to the story told by Paulson shortly after the murder. Witnesses from Red Lake county, Minnesota, where the defendant went after escaping from the Durand jail, testified to his spending several $20 gold pieces while there before being arrsted, while the marshal of Pepin swore that Paulson told him two days before the murder that he hadn't a dollar in the world Among the money taken from the Selden house were thirteen $20 gold pieces.

WILL PROVE MURDER

The State Expects to Show That Paulson Shot Sarah Selden.

Alma, Wis., Feb. 1.—The Paulson murder trial which has been going on for three days, is progressing slowly. Only two witnesses were cross-examined. The first witness was J. M. Axtel, of Pepin, who had taken pictures and diagrams of the burned house, which were offered as evidence by the state's attorney, Gilman, for the defense, objecting, but being overruled by the court.

The second witness was the father of the murdered girl, Thos. Seldon, who gave a full description of the buildings and moneys kept in the house. Witness said there were on the 16th day of June, 1898, about $400 in the house, kept in a secretary, and said there were thirteen twenty dollar gold pieces, and two fives and $125 in bills and about $4 in change, of which no part was recovered, save two nickels and a two shilling piece which witness said was a gift of his mother when he left England in 1850.

Asked by Attorney Plummer, for the state, whom he saw at the building after he came from Pepin, he said there were only two persons there, as nearly everybody in the neighborhood went to the G. A. R. reunion at Pepin. When asked if he did not see his daughter Mary there, who was left alone in the building, he broke down and wept, saying, no, he did not see her alive since the morning of June 16 1898.

The morning session in the Paulson murder case was not of much interest. The murdered girl's father was cross-examined by Attorney Gilman for the defense, and was on the stand most of the forenoon. The third witness called was Milton Vernum, of Pepin township, who testified to recovering and seeing the charred remains of Mary Seldon and to seeing a hole in the back of her head about three to four inches and looked as if broken.

DULUTH TO CHICAGO

J. J. Hill Will Transfer Lake Business From Former to Latter Place.

Tribune, Minneapolis: "President J. J. Hill, whose return from the east was mentioned yesterday, was very non-committal in talking with reporters. During his absence every movement of Mr. Hill was watched by Wall street interests, and stories, some of them probable, but many improbable, were circulated one after another to influence certain stocks, and on the possibility of the consummation of some of these deals it is said that the profit-taking amounted to more than $20,000,000.

Mr. Hill gave a brief review to the local press representatives shortly after his arrival, but the only positive information elicited from him was in regard to an extension to the Crow's Nest Pass coal deposits. It is suspected, however, that he did not give up all the information he has concerning the future of this project. He said the Great Northern would build north to the coal fields and that the Canadian interests would build south to reach them.

When asked about the report that the big steamships of the Northern Steamship Company would ply between Chicago and Buffalo during the coming season, he referred his inquirers to W. C. Farrington, general manager for the company. Such a reply is construed to mean that such a report is true, and as a reason for this change a minor official declared it was for the purpose of handling the Pan-American exposition business on the lakes, which is expected to be very large and tax the capacity of all lake passenger lines. The North Land and the North West are the two vessels to run between these two points, connecting at Mackinac with similar steamers from Duluth.

Tesla Has Another Dream.

The Chicago Inter Ocean says that Nikola Tesla has come to the front with another wonderful invention. Having opened telegraphic and heliographic communication with Mars, Tesla is now ready to furnish the world with a new energy which he calls "impressed force," or "every man his own earthquake." According to Tesla's description this "impressed force" is something weird. He says:

"My experiments in electrical and mechanical vibration have impressed me deeply with the tremendous possibilities of impressed force. With a small engine capable of pressing a piston back and forth with a force of but two pounds I have set an entire block of modern buildings, by careful attunement, into such a violent swaying that people rushed out affrighted. With an impressed force of only a fraction of a pound I have caused steel rings of several square inches cross section, capable of supporting several hundred tons, to vibrate and form loops, like ... in piano wires, until they finally broke.

Clearly Mr. Tesla has the world at his mercy. If "with a small engine capable of pressing a piston back and forth with a force of but two pounds," he can shake solid blocks of buildings in this manner, what is to prevent him some morning, when he feels disgruntled with the world, from bringing the whole world in ruins about the ears of its inhabitants. With his "impressed force of only a fraction of a pound" he could twist the Brooklyn bridge into a broken mass of steel.

OUR SPINSTER CLUB

Some of Crookston's Fair Ones Who Swore Resistance to the Boys.

The following poem, whose author belongs to the above named organization, was handed the Journal for publication, and we are exceedingly pleased to grant space to the verses. They read:

Our Spinster Club as each ones knows,
Composed of buds without the beaus;
To do away with wearied joys
Did swear resistance to the boys.

The oaths were given to be kept,
And each did swear she'd ne'er forget,
If a boy in her path should trod,
To cooly freeze him with a nod.

One day the awful rumor spread:
Isabelle, our president, was to wed
Mr. S. Pinster of "Spoony Town,"
Republican politician of great renown.
We all were shocked to think that she
So thoughtless of her own vow should be;
Her liberty lose of her own accord,
And swear allegiance to "Milord."

We were all invited to attend
The nuptials of this most dear friend,
And I was chosen to be the one
Who should tell strangers how 'twas done.

The rooms were lit with a mellow glow,
The music sounded soft and low.
By Lois Durand the keyes were pressed;
Imagination can picture the rest—
She's a rival of him whose name is—
Oh, yes, I remember, 'tis Paderwiski. (risky)

Irma George as bridegroom do we see,
And Jule Lewis as bride is dressed to a "T;"
Bertha Kate Wyand with siren art.
Triest to entice the best man's heart.
A senior he, yet not a drone,
Behold in him fair Agnes Cromb.
Edith Wyand with paternal pride
Eyes the husband of the bride.
The girl next him with hair of jet,
Is the groom's mother, Mame Fournet.
She has prepared a sumptuous feast
For Emma Cronkhite, who acts as priest.
Pretty Grace Lindell was the "Spinster,"
Who once tried to impress Mr. S. Pinster.
The bridegroom's brother, most charming was he;
We represent by Osa C.
The bride's brother stood by her on the floor—
In him we recognize Fannie Moore.
There's another girl whom we see at a pinch,
The groom's fair sister, Winnie Finch.
Boquets of flowers one maiden threw;
We know her by name, Agnes Montague.
Paris to Helen's charms were blind,
Could he have seen fair Ida Wyand.
Grace Cronkhite as father gave 'way the bride,
When poked by Frau Gleason,
Who stood by his side.
At length on her knees the bride does bend,
As "Mrs. S. Pinster" she joyful ascends
When 'round her with 'gratulations we prest—
We inwardly vowed that the boys were the best.
And from many a Spinster's heart did rise
The thought that Isabelle Cinch was wise.
For Bemidji next morning we gave them the prize,
And covered the depot platform with rice.

—Agnes Montague.

THE SUPREME COURT

Is Called Upon to Decide a Celebrated North Dakota Cattle Case.

The celebrated case of Rosenbaum vs. Gans, involving a judgment for $25,000 and costs obtained by Rosenbaum Bros., Chicago commission men, against Jos. Gans of Montana, has been again appealed to the supreme court and will be heard at the April term. The case has been in the courts for ten years. The controversy arose over the possession of a band of several thousand sheep being seized in Stark county, North Dakota. The battle has been fought in the courts since 1892, and the last trial was before Judge Fisk, of Grand Forks, who gave judgments to the Rosenbaums. This appeal will be the conclusion of the case. There are not less than half a dozen prominent firms of lawyers from St. Paul and Chicago in the case. Newton & Smith are the attorneys for the appellant.

DR. SETH ARNOLD'S COUGH KILLER CURES COUGHS AND COLDS PREVENTS CONSUMPTION

Price 25 Cents.

DR. ARNOLD'S COUGH KILLER was highly recommended to us. It "worked like a charm," and cured my husband's cough that he had had for two months.
MRS. A. B. SISSON,
629 Hennepin Ave.,
Minneapolis, Minn.

For sale by A. G. Anderson, Druggist.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Special Attention to: Business Correspondence, Land Contest Cases, Mortgage Foreclosures, Collections, Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block. CROOKSTON, MINN.

H. Steenerson,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

Miller & Foote,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room 3 Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
DENTIST.
Wallace Block. Crookston, Minn.

PHYSICIANS

A. A. Just M. D.
HOMEOPATHIC ... CIAN AND SURGEON
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

Carpenter & Olson.
LAW, LAND, LOANS, COLLECTIONS
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reckitt block. Crookston Minn

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans, Insurance........
OFFICIAL ABSTRACTERS OF TITLE FOR POLK COUNTY
CROOKSTON MINN.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning 11:00. evening, 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
REV. H. M GREEN, B. D. Rector

Shelled Corn, Oats, Ground Feed, Bran and Shorts, Pillsbury's Best Flour, Baled Hay, Lignite Coal and Wood of all kinds—Car lots only. For prices, delivered anywhere. Address
L. B. GIBBS, GRAND FORKS, N. D.

ANGORA GOATS
I will sell Angora Does in lots to suit purchaser. Bred to my celebrated Billies to kid in May.
Write for prices
A. L. Morris, Bagley, Minn.

NORTHERN PACIFIC YELLOWSTONE PARK LINE
To ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS DULUTH AND POINTS EAST & SOUTH
To BUTTE HELENA SPOKANE SEATTLE TACOMA PORTLAND CALIFORNIA JAPAN CHINA ALASKA KLONDIKE
C. A. SHARKEY, Agent, Crookston, Minn. | Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A, St. Paul, Minn.

	Arr	Dep't
SOUTH BOUND. No. 8 to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and East.	8:28 pm	8:28 p m
NORTH BOUND. No. 7 to Grand Forks, Grafton and Winnipeg.	6:48 a m	6:48 a m

A. SHARKEY, Agt. Crookston, Minn. CHAS. S. FEE, G. P. A St. Paul, Minn

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS AND DESIGNS.
Send your business direct to Washington, saves time, costs less, better service.
My office close to U. S. Patent Office. FREE preliminary examinations made. Atty's fee not due until patent is secured. PERSONAL ATTENTION GIVEN—19 YEARS ACTUAL EXPERIENCE. Book "How to obtain Patents," etc., sent free. Patents procured through E. G. Siggers receive special notice, without charge, in the
INVENTIVE AGE
Illustrated monthly—Eleventh year—terms, $1 a year.
E. G. SIGGERS, 918 F St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

AT THE......
ONE PRICE HARDWARE STORE.
CROSS-CUT SAWS,
BUCK SAWS,
HAND SAWS,
At Prices Ranging from....
15c Upwards
N. 213 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY
Short Route
Fast Time
To
All Points in the Northwest
And on the Pacific Coast

LOCAL TIME CARD.

Arrive.	•Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave
6.55 am	•Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	•Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6.30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls	9.20 am
4.49 pm	•Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior	9.00 am
6 45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent	9.10 am

Full Information from
F. D. Bell, Agt.

S. L. Collins,
Livery and
Feed Stables
Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.
Crookston, Minn

Stevens Ideal Rifle.
No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.
Made in all the standard calibers both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, 24 inches. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.
If these rifles are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.
Send stamp for catalog describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.
THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

TAKEN TO WINDSOR

Multitudes Witness the Imposing Procession as it Moves Through London.

WOMEN BURST INTO TEARS

Many of Them Shrieking Out as They Faint Away, at St. George's Chapel.

London, Saturday.—One great, deep sigh, from the hearts of millions of earnestly sincere mourners, was the accompaniment this morning to the passage of that particularly short built coffin containing the mortal remains of the greatest queen the world has ever known over the whole of the three miles and a half separating Victoria from Pardington station.

You ask what was the most touching sight of today, which thrilled even the most callous with a feeling of intense tenderness? The reply is: When, as that beloved body passed, borne upon a gun carriage of khaki color, as by natural instinct, every hat was removed, every head was bowed, every voice was hushed, every face displayed an awe-stricken appearance, as though what was passing was too sacred to look upon.

Women burst into tears. In front of where I was standing seven ladies, overwrought by their emotion, fainted dead away, many of them shrieking out as they lost consciousness and were being carried away by the staff of ambulance corps.

Never, if anything can be judged from outward appearances, has any mourning been so deeply felt as that shown today to the memory of Queen Victoria. The evidences of mourning were intense. The solemnity of the whole pageant was such that none will ever forget who witnessed it. Most of the people had gone to bed late, but the whole town was astir early. Thousands never went to bed at all. People from the country failing to find house room, slept anywhere.

At 7 o'clock the streets were already lined. By 8 o'clock the streets were jammed. Old people, while the long wait lasted, talked of the famous burial of the Duke of Wellington. That procession, they said, extended from Constitutional hill to St. Paul's. This was quite double that length.

There was one original mind suggesting that, after all, the grandest thing would have been to have the body of the queen towed up the Thames on a magnificent barge as far as Windsor.

Lord Roberts passed down St. James street with his scarlet bound field marshal's staff in his hand. Many cheered and there was considerable waving of pocket handkerchiefs, but "Bobs" went along looking as annoyed as he is capable of. He evidently did not think such ovations at this particular time were appropriate and showed it in his face. But as he passed down in the midst of all his glorious surroundings, he looked up with a friendly expression to a small balcony over a jeweler's shop. On that balcony were ranged a lot of old men in the well known red uniform of the Chelsea pensioner's home for aged soldiers. By that attention he made those white-headed, white-bearded old warrior doubly happy.

Punctual to the minute the train arrived at Victoria station. King Edward is a stickler for punctuality. It is second nature with him. He directed the entire ceremonies. He insisted especially upon punctuality yesterday, and he was a ittle ahead of it.

About this time the crush was enormous in King street, one of the principal arteries leading into St. James street. The mob at one time seriously threatened to overcome the force placed to keep it back.

Colonel Trotter, the energetic commandant of the home district, first placed the Hussars there, their horses being backed into the crowd, but they were simply swept away by the surging mass. Then he called in the heavy cavalry dragoons. After much trouble in letting out a certain number of the crowd and chasing them down the street, they managed to get the crowd back in line just as the procession began to move. This kind of thing occurred at many points, for the crowd was beyond anything ever before seen in London, having been further added to by the royal order that every place of business should close. The procession itself really started from about the top of St. James street. So long was it that the only way found possible to manage it was to start it off at the lowest possible measure. After marchers had gone thus a few minutes the order came through signallers stationed along the line to move quicker.

London, Feb. 2.—Fears of a serious crush during the funeral of Queen Victoria were realized, but not to the extent that was expected. It is estimated that about two thousand people were injured, about half a hundred of them seriously, but no deaths have been reported. The St. John's Ambulance association alone attended 1,350 persons injured. The association had 701 doctors and nurses and busy at twenty-six stations. At one point a panic was narrowly averted. A large number of women fainted and were trampled upon. The injuries in most cases were confined to broken limbs.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

—Lars A. Mikkelson, of Shelly, had a land contest before the U. S. land officers Saturday. The property in question is situated in Beltrami county and is a valuable piece of land.

SOCIAL DEMOCRACY.

(Inasmuch as the above party has no organ of its own, the Journal has consented to grant them the use of one column of its space weekly for airing their views and to present their side of the political questions. We reserve the right, however, to criticise any statements that may be made by the contributors to this column, and in no wise will any statement contained in this column voice the sentiments of the Journal editor..—Ed.)

Socialists demand the public ownership and operation of the industrial machinery of production and distribution, and that our industrial system be made a co-operative one, to replace the present competitive struggle.

—::—

BELLAMY'S PARABLE OF THE WATER TANK.

There was a certain very dry land, the people whereof were in sore need of water, and many perished because they could not find it.

But there were certain crafty men in that land who had gathered stores of water, and the name of these men was called capitalists. And when the people came unto the capitalists and asked for water to drink, as their needs were sore, the capitalists answered: "Why should we give you of the water we have gathered, for then we should become even so ye are and perish with you? But, be ye our servants and ye shall have water." And the people said: "Only give us to drink and we with our children will be your servants."

Now the capitalists, who were wise, ordered the people about in hands with captains and officers, some at the springs to dip, others to carry water, and still others to search for new springs. And all the water was put in a great tank, called by the capitalists the market, where everyone, servants included, must get water for use. And the capitalists said to the people: "For every bucket of water that ye bring and pour into the tank, which is the market, we will give you a penny, but for every bucket we draw forth to give unto you, that ye and your wives and children may drink, ye shall give us two pennies, and the difference shall be our profit, seeing that if it were not for this profit we would not furnish you the water and ye should all perish."

And it was good in the eyes of the people, who were dull of understanding, and they brought water for many days, getting a penny for every bucket brought, rendering two pennies to the capitalists for every bucket drawn out, and they had great prosperity. But after many days the tank, which was the market, overflowed at the top, seeing that for every bucket poured in, the people received only so much as would buy half of a bucket, and with the excess the tank overflowed, for the capitalists were few in number and could not drink the excess. And when the capitalists saw this they said to the people: "Sit ye down and be patient, for ye shall bring no more water until the tank be empty."

But when the people received no more pennies for bringing water, they could buy no more water, and the capitalists declared they must advertise, as times were dull, and they sent men forth crying, "If any thirst let him come to the tank and buy water of us, for it does overflow." And the people answered: "How can we buy unless ye hire us, for how else shall we have wherewithal to buy?" And the capitalists said: "Shall we hire you to bring water when the tank, which is the market, doth already overflow?"

Thus because the capitalists hired them no more to bring water, they could not buy the water the had already brought, and because the people could buy no more water the capitalists no longer hired them, and the wise men called it a crisis, and the law was no man should get water from any place except the tank, which was the market, as the capitalists owned all the springs and water supples, and would only sell through the market, swearing with an oath that "business was business." And the sooth-sayers pronounced this a case of "over-production," others a "lack of confidence." And wise men went forth and explained to the people how they must needs perish of thirst because there was over much water, showing them how there could not be enough because there was too much.

And the high priests told the people that this affliction was sent them from God for the healing of their souls, to be borne in patience so that when they had given up the ghost they would come to a country where there was an abundance of water and no capitalists. And they scattered a few drops with their fingers from the tank, calling the drops charity, and it was very bitter.

And when the capitalists saw the people getting restless with thirst, they hired some who had skill in war to guard the tank against the people and smite them if the thronged upon the tank. And after many days the tank was empty, for the capitalists had used the water in making fish ponds and fountains and wasted it in various ways for their pleasure.

Now behold, when the tank was empty the "crisis" was ended and the people set to work again getting a penny for every bucket they brought and paying two pennies for every bucket brought forth. After a time there was another crisis.

And this was repeated for countless seasons until there arose in the land certain men called agitators, who said: "See ye not that the harder ye toil the quicker the work will overflow, and see ye not that it is the profit of the capitalists that causes the overflow."

So the people said to the agitators: "If ye know a way out of this, tell us quickly, if not, do not taunt us in our misery."

Then the agitators spake to them and said: "Behold, what need have ye at all of the capitalists that ye should yield them profits on your labor? What great thing do they wherefor ye render them this tribute? Lo! it is only because they do order you in bands and lead you in and out and set your tasks, and afterward give you a little of the water yourselves have brought and not they. Now, therefore, do ye, for yourselves that which is now done by the capitalists, namely, the ordering of your labor, the marshaling of your bands and the dividing of your tasks. So ye shall have no need at all of the capitalists and no more yield to them any profits, but all the fruit of your labor shall ye share as brethren, and so shall the tank never overflow until every man has plenty, and afterward shall ye with the overflow make pleasant fountains and fish ponds to delight yourselves, withal even as did the capitalists; But these shall be for the delight of all."

And the people answered: "How shall we do this thing for it seems good to us?" And the agitators said: "Choose discreet men to marshal your bands and they shall be as the capitalists were; but behold, they shall not be your masters as the capitalists are, but your brethren, who have no profit, but share and share alike, and there will be no more servants and masters among you, and from time to time ye shall choose other discreet men in place of the first to order the labor.

And the capitalists hearing this, said to one another: "It is the end of us." And the people did the things that were proposed, and there was no more thirst in that land, neither any that was hungry, naked, or cold, and the blessing of God rested upon that land forever.

—::—

Labor is the stone rejected, yet the stone
Whereon is built metropolis and throne
Out of its efforts come all the pompous shows,
All purple luxury, and plush repose!
—Markham.

SELECT A SITE.

The Old Court House to be Moved to Corner of Ash and Robert Streets.

The committee appointed from the Odd Fellows lodge of this city to select a site for the location of the old court house, which that organization purchased recently, met Monday and decided to buy the vacant lot on the northwest corner of Robert and Ash streets, for a consideration of something like $2,500. The lot is 75x120 in size, and the building will be moved upon it as soon as warmer weather sets in. The lodge will entirely remodel and reconstruct the house and will arrange it for an amusement and lodge hall. The basement is to be arranged for kitchen and dining room, and the first floor is to be turned into a dance and public meeting hall. The second story is intended for lodge purposes.

No expense will be spared to make this building one of the most complete for society gatherings and secret organization gatherings in the city.

WILL REPAIR BRIDGE.

Fisher Tax Payers Will Have to Get Along With Present Slucrure.

County Commissioner Remi Fortier and Wm. Marin returned from Fisher Tuesday, where they had gone to make an estimate of what lumber was required for repairing the Fisher bridge, which was in a somewhat poor condition. At a recent meeting of the county board, that body was asked to build a new bridge, but he board concluded to make an inspection before taking any steps in that direction. For that purpose a Great Northern engineer was sent over to make an examination of the present bridge, and in his report he stated that with some repairs it would be serviceable for some time to come. The work of repairing will begin as soon as the necessary lumber is on the ground.

AMUSEMENTS.

Sousa is fast becoming an absolute necessity to all expositions, international or local. In addition to the Paris exposition of last summer, where Sousa was the realy great success of the show, his famous band has officiated at the Chicago World's Fair, the California Mid-Winter Fair, the St. Louis and Pittsburg Expositions, the Cotton States Exposition at Atlanta, and the Export Exposition at Philadelphia. Sousa has now contracted to take his musicians to Scotland next year and play four weeks at the International Exposition of 1901, at Glasgow. After this engagement he will make an extended tour of Great Britain and Ireland. He has also been engaged for the month of June at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. The regular winter season of the Sousa band will open Jan. 3, and will include 160 different cities in this country in 17 weeks, and an early concert in Crookston is announced. Sousa will have musical novelties this season and has engaged two charming young lady soloists to accompany the band on tour.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with head aches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by F. H. Hillard & Son.

Signal, Shelly: The citizens of Gary are agitating the question of building a flouring mill on the co-operative plan. Shares are to be sold at $50 each and eighty have already been taken in the village, and the farmers in the vicinity have signified their willingness to subscribe, so a mill is practically an assured thing for the hustling village in the eastern part of the county.

Journal, Fergus Falls: Dr. Oscar Bartelson left for Minneapolis Friday where he expects to purchase a stock of drugs which he will take with him to Beltrami. He expects to leave for that place next week, and will practice medicine and conduct a drug store there.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE SOUTH STRONGLY FAVORS SHIPPING BILL.

Southern Senators and Representatives Supporting It—Inauguration Ceremonies Will Be Elaborate—Extra Session Not Probable.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The southern senators suddenly find themselves "between the devil and the deep sea," and they have deemed it necessary to hold a caucus about it.

∴

In the beginning the Democrats in the senate presented a solid front against the pending shipping bill—that is, they supposed that they did. It appears now, however, that at least six of the southern senators are going to vote for the bill. It also appears and is a fact that there is a great and growing sentiment in the south in favor of the bill, particularly among the cotton growers of the plantations and the business men of the cities. This is evidenced by a large number of petitions and indorsements by commercial bodies, by the tone of such authoritative organs as The Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore and by private letters received daily by senators and representatives at the capitol. These expressions of popular opinion have naturally had much weight with southern congressmen.

∴

On Wednesday news was received at Washington that the Savannah board of trade had unanimously adopted resolutions directing its delegates to the maritime conference at Brunswick to favor subsidies. Previously indorsements of the shipping bill had been received from more than 20 other representative southern business organizations, including the chamber of commerce, Produce Exchange and board of trade of New Orleans, the Foreign Trade association and Merchants' Exchange of St. Louis, the chamber of commerce of Richmond, the boards of trade of Norfolk, Little Rock and Tarboro, the Southern Industrial association, the Live Stock Exchange of Fort Worth, the Alabama State grange and the Kentucky Millers' association, the Southern Industrial association and the Southern Cotton Spinners' association.

∴

The effect of such a combined expression of southern sentiment is visible in the house of representatives as well as in the senate. Representative Grosvenor of Ohio says that there are at least ten or a dozen southern Democratic representatives who will vote for the bill and that these votes, combined with the solid Republican vote, will give the bill a large majority in the house.

∴

In the senate it was noticed that soon after the action of the Savannah board of trade had been made public Senator Clay of Georgia came to the front with amendments to the shipping bill, limiting the period of the subsidy to ten years and reducing the maximum rate of speed for receiving compensation from 18 knots to 16 knots. This would indicate that under the conditions which he names Senator Clay is, after all, in favor of the proposed subsidy. He says that his opposition to the measure arises from his belief in free trade, and yet he allows that there is no use in trying to make this country adopt a free trade policy, because even when the Democrats are in full power a very considerable number of northern Democrats, who are protectionists, always side with the Republicans on questions relating to the tariff and similar matters and thus always defeat free trade legislation.

∴

A pleasant little episode brightened up the debate in the senate on Wednesday and secured for Senator Turley of Tennessee a reputation for humor. In the course of his speech against the bill be took occasion to paraphrase Senator Frye's appeal for the bill in a tone of good natured satire. Senator Turley referred with pathos to his recent attempts to secure a small appropriation for the Washita river, or rivulet, and remarked, "If I could only get that appropriation, we would have American ships laden with American commerce and sailing under the American flag navigating from that river to every port in the world, and peace and civilization would be greatly benefited thereby." This sally vastly amused the senators and no one more than Senator Frye himself.

∴

Unusually elaborate preparations are on foot for President McKinley's second inauguration. It will be an impressive affair unless one of our March blizzards should decide to take part in it. The whole community is mixed up in some way with the preparations. If a small boy should hurl a snowball nowadays, it is an even chance that he would hit a member of an inauguration committee. An immense crowd of outsiders is expected, and the owners and lessees of eligible rooms and windows are looking forward to the acquisition of great riches.

∴

There has been a good deal of talk about an extra session lately, but the best informed congressmen believe that there is nothing in it. The talk started from reports that the administration wished some speedy legislation regarding the Philippines and the Cuban constitution. As to the Philippines, however, the general opinion is that the president has sufficient power to control them for the present as he pleases, and there is a growing doubt among congressmen as to whether this country has any right to interfere with the Cuban constitution.

J. B. M.

A GLIMPSE AT FASHIONS.

The New Figure With Straight Front Line Tells the Story of Style.

One feature of dress which is especially interesting this season is the absence of anything uncomfortably tightened or stiffened. Everything which can add to the size or give a clumsy effect to the figure is artistically avoided with most pleasing results, giving a slender appearance, but there is no compression in the process. On the contrary, there are an ease and a grace about the fit of the new figure, or, rather, the new lines given to the old figure with the improved well fitted corset, which are both hygienic and fashionably elegant.

The bodice has abundant fullness, and the sleeves are just loose enough to be perfectly comfortable. Collar bands are only slightly stiffened and often transparent, so altogether the present fashions are to be commended since they combine grace, elegance and daintiness with common sense and a fair degree of comfort.

THE NEWER AND FAVORED COIFFURES

The new figure is more effectively displayed in evening dress than in the high necked gowns, as the evening corset is cut so low that there is little if any support for the bust, provided a woman is not too stout. The lines are perfectly natural in front, the curves being confined to the sides and back. In fact, it is the new figure which is the dominant feature of style this season, and some degree of this straight front line is a positive necessity if you would be up to date. It is the lines which tell the story of style or no style, as the case may be.

If fashion reports are to be credited, the latest style of hairdressing is low, with the knot well down at the nape of the neck or just above, if that is more becoming, something after the manner of the coiffures illustrated. This is said to be the prevailing mode in Paris for both day and evening dress, and the hair is usually parted in the middle or at one side, some parting being a necessary accompaniment.

For evening dress a rose is worn either well forward in front or just back of the ear, and the gold roses are especially pretty for this purpose. In hair ornaments there is no limit, but flowers have the preference just at the moment. Roses are made more showy by dotting them here and there with rhinestones.

The very latest idea in flowers is a bunch of geranium blossoms arranged with leaves of their own kind. They come in a variety of bright colors very true to nature and are certainly very decorative. Gardenias are another fancy in flowers and are both large and small, and the lily of the valley is also worn.

A velvet anemone with a bunch of leaves is also very effective, or you may wear the satin bow spotted with rhinestones. Daintier than all the rest is a bunch of black thistle down with shadowy tulle leaves, also black. In blond hair this is charming, says the New York Sun, which is authority for the styles here given.

Unhealthful Sitting Position.

Women who sit with their legs crossed to sew or read or to hold the baby are not aware that they are inviting serious physical ailments, but it is true nevertheless, according to a United States health report. When a man crosses his legs he places the ankle of one limb across the knee of the other and rests it lightly there. A woman, more modest and restricted in her movements, rests the entire weight of one limb on the upper part of the other, and this pressure upon the sensitive nerves and cords, if indulged in for continued lengths of time, as is often done by ladies who sew or embroider, will produce disease. Sciatica, neuralgia and other serious troubles frequently result from this simple cause. The muscles and nerves in the upper portion of a woman's leg are extremely sensitive, and much of her whole physical structure can become deranged if they are overtasked in the manner referred to.

Fashion's Echoes.

"Nell Gwynn" fashion, of a modified order, is one of the many ideas adopted from the stage. The big flat velvet hat, with feathers peeping over the brim, is evidently taken from the "cart wheel" model. The "Gwynn" skirt is gathered all round the front and sides in many rows and is of brocade or chine silk, much patterned in a floral style, and the low bodice has cape draperies and elbow sleeves heavily frilled with lace.

Coats of the short bolero type are so much worn in caracal and lamb that some women are selecting velvet, much trimmed with jet and with big revers of ermine, mink or chinchilla and the inevitable cascade or jabot of lace.

Cut appliques of cloth are now sold as borderings and trimmings to match the leading colors.

The new toques are worn very forward and are quite large and have many folds projecting in front.

SUPPORT FROM THE SOUTH

The Shipping Bill Is Winning Friends Among Southern Business Men.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR SUBSIDY MEASURE.

Petitions in Behalf of the Bill from Many Large Commercial Associations—Great Change in Public Sentiment Has Recently Been Wrought.

[Special Correspondence.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 6.

The south is rallying to the support of the shipping bill. This fact is likely to prove the pivotal feature of the struggle over the measure. During the debate on Wednesday last news reached the capitol that the Savannah board of trade had unanimously adopted resolutions directing its delegates to the coming Brunswick Maritime conference to favor subsidies. Simultaneously with the spread of this intelligence through the capitol, it was noticed as a singular coincidence that Senator Clay of Georgia rose and offered amendments to the bill, limiting the period of the subsidy to ten years, and confining it below a maximum of 16 knots' speed, instead of 18, as it stands at present in the amended form of the bill. This, however, does not necessarily indicate a change of heart on the part of Senator Clay, who has been heretofore one of the strongest and most active and uncompromising opponents of the measure.

This is not the first gun from the south by any means. Petitions in favor of the bill are on file from more than 20 large and important southern associations, including the New Orleans chamber of commerce, board of trade and produce exchange, the Richmond chamber of commerce, the Norfolk board of trade, the Little Rock board of trade, the Alabama state grange, the Tarboro board of trade, the St. Louis merchants' exchange and the Southern Industrial association and the Southern Cotton Spinners' association. In fact, nearly every southern state has furnished an emphatic indorsement of the bill by its leading commercial bodies.

In view of this great and growing sentiment in their own section, it is not surprising that the solid opposition of the southern senators has begun to weaken, as it has, very perceptibly and decidedly. At first these senators—Messrs. Jones, Clay, Bacon and others—declared that they would fight the bill by every means within their power, and a disposition to filibuster was manifest early in the week; but the news which they have heard lately from their constituents appears to have altered their minds as to the advisability of filibustering. Their present disposition seems to be to deliver a certain number of two hours' speeches in the negative, and then to let the republicans go ahead and assume the full responsibility for the legislation. The alternative policy—involving filibustering, the failure of all other measures, and an extra session in consequence—would be a very serious responsibility for the democrats to shoulder, especially if not sustained by the citizens of the southern states.

More than this, it has been ascertained that the shipping bill will receive the votes of a goodly number of democrats—at least six and probably seven or eight in the senate, and ten or a dozen in the house. That the examination and discussion of the measure have effected a great change in public sentiment already is unquestionable, and the change is still going on and spreading.

As soon as the bill passes the senate and gets over to the house it is practically sure to have plain sailing. Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, says that a rule will be reported whereby two days will be set apart for debate upon the measure, and that at the end of that period a final vote will be ordered. In the house the rules of procedure allow of such peremptory closure of debate—in fact, without such closure nothing could be accomplished in such a large and unruly body as the house—but in the senate the liberty of debate is practically untrammeled. Thus it happens that it is much more difficult to force or to hurry a measure through the senate than through the house.

The recent extra session gossip has begun to subside very materially. The senators and representatives generally do not "see the point" of remaining here all the spring to legislate about the Philippines, when the president, as they say, has ample power in the premises to do as he pleases. It is possible that the Spooner measure in relation to this subject may be tacked on as a rider to some appropriation bill, and that congress may let it go at that for the present. As for the Cuban constitution, which has furnished another reason for an extra session, many congressmen are now questioning whether this country has any right to meddle with that instrument. The war was undertaken to free Cuba, and it was expressly and officially declared by this government that we would assume no further control or supervision of the island after its pacification. Many now assert that the pacification has been accomplished, and that the United States therefore, in reality and justice, has nothing to say or to do about the Cuban constitution. This idea has been canvassed in a lively manner in and about the capitol during the last day or two, and it appears to be becoming popular.

The president is rapidly regaining his wonted health and strength, after nearly a month's tussle with the grip. Other distinguished victims of the distemper are also recovering, and the epidemic seems to have spent its force. This is fortunate for various reasons, but particularly so in view of the fast approaching inauguration ceremonies. There have been inaugurations amid blizzards and zero gales, but an inauguration in the midst of a grip epidemic would be a dismal event indeed. As it is, the preparations for the next 4th of March are on an most if not quite unprecedented scale, and if the weather is only fairly decent the spectacle will be one of the most brilliant in the history of Washington.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Polk County Journal,
BY N. S. GORDON.

☞ Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

Michigan proposes to tax bachelors $5 a year. ‸o be altogether fair, girls who refuse eligible offers ought also to be taxed.

H. P. Knappen is the latest editor of the Fertile Journal, having succeeded to the place a few days since. H. P. is a wideawake newspaper man and will make the Journal an up to date paper.

It looks now as though there must be an extra session o‸ congress. Both the ‸hilippines and Cuba are clamouring for action, and it doesn't seem fair to make them wait nine long months before taking up ‸ ‸r cases.

The sale of cigarettes has decreased about four millions in the last two years. We knew the pesky little things were unwholesome,but we didn't think they were fatal enough to bring about that much e‸ a decline.

Saloons in Kansas are just as much outlaws as pirate ships are. Mrs. Nation's attacks on them are the direct result of ‸gus prohibition, and she should be thanked for bringing its utter absurdity home to the country.

C. O. Nelson, for a long time employed as printer in this city, and well known throughout the valley on both sides of the Red River, has purchased the Pelican Rapids Press and will issue that sheet hereafter. Here's success.

A bill has been introduced in the Kansas legislature making it a misdemeanor to send flowers to persons in jail. This is a move in the right direction, and it shou‸‸ have the support of every member regardless of politics and despite any future contingencies in the career of Mrs. Nation.

The Washington city W. C. T. U. is planning to have Mrs.Nation come and smash the saloons in the Capitol restaurants. The sale of liquor there is absolutely prohibited by the vote of the very men who go there to drink every day of their lives. It is such hypocracy that creates a Nation campaign.

Of the numerous operations in which the stomach of a patient has been entirely removed, one at least has been completely successful. It is reported that a San Francisco woman had her stomach removed two years ago and has since been in remarkably good health, eating considerably and without discomfort.

An exchange calls attention to the fact that Queen Victoria, during her long reign, w‸‸nessed the administrations of Presidents Van Buren, Harrison, Tyler, Polk, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan Lincoln, Johnson, Grant, Hays, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison and the first administration of President McKinley; that she outlived nineteen of her own cabinets and beheld the reigns of Nicholas I., Nicholas II., Alexander II. Alexander III and Nicholas III in Russia; saw three monarchs ascend the throne in Germany, and witnessed the exit of Louis Phillippi, Napoleon III and two or three republics in France. She also outlived every man who witnessed her coronation.

Ticket Agent Bell of the Great Northern, is to be congratulated for the promptness with which he stopped the the small boy nuisance about the waiting rooms of the depot. A number of these lads made it an object to be on hand at every incoming train, and not satisfy‸g with annoying the patrons of the road, they would resort to destroying things about the closets, and the depot, whenever possible for them to do so unnoticed. Mr. Bell has finally discovered an effective and sure remedy to avoid such practice in the future—and he will surely use his remedy even though it is hard on his shoe points and the small boy's trousers.

The Marshall County Leader, published at Stephen by Sam H. Clark, has just completed its eighteenth year and starts out on its new volume by promising its readers a number of improvements in its make-up, and says:

"Within a short time we hope to publish the Leader in an entirely new form and with a new outfit of machinery and type. The increased demand for advertising space warrants a change and the growth of our little city calls for a wide awake local newspaper. It will be our aim to fill the field and our patrons can best judge whether our aim is true or not."

The Leader is one of our exchanges which is always a welcome visitor, and never passes by unnoticed. We extend congratulations to Bro. Clark and wish the Leader continued prosperity.

Chairman Mercer, of the committee on public buildings, has introduced a bill giving $25,000 additional appropriation for the federal building in Fergus Falls. Congressman Eddy says that, while there is no doubt about his getting it through the house, he is going to do his level best. This additional $25,000 will increase the appropriation to $100,000 and ought to put up a building of which the city will feel proud.

Says the Alexandria Post News: In Otter Tail county the populist county board had the choice of having all the official county newspapers of the county, representing both political parties, at the legal rate for one paper, or in one obscure paper at a saving of one-third. By paying full price all the proceedings of the board would have been read by practically every taxpayer in the county; by the little saving made they will be read by the few living in Pelican Rapids. A suspicious person might think the board did not want the people to know its acts. At all events they are paying a mighty high price for what they get.

Elmer E. Adams, chairman of the Seventh district congressional campaign, and wily writer and publisher of the Fergus Falls Journal says:

"The state senate has refused to confirm the appointment of A. H. Hendrickson of Todd county as member of the state board of equalization from this district. ‸his action was most proper. He was entirely unfit for the position. This judicial district is very large, running from St. Cloud to Moorhead, and it ought to have a competent man to represent it—such a man as C. M. Sprague of Sauk Centre, who represented the district for a long time and was familiar with values.

This is the time of year when financial statements and other official publications make their appearance in the weeklies throughout the country, and this week quite a few of them came to the Journal's exchange table. Among the best and neatest gotten up statements so far at hand is that of Marshall county, published in the Warren Sheaf, which reflects credit upon the auditor and publisher alike for its completeness. Norman county's official paper, the Herald of Ada, also comes up with a well arranged showing of the county's finances, which is the handiwork of Auditor Gene Herringer, and substantiates the statement that he is one of the best county officers of Minnesota.

The South Dakota senate evidently does not propose to pay tribute to the memory of the late Queen Victoria in a measure equal to the death of an American statesman,and a report from the capital says: The senate committee having under consideration the joint house resolution extending sympathy to the British people over the death of Queen Victoria expressed concurrence in portions of the resolutions, but declared the subject was not one that called for official action on the part of the senate and that the flag over the state house should only be lowered but for American citizens. For these reasons the committe recommended that ‸e resolutions do not pass. The report will be considered tomorrow and will probably be adopted, thus killing the resolution.

The ‸arren Sheaf, wi‸‸ commendable enterprise, publishes this week a full and comprehensive report of the recent tri-state drainage convention, held in this city Jan. 17 and 18, and in an editorial comments on the drainage question in the following pertinent language:

"With proper drainage in the Red River valley the entire state will be greatly enriched and benefited, from both an economic and climatic point of view. Drainage means vast tracts of fertile land, now almost useless, added to our agricultural domain, more people, more wealth, and more taxes for the state. It means the prevention of damage from floods in the spring, early seeding, better crops and more certainty in the raising thereof, and consequently more prosperity for he farmers and everybody else. Drainage will enhance the value of the school lands in the drained territory, and consequently be a benefit to the school fund and the schools. It will increase the earnings of the railroads and thereby increase their gross earnings tax, for the benefit of the state. The state will be the gainer by making liberal appropriations for drainage purposes. But aside from these economic benefits, the climatic ones are not less important. It is a well known fact that drainage and cultivation modify the climate of a country to a very large extent. A cultivated field attracts and absorbs heat from the sun's rays more rapidly than the unbroken prairie. We have all noticed that snow melts sooner in the spring on plowed ground. With an increased area of cultivated land in the Red River valley, and the cold, water soaked swamps and muskegs properly drained, the climatic conditions of southern and central Minnesota will be much affected. In ‸e Red River valley, we believe, there is already a perceptible change in the climatic conditions. Our winters are less cold and rigorous than they used to be, and they are being shortened at both ends. With the settlement and cultivation of the vast Canadian northwest, now rapidly taking place, the north winds will be tempered and the climate still further improved. In a not distant future northern Minnesota will have about he same climate as Iowa now has and will be able to raise corn just as successfully."

"It was a woman's privilege to be courted," writes Margaret E. Sangster in the February Ladies' Home Journal. "Therefore the man sends the valentine, not the girl. Thoughtless and silly girls sometimes overlook this fact that they are to be sought and never do the seeking, and an old observer sees with pain that they employ little art to attract the other sex; that, save the mark, they behave, here and there, as if everything they could do should be done to gain the approving notice of the opposite sex. This creates a false position and is always cheapening to ‸‸e girl, not only in the eyes of others, but also in time, when the awakening comes, it is degrading to her self-respect."

The Brainerd Dispatch hands Charles A. Towne the following criticism on his speech delivered before congress just before his retirement as senator:

Through the courtesy of Senator Clapp, Chas. A. Towne was permitted to air his views in the senate on the Philippine question. Mr. Towne's term had expired, but Mr. Clapp refrained from taking the oath to gratify Mr. Towne, until he had an opportunity to make his desired speech. It was a disappointment, as he offered nothing new, but advised turning over the government of the Philippines to Aguinaldo, who would murder in cold blood the thousands of peace loving natives who have accepted in good faith the government of the United States. Such a proposition is monstrous and would not be followed even by Bryan, Towne and others who advocate it, if they had ‸he power. Such speeches only delay the day of complete pacification, for the natives who fear the vengeance of Aguinaldo and his bandits will be slow to accept American authority so long as there is any possibility that they will be abandoned to their tender mercies.

Sad Accident.

A sad accident occurred at Thief River Falls this noon which caused the instant death of Louis Hale, a Great Northern brakeman, and badly injured another brakeman named J. W. Barden. It appears from reports received here that when the train, which left here at 9:20, reached Thief River the train crew had to switch some empty cars over the spur track down to the saw mill. Both brakeman were on top of a car when the rails under the heavy weight spread, which caused the first car to jump the track and fall over on its side. Barden jumped and escaped with a sprained ankle and probably a slight fracture of the bone, but poor Hale was less fortunate. He also started to jump and in doing so fell directly under the car which had left ‸‸ track and was tumbling over, and was instantly crushed to death.

The dead body of the unfortunate man was extracted as soon as sufficient help could reach the scene of the accident, and it was found that his head was almost severed from the shoulders, and he was otherwise badly mutilated.

Deceased leaves a wife and three childern, who reside on the corner of Fourth and Broadway. When the news of the sad occurrence reached the city Agent Bell of the Great Northern immediately made arrangements to acquaint Mrs. Hale with the facts. Mrs. Steve Whitey consented to convey the awful news to the wife and children, who are terribly affected by this unfortunate blow.

The remains will not be brought here until tomorrow evening, as the coroner could not be reached in time to hold an inquest today.

Barden, the other brakeman, is a single man and a brother-in-law ‸ Peter Snyder, the barber.

The sorrowing wife and family of the dead man have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in this city, who will make every effort to comfort them as much as possible in the hour of misfortune.

Division Roadmaster J. J. Hess, and his assistant, Charles Daggett, returned from Thief River Falls last evening on the fatal train,a part of which caused the death of Louis Hale, the brakeman, and injured J. W. Barden, his associate. Both gentlemen were eye witnesses to the accident, and give a somewhat different account of the occurrence, as seen by them.

It was stated in yesterday's account that the rails had spread at the point where the man met his death, but this is positively denied by General Roadmaster Hess and others who were present. The car upon which the brakemen were riding was the first one of the six w‸‸ch were being backed down to the mill, and for some unknown reason it jumped the track, broke its coupling and rolled down a slight embankment, while the balance of the cars rolled on.

Hale apparently was struck by the car as it first landed on the ground after leaving the track, the car rolling clear over his body. Death was instantaneous, Hale's body being mashed beyond recognition; and the top of his head was severed above the nose.

Conductor Lockman brought in his train minus any brakemen last evening, a coroner's inquest having been ordered upon the remains of Louis Hale, and Barden's injuries preventing him form further service. This morning, T. H. Hale, a brother of the deceased, who is railroading at West Superior, arrived on an early train, and with Assistant Superintendent Forepaugh, Roadmaster Hess, Undertaker Woodham, and L. W. Clarke, left for the scene of the accident, and will arrive here this evening at 6:30 with the body.

Short funeral services will be held at the Workmen hall, at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon, Rev. H. P. Fisher officiating.

Deceased was a member of the local lodge A. O. U. W. That order will look after the funeral arrangements when they reach here. Interment will take place at Moorhead tomorrow, where the body will be shipped on the Moorhead Northern tomorrow night.

Hale was about 33 years of age, and for the last two years was employed on the Thief River Falls run. He was of a quiet disposition and highly respected by all who knew him. Only about three months ago he joined the Workman lodge in this city. He leaves, besides his wife and three children, two brothers, one of whom is here today.

MRS. NATION'S JOB

She and a Number of Her Lieutenants Smash the Finest Joints in Topeka in 15 Minutes.

JOINT KEEPERS ARRESTED

And They in Turn Swear Out Warrants for Her Arrest--She is Protected by Police.

Topeka, Feb.5.—Mrs. Nation today retrieved yesterday's setback when she and three friends wrought damage to the extent of $1,500 in the "Senate," the finest equipped joint in Topeka. She did more, for she gained the first police protection given her since she started out on her saloon smashing career at ‸‸ichita a month ago. The police followed up her raid of today and arrested the proprietor of the"Senate" and two men who were guarding the place. Mrs. Nation was arrested but promptly released.

Mrs. Nation had her wreckers, each armed with a hatchet, sallied forth at day-break and caught the jointists napping. They wended their way past a negro who was guarding the door, and in less than ten minutes had strewn the floor with broken mirrors, bottles, slot machines and splintered bar fixtures.

The negro fired a shot of warning into the ceiling but this had no effect. Presently a policeman stalked leisurely into ‸‸e room and said:

"Well, Sister Nation, I guess we'll have to arrest you again."

Mrs. Nation had just smashed the last bottle and was ready to go.

"All right," she replied cheerily, "you just came when I wanted you."

She turned back as she reached the door and inquired: "Everything cleaned up, ladies?"

The police judge was glad to release her when she appeared for trial and she administered a tongue lashing to that official, and Mrs. Nation soon walked proudly down Kansas Avenue, free again to smash and preach.

Michael Wagner, supposed to be the owner of the "Senate," made the best of his opportunity and promptly secured a quantity of liquor to supply the thirst of the crowds that poured into his place to view the wreckage that the Nationists had wrought.

During the afternoon two deputies from Sheriff Cook's office raided the place and arrested Wagner and Lyttle and the two guards and took charge of the stock of liquors.

The warrant had been sworn out for Wagner and Lyttle, but one of the deputies was so angry that when a guard struck him, he arrested both guards.

Later Chief of Police Stahl in an interview with a representative said:

"I do not care if Mrs. Nation smashes every joint in Topeka. I sympathize with her. I hope she will close up every saloon in the city.

"As an officer of the law though it is my duty to arrest her every time she creates a disturbance or destroys property. If we had the right kind of state officers it would not be necessary for Mrs. Nation to do what she is doing."

"There is a great deal of talk of plots to hurt Mrs. Nation. I heard today that several saloon men have charged thick glass bottles with tremendous pressure, so that an explosion will follow their being broken. She is not at all disturbed by these stories."

To day Mrs. Nation dictated an appeal to the children of the high schools of the United States in which she urged children, everywhere to smash saloon windows with rocks.

Mrs. Nation was arrested tonight on a warrant sworn out in the city court by Kelly & Little, who owned the Senate sloon. She is charged with malicious destruction of property. Her bond was placed at $100 and she was released till Saturday, at which time her trial will take place. A. Hadley, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., fought this afternoon over the merits of Mrs. Nation. A negro named Jackson was in the crowd reading ‸‸e bulletins in front of a newspaper office. He said he wished Mrs. Nation had been killed. Hadley immediately resented it and soon a fight was in progress; the negro was large and heavy, and Hadley is a small man. He is quick and wiry, however, and was punishing the negro badly, when a policeman arrested both for fighting. Numerous fights took place over the same topic. Kansas avenue, the principal street of this city, has been lined all day with excited little groups discussing the situation and more than one blow was struck.

Mrs. Nation addressed her recruits and sympathizers at the Christian church here tonight; the church was crowdede to the doors and the saloon destroyer was given an ovation. John C. Nicholson, a lawyer from Newton, is here with a bill he has prepared to legalize joint smashing. He declares a member has promised to introduce the bill for the consideration of the legislature. Nicholson says Mrs. Nation violates no law when she smashes property that is being used for unlawful purposes, and by legalizing her methods by passing his bill the work of driving out joints would be greatly facilitated.

The Baker Trial.

Hon. Halvor Steenerson, William Lawrence, ex-jailor of the Polk county jail,and MayorCampbell returned from Ada this morning, where the former was attorney and the two latter gentlemen witnesses in the now celebrated Percy Baker shooting case.

Contrary to all forecasts and predictions, Baker was found guilty in the first degree of attempting to kill Nettie Larson. The jury recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court, and brought in their verdict this morning at 2:30.

In conversation with Mr. Campbell this morning, that gentleman stated to the Journal reporter among other things:

"In my judgment the evidence presented at the trial warranted a different verdict. The opening remarks of Attorney Peterson of Moorhead, while outlining the plans of the defense teemed with more than ordinary tact, ability and feeling, and appeared to have a marked effect on the court as well as the large audience. Attorney Halvor Steenerson reviewed the evidence at the close in one of the most able efforts that it has been my pleasure to listen to for many a year. The charge of the judge to the jury was certainly all that the prosecution could expect or the defense demand; yet, notwithstanding all this, added to the fact that the evidence plainly indicated that Baker was wholly non compus mentis at the time when the act was committed, the jury brought in a verdict finding him guilty in the first degree of the charge of "Shooting with the attempt to kill one Nettie Larson."

Those who have been most intimate with Baker, those who have had charge of his person and his case as well as very many of those who heard the testimony and the charge of the Court contend hat the decision was not warranted by the law and the facts. In this opinion I concur. If the jury had brought in a verdict in substance that defendant Percy Baker is guilty of shooting Nettie Larson while in a state of frenzy brought about by hallucinations incited by an excessive and habitual use of opium,which habit was contracted as a result of four operations performed upon his person rendered necessary as a result of an accident, and do hereby find from the testimony that he is at this time an incompetent person, do therefore recommend that he be placed in some suitable asylum until such time as he may be restored to his proper senses," etc., I think that the mother, the wife, he children, his friends and the general public would have no cause to criticise the jury. As it is, I think it a travesty upon justice, and hope that the recommendations of the attorneys that he be placed in an asylum may prevail."

The testimony of some of the Crookston witnesses is reproduced below, as follows:

"Nat Campbell, mayor of Crookston was next called to the stand. Baker spent most of the Saturday previous to the shooting in Campbell's office and had two or three wills drawn up during the day. Campbell had drawn up seven wills for Baker in about a week's time and in all but one Miss Larson was named as beneficiary. He was particular that she should get all of his property, as he said she was the only girl and was intended for him by God Almighty. Campbell noticed Baker's condition and wanted him put in charge of a police. He was taken by officers in the evening and instead of being taken to the jail was put on the train and went to Halstad. Campbell again saw Baker at the Crookston jail a day or two after he was brought there from Halstad and Baker told him he did not know why he committed the act and regretted the affair.

Judge Montague was called and testified that he acted as Baker's attorney during his suit for divorce from his wife. Baker was in a hurry to have the divorce "pulled off" as he wanted to marry Nettie as soon as possible.

Baker then took the stand in his own behalf. When asked to show his arms to the jury he rolled up both sleeves and showed a number of scars caused by hypodermic injections of morphine. Baker had no distinct memory of his trip to Halstad. He carried with him a grip, which contained a box of cut flowers, three quarts of whiskey, a seal saeque, box of cigars and some jewelry. He was put on the train at Crookston but did not remember showing a pass or ticket. Remembered being at the Commercial hotel in Halstad on Sunday and stated that the object of the trip was to marry Miss Larson if he sobered up. Visited the entire afternoon with Nettie and said he guessed he guessed he did the shooting but knew not why. The afternoon was spent in affectionate conversation intermingled with bitter-sweet memories of the past that are now laid bare by this trial.

In the minds of most all people who heard, or witnessed Baker's trial, there is little doubt as to his mental aberation, as is evident from a little incident which occurred during the examination. In some manner, unknown to his attorneys or the deputy sheriff, whose constant charge he was, Percy managed to write a lette to the woman whom he had tried to kill a few months ago, assuring her of his unrelenting love for her, and imploring her not to forsake him at this trying moment. He asked for forgiveness for any wrong he had perpetrated against her, and promised to marry her as soon as he was a free man again. Then, ‸e thought all would be lovely and they would never have trouble again. The letter got into the hands of the Larson woman, no one knows how, and she gave it to her attorneys, who used the writing as an exhibit of his sanity.

A telegram from Ada at a late hour this afternoon states that Baker was to receive his sentence at 2 o'clock this afternoon, but that he had failed to appear in the court room up to 4 o'clock. It is generally understood, says the Journal correspondent, that Judge Watts has agreed to give h‸m the lightest sentence possible, which will mean five years in the penitentiary, if the attorneys do not move for a new trial.

5:10 p. m.—(Special to the Crookston Daily Journal.)—Judge Watts sentenced the prisoner to ‸ive years in the penitentiary at Stillwater.

FARGO DEPRAVITY.

Lynching Would be Too Good for Two Fargo Brutes Who Ruin Three Little Girls.

ENTIRE PARTY IS ARRESTED

Public Feeling runs High and Considrable "Rope Talk" is Indulged in.

Word was received last evening from Fargo of an affair, the details of which are too repugnant to appear in print. Harry Steffes and Hugh Shauger, the latter a married man, and both laborers, were caught in rooms in the Hotel Minnesota on Lower Front street in Fargo, in company with three young girls from Moorhead, named Emma Rundgren, Anna Rundgren and Clara Wilkins, aged nine, thirteen and fifteen respectively.

The party at the time of the arrest were all drinking beer and carousing after the manner of graduated sports. They were all taken to the police station and the men placed in cells. The girls were questioned and admitted that there had been improper relations between them and the men for the past four months. The story they told was one of the most terrible depravity ever heard in Fargo, and when the age of the girls is taken into consideration the affair is one of the most disgusting that ever happened in the northwest.

Little is known of Steffes, but Shauger is not a stranger to the police courts of Fargo, as he served time last summer for stealing a rug, and is considered an all round tough.

Public feeling ran high as the news of the affair spread through the city and there was some talk of bringing a rope and a lamp post into requisition, with either end of the rope around the necks of the monsters who affected the ruin of the three girs, but cooler heads counseled letting the law take its course, and this advice prevailed for the time being.

Senator Daly introduced an amendment to the anti-trust laws this morning, which is aimed at combinations of dealers who refuse to deal with proscribed retailers or wholesalers.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman's Association, composed of retailers,have agreed not to deal with any wholesale wholesale dealer who sells to consumers where there is a yard belonging to a member of the association. In the case of the Bohn Manufacturing company vs. W. Y. Hollis and others, the supreme court in 1893 decided that there was no legal way to prevent this discrimination. Senator Daly's bill is designed to remedy this and it will no doubt be fought hard by the association lumbermen, both wholesale and retail.

The bill also touches the tobacco trust and the Standard Oil company. Many complaints have been received from retailers who have bee cut off from obtaining goods by the wholesalers' combination because of underselling. The Daly bill would prevent wholesale dealers from refusing to sell to retailers in such cases.

Stop the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, no Pay. Price 25 cents.

CITY AND VICINITY

—School tablets at the Journal office.

—Typewriter paper at the Journal office.

—L. Johannessohn is up from Beltrami today.

—Elias Steenerson will loan money on improved farms at low rates. tf

—Dr. H. W. Smith, after a three days tussle with the grip, is up and round again.

—Mrs. T. E. Biver, of Euclid, is visiting among Crookston friends for a few days.

—Buzzell's opening this evening will not be overlooked by those who like a fine free lunch.

—Fred Miller, manager of the St. Hilaire lumber mills, arrived in the city on last evening's train.

—Died, in the town of Brandsvold, Tuesday morning, Feb. 6, Mrs. Anna Maline Knutson, aged 80 years.

—Miss Clara Schroeder returned from Thief River Falls last evening, where she has been visiting for a couple of weeks.

—Mrs. John Steenerson and Mrs. Hans N. Larson, of Dasey, N. D., are visiting the families of Halvor and Elias Steenerson.

—Rev. Greene boarded the train for Hallock this morning, and will lecture to the Masons at that place this evening on "Masonry."

—J. R. Glover, D. S. C. R., of East Grand Forks, expects to organize three courts during the next sixty days in the northern part of the state.

—For nervousness and sleeplessness try Lincoln's Hop and Celery Nerve Tablets. 25 cents per box. For sale by A. G. Anderson, druggist.

—The Gates family, residing on Hurlbut street, are contemplating permanent removal to Wisconsin, and are selling out their property here.

—E. J. Willis, at one time cashier at the Great Northern depot in this city, is now filling a lucrative position in the auditor's office of the company at St. Paul.

—George and Alex Gonyea entertained the Red White and Blue club at their home Tuesday evening. Games and music made the evening a very pleasant one.

—Pennsylvania Grit is America's greatest family weekly, and contains the latest news of all important events, the choicest and best stories, profusely illustrated; there is something for every member of the family.

—C. E. Sawyer and family, so well known in this city, have recently gone from Superior to make a new home in Chicago. A. N. Hixon, Mr. Sawyer's partner in the milling business at Superior, will continue the business.

—W. A. Case, of St. Hilaire, who has been in Crookston several weeks soliciting members for the Modern Woodmen of America order, left this morning for a short visit at home, as he said, "to get acquainted with his family once more."

—Julius Pleth, the real estate hustler from St. Hilaire, was in the city yesterday, and while here bought of the Great Northern Land Co. [illegible] es of [illegible] lands, situated in the eastern portion of Marshall county. The price paid averages $8 per acre.

—M. Bueth, who at the present time represents Mlady & Casey, the wholesale paper dealers of St. Paul, was here yesterday calling on the trade. He says business has kept up remarkably, and that trade for the winter has exceeded all expectations.

—P. Goodnough and twelve other land seekers from Adrian, Minn., arrived in the city this morning and went out to Erskine to look over some of the choice parcels of Polk county dirt, with the intention of purchasing as much of it as they need.

—L. W. Larson of Crookston, says the Minneapolis Journal, is one of the northern Minnesota implement dealers who are buying goods in the Minneapolis market this week. The drainage bill's progress through the legislature is being closely watched by the people of his section of the state.

—Frank Benoit, who fell on the icy side walk about four weeks ago, and suffered the fracture of an ankle, has so far recovered that he can move along on a pair of crutches. It will be sometime yet, however, before he will be able to return to his post of duty.

—Dr. Morley gave an illustrated lecture on the lens of the eye before the physics class at the High school yesterday. The eye of a sheep was used for the purpose. The explanations were so clearly and lucidly given by the esteemed doctor that lasting impressions were no doubt made in the minds of his hearers.

—G. E. Carr of Stephen, Minn., is at the Vendome in Minneapolis. The country east of Stephen has seen a rapid growth in two years. Commercial travelers make it regularly, mostly by team from Stephen. This trip also includes the town of Warroad on the boundary. Railroad extension into the the Roseau country means a boom for northern Minnesota.

—"The Belle of New York," which strikes here on Tuesday night, Feb. 12, is expected to catch the town. It has performed this feat in various parts of the world in a manner that keeps those particularly interested in its fortunes, smiling overtime. That this facinating attraction from the New York Casino should have made such a pronounced success was only to be expected. "The Belle of New York" comes to the Grand wearing a halo of extraordinary success at home and abroad. She is bright, smiling, and entertaining and the company is one of unusual make-up.

—The school musicale next Monday evening for the benefit of the choral class will be an interesting and pleasing social event. An elaborate program, consisting of choruses, solos, quartettes and duets, interspersed with several literary numbers, has been arranged and all parts are well placed. An admission fee of ten cents for school children, and fifteen cents for others will be charged at the door, as no tickets have been issued. The complete program will be published in Sturday's edition of the Journal.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine
Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets,
the remedy that cures a cold in one day

—C. C. Hoch is not improving as fast as his friends desire, and today he is reported a little worse.

—J. H. Engle, of Spencer, Iowa, one of the best known real estate men who visit this section, arrived this morning and will remain a week or more.

—The Presbyterian church members will give a social this evening at the residence of Robert Leik North Main street.

—F. G. Bennett, superintendent of schools of Marshall county, accompanied by his wife, came down from Argyle Friday afternoon to pay a short visit to their son Robert, who is attending the Crookston College.

—C. C. Hoch is laid up for repairs. A while ago he was vaccinated and that arm is in consequence quite sore. Yesterday while splitting wood in the cellar with the other arm he managed to sprain that member, and now he has to be fed by an attendant.

—Miss Dora Eikhoff, who for a number of years has been one of the competent members of the Journal force leaves this evening for a visit with friends and relatives at Astoria, Oregon, and other places out west. Miss Eikhoff will be away for two months or more.

—Chris Greenhalgh, who is lying ill at his residence in Sampson's addition, is slowly sinking, and his unconsciousness continues uninterrupted. For nearly four weeks he has been unable to take any nourishment, and the final summons is considered only a matter of a short time.

—Attorney Montague returned from Ada this morning, where he assisted Attorney Steenerson in the Baker trial. Baker was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary late yesterday afternoon, and will be taken to Stillwater by Sheriff Peterson on this evening's Great Northern train.

—H. Dye, who has been visiting with Chas. Sharkey for a week or more, left Friday for Havre, Montan, to accept a position as relief agent under Supt. Scott. Mr. Dye was for a number of years stationed at Winnipeg Junction as agent and operator of the Northern Pacific.

—Examination of pensioners was conducted yesterday by the board of pension examiners for this district. Three applicants, W. W. Wilson, of East Grand Forks, J. H. Gilkin, of Hallock, and S. Laveve, of Bagley, were examined and expect to have their names placed on Uncle Sam's pension roll.

—The lady Maccabees will give a very pleasant entertainment at their hall in the Odd Fellows block on Monday evening, Feb. 11, commencing at 9 o'clock. Good music has been secured and a good time is in store for those who attend. All are invited to come. Refreshments will be served. Admission 25 cents.

—Charles Holt, Frank Zerracher and Ernest Rolsch expect to leave Sunday evening for Hot Springs, Arkansas. The trio of Crookston good looking heavy weights will no doubt prove a good endorsement of the purity of northern ozone, among the people of the "hot and cold bath" state.

—Newton Ambrose, better known among his friends, and they are legion, as "Brosie," left last evening for Chicago, where he has accepted position as traveling salesman for a large wholesale crockery house. "Brosie" leaves a whole lot of friends who wish him all sorts of good luck in his new position and who regret his departure.

—Courier, Red Lake: Sheriff Sampson took the Great Northern train this afternoon for Fergus Falls, having in charge Helmer Berg, an 18 year old boy residing in the town of North, who had been adjudged insane. The young man acted strangely for some months and it was thought best to commit him to the hospital in the hope that his mind may be restored.

—Immediately following the conclusion of the Percy Baker trial at Ada, yesteday, County Attorney elect Niles, who defeated Peter Sharpe at the last election, and who had a contest before the supreme court, which body decided the election in his favor, took the oath of office and assumed his responsibilities connected with the county attorneyship.

—B. A. Vance, a well to do business man in New Bedford, Mass., was fined $10 by a police magistrate for taking a copy of a daily paper which had been left at the store of H. B. DeWolf. Mr. DeWolf missed his paper frequently, complained to the police, and they arrested Mr. Vance in the act. Mr. Vance said he had simply borrowed the paper and did not intend to steal, as he was well able to buy his own and was, in fact, a subscriber to the paper. He had to pay his fine just the same.

Hon. Halvor Steenerson, who returned from Bemidji Friday, where he had been in attendance at the Beltrami county session of the district court for a week or more, stated to a Journal reporter that the court calendar for the present term was not nearly completed, but on account of the prevalence of smallpox and the lack of funds to defray court expenses, it was deemed advisable to abandon the mill of justice until such a time when both these obstacles had reached a change for the better.

—Gazette, Red Lake Falls: Ed. Gallagher met with an accident Saturday afternoon that will lay him up for the balance of the winter. He was driving down Main street on an empty wood rack, dangling his right leg on the side of the runner. At the railroad crossing the sleigh sloughed, crushing his leg between an electric light pole and the runner, fracturing the member above the ankle. He was taken to Paul's hotel and was attended by Dr. Gendron, who reduced the fracture. Gallagher lives with his wife on the Ralph farm immediately north of the city, and will be taken to his home as soon as he is able to be moved. At present he is doing nicely.

—Thursday night some unknown forced an entrance into Geo. A. E. Finlayson's law office in the Reckitt block and carried off some important documents and other trivial articles. George is anxious to meet the fellow to explain to him fully the purport of the documents' contents, as the man, not being able to read it and understand it, might get mixed.

The New York Store
THE MAMMOTH DEPARTMENT STORE

We are going to try
and break a record
and at the dullest time of the year.

Here is the Story Briefly.

BIG REDUCTION IN OVERSHOES		MEN'S CAPS
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies—worth $1.00, now	75c	Men's Caps worth 50c, now	40c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.25, now	95c	Men's Caps worth 75c, now	65c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.50, now	$1.15	Men's Caps worth $1.00, now	75c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.75, now	$1.35	Men's Caps worth $1.25, now	95c

TWO LOTS OF SHOES

Lot 1 we start with	69c	Lot 2 we start with	59c

Ladies' all Felt, Fur Top Juliets in quilted silk, plain and plaid. 99c

Big Reduction on Dress Goods, Ladies' Shirt Waists, Silk and Flannel.
Ladies' Jackets, Cloaks, Capes, Fur Coats, etc., at about Half Price.

"WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE."
COME AND SAVE MONEY.

A. CHABOT.
Sole Agent for Standard Patterns.

—Charley Hitchcock is "splitting" wood out at Solway today.

—Geo. W. Ebb, of Euclid, has been granted a pension of $17 per month.

—Fred Smith, son of Joseph Smith, arrived here from Seattle Saturday on a short visit with his father.

—Mrs. Ed ullivan returned from East Grand Forks last evening after a few days' visit there with relatives and friends.

—Genial Bob Farr left Saturday for Minneapolis to spend Sunday with his wife and daughter, who are visiting friends there.

—Chas. Teal and son Burt came over from Euclid Saturday and Sunday spending the day in the city. Tomorrow morning went to Bemidji to look after their lumbering interests.

—Hans Morberg returned from his claim up at Turtle River Friday, after a week's absence. He reports building operations and everything else lively out in the newly opened country.

—M. R. Brown returned home from Minot Friday, and says that while there is not a large amount of stock moving, there are quite a number of train loads of horses and sheep being shipped, just enough to fill the G. N. stock yards occasionally.

—The Duluth train was an hour late last evening, caused by the breaking of a spring hanger on engine No. 222. It was left here to be repaired, as there are no machinists at Grand Forks now. Engine No. 159 took the train through to the Forks.

—The switch crews in the Great Northern yards are happy once more, having been given engine number 411, for future use, in exchange for the old little No. 18, which has proven too light for the work devolving upon the switch crews at this point.

—The case of Stanley Collins against the city of Crookston, which was set for hearing in justice court Thursday afternoon, and in which plaintiff demands $25 damages for a broken hack, was postponed by consent of the opposing counsel until Feb. 28.

—Adolph Ebbighausen succeeds Geo. Martin as night clerk at the Palace hotel, and assumed his duties Friday evening. Mr. Ebbighausen is a young gentleman of fine attainments and will no doubt prove an obliging and competent man for his new calling.

—Eddie Bulm left Thursday for California to meet his mother, who has been spending nearly two months there for the benefit of her health. Mr. Bulm and the balance of the family will follow as soon as his business affairs here are satisfactorily arranged, to make the Orange state their future home.

Herald, Grand Forks: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wood, Miss Lulu Anderson and Robert Brownlee returned Thursday from Crookston where they attended the annual ball and banquet of the Elks at that place the evening before. They report the affair a complete success in every particular and join in the statement that the Elks of Crookston are royal entertainers.

—Index, Ada: A telegram from Bagley says that Ole Erickson, one of the purchasers of pine land on the White Earth reservation, sold Nov. 27, 1900, did not adhere to instructions from the Crookston land office, not to take possession until the sale was confirmed. The consequence is that a special agent has stopped his logging operations.

—D. A. Ray, of Fosston, has taken the contract off the hands of Alfred Folstrom, and will land about a million and a half feet of logs on the Bagley sidetrack of the Great Northern railway this winter from the northeast corner of White Earth, being dead and down timber. The logs will be shipped to Grand Forks lumber concerns, by rail.

—Otto Wellund, for upwards of a year in charge of the extensive dry goods department of the New York store, has severed his connection with that establishment and taken a similar position in Fontaine & Anglim's store. Mr. Weiland is a very pleasant and accommodating gentleman and enjoys the reputation of being one of the best and most popular dry goods men in the city.

—In district Thursday the case of Matson vs. Lundley was on trial all day, and at the conclusion of the taking of evidence Judge Watts took the case under advisement. Both parties to the suit live at Fertile and the action was brought by plaintiff to obtain possession of certain real estate which defendant was supposed to have transferred to him in a contract for the Fertile hotel property.

Skrivseths Gallery
is the place to get good photographs.
216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

From Monday's Daily.

—L. Johannessohn, the Beltrami lumberman, spent Sunday in the city.

—C. R. Snyder, of Fertile, and Chas. Fish, of St. Cloud, are two transients in the city today.

—Mrs. E. D. Barness, wife of the Polk county jailor, returned to Fosston this morning after a few days' visit here.

—Chas. Bryant, who holds down a clerkship in Schraeder's grocery store, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

—[illegible] Bowles, of Fertile, the Champion machine agent of that thriving town, was an over Sunday visitor here and returned home last evening.

—Dr. Oscar Bartleson, of Fergus Falls, is soon to remove to Beltrami and open a drug store at that place. He will also open an office and practice medicine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Marcum, who reside in the north end of the city, will celebrate their silver wedding next Monday, and are sending out invitations to their friends to attend the occasion.

—Geo. Purvis, of the Great Northern land department, last Saturday closed the deal for the transfer of 25 quarter sections and one tract of 80 acres of the company's lands to Iowa parties. This is one of the largest sales of real estate in one day on record.

—C. M. Scott, at one time a newspaper reporter in this city, but now connected with one of the Minneapolis dailies, arrived here this morning on his way to Warren, where he goes to report the result of the Wold poisoning case, mention of which is made in another column of this issue.

—Late Saturday evening a contract was signed by the former owners of the Hotel Crookston and W. S. Lycan, whereby the latter becomes owner of the property. The transfer is one of the most important made in this city for a long time.

—John Anguess was the name given by the individual who was arrested late Saturday afternoon for drunkenness and who spent Sunday in the city cooler. He has a claim up on the Red Lake reservation, and being without money, he was let off without a fine.

—About twenty-five of the friends of Miss Pearl [illegible]une prepared a surprise party for her last Saturday evening at her home on Houston avenue. Dancing, cards and vocal and instrumental music formed the program of the evening. Dainty refreshments were served.

—Fred Barclay made his regular weekly trip to Grand Forks last night, returning this morning. Just what attracts Fred's attention so intensely in the North Dakota metropolis is only a matter of conjecture among his friends but some of them claim to know that he is receiving treatment for a trouble of the heart.

—Angus Cameron was surprised today to hear from a brother of Mrs. Cameron who had not been heard from for more than fifteen years, and was supposed to be numbered among the dead. His name is Chas. Johnstone, and he is located at Galveston, Texas, where he publishes a newspaper.

—An old Polish couple arrived over the Great Northern this morning from St. Paul bound for Warren. Neither one of the two could speak a word of English and they couldn't make themselves understood until Steve Whitey got around. He told them in as clip a Polish style as was ever heard that they would have to board his train if they wanted to reach Warren, and that that train would leave the depot at 9:15.

From Tuesday's Daily.

—Sam Thoreson, Gunder Krostue and John Johnson are prominent Fishcrites in the city today. Mr. Thoreson was accompanied by his brother, who resides at Oberon, N. D., and went out to McIntosh to visit friends.

—Brakemen Grace and Morden have been assigned the place on the Thief River Falls run of the Great Northern made vacant by the death of Louis [illegible] and the wounding of Jack Barden. They made their first trip today.

A force of men are at work at the saw mill, refitting and putting everything in condition for the opening of the sawing season next spring. When the mill starts up again a day and night crew will keep things humming.

—P. T. Scotland, a former resident of Crookston, and at one time one of the city's aldermen, who now is engaged in business at Rugby, N. D., came over from Grand Forks this morning to tell a few good stories in the Russian language.

—A. C. Schmidt of this city has received instructions from the owner of the Markham hotel at St. Hilaire to go up there and entirely repaint, paper and remodel the interior of that hostelry. He will leave next Monday to begin the work.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Billedeau last evening entertained a number of their young friends at progressive cinch. Miss Emma Ebbighausen won the ladies' prize, while Jos. Defrees carried off the gentlemen's prize. Refreshments were served and everybody enjoyed a pleasant evening.

—L. W. Larson, a prominent machinery dealer of Crookston, is at the Nicollet, says the Tribune. Mr. Larson will spend several days here selecting a stock of seasonable goods. He claims that prospects were never better in the northwest part of the state, and that purchases by merchants will be heavier than usual on that account.

—Mrs. M. Challis will open her fine new millinery store in the Reckitt block, adjoining the postoffice, about March 1, and intends to have as complete an establishment as can be found anywhere west of the Twin Cities. The dressmaking parlors in connection with it are now open and are in charge of Miss Nellie Mackln, who arrived here this morning from Minneapolis.

—J. F. Creamer and J. L. Lucian were passengers on the Great Northern last evening for Minneapolis. Both gentlemen are delegates of the local lodge A. O. U. W. to the state grand lodge, which meets in Minneapolis today. Before returning Mr. Lucian will visit for a week or more in Iowa. Mr. Creamer is one of the grand officers of the order and will have business for a week before returning.

—Andrew Vaudell, the Great Northern section boss at Climax, who in a fit of insanity jumped out of the window of his hotel and ran only partly dressed a half a mile up the track, was brought to Crookston this morning and taken before Judge Hagen to be examined as to his sanity. In jumping from the window he broke a bone in his foot and was also somewhat frozen by the exposure. He was adjudged insane today by Judge Hagen and will be taken to Fergus Falls tonight.

From Wednesday's Daily.

—Mrs. Ed Sullivan left last evening for a visit with East Grand Forks friends.

—E. W. Johnson, the Beltrami merchant, returned home last evening after spending a busy day in the Queen city.

—Col. John R. Rasmusson left last evening for Seattle and other coast points, and will be absent about three weeks.

—Mrs. William Conger, mother of J. P. Foote, who has been spending a few days visiting with her son, left this morning for McIntosh.

—The Ojata and Bartlett depot of the Great Northern, over in North Dakota, have been closed for the remainder of the winter, owing to lack of business.

—J. W. Wheeler, cashier of the First National bank, left last evening for Chicago, where he will visit his brother for a short time, and look up some private business affairs.

—Henry Fnak (not our own Henry) came down from Beltrami county last evening, where he holds down a fine claim, and left on the Moorhead Northern for Wahpeton, N. D.

—Prof. Hoverstad, of the Experiment farm, left last evening for Beltrami, where he attends the creamery association meeting which is being held there today.

—J. H. Pratt, who represents C. C. Bowen, the painter, left this morning for Red Lake Falls, where he expects to capture a few contracts for the Crookston brush artist.

—Ralph O. Olson, banker and politician of Alden, Minn., who came to Crookston on a land deal and incidentally visited Prof. Hoverstad, of the Experiment farm, for a couple of days, returned home last evening.

—A. H. Tibbitts, of Minneapolis, agent for the children's aid society, returned from Red Lake Falls last evening on his way home, having in charge an eight year old boy whom he took to the children's home.

Jailor Barness, of the Polk county prison, reports that he now has only eight prisoners in confinement, the smallest number of county boarders for a long time. Percy Baker was the last one to leave the bastile.

—The Thief River Falls train last evening, which bore the dead body of Brakeman Louis Hale, and J. W. Barden, the other brakeman who was caught in the railroad accident Monday noon, was nearly an hour late.

—A Stillwater dispatch of yesterday says that Mrs. Nathan Lammers, wife of one of Stillwater's most prominent merchants committed suicide today by hanging herself in the woodshed. No reason can be assigned for the deed other than that she had poor health

—A Bagley subscriber to the Daily Journal, whose name in some unknown way was dropped from the subscription list, writes: "Please send us the Daily Journal regular. We are lonesome without it." Your name has been placed back on the list. Excuse the skip.

—The firm of Larsen, Carpenter & Co., of Beltrami, says the Independent, has been changed to Larsen & Carpenter, they having bought out the interest of their former partner, A. P. Hill. Larsen & Carpenter will continue in the same line of business as heretofore, the only change being Mr. Hill's withdrawal from the firm.

—Martin I. Bakker, organizer for the Independent Scandinavian Workmen's association of Minnesota and Wisconsin, who has been in the city for some time, engaged in organizing a local lodge of that order, left last night for Ada, where he will make an effort to organize also. On Monday evening of next week he expects to be in Crookston again to have installation of officers of the new lodge.

Tribune, Tenstrike: Tenstrike now has a population of about 200 people, and accessions are daily being made. Some splendid buildings are being erected there. Fred Brinkman is finishing a hotel structure which will cost $4,500, and Messrs. Dudrey, Stickman, J. J. Heffron, Sturdeyant & Bowers, J. H. Gates, C. R. Martin and others are erecting substantial buildings. The community will be incorporated as a village as soon as possible, and it bids fair of being one of the best little towns in the county.

EULOGIZED DAVIS.

Representatives Review the Life and Character of Cushman K. Davis as Senator.

EDDY GROWS ELOQUENT

And Classes the Dead Statesman with Lincoln and Reed--Davis Unrivaled in Diversity.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The house of representatives Saturday paid its tribute to the memory of Cushman K. Davis. The exercises began at 3 o'clock, with fifteen members prepared to speak. Mr. Fletcher, of Minneapolis, as dean of the Minnesota delegation, was recognized first and he was followed by Mr. Dinsmore of Arkansas, after whom came James A. Tawney, and then in the order named speeches were made by Representatives Jenkins of Wisconsin, Underwood of Alabama, McCleary, Champ Clark, Parker of New Jersey, Heatwole, Spalding of Smith of Michigan, Morris, Gamble of South Dakota, and Eddy. Mr. Eddy moved the formal adoption of the resolution in honor Mr. Davis and the adjournment of the house.

Mr. Eddy spoke as follows: A mighty man has fallen among the lawmakers of the nation. Words can not add to the luster of fame; his achievements are a part of history, and mere speech cannot add thereto nor detract therefrom.

In the last half of the nineteenth century our country has prodused three noted men, different from all other men and marvelously different from each other—Lincoln, Reed and Davis. Lincoln, the greatest executive of this or any other country; Reed, the master parliamentarian of the ages, and Davis, unrivalled in the diversity of his information, unapproachable in his knowledge of international law and unequaled in the realm of diplomacy.

I never regarded Senator Davis as a great leader of men in the popular acceptation of the term, but rather as a director of leaders. One who with marvelous preciseness mapped out the paths in which other and more dashing men led public thought and action. He was not the captain of the ship of state, but rather the pilot, who stood at the wheel, to whom the captain looked for guidance, and upon whose correct knowledge of the great ocean of current events he absolutely depended to keep the vessel in the true course of progress, so that it might not be stranded on the shoals of misgovernment or wrecked on the rocks of disaster, and to whom he never looked in vain, for a complete chart of the past had he at his fingers ends, and so keen his knowledge of the motives that impel men and nations to action, and so accurate his conclusions as to what events would follow certain causes, that he read the future with almost prophetic power.

He was original in conception, accurate in conclusion and daring in execution. He eschewed the beaten pathways of thought and proceeded in a way peculiarly his own. He was a veritable Napoleon in the domain of thought, and "Davising" a question has come in our state to mean solving differently from other people and always arriving at a correct conclusion. He jumped at conclusions, but his never was the leap of ignorant enthusiasm into the darkness, trusting to luck for a safe landing place, but the spring of the trained athlete, who, knowing his own powers, has measured the distance with an eye of unerring accuracy and knows exactly where and how he is going to alight and by which he cleared the chasms of difficulty and sped onward towards his goal, while others were compelled to laboriously bridge the same chasms with the timbers of experience and plod after him up the heights.

I shall not attempt to recount the achievements, list the accomplishments or extol the virtues of this many-sided man. And when the sons and daughters of the North Star State, which claims him as its most distinguished citizen, shall erect for him a stately monument, more as an evidence of their love than as a tribute to his greatness, let there be inscribed on its base the simple name "Davis," and the world will know the rest.

AMEND NELSON LAW.

The Seventh District Representative Introduces His Measure Yesterday.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Representative Eddy yesterday introduced his bill for an amendment of the Nelson law for the disposal of Chippewa pine lands. It provides that whenever 100,000 acres of pine land shall have been surveyed, examined and appraised, the secretary of the interior is authorized and directed to sell under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe upon sealed bids on stumpage, to be scaled under Scribner's rule, to the log after being cut, all pine timber thereon whether green or growing or dead, standing or fallen, 10 per cent. of purchase price to be deposited on acceptance of the proposal.

The proviso is inserted, however, that the timber shall be sold at not less than $4 a thousand feet, with the secretary given discretion to increase the price if he so desires.

Each purchaser is required to enter into an agreement to cut, clean and remove all the merchantable timber from each tract covered by his purchase and to cut no other timber than white and Norway pine, except such as may be absolutely necessary in the economical conduct of logging operations and to employ Indian labor, when practicable, in cutting, handling, and manufacturing. When the lumber is manufactured on any tract of ceded land, the manufacture to be determined by the secretary of the interior. The purchaser is required to give bonds for the faithful observance of these conditions.

After the timber is removed each tract shall be classed as agricultural lands and open to entry as such, to be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the Nelson act. The bill authorizes the secretary to appoint one superintendent at $10 a day and not to exceed two assistant superintendents at $6 a day each, while actually employed, to supervise the cutting and scaling of the timber. All the expenses of carrying out the provisions of the act are to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the timber. Representative Eddy said this bill embraces his idea of the proper way to dispose of the timber so that the Indians may realize all the money possible from it. In some respects it may no meet with the approval of the interior department, but it is, in his opinion, the nearest approach to an agreement with all the views that could be put into one measure. Mr. Eddy will urge immediate action in the committee and in the house.

UP IN THE AIR

Went a Man, Horse and Wagon Via the Nitro Glycerine Route.

A Special from Indianapolis, dated yesterday, says: By an explosion of 160 quarts of nitro glycerine at the magazine of the Gas Belt Torpedo company, four miles north east of Alexandria, at 11:35 a. m. yesterday, Perry Fort, a carrier for the company, with his team of horses, the wagon and the magazine, were blown to atoms, not a vestige of either having been found after the accident. Fort started from Knightstown Saturday night with 720 quarts of the explosive in the wagon, hauled the dangerous load over rough roads and arrived at Alexandria at 10:30 a. m. He passed through the city and had evidently reached the magazine in which 40 quarts of the glycerine were stored, when the explosion occurred. A hole 15 feet deep and 40 feet wide was left where the magazine had formerly stood. Windows were generally shattered in Alexandria, and the report was distinctly heard at Kokomo, Muncie, Marion and Elwood.

OPEN NEW MINE

Important Leases Made Near Hibbing by J. T. Jones and Others.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 2.—A new iron ore property is being developed on the Mesaba range, which will become a big mine. John T. Jones and his associates have a lease covering four forties of state land in the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section twenty, township 58, range 19, about six miles east of Hibbing, and from ten million to twelve million tons of ore have been shown up on one forty. The other three forties have not been explored, but one of these is believed to contain ore also.

The Eastern Minnesota road runs across the property under lease to Jones and his associates, and the deposit is in the township adjoining the Chisholm mine, which last week passed into the hands of the American Steel and Wire Company. The iron ore deposit is about one hundred feet in thickness and on top of it is a surface of sixty feet of earth.

SO SAYS ANDREWS

And What he Says Should Require no Contradiction.

The McIntosh Times of yesterday says:

W. C. Andrews, the veteran paper man, came in from Cass Lake and Bemidji today and reports the reported smallpox scare at those points, which have been going the rounds of the papers, as largely manufactured. He says that so far as he was able to learn there is but one case at Cass Lake and five to seven at Bemidji and that these are of a very mild character. A special from Fosston also informs us that inquiry among the doctors there develops the fact that there is absolutely no truth in the report that smallpox had broken out there. So far as we are able to learn, the nearest case at present is at Bemidji.

BUCHE'S NEW BILL

Believes in the net and Will Try to Have the Legislature Pass it.

Captain Buche, of Chatley Brook, Minn., arrived in St. Paul with a bill which he will try to get through the legislature, permitting settlers on Red Lake to use pound nets for fishing. An attempt was made two years ago to get such a bill through, but it was defeated by the efforts of persons interested in the protection of the great fish preserves of the state. Captain Buche's bill will allow each settler to use one pound net on Red lake, and it is estimated that tons of fish could be taken out every week if such permission was secured.

MOVING A TOWN

Nothing Left of the First Village on Mesaba Range Except a Debt.

Duluth, Feb. 2.—The last building of the first village of the Mesaba range is being moved. At one time Merritt had 1,500 people. Next week there will not be one board upon another to mark its site. All there is left is the village debt for a water works plant put in seven or eight years ago. Merritt was at the late Cincinnati and Kanawha mines, but these did not amount to much and the rival village of Biwabik, a mile away, drew all the business. Most of the houses were moved some time ago, but the Sven hotel remained until now.

Keeps His Seat.

St. Paul, Feb. 2.—The Minnesota house of representatives voted yesterday afternoon to allow W. R. Mahood, of Le Sueur, to retain his seat. The contest was brought by Herbert E. Blair, republican, and the committee on elections voted in his favor. The house, however, decided in favor of Mahood by a vote of 66 to 44.

IT WAS MOURNFUL

Victoria's Remains are Borne From Osborne House to London Amid Naval and Military Pomp.

SOLEMN, TRAGIC SPLENDOR

Not Since Admiral Cervera's Ships Lighted up Cuban Coast has Anything Equalled It.

Isle of Wight, Eng., Feb. 2.—With Grand, yet mournful display of naval pomp and power, the body of Queen Victoria was borne yesterday afternoon from its quiet resting place in Osborne House to Portsmouth, the heart of England's navy.

Cowes was astir at dawn and quickly became alive with visitors. Every stand, window and roof whence the procession could be viewed was rapidly filled up, while the portion of the route open to spectators was soon impassable.

Long before the hour for the funeral the hill in York avenue leading from Osborne was a picturesque sight. From the castle moat to the pier troops stood with elbows touching.

Behind them were thousands of men women and children. The road was lined with poles with shields of black and silver upon them bearing the royal monogram or surrounded with flags. Stands for spectators dotted the route. Innumerable cameras were posted at advantageous spots.

Hawkers were busy disposing of black bordered in memoria cards and other souvenirs. Equerries, aides de camp, mounted grooms and messengers dashed hither and tither seeing that everything was in readiness.

The guard around Osborne House was most rigid and besides the police a long line of red merged into the green and brown woods, clustering around the royal residence.

The queen's guard was drawn up in double rank before the queen's entrance with heads bowed over their arms, as in death chamber.

At 1:30 p. m. the bars of the main door of Osborne House creaked and the petty officers of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert then doffed their hats and entered. King Edward came from a side entrance accompanied by Emperor William of Germany. They both wore admiral's uniforms.

The grenadiers momentarilay raised their heads and came to the salute, which the king returned, and the men again became mute figures.

Then, through the glass doors could be seen the coffin coming, carried by the sailors who but a few moments previous had entered. It was preceded by pipers and was covered with the royal robes and regalia, and accompanied on either side by equerries.

LAST SAD RITES.

Remains of Dead Queen Are Laid at Rest in Frogmore Mausoleum.

Windsor, Feb. 4.—The final rites over the dead queen were concluded at 3:30 p. m., and the body was laid to rest in the Frogmore mausolem. King Edward, Queen Alexandra, Emperor William and other members of the royal family attended the services beside the coffin early this morning. The members of the royal family took places on each side of the sarcophagus, the royal household standing in the transept on each side. The choir sang Sir Arthur Sullivan's anthem "Yea, Though I Walk," the hymn "Sleep Thy Last Sleep," and Tennyson's "The face of death is turned towards the sun of light," set to music by Sir Walter Parrott.

THE QUEEN'S NAME.

The Question Is Frequently Asked by Readers of the Journal.

Since the deth of Queen Victoria, many persons have asked the Journal an explanation of her name prior to her marriage. The answer is as follows. "The family name of the ruling royal house of Great Britain is Guelph. The original name in German was Welf, but in the course of medaeval history it received an Italian variation into Guelph. The family name of Prince Albert of Saxe Coburg-Gotha, whom the Queen married in 1840, was Wetlin. If the queen, before she came to the throne, had laid aside the style of royalty and had been introduced like common folks, she would have been Miss 'Drina Guelph, for before she became queen she was called among her own family by the diminutive of Alexandria, she having been christened Victoria Alexandrina. After marriage she was, in the style of private life, Mrs. Albert Wetlin."

MRS. NATION CENSURED

Members of the New York W. C. T. U. Don't Approve Her Crazy Acts.

New York, Feb. 2.—At the meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Unions of this city the crusade of Mrs. Nation has, as a rule, been ignored, though at a meeting of the Demorest Union Dr. Ellen Miles and the Rev. Phoebe Hanaford, the president, had both come armed with resolutions declaring Mrs. Nation's methods unfit for New York. Dr. Miles declared that Mrs. Nation had done infinite harm to the W. C. T. U. cause. Mrs. Mary E. Teats, of San Francisco, a national evangelist of the W. C. T. U., declared on the other hand that Mrs. Nation has been a great martyr, and compared her to the early abolitionists.

The members as a whole, however, seemed terrified at the thought that Mrs. Nation might descend on New York and demand their assistance in demolishing saloons. They declared that "educative methods" were the only ones to apply here, and Mrs. Nation excused the lack of active recognition of the "Nation" crusade by saying that resolutions would be passed "next month."

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Carrie Nation today sent a personal letter to all the saloon keepers in Topeka warning them to stop their business. The letter was addressed to: "The Joint Keepers of Topeka: My Dear Hell-Bound Sinners." She intimated that formidable measures would soon begin if they did not heed her advice and close up.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 1.—(Special to the Journal.)—A disastrous conflagration last night almost entirely wiped out the village of Abercrombie, one of the best little business towns in the state, on the Milwaukee road, between here and Wahpeton. The entire business portion of the place is in ruins.

The fire broke out shortly after nine o'clock, and as all the buildings destroyed stood closely together, and were one and two story frame structures, the flames gained rapid headway, soon indicating the complete destruction of the most important business portion, the town being without any fire protection whatever.

At midnight messages from adjacent towns reported the fire under control after burning eleven buildings, including the bank, Milwaukee depot, two implement warehouses, three general stores, a drug store and telephone exchange.

All business houses on the south side of Main street were destroyed. The loss will be between $80,000 and $90,000 and insurance about $40,000. The fire is supposed to have started from an overturned lamp. There was no fire department and zero weather prevented volunteers from doing much work.

A later message gave the list of losers as follows:

O. H. Tweto, machinery and elevator; W. C. Scoville, postoffice and candy store; H. P. Myron, general merchandise; C. M. Hackett, residence; Mrs. C. M. Hackett, millinery; Hackett & Lonsinger, hardware; Jack Marty, fruit and confectionery; E. J. Monson, hardware; State Bank of Abercrombie; Abercrombie Herald; O. E. Olson, barber shop; photograph gallery and Milwaukee depot.

In addition there were families living over most of the stores, and the members barely escaped with their lives.

OH! WHAT A SCRAMBLE

Was Caused by the Arrest of Mrs. Nation at Topeka Yesterday.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 5.—Late yesterday afternoon Mrs. Nation and six other women brought hatchets and started after the joints, followed by a crowd of a thousand people. In front of one place a dozen strong men had assembled, who took the hatchets from Mrs. Nation and one of her assistants. A great scramble ensued. The police marched Mrs. Nation and her companion to the police station on the charge of disturbing the peace.

Pittsburg, Kan., Feb. 5.—A number of women, wives of prominent citizens, attacked two joints running at McCune, a small town fifteen miles west of here, yesterday and destroyed the furniture and fixtures and the liquors.

MILITARY STRENGTH.

Men in this State Available for Service Aggregate 180,000.

The secretary of war has transmitted to congress a report showing the strength of the organized militia in the various states and the number of men available for military duty. The Minnesota militia is composed of twenty-one generals and staff officers, three officers and men in the engineers, 155 in eight batteries, and 1,877 in the infantry. The men available for duty aggregate 180'000.

The total strength of the North Dakota militia is 689, and 40,000 men are available for duty.

South Dakota has a militia strength of 84, while 55,000 men are available.

Montana's militia aggregates 78 officers and men, and 31,258 men are available in an emergency.

Wisconsin reports 2,736 officers and men in the militia, with 372,152 others available.

NOTHING THE MATTER.

Thief River Falls' Marvelous Increase in Population in Ten Years.

Press, Thief River Falls: The Crookston Journal, in commenting on the recently announced census figures, holds up Warren as an exemple of progress. What's the matter with Thief River Falls? This city not only has nearly six hundred more actual inhabitants, but shows an increase of 853 per cent. against 96 per cent. increase for the Marshall county town. The percentage of increase is what tells the story of progress, and in this respect Thief River Falls holds the banner in the Red River valley. No other city or village in this section can compare with it.

Five Meet Death.

Milwaukee, Feb. 3.—Five children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Luebke, living at 420 Russell avenue on the South Side, were suffocated and Mrs. Belwater, who was with them, was seriously burned last night as the result of a lamp explosion.

The parents of the children were absent from home when the accident occurred. The children's ages range from 2 to 13 years. It is not known what caused the lamp to explode. The children were in bed at the time.

Stop the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, no Pay. Price 25 cents.

—Fancy stationery at the Journal office.

WHILE YOU WAIT.

That's How Towns Are Built in this Neck of the Woods.

The Blackduck Times, under date of Feb. 1, contains the following flattering notice of the wonderful progress of that town in the brief space of a few weeks:

Blackduck is three months old. It has discarded its swadling clothes, and is now a good sized and prosperous village. The election for the organization into a village was held in the postoffice yesterday afternoon, and was carried unanimously, 48 votes being cast for it, and none against, which would indicate a population of about 250. More votes could have been secured, but a good many were busy and did not leave their work, knowing that it would carry anyway. Blackduck can well afford to congratulate itself. The next election will be for the election of village officers.

SOME RARETIES.

A Crookstonite Has a Pocket Book Over One Hundred Years Old.

A. P. Roberts, who resides on South Main street, has quite a collection of relics and antiquities which are highly prized by him, and which may not have a duplicate in this country or anywhere else. Among his accumulation he has a pocketbook which he received from his first wife's great great grandmother, who died at an early age. It resembles an old fashioned bill book, made of Moroco leather and is well preserved. On it is inscribed and is plainly legible the words: "Cuthbert Cole, June 19, 1768." Evidently this date indicates a birth day on which the pocket book was received as a present.

Another relic in Mr. Roberts' possession is an ivory handled razor, made by Rogers & Sons, of Sheffield, England, which his grandfather brought to this country a hundred years ago, and which was then already an old instrument. A bible published in the eighteenth century also numbers among Mr. Roberts' collection of rareties.

ERSKINE CREAMERY.

Village Donated $400 and Geo. Q. Erskine a Building Lot for a Site.

Another mass meeting composed of the farmers from the towns of Knute, Winger, Gossen, Badger and Lambert congregated together at the Woodman hall Monday morning to see if they could not come to some conclusions on the creamery matter. The village tendered them the $400 that was subscribed by the business men, also the free site donated by George Q. Erskine, which were heartily accepted by the board. It was decided to organize on the joint note plan, which seemed to suit all the farmers presnt, who willingly signed a petition on that basis. Committees were named to canvass the farming districts to see how all the farmers stood on the matter. T. A. Hoverstad came up from Crookston again, and he constantly kept the farmers interested in the matter.—Erskine Echo.

FOUND A SITE.

The Maplebay Wind Stacker Company Will Build on the North Side.

C. W. Russell, secretary of the Maple Bay Windstacker Company, today stated to a representative of this paper that the company have selected a site for their factory on the north side hill, about six hundred feet east of the oil tank and adjoining the Northern Pacific railroad track. The ground selected contains about five acres, and was secured from J. R. Clements.

Tomorrow morning the plans and specifications for the factory will reach here and bids will be received immediately for the construction of the building. Work will begin at once and rushed as fast as possible to completion.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION.

Program for the Meetings to be Held Here and in McIntosh

Notice is hereby given that the next examination for state teachers' certificates for Polk county, will be held at the high school building in the city of Crookston Feb. 7, 8 and 9, and at McIntosh Feb. 8 and 9.

All teachers writing to make up conditions must not neglect to bring their limited certificates. You are also requested to bring pens and penholders, as the manuscript must be written with pen and ink.

Applicants for first grade certificates will meet at the court house in Crookston Feb. 7.

The following is the program:

FIRST DAY, FEB. 7, 1901.

A. M.—9:00 to 10:00—Plain Geometry. 10:10 to 11:10—Either Physical Geography or Gen. History. (Applicant's choice.

P. M.—1:30 to 2:30—Natural Philosophy. 2:40 to 3:40—Algebra.

SECOND DAY, FEB. 8, 1901.

A. M.—8:00 to 8:30—Filling out and collecting application blanks. 8:30 to 8:50—Spelling. 9:00 to 10:00—County Superintendent's Professional Test. 10:10 to 11:10—Reading. 11:20 to 12:20—Grammar.

P. M.—2:00 to 3:00—United States History. 3:10 to 4:10—Physiology and Hygiene. 4:20 to 5:20—Drawing (optional.)

THIRD DAY, FEB. 9, 1901.

A. M.—8:00 to 9:00—County Superintendent's Professional Test, completed. 9:10 to 10:10—Arithmetic. 10:20 to 11—Geography. 11:30 to 12:30—Music (optional.)

P. M.—2:00 to 3:00—Civil Government.

N. B.—Penmanship and composition will be marked on the papers in United States History.

—Thomas Casey,
Co. Supt. of Schools

Four Centuries Old.

Ruben S. Price, of Chicago, has a watch which was made by Banner at Liverpool about the year 1500, and has been handed down from one generation to another as an heir loom. When purchased its value was $1,200. It still keeps good time, and with the exception of two jewels placed as pivots for the balance spring, the works and case remain the same as when they were brought to America in 1634. It bears inside the case the following inscription: "I was brought to St. Mary's, Maryland, in 1634, by Mordecai Price, 1662, his son, Mordecai Price; 1723, his son, Mordecai Price; 1781, his son, Elijah Price; 1830, his son, John K. Price; 1862, his son, Reuben S. Price."

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution issued out of and under the seal of the district court, in and for the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered and docketed in the said court, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1896, in an action wherein Standard Paper Co. plaintiff, and Hans Johnson, defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of Ninety-three dollars and Thirty-five cents ($93.35) which execution was directed and delivered to me as sheriff in and for the county of Polk. I have this 29th day of January, A. D. 1901, levied upon the right title and interest of the said defendant, Hans Johnson, in and to the following described real property situated in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, to-wit:

Lots number 29 and 30, and block number 3 in Jerome's Addition in the city of Crookston, in Polk county, Minnesota.

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, as sheriff as aforesaid, will sell the above described real property to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the front door of the court house in the city of Crookston in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 16th day of March, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day to satisfy the said execution, together with the interest and costs thereon.

Dated January 29th, A. D. 1901.

—E. J. Sullivan,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minn
By Louis Gonyea, Deputy 13-48

Timber Culture Final Proof

United States Land Office, Crookston Minn. Jan. 2, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that Simeon [illegible] Lauterman has filed notice of intention to make final proof before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at his office in Crookston Minnesota on Friday the 15th day of February 1901 on timber culture application No. 3792 for the se¼ of section No. 3 in township No. 151 N. range No. 47 W.

He names as witnesses:

Frank Williams [illegible] Davis, Henry Jones and James Jones all of Crookston Minnesota

A. [illegible]
Receiver

Order For Hearing Proof of Foreign Will

State of Minnesota, County of Polk. ss.

In Probate Court, special term, January 15, 1901.

In the matter of the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased.

Whereas, Certain writings purporting to be duly authenticated copies of the last Will and testament of Emilie A. Jennings late of Pierce county, Washington deceased, and the probate thereof in the Superior court in said county and state have been delivered to this court;

And Whereas, Wallace H. Jennings has filed therewith his petition, representing among other things that said Emilie A. Jennings lately died in said County of Pierce, State of Washington testate, possessed of certain real estate situated in said County of Polk and State of Minnesota on which the said Will may operate and that said petitioner is the executor named in said Will and praying that the said instrument may be admitted to probate and that letters testamentary be to [illegible] issued thereon.

It is Ordered, That the proofs of said instrument, and the said petition, be heard before this court, at the probate office in said county, on Wednesday the 13th day of February A. D. 1901, at two o'clock in the afternoon, when all persons interested may appear for or contest the probate of said instrument;

And it is Further Ordered, That notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Polk County Journal a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston in said county.

Dated at Crookston the 15th day of January A. D. 1901.

By the Court.
OLE E. HAGEN
Judge of Probate

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk, ss. In district court.

Agnes Bruggeman, as executrix of the last will and testament of John H. Bruggeman, deceased, plaintiff,

Against

D. W. Luke, W. B. Wood, the Merchants National bank of Crookston, James Pulkrabek and Pulkrabek, copartners under the firm name and style of Pulkrabek Bros., and John Birkholz, defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named defendants and each of them:

You and each of you are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiff in the action above entitled, which has been filed and is now on file, in the office of the clerk of the district court in and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to said complaint upon the undersigned at his office in the City of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated Dec. 26, 1900.

A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiff,
Crookston, Minnesota.

39-44

Summons.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK,—ss. In District Court.
SHELDON W. VANCE, and
GEORGE F. STONE, Plaintiffs,
vs.
——DUGGAN, TIMOTHY SULLIVAN,
——KINSELLA, Copartners as
DUGGAN, SULLIVAN & KINSELLA,
Defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named Defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiffs in the above-entitled action, which said complaint has been filed and is now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court within and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office in the city of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint, within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

—A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiffs,
Crookston, Minn.

Dated Jan. 12, 1901. 42-47

C. L. DOBNER, Pres. H. G. DOBNER, Vice Pres. S. F. STAPLES, Sec. and Treas.

Northern Real Estate and Mortgage Company.

(INCORPORATED)
THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.

First Class Farm Mortgages for Sale. Farms bought and sold. List your farms with us. Money loaned on improved farms in this neighborhood. Office over First State Bank.
REFERENCES—First State Bank, Thief River Falls. Scandia American Bank, Crookston Scandinavian American Bank, St. Paul.

CHEAPER HEATING

Is Promised the People of the Northwest by Superior Quality of Lignite Coal.

UNDERLYING 14,000 ACRES

The Supply Sufficient to Last One Hundred Years or More at 200 Tons Per Day.

New York, Feb. 2.—Ex-Senator Wm. D. Washburn, of Minnesota, says that North Dakota will soon produce enough lignite coal to supply the needs of North and South Dakota and probably Minnesota. Mr. Washburn is building a railroad fifty miles long from Bismarck north to Washburn and Great Falls on the Missouri river.

Several years ago Mr. Washburn bought from the Northern Pacific railroad 115,000 acres of farming land north of the Northern Pacific along the Missouri. Lignite coal of superior quality has been found underlying 14,000 acres of that tract, and Mr. Washburn and his friends have lately built a railroad into the coal fields. Of the development of the new road he said:

The lignite coal is in veins ten and fourteen feet in thickness in spots, and I should say it was practically inexhaustible. Certainly there will be enough there for a hundred years or more. It is much like the cannel coal burned in grates in this city, and is an excellent fuel for domestic purposes. It can be delivered at Minneapolis and St. Paul so as to sell for about $2.50 a ton, while Pennsylvania anthracite costs $8 a ton there.

It is much freer burning than anthracite, however, and the fire has to be fed oftener. We use it in our locomotives in the winter time but not in the summer. The sparks and cinders escape from the locomotive stacks in such quantities in the summer time that the prairies are set on fire, even when the prairies are not over-dry.

The presence of this fuel in a rich agricultural country like North Dakota is attracting great numbers of people and I expect a quick development of the country as soon as the railroad is built.

"Any likelihood of your connecting with the Soo to the north?" Mr. Washburn was asked. He said:

Yes. In time the connection will undoubtedly be made. I think we shall soon supply all of North and South Dakota with lignite coal for fuel, and we may be able to compete successfully with the established companies in Minnesota. The control of the local markets in the northwest is largely a matter of economy in transportation. The further east we haul our coal the more it will cost, and the shorter the haul of the established companies westward the cheaper they will be able to sell theirs. We have only just begun our operations, and are now mining only about 200 tons a day.

LEADERS WORRIED.

Promoters of the Ship Subsidy Bill Anxious About Its Outcome.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—The promoters of the shipping subsidy bill say the rasping speech of the senator from Washington, Mr. Turner, is a part of the filibustering game. The managers on the part of the and transportation trusts say that the democratic filibuster will continue with great virility for several days and when it has run the natural course of artificial filibusters, it will suddenly collapse, according to program and that will be the end of it. This confident assertion is based on the claim that the democrats have agreed to surrender but they cannot afford to advertise the fact to the whole country that they mean what they say.

The ship subsidy promoters say that they expected many dark days before the ultimate passage of the bill, and that this is one of the dark days.

"GESUNDHEIT."

A St. Paul Wood Sawyer Treated by the Late Queen Victoria.

A German wood sawyer of St. Paul, known as Conrad, seventy-eight years old, cherishes the memory of Queen Victoria as tenderly as any British subject. Conrad was a soldier in his native land half a century ago. One day in the summer of 1847, clad in his uniform, he entered a drug store in Gotha, the home of the prince consort. A short thick set lady of some thirty years was in the store at the time and, looking upon Conrad with evident interest, asked him to what regiment and company he belonged. On receiving his reply, the young lady directed the druggist to give the soldier a glass of brandy, which was done.

"Is it good" asked she who had stood treat?"

"Very good," came the emphatic avowal in response.

Turning to the druggist, the lady said: "Give him another."

This second order was, like the first, promptly attended to, and the young woman left the store.

"Who is she?" Conrad asked the druggist.

"That is the queen of England."

And Conrad from that day to this has never ceased talking of that reddest-letter hour of his life.

Anent the Cudahy Kidnapping Case.

The Cudahy kidnapping was carried out according to plans laid in Omaha five years ago. This is the statement made by Adelbert Lawton, a Stillwater convict serving a term of fifteen years and four months.

Lawton wants a pardon and a portion of the reward for directing the officers to the place where the criminals are concealed. He is willing to retain but two thirds of the $25,000 reward and will allow the state to keep the rest if he is given his liberty. Lawton told his story without mentioning any names. He says the plans were laid in Omaha in July five years ago, and that at first he declined to agree to the proposition on the ground that the boy to be abducted was too young. Continuing, he said:

"We planned to do the job just the way it was done. We rented the same house and had letters written out ready to send to Edward A. Cudahy, the packer. The plan was to get $25,000 in gold from him and then conceal it for a year and lay low. We also determined to have Cudahy drive out to the Sherman road with a red light in his buggy and stop when he should see a white light and then deposit the money.

"When I read the story of the kidnapping in the papers I knew in a minute who had carried it off, and I know now where the kidnappers are, and if given my liberty can land them in five days."

He was asked as to the location of the house to which it was proposed to take young Cudahy. He couldn't tell, but said he identified it from the cuts in the newspapers, though he had never seen it but once. He was asked if he knew Pat Crowe, to which he replied:

"Yes, but I have not said anything about Pat Crowe or anybody else."

Lawton was convicted of killing Milton Cook near Winona.

SOME LUCKY ONES

Who Received Good Positions Under Governor Van Sant.

Robert Jamison, Hennepin, governor's private secretary.

James A. Martin, Stearns, executive clerk to governor.

Minnie Helwig, Ramsey, executive stenographer.

David Beasley, Ramsey, governor's messenger.

John W. son, Freeborn, superintendent of public instruction.

Roscoe H. ronson, Washington, member board of managers, Minnesota state prison.

G. Fred Stevens, St. Louis, surveyor general of logs and lumber, Fifth district.

Andrew B. Robbins, Hennepin, surveyor general of logs and lumber, Second district.

W. C. Masterman, Washington, surveyor general of logs and lumber, First district.

John O'Donnell, Hennepin, commissioner of labor.

William J. ne, Faribault, inspector of steam vessels and steam boilers.

C. N. Cosgrove Le Sueur, member of board of control of public schools.

John H. Rich, Goodhue, member of board of corrections and charities.

Elmer H. Dearth, Ramsey, insurance commissioner.

W. W. P. McConnell, Blue Earth, dairy and food commissioner.

James E. Weirick, Ramsey, member of state board of dental examiners.

Samuel F. Fullerton, St. Louis, member of game and fish commission.

D.W. Meeker, Clay, member of game and fish commission.

H. G. Smith, Winona, member of game and fish commission.

W. P. Hill, Martin, member of game and fish commission.

Uri L. Lamprey, Ramsey, member of game and fish commission.

Fred C. Schiffman, Ramsey, state inspector of oils.

Louis Trautmann, Wabasha, member state board of pharmacy.

Elias D. Libbey, Ramsey, adjutant general.

Oscar Seebach, Goodhue, assistant adjutant general.

E. A. Nelson, Kittson, state librarian.

George L. Dingman, Hennepin, assistant dairy and food commissioner.

Joseph H. Ellis, Hennepin, assistant labor commissioner.

W. B. Mitchell, Stearns, director of state normal schools.

Charles A. Morey, Winona, director state normal schools.

George H. Clark, Blue Earth, director state normal schools.

William F. Phelps, St. Louis, director state normal schools.

C. T. Trowbridge, Hennepin, custodian state normal schools.

John Remick, Lac qui Parle, night watchman.

Andrew Haugbung, Hennepin, factory inspector.

ADMIRE PROGRESS.

Flattering Comments from the Fraternity of the Country Press.

News, Hallock: The Crookston Daily Journal has put in a Mergenthaler linotype machine and now the Journal can boast of as fine a printing outfit as any paper in the northwest. Editor Gordon is to be congratulated on the progress he has made since he took hold of the Journal, and the News wishes him many years of such prosperity. The Journal is indeed the "slickest" paper in the Red River valley.

Bulletin, Fisher: The Crookston Journal is nothing if not progressive. Not being satisfied with having the best equipped printing office in Northern Minnesota, Bro. Gordon now sets his paper on an improved Mergenthaler linotype machine, which is the best ever. We congratulate the Journal on its increasing evidence of prosperity.

Journal, Fergus Falls: The Crookston Journal has installed a new Mergenthaler linotype just like the big fellows and is getting out a much better paper than ever before. Brother Gordon is slowly getting under way and is steaming ahead all the time.

Slightly Off.

The Maple Bay Windstacker Co. has been granted a bonus of $1,000 by the city of Crookston, and will erect a factory there. This is the concern that was expected to move to Fargo.—G. F. Herald.

Nay, nay, this is not the windstacker company that wanted to locate at Fargo. They always wanted to come to Crookston, and finally did so. It was the Fosston company that preferred Fargo, and they will soon enough find out their blunder.

FROM WASHINGTON

An Interesting Letter From The Journal's Special Correspondent in The Capital.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL

The Great West in a Position to Force a System of Arid Land Irrigation.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The great west is just waking up to the fact that, if it chooses, it can force the rest of the country to consent to inaugurate a general system of arid land irrigation by means of reservoirs, or else suffer the defeat of the river and harbor bill, which supplies mony for nearly every state in the union except those which lie between the Mississippi and the Pacific and have few streams within their borders. There are ten states in this section that get nothing at all in this bill, for which their representatives are asked to vote annually and they are getting tired of doing it and bid fair to insist on being given their share.

Mr. Warren, of Wyoming, is the leader of this movement. It will be recalled that two years ago he came near defeating the general river and harbor bill of the 55th congress by filibustering against it in the closing days of the session because of the refusal of the friends of the measure to accept as an amendment to it a bill carrying $100,000 for the construction of reservoirs at the head waters of the Missouri river for irrigation purposes. Senator Warren has not been in Washington for nearly a week, and it is therefore impossible to state positively his attitude toward the present river and harbor bill, but his friends say that he intends to filibuster against it this time as he did two years ago, with another amendment. If he does so, it is entirely possible that he may force the acceptance of his amendment or may defeat the bill.

The bill passed the house with only 13 adverse votes and it was supposed would go through the senate with even less opposition. The rumor of arid land opposition, however, is so reasonable, that it has created great alarm. As a consequence there is now gathered at Washington one of the largest and best organized lobbies in behalf of the bill that has been seen here for many years. This is easily accounted for when it is known that the bill carries the enormous amount of $60,000,000 and that its benefits are distributed widely over the union. In fact, every state with waterways, irrespective of its dominant political sentiment, has secured more money for river and harbor improvements than ever before. The only states omitted are those that have not even a creek that is susceptible of improvement.

The bill is still in the commerce committee of the senate and will not be reported for a while unless the opposition to the subsidy bill should suddenly collapse, as the commerce committee would naturally not care to have two such important measures on its hands at the same time. A vote on the shipping bill, however, is not so remote as it seems. A plan is on foot to hold night sessions for discussing it, but this will hardly be successful unless the republican majority of the senate agrees to be continually present, because the opposition to the bill says that the attendance of a quorum will be constantly demanded.

Another program which the republicans have already carried into effect is the laying aside of all appropriation bills and making the subsidy bill the continuous order of business. This action is taken for the purpose of disclosing the democratic strength. If it is apparent that the democrats are determined to prevent the passage of the bill; if, as one senator expressed it yesterday, it is found that the measure runs up against a stone wall, the democrats will be held responsible before the country for the defeat of the bill, and it will then be withdrawn. Some of the republican leaders, however, assert that this will not be the outcome, but that the democrats will deem it good politics to allow the bill to pass. Only time can show.

PROTECT FARMERS.

A Bill Asking Pay for Animals Ordered to be Killed by Health Officers.

Representative Thos. Torson, Watonwan county, Saturday introduced a bill for the protection of owners of animals wrongfully killed under the workings of the law for the prevention of the spread of contagious diseases among domestic animals.

The bill provides that the owners of animals killed by order of health officers may, within 24 hours after an animal has been slaughtered, file a protest and demand a post slaughter investigation, to be conducted by three experts. If it be found that the animal was not suffering from the alleged contagious disease, the appraised value of the animal shall be paid the owner, one-fifth from the county treasury and four-fifths from the state's strong box.

IN MID OCEAN.

Cable Station to be Built on a Rock Between San Francisco and Manila.

Uncle Sam is about to build a home for lovers of solitude on one of the far off Midway islands, where there is to be a cable station when the cable from San Francisco to Manila is laid. Those who go to take charge of this wildest of all posts in the American government service will have to be prepared to spend their days on what seems like nothing more than a big rock in the midst of the broad Pacific ocean.

The largest of the two Midway islands, Sandy island, is only about a mile square. The other one, known as Eastern island, is half a mile by three-quarters. As this is the more fertile and habitable of the two, it will probably be the one selected for the cable station. Even this island is almost without trees, and it is absolutely without interesting features. Life on Eastern Midway Island will be as dull and monotonous and bound by routine as existence in Joliet or Sing Sing.

The United States tug Iroquois, in charge of Lieut. Commander Pond, U. S. N., is about to leave Honolulu to make the surveys and charts that are necessary before the government can go ahead with the plans. It is a journey of 12,000 miles from Honolulu to the Midway islands, which, when reached, are nothing but a collection of bits of coral, a strangely formed wall of coral and two little patches of land, which rise so little out of the water that they seem to be nearly submerged when winter storms rise around them.

Midway islands are near nowhere. The men will get mail only when Uncle Sam sends a vessel with supplies. They will have one occupation. Day and night, year in and out, the cable will have to be watched. There will probably never be a moment out of any 24 hours when messages will not be flying under the Pacific to Midway, and from Midway on to Honolulu or Manila. It will be a ceaseless routine, turns at the instruments, sleep, and whatever the men can find to do. If they want to take a walk it will have to be in a circle or up and down, as on the deck of a steamer, for a straight line from the beach in any direction will end at another beach in less than fifteen minutes' walk. There will be one consolation. The cable men will keep thoroughly in touch with the news of the world. Press dispatches will constitute a large part of the cable's business.

IT'S A BAD MISTAKE

Because Many Things Would be Different if Officers Would Listen.

"Uncle Jo," in the Polk County Journal, keeps right on telling the city dads of Crookston how to manage their affairs, even if they don't appear to appreciate his august counsel. Queer how so many men who get elected to public office seem to carry the idea that they are capable of using their own judgment, when there is such a lot of "Uncle Jo's" who are always there plenty with the advice.—Tenstrike Tribune.

Blue Earth Brute.

The Beauford correspondent of the Blue Earth County Enterprise gives the following account of a brutish husband, when the latter is under the influence of liquor:

Herman Oldenberg is again in the toils of the law. The offense this time is the same old story, cruelty to his family. Mrs. Oldenberg says that on Monday Herman came home under the influence of liquor and compelled her to remove her clothing and submit to a severe thrashing with an iron stove poker. He promised her that the next night he would place her on the chopping block and cut her head off with the ax. Sure enough, the next morning Herman went to town, and his wife fearing that he would carry out his threat made the evening previous, sought refuge with the neighbors. Word was sent to Mankato and an officer came out and took the man in charge. Just what the outcome will be we are not prepared to say. It is said that Mrs. Oldenberg will sue for divorce.

Not in Ohio.

Columbus, Feb. 3.—Ruhlin and Jeffries will not fight in Cincinnati on Feb. 15.

Gov. Nash, in a telegram sent by him today to the Saengerfest Athletic association company, under whose auspices the fight was to have been held, and to business men who had wired him that they favor the holding of the contest, stated positively that all the power of the state will be used to prevent the fight.

Training

Is indispensable to athletic success. In training, much stress is laid upon diet; careful attention to the quantity and quality of the food eaten, with regularity of meals. That is the secret of strength for every man. No man can be stronger than his stomach. The careless and irregular eating, of business men, causes disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. There can be no sound health until these diseases are cured.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the body to be built up into vigorous health by the assimilation of the nutrition extracted from food.

"I was taken with the grippe, which resulted in heart and stomach trouble," writes Mr. T. R. Caudill, of Montland, Alleghany Co., N. C. "I was unable to do anything a good part of the time. I wrote to Dr. Pierce about my condition, having full confidence in his medicine. He advised me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did. Before I had finished the second bottle I began to feel better. I have used nearly six bottles. I feel thankful to God for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I can highly recommend it to all persons as a good and safe medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.

Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000.

TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.

Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Orders Bought.

INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.

C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist

Dealer in Drugs, Druggist's Sundries.
Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.

Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.

Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.

GEORGE Q. ERSKINE, President. WM. ANGLIM, Vice-President
J. W. WHEELER, Cashier. H. ROBERTSON Asst. Cashier.

Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000

Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.

Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

The Riverside Dairy

Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.

E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

This Will Interest the Farmers.

The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making

FARM LOANS

at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.

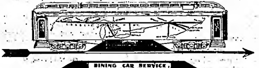
Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

Burlington Route

Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis

"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.

P. S. Eustis, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.
Geo. P. Lyman, Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B. & Q. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.



DULUTH, SOUTH SHORE & ATLANTIC RY
THE STRAIGHT-AWAY LINE
BETWEEN THE GREAT NORTH-WEST AND THE EAST

DINING CAR SERVICE A LA CARTE
FAST MODERN TRAINS
LOWEST RATES QUICKEST TIME

M. ADSON, TRAV. PASS. AGENT. DULUTH, MINN. T. H. LARKE, ASST. GEN. PASS. AGT.

Let us do your Job Printing.

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

ARGYLE.

Miss Maad Trombley went to Stephen Saturday.

Mrs. L. C. Stone, of Fargo, spent the greater part of last week with friends in Argyle.

Miss Minnie Keye visited friends at Stephen last Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Reade transacted business at Hallock one day last week.

I. I. Cronkhite came from Warroad Tuesday and left for Oklahoma the following day. His family expects to follow him, and make their home there.

Mr. A. J. Morsh is again reported on the sick list.

Mrs. Beulah Robertson and daughter Gladys returned to Argyle after a few weeks visit at Denver, Col.

Mrs. Henry Keye and son Harry went to Grand Forks Thursday Mrs Keye returning Monday morning and Harry will enter the Business College there.

Mrs. T. F. Stone and children are visiting relatives in Fargo.

Mr. James Scott returned to Argyle Saturday morning, from Scotland where he went the fore part of winter.

Mrs. Hector Goulet Jr. died Saturday morning after a brief illness of brain fever. She leaves a husband and three small children to mourn her loss. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. Barrass from the Catholic church.

GARY.

Miss Emelie Rishoff, who has been on the sick list for the last few weeks, left for the twin cities Monday evening to consult a physician.

Mrs. H. Thompson left for Grand Forks, Monday morning after having spent a week visiting friends and relatives in Gary and vicinity.

Mrs. O. Norby, Mrs. N. Aamoth, Mrs. L. Hoseth and Mrs. E. Peterson, all from Faith, left for Hader, Goodhue Co., last week, where they were called by the death of their mother, Mrs. H. Ovaldson.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Sakre, on Saturday Feb. 2, a boy.

The ladies of the Strand congregation, gave a surprise party to Mrs. Lien last Sunday. Mrs. Lien was presented with a sum of money.

H. P. Knappen, from Crookston, stepped off the train here last Monday evening.

Mrs. K. Bragstad, returned from Crookston last Saturday evening, where she had been to attend her mother's funeral.

G. Moen living east from town traded off his house and lot in Twin Valley to A. Froshaug, for the latters eighty acre farm near Twin Valley.

Mrs. G. Groberg is on the sick list, she, and others, are right in style having the grippe.

A few of the Garyites took in the ball at Twin Valley last Friday evening.

Miss Hannah Iverson, from Faith, has been visiting with the Iverson Sisters the last week.

FELTON.

J. J. Opsebl transacted business at Ada Monday.

Miss Nettie Ginsness left Monday evening for Fergus Falls where she will work.

Conrad Grinna and Martin Bellangrud came down from Borup Monday evening. Martin is doing a job of painting at the lumber office.

E. B. Fox is at present acting as soliciting agent for the Borup Hustler and Felton Courier.

R. B. Pixley and Joe Paranto spent Sunday at Riel. The boys have not visited in that vicinity for some time on account of the diptheria scare and had to make up for lost time. They undoubtedly forgot all about returning the same day and arrived here Monday morning. The boys, perhaps think it isn't necessary to make their trips too often and instead go once in a while and stay longer. Good idea boys, keep it up and save expense.

Miss Clera Hawkins spent Sunday at Argyle, with friends and relatives.

A. E. Young was a Moorhead and Fargo visitor this week.

Geo. and John Robinson returned the first of the week from their visit at Argusville N. D.

E. J. Murphy returned from his Iowa trip Tuesday morning.

Quite a number of the people in Felton and surrounding vicinity are hauling their summer's supply of wood from Twin Valley these days.

E. E. Bentley and Ole Norlinger were Fargo visitors Wednesday.

W. M. Lang, of Mapleton, Minn. arrived here Wednesday morning to look after a real estate deal in this vicinity.

R. M. Woods, of Georgetown, arrived here Friday and is now nicely located in the vacant room at the Arlington Hotel and is ready at all times to give the boys a shave or hair cut.

E. A. Amundson was a Borup visitor Thursday.

Wm. Scott Jr. transacted business in Fargo Friday.

Edw. Hynes died Friday morning after a lingering illness of catarrh of the stomach. His remains were taken to Moorhead and the funeral was held Monday.

W. H. Byfield returned Friday morning from Melville, N. D. where he had been to see his family.

Mrs. W. S. Calleson, of Huron Lake, Minn, is here in behalf of Modern Brotherhood of America, this week.

W. M. Evans of Fairmont, Minn. was here this week soliciting life insurance for the Central Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati, Ohio.

M. H. Hill has moved from the Fox blacksmith shop to his old quarters next to the Klevegaard store.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kramer were Ada visitors Saturday.

W. H. Byfield spent Sunday with friends and relatives at Crookston.

J. A. Oswalt, a real estate agent from Eldora, Ia, was in the city a few days the fore part of the week.

Rev. Owens, of Glyndon, held services here Sunday.

Geo. Byron and E. B. Fox took in the masquerade ball at Borup Friday evening. They report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Melby are the proud parents of a boy which arrived Sunday.

FOSTON.

E. H. Bridger is taking orders for suits for the masquerade Feb. 14.

The report in a recent issue of a McIntosh paper to the effect that there was ten cases of smallpox in Fosston, is another proof that the sheet and its editor are equally reliable. There has not been a case of smallpox here this winter.

John Finch, at one time proprietor of the Fosston Laundry, but now one of Solway's bonanza farmers, was in town Wednesday.

Gust Nordus and family returned from Grand Forks Tuesday.

Martin Nelson, an old time Sletton resident, but now at Shevlin, was in town Wednesday.

Creey Armour came down from Bergs sawmill Tuesday with a badly lacerated hand caused by contact with a circular saw.

A. Kaiser left Wednesday for Winona, summoned there by a telegram announcing the death of his father.

J. E. Campbell sold a fine driving team to Robt Nevlog, Monday.

H. F. Mark our popular druggist left Sunday for Omaha, Neb., and i rumored that he will not return alone.

Gust Nordus is suffering from a dislocated shoulder.

SOUTH CROOKSTON.

Mr. Joe Veso returned from Canada on Tuesday morning where he has been visiting with friends the past two months. We are all glad to see Joe home again and he reports having had a delightful time.

Mr. Kelly one of the Round House men has moved his family over here to live. We all welcome them.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Compton is on the gain, and hope soon to see him out again.

Mrs. Kuhn has returned from a visit with friends in St. Paul.

Elmer Johnson expects to leave on Tuesday next for Washington state where he will make his future home.

Mrs. Ben Franklin has been entertaining her mother the past week.

Mr. Ellis Phillips is slowly on the gain. Mr Phillips is an old man 76 years of age and the grippe goes hard with him but we hope to see him out again.

SOUTH CROOKSTON.

Mrs. Kuhn has gone to St. Paul for a short visit with friends.

Art Compton is very ill with dropsy and his friends are very anxious to see him well again, as he is a good fellow and liked by all.

Sam Bugle has just returned from Lambert, where he had been visiting friends. Sam has a sweetheart up there so that is the reason he was gone so long.

Mrs. S. Barlow's sister arrived on Monday from St. Paul to spend the rest of the winter in the Fifth ward. This adds another young lady to the list of Carmen fair ones.

We can hear in the distance the sounding of who will run for mayor next spring, and we are wondering if Mayor Campbell will be in the race.

DONALDSON.

Peter Lund visited Hallock between trains Thursday.

Gustof Heanum is sick a bed with la grip and a bad cold.

Deputy Sheriff Swanson was around serving notices for jurors Monday.

A social gathering was held at Wagoner's school house Monday evening.

Miss Hallberg has been having a severe attack of la grip, but is improving again.

William Peterson, Peter Lund and Fred Dagen all went to Hallack Monday on business.

The sale of A. Blomesness stock of merchandise was consummated Wednesday the 29th.

William Hesse is busy shooting rabbits with his new rifle down in the Red Lake reservation.

J. B. Main is working on his own hook now. He intends to establish a collection office in the near future.

K. J. Lind was out Wednesday talking collections to some of the farmers, and got home without having a runaway.

The new resturant and lunch counter is in first class shape for business now. It is under the auspices of Conrad and Axel Miller.

Miss Sarah and Julia Pearson east of here, left home Saturday for Winnipeg, from where they recently came. Just been home for a visit.

Andrew Moaran and Joe Scribbener left here Thursday for Cass Lake, where they went to work in the woods for a couple of months. They will return in the spring.

Religious meetings will be held here on the 3rd of March by Pastor H. A. gen from Red River. Every one is cordially invited to come and hear the highly gifted pastor.

Isaac Pearson, west of here, had a colt badly injured by some vicious character recently. He went to Hallock Monday to see what could be done toward apprehending the culprit.

Peter Larsan, living eight miles east of here was taken to the Fergus Falls hospital. His brain was somewhat affected by the loss of his wife in the fire when his house burned down some time ago.

A prominent young lady, who does wear short hair, got the temptation to imitate Mrs. Nation, and create a sensation. But beyond expectation she failed in the attemptation to wreck the congregation. And now it is all smiles and blushes again, and is thought of no more. We ought to have our hair cut short, ladies included. So as to be up to date. So they say. But we don't believe it.

THIEF RIVER FALLS.

I. C. Richardson went to Crookston on business the first of the week.

H. D. [illegible], who has been confined to his bed for the past three months and a half, is slowly recovering.

The Healy Land Co. has established a branch office here in the Stone building, owned by H. O. Hanson, on Labree Avenue.

O. P. Johnson has sold his residence in Meehan's addition to Mrs. Douglas. Mr. Johnson is talking of leaving the town permanently.

Morgan & Brink have dissolved partnership in the saloon business, Mr. Morgan remaining. Mr. Brink will seek a new location.

Fred Rolette was arrested the other day by the Indian police, and taken to the agency to answer to a charge of cutting timber on the reservation.

Editor Smiley intends to buy tickets for two to the Pan American Exposition at the end of the Press voting contest, provided the right one wins.

Prof. Juliou, the harpist from Crookston, was in town Friday evening to furnish music for a social hop, given by some of the young people here.

A camp of Modern Woodmen will be instituted at Breese, Minn., Feb. 9, by J. Mickelson, assistant deputy head consul. The name of the camp is Leme Camp, No. 9195.

LENGBY.

Hans Roholt of Fosston spent a few hours with our traders Saturday.

Martin and Otto Olson spent the past week with their parents at Red Lake.

Miss Julia Lillo returned home from a two months stay in Crookston Friday.

Saterstrom, Olson & Co. was doing some wood business in Ebro the past week.

Charles Walstron bought a valuable eighty acres of land of Nils Erickson Friday.

Inge Skjegstad spent about four days last week surveying on Sec. 27, for Mrs. Oson.

Prof. Aakhue was a passenger to Crookston Saturday, to attend the teachers examination.

J. Dove has been doing some logging recently to a saw mill near Bogley, where he will get some lumber sawed.

McINTOSH.

I. I. Harton came down from Mepleboy Monday.

Nels Swanson of Lambert was in town Friday and Saturday.

John Petterson came up from Crookston Sunday, returning Monday.

Mrs. E. King and Mrs. Charles Chelihois returned Monday from Fisher.

A. O. Hovee left Sunday for the twin cities, and from there he will visit his home in Northfield.

Mrs. O. A. Brager passed through here Monday on his way home from Crookston where she has been visiting friends.

BIRKHOLZ.

Capt. Rhinehart drove to Grand Forks on the river Saturday.

Mrs. Emos of Grandville visited at the Elk Home Farm last week.

Johnie Larson who is ill with typhoid fever is reported no better.

Elmer Stevens of Warren called on friends at this place Saturday afternoon.

The many friends of Mrs. Robert Olson will be glad to learn that she is convalescent.

Jack Grimm and Huston Patterson, who attended the Malta masquerade ball at Walshv...e on the evening of Feb. 1, report a very pleasant time.

Hundreds of valentines at the postoffice. The prettiest, and a big lot of those comics. Huston and Jack seem to be interested in those pretty lace ones this year.

Mrs. Will Dunning is staying at S. S. Trickey's. Mrs. Trickey is seriously ill. W. F. Dunning and Mrs. Northrop visited her on Sunday. Many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

FISHER.

Frank Young left for Montana last week.

B. F. Nesbit is able to be around again after his sick spell.

Miss Minnie Buchanan, of Key West, is attending school in Fisher.

Several teachers from Fisher will attend the teacher's examination.

Miss Elvina Olson has been sick for the past week, but is recovering.

A. W. Trosdhal spent Tuesday here shaking hands with old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCleary of Northcote, spent the first part of the week here.

State teachers' examination was held in our school the first part of the week with good success.

Mrs. Thomas Erwin left last week for Arizona and New Mexico where she will spend the winter.

Prof. Casey came home from his duties at the court house to spend Saturday and Sunday with his family.

MENTOR.

F. E. LePage made a trip to Erskine Saturday.

I. N. Steneide made a trip to Crookston Sunday.

Joe LeBlanc, of Poplar River, spent Tuesday in town on business.

William Low, of Crookston, was here Tuesday looking up land with a view of investing.

Mr. Halvorson, from Rugby, N. D., is here for a visit with his brother-in-law, Nels Nelson, Jr.

A little baby girl arrived at the home of H. B. Wethers last week, and now Ben is setting up the cigars.

Hitchcock & Keating have put on two additional teams to haul wood from their camp east of town.

Mr. Laurout of Red Lake has rented the Rickie blacksmith shop and has moved his family in this week. He will occupy the Rickey residence.

ANGUS.

John Wolhaupt spent Tuesday in Crookston.

Cliff M. Tennen spent Thursday in Crookston.

John Goodwin was in Grand Forks Saturday.

Rev. Byron Fahl of Warren preached here on Wednesday.

D. H. Miller and J. M. Palmer drove to Crookston Tuesday.

Miss Anna Krans is up from Euclid visiting with the Millers.

Frank Tans and Herman Osterlok spent Tuesday in Crookston.

Fred Stroble and son William and A. F. were in Warren Wednesday.

H. C. Clark and M. J. Hummer went to Warren Tuesday night looking for . Ehaust.

C. E. Stevens the land man of Crookston was in town Tuesday with four land seekers.

D. H. Miller and wife and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer drove to Grand Forks Saturday.

A. H. Ptkins, general agent for the Champion Machine company, spent Tuesday in town.

Mrs. Wright, wife of the agent here, left for her home at Kelso Wednesday, after a week's visit.

F. R. Steven went to Bemidji Saturday to see how his teams were getting along in the woods.

Some of the young folks took in the dance at Peacock Friday night. They report a good time.

Walter Ehaust drove to Warren on Tuesday. While on the way home his team ran away, throwing him out, and came home alone.

Miss Maggie Stroble arrived home from her visit to Grand Forks Monday. She was accompanied by Misses Tina Kemble and Celia Tandon.

ST. VINCENT.

Frank Searl and wife of Warren, passed through here last week, enroute to Grafton.

Hon. E. A. Nelson, State Librarian, was a visitor in our village Monday last.

Ed Cameron is busy filling the Railway Co.'s icehouse at this place.

Assistant Superintendent Forepeugh and Master Carpenter Mills of the Northern Division were looking matters over here last week.

Prof. Ovedson is on the sick list, consequently we have no school this week.

It is reported that Mr. Mason is going to move his blacksmith shop from its present site on to the lots next his dwelling.

T. O. Hunter has a sister visiting him.

J. E. O'Grady returned last Friday from an extended visit at St. Paul. He brought with him a commission as deputy inspector of customs and is to be stationed at Warroad.

The huge safe formerly used in the Custom Office here is being loaded today for shipment to Warroad. It is such a mamouth affair it required a crew of men from Crookston with special apparatus to handle it.

KENNEDY.

Our town, considering the volume of business done daily, is the quietest along the line.

Capt. Donaldson came up quite unexpectedly last Saturday. The Captain has some land deals brewing.

J. B. Main, the Donaldson collector and Andrew Lund also of that burg, were doing business here Monday.

The impression made on the spectators, by the exercises at the public installation Friday evening by the M. W. A. and Royal Neighbors, seems to have been very favorable to the interests of these societies and new members are applying for admission as fast as they can be taken care of.

Several severe cases of "grippe" exist in town and vicinity and Dr. Groneruđ is kept busy with a large circle of patients.

Miss Frieda Brown of Hallock, is in town organizing a music class. Miss Brown has rare musical attainments and it is safe to say that she will prove an excellent teacher.

The prominent Hallock physician, Dr. G. Demars made this place a professional call Tuesday.

Rev. Johnston preached a very touching sermon to an interested audience, at the schoolhouse Sunday morning.

The bulk of the poor grade wheat was just put on the move during the recent cold spell. Most farmers are shipping their own wheat.

JOHN MARSHALL DAY.

District Court in Session at Ada, Observes the Occasion—Resolutions Adopted.

Ada, Minn., Feb. 5.—Special to the Journal:—Court opened at Ada yesterday, and the trial of Percy Baker was commenced. The day was spent in getting the jury, and the testimony of one witness. Yesterday being John Marshall day, a special session of the court was held at 7:30 in the evening, and Judge Watts announced that the session would be held for the purpose of doing honor to Chief Justice Marshall. Judge Montague delivered a short address and offered the following resolutions:

The members of the Bar Association of the Fourteenth Judicial District of Minnesota, at a special term of court held at Ada, Norman county, Minnesota, this Feb. 4, 1901, Honorable William Watts, judge, presiding, to perpetuate the memory of John Marshall Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. To show our high apreciation of his great services to the bench and bar, and his invaluable decisions in construing the constitution of the United States, and thus fixing and securing the rights and liberties of the people of this republic. In this special session of court held for that purpose, be it

Resolved, That in the Hon. John Marshall, who on Feb. 4, 1801, became chief justice of the United States, we recognize one of the great jurists, who through the ages of the past, have by their genius and virtues, adorned the annals of history, conferred untold benefits to humanity and contributed largely to fix and secure by law in a permanent and enduring form the liberties of the human race.

Resolved further, That he was an ornament to the bar and bench of America, that he enriched the literature of the law by his clear and masterly enunciation and application of legal principles, that his life and work form a safe and sure guide to the young man who seeks through the profession of the law to entitle himself to the honor and gratitude of a nation.

Resolved, That to perpetuate the fact that we honor and revere the memory of that illustrious Chief Justice of the United States, we adopt the foregoing resolutions and move that they be entered on the minutes of this court.

Hon. H. Steenerson, in an appropriate address outlining the life and services of the great Chief Justice, seconded the resolutions.

Mr. Peterson, of Moorhead, Mr. Hawthorne of St. Paul and Mr. Moen delivered addresses on the occasion.

Judge Watts then explained to the large number of people assembled the peculiar necessity existing at the time for a man of a broad, liberal, logical mind, like that of Judge Marshall, and how well he had served the people. The session was very entertaining and instructive and highly appreciated by those present.

The resolutions were ordered entered upon the records of the court.

AMUSEMENTS.

Sousa is fast becoming an absolute necessity to all expositions, international or local. In addition to the Paris exposition of last summer, where Sousa was the realy great success of the show, his famous band has officiated at the Chicago World's Fair, the California Mid-Winter Fair, the St. Louis and Pittsburg Expositions, the Cotton States Exposition at Atlanta, and the Export Exposition at Philadelphia. Sousa has now contracted to take his musicians to Scotland next year and play four weeks at the International Exposition of 1901, at Glasgow. After this engagement he will make an extended tour of Great Britain and Ireland. He has also been engaged for the month of June at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. The regular winter season of the Sousa band will open Jan. 3, and will include 100 different cities in this country in 17 weeks, and an early concert in Crookston is announced. Sousa will have musical novelties this season and has engaged two charming young lady soloists to accompany the band on tour.

—Times, Roseau: R. J. Montague, who assisted County Attorney Bell at the May, 1900, term of court received from the state for his services pay for twelve days at $10 per day and expenses amounting to $52, making a total of $172. A bill against the county for $150 for the same services was presented last year, but on the advice of the county attorney was disallowed by the county commissioners. At the last January session of the board the bill was again brought up and allowed with the sanction of County Attorney Medicraft. It has been appealed for the reason that Mr. Montague has been fully paid by the state.

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Makes the bread more healthful.
Safeguards the food against alum.
Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

NEW TRIAL ASKED.

Rev. Martin O. Hanson Will Try to Save Himself from the Pen.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 6.—A motion has been made for a new trial in the case of Rev. Martin O. Hanson, formerly pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church at Houston, Minn., and this city. Two weeks ago he was on trial charged with desertion and the jury found him guilty. The court has not pronounced sentence and Hanson has been confined to the county jail ever since, awaiting the action of his attorney. Yesterday a motion for a new trial was filed.

WAS HALLUCINATION.

The Barker-Keller Shooting Now Believed to Have Been Such.

New York, Feb. 5.—The evening telegram in its report yesterday of the Barker-Keller shooting, says: "Now that the first wave of excitement following the shooting has abated, and the residents of Arlington have regained their normal condition of mind, the consensus of opinion in the Newark suburbs is that the accusations made by Mrs. Barker to her husband against the rector were the result of hallucination."

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with head aches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by F. H. Hillard & Son.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.

The State of Minnesota to Herman Wallis, the defendant:

You are hereby summoned to be and appear before the undersigned, one of the justices of the peace in and for said county, on the 25th day of February, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at my office in the village of Euclid, in said county, to answer to complaint in a civil action. Should you fail to appear at the time and place aforesaid judgment will be rendered against you upon the evidence adduced by said Misner Chapin Fisk, plaintiff, for such sums as he shall show himself entitled to.

Given under my hand this 6th day of February, A. D. 1901.

M. P. LOSEY,
Justice of the Peace.

44-46

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of $8, which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1898, and in the further sum of $8 which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1899 and in the further sum of $8, which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1900, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by George W. Carhart and Marion M. Carhart, his wife, mortgagors, to Jerome W. Wheeler, mortgagee, bearing date the 26th day of October, 1897, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Polk, and state of Minnesota, on the 16th day of November, 1897, at 4:50 o'clock p. m., in book 78 of mortgages, on page 248.

And whereas, the said Jerome W. Wheeler, the mortgagee and holder of said mortgage, has duly elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of forty-two and 40-100 dollars, with interest on $26.40 thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, from the 26th day of October, 1900, and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter of section twenty-eight (28) in township one hundred fifty-four (154) of range forty-seven (47), in Polk county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Polk county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Crookston, in said county and state, on the 23rd day of March, 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Feb. 6, A. D. 1901.

JEROME W. WHEELER,
Mortgagee.
A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Mortgagee,
Crookston, Minn.
44-50

Polk County Journal.

Vol. XXV — CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1901 — No. 45

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

HIS OWN DEFENSE.

Accused Denies That He Struck Day With the Knife Which Caused His Death.

ADMITS THAT HE WAS DRUNK

Brands Reported Confession of Rooney as a Fake, as He Doesn't Remember it.

Minneapolis, Feb. 13.—That Frank Hamilton confessed to Officer Rooney that he had killed Day was absolutely contradicted today, not only by the defendant himself but by Dr. Murray, who was the physician called in to attend Day, and who remained with him and Hamilton until the latter was taken to the police station. Mr. Penny, for the defense, made the opening address, outlining what the theory of the defense would be.

He said he would prove that Hamilton had been struck and completely knocked out before his suspected fatal encounter with Day, also that Day himself owned a large knife like the one with which it is alleged the tragedy was committed, and that more than one person had been cut in the general mix up that occurred before the murder.

Hamilton was the second witness called by the defense today. He was cool. Taken in detail through the testimony of Rooney, he denied absolutely having admitted that he killed Day. As to Rooney's story of the statement he had made regarding relations between Day, himself and Miss Slagel, the defendant declared it an unmitigated lie made from whole cloth. He first related how he had had some words with Day on the night in question and that they had clinched.

"Then," said Hamilton, and here for the first time since the severe strain he faltered as the whole scene came before him, "something struck me. I was struck a glancing blow across the forehead by some heavy instrument—a club or a piece of iron. I lost consciousness and the next thing I remember I was rubbing Day's feet and hands. I also remember being in the bar room a little later with the officer. I remember that the bar tender looked out of focus. I was seized with nervous chills at the time, and suffered much pain in my head.'

Then Mr. Nye asked Hamilton, step by step, with regard to Rooney's testimony. He was asked if he could recall a conversation with the officer, if he had admitted having stabbed Day, if he had claimed self defense, and he said he had said no, that Day's friends piled onto him. Then he was asked if he had said he was willing to take the consequences. Hamilton emphatically denied each of these queries, but qualified his position by adding that he "didn't see how he possibly could have made any such statement in the very nature of things. Being shown the knife with which the murder is alleged to have been committed, Hamilton denied that it was his.

"Did you ever have this knife on the evening in question?" was asked.

"I don't think it is possible, as I never owned that knife."

"Did you use it on Day?"

"Not so far as I know."

On cross examination, Mr. Boardman wanted to know why Hamilton could remember so many things and not others, but Hamilton stated over and over again that he told all that he could as the blow so dazed him that he knew no more. He said:

"I am sure I did not kill Leonard Day."

"Why?"

"Because I know myself."

"There is a blank you can't fill."

"I can't remember."

Dr. Murray controverted Patrolman Rooney's confession story emphatically. He declared that he was as near during all the time Rooney was present until the defendant was taken away and that he heard everything that was said by either Hamilton or Rooney. Hamilton instead of saying "I killed him and am prepared to take the consequences," as Rooney testified, "said "I will go with you and if I have done anything wrong, am prepared to take the consequences."

Witness went on to deny in detail that Hamilton had made the various statements alleged by Rooney and to say that if any such things had been said he would certainly have heard them. The witness was very positive in this. Another point made by the defense through Dr. Murray was this: He examined Hamilton's hands and cuffs immediately and found them without blood immediately he had arrived.

NOYES-McKENZIE SCANDAL.

Attorney General Will Not Discuss Action to be Taken.

Minneapolis, Feb. 13.—Special to the Journal from Washington:

"I shall wait until I have read the opinion of the San Francisco court," said Attorney General Griggs today, when asked whether the opinion in the McKenzie contempt case would result in a change of program in the department of justice. The attorney general continued:

"I understand that a certified copy of the decision is now on the way here, and after I have had an opportunity to look it over carefully I shall know what I shall do."

Thus far the department has insisted that before proceedings were begun against Judge Noyes to cause his removal formal charges in writing must be filed. In other words, the attorney general had been unwilling to assume the initiative against Judge Noyes on mere newspaper rumors.

Whether the action of the San Francisco court will change the attorney general's attitude cannot be learned definitely from anything he is willing to say. At the same time, however, it is known that the anti-Noyes people in Washington were telling one another that the attorney general will be compelled to proceed against Noyes on the strength of the San Francisco judgment against McKenzie, in the contempt case.

The Washington Post today has a leading editorial calling on President McKinley and Attorney General Griggs to proceed against Noyes on the strength of the San Francisco decision At the very least the Post says, the Brick resolution demanding an investigation by congress should be passed.

It is not possible at present to learn whether the contempt decision has affected either the Brick or Carter investigation resolutions in any way. The Brick resolution, inspired by the anti-Noyes people, plainly showed prejudice in its phraseology, and went to the house committee on rules, where it now is.

Senator Carter introduced his resolution after the Brick resolution. The one was intended as a foil to the other. If congress should at any time between now and adjournment conclude to investigate Judge Noyes, and therefore prepare to push the Brick resolution, the Carter resolution which is fair in character although inspired by the Noyes people, will be pushed ahead of it If there is time to be an investigation in short it will be under the Carter resolution, but if the Brick resolution is not pressed the Carter resolution will also be allowed to slumber indefinitely. Nothing will be done on either side until a copy of the San Francisco decision reaches Washington.

NEW YORK BLIZZARD.

The Worst Snow Storm Known for Many Years Sweeps Through the East.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 13.—Northern and central New York are many feet deep in the worst blizzard of the winter and in some respects in recent years. Over a territory extending from Rochester to Utica and from Watertown to Ithaca the wind is blowing a gale and while it is not exceedingly cold, the fine snow driven by the wind makes travel dangerous. In the cities snow plows and shovel gangs are keeping the street car tracks in semi-passable condition, but in the country districts, the roads are drifted to such depths that travel is practically impossible. Specials from outlying towns say that worse conditions have never existed. In some cases communication with other villages except by wire is entirely cut off.

In Cortland county drifts ten feet high are in the main roads and travel is impossible. In the northern counties the same story is told.

Two freight trains on the New York Central crashed together at Jordan while the storm was at its height. The work of clearing the tracks was delayed by the snow and before they could be stopped the limited fast mail from the east and a passenger train from the west crashed into the obstruction. Neither was seriously damaged. Trains on all of the roads are several hours late.

NEED NEVER FEAR

That Carnegie Would Consent to Remove Steel Works Even if Sold.

New York, Feb. 13.—The Tribune says: Andrew Carnegie, in an interview last night, was asked if he would say something which will allay the reported fears of Pittsburghers that when the sale is consummated it will be followed by the removal of the steel works from that city.

"The works," exclaimed Mr. Carnegie. 'How could that be? That is foolish. I do not think Pittsburg fears anything like that."

"Well, at least the head office of the works and the little army of clerks and accountants employed in it," said the reporter. "Pittsburghers may reasonably fear removal of these, may they not?"

"I will never forget Pittsburg. No Pittsburgher need ever fear that," was the only reply Mr. Carnegie would make.

While this brief interview is not put forth as a direct confirmation by Mr. Carnegie of the sale of his vast steel interests, it is certainly a confirmation by inference, and is noteworthy as being the first confirmation of any kind, no matter how slight, which has been given out by Mr. Carnegie.

Choate Doesn't Want it.

New York, Feb. 13.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

President McKinley has informed his cabinet, unofficially, that he has heard from Ambassador Choate and that Mr. Choate is not disposed to accept the attorney generalship.

The president made the tender of this place to Mr. Choate several weeks ago, desiring to get the strongest available man to succeed Mr. Griggs. Mr. Choate wishes to continue as ambassador to the court of St. James if that is satisfactory to the president, and no change at that post is expected.

London is Loyal.

London, Feb. 13.—The Lord Mayor, sheriffs and aldermen robed in Mazarine gowns accompanied by sword and mace bearers and other attendants visited St. James Palace today and presented to King Edward a loyal address on behalf of the city of London. The king read his reply to the address instead of handing it out as has been reported.

Russian Losses.

London, Feb. 13.—A special from Shanghai Kaun dated Feb. 11, says the Russians lost 40 killed in the engagement at Kao-Chiao and that they refused assistance of the allies.

NEW INSTRUCTION

Owing to the Cuban Situation an Extra Session of Congress May be Called.

WON'T MORTGAGE CUBA.

And the United States to be Given the Right to Establish Several Naval Stations.

New York, Feb. 13.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

As a result of a conference between President McKinley and Secretary Root supplemental instructions were sent to Gen Wood to call attention to the Cuban constitutional convention to the importance and necessity of including the requirements of this government in the constitution. It is demanded that the Monroe doctrine shall be recognized; that Cuba shall not mortgage the island to any foreign power; that the United States be given the right to establish naval stations at Havana, Guantanamo, Nipe, Cienfuegos, and the right to maintain at least a part of the present military force in the island and that the United States shall assist Cuba in maintaining a stable government.

On account of the situation in Cuba there has been renewed talk of the probability of an extra session of congress. The president has reiterated his desire to have congress take action in relation to Cuba at the earliest possible moment, and advices received from Gen. Wood within the last two days are said to be of such a character as to make an extra session practically imperative.

The Cuban planters now in Washington trying to have the duty taken off tobacco imported from Cuba into the United States, and to obtain other modifications of the tariff in favor of Cuban products, have been advised to go home and tell their people it is impossible to grant them any such favors, because until a Cuban government has been organized a reciprocity treaty cannot be negotiated, while Cuba has nothing to give in return for concessions, and there does not seem to be a disposition on the part of any one in Cuba to grant any concessions to the United States. An effort is being made to use this opportunity to open the eyes of the Cubans to the necessity of favorably considering the demands of the United States as to provisions of the new constitution.

Senator Morgan, chairman of the committee on inter-oceanic canals, agrees that it is necessary for the United States to retain coaling and naval stations in Cuba. Information recently sent to his committee by Capt. Sigsbee, chief intelligence officer, shows that there are in the West Indies eighteen ports under the control of Great Britain, four under France, one under the Netherlands, two under the Dutch and two under Denmark. Of the British ports, the most important are on the islands of Bermuda and Jamaica. To offset these, stations on the southern side of Cuba are essential.

Senator Morgan says the strength of the British outposts show the wisdom of the navy department in selecting naval stations in Cuba, and emphasizes the necessity of this country retaining possession of them.

TROUBLE IN MADRID.

Heads Are Hurt and a Great Many Arrests Were Made.

Madrid, Feb. 13.—With nightfall every approach to the Puerta Del Sol was jammed with the idle populace. Insulting remarks were hurled at the police and the civil guard. A trumpeter sounded a charge, which was made with swords drawn. Heads were not spared, many persons were injured and there were numerous arrests. The scattering crowds sought the shops and hotels.

All the front doors of Hotel De Paris were smashed in by a great crowd assembling there. The police and guards charged into the streets leading to the Puerta Del Sol, but the dispersed throngs quickly reassembled. In some quarters considerable anxiety has been felt as to the outcome of this evening, for reports have been circulated that the agitators had selected tonight for the beginning of an organized outbreak.

CONGRESSIONAL DOINGS.

Senate Confirms the Nominations of Brigadier Generals.-Some Criticisms.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The senate held two executive sessions today with the result that all the presidential nominations to office of brigadier general were confirmed. The nominations which caused discussion were those of Generals Bates, Wood, Grant and Bell.

Senator Pettigrew criticised Bates' nomination because that general negotiated the Sulu treaty, which treaty he attacked sharply.

Senators Teller and Rawlins also joined in the criticism of the Sulu treaty. They referred especially to its recognition of the institutions of slavery and polygamy, which they claimed were repugnant to the tastes of the people of this country as well as to the constitution. No one, however, made objection to Bates confirmation when the time for a vote was reached.

The criticism of Gen. Wood was confined to the fact that his military record is not extended. Senators Bates of Tennessee and Jones of Arkansas objected to the nominations of Generals Wood, Grant and Bell on the ground that their nominations constitute a breach of the rule of seniority in the army, and exceptional emphasis was laid upon Gen. Wood's nomination on that account. It was held to be unfair to other officers who had seen long service in the field.

Mr. Lodge having stated that Gen. Wood was in the battle of Santiago, Mr. Pettigrew called attention to the fact that Mr. Lodge in his history of the Cuban war had not mentioned Gen. Wood in connection with that battle. The explanation was made on behalf of the president that he especially desired to reward Gen. Wood for his services in Cuba, and that he thought his rank should be higher in case he should be called to discharge other high duties in the future. No roll call was demanded on the confirmation of the nominations.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The house devoted today, excepting an hour and a half consumed in counting the electoral vote and promulgating the result of the presidential election, to the sundry civil appropriation bill. General debate upon this measure was completed, but little actual progress was made with the bill.

During the debate the opposition made a general assault upon the extravagance of the present congress, Bell of Colorado, Richardson of Tennessee, and Cochrane of Missouri, in turn making speeches. Cannon, of Illinois, and Moody of Massachusetts, defended the record of congress in the matter of appropriations ;114 of 342 pages of the bill were disposed of. The sundry civil bill was taken up when the session opened and Mr. Bell, of Colorado, a member of the appropriations committee, took the floor with a speech against

> "The unprecedented extravagance of the present congress."

He said the people became alarmed at the rapid growth of expenditures. So callous had congress become to vastly increase the appropriations that it was considered disreputable to call attention to the extravagance of the government. He produced figures to show that in a single decade the per capita cost of carrying on the governmental machinery had increased from $4.75 to $10.

Boer Peace Commission.

Cape Town, Feb. 13.—Piet Dewet, who arrived in Cape Town yesterday to engage the Afrikanders in the peace movement, has an appointment for Friday or Saturday with Mr. Theron, president of the Afrikander Bund, who is coming here for the special purpose of discussing peace possibilities. Mr. Dewet, on behalf of the Boer peace commission, desires the Afrikander Bund to announce clearly that the invaders can expect no aid from the Cape Colony Dutch and then to send a deputation to Mr. Steyn and Gen. Dewet to endeavor to prevail upon them to surrender. He says he is confident Commandant Louis Botha will surrender, if Steyn and Dewet would do so and the surrender would be practically without conditions.

Durban, Natal, Feb. 13.—The Boer losses when they were attacked by Gen. French at Ermelo last week are reported to have been 40 men killed and 200 made prisoners. French has recaptured a 15 pounder captured from the British at Colenso.

Divorces Are No Good.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—A special to the Tribune from Milwaukee, Wis., says:

Over 200 people in this city who supposed themselves divorced are married. This discovery was made yesterday when it was found that in over 100 cases where divorces have been granted they had not been docketed.

The four judges of the circuit and superior courts immediately met and adopted a rule that no decree of divorce will be made until one of the parties deposits the fee for entering the judgment. The judges blame the lawyers and the lawyers blame their clients for not paying. No decree of divorce is valid until it is entered, and there have been over 100 cases in the last two years where the parties failed to have the judgments entered.

Mrs. Platt Eulogized.

Washington, Feb. 13.—When the senate convened today, the blind chaplain made a beautiful speech on the death of Mrs. Thos. C. Platt, wife of the senator from New York. During the greater part of the day the senate was engaged in executive session, and in the counting of the electoral vote for president and vice president of the United States. Late in the afternoon consideration of the agricultural bill was resumed, but little progress made. At the night session, begun at 8 o'clock, the District of Columbia code bill was read.

Big Transaction.

New York, Feb. 13.—The Commercial Advertiser says:

Every indication points to a speedy consummation of the greatest deal whereby the large steel and iron interests are to be combined in a definite trade agreement, bound by community of interests and Wall street is momentarily expecting a public announcement of the results of the combination. In spite of rumors to the contrary, it was authoritatively said today by Judge W. Gates that the negotiations were proceeding without a hitch.

Buda Pesth Riot.

Buda Pesth, Feb. 13.—There was a serious street fight here today between men out of work and the police. About 1,200 of the former attacked the labor bureau, smashed the windows and attacked the police who attempted to disperse them. The police charged them with drawn swords and arrested 30 persons. The rioters attempted to rescue them and were only scattered by the arrival of a force of cavalry.

RUNAWAY N. P. TRAIN.

Freight Train Backs Down a Hill and One of the Crew is Killed.

Butte, Feb. 13.—A thrilling and disastrous runaway of a freight train on the Northern Pacific occurred this morning on what is known as the Hill line, a branch running from the main line to mines on a hill above Butte. An engine and four cars with a crew consisting of Engineer Harden, Fireman Smith and Brakemen Fielder and Cahill, were pulling a load of Mining timber to Alice mine at Walkerville, about a mile above the city.

To reach the mine the road climbs and winds along the hill for a distance of about three miles. When near the top of the elevation the engine began slipping. The air brakes were applied but failed to hold

> And before hand brakes could be applied the train acquired such momentum in its backward flight down the mountain that nothing could check it.

The train crew remained at their posts. The engine was reversed, but to no purpose. The train went so fast that the lumber was scattered as by a cyclone along the track. Brakeman Fielder was thrown off by flying timbers and his head crushed to a mass. Cahill was also knocked off but escaped with only slight injury. Engineer Harden remained at the throttle till the engine jumped the track and broke loose from the flying cars. The engine turned over and Harden was caught underneath and seriously if not fatally hurt. The freight cars remained on the track for a distance of three miles, over which they flew across the streets and through the residence portion of the town like lighting and finally jumped the track and piled up on the mining dump.

War is Near Its End.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The following cablegram today was received at the war department from Gen. MacArthur at Manila:

"Col. Tecson, seven officers, 71 soldiers, 59 guns, 2,000 rounds ammunition, surrendered unconditionally Feb. 11 at San Miguel de Mayumo, Luzon. This breaks up the group of insurrectors heretofore operating in the mountains east of Balacan, removes from northern Luzon the last formidable organized force operating in the first district. There has been a rigid enforcement of the proclamation of Dec. 20. Spontaneous legislation of the people through the federal party in behalf of peace and self protection are producing most satisfactory results. I entertain the hope of entire suspension of hostilities at an early date.

—MacArthur."

Don't Want to Shuffle off.

Peking, Feb. 13.—At least three of the Chinese to whom Emperor Kwang Su sent a choice of suicide in pursuance of the demands of the powers for their punishment with death, have declined to comply, and the emperor has withdrawn his request that they should suicide, themselves. His Majesty now telegraphs Prince Ching that when he agreed to the terms of the joint note in which the latter only required that the punishment should fit the crime and he argues that if the worst of the guilty deserve death, the others should be banished.

The foreign envoys, on the contrary, say that even those who are least guilty deserve death, and as there is no worse punishment all must suffer that penalty, although if China should ask to make distinction regarding the crimes she can sentence the worst either to quartering or to some other form of Chinese execution. Unless the court changes its views, no immediate settlement is possible.

Feared the Lucerne is Lost.

St. John, N. F., Feb. 13.—It is almost certain that the Lucerne was the victim of a disaster near Bacleugh, where a lot of wreckage was picked up yesterday. A message from the agent to the owners this evening says:

"Unidetified wreckage, the same as Lucerne's fittings, were found at Lead Cove."

The agent would certainly know the vessel's bridge deck, which was what drifted ashore, but he would not care to admit it for the sake of relatives of the crew.

The owners and mariners conversant with the whole affair agree that the ship has gone. Her loss involves 30 lives, 23 of her own crew and seven others, shipwrecked seamen and passengers. The supposition is that she either burst her boilers and went to pieces and struck the cliffs and foundered. The only fact beyond dispute is that a steamer and crew have perished.

Tammany Condemned.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 13.—The local legislature of the province of Ontario has passed a resolution expressing sorrow at the queen's death and deep attachment to the throne.

In supporting this Mr. J. P. Whitney, the opposition leader, was bitterly sarcastic over the refusal of the mayor of New York to hoist the city flag to half mast.

"The respectable citizens," he said, "united in showing their sorrow, but the Tammany bosses and civic officials of the crime-governed city, who live by blackmailing vice, could not honor a noble and virtuous life. This action of the mayor but accentuated the grief of all honorable men and women."

Kansas Saloon Raid.

Kansas City, Feb. 13.—A special from the Star from Winfield, Kan., says:

In today's saloon raid several shots were fired by both sides. Miss Emma Denny was hit in the mouth, either by a bullet or a piece of glass.

Charles and Henry Schmidt were in the joint at the time of the raid and made a show of resistance. Charles drew a revolver and was cut in the face with a hatchet, wielded, he says, by a minister. Several street fights followed. Mayor Albright has called a meeting of the council to consider means for the preventing of further trouble.

KANSAS SALOON WRECKER

Leaves the Wicked City of Chicago to Become An Editor.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Mrs. Nation left for Topeka tonight. Before leaving Chicago she announced that as soon as she had "cleaned up things" at home, she would come back here and if things were not properly taken care of by the authorities she and her friends would take matters into their own hands, and to use her own expressions

> "We will make souvenirs."

Her meeting with the saloon keepers, which she announced that she would carry out, did not materialize, and in default of having them for an audience she went once more to the saloon at 290 State street, which she visited last night, and in which her grandson is manager, and delivered a talk to the people she found there. It was a motley throng, embracing all classes.

Mrs. Nation mounted a table and for 15 minutes talked with great energy urging her hearers to abandon the use and sale of liquor, and denouncing in the most unmeasured terms all those who permitted its sale anywhere in the city. As she left the place she went up to a woman who possessed a rich black eye and remarked:

"My, my, what a pity; who gave you that?"

"You better ask your grandson who gave it to me, was the quick retort. "He knows as much about it as I do."

To this Mrs. Nation made no reply, and hastened out to her carriage.

This afternoon she addressed 1,400 people at Willard hall and then visited a Turkish bath establishment. Another meeting was held tonight at Willard Hall.

> Peoria, Ill., Feb. 13.—Mrs. Carrie Nation has consented to take charge and edit the Peoria Journal for one day, Feb. 26.

EDITOR JOHN LIND.

Chairman Rosing and Ex-Governor John Lind Looking for Monied Democrats.

A number of leading democrats of this city recently were favored with a circular requesting the recipient to be in St. Paul the night of the 12th inst. to attend a meeting of prominent democrats from all over the state, for the purpose of organizing a stock company whose object it should be to buy out James J. Hill's interest in the St. Paul Globe. A further object was to make the Globe a "solid democratic newspaper, representing and defending the best interests of the party in the state," as heretofore that sheet pursued a rather checkered political career.

Although it is not thought that any of this city's democrats attended said meeting, it is known that it was held. In speaking of it the Minneapolis Journal says:

"In all probability the St. Paul Globe will pass under the editorial direction of former Gov. John Lind and the business management of L. A. Rosing, formerly private secretary to his late "excellency." A meeting of prominent dem crats was held at the Merchants Hotel last night to canvass the situation, and many pledges of moral and financial assistance were offered in evidence. Letters and telegrams from representative democrats throughout the state made tenders of money and support, as much as $1,500 being promised by individual friends of the movement."

Want Their Ties.

Eight or ten parties from Warroad were in the city yesterday making depositions before Attorneys Steenerson & Loring, as to the value of and title to a large lot of railroad ties, which are claimed to be worth in the neighborhood of $10,000. The parties to the case are among the most prominent citizens of Warroad, including Isaac Sjoberg, Tom Jones and others, and the case will be tried in the United States circuit court at the coming term. Chas. T. Thompson, of the law firm of Evans & Thompson, of Minneapolis, has been retained by the plaintiffs, and Steenerson & Loring of this city for the defendants.

Court Allows Injunctions.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 13.—In the district court here today, Judge Hazen allowed nine out of nineteen injunctions, filed against owners of buildings where joints are located, to restrain them from renting the buildings for the use of joints.

The petitions in the cases were filed Saturday. The senate today passed a bill designating places where liquor is sold as public nuisances and providing means for the county attorney to suppress them. During the discussion of the bill a strong temperance sentiment among the senators was displayed.

Montana Senatorial Fight.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 13.—The vote of the senator today showed no material change, resulting as follows: Mantle 32, Maginnis 26, Frank 21, Conrad 2, Toole 15.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

POOR OLD SPAIN.

Army is Dissatisfied and Fears of a Riot Are Entertained at Madrid.

ROYAL WEDDING APPROACHES

The Excitement is Reaching an Intense Pitch and Bloodshed is Expected.

Madrid, Feb. 12.—Whispered rumors which are not supported by tangible facts, say that Madrid is on the verge of a tumult. The government, however, is calmly proceeding to carry out the details for the wedding of the Princess of the Asutirs to Prince Carlos of Bourbon, but the street corners, the clubs and the hotel corridors teem with disturbing stories. The new shout, "Long Live the Army," is the most alarming and should it take a real hold on the people

> And should the fever reach the army itself, the outcome would be threatening.

The current talk represents the army as being dissatisfied and that it does not intend to take up arms against the people as long as their opposition is directed against the Jeusits and Count of Caslerta. The feeling against the former is largely political, but a real and deep seated antagonism exists against the former Carlist leader.

The decision of the high court today favoring the contention of the mother ni the Ubao case, giving the daughter into her charge and releasing her from the convent, is likely to have a soothinig effect.

Another step in the marriage ceremony occurs at the palace tonight at 9 o'clock, when the formal contract will be signed.

The Duke of Sotomayer, the grand chamberlain, has extended an invitation to the ministry to be among the witnesses. Besides the royal party, the ministry and the palace officials and the witnesses no others will be present. The parties to the wedding are domiciled in the royal palace. They, therefore, are not obliged to expose themselves to the public, the wedding occurring in the chapel of the palace itself at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Up to the present, the city is perfectly calm.

This afternoon about 800 students led by a woman and bearing French and Spanish flags, assembled in the Puerta del Sol and started cries for the army and against the Jesuits and the Count Caserta. They were quickly dispersed, but continued assembling in various parts of the city.

The afternoon was one of continual manifestations, though without serious incident, owing to the vigilance of the police. In fact throughout the entire day, civil guards, mounted and on foot, were everywhere visible, dispersing crowds wherever found. These assemblages were largely composed of youths and street idlers, but behind them were agitators and the sentiment of the people.

This evening 200 mounted civil guards are parading Puerta del Sol with drawn swords, preventing any continuance of the disturbance. The avenues centering on the square are closely guarded.

> There can be no doubt that the feeling of the populace is deep rooted, needing only a successful leader to encourage the people to menacing deeds.

Owing to their attitude the torchlight procession scheduled for this evening was abandoned, the authorities feeling that the slightest opportunity for a clash might lead to serious results.

A night illumination might cause a hail of stones, which might excite the guards to some act of revenge. The populace is being given a looser rein than in ordinary circumstances because of the desire of the Queen Regent to avoid any meeting between the people and the authorities which could lead to bloodshed on the day of the wedding. Hitherto there has been no serious attempts on the part of the crowd to resist the police. On the contrary the people scatter the moment the police start in their direction. Some curious sights ensue in such cases. For instance the shop keepers and proprietors of restaurants and cafes, the moment the unruly appear, pull down their iron shutters. By the time the police have arrived the crowd vanishes. Then up go the shutters again and business is resumed.

St. Lawrence River Improvements.

Montreal—At the weekly meeting of the harbor board a letter was read from Hon. J. I. Tarte, minister of public works, saying that if he could obtain the assent of the government be intended dredging the St. Lawrence river channel 30 feet deep and 450 feet wide within the next two years.

Montana Senatorial Fight.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 12.—The vote on senator today was as follows: Mantle 32, Maginnis 25, Frank 22, Cooper 7, Conrad 3, Coburn 2.

EXODUS TO THE WEST.

1,800 Land Seekers Leave Chicago in One Day to Seek Homes.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Between 1,500 and 1,800 land hunters left Chicago today for the open sections of the far west. Some had tickets to points in the northwest, many to points in the middle west and others to points in the southwest and they all took advantage of the first of a long series of weekly reduced rate applications recently authorized as a result of Jas. J. Hill's determination to boom the country tributary to the Great Northern line as it never before was boomed. It is estimated that at least two-thirds of the prospective settlers came from the crowded parts of the east, the other third being composed of persons from Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and adjacent states. A hundred or more were Chicagoans. The low rates—$30 to Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, Tacoma, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Santa Fe and points in parts of Idaho and Nevada, and $25 to points in Colorado and the eastern parts of Wyoming and Montana—were granted by all individual western lines. The business to the far northwest will be carried out of St. Paul today largely by the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and Canadian Pacific lines. The Santa Fe is handling much of the California and southwestern business. It is said that J. J. Hill expects to carry at least 50,000 persons from the east and central west to settle in the far west.

CARRIE IS IN CHICAGO,

But the People of the Windy City Refuse to Become Excited.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Carrie Nation arrived in Chicago at 8:40 tonight, coming over the Rock Island road and within 15 minutes after reaching the city she was facing a somewhat diminutive audience gathered under the auspices of the National W. C. T. U. in Willard hall. On her trip toward Chicago she delivered a number of short addresses from the rear end of the car, speaking at nearly every station where a stop was made.

Her coming was marked by no special incident contrary to the expectations of the ladies who had invited her to visit Chicago. During the day a committee called on Chief of Police Kipley and asked him to detail a strong force of detectives to await Mrs. Nation's arrival at the Rock Island depot, assuring him that unless she was fully protected she would be in danger from the mob which was at the depot. The chief laughed and said he guessed there would be no danger to the lady and if he told the policemen on the beat to look in about train time it would be sufficient.

The ladies were positive and the chief finally relented sufficiently to promise one lone officer, who would, he declared, have nothing to do. The event proved that the chief was right and the ladies withdrew. A very small crowd was at the depot and it was for the most part composed of members of the reception committee. The reception of Mrs. Nation occasioned no excitement whatever and provoked but little curiosity among the people in the depot. She entered her carriage at once and was driven rapidly to Willard Hall, five squares distant.

Boers Are Active.

Cape Town, Feb. 12.—Twenty-seven Australians, Cape police and dragoons were captured by Kruettsinger's commando, eight miles from Balaspruit, Feb. 6, after a fight in which three British and five Boers were killed. The British were afterwards released. Two hundred Boers are raiding the country thereabouts and destroying orchards and gardens. Several were killed and wounded.

Seven British Yeomanry, while skirmishing, were captured by a commando near Vreyburg, which was forced to retire.

Piot Dewet has arrived in Cape Town to engage the Afrikanders in the peace movement.

Agricultural Bill.

Washington, Feb. 12.—During the entire session of the senate today the agricultural bill was under consideration. After six hours of consideration the bill was little more than half completed. The debate on the measure dealt almost entirely with active details of the department of agriculture, many commendations of the work of the department being made by senators on both sides of the chamber.

King Edward Will Visit Germany.

London, Feb. 12.—King Edward and Queen Alexandria according to Truth will leave England during March to visit Dowager Empress Frederick. As already cabled they will also visit the Grand Duke and Duchess of Hesse and they will spend the Easter holidays at Copenhagen Truth asserts that a member of the cabinet, probably Lord James of Hereford, will accompany the king.

British Occupy Ficksburg.

Cape Town, Feb. 12.—Large bodies of republicans have been seen near Donkerpoort station north of Norvalspont. Shots were exchanged. The British occupied Ficksburg with little opposition and released prisoners who were in jail. The Boers were moving in the direction of Fourieshurg, where they have most of their supplies.

—Subscribe for the Daily Journal.

SOCIAL DEMOCRACY.

(Inasmuch as the above party has no organ of its own, the Journal has consented to grant them the use of one column of its space weekly for airing their views and to present their side of the political questions. We reserve the right, however, to criticise any statements that may be made by the contributors to this column, and in no wise will any statement contained in this column voice the sentiments of the Journal editor..—Ed.)

Socialists demand the public ownership and operation of the industrial machinery of production and distribution, also that our industrial system be made a co-operative one to replace the present competitive struggle.

What is Socialism?

Note these authorities:

The ethics of Socialism are identical with the ethics of christianity.—Encyclopedia Brittanica.

The abolition of that individual action on which modern societies depend, and the substitution of a regulated system of co-operative action—Imperial Dictionary.

A theory of society that advocates a more precise, orderly and harmonious arrangement of the social relations of mankind than that which has has hitherto prevailed.—Webster.

A science of reconstruction society on entirely new basis by substituting the principle of association for that of competition in every branch of human industry.—Worcester's Dictionary.

Reader, do you know what Socialism is? Have you formed an opinion from reading the best authorities on the subject, or from what some uninformed person has told you? Are you aware that a sentiment on Socialism prevails throughout the country? Are you prepared to meet the issue understandingly? Do you believe in equal rights and opportunities for each and every member of society? Are you satisfied with the present condition, politically and socially? If not, we would ask you to investigate Socialism by taking some Socialist paper and reading some of the best authorities. Limited space compels us to be brief with you. We desire to stimulate a spirit of investigation, feeling secure in the fact that the truth must prevail.

Even a fool in revolt is infinitely wiser than the philosopher forging a learned excuse for his own chains.

EIGHT HOUR LAW.

In accordance with the bill, establishing the eight-hour day law, which passed the Montana legislature Friday, Feb. 1st, and was signed by Gov. Toole the day following, the Anaconda Mining company today gave orders to introduce the system in its smelters in Montana. This will require the employment of several hundred additional men. The eight-hour system had already been in use in the Butte mines of the company.

A special to the New York Herald from Toronto says:

The dominion government has practically taken steps to purchase the telegraph and telephone systems of Canada and operate them in connection with the post office department. The great desire of Canadian statesmen is to see wires owned by the British government united with their system girdling the globe.

My friends this move is purely socialistic and shows at a glance the public ownership will rapidly replace private monopoly.

FEVER IN SOUTH AFRICA.

English and Boers Both Suffer--Dewet Keeps Moving.

Lorenzo Marques, Feb. 12.—The fever season is exceptionally disastrous. Many deaths of prominent British subjects have occurred. Dispatches from Komatiport are arriving daily.

The hospital is now filled to its capacity. The mortality with the Boer refugees is heavy.

Pretoria, Feb. 12.—Gen. Dewet crossed Orange river north of Norvalspont Sunday night going in the direction of Phillipstown. The British followed.

THE PAN-AMERICAN FAIR

Government Display Will Be on Elaborate Scale.

UNIQUE EXHIBIT OF SIX NATIONS.

Total Government Exhibit Will Be the Most Extensive Yet Sent From Washington to Any Exposition. Letters of Statesmen Will Be Shown—Models of Warships.

There will shortly go out from Washington the largest and most complete collection of government exhibits ever yet exported from that city to an exposition, says the Washington Post. Several hundred freight cars will soon be crawling up the route to Buffalo stocked full with the exhibits from the Smithsonian, National museum, fish commission, department of labor, the bureau of American republics and the various executive departments of the city. As an appropriation of half a million dollars has been made by the government for the buildings to contain the government exhibits, as well as for the exhibits themselves, the display will be of no ordinary standard.

The collection from the Smithsonian will be very large and of great interest, as it will demonstrate the scientific progress of the country and the results of its recent explorations, accompanied by portraits and models of various kinds. The groups under the department of anthropology in the museum will be of particular value, both from scientific and artistic standpoints. Some already completed are groups of the Patagonians, the Eskimos and the Sioux, done by skilled artists and scientists. The sculptor Ellicott has had several of them in hand, and they present the most interesting and lifelike study of character, manners, customs and dress of the various peoples they portray. The natural history display, also under the National museum, will be excellent, while all objects illustrative of the natural resources of the country and their utilization not covered by other departments or exhibitors will be exhibited.

The living exhibit of the Six Nations, now in preparation by the bureau of ethnology, will be especially unique. Representatives of all the tribes now in the country will be brought to the exposition. The historic old council house of the Iroquois will be reproduced in bark by the Indians, who have gathered and prepared the material themselves. At the exposition they will follow the customs of their early ancestors in making weapons, tools, utensils, dolls and knickknacks. Corn will be ground in stone mortars 300 years old, and bread will be made in the crude way known to the Six Nations as they learned it in time immemorial. For the time being the Indians will discard what civilization has brought them and live in the wigwams as their ancestors lived, ready for the battle or the chase. Interpreters will be provided so that the public may talk with the Indians who do not understand English. Their various festivals will be celebrated, with the customary dances and weird ceremonials.

Under the department of agriculture there will be a museum of cereals, tobacco, animal and vegetable fibers illustrative of distribution, the effect of transplantation, of changes of soil, climate and altitude and showing departmental methods of study and treatment. All exhibits of interest and concern to those engaged in agriculture, horticulture and live stock industries will be gathered and arranged by the following bureaus: The bureau of animal industry, weather bureau, division of entomology, division of ornithology and mammalogy, botanical and horticultural divisions, divisions of forestry, chemistry, statistic and experimental stations.

The state department will illustrate the workings of the diplomatic bureau, consular bureau, bureau of statistics, bureau of accounts and a number of the other divisions of the department. An exhibit of historical archives and letters of great men will also be made under the auspices of the state department.

Among the exhibits collected by the treasury is one of a lighthouse in full operation, with models of lighthouses, showing styles of construction; a coin stamp in operation, showing the coining of money at the rate of 90,000 coins per hour; a complete collection of the coins of all nations and a set of medals struck by the mint in Philadelphia; a model of a quarantine station, illustrating the care of the government in preventing the introduction and spread of contagious diseases; models of marine hospital operating rooms, with X ray apparatus, and a model of a vessel especially constructed for deep sea sounding, showing the sounding lines and apparatus used in measuring the depth of the water. The department will also construct a life saving station upon the shore of Lake Erie, showing all modern devices, including a lifeboat and a surfboat, with captain and crew of ten men, who will give exhibitions daily, illustrating the actual operations of all the devices for saving life along our coasts.

The war department will display from its bureau of engineers maps and reports of the bureau, models of bridges, models of forts and river and harbor improvements. The ordnance department will show a historical collection of cannon and small arms, including samples of mountain, field, siege and seacoast artillery of the present day, mounted on the most improved carriages, machine and dynamite guns, with projectiles of all kinds, and many other articles used in modern warfare. From the quartermaster's department will go figures showing uniforms, equipment, sets of colors

Job...
Printing
Is Our Specialty.

We Have the Best Facilities for doing
The Best
Work
At the Very Lowest
Prices
The Daily
Journal

DEFECTIVE PAGE

SULZER AND MAHON

Indulge in a Lively War of Words in the House Yesterday--Hot Time All Around

SOME DISHONEST PRACTICES

Charged--The Boer Widow Fund Dissipated--Heath Comes in for a Roast.

Washington, Feb. 11.—This was a field day in the house, being by far the liveliest day during the present session. A very interesting debate of the constitutional limitation on the power of the senate over revenue legislation initiated by the house was precipitated when Mr. Payne, the chairman of the ways and means committee, brought in a resolution of the committee to disagree to the substitute proposed by the senate as an amendment to the war revenue reduction act and to ask for a conference with the senate. Mr. Tawney of Minnesota championed the cause of the house and its paramount rights over revenue legislation, but was unsuccessful in bringing forward a resolution to return the bill to the senate with the declaration that the senate had transcended its powers in submitting an entirely new measure for the bill of the house.

The subsequent debate showed that had this course been adopted the proposition would have combined a large vote. Instead, however, he insisted upon a division of the resolution and after the first portion—to disagree—had been adopted he made the point of order that the second motion was not in order because the senate in its subject had involved the constitutional prerogative of the house.

Later in the day, during the consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill an impassioned pro-Boer speech by Mr. Sulzer of New York drew from Mr. Mahon of Pennsylvania a recital of the raising of a sum of about $1,200 for the benefit of the widows of Boer soldiers at a meeting held in this city at which Mr. Sulzer presided. He declared that

> After the terrapin and cold bottles got in their work only $18 was left of the fund for Boer widows.

This stung Sulzer to reply at length. He had no connection with the expenditure of the fund to which he had contributed $175 and a very lively row followed, the climax of which was reached when Sulzer had read an anonymous letter which made a sensational personal attack upon Perry S. Heath, late assistant postmaster general, who was secretary of the republican national committee during the recent campaign, charging him with being Neeley's sponsor and then denying it after the arrest of Neeley and also making allegations against Heath in connection with the movement of deposits in New York. Sulzer charged Heath with being responsible for the circulation of stories about his connection with the fund for Boer widows. Knox (Mass.) declared that it was "contemptible' 'to attack a gentleman who could not reply through the medium of an anonymous letter and moved that the infraction of the rules be reported to the house and stricken from the record. In the course of the debate upon this motion Sulzer declared that although the communication was anonymous he fathered every word of it and would be responsible for it as a member of the house and as an individual. Democrats filibustered against the motion to expunge the letter from the congressional record and finally forced an adjournment, the effect being to permit the publication of the letter in the record.

FOUND HIS MOTHER.

A Mysterious Parentage is Explained by the Death of Nun.

LaCrosse, Wis., Feb. 8.—A [illegible] which promises to provide material for one of the most remarkable stories of mysterious parentage on record, and which involves the title to St. Francis hospital and St. Rose de Vitrehes convent in this city, and property in Dubuque, Ia., and Ashland and Sparta, Wis., valued at $500,000, has developed here.

Michael Leinfelder, a distributing clerk in the postoffice, nearly forty years of age, was informed recently that the late Joseph Anthony Leinfelder was not his father, as he had supposed, but his uncle, and that his true name was John Hall.

He was also informed that Mrs. Hall whom he had always regarded as his aunt, and who had become Sister Antonia in the local convent, was in reality his mother, and that she had built the convent and local hospital, and was also owner of the valuable property in Ashland and Sparta, Wis., and Dubuque, Ia., which other people claim, but which rightfuly belongs to Leinfelder (or Hall). The story is credited to Rev. Father White, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church in this city, who is said to have told it to a sister-in-law of Leinfelder. Mrs. Hall was sister-in-law to Joseph Anthony Leinfelder, and as the story goes, turned over her two children, a boy and a girl, to her brother at the time she entered the convent as a nun. Leinfelder brought them up as his own children, and they always thought that Sister Antonia was their aunt. The children's mother was very wealthy when she took the vows and, it is alleged, turned over all her [illegible]erty to her brother to [illegible] to. It is asserted that Mrs. Hall built the St. [illegible] hospital and the convent she after [illegible] utered, and that s[illegible] id not deed the same to the church. According to her son's story, a quit claim deed was taken by his foster father, who had no right to it in precedence to the children of Mrs Hall.

Sister Antonia died very suddenly, leaving no will. The real estate which she owned in several cities throughout the Northwest is now claimed by Micha[illegible] Leinfelder, or John Hall, whichever he is, he being the sole surviving heir, and legal proceedings for the re-

MANKATO'S LIBRARY.

Carnegie Will Give $40,000 Towards a New Building and $4,000.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Several weeks ago the board of control of the Mankato Public Library association wrote to Congressman McCleary asking him to communicate with Andrew Carnige, whose gifts to the public library interestes have been large in number and liberal in amount, with a view to ascertaining whether Mr. Carnige, after a full statement of the case, would feel warranted in doing anything for Mankato. Mr. McCleary took the matter up with Mr. Carnegie as requested, and yesterday received that gentleman's reply, which, in substance, is as follows: He will give $40,000 for a public library building in Mankato, provided the city will provide a satisfactory site and guarantee to raise a permanent annual fund of $4,000 with which to keep the library open to the public. Mankato is now authorized by law to impose a tax of one mill for library purposes, which will realize just about the required amount.

POPULISM WANING.

Another Campaign Will Make a Clean Sweep for Republicans in Polk County.

"The ninth congressional district, under the plan outlined in a recent edition of the Minneapolis Journal, would bring many new candidates for congress to the surface, but I think the most prominent of these and the man who would stand the best show is Ezra G. Valentine of Wilkin county," said Attorney E. J. Grover of East Grand Forks, at Minneapolis Wednesday.

"Congressional reapportionment is interesting the people of our section of the state and judging from what expression of public sentiment has come to me the plan to make Otter Tail and Wilkin the southern counties of the new ninth is satisfactory. But we do not like to lose Frank Eddy. He is a good represcnative and his excellent campaigns have made him many friends in Polk county.

"Populism in Polk county is certainly waning fast. Another campaign will make it a clean sweep for the republicans on county ticket as well as the higher offices. The populists met with enough of defeat in local affairs last fall to thoroughly discourage them and campaign funds and good managers will be hard to find on their side of the fence from this on."

BOYER-SAUVE

Nupital Announcement of two Prominent Young Crookston People

Cards are out announcing the forthcoming marriage of Miss Palmire Sauve, daughter of Mr. Joseph Sauve of this city, to Mr. Donat Boyer, one of Crookston's promising young attorneys. The happy event will occur on Monday morning, February 18, and the young couple will be at home to their friends at 115 south Broadway after March 4.

The Journal join the many friends of the happy pair in extending congratulations, and wishes them a most pleasant voyage through life.

A Terrible Deed.

Milwaukee, Feb. 12.—Charles Voss killed his wife with a butcher knife this morning, following the deed by suicide. Cause unknown.

A later report reveals a most heart rending incident in connection with the murder. Instead of bathing the infant at the time of the butchering, it develops that the little one was nursing at its mother's breast. The sight that was revealed to the neighbors was enough to unnerve the strongest. On the floor beneath the hearth of the kitchen stove lay the body of the dead woman. A slowly widening pool of blood oozed from beneath her. There was a stir and a gasping cry, and one woman whose nerves were stronger than those of the others hastened across the floor and > Raised the bleeding form, barely in time to save the life of the ten weeks' old babe that was choking, literally drowning in its mother's blood.

FLEECED FARMERS.

Banker B. Prow, of Milton, Testifies Before the Industrial Commission at Washington.

OPENLY CHARGES COLLUSION

Between Minnesota Inspectors and Some Purchasers, and Bases Statements on Facts.

B. Prom, a wealthy banker and well known citizen of Milton, N. D., is at Washington and yesterday appeared before the industrial commission and gave some strong testimony tending to show collusion between the line elevators and railroads running into wheat belts of the northwest.

He charged that teh railroad companies refused to supply cars for the movement of grain from Independent elevators, forcing farmers to sell their grain to "line" elevators. He says if ers. independent elevators could send grain directly to market at Minneapolis and Duluth from one to five cents more per bushel could be realized by the farmers.

Prom also had a grievance against the grain inspectors of Minnesota. He testified that they graded North Dakota wheat too low, while Minnesota wheat was graded too high. He stated that no Dakota wheat averaged a higher grade than the Minnesota product and that wheat from his state was used as a "filler" to bring Minnesota flour up to standard.

Prom also charged collusion between Minnesota inspectors and certain purchasers and cited a case of the rejection of a consignment of flax in North Dakota. It was sent to Minneapolis and there it was graded as No. 1. As it had been sold to the jobbers in North Dakota at a lower grade he was enabled to sell it as No. 1, realizing a handsome profit at the expense of the grower.

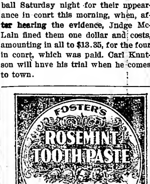
Witnes was asked whether his statements of collusion were simply his personal opinion or based on evidence. He replied that they were based on facts. The source of his information he could not divulge as he was under pledge not to do so.

ROW IN SAMPSON'S ADDITION.

A Few Residents Drink Heavily and Get Very Disorderly.

Saturday evening Clara Knodson appeared before his honor, the mayor, and complained that several men had visited her home during the absence of her father and made themselves generally disagreeable, broke the furniture, made improper proposals and committed certain other overt acts which would not look well in print.

The mayor conducted the young woman before Judge McLean and a warrant was issued charging Carl Knutson, Knute Knutson, Antone Knntson, Otto Seaman and another young man with disorderly conduct, and all were placed under arrest with the exception of Carl Knutson, who skipped out. All the parties are more or less closely related and it appears that they gathered at the residence of Clara's father during the latter's absence, early Friday night. Clara was in company with Betsy Olson, but the latter became alarmed and left for her home early. The men had brought along a supply of liquor and were drinking heavily. Everything appeared to run smoothly until along about 3 o'clock Saturday morning, when, either influenced by the liquor he drank, or the refusal of Clara to acede to his demands, she stating that "he wanted to do with me as he pleased," proceeded to make a "rough house," during which the lamps were broken, the stove overturned and a door kicked in. The girl made her escape and aroused a neighbor, but when he arrived on the scene no one was in sight. The defendants gave bail Saturday night for their appearance in court this morning, when, after hearing the evidence, Judge McLain fined them one dollar and costs, amounting in all to $13.35, for the four in court, which was paid. Carl Knutson will have his trial when he comes to town.



SEND 2-CENT STAMP FOR SAMPLE

For sale by A. G. Anderson, Druggist.

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

"I am so thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. John T. Smith, of Slocan, B. C., Box 50. "It cured me of a disease which was taking away all my strength, helped me through the long months before baby came and I have a big strong baby girl, the most healthy and happy of all my three."

MAKES THE DIFFERENCE.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Special Attention to { Business Correspondence, Land Contest Cases, Mortgage Foreclosures, Collections, Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block, CROOKSTON, MINN.

H. Steenerson,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

Miller & Foote,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room 3 Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
DENTIST.
Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

PHYSICIANS

A. A. Just M. D.
HOMEOPATHIC [illegible]CIAN AND SURGEON
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

Carpenter & Olson,
LAW, LAND, LOANS, COLLECTIONS
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reckitt block, Crookston, Minn.

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans, Insurance........
OFFICIAL ABSTRACTERS OF TITLE FOR POLK COUNTY. CROOKSTON MINN.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning, 11:00, evening, 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
REV. H. M GREEN, B. D. Rector

Shelled Corn, Oats, Ground Feed, Bran and Shorts, Pillsbury's Best Flour, Baled Hay, Lignite Coal and Wood of all kinds--Car lots only. For prices, delivered anywhere. Address
L. B. GIBBS, GRAND FORKS, N. D.

ANGORA GOATS
I will sell Angora Does in lots to suit purchaser. Bred to my celebrated Billies to kid in May.
Write for prices
A. L. Morris, Bagley, Minn.

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS AND DESIGNS.
Send your business direct to Washington, saves time, costs less, better service.
My office close to U. S. Patent Office. FREE preliminary examinations made. Atty's fee not due until patent is secured. PERSONAL ATTENTION GIVEN—19 YEARS ACTUAL EXPERIENCE. Book "How to obtain Patents," etc., sent free. Patents procured through E. G. Siggers receive special notice, without charge, in the
INVENTIVE AGE
illustrated monthly—Eleventh year—terms, $1. a year.
E. G. SIGGERS, 918 F St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.
Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000.
TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.
Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Or[illegible] Bought.
INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.
O. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist
Dealer in Drug,s Druggist's Sundries.
Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.
Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.
Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.
GEORGE Q. ERSKINE, President. WM. ANGLIM, Vice-President
J. W. WHEELER, Cashier. H. ROBERTSON Asst. Cashier.
Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000
Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS;
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.
Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

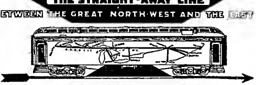
The Riverside Dairy
Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.
E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

This Will Inter[illegible]t the Farmers.
The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making
FARM LOANS
at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.
Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

Burlington Route
Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis
"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.
P. S. Eustis, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.
Geo. P. Lyman, Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B. & Q. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

C. L. DOBNER, Pres. H. G. DOBNER, Vice Pres. S. F. STAPLES, Sec. and Treas
Northern Real Estate and Mortgage Company.
(INCORPORATED)
THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.
First Class Farm Mortgages for Sale. Farms bought and sold. List your farms with us. Money loaned on improved farms in this neighborhood. Office over First State Bank.
REFERENCES—First State Bank, Thief River Falls. Scandia American Bank, Crookston. Scandinavian American Bank, St. Paul.

DULUTH, SOUTH SHORE & ATLANTIC RY
THE STRAIGHT-AWAY LINE
BETWEEN THE GREAT NORTH-WEST AND THE EAST



DINING CAR SERVICE A LA CARTE
FAST MODERN TRAINS
LOWEST RATES QUICKEST TIME
M. ADSON, TRAV. PASS. AGENT
T. H. LARKE, ASST GEN PASS AGT
DULUTH, MINN.

Polk County Journal,

BY N. S. GORDON.

☞ Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

The Journal owes an apology to its readers and correspondents for not printing any of the news from the surrounding towns this week, and a portion of that received last week. A rush of job work that positively had to be completed by Thursday night kept the Journal force working night and day, the result being that everything that could possibly be eliminated had to be "passed up." This is the first time such a thing has occured and we trust it will be the last. Beginning next week, The Journal will again print all correspondence received.

Almost a week has been consumed in the Minneapolis courts in an effort to find twelve jurors to try the Hamilton-Day murder case, and up to last evening about half of the jury was completed. If the trial will proceed as slowly as the empaneling of the jury, the latter will enjoy a three mouths job at the expense of the county of Hennepin.

The Twentieth Century Advertiser is a new publication, the first number of which has just reached the Journal. It is printed at Heron Lake, this state, and flyes the name of O. C. Hansell at its mast head as publisher. Its mission is best explained in the following salutatory announcement: Our object is to publish a monthly journal of news criticisms and suggestions for the printer, merchant and general advertiser. How well we have succeeded you must judge.

Journal, Fergus Falls: Moorhead city is having a squabble with the Fargo Edison Electric company. The Fargo concern sells lights cheaper in Moorhead than it does in Fargo with a view to breaking up the Moorhead plant. When a concern applied for a saloon license in Moorhead the fact cropped out that it bought its electricity in Fargo where its booze trade comes from. The council granted its saloon license on condition that it served whiskey with the aid of Moorhead electricity.

Ada, the county seat of Norman county, and by the way one of the wealthiest and most prosperous communities in the northwest, is rapidly advancing its gate to metropolitan greatness, not only in commercial directions, but also by way of population, and on March 12, next, the voters of the village will be called upon to vote on the question of incorporation as a city. The name is practically all the place needs for a city, as it has everything else that is required, such as electric lights, sewerage, and a whole lot of "cracken" good busines people.

What a lot of fun Mrs. Nation could have if she would come to East Grand Forks with her little hatchet. And what a deuce of a time the East Grand Forks saloonists would have in protecting their property against this woman's onslaught. Imagine handsome Billy Franklin trying to oust a lady from his gorgeous temple of Gambrinus, or talkative Dan Sullivan in the roll of an Irish prince, sliding out of the back door to avoid the hatchet that has broken the heads of so many bottles of forty-rod disturbance and rail splitting headache. Just imagine the picture.

Some months ago the Crookston high school through Supt. Hitchcock applied to Wellesley college, the leading school in this country for the higher education of women, for the right of certification. Word has just been received that this right has been granted to the high school, and hereafter its graduates may enter Wellesley without examination. The granting of this right is a high honor to the Crookston schools, as Wellesley college ranks with the best universities of the country. It has always been very particular as to whom it admitted, and in granting an unqualified right to enter its graduates without examination, Wellesley college pays a high compliment to our high school.

Like all of his former books, Bart's Minneapolis Journal cartoons for his latest publication, are excellent. The book is published under the title of "A World in Trouble," and the cartoons are put out in colors this year, and constitute the most striking edition of the Journal's cartoon books yet published. The title fits the book, as the old world has had a good deal of trouble this year—the war in Africa, the Boxers in China, the long political campaign, and a lot of other events have made trouble for a great many people and the cartoons in the book cover these leading features of the year's news and comprise the best work of the year from Bart's graphic pencil. The book is on sale at the news stands or may be had for 2 cents by mail from the Journal office.

The Journal is pleased to note the inauguration of a uniform system of physical culture in the city schools. Beginning with the present week a special teacher will introduce the Preece system of physical culture in the schools, visiting the different rooms each day, and in addition giving daily instruction to the teachers. The importance of this departure cannot be overestimated. No course of instruction can be well balanced and lack instruction in physical culture. It is perhaps not desirable that the public schools should attempt to make athletes out of its students, but a well balanced system of physical culture gives health and strength, and corrects a great variety of physical evils that children are heir to, and from which even few adults escape. We give too little thought to what our children are doing with their bodies, and a good mind poorly housed is not in a position to do the best work. Examine your children some evening and be surprised and the number and extent of their physical deformities. A good system of physical training, which no up to date school neglects, inculcates such habits as proper positions of sitting, the best attitude in standing, a correct carriage, holding up the chest, thus giving free play to all vital organs, etc. It results in graceful movements of the body. All this has its moral reflex and the boy who is taught to habitually hold up his head is sure to be a better man.

The Journal understands that the introduction of physical culture in the Crookston schools is due to the efforts of the teachers themselves. The city has reason to congratulate itself that it has such an energetic, progressive corps of teachers.

Physical training in the schools is a long stride in the right direction. It is to be hoped that several other long steps in the same direction, such as regular supervision in music and drawing, will soon be taken.

DICK'S HAZING BILL

Has Been Adopted by the West Point Conference Committee.

Washington Feb. 12.—Representative Dick's bill concerning hazing at the West Point Military academy, today was adopted by the conference of the two houses of congress on the military academy bill in lieu of the senate provision on the question of hazing. Some minor verbal changes were made and the eleventh section of the bill was stricken out entirely, but the changes do not alter the measure much. The adoption renders it mandatory that the superintendent of the academy shall suppress "challenge fighting and every form of hazing at the academy."

It also provides for the dismissal of all cadets in any way connected with fights or challenges to fight; also "any cadet who shall directly invite or request any candidate or cadet to eat or drink anything for the purpose of punishing, annoying or harrassing him, or who shall without lawful authority directly require any candidate or cadet to brace or engage in any form of physical exercise. Also specifies that no cadet dismissed for either of these causes shall be reinstated or re-appointed in the academy and also that no cadet shall ever be appointed to any office in the army, navy or marine corps. The provision requiring cadets to reply to all questions pertaining to the infraction of the laws under penalty of dismissal also is retained, as are the provisions for the convening of court martial by the superintendent for conducting trials under this act.

SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. And Mrs. J. P. Marcum Celebrate Their Silver Wedding.

In response to invitations about fifty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Marcum gathered at their home at 615 N. Main street in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. The evening was mostly spent in visiting and the recalling of experiences of early years, while the game, "Conundrums" took up the time of a goodly number. The presents were both numerous and valuable.

Refreshments were served late in the evening after which the guests departed for their homes.

Must Leave School.

A report comes from Fargo to the effect that the little girls who fell victims of the adult brutes in Fargo recently were denied admission to the Moorhead schools yesterday. If this is so, it but adds but another feature to the misfortune which has overtaken would these little girls—and it would seem not out of character to take into consideration in the meeting out of such scant justice as the law prescribes.

—Eddie Dufresne quietly left the beauties of Crookston behind Saturday evening and departed, presumably, for the wilds of Montana. Eddie made the trip last summer and has ever since had a longing to return to the free and easy life of the west. Although, he told several friends about town of his intended departure, also his mother, he carefully kept his secret from his father, fearing he might refuse his consent. His parents expect to hear from him in a few days.

A Crookston humorist was cited in the last issue of the Vesterhelmen to have said that the newspaper business is centering in the Journal building, for it now has solemnity in the front, business in the middle, and humor in the back part. Editor Hagen did not know whether he should laugh or cry, as the matter reflected so greatly upon the Bud og Hilsen, the Journal and the Vesterhelmen.

THE PAN-AMERICAN FAIR

Government Display Will Be on Elaborate Scale.

UNIQUE EXHIBIT OF SIX NATIONS.

Total Government Exhibit Will Be the Most Extensive Yet Sent From Washington to Any Exposition. Letters of Statesmen Will Be Shown—Models of Warships.

There will shortly go out from Washington the largest and most complete collection of government exhibits ever yet exported from that city to an exposition, says the Washington Post. Several hundred freight cars will soon be crawling up the route to Buffalo stocked full with the exhibits from the Smithsonian, National museum, fish commission, department of labor, the bureau of American republics and the various executive departments of the city. As an appropriation of half a million dollars has been made by the government for the buildings to contain the government exhibits, as well as for the exhibits themselves, the display will be of no ordinary standard.

The collection from the Smithsonian will be very large and of great interest, as it will demonstrate the scientific progress of the country and the results of its recent explorations, accompanied by portraits and models of various kinds. The groups under the department of anthropology in the museum will be of particular value, both from scientific and artistic standpoints. Some already completed are groups of the Patagonians, the Eskimos and the Sioux, done by skilled artists and scientists. The sculptor Ellicott has had several of them in hand, and they present the most interesting and lifelike study of character, manners, customs and dress of the various peoples they portray. The natural history display, also under the National museum, will be excellent, while all objects illustrative of the natural resources of the country and their utilization not covered by other departments or exhibitors will be exhibited.

The living exhibit of the Six Nations, now in preparation by the bureau of ethnology, will be especially unique. Representatives of all the tribes now in the country will be brought to the exposition. The historic old council house of the Iroquois will be reproduced in bark by the Indians, who have gathered and prepared the material themselves. At the exposition they will follow the customs of their early ancestors in making weapons, tools, utensils, dolls and knickknacks. Corn will be ground in stone mortars 300 years old, and bread will be made in the crude way known to the Six Nations as they learned it in time immemorial. For the time being the Indians will discard what civilization has brought them and live in the wigwams as their ancestors lived, ready for the battle or the chase. Interpreters will be provided so that the public may talk with the Indians who do not understand English. Their various festivals will be celebrated, with the customary dances and weird ceremonials.

Under the department of agriculture there will be a museum of cereals, tobacco, animal and vegetable fibers illustrative of distribution, the effect of transplantation, of changes of soil, climate and altitude and showing departmental methods of study and treatment. All exhibits of interest and concern to those engaged in agriculture, horticulture and live stock industries will be gathered and arranged by the following bureaus: The bureau of animal industry, weather bureau, division of entomology, division of ornithology and mammalogy, botanical and horticultural divisions, divisions of forestry, chemistry, statistic and experimental stations.

The state department will illustrate the workings of the diplomatic bureau, consular bureau, bureau of statistics, bureau of accounts and a number of the other divisions of the department. An exhibit of historical archives and letters of great men will also be made under the auspices of the state department.

Among the exhibits collected by the treasury is one of a lighthouse in full operation, with models of lighthouses, showing styles of construction; a coin stamp in operation, showing the coining of money at the rate of 90,000 coins per hour; a complete collection of the coins of all nations and a set of medals struck by the mint in Philadelphia; a model of a quarantine station, illustrating the care of the government in preventing the introduction and spread of contagious diseases; models of marine hospital operating rooms, with X ray apparatus, and a model of a vessel especially constructed for deep sea sounding, showing the sounding lines and apparatus used in measuring the depth of the water. The department will also construct a life saving station upon the shore of Lake Erie, showing all modern devices, including a lifeboat and a surfboat, with captain and crew of ten men, who will give exhibitions daily, illustrating the actual operations of all the devices for saving life along our coasts.

The war department will display from its bureau of engineers maps and reports of the bureau, models of bridges, models of forts and river and harbor improvements. The ordnance department will show a historical collection of cannon and small arms, including samples of mountain, field, siege and seacoast artillery of the present days, mounted on the most improved carriages, machine and dynamite guns, with projectiles of all kinds, and many other articles used in modern warfare. From the quartermaster's department will go figures showing uniforms, equipment, sets of colors and standards from a century ago to the present time. A complete set of army hospital medical supplies, surgical instruments and apparatus, models, photographs and plans of military hospitals will be sent. The signal corps will supply exhibits showing the construction of telegraph and telephone lines, war balloons and armored trains.

All of the portraits of the attorney generals from 1789 to the present time will be sent on by the department of justice, together with photographs of other famous lawyers and judges. Documents showing important periods in the history of the United States, departmental publications and a number of old lawbooks will also be sent. One special feature of interest under this department will be the photos and views of state prisons and prisoners and the models of employment and discipline of prisoners.

The postoffice department will have a larger space at this exposition than it has ever occupied at any previous exposition in this country, 5,000 square feet. Models of all the various methods of mail transportation employed in this country and our newly acquired territories will be exhibited, and these will take up the main part of the exhibit. They will include models of domestic and international mail steamships, railway postal cars, mail wagons, pneumatic mail carriers, a model of the overland coach, a figure of the "pony express" and large models of rural collection and distributing wagons, in themselves postoffices on wheels. In addition there will be an array of stamps, envelopes and cards, domestic and foreign, with models of Cuban, Porto Rican and Filipino mail carriers as they were under Spanish rule; paintings, photographs and pictures illustrative of mail transportation in all countries, as well as a large and curious exhibit from the dead letter office and a "model office," giving a complete view of the operations of a postoffice, where mail for visitors will be received.

Under the department of the interior will be exhibits from the geological survey, with particular reference to the mineral products of the states, and from the bureau of Indian affairs demonstrating the educational work of the government among the Indians. The special feature of interest under this department will be exhibits from Alaska showing the wonderful development of gold mining, the fish, fur, oil and timber industries, as well as minerals and curious sections of formations from our national parks.

The navy department will make exhibits of models of men-of-war, including battleships, monitors, protected and unprotected cruisers, gunboats, including the dynamite gunboat Vesuvius, rams, torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers. One of the most interesting of these will be a nickel plated model of the submarine boat Holland. The victorious fleets at Santiago and Manila will be separately grouped. The visitor will be able to examine close at hand such interesting objects as rapid fire guns of numerous designs, Gatling guns, rifled cannon of various calibers, torpedoes, gun carriages, shot and shell of all kinds, models of powder used in modern naval warfare and the thousand and one equipment articles that make up the outfit of a modern man-of-war, together with the clothing of officers, sailors and marines, stores, supplies, etc. A model of a drydock in working order will be installed, giving the uninitiated an opportunity to see at a glance how the vessels are taken out of their native element for repairs to their hulls and again floated. Historical naval exhibits will be there to enlighten and amuse patrons, and the many equipment articles handled and used in the daily life of our naval heroes while in active service will be aptly shown and their uses demonstrated.

The transportation and arrangement of all these exhibits are under the board of management of the committee also charged by act of congress with their selection and purchase. A special committee was appointed by this board to arrange for exhibits from the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, Alaska, the island of Guam and our newest possessions, Tutuila and Manua. This work is well advanced, and unique and instructive exhibits of a most extensive variety will be displayed.

South Carolina Tea Doing Well.

It has been demonstrated that good tea, both green and black, can be raised in South Carolina and that when properly planted and cultivated it may be made a profitable crop, says the Atlanta Journal. Dr. Shepard sold $3,500 worth of tea from his farm at Pinehurst Gardens, S. C., in 1899, and for some he received $1 a pound. Dr. Shepard gives it as his opinion, based on experience, that good tea can be grown in his section of South Carolina for 15 cents a pound and that such tea will bring from 30 to 50 cents a pound on the market. He says an acre in tea properly attended to will bring 400 pounds. The entire expense of the crop will not be over $60 at the outside, leaving a profit of from $60 to over $100 an acre.

Governor Nash and the Prizefight.

The action of Governor Nash of Ohio in declaring his purpose to use the entire power of the state to prevent the Jeffries-Ruhlin prizefight from coming off in Cincinnati sets an example, says the Chicago Times-Herald, in executive firmness and official courage for the emulation of all the governors in the Union.

An Open Event.

While King Edward was formerly a great patron of exclusive tracks, now his solicitude, says the Philadelphia Times, will doubtless take in the English and other races as a whole.

Fate of the Lobster.

Naturalists say the lobster will soon follow the buffalo and diamond back terrapin.

QUEEN VISITS THE SICK.

How Wilhelmina Gave Joy to a Wounded Boer.

Two days before Queen Wilhelmina's wedding banns were published, says the correspondent of the New York Times at The Hague, she went the rounds of several hospitals, making long and friendly visits in the wards and giving flowers to all. At Bronovo, one of the most important hospitals, which is supported by private funds, she seemed greatly interested in and conversed with many of the patients. For several months a young Boer has been treated in the hospital for an ailment contracted in South Africa. He was most anxious to see the queen, who was greatly interested in him and inquired how he was feeling. Instantly the reply came:

"Now that I have seen you, I feel much better, your majesty."

An amusing scene took place in the room of an old man from Brabant. The doctor found him in great glee after the queen had been there and said to him:

"What makes you so happy?"

"Oh, her majesty has just been here."

"What did she say to you?"

"She thanked me."

"For what?"

"Why, I congratulated her upon her approaching marriage, of course."

The queen went through all the rooms at Bronovo, which are mostly private, and visited the laboratory, toward which she contributed a handsome check last year. To all the children in the hospital she gave presents of dolls and other toys.

The fact that five cinematograph exhibitions were a feature of the popular entertainments on the eve of the wedding day reminds me of an amusing incident. During the various entertainments given after the queen's engagement and while her majesty and her fiance were on a visit to their royal relatives in Germany cinematograph pictures were taken. These have been shown here, and to the surprise of the simple Hollanders, Hertog Hendrick is seen boldly stepping out walking in advance of the queen. As the Hollanders have not been greatly impressed with Hertog Hendrick's ease and eloquence of manner on the few occasions he has appeared in public here, they have made a mental note of this revelation of the cinematograph.

WONDERFUL DE WET.

Some Brilliant Feats of the Noted Boer General.

De Wet has added to his extraordinary record of surprises and captures of British troops by the Moddersfontein affair on Jan. 30, in which he took 200 prisoners. When the complete history of this war comes to be written, this extraordinary leader, whose name was not much heard at its opening, seems likely to occupy the largest place on the Boer side of it, says the New York World. And he will figure most conspicuously as a master of the art of surprising the enemy by utterly demoralizing him, taking his men prisoners by wholesale.

The brilliant affair at Sanna's Post March 31, 1900, where Colonel Broadwood's column of 1,500 men was caught in the toils in the deep cut of the Koorn spruit and 426 of its men captured, was De Wet's work. At Reddersburg a few days later he took 405 British prisoners. At Lindley on May 31 the Thirteenth battalion of the British yeomanry, a picked body, including the Duke of Cambridge's Own, was surrounded and bagged—again by De Wet. It was De Wet, too, that gobbled up the great British convoy at Rhenaster on June 4, with its 53 wagon loads of supplies and its guard of 160 men. This he followed with a still more astonishing feat at the Doorn spruit, near Roodeval, on June 6, where he drew 500 British troops into a position that obliged them to surrender and took all the stores which had been accumulated there for weeks for Lord Roberts' army. And again at Dewetsdorp on Nov. 26 he bagged 450 prisoners, two guns and a large quantity of supplies.

First and last this wonderful commander, operating with a force that has never been more than a few thousand of mounted farmers with rifles, has made prisoners of some 4,000 British soldiers, including many of the pick of the regular army. But his recent success at Moddersfontein was without result, like all his taking of prisoners for a long time past. He was obliged to release them, having no protected base of operations to which he could send them for safe keeping.

The Newest Sticks In London.

A correspondent of the London News, who has had a chat with a walking stick maker, whose works he inspected, writes: "It will surprise many people to know that a single firm can busily employ hundreds of men making walking sticks, the majority of which retail at from 1 to 3 guineas each. It will cause greater surprise to learn—and it is equally true—that many young men about town use a different stick with every change of outdoor attire, the harmony of color being the principle governing the habit. New shapes, not only of handles, but of the sticks, are now in vogue. There is now a special demand for the latest novelty in this line—sticks cleverly filed to triangular, square and hexagonal shapes."

Sweden Fears Russia.

To what extent Russian policy has influenced the imagination of Swedish people may be gathered from the fact that in Sundsvall, on the east coast of Sweden, the inhabitants have formed a committee for the purpose of collecting means to defray the cost of erecting forts in and around the town and particularly to create a defense against the attack from the sea, says the London Express. The expenses are placed at £50,000.

Women Remember This Fact

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are communicating with a woman—a woman whose experience in treating woman's ills is greater than that of any living person—male or female.

A woman can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate her private troubles to a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they should have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examination of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman, whose knowledge from actual experience is unequaled.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to freely communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only.

This is a positive fact—not a mere statement. It is certified to by the mayor and postmaster of Lynn and the Women's Christian Temperance Union, whose letters, all in a little book, Mrs. Pinkham has just published. Thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken and has induced more than 100,000 sufferers to write her for advice during the last few months.

Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Here is one of the cases we refer to:

Miss Collier Writes for Mrs. Pinkham's Advice, Receives it, and is Made Well. Read Her Three Letters:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have read in a paper of a young lady who was cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and would like your advice in regard to my case. I have taken medicine, but do not see that it has helped me much. I have such dreadful cramps and pains at time of menstruation that it seems sometimes as though I could hardly stand it. I would be so thankful if I could find a cure for my trouble. Please tell me what to do."—MISS LILLIE M. COLLIER, Pigeon Run, Ohio, April 9, 1898.

"I received your letter in reply to mine and I followed your kind advice; have taken four bottles of your Vegetable Compound. I think it has helped me a good deal. How many bottles will effect a cure?"—MISS LILLIE M. COLLIER, Pigeon Run, Ohio, July 11, 1898.

"I again did as you advised me and now I feel it my duty to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For five years I suffered untold agonies at time of menstruation. I have now taken twelve bottles of Compound and used three boxes of Liver Pills and am entirely cured of the dreadful pain I used to suffer. I advise all those who suffer with female weakness to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass."—MISS LILLIE M. COLLIER, Pigeon Run, Ohio, May 10, 1899.

Two More Women Who Acknowledge the Help They Have Received from Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—The doctor says I have congestion of the womb, and cannot help me. There is aching in the right side of abdomen, hip, leg, and back. If you can do me any good, please write."—MRS. NINA CHASE, Fulton, N. Y., December 20, 1897.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I followed your instructions, and now I want every woman suffering from female trouble to know how good your advice and medicine is. The doctor advised an operation. I could not bear to think of that, so followed your advice. I got better right off. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used three packages of Sanative Wash; also took your Liver Pills, and am cured."—MRS. NINA CHASE, Fulton, N. Y., December 12, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Have been suffering for over a year and had three doctors. At time of menstruation I suffer terrible pains in back and ovaries. I have headache nearly every day, and feel tired all the time. The doctor said my womb was out of place. Would be so glad if you could help me."—MRS. CARL VOSS, Sac City, Iowa, August 1, 1898.

"Please accept my sincere thanks for the good your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I did everything you told me to do, and used only three bottles, and feel better in every respect."—MRS. CARL VOSS, Sac City, Iowa, March 23, 1899.

Mrs. Pinkham has Fifty Thousand Such Letters as Above on File at Her Office—She Makes No Statements She Cannot Prove.

CITY AND VICINITY

—School tablets at the Journal office.

—George Ralph is talking farm lands to Hallock parties today.

—Elias Steenersou will loan money on improved farms ot low rates. tf

—Jos. Rosnoen, the Fisher bonker, drifted io from that village this morning.

—At the U. S. land office today six homestead oud four final proof ootries were filed.

—Robt. Gnnness, of Keystone, visited the Queen City today, and registered at the Paloce.

—R. Sullivan, of Warren, came down to shake hands with his Crookstou friends yesterday.

—Peter Brachoan, one of the prominent farmers of Thief River Falls, is over today oo business.

—The Congregational Ladies' Aid Society met this afternoou with Mrs. Finlayson, of Houston avenue.

—Do you wish to renew your loan or take np bolonce on your contract for deed. Ole Teigen, Crookston.

—Chos. Greenhalgh and wife, who reside in Jerome's addition will celebrate their silver wedding Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.

—Gus Schmidt is todoy stringing o whole lot of porcelain letters on the office windows of Attorneys Steenerson & Loring.

—Messrs. Espe and Puff, the foundry men, have the contract for the mannacture of n new windstacker for North Dakota parties.

—Little Chase Mix is giving o Volentine party to a number of his playmates and young friends at his home this afternoon.

—Attorney Steenerson is over at Red Lake Falls attending district court. He is retained in a number of cases that come up at the present term.

—John H. Boyd: I have been trying for several weeks to rent a house in Crookston, but the only one I can get is just this side of Fergus Falls.

—Mrs. Fred Warnecke, wife of the Marin politician and statesman, returned home from Minneapolis after two weeks' absence, and Fred is all smiles [illegible]

—Frank Gaetke and John Merkens, two of Norman county's wealthy tillers of the soil, are in Crookston today on business. They will return home this evening.

—After the regular services of the Salvation Army last evening, the members in a body paid their comrade soldier, Jacob Francis, a most pleasnnt surprise.

—A number of the prominent business men on South Broadway, together with four or five traveling men, formed n social party last evening at the Grand Central, and report a jolly good time.

—Mr. Jacob Andrist today received the sad intelligence of the death of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Andrist, at Mentorville, Minn. The deceased leaves seven sons, all of whom are grown to manhood. She was 83 years old.

—This is St. Valentine's day, and the general observation of the "compliments of the season" have kept the postoffice force bumping all day, and the mail carriers had more than their usual packages of mail matter for distribution.

WANTED—To Exchange for Land good, clean stock of hardware — invoicing about $4000.—Good, profitable business — in good town of 3000. owner desires change of climate is cause for selling. Here is a splendid business chance. Speculators or land agents need not apply. P.O. Box 698 Blue Earth, Minn.

—Geo. Merritt, recently appointed traveling freight agent of the Northern Pacific, succeeds Ed. Dalzell in that position, and made Crookston his first official call today. Mr. Merritt is one of the best known amoug the railroad men in the northwest, having for many years been employed as ticket agent at Moorhead.

—That advertising pays when done in The Journal goes without further dispute. Yesterday afternoon a leading business man of the city lost his pocket book containing a sum of money, and some valuable papers. Upon discovering his loss he stepped into The Journal office and advertised the fact. While he wrote the note a telephone message reached the office telling of the find. Billy Davis had found the purse and wanted to reach the owner—and he did.

A Valuable Package.

Mayor Campbell received this morning, by registered mail, from his brother Victor F. Campbell of Goldenville, Wash., copies of the Nome Gold Digger, Nome Daily News and Nome Daily Chronicle. They are probably the most expensive papers published onywhere on the globe, the price being 25 cents per issue. The papers are made entirely of local matter, and business was evidently rushing in that locality at the time. One of the papers contains a cartoon showing wreckers at work after the big storms of last August and in commenting on it deplores the fact that such work should be allowed to be carried on, saying that some of the wreckers at the time performed the only labor they had undertaken since arriving in the city. There was evidently as much lawlessness present as in the old gold mining camps of California.

MOORHEAD SCANDAL.

Police Will Ferret Out and More Arrests Are Looked For.

Tho Moorhead police are still at work ferreting out the persons concerned in the case of tho three little girls of Moorhead, and it is said other arrests may follow as n result of their investigations. A man who has been associated with Theo. Larson, arrested a few days ogo, is also soid to have been implicated by the girls in the affair. The fellow claimed to be sick with grip on Sunday night, and remained in his room. Since then he has not been seen, and it is presumed that he took occasion to shake the dust of Moorhead from his feet that night. Another man said to be on the anxious seat is a Moorhead business man—in o small way—and as he is under police surveillance it is not likely he will escape in event it is finally determined to look him up. A third man is said to live in Fargo, and it is alleged was in the hotel at the time the girls were orrested.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

William Barry, The Cavalier Cold Blooded Murderer, Says No.

Judge Templeton returned last evening from Langdon where he went to attend the arraignment of William Barry who is charged with the murder of Andrew Mellen in January. Barry entered n pleo of not guilty but was given a few doys in which to change his plea or enter a demurrer to the indictment.

Judge Templeton stated that the confinement was showing on Barry. He is a large man and has been accustomed to active outdoor life, while the confinement naturally chafes him considerably. The report that he had received word of the death of his mother in Ontario is denied, no such word having reached there.

Mede an Assignment.

Jos. Hollnu, of Thief River Falls, who has been conducting a merchandise business at that place for several years past, is in the city today and filed a petition with Referee Ole J. Vaule, praying to be declared an insolvent. Hollan gives his liabilities at $971.99, aod his assets at $877.22. The first meeting of the creditors of the petitioner will be held before Referee Vaule at the latter's office on February 28.

They Didn't Go.

The race between Dan McKinnon's Queen Angus and Ed. Sullivon's Oktara, which was announced to be for $50 a side, and to come off on the ice track this afternoon, foiled to materialize, owing partly to the fact that tomorrow afternoon the regular matinee will take place, and that this race will add materially to getting up an interesting program. However true this reason for postponing the race may oppear, some horsemen and others who went down on the ice to see the sport, claim that it was put off because the liveryman who stables Oktara forgot all about the race and fed the horse too much hay this morning. Whether this is true or not The Journal is not inclined to criticise the merits of the different horses. Tomorrow, it is expected, both horses will be in trim to have a good race.

The program for the matinee, which begins at 2:30 p. m., promises to be a fine one, as all of the fast horses of the city are expected to turn out. Several purses have been hung up, and if Bert Andersou's "Sleepy Jim" don't come in for one of them, our sporting editor misses his guess.

Canada's Expenses.

Ottawa, Ont.—The estimates for the Dominion for the year ending June 20, 1902, have just been made. The total wanted on consolidated fund or ordinary expenditures is $44,102,323, or $2,750,720 less than for the current year. On capital account there is $6,296,500 wanted, $3,953,541 less than in 1901.

New York, Feb. 13.—Mrs. Thomas C. Platt died early today at the apartments in the Fifth Avenue hotel. Senator Platt with his three sons and their wives were at the bedside.

Sousa is fast becoming an absolute necessity to all expositions, international or local. In addition to the Paris exposition of last summer, where Sousa was the realy great success of the show, his famous band has officiated at the Chicago World's Fair, the California Mid-Winter Fair, the St. Louis and Pittsburg Expositions, the Cotton States Exposition at Atlanta, and the Export Exposition at Philadelphia. Sousa has now contracted to take his musicians to Scotland next year and play four weeks at the International Exposition of 1901, at Glasgow. After this engagement he will make an extended tour of Great Britain and Ireland. He has also been engoged for the month of June at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. The regular winter season of the Sousa band will open Jan. 3. and will include 160 different cities in this country in 17 weeks, and an early concert in Crookston is announced. Sousa will have musical novelties this season and has engoged two charming young lady soloists to accompany the band on tour.

—Typewriter paper at the Journal office.

STUDY OF MRS. NATION.

She Believes She's Led by a Divine Hand.

NOTHING FANATIC ABOUT HER.

Kansas "Joint" Smasher Is a Motherly Looking Woman, With a Wholesome, Jolly Face, and Talks With a Southern Drawl—Her Advice to School Children.

To arrive in Topeka is to be caught up in the midst of the strangest and most temperate temperance movement the world has ever seen, writes Dorothy Dix in the New York Journal.

Mrs. Carrie Nation has begun it with her little hatchet, and her exomple has swept like o prairie fire from town to town until the sound of shivering bar fixtures rings from one end of the state to the other, and old timers freely predict that Kansas is to be swept by o cyclone of temperance that will make the famous St. John movement of a few yeors ago seem as innocent as a summer zephyr.

On one side are the elementary human thirst thot refuses to be quenched by legislation or slaked by statutes and the Kansas prohibition law, openly selling itself in the market place. On the other is a vast body of women who see nothing but death and destruction in the wineglass and who ore ready to fight like tigresses to protect their children from it.

Already, it is claimed, several hundred women in Topeka alone have enrolled themselves in o sisterhood that has for its object the abolition of this speak easy saloon—peaceably, if it can be done; forcibly, if it must. Dominating the same is a fot, elderly, motherly woman, Mrs. Carrie Notion, the joint smasher, a modern Joan of Arc, who hears voices and sees visions and believes, like the maid of France, that she is led by the hand of God.

Mrs. Nation, so far os appearances go, is the last person on earth you would think the leader of n great crusade. There is nothing of the strained intensity of the fanatic about her. There is none of the somber gleam in her eyes of one who has brooded on wrongs until the mind has become unhinged.

She is sane, wholesome, healthy, with a jolly face that heaps into good natured wrinkles when she laughs and lose themselves in a comfortable double chin.

With clear, bright hazel eyes, a straight mouth, abundant dark hair slightly streaked with gray, and wearing a plain, black cashmere dress, rather worn and shabby and badly made by o country dressmaker, a white linen tie with embroidered ends about her throat and n black bag such as any old lady might use—such is Mrs. Nation. She talks with a soft southern drawl and is altogether the mildest mannered woman that ever storted on the warpath.

Today had been rather an off one in her strenuous life, but she oppeored in court to answer the charge of "joint smashing" and gave Chief of Police Stahl a dig by saying she would not have to be there answering such n charge if he had any backbone.

"The police tell me to go ahead ond stop the liquor traffic," she said, "and I tell them, 'If you want me to do your work, give me your star and your salory.'"

This afternoon she addressed the school children and advised them to carry rocks and smash oll the "joints." Afterward she went to the capitol and at the close of the session in the senote mode a little speech. One of the amusing incidents of her visit to the senate chamber was an argument she got into with Colonel Ed H. Smith, n prominent politician and who, though a prohibitionist, believes in submitting the prohibition question again to a vote of the state.

"A resubmission is the subject," cried Mrs. Nation. "'Is the' means the man in Kansas, and I would as soon submit the question to the devil. I say to you and soy it to aoy man with my hatchet against his head: I'd smash him; I'd lash him; I'd hatchet him! If you are a resubmissionist, you are as good a friend as the devil wants."

"Don't deal in personalities," pleaded Colonel Smith.

"I will," Mrs. Nation went on. "I never deal in generalities. They scatter too much. It is you resubmissionists who have entered into a conspiracy against the few and have forced women to go out and execute the laws.

"I've got no more respect for a resubmissionist than I have for the devil. We will hatchet you; we will cowhide you. For what do the Scriptures say? 'Rebuke the devil, and he will flee.'"

"I am not the devil, and I have not fled," retorted Colonel Smith. And Mrs. Notion retired victorious from the senate amid n storm of applause from Colonel Smith's friends.

The Future of the Automobile.

A writer in Automobile Topics says that the automobile today is just about where railroading was at the beginning of the last century or where bicycling was 20 years ago. Give the American mechanic five years more, and he will produce a machine that will be the surprise and envy of the world. There are more bright minds in America concentrating their thoughts and best efforts on the problem than on any other in the line of mechanics. Can we doubt the result? To do so would be to disregard all mechanical history of the past.

Waiting For the End of the War.

It is estimated, according to The South African News, that the number of passengers booked for South Africa as soon as the war ends by the various steamship lines is 40,000.

The New York Store

THE MAMMOTH DEPARTMENT STORE

We are going to try and break a record and at the dullest time of the year.

Here is the Story Briefly.

BIG REDUCTION IN OVERSHOES		MEN'S CAPS
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.00, now	75c	Men's Caps worth 50c, now	40c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.25, now	95c	Men's Caps worth 75c, now	65c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.50, now	$1 15	Men's Caps worth $1.00, now	75c
Overshoes—Men's and Ladies'—worth $1.75, now	$1 35	Men's Caps worth $1.25, now	95c

TWO LOTS OF SHOES

Lot 1 we start with	69c	Lot 2 we start with	59c

Ladies' all Felt, Fur Top Juliets in quilted silk, plain and plaid 99c

Big Reduction on Dress Goods, Ladies' Shirt Waists, Silk and Flannel. Ladies' Jackets, Cloaks, Capes, Fur Coats, etc., at about Half Price.

"WELL BEGUN IS HALF DONE."

COME AND SAVE MONEY.

A. CHABOT.

Sole Agent for Standard Patterns.

THE DEWET LETTER.

Its Genuineness Doubted by Boer Representatives in this Country.

New York, Feb. 12.—Charles D. Pierce, the Orange Free State consul general, has given out a statement by W. D. Snyman, commandant on Gen. Christian Dewet's staff, in reply to a published letter purporting to have been written to Gen. Dewet by his brother, Piet Dewet. This letter urged Gen. Dewet to surrender to the British forces. Commandant Sayman says:

"I notice that the British censor is very ready to transmit this letter almost in its entirety, although any news favorable to the Boers is very rigidly curtailed. Next let us consider the relationship between the brothers. P. Dewet was assistant commandant general of the Orange Free State and took part in numerous battles. It was at Sand River, when outflanked by Gen. French, that Gen. Dewet gave instructions for us to leave our positions and fall back on Kroonstad; when P. Dewet and I rode from the general, to carry out the orders to start the convoys with guns and ammunition, I then gathered from him (P. Dewet) that he was against proceeding any further than Kroonstad; and instead of going to the appointed place be branched off with his commando to his farm near Lindley, which was the last time I saw him.

"We were then ordered to concentrate our forces at Rooi kopjes and naturally P. Dewet received similar instructions; we heard rumors that he was communicating with Lord Roberts to surrender, rumors which were reported by his burghers. Gea. Dewet then ordered his brother to come to the front at once, and on his refusal dismissed him and appointed Commandant Rouse in his place. P. Dewet then with his staff, four in all, went to Kroonstad and surrendered.

"We then heard that he was sent as a prisoner to Durban. Now, to my surprise I learn that he is a peace commissioner to Lord Kitchener. Does it not seem strange that now, when Kitchener is proposing to send the prisoners to India, a man like P. Dewet, who has held a high position among the Boers, should be used as a peace envoy to help the British unless some consideration has been promised?

"It also seems strange that P. Dewet should now advise surrender, considering that he was the first to cross into the Cape Colony, and persuade the colonists to join their brothers and leave that 'responsible' government which he now advocates for the republicans.

"This letter also says let us educate our children;' here I would like to remind you that the Orange Free State, with its free compulsory education for the last 15 years, is far in advance of Cape Colony, which has still the voluntary system.

"The letter goes on to say that the British have the country and are not likely to give it up; it does not seem so when Lord Kitcheaer has to cable for 30,000 more troops. After all what parts of the two countries do the British actually hold? Only the principal towns along the railroad. As to thet aunts in regard to the inactivity of the Transvaal burghers, why if Botha aad his commandoes are doing no fighting, is Kitchener keepiag 60,0000 soldiers at Pretoria?

"I am inclined to think that this letter, like the book of Paul Botha, is of British manufacture."

"Knowing my people as I do, I say that it does not lie in the power of President Steyn, Gen. De Wet, or any other person to surrender unconditionally; this is a war fought by the people, not by generals and presidents, and can never be ended except by consent of the burghers. Under present circumstances why should the burghers give up? They have lost everything, all they can now gain is their country and freedom, for which they are fighting and will fight to the end.'

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

An East Grand Forks Teamster Had Exciting Runaway.

A serious runaway occured on Third street yesterday and it was little less than a miracle that the driver was not badly hurt. The team belongs to George Barlow of East Grand Forks and was hitched to a water tank which was being filled at the city hall for use at his hotel. The team became frightened when in front of the city hall and started at a hot pace north on Third street, making the turn so suddenly that the tank was thrown from the wagon and the latter upset. The driver was thrown to the ground at the same time, but luckily he did not fall beneath the tank else he would have been seriously if not fatally hurt. The tank was badly smashed as was the wagon. The team was caught near the North Dakota Surgical Institute, neither of the animals being hurt. The driver had one of his thumbs badly sprained, but considered himself most fortunate that he did not give the undertaker a job.—Plaindealer.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother ood grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and thot is all they took when feeling dull and bad with head aches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by F. H. Hillard & Son.

The Popular Buffalo Route,

this summer on account of the 1901 Pan-American Exposition will be the Nickel Plate Road. Countless thousands will visit this one of the greatest expositions of modern times. The Nickel Plote road will be the popular line. The excellence of its service is well recognized by the traveling public, and the reputation of its train employes in their uniform courtesy to passengers is well known. When you go east see that your ticket reads via the Nickel Plate Road. Write, wire, 'phone or call on John Y. Calahan General Agent, 111 Adams St., Chicago, Ill. 2

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of an execution, issued out of and under the Seal of the District Court, in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, upon a judgement rendered and docketed in said Court, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1896, in an action wherein Standard Paper Co. is plaintiff, and H. Johnson defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of $284.18, and on which there is now due the sum of $83.35, and interest thereon from Aug. 15, 1900, which said judgment was duly assigned by said Standard Paper Co. to E. A. Webster, by an instrument in writing, dated Dec. 6, 1898, and duly filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court, in Polk county, Minnesota, by which said judgment was duly assigned by an instrument dated July 26, 1899, by E. A. Webster, to J. P. Foote and duly filed in the office of the Clerk of Court in and for said county and state, which execution was directed and delivered to me as sheriff in and for the said County of Polk, I have this 11th day of February, A. D. 1901, levied upon all the right, title and interest of said defendant, H. Johnson, in and to the following described real property situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

Lots number 29 and 30, block number 15, in Jerome's Addition to the City of Crookston, County of Polk and State of Minnesota.

Notice is hereby given, that I, the undersigned, as sheriff as aforesaid, will sell the above described real property to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the front door of the court house, in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on TUESDAY, THE 24 DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day, to satisfy the said execution together with the interest and costs thereon.

Dated Feb. 11, A. D. 1901.

E. J. SULLIVAN,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minnesota.
By Louis Gonyea, Deputy.

2,500 COLONISTS

Will Arrive in the Red River Valley from Norway in the Spring.

ABOUT 16,000 ACRES OF LAND

Have Already Been Purchased by St. Paul Representatives--$6,000,000 in Deal.

This morning's Herald says:

For some time past an immigration company of Minneapolis has had a number of men in the Red River Valley buying up an immense amount of land for a colony that will arrive from Norway in the spring. Six men have been thus employed, and one has had headquarters in this city for some time past. Yesterday this party practically completed arrangements for the purchase of 16,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Arvilla, and the transfer will be made in a few days. This makes a total of 240 quarter sections that have been bought within the past 90 days. It is the policy of the immigration company to purchase only the cheaper lands, and a great deal of it is alkali. Lands that are overrun with mustard and other foul weeds are being bought for about $800 per quarter, the idea being that by a year or two of hard work the land can be redeemed and at least doubled in value.

The colony will consist of 500 heads of families and will arrive at Norfolk, Va., early in the spring. The company is investing about $6,000,000 in the deal which is one of the biggest of the kind in the history of the valley and will result in a heavy immigration to the valley. The land that is being bought is scattered all over this section of the country, but several quarters are bought in the same vicinity, so the new comers will be located in groups.

Agents have been in the old country for months past looking up desirable immigrants and it is said that the entire 500 heads of families that are coming are substantial farmers and all of them are well to do. Those who are married will send for their families later in the season after they have been located and erected buildings on their farms. This will probably be the largest bunch of settlers that will be brought to the northwest this season, and as far as known is the only colony that is coming. The greater number of new comers this year will come from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and adjacent states, and as has been stated before the valley counties both in this state and in Minnesota will receive a much larger per cent of the settlers this year than for a number of years past when the western part of this state has received almost the entire number of new comers.

In the course of a few weeks these settlers will begin to arrive, and when it is considered that the most of them will have to buy complete outfits, their coming will bring an immense amount of business in all lines, and the merchants, lumber dealers, machinery houses, and horse dealers will all get a share of it.

There is one feature in connection with the colony that will arrive from Norway that is of very great importance, and that is the fact that they will settle upon lands in the main that have heretofore been uncultivated. Heretofore none but the best of the valley lands have been worked and in nearly every community there are a number of quarter sections that have been lying idle because they contained some alkali spots, or were not well drained. These tracts will nearly all be cultivated in the future, and in the most of cases they can be made to pay with the expenditure of far less labor and money than many of the farms that the immigrants have been living on in the past, and can be secured now for a very low figure. The fact that many farms that have been allowed to run down and become infested with all manner of noxious weeds are being purchased for the new comers who are planning on making a business of ridding them of the pests is also important, as it will result in more or less of a general awakening among the farmers here to the necessity of keeping the farms free of weeds, and more of an effort to enforce the noxious weed laws which heretofore have been more or less of a dead letter in the majority of communities.

SOUTH AFRICAN NEWS.

Sir Alfred Milnor's Policy Is Approved of by Lord Chamberlain.

Cape Town, Feb. 11.—Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, addressed a communication to Sir Alfred Milnor approving the remarks made by Sir Alfred in his reply to the Afrikander deputation sent to him by the Afrikander congress at Worcester with resolutions addressed to Queen Victoria.

"The government has no intention," says the colonial secretary, "of injuring the policy which it has repeatedly declared and which has been approved overwhelmingly by the empire."

The military authorities here have been authorized by Mr. Chamberlain to destroy great quantities of hay lying near the docks which has become infested with rats.

London, Feb. 11.—"Sensational developments are pending here," says the Pietermaritzburg correspondent of the Daily Mail. "There has been prompt removals of military stores and prominent merchants and residents are evacuating. Several arrests have been made along the railway line."

Cape Town, Feb. 11.—The government has decided to give notice to foreign nations of the fact that Cape Town is infected with the bubonic plague. There is no longer any doubt as to the nature of the disease. Another native died of the disease, three additional cases are announced and 50 persons who have been in contact with plague victims have been isolated. A temporary military hospital is being erected.

At the North Dakota Capital.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 11.—At his request Dr. Taylor's bill defining the practice of medicine was recalled from the house owing to some misunderstanding as to its provisions regarding osteopathy and kindred cures. The senate reconsidered the bill and the subject will be thoroughly discussed. Mrs. Delendrecie and Manager Shields are here.

McKenzie's friends here are astounded over the report of his sentence for contempt of court at San Francisco.

About 100 editors are here to attend the meeting of the State Press association.

The bill for additional veterinarian districts passed both houses. Wolbert has introduced a bill taxing telephone, express, telegraph, equipment and freight lines.

Not Up To Expectations.

Muscatine, Ia., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Nation arrived here at noon today and was met at the train by 4,000 people. A squad of police were on hand at her request to escort her to the hotel. The crowd, however, was peaceable and quiet and evidently turned out through curiosity, for less than 500 people attended her meeting at the Grand opera house tonight.

After the meeting closed and the receipts of the evening were counted the financial manager of Mrs. Nation dissolved partnership with her and with four of six women who came her with he made arrangements to return home. He said:

"My management of Mrs. Nation ends here. I return to Topeka tonight and four of the six women go with me. I have now closed up and I am absolutely free. The women will return to their homes and Mrs. Nation, I understand, will proceed to Chicago."

Mrs. Nation says: "I am in the hands of the Lord and will leave for Chicago tomorrow morning at 10:30. I will not smash any saloons here tomorrow, although I will call on four or five places in the morning. I did no smashing in Iowa or any other state but Kansas. I will organize a band which will smash all of the saloons in the world, the United States first, Europe next."

IN the United States Senate.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Shortly after the senate convened today the naval appropriation bill was passed. The shipping bill was then taken up and kept before the senate during the remainder of the legislative day. Caffery, Louisiana, occupied the floor throughout the session. The opposition senators made the point of no quorum several times and demanded a call of the senate. Finally this drew out a warning from Frye, the chairman of the committee on commerce, that if the senators desired the river and harbor bill to be reported at this session they had better not interrupt the committee having the measure under consideration. Even after that there was one call of the senate.

Caffery had not concluded his speech when after having spoken for nearly six hours he yielded the floor for executive session.

Stillwater, Minn., Feb. 8.—At a meeting of the state prison board yesterday the office of warden was declared vacant, Gen. Reeve declining to resign. Henry Wolfer, the former warden, was chosen to fill the vacancy. Gen. and Mrs. Reeve have planned to make a trip to Europe early in March. He preferred to be removed to resigning.

Spectator St. Hilaire: Fred Shaw of Crookston, ex-game warden for Polk and Red Lake counties, was here the first of the week, and if some of the nimrods in this county knew how close they were trailed last August, they would think twice before violating the game laws in the future.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with head aches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by F. H. Hillard & Son.

McKENZIE IS JAILED

The Cape Nome Mining Scandal Has Reached the Dramatic Stage--Noyes Censured.

A SEVERE CONDEMNATION.

Has No Parallel in the Jurisprudence of this Country, Say the Judges.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 11.—In the contempt proceedings against Alexander McKenzie of Nome City, in the United States circuit court of appeals today, McKenzie was sentenced to serve one year's imprisonment on two counts and Judge Noyes, who appointed McKenzie to his office, was severely censured by the court for alleged complicity in the scandal.

The decision was rendered by Judges Ross, Gilbert and Morrow in the cases of John Tornazes versus L. F. Melsing et al, and Wm. Algmon vs. Henry Rogers.

These are two of the cases in which McKenzie declined to obey the writ of supercedas issued by Judge Morrow directing him as receiver to turn over money and gold dust in his possession to the owner. Much testimony has been heard in the cases and they have been pending before the United States courts for months.

The evidence tended to prove that a conspiracy existed between the officials of Nome to secure claims.

Mr. McKenzie claimed he was not guilty of contempt, because all the papers issued by Judge Morrow had not been filed at the district court at Nome at the time he was there.

His attorney, ex-Congressman Thos. Geary, urged that the United States court of appeals did not secure jurisdiction until the original orders were filed. Another important contention of McKenzie is that he acted on the advice of his attorney in not obeying the order of the court. Mr. Geary told him the order was void.

In the opinion read by Judge Ross, the court holds that the filing of citations in the district court of Nome was sufficient to give the court of appeals jurisdiction, but in proper cases may be considered in mitigation of the offense. At this point in the decision the court refers to the acts of Judge Noyes and the manner in which affairs were conducted at Nome. It says:

> The circumstances attending the appointment of a receiver in these cases, however, and his conduct after as well as before the appointment as shown by the record and evidence so far from impressing us with the sincerity of the pretension that his refusal to obey the writs issued out of this court, was based upon the advice of his counsel that they were void, satisfies us that it was intentional and deliberate and in furtherance of high handed and grossly illegal proceedings initiated almost as soon as Judge Noyes and McKenzie had set foot on Alaskan territory at Nome and which may be sagely and fortunately said to have no parallel in the jurisprudance of this country.

And it speaks well for the good, sober sense of the people gathered on that remote and barren shore that they depended solely upon the courts for the correction of the wrongs thus perpetrated among and against them which always may be depended upon to right, sooner or later, wrongs properly brought before them. And it is well in these days of rapid extension of our national domain, for all persons, whether residing in remote regions or nearer home, to remember that courts which respect themselves and have adequate regard for the administration of justice and maintenance of law and order, will never tolerate any disobedience of their lawful orders, or writs of judgments whenever committed within their jurisdiction. It is inherent in the nature of judicial authority, said the supreme court of Florida, in the case of state vs. Johnson, Supra, "that every court may protect and maintain its jurisdiction under the law and that it shall protect itself against all attempts to resist or thwart or overthrow its authority." Judge Ross closed by ordering that McKenzie be confined in the San Francisco county jail for six months on each charge, one term to succeed the other. McKenzie was in court and appeared very much surprised at the sentence imposed.

He was immediately taken into custody by Marshal Chinn.

Judge Geary requested the judges to allow McKenzie to go to Alameda county jail instead of the local institution and permission was granted. Geary stated he had not determined regarding an appeal.

JOINT KEEPERS WARNED.

Citizens of Topeka Issue an Ultimatum and the Town is Dry.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 11.—All the joints of the city are closed tonight. The citizens made the preliminary peremptory order that the saloons be discontinued by noon today and as far as is known the order was obeyed. Early this morning Chief of Police Stahl with some of his officers made the rounds of the joints and notified the keepers to close at once.

They were in each case presented with a printed copy of the "Citizens' Ultimatum" and commanded in the interest of law and good order to close at once. Stahl told the joints that there was an army of a thousand men waiting to march on a minute's notice to close the joints of the city and that they were of a class that would not be frightened out of performing their duty as they interpreted it. Notices were slipped in under the doors of the closed places. In only one place did the officers find any liquor sold and this place agreed to close at once.

Tonight Topeka is particularly a dry town so far as joints are concerned. Some of the drug stores are said to be doing a thriving business, but the condition is much different from a week ago. There were about 80 joints running openly, all of which were equipped with the finest fixtures. The citizens' committee has made all the necessary arrangements for enforcement of the ultimatum regarding joints, and will insist that the order be carried out to the letter and that every drinking place be closed and fixtures removed from the city by next Friday noon. The condition of public sentiment in Topeka tonight is something remarkable. There has never been anything here approaching it. The vigilance committee is ready to move on very short notice.

DUKE OF MILAN DEAD.

Was Ill Only a Short Time--Expired Yesterday at Vienna.

Vienna, Feb. 11.—The Duke of Milan died here today. His illness began as influenza. Milan left his bed too quickly and the result was pneumonia. The doctors also found fatty degeneration of the heart, which was the actual cause of death as the danger arising from lung trouble had been overcome. Fearing a fatal termination, the doctors caused messages to be sent to King Alexander and former Queen Natalie, but although Milan desired to see them and himself sent messages, desiring their presence, neither come. Natalie's reply was to the effect that she would come if her presence was really desired, reaching him just before death.

Emperor Francis Joseph, who sent an aide de camp to the death bed, has ordered a military funeral, as Milan was formerly the colonel of an Austrian regiment. It was Milan's written request that he should be buried at Syrmio. He said he had been greatly disappointed at the absence of his son, whose ingratitude has provoked much comment in Vienna. According to the Neue Freie Presse he said to his physician:

"I feel that I must die, but it is very sad to be compelled to die at 47."

Belgrade, Servia, Feb. 11.—King Alexander, who was at Nish when he received the news of the death of his father, immediately summoned the members of the cabinet to meet at Keonsk, where he communicated the information. The king and queen left Nish this afternoon for Belgrade, not going to Vienna. The remains will be brought here.

Woman in Hamilton Case.

Minneapolis, Feb. 11.—There were several features today in the trial of Frank H. Hamilton for the murder of Leonard Day. The sensational fact has been revealed that no one yet has testified to seeing a blow struck during the scuffle that ended in Day's death. Force and George were recalled and each denied positively that he had struck or cut Day.

Miss Slagel, the young woman about whom Hamilton and Day quarrelled, was also a witness today. She declined to make any statement which would incriminate herself and was excused.

It transpires that Mr. Barber, a St. Louis traveling man, who witnessed the affray, declined to answer to the summons to appear and testify and counsel for the prisoner said today they did not care to try the case until Mr. Barber appeared. J. T. Gray, a boarder at the West hotel, also gave evidence, but on cross examination made statements that contradicted nearly every previous witness. He said only Hamilton and Bennett were by Day's side when he died, and that death came before any doctor had entered. The court room is crowded daily, many ladies being in attendance.

A SHREWD MOVE.

The Smallpox Scare a Great Boon To Lumbermen.

Several men who have recently returned from the woods in the vicinity of Bemidji and Cass Lake claim that not a single case of small pox exists in the lumbering camps there and that there has been none. Help has been unusually scarce this winter and it is said that the scare was started by the Minneapolis lumber barons to furnish a pretext for quarantining the camps, thus keeping the men there whether they would or no. In view of the constant denials from the two places of its existence there, color is lent to the statements advanced.

Skrivseths Gallery
is the place to get good photographs.
216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

W. C. T. U. Acts in Kansas.

Hutchinson, Kan., Feb. 12.—Mrs. E. P. Hutchison, state president of the W. C. T. U., and other state officers, drafted a manifesto here today to be sent to W. C. T. U. unions all over the state, urging a general uprising against the saloon.

Mass meetings are urged to adopt resolutions calling upon Gov. Stanley to enforce the prohibition law and to "stir up the people." The manifesto, coming on the top of that adopted by the Kansas State Temperance union, at Topeka, will, it is believed, result in a revival of the enthusiastic crusade that led to the election of John P. St. John, the prohibition governor.

Stop the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, no Pay. Price 25 cents.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.
The State of Minnesota to Herman Wallis, the defendant:

You are hereby summoned to be and appear before the undersigned, one of the justices of the peace in and for said county, on the 28th day of February, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at my office in the village of Euclid, in said county, to answer to complaint in a civil action. Should you fail to appear at the time and place aforesaid judgment will be rendered against you upon the evidence adduced by said Misner Chaplo Fisk, plaintiff, for such sums as he shall show himself entitled to.

Given under my hand this 6th day of February, A. D. 1901.

M. P. LOSEY,
Justice of the Peace.

44-46

Timber Culture Final Proof.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., Jan. 2, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that Simeon J. Lantemon has filed notice of intention to make final proof before Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at his office in Crookston, Minnesota, on Friday, the 15th day of February, 1901, on timber culture application No. 3592, for the se¼ of section No. 2, in township No. 150 N. range No. 47 W.

He names as witnesses:
Frank Williams, Elery C. Davis, Henry Jones and James Jones all of Crookston, Minnesota

A. F. GEORGE,
Receiver

Summons.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK,—ss. In District Court.
SHELDON W. VANCE, and
GEORGE F. STONE, Plaintiffs,
vs.
——DUGGAN, TIMOTHY SULLIVAN,
——KINSELLA, Copartners as
DUGGAN, SULLIVAN & KINSELLA,
Defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named Defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiffs in the above entitled action, which said complaint has been filed and is now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court within and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office in the city of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint, within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

—A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiffs,
Crookston, Minn.

Dated Jan. 12, 1901. 42-47

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution issued out of and under the seal of the district court, in and for the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, upon a judgment rendered and docketed in the said court, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1896, in an action wherein Standard Paper Co, plaintiff, and Hans Johnson, defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of Ninety-three dollars and Thirty-five cents ($93.35) which execution was directed and delivered to me as sheriff in and for the county of Polk, I have this 29th day of January, A. D. 1901, levied upon the right, title and interest of the said defendant, Hans Johnson, in and to the following described real property situated in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, to-wit:

Lots number 29 and 30, and block number 5 in Jerome's Addition in the city of Crookston, in Polk county, Minnesota.

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, as sheriff as aforesaid, will sell the above described real property to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the front door of the court house in the city of Crookston in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 19th day of March, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day, to satisfy the said execution, together with the interest and costs thereon.

Dated January 29th, A. D. 1901.

—E. J. Sollivon,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minn.
By Louis Genyea, Deputy 43-48

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of $8, which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1898, and in the further sum of $8 which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1899 and in the further sum of $8, which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1900, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by George W. Carhart and Marion M. Carhart, his wife, mortgagors, to Jerome W. Wheeler, mortgagee, bearing date the 26th day of October, 1897, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Polk, and state of Minnesota, on the 16th day of November, 1897, at 4:50 o'clock p. m., in book 78 of mortgages, on page 248.

And whereas, the said Jerome W. Wheeler, the mortgagee and holder of said mortgage, has duly elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of forty-two and 40-100 dollars, with interest on $26.40 thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, from the 26th day of October, 1900, and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter of section twenty-eight (28) in township one hundred fifty-four (154) of range forty-seven (47), in Polk county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Polk county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Crookston, in said county and state, on the 23rd day of March, 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Feb. 6, A. D. 1901.

JEROME W. WHEELER,
Mortgagee.
A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Mortgagee,
Crookston, Minn.
44-50

AT THE........

ONE PRICE HARDWARE STORE.

CROSS-CUT SAWS,
BUCK SAWS,
HAND SAWS,

At Prices Ranging from....

15c Upwards

N. 213 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

Short Route
Fast Time
To
All Points in the Northwest
And on the Pacific Coast

LOCAL TIME CARD.

Arrive.	*Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	*Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	*Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6.30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls	9.20 am
4.49 pm	*Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior	9.00 am
6 45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent	9.10 am

Full Information from
F. D. Bell, Agt.

S. L. Collins,
Livery and
Feed Stables

Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.

Crookston, Minn

Stevens
Ideal Rifle.
No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.

Made in all the standard calibers both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, 24 inches. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.

If these rifles are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.

Send stamp for catalog describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.

THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

EDWARD VII, ENGLAND'S NEW KING.

The Kind of Man Who Comes to the Throne of Great Britain After Many Years of Waiting --- His Gracious and Noble Queen, Alexandra --- Some Facts About the New Heir Apparent.

Edward VII, the new king of England and emperor of India, is in his sixtieth year. He is well preserved, of average height, of portly build, florid as to complexion and of an even, placid temperament.

In the shadow of the throne he has lived an almost uneventful life. While waiting for the scepter and royal robes he has had little chance to show what kingly mettle was in him.

The world knows him only as a jolly prince who has done nothing very good nor any great evil. Perhaps the most notable feature of his life thus far has been his fondness for sports. He has raced horses, sailed yachts, shot birds, played cards and gambled more or less, with more or less discretion.

He might have come to the throne as Albert I, starting a new line of kings, but many years ago he announced that when he ascended the throne he would use his second name, Edward, and be known as King Edward VII in preference to King Albert I. The English people have always looked forward to him as King Edward VII.

EDWARD VII.

His eldest son, the Duke of York, who becomes the Prince of Wales by his father's accession to the throne, has also an Edward in his long list of names, and his eldest son, who will be king of England some day, if he lives, has also an Edward in his name. It has been argued that by calling himself Edward VII the new king could revive the line of kingly Edwards, and in time they would exceed in number the Henrys who have sat upon the English throne.

It was long the fond hope of Victoria's heart that her son should reign under the title of Albert, the name of his father, her beloved husband. But Albert is a strange name to English ears in the list of royal titles. The prince himself desired to be called Edward. The queen's ministers and the queen's subjects desired it, so at last the mother, so fond of her own way in everything, saw that it were better to yield. But she is reported to have shed tears over it.

It was on the morning of the 9th of November, 1841, that an anxious group of personages waited in the great rooms of Buckingham palace. They were dignitaries of church and state who had been summoned in accordance with royal etiquette to be present at the arrival of a possible heir to the throne of England. They gathered together in the anteroom close by the queen's bed chamber. Among them were archbishops and bishops, arrayed in silk shovel hats and gorgeous aprons, members of the cabinet, headed by the prime minister; nurses and doctors by the score.

For hours this motley assemblage awaited the event. Their patience was rewarded.

"Is it a boy?" anxiously asked the Duke of Wellington of the nurse.

"It is a prince, your grace," answered the woman, with unruffled dignity.

When it was announced that the hopes and wishes of a nation had been fulfilled and that a boy had been born there was universal gratulation. Prelates and statesmen embraced one another with uncontrolled effusiveness. Cannon from the grounds without thundered the news to all the surrounding districts. Thousands of church bells took up the glad tidings and pealed out the announcement to an expectant nation. Early in the morning the privy council met in state to ordain prayer and thanksgiving from one end of the country to the other.

A few weeks later, on the occasion of the prince's baptism in the Royal chapel of Windsor, he was shown from the balcony to a huge crowd of persons, who went wild with delight.

The boyhood of the prince was uneventful. His early education was conducted at home under the tutelage of the Rev. H. M. Birch, rector of Prestwich; Mr. Gibbs, barrister at law; the Rev. C. F. Tarver and Mr. H. W. Fisher. He then studied for a session at Edinburgh and later entered Christchurch, Oxford. Here he attended public lectures for a year and afterward resided for three or four terms at Trinity college, Cambridge, for the same purpose.

His earliest appearance in a leading part on any public occasion was in 1859, at the laying of the foundation stone of the Lambeth School of Art at Vauxhall. After the death of his father in December, 1861, he naturally became the most desirable functionary at all ceremonies in which beneficent or char[illegible] undertakings were to be recog[illegible] by royal approval. This work has ever since occupied a large share of his time and has always been performed with dignity, tact and patience. Indeed no prince of any country has ever personally exerted himself more faithfully to render services of this sort to the community. The multiplicity and variety of his engagements on behalf of local and special enterprises make a surprising list and necessarily involved a sacrifice of ease and leisure which few men of high rank would care to make.

Among the members of the royal family the prince of Wales has been called Bertie from his childhood. His father called him by that name; his mother entered it in her daily diary long after he had grown to manhood and become the father of a large family; his wife calls him Bertie today. But woe be to any outsider, however intimate, who dares address the prince by that name!

An adoring British aristocracy has applied all sorts of names to the popular heir apparent, which have been taken up by many Americans who have met him and a great many more who have not. Some of these pet names have not been altogether dignified, or even respectful—such as "tum-tum." But the prince has put up with them all good naturedly. But Bertie was for the family alone. The Princess of Wales' wedding ring is set with a beryl, an emerald, a ruby, a turquoise, an jacinth and a second emerald. The initials of these six gems spell "Bertie." It was the princess' idea.

In the summer of 1860 the prince paid a visit to Canada and the United States. Everywhere he was received with boundless enthusiasm. He danced at a ball given in his honor at Washington, where he was cordially welcomed by President Buchanan.

The United States indeed was prepared to receive him with open arms. At Hamilton, the last place in Canada where he made a halt, he had spoken some kindly words, which awoke general approval here.

"My duties," he said, "as representative of the queen cease this day, but in a private capacity I am about to visit before my return home that remarkable land which claims with us a common ancestry and in whose extraordinary progress every Englishman feels a common interest."

THE NEW PRINCESS OF WALES.

In 1862, accompanied by Dean Stanley, he made a journey to the east, including a visit to Jerusalem. The young prince was now of a marriageable age. Speculation was rife as to who would be the lady of his choice. The question was settled in the early part of 1863, when his engagement was announced to Princess Alexandra, the eldest daughter of the king of Denmark. She was three years younger than the prince and, though comparatively poor, was beautiful and accomplished. The marriage was celebrated in St. George's chapel, Windsor castle, on March 10, 1863.

All England rejoiced over the event. Tennyson, who had just been made poet laureate, wrote one of his fine poems, "A Welcome to Alexandra," on this occasion. The princess soon made herself very popular with all classes of the British public, not only by her outward grace of manner, but also by her virtues and amiability. The prince himself has always shared in this popularity, although the sterner puritanism of his potential subjects has often been shocked by stories of his dissipation.

As a social factor in England the prince has always been supreme. Ward McAllister called him "the great social dictator." It was largely through his influence that many Americans—a nation whom he has always liked—have received their entree into the inner circles of the British aristocracy. Nevertheless the social and fashionable side of his life has been more of a duty than a pleasure to him. He has always been most content when surrounded by a circle of his old friends at his palace, in Sandringham, a small village in the county of Norfolk. There he has lived the life of an English country gentleman.

The affection and esteem in which the prince has been held were never better exemplified than in December, 1871, when he was attacked by typhoid fever and for some weeks hung between life and death. The anxiety of the public was intense, and the news of his recovery was greeted with great joy. On his first appearance in public to take part in the memorable "thanksgiving service" in St. Paul's cathedral on Feb. 27, 1872, the streets along the line of his route were crowded with a cheering multitude.

Since then the prince has been putting in several years of quiet work, taking a great deal of the responsibility that attaches to sovereignty off his mother's hands. He visited India and Ireland, engaged in solidifying the empire. He started intercolonial and international exhibitions. He encouraged and liberally subscribed to public charities. He has been a liberal patron of art and of the drama. It is impossible to overestimate his power as a social factor. He has dictated fashions and dominated manners. On him fell the full responsibility of the arrangements for the celebration of his mother's jubilee in 1887. He worked like a slave.

It is impossible not to mention two notable things of recent years—the baccarat scandal and the death of the prince's eldest son and his heir, the Duke of Clarence. The card scandal came up in the winter of 1890 while the prince was visiting Mrs. Arthur Wilson at Tranby Croft. Sir William Gordon-Cumming, a cavalry officer of good family, was charged with cheating. It was said that he increased his stake after seeing that the cards were in his favor. It was a famous trial; the prince was a witness, and Sir William Gordon-Cumming lost. He married the daughter of an American millionaire, Miss Garner of New York, and retired into private life.

Two years later the Duke of Clarence fell a victim to the grip. It was a great blow to both the prince and princess, a bereavement from which they have never fully recovered. After the funeral the prince retired to the deepest privacy. It was many months before he could take up his public duties.

Of late years Marlborough House has become the center of the prince's social and official life. His study, where none but his intimates is admitted, looks like the room of a hardworking man of business. He works at an old fashioned pedestal desk table. The desk shuts with a spring and can be opened only with a golden key, which the prince carries on his watch chain. Every hour of his day is mapped out for him. First comes his private correspondence, which is very large. From 10 till 11 each morning is spent in talking over and dictating replies to letters that have been sorted over by his secretary. The remainder of his day is governed by his appointment book. The social feature of it is very large. When the prince does have an idle hour, he enjoys a new novel that he has picked from the bookstall himself.

No political party has ever been able to rightly claim the Prince of Wales as an adherent, or even as an active sympathizer. He has always managed to keep conspicuously clear of party or sectional interests and still remain an aggressive Englishman.

In 1868 the late king of Sweden initiated Albert Edward into the mysteries of Freemasonry. His father had refused to associate himself with the craft, but the prince had views of his own. In 1875 he was elected grand master of England. At one Freemason dinner, when the prince presided, the list of subscriptions reached the enormous sum of $250,000, the largest amount ever raised at a festival dinner in the history of the world.

Americans know the new king as a game sportsman. He began that career early. When he was only 15 years old, accompanying his father on deer stalking expeditions, he was the best shot in his family. In manhood the royal colors—purple, gold band, scarlet sleeves and black velvet cap with gold fringe—have been a familiar sight on all British race courses of the first class. His name has often stood high in the list of winning owners. He is generally agreed to be a capital judge of a horse. His greatest triumph was the winning of the Derby by Persimmon in 1896.

During the past few years King Edward VII has seldom been seen following the hounds, but in the game season he is foremost in big shooting parties. As a yachtsman he has been particularly fortunate. He is the owner of many splendid prizes.

While no one can confidently say what political changes the advent of the new king will make—and it is possible that his rule may materially affect the course of British politics—it is known that he has always had liberal leanings. He detested Beaconsfield; he felt a warm admiration for Gladstone. His most intimate friend among the leading politicians of England is Rosebery. It is already predicted that the new king will work for Rosebery for the premiership.

As for the new queen of England, she is a daughter of the north who at 56 is still beautiful. She is a splendid type of woman and was Princess Alexandra of Denmark prior to her marriage to the Prince of Wales 38 years ago.

THE NEW PRINCE OF WALES.

A very pretty and romantic story is told of how the Princess of Denmark became the wife of Prince Albert Edward of Wales. The prince chanced to be whiling away part of a long summer afternoon with two or three congenial friends when one of them, a colonel, produced from his pocket a photograph.

The prince immediately became struck by the beauty and simplicity of the young person in the picture and soon became possessor of it. Within a very short time he had dispatched a confidential emissary to Denmark to carry his suit to the princess. The emissary was struck by the simplicity of the royal personages, but particularly by the grandeur and beauty of the young princess. Because of her simple home training the princess was best fitted for the pomp and honor of her station. She is a brilliant woman, strictly conservative, of commanding presence and stature.

Her character is at once strong and sweet, and she shows a kindly consideration for all who approach her.

As a mother she is ideal. Her children were reared and educated as befits their station, and their discipline is a matter of comment in England. She is a thoroughly practical woman, fond of the best literature and an accomplished musician.

ALEXANDRA, THE NEW QUEEN.

An intimate friend of the Princess of Wales—for only an intimate friend can be pardoned in so describing her—says that she is "sweet, noble, pretty, snappy, arrogant and disagreeable." Her temper is quick, disagreeable and uncertain." Yet, withal, this friend adds that she is "just the most lovable woman in the world."

Queen Victoria during her long reign has shown herself to be more a man than a woman. Her conduct in time of trouble has been calm and serene, and in time of peace she has displayed the stolidity so admired by Englishmen.

Queen Alexandra, on the other hand, is always a woman. Excitable at times, fervent, pathetic, variable—and womanly always.

The strongest feature displayed by the new queen of England is her clique. No one ever knew Victoria to have an intimate friend. Even Mme. Albani was kept at length, but Queen Alexandra has her friends and falls out with them in a woman's way.

At one time she loved Lady Brooke, but her love cooled; at another she and Lady Randolph Churchill were inseparable—one never shopped without the other—but at a later date she took Lady Craven instead and insisted that she become one of her ladies of honor.

It is not in temperament alone that the new queen differs from her predecessor, but in every other detail.

For years Alexandra has been noted for her taste in dress—an accusation never made of Queen Victoria.

In admirable [illegible] cteristics Alexandra is not wanting. She is the only one of Queen Victoria's royal daughters-in-law who has been able to get along with her. Even her daughters have found little sympathy in the cool rigidness of the throne. But Alexandra began by determining to like her mother-in-law, and she has kept it up.

Queen Victoria declared that she liked the Princess of Wales better than any one of her own family except Beatrice and that she would sooner see her on the throne than any other one that she could mention.

The new Prince of Wales, like the new king, is a man who has sown his wild oats with a princely and lavish hand. He has, however, settled down and become a man of family and dignity.

George Frederick Ernest Albert, the second and eldest surviving son of the new King Edward VII, has long been known as the Duke of York. He has also been called "the sailor prince" from the fact that he has had a naval career.

He was born June 3, 1865. The young prince, like his brother and sisters, was brought up with the most studied simplicity both in London and at Sandringham and much more like the child of a plain country gentleman than the son of a royal prince as such bringing up is understood in other countries. The Rev. J. N. Dalton was selected by the Prince of Wales as his son's tutor, and under his superintendence the first few years of the young prince's life were passed in quiet study and in a happy home life of which he was the leading spirit.

In 1877 Prince George and the late Duke of Clarence and Avondale became naval cadets and entered on board H. M. S. Britannia, the training ship stationed at Dartmouth. Here the young prince entered upon his training for the profession to which his after life was to be devoted and showed a great deal of taste for naval studies, applying himself in praiseworthy manner to the intricacies of navigation and to the mysteries of knotting and splicing and the other details of a seaman's education. His elder brother, Albert Victor, the duke of Clarence, died in 1892, and George took his place in the succession. York's training has been altogether naval. In 1883 he became a midshipman on board the Canada with the North American squadron. In 1885, after passing the examinations with great credit, he was promoted to a lieutenancy. His first command was that of the gunboat Thrush on the West Indian station, and while occupying that post he opened the Jamaica Industrial exposition in 1890.

PRINCE ALBERT EDWARD OF YORK.

Just one year later the young man was raised to the rank of commander, but his actual service was brought to a close by the death of his brother and his own suddenly acquired importance as heir presumptive.

The Duchess of York, his wife, was formerly the pretty Princess May of Teck. The marriage has been very happy, and this royal couple are probably the most democratic of their kind in Great Britain. They have three pretty children, two of whom are princes.

The new Prince of Wales has earned for himself a warm place in British hearts. He is extremely popular, for the English believe him to be thoroughly manly. Only a year ago, when the situation in South Africa developed into a serious war, he declared his eagerness to go and fight the Boers. Only peremptory orders from the queen herself kept him at home.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

THE NOME SCANDAL

Thought That the President Will Remove Judge Noyes if He Does Not Resign.

POLITICS IN NORTH DAKOTA

Likely to be Unpleasantly Affected by the Developments in the Case.

Minneapolis, Feb. 12.—Special to the Tribune from Washington says:

"The general sentiment among those who are interested in the Cape Nome mining scandals is that > Judge Arthur H. Noyes will be removed by the president if he does not resign.

It was said at the department of justice today that impeachment proceedings would not be necessary, as the president had full power to act.

There was talk this morning of a revival of congressional investigations which were so sensationally started some time ago in both branches of congress, but it is not at all likely that anything will be done on that line, as the decision rendered yesterday in San Francisco by judges who stand high

> Is regarded here as a substantial victory for the anti-Noyes-McKenzie element.

Frank B. Kellogg, who was at San Francisco last October when Judge Morrow ordered McKenzie before him for contempt, and appeared as attorney for McKenzie, is now in Washington.

He inclines to the opinion that there was an appeal in McKenzie's case to the supreme court, in fact a writ of certiorari is now pending before that tribunal on the question of jurisdiction and the right of Judge Morrow to order McKenzie before him.

> In a political way the decision at San Francisco will have a marked effect on the politics of North Dakota. McKenzie has had very strong backing in that state by the republicans and Senator Hansbrough has stood by him faithfully. If the San Francisco verdict stands it means a new deal in North Dakota.

George H. Sullivan of Stillwater, who is here, says that he has a brother who has a mining claim adjoining that of the now famous McKenzie property. Sullivan insists that the appointment of McKenzie was unwarranted.

It is further stated that Clerk of Court Dickey was not discharged by Judge Noyes, but that he resigned voluntarily.

ADVISES SUICIDE.

Emperor of China so Recommends to Gen Tung Fu Hsiang and Others.

Peking, Feb. 12.—Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang have received a long dispatch from the court which they have not disclosed to the foreign envoys. It is alleged to contain in addition to the recent celebrated reform decree an account of how Emperor Kwang Su sent a choice method of suicide to all those indicted for punishment by the envoys, closing with the inquiry whether Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang think the envoys will be satisfied.

It is understood the Chinese plenipotentiaries in their reply to the court said the foreign envoys could not object strongly to an accomplished fact, but that they would probably insist upon the sentence of execution being published throughout the empire and possibly upon the heads of those condemned being exhibited at various points.

It is very seriously debated in Chinese circles here that Gen. Tung Fu Hsiang will agree to commit suicide. The army will support him. He has absolute control of the Mohammedans and is believed to be one himself. He refused to allow the disbanding of 5,000 men and the emperor ordered him from court.

> To attempt his execution, it is thought in Chinese circles, might mean civil war.

Large Land Deal.

The C. E. Stevens Land Company has just made another large purchase of Polk county real estate. Mr. Stevens has just returned from St. Paul where he completed a deal for 10,700 acres. When questioned by the Journal representative as to the amount of their holdings in this county, he said: "We now own, in Polk county alone, 17,600 acres". This is by far the largest list owned by any firm in this part of the Valley. Mr. Stevens believes Polk to be one of the best counties in the Valley and has great faith in its future, so much so, that the entire holdings of the company, outside of Polk county, do not exceed 4,000 acres all told.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY

Introduced In the Hamilton-Day Murder Trial Yesterday.

Minneapolis, Feb. 12.—The prosecution in the Hamilton murder case rested today after introducing the sensational testimony of Officer Thomas J. Rooney, who testified that Hamilton said to him when he was arrested:

> "Officer, I will go with you; I am prepared to take the consequences. Let the law take its course. I killed him, but I did it in self defense."

This testimony was not a surprise. It was known to be forthcoming. Hamilton listened to the statement with a perfectly impassive face. Rooney's evidence related to the conversation with Hamilton on the way from the West hotel to the police station and was brutally and imprintably precise. Tomorrow the defense will open with an address by Robert L. Penney. Every effort is being made to have A. M. Barbe, the St. Louis traveling man, brought here to testify. His evidence is said to be of the highest importance to the defense. Hamilton, it is said, will take the stand and give his version of the fight which ended in Day's death.

After court adjourned, there was an impulsive movement of the crowd toward Hamilton, men vieing with women to shake his hand and utter the hope that he would be able to prove his innocence. For ten minutes he held what might be called a levee.

WU TING FU MISQUOTED.

Objects to What the New York Reporters Have to Say About Him.

New York, Feb. 12.—During the course of the banquet of the Silk Association of America at Delmonico's last night the Chinese minister, Wu Ting Fu, who was one of the guests of honor, left his seat and walked up stairs to the table at which the newspaper men sat. He said:

"I am being quoted by interviewers. You New York newspaper men are all right, but you make my meaning in my speeches and letters too deep. Many quotations are incorrect. Some are so absurd that I do not want to deny them. But there is one interview I do want to deny. It seems to have been received with credence. I refer to the interview that made me say that I favored miscegenation. I was wrongly quoted. I did not say I favored misnegnation in a general sense. I was on a train to St. Louis and a reporter told me of a lynching. We had some conversation which led to miscegenation. I told him that the children of white and Chinese parents or Caucasian and Chinese parents made the brightest children. I said we had no negroes in China and if we had it would be good to mix the races there, but in this country it was a question which Americans must decide themselves. I did not say I favored miscegenation here."

Army Bill Passed.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The house today passed the army appropriation bill and entered upon the consideration of the sundry civil bill, the last bill but one of the big money bills. The debate on the army bill was confined largely to a discussion of the question of passages to remove the charge of desertion against soldiers and was made notable by a statement by McClellan (N. Y.) comparing the cost of the soldier in European armies with the cost in the United States. According to his figures, including the cost of pensions, etc., a United States soldier involved an expense of $2,828, while a German soldier costs $227 and a French soldier $223.

Previous to the consideration of the appropriation bill the letter reflecting upon Mr. Perry S. Heath, which Mr. Sulzer introduced into the proceedings yesterday, was expunged from the record.

During the debate on the motion to expung Mr. Sulzer renewed his attack on Mr. Heath, reiterating his statement of yesterday that he was willing to father the statement in the letter and declaring that if action was brought against him he would not plead his constitutional immunity.

Pittsburgh's Bad Fire.

Pittsburg, Feb. 12.—Nearly the entire plant of the Rochester tumbler works of the National Glass company, the largest and finest in the world, located at Rochester, Pa., was burned early this morning, loss $600,000, supposed to be covered by insurance.

The company will care for employes thrown out of work.

Powers is in Pennsylvania.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 12.—The Courier-Journal this morning says:

One of the best known lawyers in the Eleventh district who was in Louisville yesterday stated as a positive fact that John L. Powers, who is under indictment for complicity in the murder of Gov. Goebel, left Knox county last September and went to Harrisburg, Pa., where, through the influence of Kentucky republicans he secured an appointment to office under the administration of Gov. Stone.

Boer Convoy Captured.

London, Feb. 12.—Gen. Kitchener, in a dispatch from Pretoria, dated Feb. 12, says: "French has captured a convoy of 50 wagons and 14 carts and has made 43 prisoners. We had one man wounded."

ALEX'S BIRTHDAY

Is Celebrated In Royal Style by His Friends At The Palace Hotel.

Probably there never was gathered together in Crookston a better, more jovial crowd of men than some fifty of the friends of Alex. Thompson, who assembled in the Palace hotel dining room last evening in honor of the forty-first anniversary of his birth. The preparations had been carefully made and the banquet was most elaborate, one of the dainties being "mountain lamb" and it is no flattery to Landlord McKinnon to say that it has probably never been equalled in Crookston. Mr. Thompson received many useful and valuable presents, among them being a beautiful brass bedstead with hair mattress and springs. Andy Stevens acted as toastmaster and Mayor Campbell, Col. Wilkinson, Mr. Martin, deputy insurance commissioner, from St. Paul, J. E. O'Brien, Martin O'Brien, G. A. E. Finlayson, John McKinnon, Wm. Anglim, Louis Morin and several others responded to toasts. Vocal selections were rendered by Archie McKinnon, Tommy Johnstone, Steve Withey, Bert Anderson, Fred. Brosseau and others. Altogether the affair was most thoroughly enjoyed by all present and wit and good cheer were dispensed until the "wee sma hours".

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

The Usual Routine Work Comes up. Bridge Bids Received.

The council met last evening in regular session, President Chestermso in the chair. All the members were present with the exception of Aldermans Arnold and Rosenthal. The reports of the various city offilcers were received and the city pay roll and the usual batch of bills were allowed. The bill of the Franciscan Sisters of Little Falls of $30 for the care of the infant child of Wm. Greinert was refered to the poor committee.

The report of the committee having in charge the drafting of an amendment to the poor law was received and the committee instructed to continue their labors.

Notice was served on the city by F. Benoit and Ben Gruhs that suit would be begun for damages for injuries sustained by falling on the icy side walks. The city attorney was instructed to take steps to defend the suits.

Bids for the repairing of the Sampson's Addition bridge were received from Wm. Marin, $185. Lundal Bros. $94 and a Fargo firm submitted two bids, one of $400 and one of $800. The bids were referred to the committee on Streets and bridges. Lundal Bros. will probably be awarded the contract.

An adjournment was made to next Tuesday evening.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

East Grand Forks Bagnio Keepers Jailed But Give Bonds.

Sheriff Sulivan journeyed over to East Grand Forks Monday and returned in the evening having in custody Jane Smith, Lou Louis and Mary Young, accused by the last grand jury of keeping houses of questionable resort in the metropolis of Western Polk. They were placed in the county jail, expecting to procure bonds and be released yesterday, but on account of it being a legal holiday were compelled to stay in jail until today when all were released on bail bonds of $200 each. The owner of one of the houses claimed to be used for immoral purposes was also indicted at the time and also furnished bonds today.

A Vicious Dog.

Chas Arthur, the twelve year old son of Foundryman Morrisay, was quite severely bitten in the arm last evening, while returning home, by a vicious dog of the neighborhood. Mr. Morrisey notified Chief of Police Eck and the latter went out with him to shoot the offending cur, but knowing Mr. Morrisey's good markmanship, turned the job over to him and Sampson's Addition is worrying along with one less dog today.

A Small Blaze.

Fire yesterday afternoon did damage to the extent of $25 at the home of Charles Lindell. The fire caught in a quilt that hung over a chair close to the drum of the stove pipe in an upstairs room. It was soon discovered and Eli Asselin, with the assistance of Mrs. Lindell, soon had it extinguished. Mr. Asselin is to be commended for his prompt action, as a majority of people would have called out the fire department and entailed a considerable expense to the city.

SOUTH CROOKSTON.

A. Compton does not seem to gain very fast and his friends are becoming anxious for his recovery.

Our barber is doing a nice business here and everybody feels satisfied with his work.

County Surveyor Gray is kept busy these days surveying. The people all know who to get for a good job of surveying and that is Gray.

There was a party over at the residence of Davis Bates on last Saturday evening and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Miss Grace McClaren is slowly on the gain after a severe illness. She will not be able to attend school again this term.

WHAT MEN WILL WEAR.

Fashion's Decrees Discussed by a Chicago Tailor.

"PEG TOPS" WILL BE SWELL.

Delegate F. J. Schaub to the Merchant Tailors' National Exchange Convention Says Some Sensible Things About Suitability In Suits. The New Waistcoat and Cutaway. Women's Tailoring.

The gathering of tailors at the Continental hotel in Philadelphia was an interesting one, more perhaps because it represented a class of men who almost dominate the question of clothes for men in America than for any public importance attaching to their proceedings in convention. It has been said that the physician is often careless about his own health, the shoemaker about his own shoes, the tailor about his own clothes, but this observation does not apply in the majority of cases to the members of the Merchant Tailors' National exchange. As a whole they are a body of very well dressed men, who illustrate by their own personal appearance the advantages of wearing good clothes. As the delegates came from all parts of the United States there is naturally some diversity of taste, although the quiet sort generally prevails, and the conclusion seems only reasonable that the modern swell tailor is first of all a man of good judgment.

The important part which judgment plays in a tailor's success was emphasized the other day by F. J. Schaub of Chicago, who is regarded as one of the most faultlessly attired delegates to the convention. Chatting about the latest fashions in men's clothes, Mr. Schaub said to a Philadelphia Ledger reporter: "After all, in our business we study the individual to be provided for—his age, his character and calling. We don't put a suit that a college boy would want and could wear with perfect propriety on a bank president or a judge. The tailor is an adviser, and the one who gives people good advice and assists his customers in being well dressed is the tailor who is sure to achieve success."

Asked for particulars regarding the newest fashions in men's clothing, Mr. Schaub said as to trousers that there is no particular style that is set. "It depends on the age of the man. Some young men will, as in the past, still wear peg tops."

When told that perhaps many readers would not know what was meant by "peg tops," he explained that they were trousers tapering down from about 21 inches at the knee to about 16 inches at the bottom. "These are the ultra fashionable trousers," he said. "For the middle classes"—but he corrected himself—"for conservative dressers, I should rather say, a middle width is worn of from 18 to 19 inches at the knee and 16½ inches at the bottom. It depends on the shape of a man a good deal too. If he's corpulent, he doesn't look well in baggy trousers. The medium size is preferable. Trousers will still be worn turned up in sloppy weather, and trousers will be made especially for that purpose."

The tendency in waistcoats is to the single breasted. There is a waistcoat exhibited by a firm in Chicago and one in New York which has a waist seam running parallel with the lower pocket and the seam to the last button. The vest is cut from 1½ to 2 inches lower than the regular length. It is single breasted and has six buttons, buttons high and is made of fancy goods. This waistcoat is to be worn with a morning walking coat. It will also be made of fancy colored linens and stripes.

"And as to coats?" "The cutaway coat remains. The latest has a tendency to be quite long, with flaps on the sides. It is made of fancy goods, and has four buttons, but only three of these button, the one lowest down not buttoning. In the vest matching this coat the lowest button likewise doesn't button. Trousers to be worn with a suit like that will be made with medium 'peg tops.'"

"What about spring overcoats?" "We are still making a moderate box coat, with full box and with or without a seam in the center, according to the shape of the man. The materials are Robert cheviots, waterproofs and top coating goods in dark colors. The blacks and grays and dark effects—some browns—will predominate. Light goods will not be extensively worn. The short covert coat is 'out,' except for riding. The new coats are long, full to the knees."

Ladies' tailoring, Mr. Schaub says, is on the increase. Men are more and more making women's clothes. Some have gone into that line exclusively and found it very profitable. "For a fine American figure," he said, "an American tailor made garment is a beautiful thing. The American ladies have taken to it more than ever. The tendency is to display a fine figure, and the tailor made gown, being tight fitting, outlines the form perfectly."

"Who make the fashions?" "The leading tailors of the country, assisted by their 'dressy' customers, set the styles. The fashion journals do not—they merely reflect our ideas. The best tailors are still influenced quite a good deal by the London styles. We take them, moderate them and conform them into American ideas. I think we improve them."

A New Nasturtium.

Experiments in the greenhouses of the University of Nebraska to develop a new species of nasturtium have proved successful, and the new flower is in full bloom. Its chief quality of excellence is that it is continuously and profusely in flower.

THE BRITISH ANTHEM.

How It Will Read Now That a King Reigns.

Of the many changes that will now have to be made in our everyday literature none will be so marked as those in the national anthem, say the London Chronicle. We shall revert to the old words sung by Henry Carey at a Cornhill tavern early in 1740, the occasion being a dinner in celebration of the taking of Portobello by Admiral Vernon in the previous year. As to whether or not Carey was the author of the words and composer of the music he sang are questions which have never been settled. A gaillard bearing a close resemblance to the melody was discovered in a collection of virginal music written by Dr. John Bull and transcribed about 1622. Carey's claim from the musical point of view was advanced by his son, George Saville Carey, an actor at Covent Garden, but it is somewhat curious that his father was a contributor to The Harmonica Anglicana of 1742 and that his name is against some of the songs, but not against the melody which we all know so well nowadays. These, however, are the lines sang by Carey in 1740:

GOD SAVE THE KING.

God save our gracious king!
Long live our noble king!
God save the king!
Send him victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us,
God save the king!

O Lord our God arise,
Scatter his enemies
And make them fall!
Confound their politics,
Frustrate their knavish tricks;
On thee our hopes we fix,
God save us all!

Thy choicest gifts in store
On him be pleased to pour;
Long may he reign.
May he defend our laws
And ever give us cause
To sing, with heart and voice,
God save the king!

These verses first became popular during the rebellion of 1745 and, after they appeared in The Gentleman's Magazine for October of that year, where, by the way, they were called "A song for two voices, as sung at both playhouses," they were regarded as the property of all Englishmen. So that it is from 1745 that "our illiterate national anthem," as Mr. W. S. Gilbert once termed it, may be dated. The air has always been appreciated and often appropriated by musicians. Beethoven introduced it into his Battle Symphony and subsequently stated in his journal, "I must show the English a little what a blessing they have in 'God Save the King.'"

During her majesty's long reign Carey's version was altered many times. For instance, the second line of the first verse has been rendered "Long may Victoria reign," and in the second verse people have sung, "On her our hopes are fixed." The second verse has been the bete noire of several poets, and at the time of the diamond jubilee Dean Hole wrote the following stanza, in the hope that it would become general:

O Lord our God arise;
Scatter her enemies;
Make war to cease.
Keep us from plague and dearth,
Turn thou our woes to mirth,
And over all the earth
Let there be peace.

As for additional verses, there have been very many, the authors including Longfellow, Martin S. Skeffington, Canon Harford and Percy Harrison. Perhaps the best (certainly its wish was gratified) commenced in this way:

May heaven her life defend
And make her race extend
Wide as her fame.

This was published at the time of the late queen's marriage.

The phrase "God save the king" is very old. One finds it in the English Bible, Coverdale, 1535, and, according to Froude, it was the watchword of the navy in 1545.

A SCOTTISH MEMORIAL.

Lord Rosebery Proposes Restoration of Linlithgow Palace.

Lord Rosebery in a speech at Edinburgh the other afternoon, after paying tribute to Queen Victoria and King Edward, proposed that the Scottish memorial to Queen Victoria take the form of the restoration of Linlithgow palace, the home of so many great traditions.

Linlithgow palace is one of the magnificent remains of ancient royal residences in Scotland, says the New York Tribune. It was probably founded by Edward I of England, who reigned from 1272 to 1307. It is in the form of a quadrangle, occupies an acre of ground and has a heavy but imposing exterior and fine apartments, the most interesting being the parliament hall and the room in which Mary, queen of Scots, was born in 1542. The grounds cover 80 acres. The palace was rebuilt by James IV, James V and James VI and contains some beautiful carvings, especially in the hall, banquet room, parliament hall and Queen Mary's bedroom, from which there is a magnificent view. It was there that Regent Murray was shot by Hamilton in 1570.

Linlithgow is a town of Scotland, capital of the county of Linlithgow, on the Union canal, 17 miles by rail west of Edinburgh and 28 miles east-northeast of Glasgow.

A February Morning.

A cold, white sword thrust through the stubborn gray
Of dawn's closed gates. Above the parapet
Of hill and cloud a warning gleam and fret,
As of a thousand spears in brave array,
To urge the noiseless challenge of the day.
The stalwart captains of the dark have met
For one last stand beside their hills, and yet,
Even as they rise, the sullen gates give way.

Then not a crown or summit, high or low,
But warms and reddens with the invader's fires.
The long, white levels sparkle in the light,
And in the valley places, all aglow,
The towns awaken, and their roofs and spires
Repeat the signals flashed from height to height.

—Frank Walcott Hutt in National Magazine For February.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Makes the bread more healthful.

Safeguards the food against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

DRY IN TOPEKA.

Anti-Saloon Organization Perfected and Jointists Are Cowed.

Topeka, Feb. 12.—The local liquor situation is practically unchanged today. The saloon men are keeping under cover and their doors are securely locked. They apparently mean to keep them closed and preparations are being made to remove the bars and fixtures.

Last night a few bars were moved from the joints and stored away. All the bar tenders are out of work and the jointists are standing around talking over the situation. Beer wagons have stopped their usual rounds.

"I think that all the joints were closed last night," said Chief Stahl today. "All that I visited were quiet. I did not go across the river, where there was some talk that one or two were running, but if they were they were up stairs and not where they could be easily found. The committee seems to be well pleased and thinks that the jointists are thoroughly cowed. The people do not let me in on all the news, and I do not get anything definite, but I think I have a better chance to know what is going on than some people, and I believe there is an organization of from 3,000 to 4,000 persons with officers from colonel down to corporal, ready to move on joints if they do not close up."

AMUSEMENTS.

Thursday evening theatre patrons of the Grand Opera House will witness the presentation in this city of Daniel Sully's pleasing play, "The Parish Priest." There is a mysterious something in this play which appeals to all theatre goers. The story is simple, but wonderfully interesting, depicting as it does the doings of an evening on the road of life. The characters are novel, natural and eloquent. Some are eloquent in their simplicity, as there is no attempt to awaken applause either in the lines or the situations. Yet the applause comes, for the strength of the scenes sway the audience, which nightly demands that he curtain go up and down several times after the last act. This is a tribute to the play, for rarely does an audience linger after the play is over to demand another glimpse of the little mimic world across which life's skirmish line has been thrown. Boston compared "The Parish Priest" to "Sag Harbor." It has the same delightful atmosphere, and the same quaintness of character. It has more comedy, perhaps, and its heart-touches are as plentiful. It is appropriately staged, and in all is a beautiful production. As Father Whalen, the jolly priest, Daniel Sully gives one of the best character portrayals of recent years. In fact his general excellence comes in the nature of a surprise, as Mr. Sully has heretofore been identified with comedy work, and his ability to sound the mellow note of true pathos stamps him as a possessor of that rare characteristic, versatility, among the leading actors of today. Several of the characters demand exceptionally good acting, and are well played. "The Parish Priest" is worth seeing. Its delightful atmosphere, quaint humor, and true sentiment appeal to all classes, from the boy in the gallery to the business man in the parquet. "The Parish Priest" has just finished a run at the Fourteenth Street theatre, New York city.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company of solid financial reputation; $936 salary per year, payable weekly. $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses, straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn, St., Chicago.

S. C. JOHNSON'S

Feed Store.

Baled hay per ton	$11.50
Oats per bu	28c to 33c
Ground Corn per cwt	85c
Ground Corn per ton	$16.00
Ground Feed, oats and barley per 100 lbs	90c
Shorts, per 100 lbs	80c
Shorts, per ton	$15.00
Bran per 100 lbs	75c
Bran per ton	$14.00
Shelled corn per bushel	45c
Shelled corn per 50 bu	42c
Oyster shells per lb	3c
Crystal Grit per lb	3c

Telephone 108.

Cor. Main and Fletcher Sts.
Crookston, Minn.

Polk County Journal.

VOL. XXV CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, No. 46

MINNESOTA
HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Historical Society

CHIEFS IN COUNCIL

Red Lake Reservation, or at Least Part of it; to be Sold to This Government.

BOND THE CITY FOR $7,500

The Special Election at Thief River Falls Yesterday Carried Almost Unanimously.

Thief River Falls, Feb. 20.—(Special to the Journal.)—The Commercial club of this city will hold a meeting this evening to consider the action of the Indian chiefs, who are now holding council at Red Lake reservation, and who propose to sell to the government the west end of the reservation, comprising eleven townships, at $2.50 per acre. This is a part of the proposition of Congressman Eddy to open up the reservation to settlers, and is directly in line with his promises made before the last election. He has been very successful in getting this important matter consummated as soon as he did, and conclusively displayed the fact that he is a representative in fact, and not only in name.

The special election held yesterday to bond the city for $7,500 for electric light purposes carried almost unanimously, only sixteen votes being cast against the proposition. The result is very satisfactory and indicates a proper spirit of enterprise on the part of our citizens.

KANSAS SENATOR

COMELY WOMAN TAKES A SHOT AT HER FRIEND.

Kansas City, Feb. 20.—Katherine Davis, a comely looking woman, 22 years of age, went to Dr. J. F. Doyle's drug store on East Fourteenth street yesterday and shot Fay Doyle, the proprietor's son, causing a dangerous wound. At the police station Miss Davis said:

"I wanted to kill myself and went there to say that I did not care to live, but the revolver caught in my coat pocket and he got the bullet I intended for myself. I hope he is not badly hurt."

The relatives of the wounded man say that the woman attempted to shoot Doyle about a week ago, and that they will prosecute her. They had been keeping company and quarreled.

Miss Davis was born in California. She came to Kansas City four years ago, and has worked in a wholesale drug house here. She says she is a professional nurse. Doyle is 28 years of age and prominent.

KIDNAPPER ARRESTED.

HE IS POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED BY YOUNG CUDAHY.

Omaha, Feb. 20.—One of the three men in the Cudahy kidnapping plot has been arrested.

Edward Cudahy, Jr., this afternoon positively identified the prisoner. He said:

"This is the man who asked me to get into the wagon. There is no doubt about it; he is the man."

Although the police refuse to divulge the prisoner's name, Edward Cudahy, the millionaire packer, who paid $25,000 in gold for the release of his son, said this afternoon that the man under arrest had been identified by his son as the man who accosted him in front of the Cudahy residence and kept him company in the house where he was a prisoner.

Mr. Cudahy said the prisoner had been identified also by one of the servants, who saw the latter demanding the ransom thrown upon the Cudahy lawn, and by another person whose name he will not make public.

Much mystery surrounds the arrest, which was made Saturday night by two local officers. The prisoner is said to have been under surveillance for some time, as it was believed he had been writing letters concerning the case.

IN JAIL AT LAST.

MRS. CARRIE NATION IS IN THE TOPEKA JAIL.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Carrie Nation is now in the county jail as a result of her trial on a peace warrant before Judge Hazen yesterday.

The warrant was sworn out by the Moeser Cold Storage Company, whose plant Mrs. Nation entered yesterday morning. Mrs. Nation acted as her own attorney in the trial. Judge Hazen placed her under $2,000 bonds to keep the peace and ordered her t oappear before him at the next term of court.

Mrs. Nation refused to give the bond and said she would go to jail. She is now detained in the hospital room of the county jail, where she will probably remain for some time.

In the county court this morning arguments were given in the case brought against Mrs. Nation by the proprietors of the wrecked Senate saloon.

Judge McCabe said he would take the matter under advisement until tomorrow morning.

It is not likely that Mrs. Nation will be able to give bond, because she declares that she will resume her smashing crusade against the joints immediately upon her release. Her friends have been advised that Judge Hazen will order her release only on promise to send her to her home at Medicine Lodge.

Judge Hazen last night placed Cal McDonald, Mrs. Rose Crist and Miss Madeline Southard under bonds to keep the peace. McDonald's bond is $1,000, the others $500 each. The judge delivered a scathing address to the three Nation lieutenants. He expressed the opinion that Mrs. Nation is insane, and said that those persons who encourage her methods of reform ought to be ashamed of themselves.

KILLED ON DUTY.

FAITHFUL MESSENGER MEETS A SAD DEATH.

A worn out carrier pigeon fluttered down on the stones on Jefferson street yesterday afternoon. The bird fluttered weakly to the center of the street and fell just before a Second street car. A knife could not have cut off the head cleaner than did the heavy car wheels. Jack Randolph, the colored "brush" at Schnell's, carried the pigeon to the barber shop. A piece of thin paper wrapped about one of the brid's legs attracted his attention. He unwrapped the paper. Then while the barbers crowded about, Randolph read:

"May: Will meet you, sweetheart, at Duncan house, Thursday, at 6:30 o'clock. Jack."

The note was written in a good hand on thin paper. Unless "May" reads the Louisville papers, some man named "Jack" will probably receive a big surprise when he goes to the Duncan house, in Nashville, on Thursday.—Louisville Courier-Democrat.

FIRE AT FERTILE.

THE CITY RESTAURANT BADLY GUTTED YESTERDAY.

Fertile, Minn., Feb. 20.—(Special to the Journal.)—Fire broke out in the building occupied by Ottom & Lafavre as a restaurant shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and although the fire department responded promptly to the alarm, which was turned in by H. O. Caylord, the building was badly gutted by the flames before they could be extinguished. That the fire was confined to the inside of the building is largely due to the effective work of the fire laddies, and the owners of the restaurant feel themselves under obligations to the department.

The loss will probably amount to $150. Insurance not stated.

Th ball given here last Thursday evening by the A. O. U. W. was one of the swellest ever given in this city, and the supper furnished by Landlord Sarholz, of the Fertile hotel, was absolutely beyond expectation.

MAYOR TILLOTSON.

WILL PRESIDE OVER DESTINY OF MOORHEAD.

After a short but warm campaign the voters of Moorhead have recorded their choice of W. R. Tillotson as mayor for the next two years. A little bitter feeling was engendered during the last few days of the campaign, and the result of yesterday's battle will not tend to smooth down the unpleasantness at once.

Mr. Kuhfeld carried three of the four wards of the city, but Mr. Tillotson's handsome majority of 96 in the Fourth ward carried him through. Great excitement prevailed in the First ward polling place, which was the last to furnish the returns.

It was close—awfully close, Mr. Tillotson winning by the narrow margin of 22 votes.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

Passed by Hiram Lodge No. 78, A. O. U. W., Crookston, Minn.

Whereas, the Almighty Father in his infinite wisdom has taken our dear brother from this life to the life beyond, we deplore the loss, yet humbly bow to the divine will of Him who gives and takes life, and while our beloved brother Lewis Hale has been in the wise but mysterious providence of the Great Master removed from our midst, we feel it but proper and fitting that the members of our societies should place on record some expression of our sentiment and feeling in view of this sad bereavement.

Resolved, that while in life we esteemed our brother as an efficient, energetic and noble member of our order, and in his home life still more conspicuous for noble qualities.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of the lodge and a copy be sent to the wife of our deceased brother, and the same be published in the daily papers of the city of Crookston.

(Signed,)

—L. W. Clark,
—C. D. Billings,—
—Gus Johnson,
Committee.

A MAN MISSING.

Clifford McGillivray, of 32 Clear Grit Terrace, Butte City, Mont., writes to inquire as to the whereabouts of his brother, John Angus McGillivray, who was last heard of in Grand Forks. The missing man was married and his wife died in child birth.

SALE OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

The undersigned will sell at public auction, on Saturday, March 2nd, at his barn in Beltrami, 21 head of farm horses, 15 heifers and cows, 10 sets of work harness and a full line of farm machinery. H. B. Badd. 45-46

COUNCIL MEETING

City Fathers Get Together Last Evening and Dispose of a Chunk of Work.

KILLED SIDEWALK ORDINANCE

And Receive the Reports From Various Important Special Committees.

The city council met last evening at the city hall, the following members being present: Chesterman, Anglim, Kirsch, Crombe, Thompson, Childs, Ellington, Stone and City Clerk Lanctot.

Before proceeding to the regular routine of business, Jos. Tibadeau appeared before the council asking for temporary aid, as he was injured last fall and was unable to earn a livelihood for himself and wife and five children. Alderman Childs moved that his case be referred to the committee on relief.

The next thing in order was the report of committees.

Ald. Ellington reported back the bill of the Water Works Power & Light company, and recommended payment of the full bill, with the exception of the bill for water for street sprinkling purposes.

Ald. Childs moved that this matter be laid over until the next regular meeting. Carried.

A bill of $47.37 for freight on lumber was allowed and ordered paid.

The bill of Vance & Stone for $172.60 for coal was allowed and ordered paid.

Ald. Childs reported that the matter of special legislation amending the poor law is progressing, and asked Mr. Gleason be added to the legislative committee to assist in passing the measure. The request was granted.

Dave King, a city charge, whom the council had expected to shoulder off on his brother, was allowed to remain, at least temporarily, at his present quarters at the Hotel James, which is under quarantine for smallpox.

Ald. Childs moved that the legislative committee be instructed to have the present law authorizing cities of 15,000 or over to issue bonds for lighting purposes, so amended as to read, "cities of 5,000 or over." Referred to legislative committee, city attorney and committee on finance.

Ald. Stone reported that the contract for putting in the beams in the Sampson addition bridge had been awarded to Lundal Bros.

The committee on extension of Broadway and Main street asked for further time in which to report, which request was granted.

The report from the city engineer requested 23,000 feet of lumber for repairs on streets and crossings. Report received and placed on file. This was afterward changed, and the report given the purchasing committee, to enable them to make an estimate on the cost of the required lumber, and to make report at next regular meeting.

Judges for the coming city election were named as follows:

First ward—Martin O'Brien, A. G. Anderson, J. F. Creamer.

Second ward—J. E. Morrissey, John Monroe, John Norman.

Third ward—C. H. Mix, R. Burkhardt, M. E. Kirsch.

Fourth ward—J. C. Sathre, J. O. Sargent, A. M. Childs.

Fifth ward—Wm. Arnold, C. W. Bangs, W. H. Bailey.

The social democracy had presented four names for judges, one each for the First, Second, Third and Fourth wards, but the council deemed the vote at the last election not sufficient to warrant recognition.

The polling places for the coming election were distributed as follows:

First ward—G. A. R. hall.
Second ward—M. R. Brown's building on Main street, between Second and Third streets north.
Third ward—Commercial hotel.
Fourth ward—City Hall.
Fifth ward—Hotel Berlin.

The application of Max Ericcson for liquor license was granted and his bond accepted.

Chief of Police Eek reported the list of names of parties who are under quarantine at the Hotel James, and who need aid from the city while confined. The report was placed on file as read.

The following communication from Mayor Campbell was read and filed:

Crookston, Minnesota, February 19, 1901.

To the Honorable City Council, Crookston, Minnesota.

Gentlemen:—In calling your honorable body's at tention to the matter of sprinkling of certain of our business streets during the coming summer, we would suggest that the past methods of paying the charges of that service has worked many inequalities, and much injustice to the business and other public spirited men of the city, and has resulted also in unsatisfactory service to the public. As I am informed, the custom has been to pay for such service by voluntary contributions from private individuals. There being no compulsion to pay, public spirited men have contributed, while others who have been equally benefited have declined to pay anything and have accepted and received the benefit of street sprinkling at the expense of their more public spirited neighbors.

To remedy this inequality I would respectfully suggest that an ordinance be enacted prescribing the limits and designating the streets and parts of streets which must be sprinkled during the dry seasons of the year, as may in the judgment of the council be deemed necessary, and defining the manner in which the necessary revenue be raised for paying therefor, and to provide by whom such work should be performed.

The board of health having ordered the James hotel quarantined, it has become necessary for me to appoint special police to carry out the orders of the board, and the same will be discharged as soon as their services are no longer necessary.

Very respectfully,
—N. Campbell,
Mayor.

The sidewalk cleaning ordinance, which was introduced at a former meeting, was read gain and voted "dead," as it was though a superfluous document for the city code.

Before adjourning the council voted its thanks to Eli Asselin for the presence of mind displayed in extinguishing a threatening fire recently, without calling out the fire department.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

WILL BE HELD AT MENTOR ON FRIDAY, MARCH 1st.

A farmers institute will be held at Mentor, on Friday, March 1, begining at 10 o'clock in the morning. The meeting will be conducted by T. A. Hoverstad, superintendent of the experimental farm, who expects to be assisted by Prof. A. J. Glover, instructor in dairying at the state school at St. Anthony Park.

Several lectures will be given on dairying and grass and grain growing, and the first session of the institute a valuable book will be given away to those attending.

NEW FISH HATCHERY

THE WILLOW BROOK IS TO BE ACQUIRED BY THE STATE.

Senator Ryder secured a suspension of the rules and had the bill to acquire the site of the Willow Brook fish hatchery for the state placed on general orders without reference to the committee on finance. The present site is to be donated to the state by the City of Paul, and the state is authorized to condemn adjoining lands. The bill carrys an appropriation of $1, just enough to make the transfer legal.

DEWET GOES NORTH

KITCHENER EXPECTS HIM TO DOUBLE BACK.

London, Fe. 20.—Lord Kitchener, telegraphing from Pretoria to the war office under date of February 18th, says:

DeWet is reported still moving north and now is west of Hopetown. He will probably double back to the southwest. The troops are prepared for this. A train was derailed between Vereeniging and Johannesburg yesterday morning, but the Boers were driven off before they secured much.

RECEIVER McKINNON.

JOHN R. WILL FIX UP THE ENTANGLEMENT OF THE SCANDIA COMPANY.

J. R. McKinnon, of this city has been appointed receiver of the Scandia Mutual Hail Insurance company, which was recently forced to the wall. Commissioner Dearth says the company has evidently had honest management, but an unusual amount of hard-luck. L. Ellington, of the Scandia bank, was first named by the court as receiver, but he declined to qualify for the position. The appointment of Mr. McKinnon is a splendid one, and will be approved by all parties interested.

BUILD FIRE PROOF.

STEPHEN VILLAGE COUNCIL TO GUARD AGAINST FIRE.

Stephen, Minn., Feb. 20.—The village council has passed an ordinance requiring that all buildings hereafter erected within the fire limits be constructed of fire proof material.

A petition is to be presented to the egislature praying for state aid to help construct a suitable highway between this place and Roseo, over which a daily mail is carried. The road is at times almost impassable.

ALL PERISHED.

RESCUERS REACH FIRST GANGWAY OF KILLED MINERS.

Cumberland, B. C., Feb. 20.—Rescuers in the Union mine, where 26 miners were entombed Friday by an explosion of gas, yesterday reached the gangway where many of the victims were pocketed. Two bodies were brought to the surface.

No indications were found that a single one of the 65 men is still alive.

NO FIGHTING ALLOWED.

One of the well known sporting men of Grand Forks approached State's Attorney Wineman yesterday and desired to know if there would be any interference on his part if the Jeffries-Ruhlin mill was pulled off in that city. The party was informed in very plain terms that there would be very decided interference—and they'll have to fight elsewhere or nowhere.

IT WAS MANSLAUGHTER

In the First Degree, Says the Jury in the Hamilton-Day Murder Trial in Minneapolis

PRISONER IS AWFULLY DISAPPOINTED

And Opinion as to the Justice of the Verdict is Greatly Divided, Favoring Hamilton.

Minneapolis, Feb. 20.—(Special to the Journal.)—At 9:45 this morning the jury in the Hamilton-Day murder trial, after being out nearly forty hours, returned a verdict finding Hamilton guilty of manslaughter in the first degree.

The verdict, to say the least, was a decided surprise to everybody, as it was generally believed from the testimony in the case that the jury would acquit the prisoner, or else disagree. Either one of these would have met with the approval of the general public, as sympathy is altogether on the side of Hamilton.

The prisoner expressed awful disappointment when he was told of the jury's verdict, as he was confident up to the last moment that the twelve men would find in his favor and acquit him of the terrible crime for which he was on trial. Sentence will be withheld for a day or so.

Opinion is largely divided as to the justice of the verdict, and the general sentiment prevails that Hamilton was either guilty of murder in the first degree and deserved hanging, or was innocent and should be set free. Apparently the jury compromised on the decision it arrived at, and a new trial will be applied for by Hamilton's counsel.

In its verdict the jury recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court. The penalty, under the verdict rendered, is from five to twenty years in the penitentiary.

KILLED BY FARMERS

The Wife of a Leavenworth Saloon Keeper Fatally Shot During a Carrie Nation Melee.

ONE RAIDER IS ALSO SHOT

Shocked by the Tragedy the Mob of Twenty Farmers Refrain From Smashing.

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Rose Hudson, wife of John Hudson, a joint keeper at Milford, fourteen miles north of this city, was shot and instantly killed during a raid upon her husband's saloon. One of the raiders was slightly wounded. Hudson had been warned to close his place, but refused.

At about ten o'clock ten men entered and called for drinks. When served they rapped on the counter, evidently to give a signal. Hudson jumped from behind the bar and grappled with one of the men.

In the scrimmage a shot gun, which one of the men carried, was discharged. The contents entered the wall. Mrs. Hudson, attracted by the noise, ran screaming into the room while a mob of twenty men, most of whom were masked, entered in answer to the signal.

In the melee that followed another charge was fired from the shot gun. It struck Mrs. Hudson, tearing off the top of her head. Wm. Webb, one of the raiders, was struck in the shoulder by a revolver bullet. Nearly 100 shots were fired.

Hudson carried his dying wife into an adjoining room and the mob retired without wrecking the joint. Sheriff Everhardt, who went to Milwood, has secured four prisoners, two of whom are John and Henry Wilson, young farmers.

NELSON ON GUARD.

WATCHING INTEREST OF THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Senator Nelson is looking after the interests of Minnesota in the river and harbor bill. His amendment for removal of the sand bar at the mouth of the Minnesota river and for improvements at Warroad harbor have been agreed to. There have been quite large reductions on the big items, but the Mississippi river reservoirs do not suffer materially.

Miss Orpha Andyke, one of the employes of the office of Register of Deeds Hancock at Grand Forks, had the misfortune to lose her gold watch the latter part of last week. She wore it to the court-house in her belt with a short chain attached. It had a hunting case and in the back was the inscription, "Orpha from Papa, 1891," so that it can readily be identified.

TERRIFIC COASTING.

Two Miners Shoot Down a Mountain Side on Pan and Shovel.

It is difficult to imagine a more daredevil and thrilling adventure than that of two men sliding down a steep, ice crusted mountain, one in a prospector's pan and the other on a miner's shovel, yet such a hazardous undertaking was accomplished the other day by Pete McCoff and "Yankee Bill" Murphy, miners and prospectors in the Sierra Madre mountains, when they flew like the wind down one side of the treeless quartzite mountain, Wyoming, a distance of two miles, with a descent of about 35 degrees, and landed in 25 feet of snowdrift in the 40 foot chasm of Cow creek.

Pete and "Yankee Bill's" love of adventure will brook perils of any kind and at any time for the pure love of sport, perils at which the tenderfoot would stand aghast. Both are known for the chances they take with their lives. The greater the danger the more ready they are to enter into it. Peculiar "cusses" these two rough miners, and it was in jesting wager simply that they raced down this mountain, Pete in the pan and "Yankee Bill" squatting on the shovel, both finishing with a record breaker and what might have been a neck breaker.

They climbed to the top of the peak over two feet of snow on the day of the adventure to wash out a decomposed quartsite which showed rusty iron ore and which led them to believe would carry gold. In the afternoon it turned off cold and froze a crust on the snow, so that the surface of the mountain resembled glass. It was near sundown when the two men finished prospecting and started to retrace their way down the mountain. The slippery iced snow impeded their progress, making the journey slow and dangerous at best.

Less than 100 feet down Pete jestingly proposed to "Yankee Bill" that they slide down on the pan and shovel.

"I'll beat you down," said Pete, suiting the action to the word by getting into the pan.

"You can't beat me," replied "Yankee Bill," at the same time squatting down on his shovel, unmindful of the possible danger ahead.

At first both slid along in a jerky fashion, for they were obliged to push themselves along at times. Suddenly, however, the descent became much more abrupt, and the two men launched into ozone and shot down with accelerating speed, like comets through space. The sensation they felt can neither be described nor imagined. They tore down the mountain side like an avalanche, each holding on to his metal sled with a viselike grip. A mile was covered in apparently an instant, when a ridge formation turned them off their course, and they flew still faster at an acute angle. The 40 foot chasm of Cow creek was inevitable, and before they had time to realize the danger they had leaped over its edge, cleared Cow creek and, as if human drills, bored the snowdrift 25 feet.

When dug out, Pete and "Yankee Bill" did not exactly need the coroner, but there were not enough plasters and liniment in camp to soothe their bruises. They came up smiling, however, each stoutly maintaining victory. The shovel and pan will be exhumed next spring by nature.

SHOOTING SCRAPE.

A Man With a Bemidji Jag Returns Home, and Getting into a Quarrel is Shot

THE VICTIM MAY SURVIVE

Shooter Has Sympathy of Citizens, and May Not be Molested with Arrest.

The Deer River News says: Last Saturday evening as the News was just through the press there took place at the Quigg hotel a short row which came as near resulting in death to one or both of the participants as a man could come and still live. James A. Quigg, until recently proprietor of the hotel, well known and well liked all over the county, and John Bonalie, proprietor of the house of prostitution in the west end of town, were the participants in a nearly fatal affray.

Bonalie had returned from Bemidji on the afternoon train and was apparently on the last half of a bad "jag," and not in the best of humor. He and a friend dropped into the bar room of the Quigg house and had a few drinks. Quigg was in at the time and from the start did not fall in jovially to Bonalie's boisterousness. Bonalie appeared to ignore the coldness and continued "jollying" Quigg up. Quigg would not soften, and as he had taken several drinks himself he was not in the best of temper and told Bonalie squarely what he thought of him. Words were exchanged in which old sores were raked and the men finally clinched for a fight. Notwithstanding the difference in the weight of the two men—Quigg about 165 and Bonalie over 200—Quigg was getting the best of it when his opponent resorted to the bull dog method and went chewing Jim's fingers. That was more than Quigg would stand, and pulling out his pistil managed in the clinch to get it up to Bonalie's face and pull the trigger.

Though it took the second snap to discharge the weapon, no one could reach it in time to stop the shot, and the ball, a 38-calibre, entered Bonalie's face just above the moustache, and plowing through the right jaw, passed out the back of his neck.

Dr. Russel was summoned and has been treating the wound daily. He says if blood poison don't set in Bonalie is in no great danger.

Quigg made no attempt to leave town though the wound was reported probably fatal. Everybody is in sympathy with Quigg, as he was never known to go to such extreme or to carry a gun. Even Bonalie has nothing to say against him, now that he is sober, being a mild tempered man when not imbibing.

There has been no arrest made yet and it is not expected that there will be.

MARRIED.

ATTORNEY DONAT BOYER WINS A CHARMING BRIDE.

A very quiet but pleasant wedding occurred at 10 Monday morning when Father Grandchamp, of the French Catholic church, pronounced the words which united for life Mr. Donat Boyer and Miss Palmire Sauve, both of this city, man and wife. Only the relatives of the contracting parties attended the ceremony, and the young couple will go to housekeeping at once.

The groom, while only a recent acquisition to Crookston's business firms, is a brilliant young attorney and has made many warm friends during the short residence here.

The bride is well and most favorably known here, having lived in this city for many years, and enjoys a large circle of friends who will wish her and her husband a pleasant voyage through life.

The Journal joins the many friends of the happy young pair in extending hearty congratulations.

PASSED THE BILL.

Congressman Eddy Gets Relief for Settlers on Northern Pacific Lands.

Elmer E. Adams of Fergus Falls received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Congressman Frank M. Eddy announcing that the bill for the relief of settlers on the Northern Pacific lands in Otter Tail county had passed the house of representatives. This is the bill which was made a prominent issue in the recent campaign. It was introduced last spring but before Congressman Eddy could get it through congress adjourned. Certain political enemies of Congressman Eddy tried to make capital out of the fact that it was not passed, but he showed the people that it was impossible to put it through and assured them that he would do it as soon as possible. He has made good his word and again showed the people that when it comes to accomplishing things. he can do as much as anyone.

ROBBED THE MAILS.

Serious charges have been preferred against Harry Katzenmeyer of Grand Forks. It is alleged that he took a letter addressed to C. Schoenheit from the postoffice on Friday, and cashed a check in favor of that party in one of the saloons on the East Side. The check was for $19.50. A warrant was issued for his arrest on the East Side for forgery, and one was issued for him on the West Side for robbing the United States mails. It is supposed that Katzenmeyer had been arrested at Beopen the private mail box of the party to whom the letter was addressed, but this is not definitely known.

A dispatch was received last evening by the police of the East Side that Katzenmeyed had been arrested at Bemidji. It is said that he has been drinking heavily for the past few days.

Sheriff Sullivan requested his deputy Chief of Police Hurst of East Grand Forks, to go to Bemidji and take charge of Katzenmeyer and bring him back to East Grand Forks for examination. Deputy Hurst returned with the prisoner on last evening's train and County Attorney Rowe will go over this evening to conduct the preliminary hearing.

It is possible that Uncle Sam's officers will want the reckles young criminal on the west side if he is found guilty of robbing the mails, as that crime must have been committed before the forgery of the check.

OUR LEGISLATORS.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT AND ANTI WINE ROOM BILLS KILLED.

The house committee Friday afternoon killed the bill abolishing capital punishment. The bill substituted life imprisonment.

Senator Jepson, of Hennepin, scored a victory and suffered a defeat in committee of the whole yesterday morning. When the judiciary committee's bill as a substitute for Jepson's measure to prohibit the recording of legal instruments with a typewriter came up, he moved its definite postponement, which carried.

Then when the Hennepin senator's measure to prohibit all enclosures in saloons came up, his colleagues took a hard fall out of it, with the result that it was reported back with the recommendation that it do not pass.

Senator Ives contended that in the supreme court decisions in the Barge case, cities and towns already have sufficient authority in the matter. For himself he objected to a law which deprived him of the privilege of going into a saloon and ordering a quiet drink by sitting in a booth and pushing a button, and forced him to stand up to a bar to drink.

Senator Coller objected on the ground that the law would effect unfavorably places in country towns where frequently saloons and restaurants were connected.

Senator Jepson made a short talk for the bill and when the committee arose moved that it be excepted from the general report and be made special.

Mr. Dunn's motion to postpone the roll call resulted in 28 ayes and 17 nays.

J. S. Vandiver, whose connection with the pardon of the notorious shoplifter, Mollie Morris, recently directed public attention to the fact that a man whose reputation was in need of fumigation was drawing $5 a day as clerk of the senate reapportionment committee, will not draw that daily stipend any longer. Owing to the perseverance of Senator Miller in his efforts to have Vandiver unloaded by the senate. he was gently slid down a greased gangplank into the great army of the unemployed.

A long petition from the inmates of the soldiers' home asking that their pensions be restored to them in full, was presented in the house Saturday by J. A. Peterson.

It was a spicy document and provoked an elegant row.

This petition made startling statements that indicated a queer idea of arithmetic. Incidentally it was stated that when a man received a pension of $8 a month, $4 of it was taken from him. or 100 per cent. When he got $12, he gave up $8, or 200 per cent, and it was left to the house to calculate what per cent was taken when $20 was taken out of a monthly pension of $24.

A queer argument on the drink question was contained in the following extract from the petition:

"Who are the foul of mouth and evil eyed ones that says the Minnesota soldiers' home is a den of drunkards? It it be true that there are a few at the home whoe bodies are shattered and filled with pain and disease, contracted in the service and defense of their country and their country's flag, and remember too strongly what is written in the holy book, "Give strong unto him that is ready to perish and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts; let him drink and forget his poverty and misery."

Mr. Dobbin protested against it, saying that it would not keep the old soldiers, and was full of misstatements, and said further:

"I don't believe there can be doubt that it was not written by any old soldier, but by some attorney for them."

Peterson replied in warmth: "I want to say that the statement of the gentleman is absolutely unqualified and without any foundation of truth. I can prove that it was handed to me this morning by an old soldier who is here."

Dobbin came back: "I think that petition was written by some one who is catering to get the old soldiers' vote of Hennepin county."

Plowman said that the old soldiers were entitled to petition the house the same as other enfranchised citizens.

Then followed a line of "old soldier" talk on a motion by J. A. Peterson that the petition be printed in full in the journal.

Mr. Riley thought it was an outrage to refuse to print this document in full, as he said: "The people ought to know the facts that are alleged in that petition."

Mr. Jackson took a different view of it.

"Nobody is denying the petitioners the right to petition the house. They have enjoyed that right, but the right of petition does not mean the right to spread a petition in full on the journal of the house. I am not opposing what the old soldiers want, but I don't favor having this long recital of U. S. history and things that have been done by the authority of the law and the stutates to be printed."

Mr. Stark declared that the house would not commit itself to any of the statements in the petition by publishing them.

The motion prevailed by a vote of 54 to 37, and the whole document will be on the members' desks in the journal Monday morning.

A board of art commissioners is provided for in a bill by Wallace.

The house met again this morning at 11 o'clock. The afternoon session was a joint meeting of the houses to eulogize C. K. Davis. After this service the house was photographed by a Chicago man with a large camera and a flashlight apparatus.

BADLY FRIGHTENED

Rumor of a Case of Small Pox in This City Caused Consternation on Saturday Night.

THE PLACE IS QUARANTINED

And the Autharities Are Using All Precaution to Prevent the Disease Spreading.

It was by no means a small sized scare that was created Saturday evening in this city when it was learned that the James hotel on Main street contained a smallpox patient, and that the hotel had been quarantined and placed under guard of special policemen. Early in the evening Mayor Campbell was notified that Mr. Mulcahey, the proprietor of the place, who had been feeling ill for several days, had suddenly suffered a dangerous looking outbreak all over his body, and that the rash appeared like smallpox. The mayor immediately summoned Dr. Dampler, who, after first thoroughly disinfecting himself, made an examination and concluded that, while the case could not be called a fully developed case of smallpox, it would be advisable to take all precautionary steps to prevent any spreading of the disease, in case it should prove to be genuine. In consequence the mayor ordered the house quarantined, and placed two special policemen on guard to guard the premises.

Up to today no new developments have appeared and the house, with its eight or ten occupants, is under the strictest surveillance, and no further cases, outside of this building, are anticipated, even though the case should prove a genuine one.

CHINESE NEW YEAR.

CELEBRATED YESTERDAY BY CROOKSTON CELESTIALS.

Sunday the almond eyed workers of this city celebrated their twenty-seventh "Sun Nin," otherwise Chinese New Year, as children under the flowery kingdom under the present puissant emperor.

Before the sun was up the windows of the different "washee" shops were pasted over with brown paper covered with Chinese characters, while the owners had arranged themselves in their best, and were paying formal tribute to the countrymen during the day by joyous calls and greetings.

"Goong he fat toy," which, translated in good United States, "I wish you a year of good luck," was exchanged many times during the day among the few celestials of this city, and in every "washee" shop a feast fit for the Gods—the Chinese gods—was prepared and eaten during the day.

OOM PAUL'S HOPES.

London, Feb. 16.—The Pall Mall Gazette will publish Feb. 18 an interview with Mr. Kruger in part as follows:

"Will no one arbitrate, will no one give us a chance of defending ourselves? We may have done wrongly, we have our faults and our weaknesses We declared war, but our hands were forced and we can prove it. Get some one to judge between England and us.

"But the Lord will help us in the end. We shall win. I do not know how or when, but we shall win at last."

Mr. Kruger says the Transvaal offered more reforms in one week than an older country would make in forty years, giving in. in all points. almost to the uttermost, but the uttermost was seized upon as a stumbling block.

Referring to his reception in Europe, which has bitterly disappointed him, Mr. Kruger said:

"I care nothing for the flowers; nothing, nothing. The people who send them are kind and I am grateful, but I care nothing for them. What I want is a fair hearing. If they only give us a fair hearing and justice. I ask for justice. We are a little folk, but we have made great progress."

Obituary Notes

Minneapolis, Feb. 15.—A Times special from Redwood Falls, Minn., says: Chief Good Thunder, who was one of the friendly Indians during the uprising in the sixties, and who acted as Gen. H. H. Sibley's chief of scouts, died at his home at the agency, six miles east of here, today of pneumonia. He was about 85 years old.

St. Paul, Feb. 15.—Alton Dalrymple, a millionaire, who with his brother, Oliver A. Dalrymple, owned and operated the famous bonanza wheat farm in North Dakota, died at his residence in this city yesterday. He was 48 years of age.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Gilbert A. Pierce, formerly United States senator from North Dakota and territorial governor of Dakota, died yesterday in apartments at the Lexington hotel after a long illness.

A HOPELESS CASE.

Hallock News: John Harstad returned from Bethesda hospital, Crookston, where he has been for a time for the improvement of his health, but it is hoped that his case may improve and that be will rally around in the spring. Miss Hannah Sandberg is also afflicted with the dread disease, consumption and her case is also a precarious one.

Such Are Nat's Views.

N. Campbell: The speech of Hon. Chas. A. Towne in the U. S. senate on Jan. 28, 1901, is now published in pamphlet form and should be read and carefully considered by every man, woman and child in America. The unimpeachable facts, the quotations from official government records, together with many new thoughts, all combine to make this effort one that will take its place in history among the foremost, and should arouse every lover of our institutions to greater activity in securing those blessings enjoyed by us—life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness to those struggling for independence across the seas and in foreign lands.

OBSERVE THE SABBATH.

A COMMOTION CREATED BY THE THREAT OF CLOSING CROOKSTON BUSINESS HOUSES ON THE LORD'S DAY.

There is considerable of a commotion among the members of the retail Clerks' association of this city, and a number of their employers, prompted, as is claimed, by the statement in the Times last evening to the effect that the clerks' union were disposed to enforce Sunday closing of Crookston business houses. It is well known that for some time the merchants of the city, through the efforts of the clerks' union, closed their respective business houses at 6:30 every evening, excepting Saturdays. This move has been generally approved by all parties concerned, but since the threat of Sunday closing has come to the surface, one or two of the merchants, who have signed the early closing movement, retaliate by threatening to withdraw from their former agreement and keep their stores open evenings as long as they see fit.

A Journal reporter today interviewed a few of the leading business men who are mostly affected in the pending controversy, and the following are some of the expressions obtained:

Fontaine & Anglim—We are willing to keep closed Sundays all the season around, excepting probably during the few weeks in harvesting and threshing times. There may be a sentiment in our store for keeping open evenings a little later than at present, as there are people coming to the city on evening trains who desire to do their trading in time to return on the morning trains.

J. H. Ruettel, of the Ruettel Clothing Co.—I am only too anxious and willing to keep closed Sundays. Am not so much in favor of the evening closing, because of the loss of trade which reaches the city on the evening trains. However, I signed the agreement, and when I put my name to a document, it stands for good.

Harry Falk, of the C. O. D.—We are going to keep open from and after next Monday until 8 o'clock, or later if business demands it, every evening. I don't want to say anything now about the Sunday closing. You'll find that out later.

E. C. Ferguson—I always keep closed Sundays, and will always do so, no matter who else keeps open. I also favor early closing all the year around, except in the very busy season, just preceding the holidays.

N. S. Gervais—I think everybody should keep closed Sundays, and observe the Sabbath for what it is created. Early closing is also a good thing in my estimation, at least during the dull seasons of the year. Of course, if others keep open, I am forced to do likewise. I wish the ministers of the city would take up the subject of Sunday closing, and show the violators of the Sabbath their folly.

The reader may draw his own conclusions from the foregoing opinions, as given by some of the most prominent business men of the city.

There is considerable talk among the members of the clerks' union and some of the business men to call a mass meeting and bring the matter before the public for open discussion, and it is likely that such a meeting will be called.

CLIMAX.

J. Efteland of Shelly spent Wednesday in town.

Mrs. G. W. Shrump spent Tuesday at Crookston.

The Klondike restaurant is being remodeled into a barber shop.

Mrs. S. Moen of Shelly visited with Mrs. Dr. Johnson on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. Bye of Nellsville visited with Mrs. K. O. Ostby on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore drove to Hillsboro on Wednesday, returning Thursday.

A very interesting program was given by the pupils school on Lincoln's birthday.

J. B. Massuer went to Crookston last Saturday to attend the M. & M. cattle corporation meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Myers returned from their visit to relatives at Alexandria last Wednesday.

Almost without exception the people of this vicinity have been vaccinated, and sore arms are quite general.

Arne Steenerson, who has been away at Minneapolis attending school, returned home last week on account of ill health.

Norman Rosbolt returned last Saturday from a visit to his former home in Wisconsin and with friends in the southern part of the state.

J. Ralston, John Fossum and Angus Sanderson were representatives from Climax at Hendrum Tuesday evening attending the masquerade.

A Sunday school has been organized by Miss Thompson of the public school and it is hoped that those interested will give their support and help the good cause along.

Dr. S. H. Johnson was summoned to attend Mrs. John Olson of Nellsville last Saturday evening. Mrs. Olson is seriously ill and her many friends are pained to learn of it, but hope that her recovery will be speedy.

Andrew Fronnes, the Nellsville hotel keeper, has been in town the past few days under medical treatment. He is suffering from blood poisoning of one of his hands, caused by crushing it between two cakes of ice.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Catherine Harvey, one of the oldest settlers in the valley, died at her home in Manvel Friday evening of heart trouble, at the advanced age of 72 years. Deceased was well known in this section and has a large number of relatives at Manvel. The funeral will be held from St. Timothy's church at Manvel today.

GONE TO THE JURY.

The Life of Frank Hamilton, Accused Slayer of Leonard Day, is Now in Jury's Hands.

ADDRESSES WERE ELOQUENT

By Attorneys on Both Sides, Nye Being Particularly Strong —Judge's Charge.

Minneapolis, Feb. 19.—The Hamilton case was given to the jury late yesterday afternoon. The day was devoted to the arguments for the state and for Hamilton. Prosecuting Attorney Boardman adverted to the fact that Hamilton himself on the stand did not deny the crime. He did not deny the confession to Rodney. The blow he received in the face must have been caused by his falling against the billiard table in the first scuffle, or may have been from a blow from Day's fist. And he had come back to the dead body sobered by what had happened, not to offer a silent prayer with Bennett,

> But to lay beside the body the > bloody knife with which he had > done the deed.

When Hamilton went out and returned with the open knife clutched in his overcoat pocket, he intended murder, deliberate, premeditated murder. After the elucidation of the question "reasonable doubt" Mr. Boardman took up the question of motive. It was jealousy. The jury might judge of this by the action of Caroline Stagle on the stand refusing to testify for fear of incriminating herself.

In conclusion, Mr. Boardman, dangling the clothes and stiffened with the life blood of Day before the jury, said:

> "Gentlemen, when you go into > the jury box, leave out all the > nonsense. Go down deep to the > eternal rock of reason and all > the gates of hell cannot prevail > against you."

At 2 p. m. Frank M. Nye began his address in behalf of the defendant, which lasted until 4:30.

"It is not incumbent on the defense to prove that Leonard Day died," he said. "Has the state proved its case? That is the question. With the exception of the ready made testimony of the police officer no testimony has been adduced that would have been relevant against any of the others there. The question would have been the same with the name changed, no matter who was on trial. The whole affair was a drunken brawl. Drunken men will gravitate and row. These witnesses for the state are ashamed that they were all mixed up in the affair either as peace makers or something else. I want these other fellows to take their medicine.

> I want all the black mystery > of this case cleared up by the > sunlight of truth.

"We don't know today who all were in that room and we will never know. I make no charges, but in a tussle you can't account for position of hands and arms. If Day held that knife in his hand a strong man trying to wrench it from him might unintentionally have plunged it into his body. Where did this bloody knife come from? There is not a scintilla of evidence to trace the ownership to Hamilton. That knife belonged to some one in the West hotel. We have brought forward evidence to how that it belonged to Day. There is no motive of jealousy. That is ridiculous.

> Hamilton had no motive for > injuring Day, but Day did have > one for injuring Hamilton.

Judge Brooks gave his charge to the jury immediately. It was a clear exposition of law and evidence and was listened to attentively by the jury, which has been sent out for deliberation.

Skrivseths Gallery

is the place to get good photographs. 216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and had with head aches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by F. H. Hillard & Son.

—H. A. Shulze, of St. Paul, formerly with the well known dry goods firm of Schuneman & Evans of that city, arrived here this morning to take charge of the dry goods department in the New York store. Mr. Schulze comes well recommended as an experienced and competent dry goods man, and if his pleasing demeanor is any criterion of his business ability, he will prove a most desirable acquisition to Mr. Chabot's mammoth dry goods house.

—Typewriter paper at the Journal office.

"I Advise All women who suffer from chronic diseases to write to Dr. Pierce."

That advice is based upon practical experience. After suffering for months, and finding no benefit result from the treatment of the local physician, Miss Belle Hedrick wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. She acted on the advice, regained her appetite, recovered her strength, and gained several pounds in weight.

"Write to Doctor Pierce" is good advice for every woman to follow. It costs nothing. Dr. Pierce invites sick women to consult him, by letter, free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little over thirty years, Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured over half a million women.

"I suffered from female weakness for five months," writes Miss Belle Hedrick of Nye, Putnam Co., W. Va. "I was treated by a good physician, but he never seemed to do me any good. I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce for advice, which I received, telling me to take his 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took thirteen bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and eight of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' When I had used the medicine a month my health was much improved. It has continued to improve until now I can work at almost all kinds of housework. I had scarcely any appetite, but it is all right now. Have gained several pounds in weight. I advise all who suffer from chronic diseases to write to Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company of solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly. $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses. straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn, St., Chicago.

NORTHERN PACIFIC

To ST. PAUL MINNEAPOLIS DULUTH AND POINTS EAST & SOUTH

To BUTTE HELENA SPOKANE SEATTLE TACOMA PORTLAND CALIFORNIA JAPAN CHINA ALASKA KLONDIKE

C. A. SHARKEY, Agent Crookston, Minn. ; Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A St. Paul, Minn.

SOUTH BOUND.	Arr	Dep't
No. 8 to St. Paul Minneapolis, Duluth and East	8:28 pm	8:28 pm
NORTH BOUND.
No. 7 to Grand Forks, Grafton and Winnipeg.	6:48 a m	6:48 a m

A. SHARKEY, Agt. Crookston, Minn. CHAS. S. FEE G. P. A St. Paul, Minn

Stevens Ideal Rifle. No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.

Made in all the standard calibers both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, 24 inches. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.

If these rifles are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.

Send stamp for catalog describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.

THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS AND DESIGNS.
Send your business direct to Washington, saves time, costs less, better service.
My office close to U. S. Patent Office. FREE preliminary examinations made. Atty's fee not due until patent is secured. PERSONAL ATTENTION GIVEN—19 YEARS ACTUAL EXPERIENCE. Book "How to obtain Patents," etc., sent free. Patents procured through E. G. Siggers receive special notice, without charge, in the
INVENTIVE AGE
illustrated monthly—Eleventh year—terms, $1. a year.
E. G. SIGGERS, 918 F St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

SENATE RESOLVES.

Tri-State Drainage Convention, Recently Held in This City Prompts Action.

NORTH DAKOTA VERY ACTIVE

Asks Co-Operation From States of Minnesota and South Dakota in the Move.

In the North Dakota senate last Thursday Senator Cashel, from Walsh county, introduced the following resolution, passed at the Tri-state drainage convention, recently held in this city:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Tri-State Drainage Association:

Your committee on resolutions respectfully submit the following report:

Whereas, There now resides in the valley of the Red River of the North and its tributaries nearly one million of people, and the valuation of the property thereon approximates one billion of dollars; and,

Whereas, Over twenty million of acres embraced in said area are not only assessed but subject to damage and overflow during the high water seasons, and the lives of the residents thereof endangered by fevers and kindred diseases resulting therefrom; and,

Whereas, The loss, lives not considered as a result of said overflows and lack of proper drainage and flowage of water has for many years averaged approximately the sum of one-half million of dollars annually: and,

Whereas, By the expenditure of the sum of one million dollars all necessary surveys could be made and a system of locks, dams and reservoirs be constructed, and in addition thereto over seven hundred miles of waterways be opened to navigation; and,

Whereas, The section of the country to be benefited is capable of maintaining at least five millions of people if the improvements herein suggested could be made; therefore,

Be It Resolved by the delegates in convention here assembled, representing each and every part of the territory embraced in the said Red River Valley of the North and its tributaries, which includes a part of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota, that the congress of the United States be and hereby is petitioned and urgently requested to appoint a federal commission to consist of three persons, one each from the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota to investigate the work and matters above mentioned, in conjunction with a committee from congress, and to report at the next session of that body."

Chairman of Committee. J. P. Mattson. Secretary of Convention.

Therefore, the state being deeply interested in the consummation of the improvements contemplated in this memorial:

Be It Resolved by the Legislative Assembly of North Dakota that it fully concurs in the foregoing, and requests the representatives from this state in both branches of congress to co-operate with the senators and representatives from the states of Minnesota and South Dakota, they being interested with us in urging upon congress the necessity for appointing the federal commission prayed for in the foregoing resolution, and we further urge the legislators of these states to take into consideration the recommendations of the drainage convention which appointed a committee to secure the co-operation of the interests of the people along the drainge streams and call a convention after congress adjourns to meet at Fargo or some other convenient or central point to which shall be invited the United States senators and congressmen from each of the three states to meet and confer with said drainage convention, with a view to a full and free discussion of the facts and necessities of the work congress is asked to direct, and bring the matter properly before the national authorities.

And Be It Further Resolved, That we invite these states to also concur in this memorial, and request their delegations in congress to co-operate with ours in seeking the speedy reli f sought for.

The secretary of state is hereby instructed to send certified copies of this memorial without delay after its passage to the senators and representatives of these three states directly interested also one copy each to the president of the senate of Minnesota and South Dakota.

NEW PAPER MILL.

WORK MOVING SLOWLY ON THE GRAND RAPIDS INDUSTRY.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 18.—The new water power and boom company is working along in its effort to get a dam in and a paper mill erected as soon as possible. This winter, for the first time in many years, the government has raised the gates of Pokegama dam during cold weather and the water has been so raised thereby as to seriously inconvenience the company, flooding the site of its mill. But pumps have been put in and the great work has progressed.

The mill building will be the largest in northern Minnesota, outside Duluth, and will all be of brick. They will include a wood room 48x72 feet, a grinding room 60x128, a machine room 70x200, a finishing room 64x92 and two engine rooms, one 96 feet square and the other 45x60. All of these rooms have ceilings fourteen feet high with basements twenty feet high. The plans show buildings handsome architecturally and solidly constructed. Stone for the foundation is now being received.

There will be room for a forty ton paper plant, but at first machines of twenty tons will be installed. A sulphite plant will be added later. The company has found it impossible to buy piling and timber though there are scores of farmers and settlers near by who have nothing to do in winter. So far none of them have hauled in a stick, though the price they ask is cheerfully offered.

TWO SENATE BILLS.

POT HUNTERS AND JUDGES OF PROBATE AFFECTED.

The senate committee on game and game laws Monday morning recommended Senator Meilicke's bill, prohibiting shipment of duck, greese and brant and other aquatic fowl from the state. The bill is aimed at "pot hunters" who last fall shipped thousands and thousands of ducks and geese to the Chicago market.

Both Senators Horton and Coller desire to help probate judges. The former wants their tenure of office increased from two to four years. The latter proposes a graduated revision of the salary schedule. In Mr. Colle's bill probate judges in counties with a population of 9,000 or less are to receive $600; up to 18,000 the salary is to be $60 for each additional 1,000 people. When counties contain between 18,000 and 23,000 people the salary is to be $1,200 and $50 for each 1,000 up to $4,000, which is to be the maximum salary. Clerks are to receive 25 per cent of the salary of judges in counties having 16,000 or over, but will draw $1,500 when the county has a population of 150,000 or more.

FATALLY SHOT.

FORMER FARGO WOMAN SHOT AND ASSAILANT KILLED.

One man dead, a woman fatally shot and an officer seriously wounded is the result of a shooting which occurred at Great Falls, Mont., Sunday morning. The woman is Marie Bell, who was at one time an inmate of a Fargo resort in the "hollow;" the man is Rudolf Smith, an employe of the Great Northern.

It appears that at an early hour Sunday morning Smith entered a Great Falls bagnio and met the woman who is known as Marie Bell. A few minutes later a shot was heard and the woman screamed murder. Officer Hogan arrived just as the would be murderer was leaving by a side door. The escaping man opened fire on the officer and shot him once in the leg and once in the hip. When the officer dropped to the door he began firing at Smith and sent five bullets into his body, killing him instantly. The policeman will probably recover, but the woman is fatally wounded. From papers found on Smith it was thought that his name was not Smith, but Gus Lehnart of St. Paul.

FIRE PROBABLY OUT.

MINERS IN UNION MINE MAY BE REACHED THIS EVENING.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 19.—A special from the Union mine says:

After the arrival of Premier Dunsmuir and party, shaft No. 5, which connects with No. 6, which, like that shaft, has been sealed, was opened and a big fan was started to drive a volume of air down and force back the gas and afterdamp from No. 6.

Manager Little, Inspector of Mines McGregor, Thos. Russell and a number of other mining engineers went down and were below about two hours and reported on coming up that they had proceeded some 800 or 900 feet or more, and that they had met a body of gas. They were pleased with the progress made and some believe that they will be able to get through to No. 6 and take out the bodies tonight.

Shaft No. 6 is flooded to a depth of 42 feet, and it is believed the fire has been extinguished.

It is said that the entombed miners are twenty whites, nine Japanese and thirty Chinese.

EDITOR HILL QUITS.

NEWSPAPER BUSINESS NOT SO PROFITABLE AS RAILROADS.

It is settled that L. A. Rosing, chairman of the democratic state central committee, will take charge of the St. Paul Globe some time prior to March 15. He will run it as a simon pure democratic organ, come what may.

It is generally understood that Jas. J. Hill has found the paper an expensive luxury. Since the Globe executed its remarkable aerobatic feat last year of supporting McKinley for president, the paper has lost caste with its democratic constituency. The railway king has decided to part company with the Globe. He has received bids from the Pioneer Press and the Dispatch. The latter paper would have used the Globe as its morning edition, while the Pioneer Press only wanted it to stifle the voice of its rival, and absorb its circulation. Mr. Rosing got the inside track and secured an option, good until March 15.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY.

ST. CLOUD FAVORED BY THE STEEL AND IRON KING.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 19.—Agreeable to request made by Hon. Alvah Eastman on the day of the big fire, he today received a letter from James Burtram, secretary of Andrew Carnegie, from New York, reading as follows:

"On presenting your letter of the 9th to Mr. Carnegie, he offered to give $25,000 to put up a free public library building provided the city gives a site and passes and ordinance obligating itself to support the library at a cost of $2,500 per year."

The people are delighted and the conditions will be met promptly. The reading room society now has abundant funds with which to purchase a suitable site.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission; salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

HAS STRUCK OIL.

Ex-Sheriff Steenenson Makes a Rich Discovery on His Rice Farm in Texas.

GOT OIL INSTEAD OF WATER

It Was Found in Well Digging—In Consequence His Land Rises in Value.

Nearly five years ago Andrew Steenerson, of Climax, was prompted to invest in a farm in southeastern Texas, for the purpose of raising rice, which is a profitable industry in that section of the country. He purchased 320 acres of Texas dirt, at an average of $4.25 per acre, and since that time has heard little of the development of his farm, until a short time ago, when to his surprise he learned that aside from having a fertile rice farm, he is also the possessor of divers petroleum oil interests. While digging for water in a section of the land, the workmen suddenly struck an oil vein, which has since developed an abundant flow, and the discovery sent the value of his land skyward.

It has long been known that there was an abundance of petroleum oil underlying the soil of that portion of Texas, as Beaumont, one of the principal towns in the northern part of and adjoining the county in which Mr. Steenerson's land is situated has an oil sponter 1,300 feet deep, which throws oil 160 feet high in the air through a 6-inch pipe. The product of this well is variously estimated at from 19,000 to 30,000 barrels per day, and all of this vast quantity of the crude liquid is piped from Beaumont to Port Arthur, and shipped from there by boat to all parts of the globe.

Mr. Steenerson's land lies in the oil districts of this section, and he feels rather like the man who truck it rich, although the property was originally only a portion of a 25-mile pasture, bordering on the coast on one side and enclosed on the other by a seven-wire fence. The flow of oil from the well that was sunk this year on his place caused the flooding of the adjoining marsh, which recently caught fire and required aid from Dallas to subdue the burning fluid before it devastated a great deal of other property.

In order to more fully investigate his new find, Mr. Steenerson expects to leave for Texas about March 1, and will remain there some time in developing oil wells on his land.

NEIGHBORS UNEASY.

OVER THE SALE OF THE MANITOBA N. P. DIVISION.

The Grand Forks Herald of Tuesday says: A great deal of interest is felt in this city in connection with the sale of the Manitoba division of the Northern Pacific to the provincial government. This arises from the fact that the sale will necessitate a complete readjustment of the Manitoba division of the Northern Pacific. Nothing can be learned definitely as to what the arrangement will be, but one of the employes of the road who is in close touch with the officials, said yesterday that he did not think that the change would operate against this city and East Grand Forks, in fact if anything in the matter of train crews, there might possibly be an advantage gained.

It is thought that the crews that have heretofore run through to Winnipeg will after the transfer run to Manitoba and double back the same night, and if this is the plan, East Grand Forks will undoubtedly remain the end of the division, and the dispatchers and clerks that are there at the present time will remain.

Another question that comes up that is of vital importance to the men who have been running on the Manitoba division, is whether or not hey will retain their present order of promotion if they are transferred to another division. As soon as business picks up in the spring, many of them are in line for promotion, and they are all wondering if they will lose the benefit of years of steady work as a result of the sale of the greater part of the division. If this were true all of the men would not be affected, as there would be more work for the Staples division and more men will be necessary to do it.

The officials of the road have been very reticent on the subject and a definite announcement of the plans that have been made will be anxiously awaited by the employes who are affected.

BADLY BURNED.

GAS EXPLOSION IN THE FORKS MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.

There was a very serious explosion of gas in apartments in the Union National bank block Monday shortly before dinner, says the Grand Forks Herald, as a result of which Gardie Walker, a young gentleman who resided there, was burned about the face as a result of which his eyesight may be seriously impaired, and the sight of one eye may possibly be permanently lost. Mr. Walker had lighted the gas and after a few moments had opened the oven door. The oven had in some way become filled with gas, for an explosion occurred as soon as the door was opened. Walker had his hair burned and the blaze blistered his face badly, and though these burns are very painful, they are not dangerous and are not thought to be deep enough to disfigure him after the wounds are healed up. Dr. Devitt, who was called at once, made the unfortunate man as comfortable as possible, but says his eyes are in such a condition that it will not be possible to expose them to the light for at least a week, when it can be determined to what extent they have been injured. This is the third similar explosion that has occured within the past few days, and it is not known yet whether they were caused by carelessness or by some defect in the stoves.

NECK BROKEN IN BED.

A MINNEAPOLIS MAN LOSES HIS LIFE WHILE ASLEEP.

James Stewart, aged 65 years, was killed yesterday at his home, 720 Sixteenth avenue north, Minneapolis, by the closing of a folding bed. Mrs. Stewart very narrowly escaped a like fate. It was found that the bed had not been properly set when made up for the night. Mrs. Stewart arose early in the morning to attend to some household duty and as she returned to the bed, the headpiece, a very heavy mantel arrangement, fell forward upon the bed. She leaped from the bed and escaped being crushed beneath it, but her husband who was asleep, was found to be dead when the bed was opened a moment later. An autopsy showed that his neck had been broken.

GONE TO REST.

CHRIS GREENHALGH DIES AFTER TWO MONTHS' ILLNESS.

Although hourly anticipated for some time, the many friends of Chris Greenhalgh in this city and turoughout the Red River valley will regret to learn of his demise Sunday shortly after 2 o'clock. He had been suffering for nearly two months. Deceased was one of the early pioneers of the valley, having landed in this city in the year 1876, and has ever since resided here. For many years he followed his vocation, that of painter, but of late years has devoted most of his time to horse dealing. He was 64 years of age and besides his wife leaves only one sister, in New Jersey, and an adopted son, Joseph Benoy of this city.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Baptist church. The order of Red Men, of which deceased was a member, will attend in a body.

NO NEW CASES.

SMALLPOX SCARE ABATING AND PATIENT IMPROVING.

No new cases of smallpox have been reported since yesterday, although there are a dozen other people locked up in the Hotel James, where Mulcahey, the owner of the place, lies confined with a mild form of the disease.

From reliable sources The Journal learns today that the only person in this city who is afflicted is rapidly improving, and had so far recovered that he was inclined to get out of bed. However, he was advised to desist from his intention, and he will be kept in close confinement until all danger of spreading is removed.

IT WAS SUCCESSFUL.

OPERATION ON A LADY WELL KNOWN HERE.

On Sunday morning Mrs. C. H. Jenks was operated upon in the Deaconess hospital in Grand Forks by Drs. Wheaton of St. Paul and Wheeler & Campbell of that city. Since the operation the patient has been doing as well as could be expected, and last evening was reported to be resting well, with the chances very favorable for a quick recovery.

Mrs. Jenks is the wife of Superintendent Jenks of the Great Northern.

ATTEND CONFRENCE.

SWEDISH MINISTERS ARE OFF FOR STILLWATER.

A number of Swedish ministers of northern Minnesota passed through here last Monday on their way to Stillwater, where the annual Swedish Lutheran state conference convenes tomorrow. Among those of the party which left here last evening were Rev. G. A. Matson, Black River, and Delegate Chas. Johnson of the same place; Rev. P. A. Matson, of Warren; Rev. A. Chilgren, of Stephen, and one delegate from the latter place.

AMES HAS A FIT.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MAYOR IN A QUEER ROLE.

Minneapolis, Feb. 19.—Mayor Ames yesterday issued orders to the police to stop any glove contests in the city last night and see that no such contests take place in the future. Mayor Ames explains he proposes to suppress all athletic exhibitions where life or limb are placed in jeopardy. This is in accordance with Gov. Van Sant's wishes, whose interference made the mayor indignant. He says he proposes to make the matter ridiculous.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac. F. H. Hillard & Son.

STOPS THE COUGH AND WORKS OFF THE COLD.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

Subscribe for the Daily Journal.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.
Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000.
TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.
Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Ord Bought.
INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.
C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist
Dealer in Drug,s Druggist's Sundries, Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.
Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.
Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

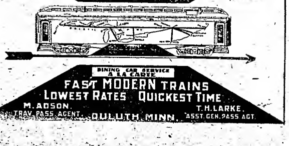
FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.
GEORGE Q. ERSKINE, President. WM. ANGLIM, Vice-President
J. W. WHEELER, Cashier. H. ROBERTSON, Asst. Cashier.
Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000
Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS:
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.
Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers

The Riverside Dairy
Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.
E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

This Will Inter t the Farmers.
The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N. First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making
FARM LOANS
at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.
Wheeler Land and Loan Company,
116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

Burlington Route
Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis
"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.
P. S. Eustis, Gen'l Pass. Agent, Chicago, Ill.
Geo. P. Lyman, Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B. & Q. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

C. L. DOBNER, Pres. G OBNER, Vice Pres. S. F. STAPLES, Sec. and Treas
Northern Real Estate and Mortgage Company.
(INCORPORATED)
THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.
First Class Farm Mortgages for Sale. Farms bought and sold. List your farms with us. Money loaned on improved farms in this neighborhood. Office over First State Bank.
REFERENCES—First State Bank, Thief River Falls. Scandia American Bank, Crookston. Scandinavian American Bank, St. Paul.



DULUTH, SOUTH SHORE & ATLANTIC RY
THE STRAIGHT-AWAY LINE
BETWEEN THE GREAT NORTH-WEST AND THE EAST
DINING CAR SERVICE A LA CARTE
FAST MODERN TRAINS
LOWEST RATES QUICKEST TIME
M. ADSON, TRAV. PASS. AGENT. DULUTH, MINN. T. H. LARKE, ASST. GEN. PASS. AGT.

Polk County Journal,
BY N. S. GORDON.

Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

THE CREAM OF NORTH STAR STATE PUBLICATIONS
Minnesota Home Print Press Association
NATIONAL PUBLISHERS AGENCY

MRS. NATION AND HER HATCHET.

Much has been said and written within the past few weeks in relation to Mrs. Carrie Nation and her saloon smashing hatchet, yet many people are wondering why such a crusade cannot be checked in the state of Kansas. The Journal was asked yesterday: "How is it that this woman cannot be arrested and placed under bonds to keep the peace?" The answer is simply: Kansas is a prohibition state, and its prohibitory laws are drastic to the extreme, in so far as anybody else could have performed this identical act. Everybody in Kansas knew of the existence of at least one hundred of these illegal saloons and joints in Topeka, and everybody knew, too, that under the constitution of that state not one of them had the right to open its doors, unless the bar-keeper or owner was prepared to go to the penitentiary. Kansas enjoys woman suffrage. The women helped to vote out the licensed traffic of liquor in the state, and it remained for Mrs. Nation to swing the hatchet which smashed the first mirror and chopped up the first mahogany bar. The net result is evident.

The Journal does not in the least sanction the proceedings of Mrs. Nation, because it believes her acts unwomanly and unlawful. But it merely tries to show another instance of "where patience ceased to be a virtue." The majority of the Kansas people who enjoy the right to vote, should rule. The majority made the prohibitory law just the same as in our neighboring state of North Dakota. Let them abide by these laws, or else change them to suit the popular sentiment. Mrs. Nation made no new law—she simply makes an effort to enforce the one already in existence governing the liquor traffic. But the officers whose duty it was to look after its enforcement "winked the other eye" whenever necessary, and now some of them are sorry.

Minnesota, South Dakota and Massachusetts contribute the dramatis personae for one of those constantly occurring dramas of real life that furnish the basis for the creations of romance. Twenty-one years ago Herman Buhl, who had been a prosperous merchant in New York city but whom misfortune had reduced to penury, found himself unable to provide for his two motherless children, a son of 5 and a girl of 7 years. He confided them to the care of the Children's Aid Society of that city and set out to recuperate his fortunes. When he returned to find his children, he learned that they had been sent to the West with a large number of other dependent children to be found homes where their environment would aid in developing them into good men and women. All his efforts to trace them were unavailing. Recently the son, who had been searching for his father, located him at North Adams, Mass., and went on to meet him. The son had found a home in a family in South Dakota and is now a member of the bar of that state, while the daughter is now the wife of V. J. Pierce, a resident of Kittson county, in this state.

Mrs. Ella A. Boole was attracted by the statements of the increase of the alcoholic habit among women, and entered upon an investigation in New York city. She visited the more fashionable restaurants frequented by the women of that city, and has tabulated her find. Of one hundred women who lunched at the Waldorf-Astoria, 95 ordered wine or cocktail; of fifty at Delmonico's, 45 did the same; of eighty-five at O'Neils, 72 had the same drinks of beer; fifteen of the twenty-five she saw at Sherry's took wine or cocktails, and the same liquors were taken by 40 of the 60 women lunching at the Manhattan. Four of the five at the Savoy did the same, but only 21 of the 75 at Maitland's indulged. We submit the statement to Mrs. Carrie Nation, with the suggestion that there is need of her little hatchet among her fashionable sisters in New York.

The Crookston Journal, in commenting on the recently announced census figures, holds up Warren as an example of progress. What's the matter with Thief River Falls? This city not only has nearly six hundred more actual inhabitants, but shows an increase of 853 per cent, against 96 per cent increase for the Marshall county town. The percentage of increase is what tells the story of progress, and in this respect Thief River Falls holds the banner in the Red River valley. No other city or village in this section can compare with it.—Thief River Falls Press.

There is absolutely nothing the matter with Thief River Falls, or its marvelous increase in population, and the Journal had no intention of ignoring this thriving little city. But, "to err," etc., etc.

The Olivia Press, published at Olivia, Renville county has been purchased by L. E. George, formerly publisher of the Fertile Journal, in this county. The paper formerly sailed under strictly democratic colors, but Editor George has deserted its political complexion and made it strictly independent in politics. Despite its off color, the Press is a newsy and well printed paper.

The St. Hilaire Spectator this week is the largest weekly paper that has come to our exchange table for a long time. It consisted of sixteen six-column pages and a two-page supplement. Editor Soli, in getting out this huge edition, explains that he was assisted in the work by Auditor Zeb and Clerk of Court Perrault, of Red Lake county, who furnished him with nearly nine pages of delinquent tax list matter. The composition and press work on the list is the best we have seen this season.

Cass Lake Voice: Gov. Van Sant and Auditor Dunn are equally committed to the board of control bill, which makes it in effect an administration measure, and probably insures its passage by both houses. It is represented by the friends of the bill that the board will not only take the place of the present board of correction and charities, but it will do away with the expense of a dozen or more local governing boards and greatly reduce the operating expenses of state institutions.

The Journal commends the action of the Retail Clerks' association in their effort to close the business houses of this city on Sundays. There is absolutely no reason why people of this city and the surrounding country cannot make their purchases during the week days. The practice of Sunday selling is not a thoroughly Christian idea, and should not be encouraged in any civilized community, our fair city not excepted. We do believe, however, under the existing circumstances, that the early hour of closing the stores in the evening has a detrimental effect on some of the business houses. The trade brought here from Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire, Stephen and other points should not be forced away from Crookston, because of unlimited time for making purchases, and returning home on the next train. The opinion expressed by one of our merchants in an interview, referring the matter of Sunday closing to the ministers of our city, is a good one, and if taken up would undoubtedly bear good results.

Notes From Exchanges.

—Warren Sheaf: Editor Gordon, of the Polk County Journal, is happy in the possession of a new Mergenthaler linotype machine, by means of which his bright and newsy paper will appear in new dress each successive issue, and thereby add much to its attractiveness and worth as a purveyor of news.

St. Vincent New Era: One unmistakable proof of the progress and prosperity of the Red River valley is the purchase by Editor Gordon of the Polk County Journal, published at Crookston, of one of the latest improved type setting machines, putting that office at the head of the class of Red River valley newspaper offices. Here's to the prosperity of the Journal and to the Queen City of the Red River valley.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND.

How D. H. McAlpin Defeated a Rival's Successful Scheme.

Several old acquaintances of D. H. McAlpin, the tobacco manufacturer who died recently, were discussing his business success, and one of them told the following story as illustrating the far-reaching effect of comparatively insignificant things sometimes:

"It was after Mr. McAlpin was well started in the tobacco business," he said, "that an enterprising rival began to cut into his business by advertising that he placed a dime in every tenth package of tobacco put up in his factory. One day a foreman of the packing room went to Mr. McAlpin and said:

"'I have a suggestion to make that promises to knock out this dime in every tenth package scheme of your rival. Will you hear it?'

"'Yes. Go ahead.'

"'Well, then, just put a dime in every package of tobacco put up in our shop and don't advertise it. It will advertise itself quickly enough.'

"Mr. McAlpin saw that the suggestion was good, and he accepted it. It cost him a good deal of money, but its success warranted it. Within a few weeks farmers were buying McAlpin tobacco, knowing that they would find money in each package, and if they had found diamonds it would not have surprised them."

A Male Soprano.

Mr. Thomas H. Coy is quite a normal, everyday looking young man, just over 25 years of age, of whom Leamington, England, is very proud, for he possesses that very rare qualification in a man—a pure soprano voice. When the usual period came for the voice to change, it was thought that the choir of St. Paul's church, Leamington, would lose one of its best choristers. But the years rolled by, and no change took place, his voice never showing the least sign of breaking, and today Mr. Coy stands practically unrivaled in the musical world as a male soprano, for he must not be confounded with the many "falsetto altos" that abound. Nearly three octaves are compassed with the greatest ease by the young Leamingtonian, and there is not the least suggestion of "throatiness."

A Terror of An Uncle

By Howard Fielding

Copyright, 1900,
By Charles W. Hooke.

George had come to town. It had taken him a long time to get there, and he was proportionately gratified.

The reason why he hadn't come before was Uncle William. Uncle William had been the reason for nearly everything since the days of George's earliest recollections.

George and his sister Nina had grown up in Uncle William's household. He had been, and still was, the trustee of their inheritance, the guardian of their morals, the embodiment, for them, of all the law and the prophets.

He was a good man. George and Nina often admitted that fact as the prelude to a long discourse upon the horrors of living in his house. It is singular what a capacity some good men have for spreading terror among their families and dependents. In this instance, though Nina was a girl of spirit and George was the most utterly fearless youth that ever tested rotten limbs in tall trees for the fun of it, they both trembled at the sound of Uncle William's voice, whether it was addressed to them or to the throne of grace before breakfast on Sundays. They could always fancy the cherubim quaking as the petition arose.

Uncle William lived in a somewhat remote suburb, and when George began to draw pictures that would really sell it became increasingly disadvantageous for him to reside so far from the market. Long he labored with Uncle William, but at last the solid financial argument prevailed, and George got a studio in town.

To him came Nina, flushed and flurried, about 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

"Uncle doesn't know I'm in town," she said. "I skipped; that's the word for it. He would give me fits if he knew it. But I simply had to buy some things. My, how the wind blows today! Look at my hair. I'll fix it before your glass, Georgie."

"Go it," said George, who was busy at the easel.

Nina took about 50 pins out of her great mass of yellow hair and shook the shining curls around her shoulders. At that moment a key was inserted in the lock of George's door, and a tall, fierce looking man entered. When he had the door wide open, he knocked and then, perceiving Nina, was about to flee.

"Come in, Jim!" said George. "It's all right, sissy; Jim's my chambermaid."

The tall man grinned amiably. He looked with a gentle admiration at Nina's bushel basket full of hair, while he passed his hand over his own round pate, which, except for a few grizzled locks over the ears, was as bald as an egg.

"I'm a little late with the work today," he said apologetically as he went into George's bedroom, which was screened by heavy curtains from the studio.

George resumed his work, while Nina toyed with her hair before the long mirror. Suddenly a heavy knock shook the door.

"Who's there?" cried George, and a deep voice answered: "It's me—Uncle William! Open the confounded door!"

Natural ferocity and acquired piety struggled ever in Uncle William's speech. He could not swear, but he could say "Bless my soul!" in a way to make it sound like a terrifying malediction.

George and Nina clung to each other in abject fear. Speechless, she pointed to the bedroom. George shook his head.

"He'll go in there sure," he whispered. "Here!"

He swung open the door of a large wardrobe that stood against the wall and almost pushed her into it. He locked the door after her and put the key into his pocket.

"Oh, Georgie!" she gasped, hearing the click of the lock. "Suppose I should stifle in here! Don't lock it!"

"I don't dare to leave it open," he said. "Uncle William's mighty nosy. But don't worry. I'll get him out of here in a jiffy and leave the key with Jim."

He ran to the hall door just as Uncle William's knuckles made it resound once more.

"You're slow enough," said Uncle William, entering.

"I was at work on that picture," George replied, pointing to the easel.

Uncle William adjusted his glasses and bent toward the picture, and that was why George had time to snatch Nina's hat out of a chair and thrust it into the big wastebasket, with a couple of newspapers on top of it.

"Whew!" whistled the young man softly. "That was a close call."

He would have sworn that the words were audible only in his own brain, but it was an uncanny trick of Uncle William's to hear everything, whether it made any noise or not.

"What's a close call?" he demanded, wheeling around.

"I happened to glance at my watch, sir," replied George, "and I saw that I'd nearly missed an appointment with the editor of Rawson's Weekly. I must hurry."

He seized his hat and overcoat.

"You're not going with that thing on?" said Uncle William, shaking his big forefinger at George's ragged studio coat, smeared with paint.

It came across George's mind in a second that all his clothes were in the wardrobe—with Nina.

"Oh yes," he said. "I always wear this when I go to call on those fellows. It gives me the air of an artist."

"Perhaps it does," replied Uncle William sternly. "Go ahead and come back as quick as you can. I want to talk to you."

"Why, you're coming, too, aren't you?" said George, aghast.

"Do you suppose I'll walk along the streets with a man in such a coat? No, sir. I'll wait here."

Death and destruction! No way to get another coat; no way to get Uncle William out without one, and Nina stifling in the wardrobe!

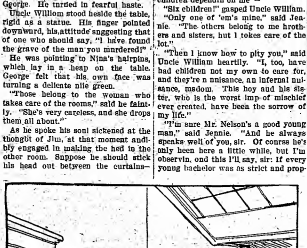
"My overcoat covers it completely," said George. "I wear it buttoned in the street. Please come along."

He moved toward the door, and his ears were delighted by the sound of Uncle William's steps behind. But suddenly they stopped. A nameless presentiment of horror seized upon George. He turned in fearful haste.

Uncle William stood beside the table, rigid as a statue. His finger pointed downward, his attitude suggesting that of one who should say, "I have found the grave of the man you murdered!"

He was pointing to Nina's hairpins, which lay in a heap on the table. George felt that his own face was turning a delicate nile green.

"Those belong to the woman who takes care of the rooms," said he faintly. "She's very careless, and she drops them all about."



"WELL, UPON MY WORD!" EXCLAIMED UNCLE WILLIAM.

As he spoke his soul sickened at the thought of Jim, at that moment audibly engaged in making the bed in the other room. Suppose he should stick his head out between the curtains—that head like the knob of a gatepost! Hairpins, indeed! No human being had less need of them than Jim.

"How do they happen to be piled on this table?" demanded Uncle William.

"I picked them all up very carefully," said George in a serious tone. "I always do, for the woman is poor, and she can't afford to lose them."

He stood with his back against the wardrobe, from within which came the sound of stifled laughter.

"I'd like to talk to this woman," said Uncle William. "She's in there now, isn't she?"

"I think not!" gasped George. "And, really, I must hurry."

"I won't keep you a minute," said Uncle William, "but I'd really like to see the creature who can distribute so many hairpins in a single day."

"It is the accumulation of a week, sir," said George desperately, and he tried to get in front of Uncle William; but the old man was too quick for him and drew back the curtains.

The room was empty. Jim, shrewd old Jim, the veteran of many years in a studio building, had gently stepped out upon the fire escape.

"Well, bless my soul!" exclaimed Uncle William. "I certainly thought I heard her."

He stepped into the bedroom, and at that moment George heard a voice—a woman's voice—say, "That's Mr. Nelson's room. Don't you suppose I know?"

"Who's that?" demanded Uncle William, catching the sound of his nephew's name.

"I'll go and see," said George. And fortunately Uncle William did not follow immediately, preferring to take a more careful observation of the bedroom. George ran out into the hall, and there he found Jennie Leavitt, the girl of his heart, and Jim, who had got around into another studio by way of the fire escape and so into the hall.

"What does he mean," demanded Jennie, pointing to Jim, "by saying that I mustn't go into your room?"

In a second George did more thinking than would suffice for an ordinary week. He knew Jennie Leavitt for the cleverest girl in the world, equal to any situation. She was a writer of stories and had been on the stage. She was as good as gold and as smart as a steel trap, and she would do anything in reason for him.

"It means that you can save my life, Jennie," he whispered. "Don't ask questions."

He snatched the hat from her head with one hand and pulled Jim's long apron from his stalwart form with the other. In an instant Jennie was enveloped in the apron, which reached from her chin to her heels and met in the back. It was made of bedticking and was not particularly becoming, but it was all enveloping, which was the main point.

"You're the woman that takes care of the rooms," whispered George. "And your specialty is dropping hairpins on my floor. Hush! My uncle!"

Jennie knew Uncle William well by reputation, though not by sight, and she realized that desperate deeds might need to be done to save George from his wrath. She seized Jim's long duster and advanced into the room.

"Well, upon my word!" exclaimed Uncle William. "So you're the housemaid. I think you ought to have another position. Too young, too young."

"It's the best I could git, sir," said Jennie. "I'm a poor widder, with six children dependin on me"—

"Six children!" gasped Uncle William.

"Only one of 'em's mine," said Jennie. "The others belong to me brothers and sisters, but I takes care of the lot."

"Then I know how to pity you," said Uncle William heartily. "I, too, have had children not my own to care for, and they're a nuisance, an infernal nuisance, madam. This boy and his sister, who is the worst imp of mischief ever created, have been the sorrow of my life."

"I'm sure Mr. Nelson's a good young man," said Jennie. "And he always speaks well of you, sir. Of course he's only been here a little while, but I'm observin, and this I'll say, sir: If every young bachelor was as strict and proper in his ways as young Mr. Nelson, sir, there'd be less trouble in the world."

"Upon my word, a deserving woman," said Uncle William. "Here's a dollar for you. George, have you got a dollar handy? Thank you. Here, my good woman, take this, and here are your hairpins that my nephew has saved for you. Come, George, we'll be going, or you'll miss your appointment."

Uncle William strode down the corridor, and Jim got him into the elevator, closing the door and starting the car without waiting for George. Clever old Jim!

The young man ran back in three jumps, while Uncle William bawled loudly from the descending car.

Jennie sat in the middle of the floor, weeping bitterly. She had overset the wastebasket, and there was Nina's hat on the carpet.

"Don't speak to me!" she sobbed. "I'll bet this other girl wouldn't have done as much for you. And I've done it for her!"

George grabbed her up and kissed her, she resisting.

"Since you're jealous, you love me," he said. "That's all I care to know. And I owe it to Uncle William."

"Where is she?" she gasped. "Where is the creature?"

George laughed and kissed her again. Then he tossed a little key into her lap.

"You've always said you wanted to meet my sister," said he. "Well, my dear, you'll find her in the wardrobe."

"George," yelled Uncle William from the elevator shaft, "are you ever coming?"

NOTICE TO HOUSE MOVERS.

The undersigned trustees of Crookston Lodge No. 79, I. O. O. F., will receive sealed bids up to 3 o'clock March 9th, 1901, for the removal of the old Polk county court house from its present site onto the vacant lot, corner of Roberts and Ash streets, north of Robert and west of Ash street, Crookston, Minn. Building to be moved as soon as weather and ground will permit; time to be arranged in contract. A bond will be required in the sum of one thousand dollars for the safe delivery of said building on said lot.

None but practical house movers need apply.

Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

—A. A. Just,
—J. F. Creamer,
—J. S. Crawford.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

In the District Court of the United States for the district of Minnesota, sixth division.

In the matter of James A. McMannis, bankrupt.

To the creditors of James A. McMannis of Crookston, in the county of Polk, in said district, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 21st day of February, A. D. 1901, the said James A. McMannis was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of the undersigned referee in bankruptcy, at the City of Crookston, in the county of Polk in said district on the 2d day of March, A. D. 1901, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which meeting the said creditors may attend, prove claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Dated Feb. 21, A. D. 1901.

OLE J. VAULE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

James H. Maybury, Attorney for Bankrupt, Crookston, Minn.

BANKRUPT'S NOTICE FOR DISCHARGE.

In the District Court of the United States, District of Minnesota.

In the matter of August C. Schmidt, bankrupt.

To the Honorable William Lochren, Judge of the District Court of the United States, for the District of Minnesota.

August C. Schmidt, of Crookston, in the county of Polk, and state of Minnesota, in said district, respectfully represents that on the 9th day of Feb., 1900 last past, he was duly adjudicated bankrupt under the acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy; that he has duly surrendered all his property, and rights of property, and has fully complied with all the requirements of said acts and the orders of the court touching his bankruptcy.

Wherefor, he prays that he may be decreed by the court to have a full discharge from all his debts provable against his said estate under said bankruptcy act, except such debts as are excepted by law from such discharge.

Dated this 26th day of May, 1900.

—August C. Schmidt,
Bankrupt.

United States District Court, District of Minnesota, Sixth Division—ss.

On the 13th day of February, A. D. 1901, on reading the foregoing petition, it is ordered by the court, that a hearing be had upon the same on the 26th day of March, A. D. 1901, before said court, at Fergus Falls, in said district, at ten o'clock in the forenoon; and that notice hereof be published in the Polk County Journal, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors copies of said petition and this order, addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

Witness the Honorable William Lochren, Judge of the said Court, and the seal thereof, at Fergus Falls, in said district, on the 13th day of February, A. D. 1901.

CHARLES L. SPENCER,
Clerk.

By L. A. Levorsen, Deputy Clerk.
(Seal of the Court.)

ORDER FOR HEARING ON CLAIMS.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss.
In Probate Court, Special term, Feb. 14th, 1901.

In the matter of the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased.

Letters of administration with the will annexed on the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased, late of the county of Pierce and state of Washington, being granted to I. U. Jennings,

It is ordered, that three months be and the same is hereby allowed from and after the date of this order, in which all persons having claims or demands against the said deceased are required to file the same in the Probate Court of said county, for examination and allowance, or be forever barred.

It is further ordered that the 21st day of May, 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m., at a special term of said probate court, to be held at the probate office in the court house in Crookston, in said county, and the same hereby is appointed as the time and place when and where the said probate court will examine and adjust said claims and demands.

And it is further ordered, that notice of such hearing be given to all creditors and persons interested in said estate by forthwith publishing this order once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Polk County Journal, a weekly newspaper printed and published in said county.

Dated at Crookston this 14th day of February, 1901.

By the Court, —OLE E. HAGEN,
Judge of Probate.
46-48

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION OF LAND CONTRACT.

TO JOHN W. RAPER:

Sir: You will please take notice that the undersigned, Aggie Whitman and W. P. Whitman, hereby elect to cancel and terminate the contract for a deed to the northwest quarter (nw¼) of Section No. twenty-six (26), in township one hundred and fifty-three (153), north of Range forty-seven (47) west of the Fifth Principal Meridian in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, entered into between herself and husband, W. P. Whitman, as parties of the first part, and yourself as purchaser, party of the second part, which said contract bears date the 10th day of April, 1900.

You are further notified that the said Aggie Whitman hereby elects to declare and does hereby declare all of the payments specified in said contract to be made by you to be at once due and payable.

You are further notified that the said cancellation and termination of said contract is upon the ground and for the reason that you have failed to perform the conditions thereof on your part to be performed in this, that you have not paid the payment upon said land which fell due according to the terms of said contract upon the first day of October, 1900, and the interest upon the entire unpaid purchase price specified in said contract which fell due upon the 1st day of October, 1900, or any part thereof, excepting the sum of one hundred four and 17-100 dollars ($104.17.)

You are further notified that the cancellation and termination of said contract will take effect upon the 11th day of April, 1901.

Dated this 15th day of February, 1901.

—Mrs. Aggie Whitman,
—W. P. Whitman.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss.

I hereby certify and return, that after due and diligent search, I have been unable to find the within named John W. Raper within my said county, and the aforesaid John W. Raper cannot be found within said Polk county.

Dated this 19th day of February, 1901.

—E. J. Sullivan,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minnesota, by
—Louis Gonyea, Deputy.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

CITY AND VICINITY

—Mrs. Hank Murray is at Fargo, attending her little sick daughter Margaret.

—Miss Bertha Remshardt of this city has accepted a position with the Fertile Journal

—Milford Atkins has returned to work as night foreman in the Great Northern yards.

—C. C. Hoch, who ventured out in the cold air too early, has suffered a relapse of his recent illness and is again confined to his bed.

—J. M. Richards, of the Crookston Lumber Co., is the proud father of a tiny little daughter, which arrived at his home early Monday morning.

—Shelly Signal: Peter Johnson, will go to Crookston tomorrow, where he will undergo an operation for appendicitis. Dr. Cleveland will accompany him.

—Mrs. Eugenie Loring, mother of Attorney Loring, reached here Saturday evening from Wisconsin where she had been visiting her daughter for some time.

—The Duluth passenger last Saturday evening was three hours late here, owing to a slight accident to the train and it did not reach here until 8 in the evening.

—M. J. Liverman left Saturday evening for Minneapolis, where he will attend the marriage of his sister, Miss Gryce Liverman, to Carl P. McKusic, next Tuesday.

—The managers of the Erskine creamery Friday closed a deal for the creamery machinery, by letting the contract to a Minneapolis manufacturing company.

—T. B. Hunt and wife returned from Altoona, Wis., Saturday, and report that their son Frank, who has been seriously ill at that place for some time, is rapidly improving.

—The "Pinafore" class is progressing exceedingly well in their undertaking, and the rendition of this renowned musical piece on the 27th inst., will no doubt attract a large audience.

—County Treasurer E. C. Helland of Norman county, came up from Ada Sunday morning to spend Sunday with his brother and other relatives. He returned home on the evening train.

—Eli Courte and Miss Clara Fick were married at the Presbyterian church in this city Monday. The young couple will leave this evening for Towner, N. D., where they will make their future home.

—The Washington birthday banquet which was planned for Friday evening at the Palace hotel, has been abandoned, as too many of those who were expected to participate desire to see the play of "The Parish Priest" at the Grand that evening.

—The creamery association meeting at Ada last Saturday was well attended, and considerable enthusiasm prevailed for the perfecting of the organization. A. Strand was elected president and H. J. Romstad secretary. Committees were appointed to canvass the territory and to report next Saturday, when another meeting will be held to make further arrangements.

Plaindealer: Yesterday afternoon Judge Hassell, of the probate court, performed his second marriage ceremony. The contracting parties were Miss Celia Connery and Peter Henderson of Fertile, Polk county, Minn. As the young lady was under 18 years of age, the written consent of her father was presented to the court, when the application was made for a license.

—Hon. Halvor Steenerson returned from Red Lake Falls Saturday evening. He had been attending district court there and was attorney for plaintiff in the case of Albert Gray vs. Red Lake Falls Lumber company, the former having brought action for $15,000 damages for the loss of a foot while in the employ of the defendant. The jury returned a verdict for $3,000 for Gray.

—Judge Montague, who appeared for the defense in the case of Jos. Bray against Duffy, Kaufer, et al., which was tried in the Red Lake Falls court, and in which plaintiff sought to recover $1,500, returned Saturday evening and states that the plaintiff was awarded $200. The action originated from caving walls a year ago last summer, which damaged plaintiffs stock of liquors and saloon fixtures.

—A furious runaway occurred Sunday noon on Main street. A farmer's horse, attached to a cutter, got frightened at Burkhardt's corner and came down the street at a frightful gait until it struck the corner of Robert. Here the infuriated animal slipped and fell, but got to its feet again before the driver could get out of the cutter. The runaway continued until the corner of Fletcher and Broadway, where the horse was brought to a standstill, without having done any particular damage.

—Roseau Times: Halvor Rasmussen, clerk of the court for Clay county for 16 years last past, but who was retired at the last election by a republican, was in the village over Sunday after a visit to Warroad. Mr. Rasmussen is a brother of our fellow citizen, Gunder Rasmussen, a prominent farmer of the town of Pohlitz, and father of John Rasmussen of Crookston, who represents Hamm's brewery. Mr. Rasmussen will visit Roseau next summer with a view of becoming interested in Roseau county real estate.

—Patents received at the land office Saturday for the following named persons: F. A. Kribs, Herman Zeigler, Jas. A. Dockstaetter, Robt. Clowers, John W. Sandstrom, Pat Cassin, Andrew Shaw, Albert H Kleven, Nicholas Schultz, Iver Iverson, Jeas Moen, H. C. Clark, six different patents; Andrew G. Ness, Samuel N. Randall, Andrew G. Sandburg, Andrew Jacobson, J. E. Carpenter, Frank Crowell, John L. Vinje, Fred S. Syverson, Ole Anderson, John E. Croon, Flora A. Carpenter, M. E. Kirsch, Maude A. Rouse, John T. Daughenbaugh, Emma Jean Woodall, Mary E. Brown, Elias G. Gustafson, Frank E. Cyr, Nat Campbell, three for Ole Erickson.

E. W. Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

—Mrs. E. Skrivseth is visiting friends at Russia for a few days.

—Ernest Barholz, of Fertile, is visiting friends in the city.

—L. Johnson, of Fosston, returned home from St. Paul Saturday.

—Elias Steenerson will loan money on improved farms at low rates.

—Milford Atkins has returned from a two weeks' sojourn in the Twin Cities.

—Miss Ida Stone, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever, is reported greatly improved today.

C. C. Bowen, the noted Crookston paint and brush artist, has hung out a handsome new sign for The Journal.

—The Boys' G. T. D. club were very pleasantly entertained Thursday evening at the residence of Mrs. Finlayson, on Houston avenue.

Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer for asthma cannot be equaled.—S. B. Gillespie, Guthrie Center, Ia., For sale by A. G. Anderson, druggist.

—Roy Low left Sunday night for Chicago, where he, after a short time visiting, expects to enter college again and complete his studies in pharmacy.

—Carl Harberg, a young man from the town of Russia, Friday shot and killed a large timber wolf, which he exhibited to County Auditor Petterson and drew the bounty he was entitled to.

Don't be imposed upon by quack "cure all" remedies. Mull's Pioneer cure for Impure Blood is a scientific remedy. A dollar draft in each $1.00 box guarantees cure. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—H. Rasmussen, father of John R., made a trip to Ada Friday night, and returned Saturday. He had been out in the Rainy Lake country the fore part of the week, and thinks that section will have a strong immigration as soon as traveling accommodations are provided, to reach it with less difficulty —Medard Mercil Friday closed a deal with M. Buzzell for the latter's saloon business in the opera house block, which he purchased about ten days ago from Knute Austin. Buzzell was appointed to a lucrative government position, and sold out in order to qualify for his appointment. He will report for duty Feb. 21.

—Mrs. Frank Gadwell, in Jerome's addition, gave a "Valentine" tea Thursday afternoon to the ladies of her neighborhood. It was pronounced a very "hearty affair," everything pertaining to the entertainment being heart shaped, such as heart shaped sandwitches, heart shaped cakes, and the hospitality proved most hearty to all.

—J. E. Campbell, one of the prominent business men of Fosston, left for St. Paul Friday where he expects to undergo an examination as to his physical condition, which of late has been greatly affected. His many friends here hope that his ailment may prove only trivial and that he will soon be restored to perfect health.

—Mrs. A. A. Miller gave a very clear and concise talk on parliamentary law Friday at the meeting of the Congregational Ladies' Aid society. This is the first of a series of pointers Mrs. Miller has prepared and will deliver for the benefit of this organization. Mrs. A. A. Just was present at this meeting, for the first time after a protracted illness.

—Landlord Gifford, of the Commercial hotel, received word last Friday that his step son, Chas. Milne, was lying seriously ill at Stephen, and in company with his family physician, Dr. Fawcett of Grand Forks, who came over Saturday, they left on the St. Vincent train to visit the sick man.

—The Minnesota & Montana Live Stock company, which was recently organized here, is starting out in business with unusual energy. The officers and directors of the new organization held a meeting Saturday at the Hotel Crookston for the purpose of adopting a constitution and by-laws governing their operations, and to complete arrangements for their business undertaking.

—Martin O'Brien, Ad. Kirsch and Ole Telgen departed Friday morning for their claims, which are situated about thirty miles north of Solway, where the trio will remain for a while. Before their return we expect to hear that a new townsite has been platted up north, a branch railroad built in there from the Duluth line, and other improvements made for a new "metropolis of the northern woods."

—S. D. Felsing, of Maplebay, president of the Windstacker Company, accompanied by Wm. Klinger were in the city Saturday on business in connection with the company's new factory building here. The weather has been very favorable for outdoor work during the past few days and the foundation for the building is almost completed. The directors of the company will meet in this city tonight for the purpose of completing some unfinished business.

—It is reported that the great St. Cloud fire, which destroyed property valued at nearly $150,000, was of incendiary origin, and detectives are at work on the case. The fire originated in the West hotel, and before it had gained sufficient headway for the flames to burst through the walls, a grocery house across the street was on fire at the rear. The fire burned buildings on both sides of the handsome Davidson opera house, which escaped with but slight damage. The heaviest loss was the West hotel and furniture, valued at $70,000, upon which there was no insurance.

—J. P. Johnson, the McIntosh merchant, returned from a week's visit to St. Paul Saturday. While there he attended the legislative sessions. He is of the opinion that a great deal less bills will be passed during the present session than in any former. One reason for this is that so many young members, who attend for the first time, usually are anxious to pass some bill or other, just to show their constituents that they are representing them, even though the new law becomes a dead letter before the session closes. Older members are trying to prevent this sort of law making, and matters are moving along slowly, but something good may result from conservative and considerate action.

All pain vanishes before Mull's Lightning Pain Killer. $1,000 offered for its equal. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—Attorney Wilkinson left Tuesday morning for Bemidji, where he will try a case against the Great Northern Railway company.

—Landlord John G. Morrison, of the Red Lake Agency hotel, came to this city last Tuesday to receive treatment for an injured eye.

—Jake Ide, one of the prosperous farmer politician of Eldred, came up Tuesday to shake hands with his many friends in this city.

—Dave Sanders wears a 13x17 smile this afternoon, and explains that a little girl is the cause of his happiness. The little Miss arrived Tuesday noon.

—O. K. Berget, deputy clerk of court, left last evening for a visit to Akeley and Wadena. While at the former place he will organize a temperance lodge.

"Stop that cough right away with Mull's Lightning Cough Cure. It heals disease of throat and lungs. It's pure and good for children. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—Gus Peterson, brother of Ed Peterson, manager of the Water Works & Light Company, who had been up from Fergus Falls to visit with friends for a short time, returned home Monday evening.

—Martin O'Brien, Adolf Kirsch and Ole Telgen, who have been spending a week upon their claims north of Solway, returned home Monday and neither one of the trio has even a bear story to tell the reporter.

—Pennsylvania Grit is America's greatest family weekly, and contains the latest news of all important events the choicest and best stories, profusely illustrated; there is something for every member of the family.

—J. S. Wheeler, of the Wheeler Land company, has purchased the building lot on Houston avenue between the Wilkinson and Turner residences, and will begin the erection of a fine dwelling thereon as soon as the building season opens.

—The large safe, which was formerly used in the probate office in the Fournet block, while being moved from its old quarters, slipped on the timbers on which it was lowered Monday p. m., and in striking the ground broke three casters.

—Hardware Merchant Onstad, of Neilsville, has sold his business at that place to John Steenerson of Climax, the latter having recently sold to Smith & Lanager. Mr. Steenerson intends to move to Neilsville as soon as the transfer is completed.

—The semi-annual district conference of the Norwegian Synod church convened at McIntosh Tuesday, and Rev. Vanier, of Twin Valley; Rev. Ostad, of Thief River Falls, Rev. Lien, of Gary; Rev. Bothne, of Hitterdal, and Rev. Quamme, of this city, were in attendance.

—Representative Chas. G. Rapp, of St. Hilaire, Monday introduced a bill in the lower house, legalizing village bonds heretofore executed or issued purporting to be authorized under chapter 200 of the general laws of Minnesota for the year 1893. The bill was referred to the municipal legislation committee.

Cass Lake Voice: Wm. Anglim, senior member of the firm of Fontaine & Anglim, general merchants of Crookston, spent Monday and part of Tuesday in Cass Lake. This was Mr. Anglim's first visit here, and he was much impressed by the progress our village has made during the fourteen short months of its existence.

—Mayor Brandt, of East Grand Forks, who is interested in certain legislation, is at the Nicollet in Minneapolis. East Grand Forks is preparing to institute several public improvements this year, among which is a new water works plant. Some paving may be done. The mayor is accompanied by Paul Hogan, also of East Grand Forks.

—A letter from Ernest Rolsch, who is enjoying the baths of Hot Springs, Ark., was received Tuesday by a Crookston friend. Ernest appears to reap benefit from his treatment, as he has already lost nine pounds of Crookston avoirdupois. Both he and Charley Holt are enjoying good health, and intend to remain at the Springs until they are reduced to "scare crows," so Rolsch says in his letter.

—Col. Davis, of the Great Northern land department, had an exciting jack rabbit chase near Gentilly Monday. While out there with a land seeker his noted grey hound, "Billy Marble," espied a Mr. Lepus, and gave chase. Billy was soon ably assisted by his associate, "Sport," but it took the two not less than a two mile run before "Billy" finally captured the long-eared victim, which proved to be a fine specimen of the jack rabbit family.

—Ex-Jailor Wm. Lawrence is in receipt of a letter from his father who with his wife is sojourning in his former home in old Ontario, in which the ex-sheriff states that he enjoys the scenes of his youth very much, and that a great many changes have marked the lapse of time since his departure. Mr. Lawrence wishes to be kindly remembered to his legion of friends in Uncle Sam's country, all of whom he expects to meet again very soon.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Wyvel, of Morris, Minn., arrived here Saturday morning on a short visit with Mrs. Wyvel's parents, W. B. Hancock and wife. W. B. is naturally proud and particularly happy, the young couple having brought with them their infant son, which prompts Friend Hancock to call himself "grandpa" today—rather good looking grandpa, too. Mr. Wyvel is the official court stenographer of Judge Flaherty of the Morris judicial district.

—Harry Walker, one of Jim Hill's popular conductors, who, by the way, is also an acknowledged sweet warbler, enjoyed a most agreeable surprise the other evening while attending Pinafore rehearsal. During the evening he was introduced to a "Miss Fairbain." The name sounded so familiar to Harry's ear that he felt forced to inquire of his new acquaintance from whence she came. Upon answering the question he found that the young lady was none other than one of his first cousins. The joy over this unexpected meeting, of two so closely related, was mutual, and Harry could not help but tell his friends of the meeting. Miss Fairbain is one of the efficient teachers in the city high school.

—Mrs. A. A. Miller will entertain at a six o'clock tea on Friday afternoon.

—Mrs. J. H. Ruettel and Mrs. M. B. Milligan are reported on the sick list today.

Sale of seats for "Pinafore" will be opened at Tom Morris' Monday at 10 a. m.

—Sale of seats for "The Parish Priest" opens Friday morning at Tom Morris' jewelry store.

—Mrs. Rose, proprietress of the Second street restaurant, is still confined to her bed with a bad attack of rheumatism.

—Mr. Fontaine, of the firm of Fontaine & Anglim, will leave in a day or two for California to spend the balance of the winter.

—Brakeman Frank Andrist is taking a lay-off for a few days to visit with his family, who are visiting friends at Lakota, N. D.

Curtain will rise promptly at 8.45 Wednesday Feb. 27th., thus enabling those who attend religious services at the several churches to attend "Pinafore."

—It is just three years ago Friday the evening Mr. Sully appears at the Grand in "The Parish Priest," that he played at this house in "The Millionaire."

—John Corner, of East Grand Forks, who was sent up for thirty days from the wicked end of Polk county for petty larceny, was yesterday discharged from the county jail.

—Brakeman Meyers, formerly on the east division of the Great Northern, now has a run on the St. Hilaire line, succeeding Louis Hale, who was accidentally killed recently.

—K. O. Flakne and L. J. Elwood came up from Beltrami yesterday on business matters. Mr. Flakne is enthusiastic over the prospects of building in his town the coming season.

—W. A. Case, district organizer of the M. W. A., returned from Doran, down in Wilkin county, Tuesday, where a new lodge was installed Monday with eighteen charter members.

—Dawes Howe and A. D. Stephens of this city have recently purchased of Onstad, the hardware merchant at Neilsville, one entire section of improved land. The purchase price reaches nearly $10,000.

—Not less than fifty land seekers from Iowa, southern Minnesota and northern Wisconsin reached here this morning and Crookston land agents are busier today than at any other time during the winter.

—The transfer of the Lanager Bros. & Co.'s hardware stock at Climax, which was recently sold to Messrs. Smith & Lanager, took place Tuesday, Mr. Dawes Howe having completed invoicing the same.

—An incipient chimney fire, shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday called the fire department to the residence of Mrs. Christianson on Houston avenue. The flames were extinguished before the fire apparatus arrived.

—Jas. Cameron was tried before United States Commissioner Ives, charged with having introduced intoxicating liquors upon the Indian reservation at Bena, and was committed to the St. Louis county jail to await trial.

—Word was received here Tuesday that John O. Brecht, father in law of Stanley Collins, who resides in the town of Fanny, is rapidly growing worse and that his friends entertain the utmost doubt of his recovery.

—The new window displays at the Woodham furniture are very attractive and are filled with luxurious necessities in bed room furnishings. The other is made up of suggestions in art and music. Don't forget to walk down Robert street if you haven't seen them.

—Mrs. Andrew Anderson died at the town of Scandia, in the southern part of the county, last Sunday night, as a result of cancer of the breast. She was 42 years of age and leaves a husband and several children. The funeral will take place at Beltrami next Friday morning.

Dr. L. D. Smith, of Grand Forks, came over Monday morning to spend the day with his wife, who has been taking care of Mrs. M. R. Brown for some time. The latter is reported rapidly improving and was able to be up Sunday for the first time in over four weeks.

—Dr. W. B. Young, of Minneapolis, supreme commander of the district of the order of Knights of Malta, stopped over in the city Tuesday and delivered an eloquent discourse on the benefits and merits of the order, before the local lodge. Dr. Young is engaged in straightening up the mismanaged affairs of former Commander Becker, who succeeded in bringing the order in disrepute in this district, and in many instances almost disrupted local organizations. The doctor has a large practice in the Flour City, but enjoys his arduous duties as commander of this ancient order.

Where the Inventors Live.

Patent office reports at Washington show that in proportion to population the District of Columbia is now in the lead with regard to inventiveness. Oddly enough Colorado comes next, while Connecticut holds third place. New York is seventh in the list. It is easy to explain the primacy of the District of Columbia, because many applicants for patents take up homes in the national capital in order to watch closely and constantly their interests in the patent office. But it is astonishing that Colorado should hold a higher place in the roll of inventors than any state in New England, so renowned for Yankee shrewdness in the finding out of new things.

Mrs. Chase's Good Record.

Mrs. Clara Chase of South Kingston, R. I., only 29, is the mother of 13 children. When School Census Enumerator Joseph T. Northrup went around his district he secured the extraordinary enrollment at the Chase homestead and incidentally he expressed his surprise at the youthfulness of the mother of the 13 babies. Then he was shown the children of the family, there being in the group a couple of sets of twins. Enumerator Northrup was also told that the husband and father of the interesting family was only 28, just a year the junior of his wife. About half the children are of school age.

WOMEN AS MANAGERS.

Three Widows Who Run Prominent Playhouses.

AMELIA BINGHAM'S UNIQUE POST.

She Is the First Actress-Manager In a Long While to Establish a Company In New York—Her Account of Her Labors Shows Them to Be Arduous.

The advent of a woman as the manager of a New York theater has called attention to what would be regarded in London as no novelty, but seems strange in New York, where Laura Keene is well nigh forgotten and Amelia Bingham's attempt to establish a stock company is a current topic. The fact is that one does not have to go out of Greater New York to find another woman in the directorship of a playhouse, says the New York Sun. Caroline Hoyt-Sinn manages the Montauk, in Brooklyn. When her husband died a few years ago, she took his place, but her labor is comparatively light. Only traveling companies appear at the Montauk, and the booking is in the hands of Klaw & Erlanger. A little farther away from Broadway a woman manager has more to occupy her mind. Mrs. Abell-Brinker is the manager and leading actress of the Abell-Brinker repertory stock company at the New Century, in Newark. Mrs. Brinker is remembered as Miss Abell, a young actress of good ability and very pretty person. She and her husband introduced their company successfully to Newark, with themselves as the leaders. Mrs. Brinker had been the principal actress in a similar Newark organization, and everything was made ready for a vigorous rivalry this season. Mr. Brinker's tragic death in a New York hotel did not materially alter the plans. Their honeymoon was sadly ended, but the young widow pluckily went along alone with the stock company with fine success.

AMELIA BINGHAM.

Going a little farther, one finds a woman as the manager of a repertory stock company that is second in popularity to only one of the numerous organizations of this sort throughout the United States. Mrs. John A. Forepaugh directs Forepaugh's theater in Philadelphia and the weekly change dramatic company that is stationary there. She does not act, but her duties are actual and arduous. Mrs. Forepaugh's is another case of a woman continuing her husband's work cut short by his death. John A. Forepaugh, who built the theater that bears his name, was a son of Adam Forepaugh of circus fame.

It will be seen by this that Amelia Bingham's position at the Bijou theater, in any way an odd one, is in several points unique. The other woman managers are only carrying on businesses that were got into running order by their husbands, while Miss Bingham started her stock company by herself. She says that soon, next season possibly, she will have a theater of her own. This is a possibility of the future, but facts of the present about her methods are more interesting. Any one who supposes that now that Miss Bingham, having mounted the first steps of the ladder that her ambition urges her to climb, is lying in lazy satisfaction is mistaken. Her account of her day's work dissipates any such notion.

"I rise always at 9 o'clock," says she. "At 10 I read my personal mail, and half an hour later I call up the treasurer of the Bijou to inquire about the advance sale. At 11 I see my business manager, and the subjects of our conversations vary, but there are always some details to be discussed. It takes me fully an hour after that to dictate answers to my correspondents. You know how full an actress' mail is. I never refuse the requests of autograph collectors. My afternoon duties vary. Sometimes I read plays sent to me, and I assure you there are enough of these to fill all my days comfortably. But there is much also to be attended to. Just now I am busy seeing to posters and photographs for next fall."

It is worth interrupting Miss Bingham here to mention the care she has given to her pictorial advertising. Nothing more striking than the partly photographed, partly sketched pictures of her company has ever advertised a play in New York. Personally Miss Bingham is fortunate in photography. She always takes a good picture, some- [illegible] Miss Bingham's policy of not pushing herself forward as a star, but as a manager, has kept her from circulating her own portraits except along with those of the other members of her company.

"At 7 in the evening," Miss Bingham continued, "I am in my dressing room. Usually about 7:30 I see the stage director to talk over any point that may have arisen as to that part of the house. As people acquainted with the stage know, the stage director's duty is by no means finished when the play has been produced. We have rehearsals every Monday morning, so that none of us may become slipshod. I always attend these and also the understudy rehearsals. All this, with eight performances a week, does not give me time for that lazy and indolent life that careless people credit all actors with. My ambitions for my company are almost boundless, and I feel that by perseverance I shall accomplish at least most of them. It is my hope to some day have an organization which will rank with that directed by Augustin Daly in its earlier years. I have not the slightest desire to figure as a 'star,' but simply as an actress-manager."

In pursuance of that policy she has not answered a curtain call alone since the first night, when she made a speech. Opinions differ as to Miss Bingham's acting ability, but her business talent seems unassailable. She says that she always longed for the practical side of the stage, tiring of acting one role week in and week out when she had nothing to do with the management. For two months before she produced "The Climbers" she had worked early and late, attending to every detail, from selecting the costumes and scenery to rehearsing the play and studying her own part. Surely she has no feminine fear of work, and because she is a woman what she is doing seems more interesting than it would if a man were doing it as well or better.

LAST SLAVE SHIP CAPTAIN

Captain Foster Brought Last Human Cargo to America.

Captain William Foster, commander of the last American slave vessel to make the perilous voyage to the slave market of Africa, died at his home near Mobile the other day. Captain Foster was the commander of the slave ship Clotilda that brought the last cargo of slaves to the United States. The trip was made only after many thrilling scenes, requiring weeks of skillful maneuvering and dangerous exploits. Just before the north and south engaged in war Captain Foster built the Clotilda and announced that he would make a trip to the gulf of Guinea despite the fact that United States war vessels had burned and sunk the ships of many who tried the voyage. He was warned repeatedly of the dangers attached to such an undertaking, but he equipped his ship and sailed away.

He reached the African coast after going out of his course many times and remained along the coast for a month. He succeeded in getting 100 negroes on board before he was detected by the watchful vessels of the United States. He was pursued, but easily outdistanced his pursuers and two months later arrived in Mobile bay with his human cargo. A steamboat met the slave ship during the night, and the negroes were transferred in order to avoid the custom house officials. Captain Foster set his vessel on fire and passed through Mobile without being detected. The government authorities hunted for him for months, but he eluded them until the close of the war, when he retired from the sea.

HOW FARMERS FARED IN 1900

They Received $185,290,172 More For Their Products Than In 1899.

The statistical division of the department of agriculture in announcing agricultural products of 1899 and 1900 says they make an encouraging showing, but not so large an aggregate gain as was estimated late in December, before the average farm prices could be made out with reasonable accuracy.

It now appears that the prices to farmers for corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, potatoes and hay in 1899 were $1,676,170,410 and in 1900 were $1,861,466,582, or a gain over the former year of $185,296,172. The average prices for each of the products enumerated were higher in 1900 than in 1899, the advance in some cases, however, being but the fraction of a cent. The greatest advances were observed in corn and hay, the advance in the price of the latter giving the farmers over $33,000,000 more than in 1900 for a crop of 50,000,000 tons than was received in 1899 for a crop of 56,655,756 tons.

The only crops in the list for which the farmers received less in 1900 than in 1899 were barley and buckwheat, but the loss in these crops was slightly restricted by the advance in the average price of barley of five-eighths of a cent and in buckwheat an advance of one-eighth of a cent.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box. 25c.

S. C. JOHNSON'S

Feed Store.

Baled hay per ton......	10.00
Baled hay, per bale......	55c
Oats per bu........	28c to 33c
Ground Corn per cwt......	85c
Ground Corn per ton..	$16.50
Ground Feed, oats and barley per 100 lbs........	90c
Shorts, per 100 lbs........	90c
Shorts, per ton........	$15.00
Bran per 100 lbs........	75c
Bran per ton........	$14.50
Shelled corn per bushel....	45c
Shelled corn per 50 lb......	42c
Oyster shells per lb........	3c
Crystal Grit per lb........	3c
Low grade flour per cwt.	$1.00

Telephone 108.
Cor. Main and Fletcher Sts.

AWFUL DISASTER.

One of the Most Horrible Mine Accidents in Canada's History Occurred Yesterday.

SIXTY MEN ARE ENTOMBED

Rescuing Crews Are Badly Hampered by Fires Which Broke Out After Explosion

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 16.—An explosion that is feared will be one of the most horrible mine accidents in the history of the Dominion occurred yesterday afternoon at the Union mines, owned by the Wellington Colliery company, in which James Dunsmuir, the premier of the province, is the principal shareholder. Telegraphic advices received so far have given no complete story of the accident, but newspaper correspondents are now hurrying by steamers and tug boats to the scene and the full facts will shortly be obtained.

As near as can be gathered, the explosion took place at about 11 o'clock yesterday afternoon in No. 6 shaft, one of the workings of the big coal mine there. This particular shaft is situated in the village of Cumberlnud. There were 60 men in it when the explosion took place and not one of them escaped.

The explosion ignited the mine, wrecking the shaft from midway down to the bottom and filling it with a solid mass of rocks, earth and timbers.

The first explosion was followed by several more, while the dense volume of smoke issuing from the vent holes indicated only too truly that fire as well as gas was doing its destructive work below. As soon as practicable after the accident the men of the morning shift in No. 5 shaft organized a rescuing party. No. 5 is situated about a mile from No. 6, but the two workings are connected by a tunnel and through this channel an attempt was made to help the unfortunate fellows down in the wrecked shaft.

They had not cut their way many rods through debris when they encountered fire, which rendered the place untenable and obliged the party to desist for a time. They soon returned to their apparently hopeless task and labored heroically until overcome at last by gas and smoke, they reluctantly withdrew from shaft No. 5 and commenced work on a long cut from No. 4, the only other means of reaching the men. Wok on this was prosecuted with the greatest vigor until abatement of the fire in No. 5 enabled them once more to return there. Later news is somewhat more encouraging, it being stated that the fans are again working and that the cage has got 175 feet and is still going down in No. 4 shaft.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

A Breckenridge Fireman in the Role of a Stubborn Husband.

The East Grand Forks Courier of Thursday prints the following bit of matrimonial news:

Harry T. Meyers, a Great Northern fireman who comes from Breckenridge, stands in the rather unique attitude of a man who has lately assumed the responsibility of matrimony but refuses to act the role of the loving husband. In fact, his martial relations are of the most reserved sort and he stands aloof from his fond and affectionate wife and sees her not. It hppened something like this:

During his trips on the railroad he met and won the heart of Miss Annie Howard, of Grand Forks. He promised to marry her and relying upon his honor the girl yeilded to his advances and they became unduly intimate. That was some time ago and when the time came for them to announce the wedding, the groom stated that his promises had been lightly made and would in no wise be considered. She sought redress in the court of justice and charged him with seduction. Last Thursday he was arrested at Grand Forks and when brought before the judge was told to choose between marrying the girl or facing trial in the court. He chose the marriage route out of the difficulty and they were wed.

He turned over his time checks for the month justpast for her use and has promised to do so next month, but further than this he refuses to go. Legally he is her husband but he refuses to live with her or in any way recognize her as his spouse.

"SCOTCH NELL" MURRAY

Once More Sentenced to Fargo Jail for Habitual Drunkenness.

A life wrecked by the appetite for rum is the brief story of "Scotch Nell Padden, the woman who now lies in the Fargo city jail under sentence for drunkenness. A woman whose thirty years has aged her, and the luster of whose mind and talent has been dimmed by the unbridled use of intoxicants is her condition today.

The story of her life is an interesting one and points a temperance lesson most impressive. When 14 years of age she entered one of the largest theatres in Edinburgh, Scotland, playing juvenile parts and singing Scotch and Irish ballads. She was possessed of uncommon beauty and her face attracted the attention of a young Englishman, the scion of a wealthy family. His name was Joseph Harvey Tragilgas, and when they met it was a case of love at first sight. He was 17 and she 16. A secret marriage was performed, and fearing to brave the wrath of the young man's father, they came to Winnipeg, where they lived for some time. Three daughters were born to them, and they are now in a convent at Winnipeg.

After a session of quiet, the young wife yearned again for the glitter of life on the stage, with its wine and folly and midnight suppers. She became discontented and returned to the footlights. Her husband secured a divorce and placed the children in the care of a convent. Possessing a voice of rare sweetness and power, she engaged with some of the best light opera companies, and her career for some years was of the butterfly order. She sang in "Pinafore," and appeared in a number of Irish dramas. Her best successes were in "Rob Roy" and "The Heart of the Mid Lothian."

Fast company and too frequent use of stimulants led her to the inevitable end and the time came when she ceased to be an ornament to the stage. Her course downward was checked for a time when she met and wedded Thos. Padden at Winnipeg. Realizing a snug sum from her estate in Scotland, they took the money and started farming at Langdon, N. D., where they have lived for some years.

The appetite for liquor was strong with her, and her husband prevailed upon her to take the gold cure. This she did and until last fall she abstained wholly from the use of intoxicants. Since then poor "Nell" has inhabited the lock-ups of every town and city she has visited.

Her husband, Thos. Padden, is now said to be at Bemidji, working in the woods.

RAIDED A DEPOT.

Kansas Women Smash Whiskey Jugs and Booze Flows Freely.

Goffs, Kan., Feb. 16.—Fourteen masked women broke into the Missouri Pacific freight depot last night and took fifteen jugs of whisky and four kegs of beer.

Breaking into a freight depot is a penitentiary offense and the Missouri Pacific officials announce that detectives will be brought here to establish the identity of the women. The destruction of the liquor, it is contended, was unlawful, as the depot is not a saloon and the liquor came from another state. It is believed that an example will be made of the raiders, if possible, to prevent raids on depots in other parts of the state. The women raided all the joints here Wednesday and a determined fight against saloons has been kept up since then.

Topeka, Feb. 15.—Today at Olep, Kan., a large troop of women headed by the ministers of the town waited upon the jointists and gave them just 15 minutes to close. The women were armed with hatchets and threatened to smash the fixturs. The jointists did not wait to parley, but immediately closed. The same process was repeated at Cotonwood Falls.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

MORE WICKEDNESS IN MAYOR AAKER'S BAD TOWN.

A Fargo dispatch says: Last evening the police department on the Moorhead side of the river were called to a boarding house on the north side to arrest one Albert Hollenbeck on the charge of assault, which was preferred by the lady of the house.

She states that the man came to the house where he was boarding after she had the supper work out of the way and demanded his evening refreshments, which was forthwith refused, as he did not appear at the proper time.

She further alleges that he set about to pound her and pulled her hair and in other ways grievously annoy her, making it necessary that he be put under restraint.

After several unsuccessful efforts to procure a man willing to put up bonds the man spent the night in the police station.

He seemed to be under the influence of liquor, but claims the story of the landlady to be a fallacy.

RENNE GETS OFFICE.

A Well Known Crookston Citizen Recognized by State M. W. A.

St. Paul, Feb. 16.—The biennial session of the state camp of Modern Woodmen was held Thursday and transacted a great deal of business of interest to the order. There was much interest displayed in the contests for the various offices, which resulted as follows: Consul, H. A. Moore, St. Paul; advisor, S. W. Cark, Harris; clerk, A. B. Cornell, Hewett; banker, C. A. Sherdahl, Monticello; escort, B. F. Gurness, Barnesville; watchman, J. W. Crabtree, Herman; sentry, P. L. Reene, Crookston; physician, Dr. Larson, Hermann. Directors, J. A. Allen of Sherbourne, W. J. Dunphy of St. Paul and A. E. Halvorson of Duluth. Delegates at large, W. C. Whiteman, Ortonville. After a social session the convention adjourned.

MUST VACCINATE.

An Order From Headquarters Requiring Railroad Men to Submit to Piercing.

A bulletin was received at Great Northern headquarters in this city today signed by Supt. C. H. Jenks, requiring all employes of railroads, mining camps, lumber firms, or other corporations to submit to viccination, in accordance with an order issued by the state board of health. This step was deemed necessary through the general prevalence of smallpox throughout the northwest, and none of the boys who come under this provision have been found lacking sand to undergo the ordeal excepting Lineman Bill Hall. He would prefer to have his operation performed upon H. F. Brown's Holzman.

A La The Times.

The editor was dying, but when the doctor placed his ear to the patient's heart and murmured sadly: "Poor fellow, circulation almost gone!" he raised himself up and gasped: "'Tis false, we have the largest circulation of any paper in thec ounty!" Then he sank back on his pillow with a triumphant smile upon his features. He was consistent to the end—lying about his circulation.

SMALLPOX AT G. F.

A Saturday Evening Passenger From Solway Excites the Grand Forkers.

PROMPT MEASURES TAKEN

Authorities do Everything Possible to Prevent the Spreading of the Dreaded Disease.

Quite a little excitement was caused at Grand Forks Saturday evening by the arrival in the city of a party who it developed was suffering from smallpox of a mild type. He came in on the Duluth train and it was not known that there was anything the matter with him till about 8 o'clock last evening, when he stopped one of the policemen of the city and requested to be taken to the office of a physician, as he was ill.

The policeman did as requested and after a thorough examination the doctor announced that the man was suffering with smallpox.

He was at once taken to the detention hospital and a number who had in the meantime been exposed were thoroughly disinfected. On account of the prompt action of the authorities in seeing that all who were exposed were thoroughly disinfected, and the fact that the type of the disease is very mild, there is not the least fear felt of a further spread of the disease.

The man gave his name as Dan McDonald, and says he has been in the employ of Blakely & Farley near Solway for the greater part of the winter and that he had been too ill to work for the past eight days. He has two sisters in Fargo, Mrs. McLain and Miss May McDonald. He says that for some time past he has made his home at Hilton, and wishes it to be known that he belongs to the M. W. A. at Olga, N. D.

It was stated at a late hour Saturday night that the type of the disease was of the very mildest, and that there was no danger of a further spread of the disease after the precautions that had been taken.

Passengers from Grand Forks this morning state that the case is believed to be the genuine article, but that no further cases have resulted from the exposure of McDonald.

Conductor Bryant and his brakeman, on whose train McDonald went to the Forks, have taken every precaution to prevent the spreading of the pest by having their wearing apparel thoroughly fumigated. Vaccination has also been resorted to and little fear is entertained at Grand Forks of further trouble as a result of the McDonald case.

THROUGH A JOSH.

THAT'S HOW MR. BUZZELL GOT HIS APPOINTMENT.

Before leaving for his new post of duty, Walter Buzzell, the recently appointed government cruiser and estimator, who goes to Muskogee, Indian Territory, told a Journal reporter how he became a candidate for the office, and landed the fat plum, which nets him $110 per month, besides other valuable emoluments.

"One day," he said, "a friend of mine who is a telegraph operator, overheard a message to Tams Bixby asking him to look after the appointment of a new timber estimator for the Indian Territory. I told my friend in a joshing way to telegraph Tams that I would take a job of that kind. My friend left, and I had thought no more about the matter until a few days later I received a letter from Mr. Bixby asking me to make formal application for the position. I wrote a letter, got August George's endorsement to it, and forwarded the document to Tams. Imagine my surprise when a few days later I received a telegram announcing my appointment and requesting me to report for duty. Well," he continued, "this is what my little joshing remark led to, as you now see me leave for Indian Territory. For how long I don't know, but it may be longer than I dreamed of."

Mr. Buzzell left Sunday evening, having disposed of his business, which he purchased only a few days prior to receiving his appointment. His future address, for a time at least, will be Muskogee, I. T.

NOT COUNTY JAIL.

INSANE PERSONS SHOULD BE IN ASYLUMS.

The state board of charities and corrections has taken a positive stand against the practice of confining insane persons to county jails. At its last meeting the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, that in the opinion of the board, no person proceeded against with a view to his confinement to a hospital for the insane, should, in any case, be incarcerated in a jail or lockup, but should, if practicable, be detained, pending examination in the probate court and pending commitment after judgment of committal, in some hospital and there receive humane care and attention."

A bill embodying the terms of the resolution will be introduced in the legislature. The only objection raised to the reform is that many violent cases cannot be handled in a hospital, and for security need the padded cells. The clause leaves a loophole for such cases.

The board has also gone on record in favor of indeterminate sentences, and a bill engrafting it on the Minnesota penal system will also be submitted. Warden Wolfer, of the penitentiary, under whose former administration sentences on "the reformatory plan" and the parole system were put into effect, is in favor of the change, which simply provides that all sentences except for capital crimes and certain felonies, be for an indefinite time. After serving one year, if the prisoner's conduct warrants it, the board of managers may parole him, and a final discharge is granted when the paroled man has lived industriously, honestly and peaceably sufficiently long to demonstrate his reformation. In some states the plan is modified by fixing maximum and minimum sentences for each offense.

The principle of indeterminate sentences is to make the sentence fit the criminal, and not the crime, on the theory that the prison officials, from daily observation, know better when the prisoner is ready to become a member of society than the judge can know at the time of sentence.

In referring to the subject, Judge of Probate Harvey, of Hennepin county, said that he is in favor of any plan that will be conducive to the better care or comfort of the insane, and that detention hospitals or wards would be admirable, especially in country towns, where insane persons are frequently placed in the rudest kind of jails pending their examinations.

So far as Hennepin county is concerned, he is of the opinion that the accommodations are adequate for all ordinary purposes, and the patients who are placed in the hospital ward usually are given the best treatment.

He is desirous of a law that will establish a wider and better between the state board of charities and corrections and the boards of other states, so as to facilitate the return of patients who become suddenly insane while away from their former places of residence.

SLEPT IN A CELL.

A CITIZEN APPEARS AT THE CITY HALL FOR LODGING.

Late Saturday evening a very inebriated citizen appeared at police headquarters and demanded of the officer in charge to lock him up for the night. He was asked the reason for his very strange request and answered that he had had family trouble and wanted to sleep in the city jail.

An officer went to the inebriated citizen's residence to learn more particulars about the affair, and was told that the head of the family had squandered all of his week's earnings in booze, and that the family was in needy circumstances, and did not want the old man to hang around if he didn't want to do better.

Upon his return to police headquarters the man's request was promptly granted, and he slept in jail Saturday night.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

THAT IS THE SUM MR. BERNHARD GRUHS WANTS.

Geo. W. Peake, owner of the Peake block, corner of Roberts and Main streets, appeared somewhat surprised Saturday evening when Attorney Geo. A. E. Finlayson served him with a summons making him defendant in an action for damages in the sum of one thousand hard plunks. The action is brought by Bernhard Gruhs, of Euclid, for injuries received in a fall while passing along the sidewalk on the west side of Peake's building on the night of Jan. 21, this year. The defendant's cellarway leading from the sidewalk to the basement of his building is guarded by an iron railing, which is mounted on the top by a number of sharp metal teeth. In falling the plaintiff struck several of these projections and badly lacerated his hand, the injuries sustained being considered of a permanent nature. For this Gruhs wants the defendant to pay him the sum of one thousand dollars and a $25 doctor's bill.

The case will come up for trial at the next term of the district court.

FOOLED UNCLE SAM.

BY LICKING POSTAGE STAMPS A SECOND TIME.

Barnesville Review: L. P. Jerdee, an old resident of this county, was arrested at Hawley last week on a charge of using cancelled stamps, thus defrauding the mail. He was taken to Detroit for examination. He was held to the U. S. court, and failing to secure bail, was placed in jail at Fergus Falls. Mr. Jerdee has been very unfortunate of late years. He is a bankrupt, having taken the "Nelson cure." Two years ago he was truck by an N. P. train and he pleads insanity as a result to the accident.

SCHRUTH HONORED.

NORTH DAKOTA'S GOVERNOR APPOINTS HIM OIL INSPECTOR.

Saturday afternoon Gov. White sent the name of L. W. Schruth to the legislature for appointment as state oil inspector. The nomination was confirmed without delay. The position is the best within the gift of the governor and is a handsome thing for the governor to do. Mr. Schruth's appointment was brought about through the efforts of the Cass county delegation and other friends at Fargo. Mr. Schruth's many friends here will be pleased to learn of his appointment.

LOST HIS WAY.

A NORTH DAKOTA CITIZEN DOES NOT RETURN FROM CHURCH.

Jas. McNab, of Hamilton, N. D., is reported lost. Sunday night he attended church in Hamilton and in the storm started to return to the farm on which he lived. His friends think he lost his way and was frozen to death. Efforts to find him have been unsuccessful.

SABIN SCORCHED.

Sabin, Minn., Feb. 18.—The Duluth elevator, nine miles southeast of Moorhead, caught fire at 10:30 Friday night and burned with about 600 bushels of flax. One horse was so badly burned it had to be killed. The loss is about $8,000. The wind being favorable and there being a good bucket brigade, is what saved the town.

Bought the first bottle of DR. ARNOLD'S COUGH KILLER in 1878. Have used it ever since when in need of a Cough Remedy.
F. M. SMITH,
Shelbyville, Ill.
Box 296.

COUGH KILLER

Price 25 Cents.

For sale by A. G. Anderson, Druggist.

AT THE......
ONE PRICE
HARDWARE
STORE.

CROSS-CUT SAWS,
BUCK SAWS,
HAND SAWS,

At Prices Ranging from.....

15c Upwards

N 2'3 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

ANGORA GOATS

I will sell Angora Does in lots to suit purchaser. Bred to my celebrated Billies to kid in May.
Write for prices
A. L. Morris, Bagley, Minn.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY

Short Route
Fast Time
To
All Points in the Northwest
And on the Pacific Coast

LOCAL TIME CARD.

Arrive.	Daily	Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	Grand Forks, north and west		7.00 am
9.00 pm	Minneapolis St. Paul and east		9.05 pm
6.20 pm	Hillsboro, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls		9.20 am
4.10 pm	Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior		9.00 am
6 45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo		7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent		9.10 am

Full Information from
F. D. Bell, Agt.

S. L. Collins,
Livery and
Feed Stables

Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.

Crookston, Minn

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of an execution, issued out of and under the Seal of the District Court, in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, upon a judgement rendered and docketed in said Court, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1896, in an action wherein Standard Paper Co. is plaintiff, and H. Johnson defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of $284.18, and on which there is now due the sum of $93.35, and interest thereon from Aug. 15, 1900, which said judgment was duly assigned by said Standard Paper Co. to E. A. Webster, by an instrument in writing, dated Dec. 6, 1898, and duly filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court, in Polk county, Minnesota, by which said judgment was duly assigned by an instrument dated July 26, 1899, by E. A. Webster to J. P. Foote and duly filed in the office of the Clerk of Court in and for said county and state, which execution was directed and delivered to me as sheriff in and for the said County of Polk, I have this 11th day of February, A. D. 1901, levied upon all the right, title and interest of said defendant, H. Johnson, in and to the following described real property situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

Lots number 29 and 30, block number 15, in Jerome's Addition to the City of Crookston, County of Polk and State of Minnesota.

Notice is hereby given, that I, the undersigned, as sheriff as aforesaid, will sell the above described real property to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the front door of the court-house, in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on TUESDAY, THE 2d DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day, to satisfy the said execution together with the interest and costs thereon.

Dated Feb. 11, A. D. 1901.

E. J. SULLIVAN,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minnesota.
By Louis Gonyea, Deputy.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Special Attention to
Business Correspondence,
Land Contest Cases,
Mortgage Foreclosures,
Collections,
Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block, CROOKSTON, MINN.

Miller & Foote,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room 3
Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the
PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
DENTIST.
Wallace Block. Crookston, Minn.

PHYSICIANS

A. A. Just M. D.
HOMEOPATHIC CIAN
AND SURGEON
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans,
Insurance........
OFFICIAL ABSTRACTERS OF TITLE FOR POLK COUNTY.
CROOKSTON MINN.

Carpenter & Olson.
LAW, LAND, LOANS, COLLECTIONS
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reckitt block, Crookston, Minn.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning 11:00, evening, 8.00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
REV. H. M GREEN, B. D.
Rector

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.
The State of Minnesota to Herman Walls, the defendant:

You are hereby summoned to be and appear before the undersigned, one of the justices of the peace in and for said county, on the 28th day of February, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at my office in the village of Euclid, in said county, to answer to complaint in a civil action. Should you fail to appear at the time and place aforesaid judgment will be rendered against you upon the evidence adduced by said Misner Chaplin Fisk, plaintiff, for such sums as he shall show himself entitled to.

Given under my hand this 6th day of February, A. D. 1901.

M. P. LOSEY,
Justice of the Peace.

41-46

Summons.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK.—ss. In District Court.
SHELDON W. VANCE, and
GEORGE F. STONE, Plaintiffs,
vs.
——DUGGAN, TIMOTHY SULLIVAN,
——KINSELLA, Copartners as
DUGGAN, SULLIVAN & KINSELLA,
Defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named Defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiffs in the above entitled action, which said complaint has been filed and is now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court within and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office in the city of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint, within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

—A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiffs,
Crookston, Minn.

Dated Jan. 12, 1901. 42-47

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of $8, which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1898, and in the further sum of $8 which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1899 and in the further sum of $8, which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1900, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by George W. Carhart and Marion M. Carhart, his wife, mortgagors, to Jerome W. Wheeler, mortgagee, bearing date the 26th day of October, 1897, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Polk, and state of Minnesota, on the 16th day of November, 1897, at 4:50 o'clock p. m., in book 78 of mortgages, on page 248.

And whereas, the said Jerome W. Wheeler, the mortgagee and holder of said mortgage, has duly elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained, and whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of forty-two and 40-100 dollars, with interest on $26.40 thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, from the 26th day of October, 1900, and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter of section twenty-eight (28) in township one hundred fifty-four (154) of range forty-seven (47), in Polk county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Polk county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Crookston, in said county and state, on the 23rd day of March, 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Feb 6, A. D. 1901.

JEROME W. WHEELER,
Mortgagee.
A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Mortgagee.
Crookston, Minn
44-50

Shelled Corn, Oats, Ground Feed, Bran and Shorts, Pillsbury's Best Flour, Baled Hay, Lignite Coal and Wood of all kinds--Car lots only. For prices, delivered anywhere. Address
L. B. GIBBS, GRAND FORKS, N. D.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

President John Cooper, of State Fair Association, Writes From Pacific Coast.

PERTAINING TO STATE FAIR

A Number of Changes Will be Made to Advance Interest of the Exhibitors.

The Journal is in receipt of a lengthy communication from Hon. John Cooper of St. Cloud, Minn., who was for the fourth time elected president of the State Fair Association, and who is now sojourning in the state of California, in company with Hon. W. M. Liggett, dean of the agricultural department of the Minnesota University, and member of the State Fair Stock department, and the Hon. J. M. Underwood, proprietor of the Jewel nursery and member of the executive board of the State Fair Association, and member of the Horticultural department, in which Mr. Cooper writes very entertainingly upon the conditions and good things of the Golden state.

Col. Liggett, who left this state last fall somewhat broken down in health is improving wonderfully, says Mr. Cooper, all of which will be glad tidings to Mr. Liggett's many friends throughout Minnesota, who expect him to return thoroughly recuperated and as full of vigor and energy as he was in bygone years.

The Minnesota gentlemen who compose this trio are all very close observers of matters pertaining to agricultural and horticultural inerests, and the Journal feels confident in assuring the people of the state that they will derive many points on their trip which will prove of great advantage to their already well earned reputation as successful managers of the Minnesota state fair, and aid very materially in making the next exhibit still more perfect than those in the past under the management of and direction of President John Cooper.

In concluding his letter, that gentleman says: "We are having lots of rain this winter, and our long continued drouth is surely broken. There is great rejoicing among the ranchmen. Crops out here never looked better than at present. Last week we took a trip to Mount Wilson, over the famous Burro trail, which was exceedingly interesting. There is not enough room in the letter to give you a full account of it, but if it is agreeable to you, I shall be pleased to tell you all about it in a future effort."

Mr. Cooper indicates in his letter that he contemplates a number of changes in the coming state fair, which will prove of great interest to both the exhibitors and the fair association alike

Don't Scold.

Of all forms of human effort and execution scolding is the most useless. When a parrot, a chipmunk, a squirrel or bluejay scolds he is ludicrous. For people to scold is ludicrous, too, but with a difference, and assuredly the difference is on the unfavorable side. It never did and never will do any one any good. It has done much harm. Besides, scolding grows to be a habit. We have all suffered because of the shortcomings of some one else, receiving tremendous tirades over what we had no hand in, because we happened to be present when the scolding habit was yielded to by one of its victims.

Scolding is easy. It takes neither power of brain nor heart to scold. It does not even make any great draft upon the physical being. Any fishwife alive can be a grand success at scolding. Why compete with her?

Scolding should be compelled to perish from the earth. The tongue, the voice, the eye, the face—all should be trained not to scold—yes, and the pen, for of all things a scolding pen is the worst. And the habit once formed with the pen is apt never to be entirely shaken off.—Ada C. Sweet in Woman's Home Companion.

Millions Spent In Amusements.

"The American people are great theater goers and spend about $112,000,000 annually for such amusements," said a prominent theatrical manager to the writer recently. "This vast sum of money is paid into the treasuries of some 1,000 companies, which were estimated to be playing in all parts of the United States last year. This includes everything that can be considered strictly professional companies, to say nothing of the countless amateur organizations.

"Of the strictly theatrical organizations it is safe to say that the average receipts per night for the 1,000 companies is $400 each. At seven performances per week for each company the weekly average would be $2,800. The average theatrical season is 40 weeks. The entire 1,000 companies, with average nightly receipts of $400, would produce weekly receipts at seven performances per week amounting to $2,800,000. This multiplied by 40, the number of weeks in the theatrical season, will yield gross receipts amounting to $112,000,000, which is probably far below what the people of this country really do pay every year for theatrical amusement."—Washington Star.

E W Grove
This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

Perrin's Valentine

By Rheta Childe Dorr

Copyright, 1900, by Rheta Childe Dorr.

Perrin was a model of precision and punctuality. He never made a mistake and was never a fraction of a second behind time. Exactly at 9 he entered the office and passed into his own room, drawing off his gloves as he walked. At two minutes past 9 he was at his desk reading the letters which Miss Ripley had previously opened for him.

He was a man without impulses. What he had done yesterday he did today and would do tomorrow. And he did it naturally, not priggishly. The hemispheres of his brain were perfectly balanced. When he entered upon a course of conduct, it was after reflection, and to have deflected therefrom would have been impossible because it would involve acting against reason, which Perrin never did.

For all his inflexibility he was well liked by his subordinates. Every one looked up when he came in of a morning, and he spoke cordially to them all. There was one exception. To Miss Ripley he simply bowed stiffly, and she merely looked up and dropped her eyes. They never exchanged a word not necessary to the transaction of business. The feud between them was of long standing, but no one knew definitely the cause of it. Miss Ripley kept her own counsel, and the office finally came to regard their mutual dislike as a familiar fact, like the cross eyed bookkeeper and the steam register that always made a noise.

At 9 precisely on the 14th of February Perrin made his appearance and said: "Good morning, Miss Brown; good morning, Barker; good morning, boys," and bowed to Miss Ripley, who made her usual slight response. After the door closed Barker, who was standing by her desk, leaned down and whispered loudly: "I say, Miss Ripley, this is Valentine's day. You ought to make it up with the old man. Why don't you send him a valentine?"

The young woman's lip curled. "Perhaps I have already done so," she answered coolly. A laugh went around the room, but she did not join it. She turned to her work, her fingers striking the keys almost viciously.

Meanwhile the manager was sitting at his desk frowning over a letter which he had just read for the fourth time. It was signed Emily Ripley and begged that Mr. Perrin would accept her resignation as his stenographer, the same to take effect on the 1st of March. For some reason this brief and businesslike communication put Perrin in a most unaccountable ill humor. Certainly the girl could resign if she wanted to. Presumably she was about to marry somebody. She had told "him," no doubt, what a brute her employer was, and he had ordered her to resign as soon as possible. Lord, how she did hate him! And for nothing at all—a ridiculous misunderstanding. And when he went to the trouble to explain how much good did it do? She didn't believe a word of it. Sometimes he wished he had spoken directly to her about it and told her point blank that she might either leave or let the matter drop. He would accept her resignation quickly enough, and he would take the opportunity to let her know that she— He began at once:

"My Dear Miss Ripley—In accepting your resignation—for, of course, I cannot do otherwise than accept it—I would like to express my regret that your feeling toward me has been so unfriendly during the two years of our association. I can hardly understand how you, with your unusual intelligence and the kindness of heart you manifest toward others, could have refused the explanation I sent through Mr. Barker. At first I was inclined to ask you if it had not been made quite clear that I meant nothing personal in what I had said, but I had no reason to doubt that Mr. Barker had spoken as I requested him to, and I thought it best to let the affair go by.

"You must remember how badly things went in the office before I came in. The machines were old and out of repair, and when I said that the letters had been a disgrace to the firm for the past year I alluded only to the machines and not to any of the operators, least of all to you. I take this occasion to say that your work has always been most satisfactory. You have been punctual, businesslike, industrious and amiable—that is, to every one except myself. You have been civil even to me, but your evident dislike has been a daily source of regret to me. Of course there is no reason why you should be anything more than civil to a man who has no claim on you outside of business hours and who never did anything for you except to O. K. your pay slip every week, but the fact is you have a most generous habit of smiling spontaneously at every one else who speaks to you. Your head turns with a quick little motion, like a bird, and then you smile. You have no idea how attractive you are when you do that. I alone have been treated with coldness.

"I hope I have not made your work harder than it should be. I will tell you, though not to cause you distress, that I have often staid after hours and typed my own letters rather than to seem to drive you. I am rather stupid in my fingers, and it was not easy for me to learn the machine. Now that you are about to leave, I trust that"—

Suddenly realizing that this was not at all the letter he had intended to write, he tore it up and began another.

"My Dear Miss Ripley"—

The boy entered with a telegram, and when he went out he left the door slightly ajar. Through the crack Perrin had a half view of the wreath of brown braids, an olive, oval cheek and a pair of graceful shoulders bent over a typewriter. Day after day for two years he had seen that picture, and it had become one of the familiar things of his life. How bare that corner would look with her not there! He could not imagine another woman in that corner. If it were not too late, he might speak to her and try to get her into another mind about going. But of course it was too late. He resumed:

"My Dear Miss Ripley—Your resignation comes rather unexpectedly, and as I shall be taken up with outside matters for the next two weeks it would oblige me if you would remain with us until the 15th of March instead of the 1st. May I further request that you grant me a personal interview before you leave? I would like to"—

"Oh, bosh! What's the use?" Those fragments joined the others in the wastebasket, and Perrin seized a sheet of paper and wrote rapidly:

"My Dear Miss Ripley—Your resignation has been handed me and is hereby accepted to take effect, as you desire, on the 1st of March. Your work has always been most satisfactory, and the firm will take pleasure in so testifying should you ever in the future refer to us. Yours truly,

"JOHN F. PERRIN."

He pressed the electric button and said to the boy: "Keep that door closed, can't you, Thomas? It's as drafty as the devil in here."

Miss Ripley looked a little tired and worn when she came in a few minutes later to take the morning letters. She wrote rapidly without looking up, and neither did Perrin look directly at her. When he went to luncheon, she was not in the office, and he laid the answer to her letter on her desk.

The afternoon was busy, and he had no time to think of the affair again. At 5 o'clock he was ready to go. It had been snowing thickly since 3, and he stood by the window for a few minutes with his hands in his pockets watching the descending flakes. They looked like weird black bats against the electric lamps. It occurred to Perrin that he hated to go home. It did not occur to him that he wanted to go anywhere else, however, and he got into his coat and gloves and went out. He walked across the hall and hailed a descending elevator, not perceiving until then that Miss Ripley was waiting for the same car. Their eyes met, and hers instantly dropped. He stepped quickly back and let her pass alone into the elevator. He would not thrust himself upon her. That brief glance of hers hurt him like a lash.

The next car went by him without stopping at the signal, and at the moment there was a sound of dreadful screams, a crashing of iron and glass, a rushing of feet and the general confusion which follows a catastrophe. Perrin joined in the rush to the basement floor, where a crowd stood around the wrecked car and the groaning fragments of poor humanity which had fallen with it.

The clang of the ambulance gong sounded down the street, coming nearer, and the crowd parted to let the surgeons through. Perrin turned away, sickened, from the spectacle, almost colliding with Miss Ripley, who, white and horrified, was struggling toward the wreck. He caught her by the arm.

"Come away; don't look; it's too terrible!" he exclaimed.

She wheeled toward him with wild eyes and a perfectly pallid face, and in another breath he found himself fighting his way to the street with an unconscious woman in his arms.

The snow, falling on her face, quickly revived her.

"You shouldn't have gone in there," he began.

"I thought—I thought—that you"—she gasped and then broke into hysterical sobbing.

Perrin's brain whirled, but it seemed to him that it never acted with such phenomenal rapidity before. He shouted to a passing cab and helped her in, calling out an entirely impromptu address, one that had the merit of being at least five miles away.

The conversation inside the cab might have sounded incoherent and disjointed to a listener, if there had been one. It was the first time they had spoken to each other without hostility, and there was a great deal of time to be made up. At last Perrin said: "Good God, what a fool I am! Why, Emily, I've been nearly daft all day over your going, and I didn't know what was the matter with me."

"I couldn't bear to stay any longer," she answered, with a gush of tears. "Did you hear Barker ask why I didn't send you a valentine? I almost told him that I had sent you the one you wanted me to."

"A valentine! Indeed, you owe me one. And you're going to give it to me, aren't you, Emily? Oh, don't tell me yes away off there by yourself. There, that's better. What a valentine!"

The cabman stopped his horse suddenly under an electric light and leaned down for more definite orders. They scarcely heard him, gazing into each other's eyes for the first time, a little frightened both, but wholly happy.

"COME AWAY; DON'T LOOK."

Carlyle the Smoker.

Carlyle was a constant and heavy smoker. Sir Charles Gavan Duffy once suggested to him that one who suffered so much from sleeplessness and indigestion ought not to smoke so constantly. Carlyle replied that he had once given up smoking for an entire year at the instance of a doctor, who assured him that his only ailment was too much tobacco. At the end of the year he was walking one evening in the country, so weak that he was hardly able to crawl from tree to tree, when he suddenly determined that, whatever was amiss with him, "that fellow at least did not understand it," and he returned to tobacco and smoked afterward without let or hindrance.

In his latter days he used a clay pipe made in Dublin and known as the "Repeal." He was unable to renew the supply, and Sir Charles Duffy assured him that these pipes were strictly reserved for true believers in Irish nationality and promised him a supply if he qualified in the ordinary manner. Carlyle never qualified.—London Chronicle.

Teddy Didn't See It.

Teddy Vanderchump came down to the club the other night with a great problem weighing on his mind. Coming up to the boys, he said:

"If I stand on my head, the blood all rushes to my head, doesn't it?"

No one ventured to contradict him.

"Now," he continued triumphantly, "when I stand on my feet why don't the blood all rush into my feet?"

"Because," replied Hostetter McGinnis, "your feet are not empty."

The boys all laughed, but Vanderchump said he didn't see any joke.

No Sense of Humor.

Watts—I slipped and fell in the washtub this morning.

Potts—That's too bad.

"I should say so. The tub was so full of wet clothes that I was not hurt, but just because I didn't laugh my wife says I have no sense of humor."—Indianapolis Press.

SOCIAL DEMOCRACY.

(Inasmuch as the above party has no organ of its own, the Journal has consented to grant them the use of one column of its space weekly for airing their views and to present their side of the political questions. We reserve the right, however, to criticise any statements that may be made by the contributors to this column, and in no wise will any statement contained in this column voice the sentiments of the Journal editor.—Ed.)

"That's right. Suits me exactly," says Old Man laying down newspaper.

"What suits you, pa?"

"The money plank in our platform."

"What do you mean by money plank?"

"Why, by money plank I mean what we say as to money."

"What is 'we,' pa?"

"Why, the republican party, of course."

"What is a republican?"

"A republican is a man who believes as I do."

"You believe in baptism, don't you?"

"Oh, not that, I mean politically."

"What do you say as to money?"

"Why, we believe in the gold standard."

"What is the gold standard?"

"By that we mean that gold is the only honest money."

"And is it?"

"Yes."

"What is money for, pa? Isn't it to buy things with?"

"Yes, but—"

"How can money be dishonest? Isn't it a substance?"

"Oh, we mean that it would be dishonest to make a laboring man take a depreciated money as pay for his labor."

"Let me see your money, pa."

(Old man shows greenbacks, blackbacks and silver.)

"You haven't any honest money, have you, pa?"

"Oh—ah—why, yes, this is all right."

"I don't see any gold here."

"No, I haven't any gold; there is none in circulation."

(Boy, examining two bills)—"These bills are not alike; why aren't they?—they are both for five dollars."

(Old man sighs.) "You run off and play now, I'm busy."

"Wait a minute, pa; one of these bills is—what do you call it, depreciated, isn't it?"

"No, both are good. One is a greenback issued by the government; the other is a national bank bill issued by a national bank."

"The it's the silver that's dishonest, is it?"

"No, not this particular piece."

"Can you buy as much with the silver as with the greenback or the bank note?"

"Yes, all are equally valuable when it comes to buying anything."

"But you can't buy as much with these different kinds of money as you could with a like amount of gold?"

"O, yes, we can buy just as much as tho' we had the gold."

"Then in what way are they dishonest? I—"

"Say, my son, you run off now, my head aches and—"

"But, pa, I'm seeking information. Why do we use two kinds of bills?"

"That's it—we ought not to use two kinds. The greenbacks ought to be retired or withdrawn from circulation. That is another thing the republican party is in favor of doing, and the quicker the better."

"If it is no good, why was it ever issued, as you call it?"

"O, we had to issue it to carry on the war."

"What war, pa?"

"Why the rebellion, of course."

(Boy looks at national bank note.)

"Why didn't you use this kind, or gold and silver?"

"Oh—why—because the gold and silver was all hidden away, and there were no national banks then."

"Was that a big war, pa?"

"Yes, it lasted four years, and cost us hundreds of thousands of lives and billions of money."

"Which side whipped?"

"We did, of course."

"And the war cost billions of dollars?"

"Yes."

"And you say the silver and gold was all hidden away. Then if there were no national banks, you must have used greenbacks?"

"Yes, so we did."

"Was it good money then?"

"Say, I'm busy now; don't ask me any more questions."

"But, pa, I'd like to know—"

"What?"

"If it was good then, why is it not good now?"

"I told you I was busy, do you hear?"

"Yes, but you always told me to learn all I can, and that is what I want to do about money."

"Well, what is it?"

"If it was good money at one time, and is bad now, there must have been a time when it changed from good to bad, and—"

"Oh, well, I don't know when it was. Is that all?"

"No. Who made this money that you dislike so, the democrats?"

"No, indeed, the republican party was in power then, and we made it. Yes, we had to have it to put down the rebellion."

"I thought the soldiers put down the rebellion?"

"So they did, but they had to be paid."

"Did they take it willingly?"

"Yes, and glad to get it. It was greenbacks or nothing"

"You say the gold and silver was all hidden away and was not used to fight the war; also that it is not in circulation now; that is, the gold. If gold don't circulate in times of war or in times of peace, of what use is it and why is it more honest than other money that circulates?"

"Oh, you don't understand the money question; wait till you get bigger."

"I don't want to wait. Who is it that is kicking against the greenbacks? Do they object to the national bank notes too?"

"No, it is mostly the national bankers who object to the greenbacks."

"Why do they object to them?"

"Oh, I suppose it interferes with their profits; then the government ought to go out of the banking business anyway."

"How does it interfere with their profits?"

"Well, if the $346,000,000 of greenbacks were out of the way the banks could issue that much more, and loan it to the people at a high rate of interest."

"Don't the government charge the people interest on the greenbacks?"

"No."

"And the banks do on their notes?"

"Yes."

"How much?"

"Eight per cent."

(Boy figures.) "Eight per cent on $346,000,000 is $27,680,000. This is the amount that the people save every year by using the greenbacks instead of that amount of bank notes, that would be—$276,680,000 in ten years. Aren't the bankers awful rich now, pa?"

"Yes."

"Are you rich, pa?"

"No, I'm poor and in debt."

"And a republican?"

"Yes, of course. Why do you ask?"

"I don't know about money or your plank, but it seems to me that if greenbacks were good enough to put down the rebellion when the gold was all in hiding, and that they circulate now without costing the people any interest, and they will buy as much as bank notes, or gold or silver, then it seems to me I should vote with a party that would retire the cowardly gold, the dishonest silver and the expensive bank notes and let the government issue greenbacks enough to take their places."

"That is what those noisy Socialists advocate."

"Then, pa, I'm a Socialist."

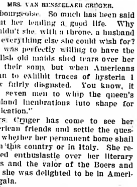
(Old man reaches for trunk strap.)

(Boy darts out.)

VICTORIA IS OVERRIDDEN.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger, widow of Colonel Cruger of New York and known in the world of letters as Julien Gordon, has returned to New York after a two years' absence. Among the pronounced opinions she has brought back is the belief that Queen Victoria was an overrated woman. Speaking of the recent death of the British sovereign, she said to a New York Herald reporter a few days ago:

"Why, you know, I am really a little tired of hearing about the queen. I was extremely glad to get on the ship in order to escape the topic. She was a very much overrated old person. The queen was really a highly respectable old bourgeoise. So much has been said about her leading a good life. Why shouldn't she, with a throne, a husband and everything else she could wish for?



MRS. VAN RENSSELAER CRUGER.

"I was perfectly willing to have the English old maids shed tears over her into their soup, but when Americans began to exhibit traces of hysteria I grew fairly disgusted. You know, it took seven men to whip the queen's highland lucubrations into shape for publication."

Mrs. Cruger has come to see her American friends and settle the question whether her permanent home shall be in this country or in Italy. She returned enthusiastic over her literary plans and the valor of the Boers and said she was delighted to be in America again.

When Mrs. Cruger had expressed herself on the late queen, she was asked what she thought of the present king of England.

"He will make a good king," replied Mrs. Cruger. "He is democratic and a man of sense. His speech was a manly one. In his consort England will have a brilliant, beautiful queen and for the first time in years something of a court. It's been for a long while a sort of mausoleum."

Mrs. Cruger announced herself as enthusiastically pro-Boer. "The spectacle of those few thousand starving farmers in the Transvaal defending their homes so brilliantly against the huge English army will be immortalized by history," said she. "The Boers are the greatest fighters in the world, and De Wet is the greatest general of the age. Roberts simply isn't in it."

Mrs. Cruger is going to Washington this spring, and if she can find an attractive colonial house there will settle at the capital. If not, she will go back to Italy and purchase a villa, probably in Florence.

"I am bringing out a novelette," said she, "which I call 'The Wage of Character.' It treats of a couple unhappily married and is intended to show that happiness is not essential to the development of the character. When the man weds a second time and happily, he sinks into insignificance."

Mrs. Cruger laughingly denied that there was any truth in the report that she was engaged. "I'm too fond of my freedom," said she. "The newspapers have been trying to marry me to so many princes, counts and I don't know whom else that I want to set the matter straight. Mr. Robert Gardiner? Oh, he spent a couple of summers at Aix-les-Bains, where I happened to be, and the story about our being engaged arose from that, I suppose. Really, he is only a friend."

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box. 25c.

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

MENTOR.

Snow storms for four days this week.

We are to have a new bank in this spring.

There was a well attended dance at Woodman hall on the 19th.

Mrs. Steneide and children were visiting with relatives at Erskine over Sunday.

Ole Hesla's little girl is quite ill and a telephone message was sent to Dr. Olson to come.

Mentor wants a bank, flour mill, hardware and drug store. Who will start them? Finest opening in the world.

Dr. Olson of Erskine was called to H. B. Wether's home on Saturday to attend his oldest daughter, who was quite ill. She is better at this writing.

Our merchant, C. A. Engstrom, took the afternoon train for parts unknown to your correspondent, last Saturday. Later.—I just heard that he went to Stillwater.

There was a wedding at James Martel's last night, wherein his daughter and a young man from Terrebonne were the main actors. Further particulars next week.

Miss Wilson, our teacher, was taken sick last week and had to return to her home at Crookston, but she has sufficiently recovered to resume her duties this week, and school opened Monday at the regular hour.

Ovito Quisnell had a cold bath in Maple Lake while loading ice last Friday. A cake of ice that he was standing on slipped into the lake and Ovito went with it. He was quite badly chilled before he got back to town.

KEY WEST.

Mr. Eli Thompson returned from Roseau Saturday evening, where we presume he is fitting up a new home.

We hear all of Mrs. Robt. Morrison's family are getting along nicely, owing to the skillful nursing of Mrs. John Morrison who has been attending them the past three weeks.

Mr. Richard Buchanan expected to start for Beltrami Monday, to drive his brother James and Andrew Ledeffenbaugh to their respective homesteads, to erect their dwelling houses, but owing to the storm their trip has been postponed until fine weather sets in.

ADA.

Miss Hattie Lebrun visited her sister at Euclid last week.

Miss Cora Wilson, of Crookston, is visiting with Miss Hannah Moffett this week.

Ed Helland spent Sunday with his folks at Crookston, and returned in the evening.

Several of the Ada boys took in the masquerade at Hendrum last Tuesday and report a good time.

Lambert Roesch returned from the cities Friday morning, where he had been buying spring goods.

Emil Kleoty, who is nurse at the hospital at Fergus Falls, spent a few days with his folks at home last week.

Dr. Kjelland of Crookston spent Saturday here examining candidates for the I. S. W. A. lodge, to be organized here Saturday night.

Mr. Estlund, an implement dealer of Mayville, N. D., called on friends Tuesday. Mr. Estlund has a farm near here that he is looking after.

Mayor Volland returned Thursday Morning from Chicago and other eastern points, where he had been in the interest of his real estate business.

The masked ball given at the opera house Friday evening was well attended. Miss May Waterman captured the head prize for the best dressed lady and Purl Woodberry for the best dressed gentleman.

FISHER.

Cyrus Sweet went to Grand Forks Friday.

Albert Olson has been visiting at Nash, N. D.

Mrs. E. D. Kingsland went to Crookston Saturday.

Prof. Casey came home Friday evening to remain over Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Cook visited in the vicinity of Mollory last week.

C. B. Rockwood, an old Fisherite, visited friends here last week.

Miss Lilly Geddes has been visiting Miss Lottie Bryson for the past week.

Miss Moran, who is teaching at Perley, spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olson of North Dakota have removed here and will likely remain.

A jolly party of Fisherites drove out to the residence of John Hannah last Friday evening. A most enjoyable time was had.

Miss Hortense Warden, who has been attending school in Thief River Falls, has returned home and will again resume her studies in our school.

BIRKHOLZ.

Our postmaster has been sick with the grip.

J. H. Dalea's saw mill has begun work again.

Eben Morgan was the guest of Capt. Rhinehart on Sunday.

Some of our Dakota friends are still storing ice for use next summer.

Mrs. Northrup drove to Grand Forks on the river Thursday for more goods.

Mrs. Robert Olson has recovered from her recent illness, and we are all glad.

The Misses Danahue and Marie Anstett of Manvel were pleasant callers here last week.

Did you laugh when you got that awful valentine? We did when our's came. Thanks, Northland.

Some of our neighbors are talking railroad again, and subscribing for the building of the same. Others say "Nit."

Mrs. Mat Harvey of Manvel died last week. Her loss will be keenly felt by her sorrowing relatives. She was a lady that was very much loved and respected.

A number of our young people attended the M. W. A. hall at Manvel on Monday, the 18th. Fine music, an elegant supper, a big crowd and general good time is reported.

Mrs. Harry Evans and children, of Roseau county, were visiting at John Anderson's last week. They are now guests of Mrs. Evans' father, Robert Patterson of Eckvoll.

DONALDSON.

Valentines were distributed rather permiscuously on the 14th.

Olson & Davis will grind feed on the first two Mondays in each month.

Mrs. O. J. Mulvey returned from Moorhead all safe with her children.

Lot of farmers were in town Friday paying up their personal property tax.

Miss Hattie Farde has been sick in bed, but we are glad to note her recovery.

Andrew Lund made a flying trip to Stephen Wednesday night, summoning the doctor.

T. W. Dargan has been kept busy for a couple of days unloading a few carloads of coal.

J. B. Mala's little daughter is seriously ill. Dr. Mark of Stephen is attending to the child.

A. Arveson returned from Hallock on Friday where he had attended to his county duties.

A whole crowd visited Hallock between trains Saturday, Erick Haglund being the leader.

Wagons are being used around here now, as the snow is all gone where there is any plowing.

Ernest Wanikee took the south train for Crookston Friday, to take in the sights at that place.

Frank Spooner, who was taken down to the Fergus Falls hospital last week, is very much improved.

Miss Thilda Solskan and Swan Hennum of this place took a trip out east Saturday for a vacation.

J. A. Englund, the Kittson county treasurer, made Donaldson a visit Friday on the taxpayers' account.

An elegant oyster supper was served at the Miller Bros. restaurant Friday evening for the jolly dancers.

A dance was given here by the Ladies' Guild society Friday evening. All who were there claim to have had a good time.

A. Blomeseuss has shaved off his fast growing whiskers since the sun began to shine so bright, but Andrew Lund is not of that opinion.

Our light hearted restaurant proprietor is around with a subscription list for the benefit of our beloved pastor. Very thoughtful of you, Con.

Mrs. L. F. Parker left here Thursday for Bemidji where she resides, after making a visit of three weeks here amongst friends and relatives.

Miss Thilda Anderson took leave of Donaldson Saturday on the evening train en route for Minneapolis, where she intends to stay for a while.

Anyone who has a watch that needs repairing should call on our local jeweler, Mr. Folkestad, and have it fixed which will be done very skillfully.

Earnest Miller is sick abed with the grip and a cold. You must hurry up and get well again, Earnest, otherwise you will miss the dance at the school house.

Martin Lund went to Hallock Friday. Lind had to act as postmaster, which seemed quite a job, as he was unacquainted with the task, but it was well done, as every one got their mail O. K.

Donaldson is improving, which you can judge by the intelligent looking watch maker who arrived here a few days ago, and is putting in a jewelry shop at A. F. Hallburg's, where he has very comfortable quarters.

E. G. Johnon and Annie Kronfick were united in marriage Friday evening. We all wish the young couple a bright and prosperous future. Refreshments are to be had free on such occasions, and we say here's a bo, Chas.

WARREN.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson entertained a number of friends at their home Saturday night.

A valentine social was given at the home of Miss Minnie Thomas Thursday night.

The Argyle string band furnished music for the ball at the opera house Friday night.

Miss Bertha Loughbridge entertained a number of her friends at her home last Tuesday night.

Quite a number of young people from town attended the masquerade ball out at Snake on Saturday evening.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give an old fashioned supper at the home of Mrs. Winchester Friday night.

There seems to be quite a number of cases of grip in town and in the surrounding country, but no fatalities are reported as yet.

A farewell party was given in honor of Miss Ethel Searl, who leaves Tuesday night for Washington, at the home of Miss Flossie Brown.

The dance given by the Red Men at the opera house Friday night was quite well attended and a good time was reported by those present.

Last Saturday night the young people of Warren made quite a surprise on Miss Kittie Graham. About forty were present and a good time was reported.

Joe Thomas and Iver Johnson, both of this city and both well to do young men, started for Seattle, Wash., on last evening's train with the expectation of making their future home in the far west. The best wishes of the citizens of Warren go with them.

W. N. Powell and family are prisoners at their own residence and have been for the past week, all on account of Mr. Powell's little daughter being afflicted with scarlet fever. The report is that the little sufferer is getting along nicely and hopes are entertained that no more of the family will catch the disease, and that the quarantine will soon be raised.

Last Wednesday morning about two o'clock the fire bell rang and it was soon discovered that Hans Imsdahl's office was a solid mass of flames, and when the fire company arrived on the scene they found they were too late to save the building or its contents. M. L. Hutton, the M. E. minister, occupied one room in the building as a private study, and his library was consumed by the flames. We understand he valued his books at one thousand dollars, and he carried six hundred dollars insurance on them.

It seems as though the Washington and coast fever has struck this town and vicinity with great force this winter, as several families have moved out there and still they are going. Last Saturday Frank Searls loaded his household effects and stock onto an N. P. car and started for Sunnyside, Wash. His family will start tonight for the same place. Mr. G. F. Barnes will go with the Searls family. Mr. Barnes is going to look at the country and if he satisfies himself that the coast is a better place for him than the Red River valley, then he will immediately move his family.

HALSTAD.

G. O. Gilberton went to Detroit Tuesday.

Mrs. Henry Larson returned last Monday from a week's visit at Minneapolis.

M. J. Lindahl returned from Wisconsin last Tuesday, where he had been working in a hardware store.

The K. P. Lodge observed the 38th anniversary of the order by giving a party at Castle hall last Monday night. All reported a very enjoyable time.

Married—Last Tuesday by Rev. Kogstad, Mr. Ed Ness of Hendrum and Miss Christina Olson of Wild Rice. We wish the young couple long life and success.

Died—Last Friday from consumption Anton Lervold, age seventeen years. Deceased was a brother of Ed Lervold, who lives three miles north of town. The funeral was held Sunday morning from the Lutheran church.

Word received last Tuesday by telephone from St. Paul announcing the death of A. R. Dalrymple, from diabetes. Mr. Dalrymple has been superintendent of the Grandin farm for more than twenty years. He was 47 years of age.

ELDRED.

Mrs. Bahnsen visited in Crookston last week.

The Misses Clara and Thea Bangen of Neby are visiting in town.

E. D. Cross, of the Journal staff, was here Saturday on business for the paper.

Gust Carlson has returned from Iowa where he has been on an extended visit.

Ed Monson will attend the Implement Dealers' Association meeting at Grand Forks this week.

Miss Twite was quite sick from the effects of vaccination the first part of the week. Dr. Holte was called to attend her.

FOSSTON.

J. H. Williams is now convalescent.

L. W. Larson left Wednesday to visit his old home at St. Olof, Iowa.

J. P. Foote, of Crookston, was registered at the Commercial on Wednesday.

J. E. Campbell returned from Ada on Friday. While there he purchased five fine driving horses.

C. Olson's popular clerk, Mr. Severson, and Miss Louise Dakken, were married at Bagley, Rev. Bloomquist officiating.

Jas. E. Morresey, of Crookston, was here Monday attending a lawsuit in which he was defendant and Samuel Seetor was plaintiff. The action was brought to recover a balance due on a board bill. Judgment was rendered in favor of plaintiff.

FELTON.

R. B. Pixby was a Fargo visitor on Friday.

C. L. Tainter transacted business at Borup Monday.

J. J. Hynes transacted business at Ada Saturday.

Sam Barry returned from his Washington trip Saturday.

E. J. Murphy returned from his Thief River Falls visit Friday.

J. G. VanValkenburg returned from the woods Friday evening.

D. J. Murphy and brother Mike left Monday evening for Faribault.

Otto Dahl left for Moorhead Saturday night. He returned Tuesday morning.

J. J. Opsahl left Monday evening for Rosby, Minn., to look after his lumbering interests.

Guader Steenerson came down from Erskine Saturday night to look after his interests here.

Geo. Lang returned from Moorhead Monday evening. He has been attending the normal school.

Miss A. Minogul left Monday evening for Minneapolis for a week's visit with friends and relatives.

Ole Windseth's dance and riffle Friday evening was a decided success. All had an enjoyable time.

Ernest Lang, Fred Lang and Steve Kane returned Monday from Rosby, where they had been working in the woods.

R. B. Pixby, C. H. Corbett, W. H. Byfield, Lars Guinna and H. O. Dewell took in the "hard times" dance at Borup Monday evening.

Mrs. G. W. Stark left Monday evening for Fargo for a few days' visit with her mother, who is taking medical treatment at that place.

ANGUS.

Rev. Latimer spent Tuesday in town.

J. M. Palmer was in Warren on Tuesday.

A. H. Perkins was in town on Monday.

H. Munsen was in town on Thursday.

O. D. McLennon was in Tabor on Tuesday.

A. E. Brush came up from St. Paul on Tuesday.

C. E. Stevens of Crookston was in town Monday.

Ray and Blanche Perkins spent Saturday at home.

A. T. Champion arrived home from Mallory Friday.

D. H. Miller and wife were in Grand Forks on Saturday.

Mrs. A. Finlayson came up from Crookston Monday.

J. F. Montgomey spent Wednesday night in Crookston.

The Woodman dance Friday night was a grand success.

Lionel Snelling and Harry Millen visited Mick Ault on Saturday.

John Polanska came down from Thief Lake on Wednesday.

H. C. Clark and Jack Butler left on Monday for the Blackduck country.

Mrs. G. Evans and daughters, Cora and Lora, drove to Warren on Tuesday last.

James Hickey, traveling salesman for Chase-Sanborn, was in town Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Millen and J. M. Palmer and Miss Garvin drove to Euclid Thursday.

Mrs. King and Mrs. Perkins went to Euclid Wednesday night to attend the special meeting.

KENNEDY.

Charley Berg and family visited at Percy over Sunday.

Alfred Berg is nursing a lame arm supposedly received in foot ball practice.

Charley Bentson's bronchos ran away Friday. A broken cutter was the result.

John Skog drove across to Drayton Saturday, did his business and returned the next day.

Dr. Spence came down Monday evening from Hallock to relieve some collicky horses belonging to local owners.

Capt. Donaldson, after completing several important land transfers, left again last week for his home at Faribault.

Rev. Johnston preached a very interesting sermon on a popular subject last Sunday. Services again next Sunday evening.

John Etinnd returned last Saturday from a trip to the Twin Cities, whither he went as a county delegate to the M. W. A. state convention.

Lots of our neighboring farmers find it profitable to trade barley, feed, etc., for lumber out in the Roseau country, and the industry is becoming quite extensive.

Paul Hendricks, assistant state weigh master, with headquarters at Duluth, came in on Saturday's flyer and after seeing his friends here proceeded to his home in the town of Telen.

Mrs. Hogan Smith was taken suddenly and seriously ill Sunday morning, and Monday Dr. Gronerud wired Dr. Lockwood to come down for a consultation on the case. Her ultimate recovery is earnestly hoped for.

GARY.

P. E. Schulstad is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Jones Sundayed at Ada.

Mr. Carl Kittelson came up from Spring Grove, Minn., Tuesday morning.

Miss Anna Iverson visited with her friends in Strand last Saturday and Sunday.

Gary is now an incorporated town. The question was voted on last Saturday and the vote went 34 to 2.

Mr. Hellick Tupperud came up from Ulen last Friday and is spending a few days with his parents in Strand.

Messrs. Larson and Stenseth, and the Misses Olson and Sethney, all from Twin Valley visited with Mrs. Natwick Sunday.

Mr. J. C. Sletten went up to Crookston Sunday to see his daughter Minnie, who is sick at the hospital there. J. C. reports that she is recovering.

Miss Maud Stevens, who was taken sick with typhoid fever and taken to the hospital in Crookston some time ago, returned to Gary Sunday. Her friends are glad to note that she has regained her health.

Died—Feb. 18, 1901, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Haner, Mrs. Bergit Siverson. Deceased was over 79 years of age and her death was not unexpected, as she has been confined to her bed for a long time. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

It may surprise the readers of the Journal somewhat to read the following piece of news, but nevertheless it is a fact that the marriage of Miss Emelia Rishoff to Mr. Christen Snlerud will take place in Stand March 2, 1901. They are both favorably known here, and enjoy a large circle of friends who will wish them a pleasant voyage through life.

LENGBY.

A. J. Satestrom is down with the grip.

Rev. Neseth held services in Lengby Sunday.

P. A. Sederberg, who has been ill with the grip, is recovering.

Torkel Holland was appointed sargeant at arms at the last debate.

W. R. Cartwright has the contract to put up ice for the Lengby merchants.

Frank Ostman went to Crookston Saturday to visit a few days with his school mates.

The west bound passenger arrived at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, about three hours behind time.

Julius Frederickson was among those who took in the masquerade ball at Fosston Thursday evening.

The Synod Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Fredericksan to take up their work again Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Nelson left Sunday to visit with their parents in Bransvold. They are expected home again today.

P. A. Sederberg had a first class ice house built last week and is now laying a supply of ice for the summer trade in the meat market branch.

MAPLE BAY.

H. A. Bakken was a Woodside caller Thursday.

Miss Bertha Moen visited at Fertile last Thursday.

O. O. Johnsrud was down from Dugdale Thursday.

Ed Klinger returned home from Bemidji last week.

Tony Nelson was a visitor here from Mentor Thursday.

E. G. Gutafson drove to Dugdale last Wednesday on business.

Phillip Kleinberg was a business caller here from Tilden Thursday.

W. Klinger and P. M. Peterson returned from Bemidji last Monday.

O. Nelson is spending this week at Fosston with his aunt, who is at the hospital there.

Lizzie, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Christianson, died Friday, Feb. 15, of diphtheria. The funeral took place Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Christianson have the sympathy of the entire community.

NORTHCOTE.

We have been visited with a severe blizzard the past two days.

Some of our boys returned last week from the lumber woods, all looking well.

We can now boast with the county seat of having a Rebekah lodge, as well as they.

Miss N. Millerberg has again returned to our midst and all were glad to see her back.

Mr. Cross, of Crookston, visited our town last Monday in behalf of the Polk County Journal.

The home of Mrs. Joe Miller was made happy Sunday morning by a bright baby girl.

The home of K. C. McKenzie was made happy on St. Valentine's day by the arrival of a bright baby girl.

Dr. D. DeMars arrived Thursday to look after his patients here. He always has a pleasant word for everybody.

The home of D. D. Muray was brightened last Sunday morning by the arrival of a fine bouncing baby boy, and cigars were flying around very plentifully.

The W. C. T. U. social at J. Wood's last Thursday was a grand success. Sixty people were in attendance. The proceeds was over five dollars and all report a good time.

Our Christian Endeavor meeting last Saturday evening was a grand success. Hope it may continue. We will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Westcott next Thursday evening, and the following week Thursday at D. McKenzie's. All are cordially invited to come and take part.

Don't Scold.

Of all forms of human effort and execution scolding is the most useless. When a parrot, a chipmunk, a squirrel or a bluejay scolds he is ludicrous. For people to scold is ludicrous, too, but with a difference, and assuredly the difference is on the unfavorable side. It never did and never will do any one any good. It has done much harm. Besides, scolding grows to be a habit. We have all suffered because of the shortcomings of some one else, receiving tremendous tirades over what we had no hand in, because we happened to be present when the scolding habit was yielded to by one of its victims.

Scolding is easy. It takes neither power of brain nor heart to scold. It does not even make any great draft upon the physical being. Any fishwife alive can be a grand success at scolding. Why compete with her?

Scolding should be compelled to perish from the earth. The tongue, the voice, the eye, the face—all should be trained not to scold—yes, and the pen, for of all things a scolding pen is the worst. And the habit once formed with the pen is apt never to be entirely shaken off.—Ada C. Sweet in Woman's Home Companion.

Millions Spent In Amusements.

"The American people are great theater goers and spend about $112,000,000 annually for such amusements," said a prominent theatrical manager to the writer recently. "This vast sum of money is paid into the treasuries of some 1,000 companies, which were estimated to be playing in all parts of the United States last year. This includes everything that can be considered strictly professional companies, to say nothing of the countless amateur organizations.

"Of the strictly theatrical organizations it is safe to say that the average receipts per night for the 1,000 companies is $400 each. At seven performances per week for each company the weekly average would be $2,800. The average theatrical season is 40 weeks. The entire 1,000 companies, with average nightly receipts of $400, would produce weekly receipts at seven performances per week amounting to $2,800,000. This multiplied by 40, the number of weeks in the theatrical season, will yield gross receipts amounting to $112,000,000, which is probably far below what the people of this country really do pay every year for theatrical amusement."—Washington Star.

Skrivseths Gallery is the place to get good photographs. 216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

—If you wish to renew your loan, or take up balance on your contract for deed, see Ola Tiegen, Crookston. tf

ROYAL Baking Powder

Makes the bread more healthful.

Safeguards the food against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Shadowy Sicily.

Sicily is in some sense a land of shadows—a land where the dead are more present to the mind than the living—a land where one feels one's self to be a breathing man visiting, like Dante or like Hercules, the realms of phantoms. Everywhere you are haunted by the ghosts of great men or the memories of great events or of great and departed nations.

In the lemon groves of the promontory of Naxos one fancies the sickly Nicias whiling away the winter, while his fleet rides in the bay outside the Greek harbor. At Syracuse we see a whole host of great shades—Nicias again and Lamachus, slain near the Anapo, and the ghosts of thousands of Athenians perishing in the great harbor and on the cliffs of Epipolæ and, last of all, in the quarries, and so vanishing into thin air. And again by the shores of Ortygia we think of Plato and Pindar and Bacchylides and Simonides, the visitors at the court of the stately Hiero, and last, but not least, of St. Paul tarrying for a short space in the harbor and perhaps preaching in some of the squares and streets of the old city.

There is yet another figure who follows one's thoughts through Sicily—the haughty and mystical Empedocles. We remember him on the slopes of Etna, in his native Acragas, and again at Selinus. And even in bright and busy Palermo the dead are more to us than the living. It is of Hamilkar or Marcellus or Frederick II and the brilliant Norman kings that we think the most. So thoroughly in Sicily do the shadows of the past dominate the living present.—Sir Edward Fry's "Studies by the Way."

Luck Comes to the Bellboy.

"Luck," said a man who believes in it, "comes to different people in different ways. I know a man who is now about as well fixed as most men would want to be whose luck came to him in helping a man on with an overcoat.

"He was a bellboy then in a hotel, and one day a big man, who was big and prosperous, financially as well as physically, and who had just got his overcoat out of the coatroom, turned to him and said:

"'Here, boy, help me on with this coat,' at the same time tossing the big coat over to him and turning away. The boy didn't begin to be big enough to do it, and asking him to help was just the big man's little joke, for he was a good natured man, but the next minute the big man felt the coat going up on his shoulders all right. Turning round he saw the youngster stepping down from a chair which had been standing near and which he had grabbed on to the minute the man turned his back.

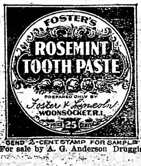
"This tickled the big man very much, and he took the small boy into his office, and practically the boy's fortune was made from that minute, for he had the stuff in him to make good as well as the brains to meet his luck half way when it came."—New York Sun.

Good Advice; Hard to Follow.

Extreme worry comes from trying to bear all the cares of a lifetime at once instead of letting each day's evil be sufficient unto itself. If we could live our whole life in a few hours, it might be consistent to think it all over in one night. There is no past, there is no future, for doing or accomplishing. The present time alone is for action, and the order is and always will be one thing at a time. This one thing must be done on the instant in whatever circumstances we find ourselves.

Not that we should be forgetful of the past or careless of the future. The former has been our faithful schoolmaster; the latter holds for us the issues of life. That we may act intelligently in the present it is essential for us to look forward as far as the future can reasonably be predicted, but not to worry.

A degree of anxiety may be founded upon facts that point almost inevitably to future difficulties, but a large part of the forecast of trouble is groundless, as is proved when things do not turn out as expected. Overanxiety is always crossing bridges before they are reached, and it will stay awake all night borrowing trouble from the remote future.—Chautauquan.



SEND 2-CENT STAMP FOR SAMPLE
For sale by A. G. Anderson Druggist.

Polk County Journal.

Vol. XXV — CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1901

Historical Society

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

CROOKSTON NEXT.

Implement Dealers of Red River Valley Close a Very Successful Meeting Yesterday.

WILL MEET HERE NEXT YEAR

Effort Was Strongly Opposed by Some of the North Dakota Delegatios.

Through the untiring efforts of Mr. Hendrickson, of Grafton, N. D., president of the Scandia American bank of this city, Crookston was chosen as the next meeting place of the Northwestern Implement Dealers' Association, which closed a very successful session at Grand Forks Thursday. The opposition offered to this move developed several amusing incidents, one of the opposing delegates making the statement "that we don't want to meet at a place where our goods and wares are not being used. Crookston," he said, "was in a purely lumbering district, loaded down with saw mills and pine stumps, and farming was something altogether unknown to the residents." Those remarks caused an outburst of laughter, and when the speaker was afterwards acquainted with the fact that this section produces all sorts of "No. 1 hard," and other grades of wheat and grain, he apoligizingly admitted that he must have been misinformed of the true condition of Polk county's leading industry, and readily yielded to the selection of Crookston as the next meeting place in order to convince himself more fully of the fertility of the soil, the fine grades of wheat raised in this county, and the amount of agricultural machiaery used in harvesting the grain raised here.

CARLESS CUSTODIAN.

A SCHOOL HOUSE NARROWLY ESCAPES DESTRUCTION.

While E. C. Cooke and another gentleman were driving in from Bear Park Monday evening, says the Fertile Journal, they discovered smoke issuing through the windows of the school house in the Ole Horstad district, in Garden. They at once broke in the door and organized themselves into a volunteer fire department. A pile of wood was discovered lying on top of a large box stove, and as there was a good, hot fire in the stove, the wood on top of it had caught fire and was burning merrily. They carried out the blazing pile, and thus saved a $500 school house from destruction. The building would undoubtedly have been in flames in a very few minutes, as the sticks of wood were nearly burned through and just about to drop to the floor when the gentlemen arrived on the scene, and the waste paper basket was near at hand to facilitate matters. To say the least, it was a very careless trick on the part of the person who closed up the school house.

FOR A CIRCUIT.

HALLOCK'S HORSEMEN WANT BETTER RACES.

A movement is being put forward by M. T. George, cashier of the Kittson County State bank, and president of the Kittson County Agricultural society, for the organization of a racing circuit, to take in Hamilton, N. D., Grand Forks, Hallock, Warren, Crookston, Fosston, Ada, Bemidji and other points in this territory.

The parties who stand at the head of this movement are in communication with horse owners in the different towns and cities, and expect to see the plan materialize. One of the principal objects to be achieved by a circuit is to secure a better class of horses, and better races, and a meeting is to be held in this city for the purpose of perfecting other necessary arrangements at an early day. Parties interested in the matter should address T. M. George at Hallock, or the Journal office, Crookston.

NATIVE PRIESTS.

FATHER M'KINNON REFUSES TO SERVE FEDERALISTS.

Manila, Feb. 26.—Rev. Father McKinnon, who was formerly private secretary to Mgr. Chappelle, and who is now pastor of the Ermita Catholic church, informed a representative of the Associated Press that there were upwards of 800 native priests in the Philippines opposed to the federal party, and these would > Refuse to administer the sacrament to federalists, because they believed the federal party to be merely a cloak for protestant attempts to weaken the power of the church of Rome.

He referred to the federal party as "resting on an insecure foundation and destined to crumble soon," and asserted that the Methodist and Presbyterian missionaries were using unfair means to induce Filipinos to leave the Catholic church. He assailed the character of Senor Bueneamento and other evangelical leaders and contended that only by securing the co-operation and good will of Padres could the Americans make permanent progress in the Philippines.

Senor Tavera, president of the federal party, when the views of Father McKinnon were brought to his attention, said:

"So much the better, as it will bring the matter to an issue. When asked if the members of party would not leave it if aformed that membershipp would involve their church standing, Tavara said: "They probably would, if that were true, but I don't believe but a small portion of priests would exclude men from the church for such a reason. We do not unite the question of church and state. This was decreed by the United States constitution. Nothing else is tolerated under American sovereignty.

"Whether federalists approve or not, they can be loyalists and yet oppose that doctrine. If the Catholic authorities are not willing to accept it they are not patriots. The federal party pay be able to disintegrate after civil government has been established in the Philippines, but the establishment of peace under American sovereignty will not disintegrate."

Senor Tavara also asserted that the federalists who had relatives and friends among the prominent insurgent leaders were endeavoring by correspondence to induce them to surrender, although thus far without results.

THE NAVAL BILL

IMPORTANT AMENDMENTS ARE AGREED TO BY THE HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The house yesterday jettisoned the authorization of two [illegible]leships and cruisers which were in the naval appropriation bill as it passed that body. The senate had rejected the appropriation and against the appeals of house conferees, the house voted by a big majority to agree to the senate amendment striking out the authorization.

Mr. Cannon, of the appropriations committee contributed largely to this result by a vigorous speech in favor of the senate amendment. The bill was agreed to and went back for conference. The house also added to the conference report on the bill to create a commission of five to adjudicate the claims of the United States citizens against Spain, assumed by the United States under the treaty of Paris.

Just before adjournment Mr. Tawney, chairman of the St. Louis exposition committee asked unanimous consent to disagree to the senate amendments to the exposition bill, but Mr. Shepard (Texas) objected.

WHY NOT HERE.

LIVE STOCK RAISING IN CANADA A PROFITABLE INDUSTRY.

Ex-Sheriff Thos. Lawrence and wife, who have been visiting friends in Ontario for nearly two months, arrived home this morning. A big land deal, which Mr. Lawrence has under way, prompted him to cut his visit a good deal shorter than he had originally intended. He found a great many changes and improvements since he left the Dominion twenty years ago, and the most notable of these being the progress farmers have made in stock raising. Many farmers with 100 or 200 acres of land have two or three large barns, built of solid rock and specially arranged for the care of cattle. Minnesota farmers, Mr. Lawrence thinks, would do well to follow the example of Canadian farmers and take up more generally with stock raising.

WAS BOUND OVER.

HARRY KATZENMEYER IS HELD FOR FORGING CHECKS.

The preliminary examination of Harry Katzenmeyer, who was arrested at Bemidji a week ago, was concluded late Saturday afternoon in Judge Sullivan's court in East Grand Forks. Attorney Rowe conducted the examination and after hearing the testimony the court ordered that Katzenmeyer be held to await the action of the grand jury, which meets next June. Bonds were fixed at $500, and as the prisoner failed to secure bail, he was committed to the county jail. Sheriff Sullivan brought him over on the 9 o'clock train Saturday evening and added him to his list of boarders.

Katzenmeyer is the son of a prominent and well to do German family in Waterloo county, Ont., and his downfall is due to drinking and gambling. Up to a few months ago he held a position as clerk in the Ingalls house at Grand Forks.

IMPORTANT ACTION

RELATIVE TO THE MONTANA COPPER MINES.

Helena, Feb. 26.—The supreme court yesterday reversed the action of Judge Clancy of Butte in appointing E. H. Wilson receiver for the Minnie Healy mine, a rich copper property in litigation between F. A. Heinze and the Boston & Montana Company. Heinze produced the appointment and it was claimed by the Boston firm, which owns the adjoining property, that the receiver was working upon its ground. The rejection of the receiver is regarded as a disastrous blow to Heinze.

Halstad, Minn., Feb. 26.—Snlerud Bros. & Eckern, who purchased the Brandt farm, are stocking it up with full blooded and high grade stock preparatory to making it the leading diary farm in the county. They already have full looded Hereford and Shorthorn bulls and over twenty high grade cows and will more than double this number this year.

MINNEAPOLIS LADY

Is Favored for the Position of Department President of the Women's Relief Corps.

MRS. ANNIE MARIE KEILER

Mother of a Well Known Crookston Business Man, Seems to Lead in the Race.

The portrait published in connection with this article is a correct likeness of Mrs. Annie Marie Keiler, of Minneapolis, mother of Mr. Keiler, of the firm of Keiler, Rynn & Co., of this city. The lady in question is being urged by her legion of friends in this state to become a candidate for the office of president of the department of Minnesota, W. R. C., and The Journal heartily endorses the sentiment expressed in the following communication, which was written in the interest of Mrs. Keiler by one of her lady supporters from her home city. The election, which occurs next month, promises to be a spirited one, although the lady of this sketch appears to have a decided preference for that much coveted place. The communication, accompanied by a brief biographical sketch, is as follows:

District No. 1 has been honoured this year in the department by giving us the president, S. V. president, P. V. president, secretary, treasurer, chaplain and second member of executive board. Now District No. 1 has about the same full slate for the coming convention, and I, as a member of said district, think that we should ask for a change. Let district No. 4, which represents Minneapolis and its nine corps, stand at our head this year and lead us—fraternity, charity and loyalty, but the greatest of these is loyalty.

Loyalty to our word of honor as a woman, which was to give to Minneapolis every third year the president, also every third year a president from St. Paul, and the next year a president from the country corps.

Now, everyone in our order knows that by right of way, this is Minneapolis year, and if we remember the solemn obligation, every voter will give her vote, voice and influence to a Minneapolis candidate, who has a pedigree in every twig of her branch. One who has given two soldiers for two wars to honor and uphold the flag we love, and who has herself burned the midnight oil, planning for our order's best interests, so that it stands today the grandest of all departments in patriotic work and well may we be proud of her splendid womanhood and motherhood, for it was the patriotic women of the W. R. C. of Minneapolis and St. Paul that gave the first and only mammoth "Old Glory" for the Colored Industrial (Ga.) College. May our motto, "One Country, One Language, One Flag," ever be sacred to the students of that institution.

BIOGRAPHY.

Mrs. Annie Marie Keiler was born in Portland, Me., in the early fifties at the home of her grandfather, Captain David P. Shaw. Her father was at the time a prominent business man in New York city, and the first five years of Mrs. Keiler's life were spent in that city. From there the family moved to Portland, Me. Her father was a power in the temperance movement, with his life-long friend, Gen. Neal Dow, and was noted for his many stirring speeches during the temperance campaign in Maine. Her mother, Sarah E. Shaw, is a cousin of Past Commander-in-Chief Albert D. Shaw, and niece of ex-Gov. Briggs of Massachusetts. She is also a granddaughter of Abner Briggs, who married Lady Blina, a nobleman's daughter. On her father's side she traces her lineage directly back to Lord Nelson, and through her mother to a branch of the Briggses of Massachusetts and the Shaws of Maine. Mrs. Keiler's early school days were spent in the public schools of Portland. Later her education was continued in the select school of Miss Elizabeth Dodge of Boston and the Westbrook Seminary, Deering, Me.

Mrs. Keiler is a member of George N. Morgan corps and has held many offices in the corps, was its president the past year and initiated twenty candidates. Mrs. Keiler has served the department during this administration as patriotic instructor, and her report to the national instructor was one of the best received. She placed the patriotic work of the order in Manila, Honolulu and Porto Rico, in the hands of the superintendents of every public institution in this state and of the Indian schools.

Mrs. Keiler has served the Federation of Corps as its recording secretary, press correspondent, delegate to the woman's council and corresponding secretary. Her time, means and ability she has given freely as few other women in the state have done, to favor the patriotic work in the department.

Mrs. Keiler is the widow of Comrade W. L. Keiler, Company B, Eighth Maine. At the battle of Gettysburg, at the "Bloody Angle," on the third day, Comrade Keiler received a mortal wound. Mrs. Keiler is not only the widow of a comrade, but the mother of a soldier. Her oldest son was one of the first to sign the roll of Company B, Thirteenth Minnesota, leaving behind a beloved wife and 10-days-old little Marjorie.

Mrs. Keiler has received the hearty endorsement of her own corps for the office of department president, and is the favorite candidate of most of the voters of Minneapolis corps, because by right this is Minneapolis' year. Minneapolis belongs to District No. 4. District No. 1 has given the department its leader this year.

WILDWOOD WILLIES.

SEVERE BLOW IMPENDING FOR LOGGING ROAD TRAMPERS.

The bill introduced by Senator Buckman, making it a misdemeanor for an employe to accept railroad transportation or advancements from an employer and then fail to perform work of equal value to the accomodations received, is a severe blow to the weary Willies of the northern lumber woods.

One of the developments of the past few years, ever since good times returned to the lumber industry, has been the lumberjack tramp. They are no so much in evidence this winter as last. A year ago there were so many men wanderng from camp to camp and bumming their living that logging operations were seriously interrupted. Wages were high but that only seemed to aggravate the situation. Any man who would work was gladly accepted, almost any where he might apply, but the men heard or seemed to hear that wages and "grub" were a little better further on and they put in the winter chasing the will-o'-the-wisp, only to come out in the spring with less money than if they had worked for $8 a month and kept steadily at it. The loggers suffered on account of the unsettled condition of their crews and the daily raids on their larders for which there was no compensation. Many of the men who got into the habit of tramping about from camp to camp appear to have become chronic, and the result is the lumberjack tramp, something unheard of a few years ago.

These men hire out in Duluth or elsewhere, and are sent out at the expense of the logger engaging their services. Then the men refuse to work, after having used their railway transportation and gotten outside of a few meals, because of some complaint about the foreman, the food or the sleeping accomodations, the logger is out a few dollars and his work is still undone. New men must be employed and thus the situation continues throughout the winter.

Senator Buckman's bill is designed to put a stop to the men engaging their services to loggers and putting the latter to considerable expense without at least giving an equivalent in work. The lumberjack has nobody but himself to blame. In the past it was never customary to charge a treveling woodsman anything for a bed to sleep in or for his breakfast or supper. But the hospitality of the loggers has been abused, and now it is withdrawn. If the bill becomes a law the woodman who hires out will be obliged to work at least long enough to pay his fare and any other advances by his employers.

SEVERELY TREATED

A MOB HANGS A MAN TO FORCE A CONFESSION.

New York, Feb. 26.—An excited mob in Mateawan, N. J., hung Charles Herbert, a resident of that place, in an effort to make him confess that he had started a fire which destroyed the business portion of the town on Jan. 27. Herbert protested his innocence. He was strung up a second time, and when lowered again asserted that he was not guilty. That time the torture ceased and the man was taken to jail.

Last night a dwelling occupied by Herbert's mother caught fire and after the flames were extinguished it was discovered that the stairway in the house had been soaked with kerosene. Suspicion pointed to Herbert and his arrest and torture followed.

ARE ANXIOUS.

OVER FATE OF THE PURCHASING EXPOSITION BILL.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The friends of the Louisiana Purchase exposition bill are considerably excited over the parliamentary difficulties still in the way of the final passage of that measure. The appropriation of $5,000,000 went through because of pledges in the last year's sundry civil bill that this amount would be given. But since the senate has added a provision for the Charleston exposition, which had not previously been placed, there is considerable doubt whether the friends of the bill can get the recognition of the speaker. They are hoping, however, to get the matter into conference, but the few days remaining gives added cause for anxiety.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Polk County Will Form Part of the Ninth District Under the Proposed Change

CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

The Question of How to Cut up the State Finally Solved by Sub Committee.

St. Paul, Feb. 21.—The following is the reapportionment of the state of Minnesota as decided on by the subcommittee and reported yesterday afternoon:

First District—Steele, Dodge, Wabasha, Olmstead, Winona, Freeborn, Mower, Fillmore, Houston.

Second District—Waseca, Blue Earth, Faribault, Martin, Watonwan, Cottonwood, Murray, Pipestone, Brown, Jackson, Nobles.

Third District—McLeod, Carver, Scot, Dakota, Sibley, Nicollet, Le Sener, Rice, Goodhue.

Fourth District—Chisago, Ramsey, Washington.

Fifth District—Hennepin.

Sixth District—Hubbard, Cass, Douglass, Todd, Crow Wing, Wadena, Morrison, Stearns, Benton, Sherborne, Wright, Meeker.

Seventh District—Lincoln, Lyon, Redwood, Renville, Yellow Medicine, Chippewa, Lac Qui Parle, Kandiyohi, Swift, Big Stone, Stevens, Pope, Traverse, Grant.

Eighth District—Itasca, St. Louis, Lake, Cook, Aitkin, Pine, Mille Lacs, Kanabec, Isanti, Anoka, Carleton.

Ninth District—Marshall, Beltrami, Polk, Clay, Becker, Otter Tail, Wilkin, Norman, Roseau, Kittson.

CRUSADER SHOT

WHILE ENGAGED IN SMASHING A CAR LOAD OF BEER.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 26.—J. W. Adams was fatally wounded in a battle between three policemen and a band of citizens who made a midnight raid on a Topeka wholesale liquor house.

A large quantity of cased beer was destroyed before the crowd was dispersed.

A crowd of from thirty to sixty citizens, armed with revolvers, sledge hammers, crowbars and a battering ram broke into the wholesale house of "Cash" Curtis on West Curtis street, between Kansas avenue and Jackson street, at midnight and smashed the beer found there. A fresh carload had just been received.

Three policemen drove the crowd back. Both the policemen and the citizens fired their revolvers and J. W. Adams, a carpenter, was shot twice in the breast.

He was taken in a back to Riverside hospital, where be lies in a precarious condition. Dr. M. R. Mitchell and Rev. F. W. Emerson were both arrested by the police.

Rev. Emerson was taken to the police station, where he was booked under the charge of resisting arrest.

Dr. Mitchell took Adams to the hospital and was allowed to stay and administer to him without giving bond.

The three officers, Patrolman Downey and Boyles and Private Watchman Connors, claim Adams was shot by his own crowd while he was retreating from the point of attack.

Adams declares, however, that he was shot by a policeman. Officer Connors says that his revolver, a 38-calliber affair, was knocked from his hand.

The wholesale liquor house raided is a small frame building at the rear of Curtis' home, which faces on Curtis street.

The crowd turned south on Jackson street and crossed the rear of the lots between the street and the liquor house. In one of the yards was a log of thick wood. A half dozen men seized the log and used it as a battering ram. At the first blow the door gave way.

> A lantern lighted up the interior. By accident it was extinguished and the work was done in the dark. Three men stood inside and passed the cases and kegs of beer to the men in the doorway, who threw them into the yard to be smashed. The crowd used heavy sledges, masons' hammers and crowbars.

The owners of the beer made no resistance.

A DEAL IN STOCKS.

The office rooms of Referee Vaule were the scene of a huge transfer Monday, in which 48,100 Montana mining shares changed hands. These were a part of the estate of Spiro Bisazza, who recently showed his creditors how to make an up to date assignment, and who, for his well developed ability in that direction, now languishes in the Fergus Falls jail awaiting his trial in the federal court, which convenes March 28.

The bidding for the estate, which besides the mining stock shares included some real estate and a bunch of book accounts, was done with considerable precaution, as none of the bidders seemed to fully know the exact vaule of the lithographed documents, nor being greaty interested in the mining proposition. Halvor Steenerson, A. D. Stephen and C. C. Strander were the last three to respond to F. C. Brown's "I am bid so much, who will raise it?" When $225 was reached, matters took a prolonged standstill, and Trustee Brown, of the estate, "broke the news" to Mr. Stephen that he was now the owner of this huge lump of mining stock and worn out book accounts.

It will be noticed from the price paid that Crookston capitalists are not much interested in mining. About one-half of a cent apiece for the "gilded and glittering" shares is truly a very low rate and may have a dampening effect on local mine speculators.

LUTHERANS CONFER.

RED RIVER VALLEY LUTHER LEAGUE IN CONVENTION.

The Red River Valley Central Luther League convention, held at Concordia college, Moorhead, Minn., last week, was a success. Fifty-one delegates were present. Sixteen local leagues belong to the central, which meets semi-annually. Thursday evening an excellent lecture was delivered to a large and appreciative audience by Dr. E. G. Lund of Minneapolis, professor of theology at the United Church seminary of that city. The doctor is recognized as a popular American orator, whose inspiring addresses are interesting and instructive. Six excellent papers were read before the convention. "Problems of the Lutheran Church at the Beginning of the Twentieth Century," by the Rev. A. G. Larsen, and "A Plea for the Scriptural Methods of Giving," by Miss [illegible]nthea Lyng, were the topics which especially created lively and instructive discussions partaken in by the pastors, Gebhart of Fargo, Ness of Perley, Larsen of Moorhead, Marvick of Hutton, Bogstad of Moorhead, and Profs. Aaker, Busby and Rognlie, besides several other delegates.

ANOTHER NEW TOWN.

WHICH PROMISES RAPID DEVELOPMENT IN THE SPRING.

A number of Crookston and Bemidji business men, who are interested in the new town of Turtle River, thirteen miles northeast of Bemidji, express considerable confidence in the development of that place the coming spring. A big boom is already started and the saw mill of W. C. Kelso will be moved from Solway to the new town, which is located on the Brainerd & Northern railway, and a number of other Solway business houses will transfer their goods and wares to Turtle River as soon as new and adequate buildings can be erected.

There are now nearly all lines of business represented in the town, including a newspaper, and the latter will soon have a contemporary for public favor. The Turtle River postoffice has recently been removed from the old place to the new town, and the townsite owners promise lively times to begin in every direction about the middle of March.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

PLAN TO CARVE IT FROM MARSHALL AND RED LAKE.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 26.—Residents of the eastern end of Marshall county are agitating county division. The county is 75 miles long, with the county seat at the western end and with no direct mail or railroad communication between the east and west portions.

The most favored plan seems to be that of carving a new county from Marshall and Red Lake counties, with Thief River Falls as the county seat. This place is the nearest railroad point to all of the territory embraced in the proposed new county and is already the business center.

There seems little doubt but that the proposition will be a winner. A petition is now being drawn up to be circulated in both counties and the necessary 25 per cent of the legal voters will undoubtedly sign. Lincoln is suggested as a name for the new county.

CLERK AT PRISON

H. W. DAVIS WILL SERVE UNDER WARDEN WOLFER.

Stillwater, Minn., Feb. 26.—Horace W. Davis was today appointed chief clerk at the state prison and will assume the [illegible] Warden Wolfer this week. He is an excellent man for the place, and belongs to a family long residing here. He succeeds [illegible] W. Lawrence, brother in law of [illegible] Reeve, the retiring warden.

SENATOR CARTER

INSISTS THAT CUBA SHOULD REIMBURSE THE U. S

Washington, Feb. 26.—Senator Carter, who is one of the senators in charge of the army appropriation bill, insists that the Cuban amendment to the bill must be further amended so as to compel Cuba to render an accounting to the United States for the money which has been expended by this government in Cuba with a view to repayment at some future time.

GETS A PENSION.

Oren Simmons, a veteran of the civil war, residing in this city, Tuesday received notice from his attorney, Burton McAffee of Washington, D. C., that he had been allowed a pension by the department of $10 per month, and back pension at the same rate since March 1, 1899. The case has been before the department for nearly ten years, and Mr. Simmons is pleased to finally have his claim adjusted.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

GETS SEVEN YEARS

Frank Hamilton, Convicted of Killing Day, Sentenced by Judge Brooks Yesterday

A STATE PRISON SENTENCE

The Former Newspaper Reporter Will Serve the State Seven Years At Stillwater.

Minneapolis, Feb. 26.—Frank H. Hamilton, the newspaper reporter, who was convicted last week of manslaughter in the first degree for killing Leonard Day in the West hotel brawl, was sentenced at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon to seven years in the penitentiary.

The matter had been quietly arranged during the day to have Hamilton taken before Judge Brooks at a late hour in the afternoon after nearly all persons had left the court house and when the judges were all supposed to be through with their work for the day.

In spite of all the precautions there were quite a number of people who became aware of what was transpiring and Hamilton had to face curious staring faces as he was taken into the court room. It was a pleasure for him however, compared to what the situation might have been had he been publicly arraigned, with a court room crowded with people.

County Attorney Boardman appeared for the prosecution, while Hamilton sat beside his legal representative, R. L. Penney and Frank M. Nye. The prisoner appeared more at ease than might be expected, but there was an anxious look about his face. However, it was apparent that he was relieved when he heard the announcement of Judge Brooks.

CUBANS IMPRESSED.

WITH RECOMMENDATIONS FROM SENATE COMMITTEE.

Havana, Feb. 26.—The Cuban constitutional committee met in executive session this afternoon and discussed the question of future relations between Cuba and the United States. It was evident that the delegates were deeply impressed with the recommendation of the United States senate committee on relations with Cuba, cabled from Washington.

When Senator Nunez was asked his opinion, he replied:

> "That settles it. If the United States insists upon naval stations, I have nothing to say."

The report of the special committee on relations declared that any scheme of relations accepted by the convention could not bind the future republic and must be approved by the Cuban congress. The members of the committee were unanimous on this point. The report was rather in the nature of suggestions showing no substantial variation from the forecast already cabled. Senor Nunez introduced a resolution that the convention could appoint a committee either to go to Washington or to meet a committee from the United States congress to discuss the question.

IN THE NICK OF TIME.

IDA HANSON ACCUSED OF A BAD CHARGE.

Minneapolis Tribune: The serious charge of procuring for immoral purposes was preferred against Ida Hanson last night. The victim of the alleged conspiracy, Alma Peterson, 19 years old, was held as a witness by the police.

The women were taken into custody at the Union depot late last night by Detectives Williams and Fairbairn. They were about to take a train for Winnipeg, where, it s charged, the Peterson girl was to be lured into a disreputable resort, run by Florence Durkins.

The police found a telegram in possession of the Hanson woman, dated Winnipeg, Feb. 11, and signed "Florence." It read:

"Come at once. Tickets at railroad office."

The Peterson girl came from her home at Lengby, Minn., some time ago and has since been living in Minneapolis with her married sister. According to her story she has known the Hanson woman two weeks. She says the latter offered her a good position but she did not know until the depot was reached where she was going.

She admitted that she had just written a letter to the Winnipeg woman, but she denies that she knew that her occupation was what the police claim. The Hanson woman was indignant at her detention and asserted with vehemence that she had no evil designs on the girl.

SHOT BY A BLIND MAN

BULLY INSTANTLY KILLED FOR STRIKING A GIRL.

New Orleans, Feb. 26.—Wm. Spencer was shot and instantly killed by a blind negro named Joseph Buggs. Buggs is totally blind and is led aroung by his step sister, Marie Virginia Cook, fourteen or fifteen. Spencer had been drinking and was in an ugly humor, striking the girl down. Buggs protested against this brutality when Spencer threatened him with a beating. It was then that the blind man drew a revolver and aiming by sound, fired once. The aim was true, Spencer being shot through the heart and instantly killed. There will be no lynching.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A BEMIDJI "JACK" HAS AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

The storm of Friday came near costing at least one person his life. The incident occurred on the bridge over the Mississippi river near Bemidji yesterday afternoon just as the Duluth train was crossing the bridge. At the time a thick flurry of snow made it impossible for the engineer to see any distance ahead, though he was keeping a good lookout as people are in the habit of crossing the bridge afoot. Suddenly he saw a dark object ahead which he at first thought was a dog, but at that instant the air cleared a little and he saw that it was a lumber jack, slightly stooped by the weight of a heavy pack he was carrying. There was not time to stop the train, though the engineer applied the emergency brakes. At the same time he blew the whistle vigorously. The lumber jack heard the warning just in time. The bridge was too narrow to stand aside and let the train pass, and the only way he could escape was to catch hold of one of the stringers and suspend himself until the last car had passed. This he did and lost no time in doing it either. As the river is not frozen over beneath the bridge, he would have received a rather cool ducking had he lost his hold.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

TEN YEAR OLD LAD CREMATED IN A STRAW FIRE.

Friday's Grand Forks Herald contains the following:

One of the most distressing accidents that ever occurred in the state took place at Peterson yesterday afternoon, and as a result of which the body of Joseph Hobigan, a lad ten years old, was burned beyond recognition.

The manner in which he lost his life is very peculiar, at least the conditions were very much out of the ordinary. Joseph and a brother a couple of years older were playing around a burning straw stack on their father's farm a short distance from Peterson, which is ten miles south of Buffalo in Cass county. Owing to the recent warm weather the snow had melted on the top of the stack, and the cold snap had frozen the water that resulted, and this formed a thick crust on the top of the stack.

After the straw had been fired the boys amused themselves by climbing to the top of the stack and dancing on the crust till they were driven off by the smoke. While they were doing this the crust gave way and the younger of the two boys fell through the crater into the fire below. The older boy barely escaped a like fate, and was powerless to render assistance to his unfortunate brother, who had disappeared in the fire that had eaten its way to the center of the stack beneath where they had been playing.

He ran home as fast as he could and gave the alarm, but even before he had started his brother was dead. Help came in a very short time, but the stack was nothing but a heap of ashes, and when willing hands had dug the ashes and smouldering straw away and recovered the remains, they were unrecognizable.

NO REPEATERS.

GUN CLUB WILL TRY TO PREVENT REPEATING GUNS.

E. G. F. Courier: The members of the Crookston Gun club have for some time discussed the matter of the use of repeating shot guns and their bearing upon the extermination of feathered game. It is alleged that two men armed with these guns, which are capable of being fired seven times almost as fast as the trigger can be pulled, were able to completely wipe out of existence a covey of prairie chickens at the first rise. The use of such a firearm savors strongly of pot hunting, and the members of the club have decided to move in the matter of preventing their use. A committee from the club including Attorneys Bucklen, Rowe and Finlayson, Mayor Campbell and others perfected the draft of a bill the purpose of which is to restrain the use of repeating shot guns in hunting prairie chickens, grouse and other non-migratory feathered game.

The bill will be sent to both the senate and house for introduction by the members from this district, and its merits will be passed upon by the solons at an early date.

DIDN'T MATERIALIZE.

EAST GRAND FORKERS' COUNTY DIVISION TALK.

Fisher Bulletin: Some enthusiastc county division boomers at East Grand Forks 'phoned over here the other day and engaged the opera house for Wednesday evening to hold a mass meeting to get the sentiment of the Fisher people, and said a large crowd would be here from the Forks. The ball was ready for them but not a soul showed up. It is too early in the game to raise much enthusiasm about dividing the county.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in allb civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac. F. H. Hillard & Son.

SALE OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

The undersigned will sell at public auction, on Saturday, March 2nd, at his barn in Beltrami, 21 head of farm horses, 15 heifers and cows, 10 sets of work harness and a full line of farm machinery. H. B. Budd. 45-46

TERROR IN CAMP.

BAD MAN FORCES FAVORS WITH A REVOLVER.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 21.—Edmund White, who with his father, E. R. White, is logging on an extensive scale, near Farris, four miles west of here, was in town yesterday accompanied by his camp foreman, L. H. Smith. They were looking for a man named E. L. Woods, who one day last week terrorized the White camp and ran matters thereabouts with a high hand. He was formerly employed at the White camp, and one day drew his "time" and went to Farris. He returned to camp considerably intoxicated on Thursday of last week, when no one but White and Smith were about. Pulling out a revolver he forced White to write a check in his (Woods) favor for $2.. The foreman attempted to interfere and Woods shot at him, luckily missing his mark. The only firearm in the camp at the time was a Winchester rifle, which was snugly tucked away in its case under White's bed, and Woods had matters pretty much his own way. Pocketing his check, Woods, at the point of his gun, made Smith hitch up a team and drive him to Farris, where he disappeared from view. Woods succeeded in getting the check cashed and remained in hiding, while White and Smith were vainly searching [illegible] him. There being no justice at [illegible] hite and Smith went to Park [illegible] the county seat of Hubbard [illegible] wore out a warrant for the [illegible] of Wood, and accompanied by Daniel Petrie, sheriff of Hubbard county, and his deputy, Al Shearer, came to Cass Lake to look for Woods. It was stated that Woods had been seen in one of George Lydick's logging camps, but a search of the premises failed to find the man wanted, and he is still at large.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the last regular meeting of Tribe No. 34, I. O. R. M., held Feb. 20th, 1901 the following resolution was unanimously adobpted.

Whereas, it has pleased the Great Spirit to remove from our midst our worthy and esteemed brother, Christopher Greenhalgh, a charter member of this Tribe,

Therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of Tha-Ten-Ha-Wi-Tha Tribe No. 34, I. O. R. M., convey to the bereaved widow and friends an expression of our sincere sympathy and sorrow, trusting that He who doeth all things for the best will sustain and comfort them in the sad loss of a loving husband and friend.

Be it resolved, that the charter of this Tribe be draped for a period of thirty days, and a copy of these resolutions be spread on our minute book, a copy handed to the widow, Mrs. Greenhalgh, and also printed in the Crookston papers.

—F. M. Brown,
—C. C. Bowen,
—N. S. Gervais.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

S. C. JOHNSON'S
Feed Store.

Baled hay per ton	10.00
Baled hay, per bale	55c
Oats per bu	28c to 33c
Ground Corn per cwt	85c
Ground Corn per ton	$16.50
Ground Feed, oats and barley per 100 lbs	90c
Shorts, per 100 lbs	80c
Shorts, per ton	$15.00
Bran per 100 lbs	75c
Bran per ton	$14.50
Shelled corn per bushel	45c
Shelled corn per 50 bu	42c
Oyster shells per lb	3c
Crystal Grit per lb	3c
Low grape flour per cwt	$1.00

Telephone 108.
Cor. Main and Fletcher Sts.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY
Short Route
Fast Time
To
All Points in the Northwest
And on the
Pacific Coast
LOCAL TIME CARD.

Arrive.	*Daily §Except Sunday.	Leave.
6.55 am	*Grand Forks, north and west	7.00 am
9.00 pm	*Minneapolis, St. Paul and east	9.05 pm
6.30 pm	§St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls	9.20 am
4.49 pm	*Fosston, Bemidji, Duluth and Superior	9.00 am
6 45 pm	St. Vincent to Fargo	7.15 pm
	Fargo to St. Vincent	9.10 am

Full Information from
F. D. Bell, Agt.

Three Little Girls!
After five years constant use of Dr. Seth Arnold's Soothing and Quieting Cordial we have not noticed a single evil effect and now our children "three little girls" are as fat and healthy as one would wish to see. Rev. A. W. Bishop, Olathe, Kan.
For sale by A. G. Anderson Druggist.

NORTHERN PACIFIC
To
ST. PAUL
MINNEAPOLIS
DULUTH
AND POINTS
EAST & SOUTH
To BUTTE
HELENA
SPOKANE
SEATTLE
TACOMA
PORTLAND
CALIFORNIA
JAPAN
CHINA
ALASKA
KLONDIKE
C. A. SHARKEY, Agent Crookston, Minn. | Chas. S. Fee, G. P. A ST. PAUL, MINN.

SOUTH BOUND.	Arr	Dep't
No. 8 to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and East.	8:28 pm	8:28 p m
NORTH BOUND.
No. 7 to Grand Forks, Grafton and Winnipeg.	6:48 a m	6:48 a m

A. SHARKEY, Agt. Crookston, Minn. | CHAS. S. FEE, G. P. A St. Paul, Minn

S. L. Collins,
Livery and
Feed Stables
Horses bought and sold on commission. Everything neat and nobby. Feeding a specialty.
Crookston, Minn

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

AT THE........
ONE PRICE HARDWARE STORE.
CROSS-CUT SAWS,
BUCK SAWS,
HAND SAWS,
At Prices Ranging from....
15C Upwards
N. 213 Broadway. L. E. LARSEN.

Shelled Corn, [illegible]nts, Ground Feed, Bran and Shorts, Pillsbury's Best Flour, Baled Hay, Lignite Coal and Wood of all kinds--Car lots only. For prices, delivered anywhere. Address L. B. GIBBS, GRAND FORKS, N. D.

ANGORA GOATS
I will sell Angora Does in lots to suit purchaser. Bred to my celebrated Billies to kid in May.
Write for prices
A. L. Morris, Bagley, Minn.

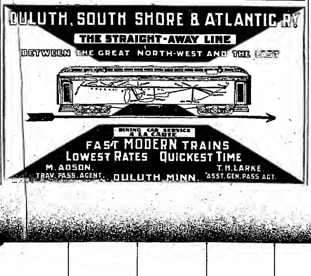
PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS AND DESIGNS.
Send your business direct to Washington, saves time, costs less, better service.
My office close to U. S. Patent Office. FREE preliminary examinations made. Atty's fee not due until patent is secured. PERSONAL ATTENTION GIVEN—19 YEARS ACTUAL EXPERIENCE. Book "How to obtain Patents," etc., sent free. Patents procured through E. G. Siggers receive special notice, without charge, in the
INVENTIVE AGE
illustrated monthly—Eleventh year—terms, $1. a year.
E. G. SIGGERS, 918 F St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

C. L. DOBNER, Pres. .G OBNER, Vice Pres. S. F. STAPLES, Sec. and Treas
Northern Real Estate and Mortgage Company.
(INCORPORATED)
THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.
First Class Farm Mortgages for Sale. Farms bought and sold. List your farms with us. Money loaned on improved farms in this neighborhood. Office over First State Bank.
REFERENCES—First State Bank, Thief River Falls. Scandia American Bank, Crookston, Scandinavian American Bank, St. Paul.

SCANDIA-AMERICAN BANK,
OF CROOKSTON, MINN.
Capital Stock $50,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $13,000
TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS.
Special Attention to Collections. County, Town and School Or[illegible] Bought.
INTEREST PAID ON TIME DEPOSITS.
C. Hendrickson, President. H. Steenerson, Vice President. N. S. Gervais, 2d Vice President
L. Ellington, Cashier. A. P. Hanson, Ass't Cashier.

A. G. Anderson,
Druggist and Pharmacist
Dealer in Drug,s Druggist's Sundries, Stationery, Paints, Oils and Glass.
Perscriptions a specialty. Stamps taken in payment.
Anderson Blk, Robert Street. Crookston, Minn.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,
CROOKSTON, MINN.
GEORGE Q. ERSKINE, President. WM. ANGLIM, Vice-President
J. W. WHEELER, Cashier. H. ROBERTSON Asst. Cashier.
Capital Stock $75,000. Surplus and Undivided Profits $25,000
Money to Loan on Farms. Interest paid on Time Deposits
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS;
George Q. Erskine, A. A. Miller, Wm. Anglim, J. R. McKinnon, E. M. Walsh, L. Fontaine
J. P. Foote, W. H. Crosby, J. W. Wheeler.
Prompt and Intelligent Attention given to all the Interests of our Customers



DULUTH, SOUTH SHORE & ATLANTIC RY
THE STRAIGHT-AWAY LINE
BETWEEN THE GREAT NORTH-WEST AND THE EAST
DINING CAR SERVICE A LA CARTE
FAST MODERN TRAINS
LOWEST RATES QUICKEST TIME
M. ADSON. TRAV. PASS. AGENT.
DULUTH, MINN.
T. H. LARKE ASST. GEN. PASS. AGT.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

ATTORNEYS

James H. Maybury,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Special Attention to: Business Correspondence, Land Contest Cases, Mortgage Foreclosures, Collections, Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block, CROOKSTON, MINN.

H. Steenerson,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

Miller & Foote,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets Crookston, Minn.

R. J. Montague,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room 3 Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
DENTIST.
Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

PHYSICIANS

A. A. Just M. D.
HOMEOPATHIC [illegible]CIAN AND SURGEON
Office in McKinnon Block, Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans, Insurance........
OFFICIAL ABSTRACTERS OF TITLE FOR POLK COUNTY. CROOKSTON MINN.

Carpenter & Olson.
LAW, LAND, LOANS, COLLECTIONS
Prompt and careful attention given to all business placed in our hands.
Rooms 48-49, Reckitt block, Crookston, Minn.

Christ's Church, Episcopal.
CROOKSTON, MINN.
Services every Sunday. Morning, 11:00, evening, 8:00. Holy Communion the First Sunday of every Month. Reader you are welcome.
REV. H. M GREEN, B. D. Rector

Current Topics.

Specially prepared articles on Current Topics, explanatory and instructive, are often just what the newspaper readers want. Readers of the Minneapolis Journal are to have this advantage. February 18th and the special mail edition of February 19th there appears in that paper the first of a series of articles under the general title,

The Current Topics Club

Among the subjects to be treated are "Colonial Governments of Today," with reference to the colonial questions that confront our own country.

"The Opportunity and the Man," which will show whether the opportunities are all gone.

"The Art of Living a Hundred Years," not a whimsical notion, but a matter of scientific as well as popular interest at this time.

"American Life a Century Ago," interesting and instructive comparisons and contrasts with the present.

"The Woman's Club Movement," and what it is really accomplishing and "What the Government Does for the People." a valuable and instructive insight into a matter about which the most of us have rather vague notions.

These articles will appear daily in The Minneapolis Journal for at least four months. Back numbers may be obtained for a reasonable time. The Journal containing these articles for three months and a fine map of Minnesota and map of the world for

$1.00

Stevens Ideal Rifle.
No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.
Made in all the standard calibers both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, 24 inches. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.
If these rifles are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.
Send stamp for catalog describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.
THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

Just The Cut You Want At Burkhardt Bros' Meat Market.
The Cleanest Shop in Town.
Telephone 90.
North Main Street.

WILDMAN IS LOST.

He Was on Board of the Ill-Fated Pacific Mail Steamer Rio de Janeiro.

PASSENGER LIST RECOVERED

Patrol Established Along Beach to Stop Looting of Wreckage by Beach Combers.

San Francisco, Feb. 25.—So far as can be ascertained from reliable data, 128 lives were lost in the wreck of the Pacific mail steamer City of Rio de Janeiro. Some fishermen early yesterday morning found a packet containing the papers of Purser Rooney. Among them was the passenger list and a bunch of cancelled passenger tickets, and as there were names on the list whose cancelled passenger tickets did not appear among those recovered, it is assumed that they laid over either at Yokohama, Kobe or Honolulu.

There is no longer any doubt about the fate of the Wildman family. That they were on the vessel at the time she went down is certain.

ELEVEN BODIES RECOVERED.

Thus far only eleven bodies have been recovered, six whites, four Chinese and one Japanese.

The whites are:

Julia Dodds, aged 55 years, stewardess of the Rio de Janeiro.

Angeline Gussino, labor agent in the employ of Spreckels, at Spreckelsville, Hawaiian islands.

Edward Barwick, aged 35 years, the ship's butcher, of the Rio.

Mrs. Alfred Hart, formerly of Los Angeles, but recently from Manila.

Mrs. Sarah W. Wakefield, aged 50, late resident of Oakland.

The remains of her daughter, Naomi, are still missing.

Chas. Dowdell, attorney and capitalist.

Surveyor of the Port Spear has established a patrol along the beach inside Fort Point. Thus far his men have picked up four mail bags, one of these washing in near Baker's and others near the Fort Point life saving station.

The surveyor has given orders that all fishing boats must report at the customs office. All bodies brought in by them and all wreckage and flotsam picked up by fishermen must be accounted for by the officials at the barge office.

In this way it is thought that looting of mail bags and trunks may be stopped.

Among other effects picked up by the fishermen was the box containing Captain Ward's papers.

The police have established a patrol outside the beach, south of Fort Winfield Scott.

The value of the cargo of the Rio de Janeiro has not been determined, owing to the absence of important papers, but it is variously estimated at from $500,000 to $600,000. Among some papers found floating near the scene of the disaster was a copy of the manifest showing all the consignees, with the exception of the Chinese firms.

NO TREASURE ON BOARD.

The cargo consisted principally of silk, tea, rice and other oriental products. There was no treasure aboard, as was at first supposed.

Of the 200 sacks of mail carried by the Rio de Janeiro, only 12 have come to the surface.

The investigation into the loss of the steamer will probably be held next week. Graham Coghlan, the senior surviving officers of the ill-fated vessel, called on Capt. Bolles yesterday afternoon to report, and he was instructed to make his statement today.

The inspectors are in a peculiar position in the matter. Capt. Ward, the man held responsible for the navigation of the steamer, is dead, and the investigation of Pilot Jordan will be under the direction of the state pilot commissioners. The government inspectors can only inquire into the navigation of the ship as far as the second officer knows, and will investigate the management of the boats and similar matters. Pilot Jordan will be summoned as a witness.

The wreck of the Rio de Janeiro which for a while hung on a pinnacle of the rock where she struck in the Golden Gate, so that parts of her upper works were visible, has slid off into deep water and is now invisible.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING.

NORTHERN MINNESOTA FARMERS AS DAIRYMEN.

Diversified farming is breaking its way slowly among the agriculturists of northern Minnesota, and will soon take a part of the place in this section which has heretofore been given up exclusively to wheat raising. The introduction of creameries in farming communities is partly the cause of this change of farming, and the following clipping from the Halstad Reporter is evidence of this statement. That paper says:

"Fred Lawrence, who lives on the farm formerly occupied by Jas. Morrison, expects to put in a good deal of stock on his farm, and in a year from now will be furnishing a large volume of milk for the creamery. All the farmers should remember that it is not after all the creamery or their guarantee toward it which will bring success in the dairying industry, but it is the number of cows they keep and the faithfulness with which they patronize the creamery. A well equipped creamery with a first class butter maker, and not sufficient milk in sight, will pay about as well as to hire a first class salesman and put him in a fine shop without any goods in it. The farmers should not each of them depend on his neighbor to give the creamery the proper support the first year. It is a large undertaking and many are needed to accomplish the desired result. A few may support it with all their might and lose money on it, while many will make it pay for all. The expenses will be practically the same whether milk is furnished from 200 or 500 cows, but the price of butter per pound to the patrons will vary in proportion to the total number of cows.

WANT A RAILROAD.

RED LAKE PEOPLE INTEREST MINNEAPOLIS CAPITALISTS.

In connection with the commencement of the spring activity along all lines of improvement there may also be constructed in Minnesota a new railroad, says yesterday's Minneapolis Tribune, the plans of which are now said to be already under way.

A number of representatives of the Red Lake district are in Minneapolis for the purpose of interesting local capitalists in pushing an extension of the Great Northern railway from Milac through Mille Lacs and Crow Wing counties on into the Red Lake region, to connect finally with the Canadian Pacific.

If the Great Northern company cannot be induced to take the matter up the promoters will exercise all their influence in prevailing upon the Northern Pacific to hurry the extension of the Brainerd & Northern Minnesota railroad, which a tributary to the Northern Pacific.

The Brainerd & Northern Minnesota is now being extended from Cass Lake, where it connects with the Great Northern, almost directly northward in the vicinity of Red Lake. The promoters claim that the country around the lake, from its southern terminal and running northward, is so rich that its magnitude is not realized by the people of the state.

A direct road from Milac to the Canadian border, passing through the Red Lake country, seems to be the ideal dream of the residents of the northern part of Minnesota, as it would make transportation and traffic a number of hours nearer Minneapolis, which is the nearest important distributing market.

A number of prominent local lumbermen have expressed themselves greatly in favor of the projected plan and from this source the promoters have been promised hearty support. While the country is by no means as thickly settled as the Black Hills regions, which is soon to be tapped by a railroad, it is said to offer inducements in the agricultural and lumber lines not to be compared with that of other sections in this state, or even in the northwest.

BURNED TO DEATH.

FARM HOUSE AND FIVE OCCUPANTS BURNED TO DEATH.

Versailles, Ind., Feb. 25.—Geo. James and his four young daughters were burned to death in their farm house four miles from Versailles, early yesterday.

Mrs. James and another daughter were away from home. A son, 12 years old, made a desperate effort to get his father and sisters from the burning house, but failed.

Just before daylight James arose and built a wood fire in the kitchen range. In some unexplained manner the stove fell apart and in a short time the house was filled with smoke.

The fire spread quickly. It first awoke the girls, who slept on the second floor.

They rushed down stairs to their father's room and tried to get him to leave. Apparently he was stupefied by the smoke and refused to move.

A 12 year old son, who had been sleeping with his father, escaped through a rear door and finding it impossible to get back owing to the rapid spread of the fire, rushed to a window of his father's room and broke in the glass with his fist.

He begged those inside to climb through the broken sash, but they made no reply.

Then he ran to the farm bell, which rang for several minutes, alarming the neighbors. But before help arrived the house was a mass of flames and in a few moments the whole structure fell, burying the live inmates. James was a civil war veteran, 65 years old.

FAILED TO PASS.

THE HOUSE WILL NOT EXTEND TERM OF COUNTY OFFICERS.

"We have come to the real gist and intent of this bill. We have been waiting patiently for the intent of it to come, and now we know what it is."

It was in these words that Mr. Stotes of Lincoln county gleefully hailed the discovery of the real purpose of Mr. Sweet's bill for a constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to fix the term of the probate judge at any number of years it may see fit, says the St. Paul Dispatch.

The author was constrained to admit after some talk that the bill was part of a general plan for lengthening the terms of all county officers to four years.

Then the members jumped at the bill and stamped the life out of it.

When the bill was reached on general orders, Mr. Jackson offered an amendment which he said would express the real intent. His amendment simply changed the reading so as to make the probate judge's term four years and to submit that proposition to a vote of the people in those terms.

LENGBY'S PRIZE POULTRY.

The five light Brahma chickens exhibited by A. J. Saterstrom at the poultry show at Fargo were right up in the front rank and won prizes as follows: First on cockerel, first and third on pullet and first on breeding pen. In addition to these prizes they also carried off four others given by local and outside business firms and in addition two silver cups, one for the highest scoring bird in the Asiatic class and the other for the highest scoring pen in the show. These cups are made to order for the association, are of solid silver, gold lined, and from special design. Mr. Saterstrom is to be congratulated on his success.

HAMILTON'S LIFE.

HE COMES FROM ONE OF THE FAMOUS FAMILIES.

Frank H. Hamilton, convicted Wednesday last of the murder of Leonard H. Day, first went to Minneapolis a year ago last March. He went there from Colorado, where he had been for the past six years, living between Denver and Colorado Springs.

Along in the summer of 1899 he did some special work for the Minneapolis Journal, and was in Minneapolis until last fall, when he returned to Colorado. Last April he went back to Minneapolis, having made arrangements to take charge of the sporting department of the Minneapolis Times.

He had been employed on the paper up to the time of the tragedy at the West hotel on the early morning of November 25. His work took him about the city a good deal and he formed an extensive acquaintance among the business men of the city. Hamilton went to the city with letters to many people of prominence in the social world, but was not in any sense of the word a society man. He preferred the companionship of his fellow workers to that of society.

Hamilton was born in New Jersey a little over 24 years ago. His family is one of the oldest and most prominent in the east, tracing their ancestry back to Alexander Hamilton, the first secretary of the treasury.

The last two or three generations have been more than usually prominent in the medical world. Hamilton's grandfather, Frank Hastings Hamilton, was a surgeon general in the regular army and was also the personal medical adviser of President Garfield. He attended the president at his last illness and was at the bedside when Garfield died.

He is the author of "Hamilton on Gun Shot Wounds," which is today the recognized authority among physicians and surgeons. Hamilton's father was also a physician and surgeon of some renown. He is the author of a book upon fractures that is an authority. He was also somewhat prominent in the political world, being at one time ambassador to one of the larger South American republics. He died when Frank was only 16 years old.

Hamilton developed pulmonary troubles about the time of his father's death and was sent by his relatives to Colorado, where he made his home until he went to Minneapolis. Hamilton has traveled extensively through Europe and Upper Africa, having made three trips abroad. He has a brother who is a prominent water color artist in Paris, and a sister in New York who married into one of the oldest Knickerbocker families.

NO NATIONAL PARK.

EDDY SAYS THERE IS NO HOPE FOR THE PROJECT.

Washington, Feb. 23.—"There are 17 bills now pending in congress for the establishment of national parks," said Representative Eddy today. "The lands to be set aside for this purpose are located in all sections of the United States and the establishment of all the parks would cost the government many millions of dollars. The expenses of the government are now very heavy—the legitimate expenses for running the government machinery, I mean—and I do not see how we can afford to spend the money necessary to set aside the land for these parks.

"Personally, I am in favor of creating parks where there are natural curiosities to be preserved. As examples of these I can cite the big tree country of California, the Palisades of the Hudson, and, perhaps, some others. Proposals to create parks for the simple purpose of preserving bodies of merchantable timber I am not in favor of, particularly when it will cost as much as the proposed park in Minnesota. If it were simply a question of withdrawing public land, which we would not have to purchase, I would favor it and urge its withdrawal from settlement and entry.

"I do not think there is the remotest chance for the establishment of the Minnesota national park."

FIRE AT THE "U."

FLAMES DAMAGE THE BUILDING ABOUT $1,000 WORTH.

Minneapolis, Feb. 25.—Fire in the pharmacy building at the state university did damage approximating about $1,000.

The blaze started on the ground floor of the building and it spread rapidly, finding excellent food in the chemicals stored in the laboratory. The flames were up to the roof by the time the first pieces of apparatus arrived, and for two hours the firemen were kept busy.

Several big lines were used, but that the perishable contents might be damaged as little as possible, Chief Canterbury made use of all the chemical lines at his disposal. The fire burned the roof for a distance of 50 feet and did much damage inside.

During the progress of the blaze there were many slight explosions due to the ignition of the chemicals. None were of sufficient force to do much damage, and no one was injured. The origin of the blaze is unknown, but it is supposed to have been due to spontaneous combustion.

TEACHER MURDERED.

WOUND IN BASE OF SKULL THE CAUSE OF DEATH.

Dodgeville, Wis., Feb. 25.—Woodbury Workinger, a teacher, was murdered at McConnell, a village ear here. Death was caused by a wound in the skull. Evidence showed that he made a desperate struggle for life. A young man named Powell is held pending further investigation.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company of solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly. $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses, straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn, St., Chicago.

CARED FOR NOW.

SCOTCH NELL IS SENT TO THE HOUSE OF GOOD SHEPHERD.

Neatly clad and hopeful in spirit Scotch Nell, who has attracted so much attention in the several cities in Minnesota and North Dakota left Fargo last evening for the House of the Good Shepherd in St. Paul.

She has been under the care of Mrs. Kelley of the Salvation Army the past week and the Catholic people have interested themselves in behalf of the wayward woman which resulted in her leaving for the above named institution last evening.

She seemed earnest in her verbal resolutions to be good and her eyes fairly danced as she outlined her future which is indeed bright if she but follows the principles which she states she will. Several of the friends which she has made during her wild career in Fargo were present to bid her goodbye.

The home which she is to enter is an institution supported by the Catholic people and is reported as doing a grand work among the fallen women.

FAVORS HAZING.

IT CONVERTS WORTHLESS BOYS INTO GOOD CITIZENS.

"My experience is that hazing in moderation is not a bad thing," remarked Representatives Stevens, of Minnesota, at Washington Saturday. "I was hazed when I went to college. It didn't hurt, and I rather think it did me good."

Mr. Stevens was about 18 years old when he entered Bowdoin college, Me., and he still recalls with interest the experiences which the sophomores inflicted upon him. "Of course," he says, "I do not approve of the coarse brutalities practiced by some of the West Point cadets, but I know from experience that some boys who go to college need hazing to take the conceit out of them. Hazing rightly administered will convert an otherwise worthless boy into a useful citizen. You cannot live in college without hazing some men. They are nuisances to themselves, as well as to everybody else, and they have to be taught a lesson.

"A man has to take a good many hard knocks in the world, and he may as well begin when he is in college."

WANTS DAMAGES.

CARRIE NATION DEMANDS HER RELEASE OR BIG MONEY.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 25.—Mrs. Carrie Nation threatens to sue the Shawnee company for damages for keeping her in jail in Topeka. Mrs. Nation said:

"If I am not released immediately I will sue. The public knows, the officers of the law know that I am confined illegally. Personally, I prefer to stay in jail. I need rest. I desire quiet for a little time. It's pleasant where I am, but I will not permit the county to confine me in jail on the charge of violating the law.

"I shall sue the county for heavy damages. On Feb. 26 I am billed for a lecture, and about the same time I am to edit a paper in Peoria, Ill. For the money that has been promised me for these services I shall sue the county."

Several persons, among them her brother, have offered to provide bail, but this Mrs. Nation refuses.

A HELLO SERMON.

NOVEL IDEA OF A BAPTIST CLERGYMAN IN DETROIT.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 25.—A special to the Free Press from Mount Pleasant, Mich., says: As all church services in the city have been suspended on account of several smallpox cases, Rev. G. S. Northrup, of the Baptist church, will conduct a rather unique service over the telephone at the usual hour on Sunday morning. One switch board of the Union Telephone will be used and all who can be accommodated will be connected. The service will consist of singing, reading and a 15-minute talk suited to the occasion. Rev. Mr. Simmons, of the Presbyterian church, will assist.

"A New Woman."

Disease makes many a woman prematurely old. Dark-rimmed eyes, hollow cheeks and wasted form are accompanied by listlessness and loss of ambition. Home duties are a weariness, and social pleasures have no attraction.

One of the commonest expressions of women cured by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is this: "It has made a new woman of me." There's a world of meaning in the words. It means the sparkle brought back to the eyes; the complexion tinted with the rosy hue of healthy blood; the form rounded out anew in graceful curves; the whole body radiant with health.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It dries debilitating drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes new women of those prematurely aged by disease.

"Dr. Pierce's medicines are the best I have ever used," writes Mrs. C. Nelson, of Chemawa, Marion Co., Oregon. "My health was badly run down when I consulted him by letter. My limbs were cold and my head hurt me continually. I was so nervous that the least thing would startle me almost into convulsions. I had palpitation of the heart so bad that I could scarcely walk sometimes. I felt utterly discouraged, but two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' made a new woman out of me."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for it in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

HONORABLY MADE AND STAUNCH

FRIEND BROS. CLOTHING

The Friend Bros. Three-button Frock Suit is a handsome garment. It is worn for both business and social occasions and has a distinctly fashionable individuality that marks it "a suit among the many." It sets to the figure, bringing out the graceful lines in the form.

It is of the high standard maintained throughout all Friend Bros. Clothing and gives an unusual amount of wear in the fabrics in which it is offered this season. Try a suit on. Ask for Friend Bros. Clothing and see that you get it. Sold by leading dealers. Look for our name in right hand breast pocket.

Friend Bros. Clothing Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

The Riverside Dairy

Offers to the people of Crookston the purest milk, the richest cream, and the best butter to be had in all Minnesota at the lowest prices compatible with conservative business management. Our milk route lies right past your door, delivering twice each day. Call on our driver, or through telephone No. 12 for anything in this line. Don't eat your bread without butter so long as you can get Riverside at present prices.

E. D. CHILDS CO., Crookston.

This Will Interest the Farmers.

The Wheeler Land and Loan Company, 116 Main street, N., First door south of the C. O. D. Clothing Store, are making

FARM LOANS

at a low rate of interest and on short notice. If you intend to make a loan on your farm, call and see us before making other arrangements.

Wheeler Land and Loan Company,

116 North Main Street, - - CROOKSTON, MINN.

Burlington Route

Best Line to Chicago and St. Louis

"The Limited," the finest train in the world, leaves Minneapolis 7:20 p. m., St. Paul 8:05 p. m., every day. Electric lighted, steam heated, has compartment and standard sleepers, reclining chair cars, coaches, and dining car on the cafe plan. Arrives Chicago 9:25 next morning and St. Louis 5:21 next afternoon. "The Scenic Express" leaves Minneapolis 7:40 a. m., St. Paul 8:15 a. m., except Sunday, arriving Chicago 10:20 same evening and St. Louis 6:40 next morning. Ask your home agent for tickets via this line.

P. S. Eustis,
Gen'l Pass. Agent,
Chicago, Ill.

Geo. P. Lyman,
Ass't Gen. Pass. Agt. C. B. & Q. R. R.
St. Paul, Minn.

IF you want the news of the world written and pictured, the finest art and the best literature, then you must read ....

COLLIER'S WEEKLY

America's Foremost Illustrated Journal.

Hall Caine's latest and greatest novel, "The Eternal City," begins soon. Send for free Copy of the opening chapters.

Address COLLIER'S WEEKLY, 555 West Thirteenth Street, New York City.....

Polk County Journal,
BY N. S. GORDON.

Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

NOTICE OF REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Notice is hereby given to the republican voters of the city of Crookston and to all persons who in good faith intend to affiliate with the republican party, that a republican city convention will be held in the city hall, in said city, on the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1901, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates to be voted for at the charter election to be held in said city on the 2nd day of April, A. D. 1901, for the following officers:

Mayor,
Aldermen at large,
City Treasurer,
City clerk,
City assessor,
Two justices of the peace and
Two constables.

Said convention will consist of thirty four delegates selected from the different wards of the city as follows:

First ward, six delegates.
Second ward, six delegates.
Third ward, four delegates.
Fourth ward, sixteen delegates.
Fifth ward, two delegates.

Notice is also hereby given that primary elections of the republican voters of the five wards of the city of Crookston will be held in said city on Friday, the 22d day of March, A. D. 1901, at 3 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the republican city convention to be held on the 23d day of March, A. D. 1901, and to place in nomination one alderman for each ward of the city, (third ward to nominate two, one for full term and one for the unexpired term of W. E. Rowe,) to be voted for at the charter election held on the 2d day of April, A. D. 1901.

Said primary election will be held at the following places:

First Ward—G. A. R. hall.
Second Ward—M. R. Brown's building, Main street, between Second and Third streets.
Third Ward—Commercial Hotel.
Fourth Ward—City hall.
Fifth Ward—Hotel Berlin.
All in said city of Crookston.
Dated Feb. 24, 1901.

—N. S. Gordon,
Chairman.
—J. C. Sathre,
Secretary.

M'KINLEY THE LIBERATOR.

The war with Spain, which President McKinley did everything in his power to prevent, gave him the great opportunity of his life, and one that he best improved, says Henry B. Macfarland in the March Atlantic. In it he lifted his administration to the plane of Washington and Lincoln, and linked his name with theirs for our time, if not for all time, as the liberator of millions from the yoke of Spain. The country wanted war, but it was not prepared for it; the president did not want it, but was prepared for it when it came. Throughout the war he was not only the commander in chief, but the director of our diplomacy. The story of the United States in the summer of 1898 is as dramatic and as brilliant and as glorious as any that history tells. Spain was expelled from her last strongholds in the West Indies and in the East Indies, and shut up in the home peninsula; the islands she had misgoverned came under the flag of freedom; the United States, as the champion of the millions whom Spain had oppressed, came out of her isolation, and received recognition from all the nations. President McKinley could say better than any other man, "This is my work," while, with characteristic modesty, thoughtfulness and generosity he was praising and thanking other men, all of whom did not deserve to be so praised and thanked. The suddenness and completeness of our achievement dazzled the imagination and won the admiration of the world. Its consequences made us an active instead of a passive world power, and gave us new duties and responsibilities, which we regret, but could not honorably avoid.

THE HAMILTON VERDICT.

Minneapolis Journal: The jury in the Hamilton case have brought in a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree, with a recommendation to the mercy of the court.

We have no knowledge of the nature of the long discussion of the case which has resulted in this unanimous conclusion, but the verdict appeals to us as about the right thing.

There is no doubt a largely prevalent sentiment in the community to the effect that the charge against Hamilton has not been proven. For this sentiment there may be some justification in the circumstances surrounding the midnight brawl in which Leonard Day was killed. There is undoubtedly suspicious circumstances and unexplained facts connected with that affair; and yet, in view of all the evidence before the jury, with some knowledge of facts not prominently developed and under the instructions of the court, we are not disposed to find any fault with this conclusion.

This is not said without a feeling of deep sympathy for the young man who must suffer the heavy penalty which the verdict imposes, but with all consideration of the importance to the community that justice be done and that society be afforded the protection which a proper enforcement of the law against such offenses should provide.

The jury has been spoken of by both the prosecution and the defense as of an unusually high grade. We have no reason to question the conscientious, painstaking effort they have made to reach this conclusion, and are disposed to accept it as, in our judgment, about the right thing.

The action of the greater number of jurymen in the Hamilton murder trial is sized up by the Grand Forks Herald as follows:

"The statement is made that the jury in the Hamilton case in Minneapolis stood 8 for acquittal and 4 for conviction from the time the case closed until shortly before the verdict was rendered, and that the four refusing to join the majority, the eight consented to a conviction of manslaughter on the ground that a disagreement would lead to another costly trial and might result in a verdict of murder. The eight jurors are said to have been influenced by considerations of economy and a regard for the interests of the prisoner. If there is any truth in this story each of those men ought to be heartily ashamed of himself. The juror who believes in a prisoner's guilt may be excusable in consenting to a verdict of acquittal if he finds himself hopelessly in the minority and has no reason to believe that the opinions of his companions can be changed, or that a second trial is likely to bring out new facts. But for eight men, or four men, or one man, entertaining the belief that the accused is innocent to subscribe a verdict inconsistent with that belief is a violation of the simplest principles of justice. If the facts are as stated the manifest duty of the Hamilton jury was to disagree and so report, irrespective of motives of economy, and irrespective of what the result of future trials might be. The published story may be untrue, and it is to be hoped for the sake of the reputation of the jurors involved that it is not so."

People who read newspapers and magazines have, as a rule, a belief that publishers have no conscience about loading up their perodicals with advertisments at the cost of reading matter. Yet occasionally some proof comes to the surface that publishers have some scruples in this respect. The Ladies' Home Journal, for example, will accept just so many columns of advertisments, and no more This proportion, for instance, is 70 columns of advertisements as against 122 columns of reading matter in each issue of 48 pages. When the advertising space is full all business is declined. The skeptical may ask, "But is there any business left to decline?" There is, decidedly. For nearly every issue during 1900 there were from four to twenty-six columns of desirable advertising received than could be accepted, and as each column in the Journal costs $1,000 the publishers turned away thousands of dollars, which, simply because of principle, they would not accept. So the interests of the public are sometimes regarded where they are not popularly supposed to be.

The time is drawing near for the annual city election, but as yet there is little being said or done to indicate the crop of candidates for the various positions. However, it is given out by parties on the inside of the populist-democratic party that a full city ticket will be placed in the field, and the leaders of that faction are resting on their oars, hopeful of winning some of the coveted plums. Will Mayor Campbell again be a candidate is a question frequently heard, but as yet that gentleman has failed to announce himself for re-election. Should he again become a candidate, he will have to face opposition that will develop more strength at the polls than that of a year ago. For aldermen and the other city officers to be chosen, all sorts of timber is floating on the political sea, waiting to be pulled out and placed in the drying room, to prepare for the fray.

And now comes Marshall county who wants division. The county is 75 miles long, with the county seat but 15 miles from one end, says the Press. The interests of the east and west ends of the county are not identical. Division is inevitable. It is merely a question of time, and the time is now ripe for the agitation of such a division. The natural business center of the east end of Marshall county is Thief River Falls, and when the division is made the new county should be carved out of Marshall and Red Lake counties, with Thief River Falls as the county seat. The advantages of such an arrangement are obvious. The east end of Marshall county receives no benefit from the county funda for the reason that all expenditures for improvements are monopolized by the western and more populous end. This seems to be sufficient reason for the cutting in two of the up north county.

Beltrami is to have a creamery in the very near future, as the movement which was recently started with this purpose in view is rapidly materializing. The promoters of the new enterprise are all citizens of Beltrami and Polk county, and there is no reason why our people, and particularly hotel keepers and other business men of Crookston, should not accord the Beltrami creamery their undivided support, rather than patronize outside concerns in the same line, providing the home institution produces an equally good article. The Journal is heartily in favor of encouraging the creamery enterprise in Polk and adjoining counties. Properly managed creameries are bound to prosper and prove a success to their promoters and the communities in which they are located.

The Grand Forks Herald this morning appeared in reduced size, having changed from an eight page six column to a four page seven column. This is due to the falling off of advertising patronage, and the paper will maintain its present size until advertising warrants its return to the former eight pages. The paper will not reduce its news service by the reduction in its size, and will continue to sparkle with bright news features.

Brother Clark, of the Stephen Leader, will soon launch another paper in Kittson county, and will establish it at Pelan, a small town in the southeastern part of the county. Editor Clark is a hustler and will give the Pelan people a live and representative publication.

From reliable sources The Journal learns that John Estlund of Kennedy contemplates the establishment of a newspaper at Kennedy, to be known as the Journal. We wish our new namesake an abundnce of success.

BELTRAMI.

Ed Carro and F. H. Menue, from Russia, were in town today.

We hear that the twins had a pupil on their staff in the Beltrami public school.

The smallpox scare around the country has given the doctor many chances to fill his wallet.

Beltrami is talking creamery, yet nothing more definite has been done than to organize and elect officers.

The Edna House register shows that there have been many of the travelling fraternity visiting Beltrami for the past few days.

H. B. Budd contemplates selling his stock of horses March 2, and try his hand at raising Polled Angus registered stock of cattle.

Mike Connery, of Scott's Corners, has sold his farm and will move to Idaho. His family has gone and his stock will be shipped this week.

The proprietor of the Edna house in this place, I. N. Kingsland, says prosperity is coming his way. He contemplates building on and enlarging his hotel in the near future. He says he cannot accommodate all who knock for admission.

The Montana Cattle company shipped a carload of cattle from Beltrami to their ranch in Montana this week. Mr. Bain, their buyer, says he can buy in Minneapolis cheaper than he can through the country, and pay the extra price for shipping.

The daughter of Peter Muffier, living about one and a half miles west of Beltrami, who has been quite ill with appendicitis, is at this writing considered out of danger.

The I. O. O. F. lodge of Beltrami gave a grand reception and supper to the members of the Fertile lodge, who came over on Wednesday evening and assisted in initiating seven of our good citizens into the mysteries of Odd Fellowism. A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of the M. E. church of this place for the able manner in which they served the delicacies. The affair was pronounced a grand success by all present.

BIRKHOLZ.

Capt. Rhinehart, who has been out soliciting subscriptions for a new rail road for the past few days, returned to his farm at this place Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Barney Swanson, of Big Woods, and his son Melvin, visited at J. H. Dalen's on Saturday.

The Young People's society met at the church and had a very interesting program on the 24th inst. A number of visitors were present.

Mrs. M. H. and Miss Lottie R. Dunning are visiting at S. S. Trickey's for a few days.

There will be a social party at Mrs. John Martinson's on the vening of the 2nd of March. Nearly all our young people will attend.

Houston Patterson, of Big Woods, was visiting friends at this place the first of the week.

The youngest son of Peter Dalstrom is reported very ill with croup. We hope he will soon recover.

Skrivseths Gallery
is the place to get good photographs.
216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

SOMEWHAT DRAMATIC.

One of the Crookston young bloods, who recently attended the annual meeting of a fraternal organization at St. Paul, wrote to one of his friends here the following effusion:

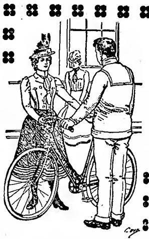
"I was Sidetracked with the Belle of New York at the White Horse Tavern near McFadden's Row of Flats. On the Bowery, where Rogers Brothers and other Poor Relations met the Parish Priest, who took me to the Milk White Flag and got me a job selling Mrs. Nations pictures. With a Brass Monkey I am leading a Sporting life on the Streets of Cairo. The Rainmakers appeared, I fell in a Hole in the Ground and I slept Ten Nights in a Bar Room.

GASCARINE AT ALL DRUGGISTS.
Cures Biliousness, Constipation and Dyspepsia, or money refunded. Price 50 cents. Book explaining cause and cure mailed free. Rea Bros. & Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

The Error of "Professor" Brady.

By Howard Fielding.

COPYRIGHT, 1900, BY CHARLES W. HOOKE.



Miss Gertrude Marston was a completely self satisfied person. She would rather be herself than any other girl. Others might possess higher intelligence or nobler capabilities, but the old reliable Marston qualities were good enough for Gertrude. She would cheerfully admit that there were more beautiful women, but she was satisfied to look like the Marstons. There were richer families, but the Marston wealth was sufficient.

It must not be supposed that she wasted any time thinking about these things. Certainly not; they were all settled and out of the way. That is the beauty of real self satisfaction. It is like a man's conventional evening dress that settles the question of clothes and puts the man at his ease, whereas vanity is like a masquerading costume—always to be compared with others.

Miss Marston was grateful to her ancestors. They had done well by her and deserved great credit. And, speaking of ancestors, here is a curious problem: Miss Marston possessed the many little aptitudes and natural capacities characteristic of the well born. She acquired accomplishments easily, but she couldn't learn to ride a bicycle. Was it because her ancestors could not assist her, having no accumulation of experience to hand down?

Her small brother having failed as an instructor, she went to an out of the way "academy," where she surely would not meet any one whom she knew. The instructor on the first lesson could do nothing with her, and she drew the natural inference that there must be something wrong with him.

"I wish to take another half hour," said she to the manager, "and I would like another teacher."

The manager turned toward a group of "professors" lounging in a corner.

"Let that man try," said Miss Marston, indicating a young fellow of athletic mold to whom her former teacher was addressing some words.

"I should be delighted," said the big fellow, stepping forward. "Johnson says you didn't get along very well, and I believe I know why."

All the instructors grinned, and Gertrude flushed hotly. The new teacher did not explain his remark, but busied himself with the wheel, changing some of its adjustments. Gertrude could not help observing him, and she made the mental note that he looked like a figure in a picture on the wall of her father's particular den at home. It represented three Roman athletes coming out of the gladitorial school, and the central figure might have been drawn with this bicycle instructor as a model. There was the same breadth, without heaviness, in the body; there was the same bold and strong face.

It amused the girl that she should have found in such a walk of life the type of physical manhood that had been her ideal since her childish eyes had first rested on that picture.

"What you lack," he said, "is muscular control. Have you ever played a piano? Well, anyhow, you've used a typewriter. Now, when I teach a typewriter girl to ride a bicycle"—

"How do you know I'm a typewriter girl?" demanded Gertrude, highly amused.

"It's the way you hold your fingers," he said. "They're flexible; they've been trained. Now, when you ride use your other muscles just as you do your hands when you're drumming a typewriter; have them all free and easy; not rigid."

Now of course nothing could be of less importance, and yet Gertrude was piqued that a man so intelligent should see no difference between herself and the ordinary pupils of the school who were accustomed to "drumming a typewriter." She exerted herself somewhat to show him the distinction, but she failed dismally.

As a teacher he was all that could be desired, and she told him so.

"I've had experience," he said. "I used to teach private pupils before I came here—a different class from those we ever get."

He named half a dozen young women of well known New York families, and his bosom swelled with pride.

"Women of that grade learn rapidly," he said. "Blood tells with human beings as with horses." And then, as if afraid of giving offense to one who confessed herself a slow scholar, he added: "Of course there are just as nice and just as right girls who are not in the Four Hundred, and sometimes it happens that one who might learn quickly gets started all wrong. I think that's your case."

"Thank you, professor"—

"Brady," said he quickly; "my name's Brady. Ask for me when you come again—that is, if you like my method."

"I want you to give me another lesson tomorrow afternoon," said Gertrude.

"I'd be delighted," he replied. "I'll take care of your wheel. Your friend is coming around to this side, and I suppose you want to go now."

The friend referred to was her maid.

The incident amused Gertrude far beyond its real value. Since the days of Haroun-al-Raschid such adventures have held a charm for the most exalted, and even very humble individuals like to mingle with those yet humbler than themselves for the purpose of testing the reality of their superiority.

Gertrude would not have missed an hour with Professor Brady on the following day for any ordinary consideration. She had a strong curiosity to learn what qualities he had remarked in his pupils of the upper ten that seemed to him to be lacking in herself. She was not ashamed of this curiosity. For some time she had entertained the opinion that experiences outside her own sphere would broaden her mind, and here was one offering itself most unexpectedly.

She selected one of the girls whom Brady had named as a fair type of high breeding and resolved to question him about her. The result exceeded her most sanguine expectations. The young man's analysis was surprisingly exact and as remarkable for delicacy as for shrewdness. Gertrude frankly confessed to her own soul that she would not have been indifferent to such an opinion of herself if such a man had held it. But it was painfully obvious that he did not, and the way in which he placed her on the lower level without offending by word or look she held to be one of the most wonderful performances of this extraordinary creature.

She found an opportunity to question him about himself and learned that he was the son of a mechanic and that his hope of personal achievement lay in an invention which he himself admitted would be of no great importance even if it succeeded to the uttermost limit of possibility.

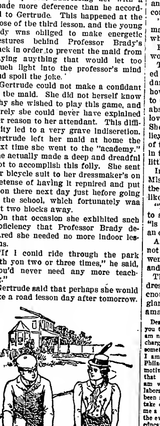
He did not ask her any questions about her own situation and prospects, but she had no difficulty in discovering what was his belief. He looked upon her as a young woman temporarily out of employment and fortunate in having a good home and perhaps a little money laid aside. Singularly enough, he seemed to regard her "friend" (the maid) as a somewhat superior person, addressing her with a shade more deference than he accorded to Gertrude. This happened at the close of the third lesson, and the young lady was obliged to make energetic gestures behind Professor Brady's back in order to prevent the maid from saying anything that would let too much light into the professor's mind and spoil the joke.

Gertrude could not make a confidant of the maid. She did not herself know why she wished to play this game, and surely she could never have explained her reason to her attendant. This difficulty led to a very grave indiscretion. Gertrude left her maid at home the next time she went to the "academy." She actually made a deep and dreadful plot to accomplish this folly. She sent her bicycle suit to her dressmaker's on pretense of having it repaired and put it on there next day just before going to the school, which fortunately was but two blocks away.

On that occasion she exhibited such proficiency that Professor Brady declared she needed no more indoor lessons.

"If I could ride through the park with you two or three times," he said, "you'd never need any more teaching."

Gertrude said that perhaps she would take a road lesson day after tomorrow.



THERE WAS ANOTHER ROAD LESSON A FEW DAYS LATER.

She had no idea of doing so, but somehow she did. She told herself that Professor Brady was very amusing, that he was a character worth studying, that the humbling experience was exceedingly beneficial to her, that she really needed the road lesson and could never find so good a teacher again. She did not say to herself that Professor Brady was the handsomest man she had ever met, because she had no idea that circumstance figured in her decision. But it did.

Upon coming to the school at the appointed time she was gratified to find the professor dressed more becomingly than on previous occasions. He had discarded the soiled white "sweater" in which she had always seen him theretofore and had clothed himself from top to toe in a manner quite befitting a gentleman. Excellent bicycle suits are now sold for $5, but Gertrude did not know it.

Their conversation during that ride was based upon an assumption of perfect equality. It was evident that Professor Brady regarded a bicycle instructor to be quite as good as a typewriter girl. "And why not?" said Gertrude to herself. "Why not as good as any girl? Why isn't the girl he thinks that I am as good as the girl that I really am? Not as highly cultivated perhaps, not as familiar with the usages of the politest society, but quite as worthy of respect. Why, for that matter, isn't he quite equal to other men that I know? He uses excellent English. He has appreciation of all that is fine in nature or in character, except that he doesn't appreciate me. He is truly polite, not merely superficially civil. And he is very handsome. But that hasn't anything to do with the case."

There was another road lesson a few days later and a third very soon afterward. And then Gertrude came to a sudden realization that this masquerade must stop. It was only a look in the man's eyes, like the dumb yearning of a dog that would speak its affection if it could; only an answering terror in her heart that should have been a thrill of pain, but was not.

"I AM PAID IN FULL," HE SAID.

"I am greatly indebted to you for your instruction, Professor Brady," she said. "You have taught me more—more than I could have learned from any one else. This is the end of the lessons. I hope you will let me pay you according to their value."

They were at the corner of the street where the dressmaker lived. Gertrude was to leave her wheel at the dressmaker's rooms and not at the school any more. This queer goodby at the corner was quite in character.

"I am paid in full," he said. "If any man ever was, I am. Don't ask me what I mean by that. Goodby."

He was gone before she could utter a word.

That evening Gertrude Marston paced her room for hours alone in the dark. She was trying to understand how this could have happened to her, to Gertrude Marston. She knew as an abstract proposition that girls fell in love with men below them in station. She did not know, she could not believe, that Marstons ever did anything of the kind. So the little boy who plays in the railroad yard is aware that other little boys sometimes get hurt.

In the course of that endless evening Miss Marston arrived at one solution of the problem and only one. She did not like it, but she could find no other.

"The reason why he couldn't be made to see any difference in me," said she, "is because there isn't any. I am just an ordinary girl."

And, being just an ordinary girl and not Gertrude Marston any more, she went to bed without the aid of a maid and cried herself to sleep.

The next morning she got a letter addressed in a strange hand. Singularly enough, there was money in it. She glanced at the signature and was amazed to read, "Warren E. Brady."

Dear Miss Marston—wrote the professor—I send you the money obtained under false pretenses. I am not a bicycle instructor and have no right to charge a fee. Perhaps your father can tell you something about me if you mention to him that I am the only son of the late Hugh Brady of Philadelphia. He owned a factory where locomotives were built, which is my excuse for saying that he was a mechanic. It is true also that I am working on an invention. I have a little laboratory adjoining the bicycle school, and I had been at work there just before you made the mistake of supposing that I was a professor. It cut me a little to think that you should not see in me the evidences of luxurious living and an expensive education. That was very foolish of me. I resolved to make you see the difference, and I couldn't. Perhaps it isn't as marked as I had been led to believe.

I knew you at the first glance, having had the pleasure of seeing you once at Newport two years ago. Please pardon me for my imposition. As I told you yesterday I have been more than paid for it. It would probably be disagreeable for you to meet such an idiot as I am, and my social engagements here would make it almost necessary if I remained. So I am going abroad. Again I beg of you to forgive me and to believe me, sincerely yours,

WARREN E. BRADY.

It was written on club paper, and Gertrude, after painful reflection, sent a note to that club which in carefully restrained language informed Mr. Brady that he need not expatriate himself on her account.

"Your revenge," she wrote, "was unique and severe, but I cherish no malice."

Kind.

"Where's my half of the apple ma told you to gib me?"

"Well, you see, dear boy, your half was so rotten that I didn't suppose you'd care for it, an, er—I ate it myself. Did I do right?"—New York Journal.

CITY AND VICINITY

—Editor Reiersgord of the Ulen Union was a business visitor here Monday and made the Journal a fraternal call.

For nervousness and sleeplessness try Lincoln's Hop and Celery Nerve Tablets, 25 cents per box. For sale by A. G. Anderson.

—Engineer Jos. Sieberts and wife left for Duluth this morning on a visit with relatives. Their daughter, Mrs. Titus, accompanied them.

—Mrs. Hank Murray and daughter Margret left for Minneapolis Monday on a visit with Mrs. Murray's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McKinnon.

—Miss Lottie Johnson left for Thief River Falls Monday where she has been offered a position as stenographer and typewriter in the post-office.

—The St. Hilaire Spectator will be represented at the state editorial meeting at St. Paul by Harry Ives, the heavyweight editorial paragrapher of northern Minnesota.

—Mrs. E. B. Thompson, of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Theo. Scotland, of Rugby, who have been visiting with the Helland family in this city for a week, returned home Tuesday.

—Col. John R. Rasmussen returned Monday from his coast trip, which he undertook nearly three weeks ago. He was joined at Moorhead by a party of friends, all of whom returned with him.

—Bob Purvis has purchased from his father the celebrated breeding stallion, "Hal Rattler," which has been in Minneapolis all winter for training, and will have him for breeding purposes the coming season.

—W. P. Finnegan, who at one time punched tickets on the St. Cloud division for Jim Hill, is now running an up to date meat market at Cass Lake, and passed through here Monday on his way home from a business trip to St. Paul.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Purvis, accompanied by their daughter Agnes, returned Tuesday from a three months' trip through Virginia, Washington, D. C., and other leading eastern places. They all enjoyed the trip and have many nice things to say of their travels.

—The Thief River Falls junketing party returned on their special train about 4 o'clock Sunday morning and report a royal good time at the Falls. Particularly enjoyable was the return trip, the program for the occasion being enacted by some of Crookston's leading citizens.

—Marshall County Leader: E. D. Cross, representing the Polk County Journal, was in the city yesterday in the interests of the well known Crookston paper. The Journal is, without exception, the neatest paper published in these parts, and is a welcome visitor in many homes at Stephen.

—The numerous friends of J. F. Creamer are anxious as to his success in capturing the position of manager of the Odd Fellows' home, for which place he is a candidate. The grand lodge meets at St. Paul this week, and Mr. Creamer left Monday to represent the Crookston lodge in the convention.

Grand Forks Herald: The people of this city, who happened to be crossing the bridge at the right time yesterday afternoon—were treated to a rather novel sight, that of a man going down the river in a boat in February. Few people of the east would believe such a tale—unless they were further informed that the boat was on a pair of sleighs.

—The fire department has secured A. C. Bowman, the noted cartoonist of the Minneapolis Tribune, for a "Chalk Talk and Reading," which he will give at the opera house March 13. Bowman is exceedingly humorous in his entertainments, and should receive a rousing reception upon his visit to Crookston. The proceeds of the evening will go to the firemen's tournament fund.

The Hallock News hands the following left handed bunch of flowers to the Warroad Plaindealer: "The Warroad Plaindealer has gone done and bought a brand new ink roller: one that will do for winter and summer. Representative Berg must have drawn his first month's pay. If the new roller lasts the Paindealer as long as the old one it will have witnessed many winters and summers of rough rolling.

—Erskine Echo: J. H. Hiler, of East Grand Forks, is getting up a petition to the county commissioners asking them to open up a new road along the township line between section 19 in the town of Knute and section 24 in the town of Woodside, running north and south for one mile. The petition has the signatures of a good many farmers in that locality who, with a little push on their part, will not have very much difficulty in having the road put through.

—Hallock News: The Kittson County Agricultural society is trying to arrange for a meeting of officers of respective associations to organize a racing circuit comprising the towns of Hamilton, N. D., Hallock, Warren, Crookston, Ada and Fosston. Crookston is suggested as the central point to meet, and the officers of the respective associations should take the matter up and see that the organization is effected. It will be a step in the right direction and would benefit all concerned. Further particulars will be published in a later issue.

—The Octavo club invited a number of their friends to help celebrate the anniversary of George Washington at the home of Addie Palmer. The evening was spent in unique and interesting games. The rooms were prettily decorated in red, white and blue, and candle light, etc. The invitations ran this way, and were extended to the boys: We, Octovias, you all well know, kindly request you to be sure and go—to the home of Miss Addie Palmer, so grand, to celebrate the birthday of the Father of our Land, and as you know, I am rather shy, please call for me as you go by."

E. W. Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

—Mrs. W. H. O'Neill is reported quite ill at her home.

—The firm of Ike & Molstad has been dissolved by mutual consent.

—Elias Steenerson will loan money on improved farms at low rates.

—Mrs. J. Strawbridge, who has been visiting friends in this city for a week, returned home Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrist rejoice over the arrival of a little daughter, which made her appearance at Lakota Monday.

All pain vanishes before Mull's Lightning Pain Killer. $1,000 offered for its equal. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—John Farrell, of the town of Liberty, and one of the pioneers of Polk county, died Thursday morning, aged 78 years.

—Albert Kleven returned from Georgia Saturday morning, where he took the remains of his wife for burial about three weeks ago.

—Editor Ernie Robbins, of the East Grand Forks Tribune is a Queen City visitor Tuesday, and favored the Journal with a pleasant call.

—Conductor Herman Titus, son in law of Jos. Sievert, arrived in the city Saturday on a short visit. Titus is running a train on the Great Northern out in Montana.

"Stop that cough right away with Mull's Lightning Cough Cure. It heals disease of throat and lungs. It's pure and good for children. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—John Lynch, of Grand Forks, is cutting about one hundred carloads of ice at Maple Lake, which he will have ready for delivery next summer in the North Dakota metropolis.

—A star mail route is to be established between Neby and Climax, a distance of six and one-half miles. Bids for carrying the mails between these places will be opened March 4.

—Dave Collins came down from Fosston Friday to help his Crookston friends celebrate Washington's birthday. Dave is holding down a position at Fosston with Gus Nortus.

Don't be imposed upon by quack "cure all" remedies. Mull's Pioneer cure for Impure Blood is a scientific remedy. A dollar draft in each $1.00 box guarantees cure. 25c. For sale by S. A. Wallace.

—Pennsylvania Grit is America's greatest family weekly, and contains the latest news of all important events the choicest and best stories, profusely illustrated; there is something for every member of the family.

—Ada Herald: Andy Craik prepared a surprise on his friends here last week by quietly going to Crookston and marrying the lady of his choice, whose home is near Grand Forks. Mr. and Mrs. Craik have gone to housekeeping over the Index.

—The "Experience Social" given by members of the Baptist church Friday evening was well attended and proved a very enjoyable affair. The receipts of the evening amounted to $68. The program rendered consisted of recitations, prologues, medleys, etc., and was enjoyed by all present.

—L. W. Larson, one of the prominent business men of Fosston and president of the town council, was called to his former home in Clayton county, Ia., by the death of his mother, which occurred on Feb. 20th. Mrs. Larson was nearly 90 years old, and the son of the deceased left last evening to attend the funeral obsequies.

—E. Skjelsven and John Cady, of Jackson, Minn., arrived in the city early last Thursday, and before 12 o'clock at noon had each purchased a good sized chunk of Polk county dirt. The former bought 520 acres of farm land near Gentilly, and the latter was satisfied with a quarter section, which he will occupy as soon as seeding begins.

—John Mathison, who has for a long time conducted a blacksmith shop on Polk street, across the river, has leased the shop formerly owned by G. O. Buhn, on Main street, and will remove his business to that place in a few days. Mr. Mathison is a master of his trade, and needs no introduction to the trade in this city and vicinity, and having purchased the tools and stock of Mr. Bahn, he will be better than ever prepared to meet the wants of his customers.

—Fertile Journal: C. E. Stevens, head of the C. E. Stevens Land company and one of the very best real estate men in the Red River valley—the famous Red River valley, if you please—came down from Crookston Monday night and spent the greater part of the following day in consultation with his old friend, Geo. C. Howard. Also, he placed his heels on the editorial desk in the Journal office more than once during his sojourn here and cast his light in the dark corners of our sanctum.

—Twin Valley Times: The people of Ada are very much interested in a co-operative creamery at present, and we hope they will succeed in getting one. Every village in the county ought to have a co-operative creamery, and it is only a question of time till they will. Then the credit problem which now confronts our merchants will solve itself. If the farmers can arrange so as to receive cash for their produce every month in the year, they will not require to be "carried" from one year's end till the next.

—Chas. Holt writes from Hot Springs, Ark., telling of the fine weather and the advanced condition of the crops down south. Winter wheat, he says, is green and the temperature is averaging something like 75 degrees in the shade. Words are inadequate to tell everything so much different than in this part of the northwest. Both he and Rolsch are enjoying the baths and climate immensely and Rolsch poses as a "big gun" at the Springs being duped the "Anheuser-Bush King."

—Red Lake Falls Gazette: City officials inform the Gazette that Philip Chayer has instituted a suit against the city of Red Lake Falls to recover $480, the amount which he paid for liquor license during the last year he was in business. The license fee is $500 and at the time the sheriff closed his place of business he still owed $20, in default of payment of which the license was not delivered, although it was issued. Chayer's contentions seem to be that inasmuch as he had no license, the city owes him the amount. It looks like ingratitude on his part.

—If you wish to renew your loan, or take up balance on your contract for deed, see Ole Tiegen, Crookston. tf

Anyone having suitable office rooms for rent, ground floor preferred, should communicate with the Journal. A lease for five years, with a privilege for ten years is desireable. Willing to pay good rent.

The three months old town of Blackduck has held its first village election and cast about 75 votes. The officers are: T. O'Leary, president; Jas. Mott, recorder; A. Allen, treasurer; Rogers and Wrage, constables; and F. A. Brown and J. C. Thompson, justices.

A PRETTY SIX O'CLOCK.

MRS. A. A. MILLER ENTERTAINS MOST CHARMINGLY.

One of the prettiest six o'clock teas of the season occurred Friday at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Miller. The spirit of Washington's birthday was everywhere manifest. Red, white and blue draped the archway in the hall. Covers were laid for 24. The tables were decorated with centerpieces of violets, hyacinths and red carnations and each guest was presented with a carnation buttonaire. The mantel in the drawing room was banked with potted plants and draped with bunting. The opposite wall was decorated with Washington's picture draped with red, white and blue. The elaborate menu ended with tri-color ice cream and bonbons.

The evening was most pleasantly spent in conversation interspersed with music by Mrs. Loring, Miss McEachran and Mr. Ryan. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the affair was the "Tea Test," which sent each guest into a brown study for a half hour. Altogether, arrangements were perfectly made and carried out as could possibly have been done.

NEW LEG FOR LARSON.

Halstad Reporter: Last evening John Larson and son Ludwig returned from Crookston. Ludwig suffered an amputation of his left leg below the knee some time ago and the tendons under the knee joint have contracted, so that an artificial limb cannot be fitted. The neighbors have chipped together a purse to buy the boy a leg, and as soon as the knee can be straightened it will be secured. Mr. Larson says be has been advised that the knee can be straightened, which will save another operation.

RAN HIM IN.

The police Thursday evening set an example for those who are in the habit of leaving their teams stand on the streets all day without food or water, and irrespective of cold or warm weather. A well known farmer, who is given to this practice whenever he is in the city, came to Crookston Thursday forenoon with a load of wood and his team was left standing all day and late into the night. The police put the animals into a barn and locked up the owner until the following morning, when he was taken before a justice and fined for cruelty to animals.

LOST HIS LEG.

News has been received here of a sad accident at Seattle, Wash., in which Conductor Coleman Stewart, formerly employed on this division lost a leg. Mr. Stewart was conductor of the ill-fated freight train which collided with another, and caused the mishap by which he was deprived of his limb.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY

Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box. 25c.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Gus Emmonds, of the Great Northrn day warehouse force, is taking a short layoff.

Conductor Evans will spend a week or more in getting acquainted with the people of Barnsville, where he resides and conductor Knight has taken Evans run until the latter reports for duty again.

Alex. Lakie, of the switch gang, is reported on the sick list.

NOTICE TO HOUSE MOVERS.

The undersigned trustees of Crookston Lodge No. 79, I. O. O. F., will receive sealed bids up to 3 o'clock March 9th, 1901, for the removal of the old Polk county court house from its present site onto the vacant lot, corner of Roberts and Ash streets, north of Robert and west of Ash street, Crookston, Minn. Building to be moved as soon as weather and ground will permit; time to be arranged in contract. A bond will be required in the sum of one thousand dollars for the safe delivery of said building on said lot.

None but practical house movers need apply.

Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

—A. A. Just,
—J. F. Creamer,
—J. S. Crawford.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac. F. H. Hillard & Son.

Gus. Monson, of Euclid, spent the night in the city and returned home this morning.

ANOTHER SWINDLE

In the Bisazza Failure is Unearthed by the Trustees and Some Goods Replevined.

GOODS WORTH $1,200 FOUND

Which Were Fraudulently Kept From the List of Assets Given by Bisazza.

It was briefly indicated in the Journal, Tuesday, that some new developments in the Bisazza failure were expected, which would tend to fully substantiate the fraud intended by the former proprietor of the Peoples Store, and for which he now languishes in the Fergus Falls prison, pending his trial in the federal court. Although this paper was in possession of the facts connected with the new disclosure, it refrained from mentioning the particulars yesterday, at the special request of the officers and managers who conducted the investigation of the latest discovered fraud in the deal.

Prior to the failure, Bisezza made large shipments of goods to O. T. Petersen, Seattle, Wash., evidently expecting to reclaim them upon his arrival there. It will be remembered, though, that Bisazza fell into the hands of officers just as he was about to board the train with his wife, for the coast, and in the subsequent trial was found guilty of fraud and bound over to the federal court. Mrs. Bisazza who remained here, directed the Seattle railway officials to return the above named consignment to Crookston, and when they reached here, the trustees of the bankrupt stock, instituted attachment proceedings and upon securing a search warrant opened the [illegible] and trunks for examination.

The search was a very satisfactory one for the creditors, as the variety of goods, consisting of ready made clothing, dress goods, silverware, silks, linens and numerous other entirely new articles, which were found are conclusive evidence of Bisezza's attempted fraud to bunco his creditors. The goods recovered aggregate in value something like $1,200, and would probably have been shipped to Europe, had Bisazza succeeded in reaching Seattle.

Considerable wearing apparel and other goods, which had been used, were also found, but these have not yet been examined and remain at the Northern Pacific depot, while the other lot was placed in charge of Sheriff Sullivan who had them removed to the Ray Mercantile Co's., wholesale house.

NEGRO LYNCHED

CONFESSES TO MURDERING TEACHER AND MOB HANGS HIM.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 27.—The murderer of Miss Finkelstein, the school teacher, was lynched yesterday. At 12:30 p. m. a mob gathered in Donnell fired over the crowd with a shot gun. Three deputy sheriffs were wounded by shots from the crowd.

Word of Ward's confession was passed through the streets, and the crowd, reinforced by hundreds of recruits, redoubled its attack on the jail. At 12:45 they reached Ward's cell. He was quickly dragged out to the street and lynched.

EDITOR CARRIE.

RUNS SEVERAL PAGES OF LIQUOR ADS IN HER PAPER.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 26.—Mrs Carrie Nation was in charge of the Journal here today. Her contributions consisted of eight columns of editorials and sketch of her crusade against the "joints." Mrs Nation in her leading editorial says: "I have never hurt a hair on the heads of my bad brothers, the saloon keepers, and hope for pity sake none of them ever will get in the way of my hatchet, for it gets dreadfully reckless when it flies around smashing that which murders men."

No attempt was made to control the advertising space and whiskey advertisments filled several pages.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system, and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with head aches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by F. H. Hillard & Son.

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade. We can offer better inducements now than at any other season Prepare for spring rush, no limit to time, tools presented, positions waiting Catalogue mailed free, Moler Barber College, Minneapolis, Minn.

DECLARED BANKRUPT.

J. J. HOWE, THE LUMBERMAN, TAKES NELSON CURE.

Journal Press:—St. Cloud business men have received notice of the petition filed in the federal court at Duluth of J. J. Howe of Brainerd asking to be declared a bankrupt. Mr. Howe was for many years a prominent lumberman of Minnesota and had business interests at St. Cloud. He was overtaken by adversities in the panic of '94 and since then has not been in business for himself. He seeks to take advantage of the Nelson law to again enter business on his own account.

J. D. Sullivan of this city, is his legal representative in the proceedings begun at Duluth. There are some St. Cloud creditors but not in very large amounts.

IN A BURNING MINE

Forty-nine Miners Undoubtedly Perish in Diamondville Coal Mine.

ONLY ONE ESCAPES DEATH.

He Fights His Way Through the Flames, Smoke and Gas and is Rescued,

Kemmerer, Wyo., Feb. 27.—Forty-nine foreigners undoubtedly perished in a fire last evening in the sixth level of the Diamondville coal mine, No. 1. Only one man, John Anderson, was able to reach the main shaft and escape. No one knows how the fire started.

The night shift of fifty men were scattered along the working some distance back from the main lead. John Anderson was the nearest man to the opening of the level into the shaft. He gave the alarm, which passed down the tunnel, and then, placing a heavy overcoat over his head, began a battle with the smoke, fire and deadly fumes of gas, to reach the main lead, where escape might be possible.

By this time the outside men of the colliery had learned of the fire and several went down in the hope of rescuing the imprisoned miners. At the opening of the level where the flames were at work, they found Anderson, completely exhausted. He was carried to the open air and he soon revived, although be was severely burned about the body.

Every plan known to mining experts and the officials of the company was quicky put into operation for checking the fire, but without apparent effect. The level was "plugged" at its opening about two miles from the mouth to check the draught through the workings. Bands of men went down the shaft repeatedly and tried to face the flames, which were eating their way through the level, but they were compelled to retreat.

There was a number of horses in the workings, and older miners still hope that the imprisoned men may have found a way to fight off the flames and that they will subsist on horse meat until rescuers can reach them.

Up to 11 a. m. no bodies had been recovered. Work at the other mines was suspended and all the miners joined in the rescue work.

THREE ARE KILLED

Meet Instant Death by Being Dashed Down a Shaft by Runaway Car.

SWITCH WAS TURNED WRONG

Car Crashed Through a Door Covering Shaft, Hurling the Boys to the Bottom.

Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 26.—A terrible accident, resulting in the loss of three lives, occurred about 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon at the Elba mine, six miles from Biwabik.

A crowd of five boys were playing at the Elba timber shaft, riding a car which is used in the shaft. The car ran upon two sets of tracks, operated by a switch, one running to the surface, the other into the mine.

One of the boys turned the switch the wrong way and the car descended rapidly from the top of the shaft house towards the shaft opening. During the descent one of the boys realized the danger and pulled his brother off the car in time to save him. The car crashed down on the door covering the shaft opening, breaking through and hurling the three boys to the bottom of the shaft, the car being overturned and dropping into the shaft.

The boys were instantly killed. They were two sons of Jos. Feit, aged 10 and 12, and Andrew Schlakdich's son, aged about 8. The parents of the boys came to Biwabik in the afternoon with the particulars. Jos. Feit lost his wife only a few months ago.

The boys killed lived at the Elba location, one mile from McKinley. The Schlakdich boy was a nephew of Mrs. Frank Faber, of Biwabik. The funeral occurred yesterday.

REDUCE THE RATE.

HICKEY'S INTEREST BILL PASSES HOUSE AFTER A FIGHT.

For the third time in the history of Minnesota the lower house of the legislature has passed a bill to reduce the rate of interest upon public lands sold on deferred payments. Mr. Hickey introduced the bill. It defines the rate of interest on all outstanding contracts. The reduction is from 5 to 4 per cent. The house this morning, notwithstanding old and effective opposition, passed the bill. The chief argument employed by the bill's enemies was the loss the state would sustain. One estimate placed the total at $900,000, another at a million. It was further alleged that the beneficiaries would be speculators, and that the state had a right to compel fulfillment of the contracts entered into. The rates were so favorable that no complaint could be made on the ground of discrimination.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Don't forget the play at the hall on Thursday night. Come and enjoy a good time.

Miss Ethel Hanson returned from Twin Valley this morning where she had been visiting her parents.

Prof. T. A. Hoverstad, of the Experiment Farm, will deliver a lecture to the class at college hall next Friday evening.

A. Stephens will leave for Fisher on Friday with his company of artists and will present to the people of that town the play, "Lady of the Lakes," and some high class specialties.

PILE AND FISTULA CURE.

Sure cure, quick relief; sample treatment of Red Cross Pile & Fistula Cure & book mailed free. Rea Bros. & Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

No. 9-20 Triumph Steel Ranges

$36.00

Has oven 20 inch wide, 13 inches high, 23 inches deep; six No. 9 lids; 15-gallon copper resevoir, with high closet. Extra heavy fire linings for wood or coal. This is a heavier and better range than what our competitors are selling for a much higher price.

9-18 Gem Laurel Steel Ranges

$26.00

Four No. 9 lids and one No. 6 lid; copper reservoir and high closet.

We carry a complete line of Hardware Stoves and Ranges and invite your patronage.

Our Motto:

What you get for your money is as important as the amount you pay

THOMPSON & BUSTERUD,

WRECKED ON ROCK

A Steamer From the Orient Goes Down Outside of San Francisco Harbor.

CALM SEA, BUT A DENSE FOG

Vessel Went to the Bottom Twenty Minutes After It Struck the Rock.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—The steamer Rio de Janeiro, Capt. Ward, from the Orient and Honolulu, struck on a rock early yesterday just outside the Golden Gate, and sank in twenty minutes.

A large number of persons were dorwned.

The steamer had been lying off the heads all night, an unusually heavy fog preventing her from entering the harbor. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning she weighed anchor and headed for the harbor, in charge of Pilot Frank Jordan. Shortly afterward the vessel struck a hidden rock, and Pilot Jordan shouted to all on board to take to the boats. The wildest confusion prevailed; the passengers and crew alike scrambled for the boats, and, in their endeavor to escape from the sinking vessel, many jumped overboard. Capt. Ward ordered several of the boats alongside, and the ladies of the cabin and some of the gentlemen passengers were placed in them. The boats were manned by part of the crew and headed cityward.

So far as known, but three of the ship's boats left the vessel. On board the Rio de Janeiro were 29 cabin passengers, 150 in the steerage and 140 in the crew.

Tugs and other small boats quickly put out from this city for the scene of the disaster, and a number returned with a large number of the rescued.

There is an unverified rumor to the effect that Consul Wildman, of Hong Kong, and his son, were among those who were drowned.

Following is the list of known saved: Mrs. K. West, Mrs. Reilly, Miss Lehrman, J. K. Carpenter an Oakland, Cal., capitalist; Capt. Hecht, of the German navy; William Casper of Toledo, O.; R. H. Long, of Honolulu; Freight Clerk Envlehart, Chief Engineer Hurley, of the Rio de Janeiro; Second Officer Cophian; Carpenter F. K. Tramp, Watchman J. Russell, Storekeeper Boggs, Watertender D. Lane, Quartermaster R. Mathieson, R. S. Leary, Fred Lunsted.

The steamer Sequoia brought in 20 persons not included in the above list.

It is reported that Capt. Ward locked himself in his stateroom and went down with the vessel.

Pilot Fred Jordan was picked up by one of the boats. He was severely injured and taken to the hospital.

Passenger Phil Nussenblatt, of Honolulu was saved.

The vessel sank in less that twenty minutes and it is certain the list of fatalities will be large. Her smokestack and part of the pilot house are above water.

Nineteen of the Chinese are known to have been saved.

G. Hecht, a German officer, was rescued by the life saving crew and immediately upon being taken ashore he was driven to the California hotel. He said the fog prevented him from seeing what was going on in the work of rescue. He procured a life preserver, fastened it about his waist and jumped overboard. He was in the water only a short time when rescued.

Pilot Jordan was taken on board yesterday afternoon inside the Farallones. The ship then laid to until 4:30 in the morning, when the weather cleared somewhat. The steamer then started, under half steam, toward Point Bonito. She held to her course until 5:20 a. m., when she struck a rock. The steamer kept an even keel for fifteen minutes when she suddenly plunged downward, bow first.

A boat had been launched to examine the ship's position. It contained Third Officer Holland and J. K. Carpenter, a capitalist of Oakland. The Rio de Janeiro in her plunge smashed the little craft. Carpenter was picked up, but it is not known what became of the third officer.

Capt. Ward stood on the deck and superintended the launching of life boats and rafts.

The following have been accounted for: Rescued 79, bodies at the morgue 10, total 89, missing 145.

Following is the cabin passenger list almost complete:

Consul General Rounseville Wildman missing.

Mrs. Wildman and two children and nurse from Hong Kong, missing.

Mrs. and Miss Wakefield of Honolulu, missing.

Jas. J. Carpenter, mining engineer, Oakland, Cal., missing.

Miss Rowena Jehu, Honolulu, missing.

William Brander, London, rescued.

M. S. Matthewson, Shanghai, missing.

Capt. Hecht, German navy, rescued.

Capt. Holtz, Shanghai, rescued.

J. F. Seymour, editor of "The American," Manila, missing.

Mrs. K. West, San Francisco, missing.

Miss Lehran, rescued.

Russell Harper, journalist, Nagasaki, rescued.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Manila, missing.

Miss Gabriel Hoerou, missing.

Dr. Dodd, Butte, Mont., missing.

Attorney C. H. Henshaw, Butte, Montana, missing.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodsworth, missing.

Dr. Okawhara of Japan, missing.

The following officers and crew are missing:

Wm. Ward, captain.
W. C. Johnson, first officer.
John Rooney, purser.
Russell Brigton, quartermaster.
—. McCoun, first assistant engineer.
—. Brady, second assistant engineer.
—. Monroe, assistant engineer.
Dr. O'Neill, ship's doctor.
—. Smith, water tender.
—. Savage, water tender.
—. Rennis, water tender.
H. Scott, steward.
—. Borgg, store keeper.
Albert Malcolm, saloon watchman.
—. McArthur, steerage watchman.
Ed Burwick, watchman.
Mrs. Dorman, stewardess.

WHIST TOURNAMENT.

FERGUS FALLS WINS IN THE RED RIVER VALLEY CONTEST.

The annual tournament of the Red River Valley Whist League, which opened in Grand Forks Thursday evening, closed late yesterday, after a very successful meeting. The cities represeated were Fergus Falls, Alexandria, Brainerd, Mayville, St. Cloud and Grand Forks. The play from the start was very close and until the last few games it was very hard to pick in either of the team plays or in the singles. The last game was played shortly before 6 o'clock and after checking up the scores it was found that the team from Fergus Falls had won all team contests, the scores being as follows:

Fergus Falls plus 21.
Grand Forks plus 3.
Brainerd minus 8.
Mayville minus 16.

All the other teams won one and lost two.

On the total number of tricks won and lost, the following is the order of the finish: First, Fergus Falls; second, Grand Forks; third, Brainerd; fourth, Mayville.

The teams representing the various places were as follows:

Mayville—Larin, Torgeson, Elkin and Bunn.

Fergus Falls—Wheelock, Parsons, Jewett and Brown.

Brainerd—Camp. Courtney, Farrer and Patek.

Grand Forks—C. F. Templeton, F. W. Wilder, H. M. Wheeler and Bowen.

Pairs—Grand Forks, F. H. Wilder and Frank Gerrish; S. S. Titus and W. A. Gordon; Fred Whiting and J. Walker Smith; Willis A. Joy and W. H. Pringle.

Fergus Falls—Windson and Tennant.
Alexandria—Grimmer and Jacobson.

ADVERTISING PAYS.

HOW AN EASTERN FIRM WAS CONVINCED OF ITS BENEFITS.

Henry W. Grady's statue in Marietta street recalls a story of his career in Rome, Ga., as editor, etc., of a newspaper whose struggles for existence were hard indeed. "Dolph" and "Wes" Rounsaville, big merchants, declined to advertise, notwithstanding Grady's persistent entreaties. "We don't need to advertise," said "Wes," senior partner. "It won't do any good. No body reads advertisements anyway." "Don't read 'em," said Grady. "I'll show you." The next day's papers followed one of the editor's brilliant articles with this notice:

"Wanted, immediately, 2,000 cats, for which we will pay 50 cents each. J. W. Rounsaville & Bro."

It rained, hailed and snowed cats. Every boy in town stole cats to sell. Farmers hauled them in from the country. The railroads brought them by freight and express. They arrived in sacks, boxes, kegs and barrels. "Wes" and "Dolph," who had not read the advertisement, were nearly paralyzed with fear. It was the town's business to stand about the corner of the store and enjoy the fun. Grady himself leaned against a telegraph pole splitting with laughter and crying with every breath: "Nobody reads advertisements, eh? Nobody reads 'em?" The Rounsavilles were glad to compromise on a contract for a year's advertising.—Ex.

LOOKING UP A DEBT.

MISS CARRIE WALKER WANTS FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Miss Carrie Walker registered at the Grand Central hotel in St. Cloud Saturday, and following her autograph were the words, "San Francisco, California." It was learned that her home is in reality at Seattle, and the nature of her visit to St. Cloud was a rather extraordinary one. She came here to look into the matter of a loan, made by her father, David Van Loon, a resident of an Ohio town, to his brother, N. Van Loon for many years a well known resident of this city, but recently deceased. The case dates back to 1886, when the St. Cloud Van Loon was indebted to his brother in the sum of $4,000. Miss Walker's visit to the widow of her uncle developed the announcement that the money had been paid years ago to some one representing her father as agent; but be this as it may, Miss Walker insists that her father never received the money, although the St. Cloud woman insists in vigorous terms that the debt was cancelled long before her husband's death. Miss Walker, who gets the name from a husband from whom she is divorced, has employed local counsel to figure out how the money due her father was diverted, and in what direction. The lady has returned to Washington, having come all the way to St. Cloud to investigate this old loan.

NEW ORCHESTRA.

ROOKSTON MUSICIANS PERFECT AN ORGANIZATION.

A number of Crookston's well known musicians met Wednesday for the purpose of organizing a new orchestra which in future will furnish music for public and private entertainments.

The new organization is composed of T. Walker, first violin; H. Thielen, clarinet; Fred Walker, cornet: Walter Dickman, trombone, and H. A. Fischer pianist, and the officers are:

President—H. A. Fischer.
Vice President—Fred Walker.
Secretary—H. Thielen.
Manager—W. Dickman.
Director—T. Walker.

In order to furnish the "best only," the new orchestra will rehearse every evening until it has reached a stage of perfection that will be appreciated by all music loving people of the city.

RESEARCHES OF SCIENCE.

FORESTRY OF THE PHILIPPINES. INTERESTING NOTES.

The forests of the Philippines are thought to contain about 500 species more than 400 being now known. There are 87 species of palms, 22 of the oak family, including two oaks and 9 conifers, with only one true pine, the last named growing in a dense forest above a height of 4,000 feet in the Islands of Luzon. At least 50 species are valuable. One of the most important is the Yang Ylang tree, yielding a much prized oil, but others furnish coconuts, guttapercha, varnish, many dye woods and some fine hard woods. A system of forestry has existed 35 years. Between 20,000,000 and 40,000,000 acres of government lands have been cared for by about 65 foresters and 100 subordinates and the regulations have been on the most scientific European model. With usual Spanish laxity in administration, however, chief attention has been given to collecting licenses and other revennes.

—•—

Composite photographs, combining many pictures so as to get a type face, were brought out nearly twenty years ago by Francis Galton, F. R. S. He now advances the opposite idea of analytical portraiture, and aims to record what is individual in the expression by combining different photographs of the same face. Two portraits, for example, show a man with normal expression and when he is smiling. On placing a positive transparency of one picture on a negative of the other, details common to both are obliterated, and the result is that only the smile is left. The smile proves to be an act involving the whole face instead of a few muscles—a discovery that will doubtless be followed by others as this art of analyzing expression develops.

—•—

An interesting bit of our planet's story is read in Moissan's electric furnace. The metallic carbides produced are like those of the sun and stars, and it is thought that such compounds—largely decomposable by water—once held the world's carbon. When cooling formed water, the carbides were decomposed, forming hydrocarbons. Oxidation gave carbonic acid, then vegetable, followed by animal, life became possible.

—•—

Flexible lithographic plates are made by Theodore Koehler by coating thin sheets of wood, celluloid, pasteboard or other material with a paste-like mixture of kaolin, zinc white and water glass. The dried surface is found suitable for receiving the lithographic designs.

—•—

Curious and striking is the new electrical vacuum phenomenon of E. Ruhmer. The air is pumped from a brass tube about three feet long and one and one-half inches wide until a discharge from a 12-inch induction coil just forms a spark of 6 inches through the air in preference to the tube. On passing a street current of 110 volts, broken by a Wehnelt interrupter, a thick red stripe extends throughout the length of the tube. When the current is reduced by suitable resistances, the stripe breaks up into glowing patches, and if the tube is held upright with the anode uppermost, the patches group themselves into a spiral which slowly turns around its axis, making a revolution in about seven seconds. The wave line of rotation appears to descend. The screw is usually about an inch in diameter and left handed, but is sometimes smaller, and is then right handed, the pitch varying with current and rate of interruption.

—•—

The murmur of a distant water-fall, the patter of rain drops on the roof, and other rhythmic vibration produce a soothing effect upon the nervous centers that may deepen into actual anaesthesia. Among striking examples recorded by Dr. B. F. Ward is that of a tired workman who, sitting down to rest a moment on a railway cross tie, was lulled into unconsciousness by the vibrations of an approaching train, and only awakened many hours afterward, when he found that his left arm had fallen over the rail and been crushed. The man had not been drinking. It is concluded that the vibrations must be uniform, rhythmic and steadily increasing in force, and that a suitable metallic operating table with vibrating wheels should give harmless anaesthesia as profound as that from chloroform.

—•—

The perfumes of flowers are best obtained by distillation, but where high temperature changes the substance the usual process is enfleurage, or absorption with fats. Separation by solvents has required costly apparatus. But a new factory at Frejus, France, claims to use carbon disulphide, acetone or petroleum ether in very simple apparatus, consisting of a tank for the solvent, one for the flowers, and a third for the solution, with steam worm, condensing worm and dump. The steam heat gently distills off the solvent leaving an extract 100 hundred times as strong as enfleurage pomade.

—•—

In the unique observation of Chaplain J. T. Bird, of the British army, the zodiacal light and the moon were seen together, the moon, within forty hours of new, being lighted only by earth shine. This indicates great transparency of the South African atmosphere, and that the zodiacal light is beyond the moon.

THE McKENZIE CASE.

HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS TO BE INSTITUTED.

A Washington special to the Minneapolis Journal says: Judge Geary of San Francisco, and G. A. Severance of St. Paul, counsel for Alex McKenzie, reached Washington yesterday and are drawing up the necessary papers to be filed in the supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus in the McKenzie case.

Brewster, a son in law of Judge Lacey of Iowa, is very busy for the anti-Noyes and anti-McKenzie people, and he has been seeing leading members in the interests of Noyes' per-emptory dismissal from the bench. He has had a long interview with Senator Hanna and Perry S. Heath, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the republican national committee, hoping through them to reach President McKinley. The anti-Noyes people in this city have been distributing among members of congress copies of the opinions of the San Francisco court of appeals in the Alexander McKenzie case, and for fear the members may overlook the "red hot" sections of the decision, in which Noyes is held up to condemnation these sections are published separately on a little "sticker" which is pasted on the front page of the cover of the decision.

The printed copies carrying the stickers were distributed in the house and senate Saturday. The copies of the decision were issued in San Francisco by order of the court. McKenzie has been charged with all costs of the contempt proceedings, which means he must pay.

WHITEMAN IN JAIL.

FORMER MINNESOTA MAN CHARGED WITH GRAND LARCENY.

Alonzo J. Whiteman, alias A. D. Wilson, formerly a resident of Duluth, is under arrest in New York on a charge of grand larceny. It is reported he is wanted in Boston for passing worthless checks.

In the opinion of Capt. McCluskey, formerly chief of the detective bureau, Whiteman is the most skillful bank swindler in the United States. With three alleged associates he was arrested in New York in November, 1899, charged with swindling banks to the extent of $100,000. He was acquitted. Then he was taken to Chicago for trial for swindling hotels, and for a few months was confined in the house of correction, but he gained his liberty last fall.

He has had a checkered career since leaving Duluth. In addition to the indictments mentioned above, he has been in many other scrapes. Once he was arrested in New York and taken to San Francisco on a charge of negotiating a bogus draft there. He was tried and convicted and sentenced to a long term in San Quentin penitentiary. His defense was that he made the draft in good faith on a friend who owed him money and had promised to pay the draft, but neglected to do so. After being imprisoned for a year in a San Francisco jail, pending an appeal to the supreme court, for which he wrote an elaborate brief, he was granted a new trial, but the prosecuting attorney decided that under the supreme court's ruling he could not convict Whiteman and the case was dismissed.

AMATEUR SLEUTH.

IMAGINES HIMSELF ON TRACK OF PAT CROWE.

St. Paul, Feb. 23.—Something of a sensation was created yesterday afternoon when an attorney in the police court demanded the production of Patrick Hussey. The police judge was unaware that such a person was in custody, and upon the county attorney being seat for, it developed that Hussey ad been taken into custody at an early hour in the morning on a warrant sworn out by John M. Baum, who was stated to be a detective from Omaha, charging him with being implicated in the abduction of Edward Cudahy, Jr., later John E. Layne, was arrested in Minneapolis on a similar warrant.

It now turns out that instead of being an Omaha detective, Baum is a local "amateur." It is said that Baum's wife left him some time before the Cudahy kidnapping, and when the "detective heard that a woman with gold teeth" had been in some way connected with the abduction, he seems to have jumped at the conclusion that it was his missing wife. By following various "clews" the "sleuth" finally evolved what seemed to him a gigantic conspiracy which included in its ramifications a number of men and women, among them Hussey and Layne. Finally when he had his case well in hand, he went to County Attorney Kane, and according to that gentleman's statements, told such a plausible story that he felt it necessary to issue the warrants.

Hussey is a well known local character and it is said on good authority that he has not been out of the city for 14 years.

Mr. Layne is a well known and highly respected contractor of Minneapolis, being a member of the firm of Chester & Layne. Both men have been released and the police consider the affair a huge joke.

IN GREAT DISTRESS.

POOR CROPS AND HEAVY SNOW IN ITALY.

Rome, Feb. 24.—As a result of poor crops and the heavy snowfall great misery in the Apula districts prevail. Thousands of persons are without shelter or bread.

Two thousand persons attacked the local authorities, assailing them with stones and other missiles and troops were sent to the scene to preserve order and at the same time to render whatever assistance they could.

It is feared that trouble is imminent, similar to that which occurred two years ago, when the inhabitants invaded a number of estates to work without the consent of the owners.

A NECHE BLAZE.

THE CITY HOTEL IS BURNED TO THE GROUND.

Neche, N. D., Feb. 21.—The Brunswick hotel and barn burned last night. The new opera house adjoining was scorched and was saved with much difficulty. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is $5,000; insurance $1,500.

AGAINST MRS. NATION.

Wichita, Kan., Feb. 21.—Judge Dale yesterday denied the motion of Mrs. Nation's attorneys to quash the indictment for wrecking joints because the building harbored a nuisance. The court ruled that it made no difference what business was conducted in the building, the owner of which was complainant in the case.

PUBLIC NUISANCE.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 21.—The house yesterday passed Senator Hurrell's bill relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors and sent it to Gov. Stanley for his signature. The bill classes as a public nuisance all places where liquor is sold illegally.

FERGUS FALLS NEXT.

CHAUTAUQUA TRANSFERRED TO THAT PLACE.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 21.—The promoters of the Chautauqua, which was to be held at Battle Lake the coming summer, have decided that this city is a more convenient point and will make arrangements for the gathering. The dates will be definitely fixed as June 28, 20 and 30. The 29th will be a political field day and a joint debate has been arranged, Senator Clapp having consented to speak for the republicans, Oliver W. Stewart of Illinois for the prohibitionists and Senator M. J. Daly for the democrats.

A young man named S. Powell was arrested a short time ago for stealing hay and was released on paying a small fine. Today he was arrested on the charge of having stolen a wagon on which the hay was hauled. The wagon was stolen from the vicinity of Moorhead. Sheriff Bayer of Clay county came down yesterday and took the young fellow back to answer for the theft. The prisoner is a comparative stranger in this section and refuses to give any facts as to his past history.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brown entertained a large party of friends at the Woodman hall Tuesday evening. The gathering was one of the social events of the season. Dancing was the amusement and elaborate refreshments were served.

Julius Kowalski was brought before Justice Cowing yesterday on a charge of wife beating. Kowalski is an old offender and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or spend sixty days in jail. He went to jail.

STARVED TO DEATH.

A HEART-RENDING INCIDENT IN THE CREAM CITY.

Milwaukee, Feb. 21.—Two deaths from starvation were reported to the police yesterday by an agent of the Associated Charities. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. John Hoefer, who lived at 632 Scott street. The sad cases were discovered on Monday last. The couple had sold most of their furniture for a small amount of money, with which they purchased food and fuel for themselves and two children. When most of the food thus obtained had been eaten, it is supposed the parents deprived themselves in order to save the children, and being too proud to beg, literally starved to death. When the discovery was made the Hoefer's were in a frightfully emaciated condition and the children sick from lack of proper nourishment. The parents were taken to a hospital and died, one on Monday and the other on Tuesday. Mrs. Hoefer is said to have a wealthy sister, Mrs. Theodore Fohrman, living at 712 North Twelfth street, Philadelphia. It is said that Mrs. Hoefer's last request was that her sister be asked to care for the children.

PLUCKY YOUNG MISS.

NIECE OF OUR GOVERNOR CONFRONTED BY A BURGLAR.

St. Paul, Feb. 25.—An Omaha, Neb., special to the Globe says: Miss Elizabeth Van Sant, the plucky niece of Gov. Van Sant of Minnesota, routed a burglar last night.

She heard him strike a match and rose in her bed. In a moment a crouching figure entered the open door of her bed room. By the dim light of the match she could distinguish the face of a young man about 30 years old. He wore no hat, shoes or coat and no mask concealed his smooth shaven face.

For several moments they glared at each other.

Miss Van Sant did not scream but ordered him out.

The burglar backed out of the room, but stopped in the sitting room.

"You have no right in here and I want you to go out the way you came," was the order that sent the man through the sitting room window, by which he entered.

"From the window in my room I saw the man lower himself to the ground," said Miss Van Sant. "He deliberately put the window down and slunk away."

PAT CROWE AGAIN.

HE IS SAID TO BE HIDING NEAR OMAHA.

Kansas City, Feb. 24.—A special to the Times from Omaha says: Patrick Crowe is in hiding near Bellevue, in sight of the dome of the court house at Omaha. The much wanted alleged kidnapper of Eddie Cudahy is guarded and is defying the authorities of Omaha and of Sarpy county, in which Bellevue town is situated.

Such is the statement of a prominent police official, who admitted yesterday that steps have been taken looking to a raid on the place with the co-operation of the police of Sarpy county.

It is stated on the same authority that recent knowledge had come to the police establishing the whereabouts of the alleged kidnapper to a practical certainty and that his letter written to Mr. Cudahy a week ago and dated at South Omaha was not very misleading as to his exact location.

—Typewriter paper at the Journal office.

Summons.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK,—ss. In District Court.
SHELDON W. VANCE, and GEORGE F. STONE, Plaintiffs,
vs.
——DUGGAN, TIMOTHY SULLIVAN, ——KINSELLA, Copartners as DUGGAN, SULLIVAN & KINSELLA, Defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above named Defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiffs in the above entitled action, which said complaint has been filed and is now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court within and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office in the city of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint, within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

—A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiffs,
Crookston, Minn.

Dated Jan. 12, 1901. 42-47

ORDER FOR HEARING ON CLAIMS.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss.
In Probate Court, Special term, Feb. 14th, 1901.

In the matter of the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased.

Letters of administration with the will annexed on the estate of Emilie A. Jennings, deceased, late of the county of Pierce and state of Washington, being granted to I. U. Jennings,

It is ordered, that three months be and the same is hereby allowed from and after the date of this order, in which all persons having claims or demands against the said deceased are required to file the same in the Probate Court of said county, for examination and allowance, or be forever barred.

It is further ordered that the 21st day of May, 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m., at a special term of said probate court, to be held at the probate office in the court house in Crookston, in said county, and the same hereby is appointed as the time and place when and where the said probate court will examine and adjust said claims and demands.

And it is further ordered, that notice of such hearing be given to all creditors and persons interested in said estate by forthwith publishing this order once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Polk County Journal, a weekly newspaper printed and published in said county.

Dated at Crookston this 14th day of February, 1901.

By the Court, —OLE E. HAGEN,
Judge of Probate.

46-48

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION OF LAND CONTRACT.

TO JOHN W. RAPER:

Sir: You will please take notice that the undersigned, Aggie Whitman and W. P. Whitman, hereby elect to cancel and terminate the contract for a deed to the northwest quarter (nw¼) of Section No. twenty-six (26), in township one hundred and fifty-three (153), north of Range forty-seven (47) west of the Fifth Principal Meridian in the county of Polk and state of Minnesota, entered into between herself and husband, W. P. Whitman, as parties of the first part, and yourself as purchaser, party of the second part, which said contract bears date the 10th day of April, 1900.

You are further notified that the said Aggie Whitman hereby elects to declare and does hereby declare all of the payments specified in said contract to be made by you to be at once due and payable.

You are further notified that the said cancellation and termination of said contract is upon the ground and for the reason that you have failed to perform the conditions thereof on your part to be performed in this, that you have not paid the payment upon said land which fell due according to the terms of said contract upon the first day of October, 1900, and the interest upon the entire unpaid purchase price specified in said contract which fell due upon the 1st day of October, 1900, or any part thereof excepting the sum of one hundred four and 17-100 dollars ($104.17.)

You are further notified that the cancellation and termination of said contract will take effect upon the 11th day of April, 1901.

Dated this 15th day of February, 1901.

—Mrs. Aggie Whitman,
—W. P. Whitman.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss.

I hereby certify and return, that after due and diligent search, I have been unable to find the within named John W. Raper within my said county, and the aforesaid John W. Raper cannot be found within said Polk county.

Dated this 19th day of February, 1901.

—E. J. Sullivan,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minnesota, by
—Louis Gonyea, Deputy.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of an execution, issued out of and under the Seal of the District Court, in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, upon a judgement rendered and docketed in said Court, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1896, in an action wherein Standard Paper Co.is plaintiff, and H. Johnson defendant, in favor of the said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of $284.18, and on which there is now due the sum of $93.35, and interest thereon from Aug. 15, 1900, which said judgment was duly assigned by said Standard Paper Co. to E. A. Webster, by an instrument in writing, dated Dec 6, 1898, and duly filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court, in Polk county, Minnesota, by which said judgment was duly assigned by an instrument dated July 26, 1899, by E. A. Webster to J. P. Foote and duly filed in the office of theClerk of Court in and for said county and state, which execution was directed and delivered to me as sheriff in and for the said County of Polk, I have this 11th day of February, A. D. 1901, levied upon all the right, title and interest of said defendant, H. Johnson, in and to the following described real property situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

Lots number 29 and 30, block number 15, in Jerome's Addition to the City of Crookston, County of Polk and State of Minnesota.

Notice is hereby given, that I, the undersigned, as sheriff as aforesaid, will sell the above described real property to the highest bidder, for cash, at public auction, at the front door of the court house, in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on TUESDAY, THE 2d DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m., of that day, to satisfy the said execution together with the interest and costs thereon.

Dated Feb. 11, A. D. 1901.

E. J. SULLIVAN,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minnesota.
By Louis Gonyea, Deputy.

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of $8, which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1898, and in the further sum of $8 which became due and payable Oct 26, 1899 and in the further sum of $8. which became due and payable Oct. 26, 1900, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by George W. Carhart and Marion M. Carhart, his wife, mortgagors, to Jerome W. Wheeler, mortgagee, bearing date the 26th day of October, 1897, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Polk, and state of Minnesota, on the 16th day of November, 1897, at 4:50 o'clock p. m., in book 78 of mortgages, on page 248.

And whereas, the said Jerome W. Wheeler, the mortgagee and holder of said mortgage, has duly elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained: and whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum of forty-two and 40-100 dollars, with interest on $26.40 thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, from the 26th day of October, 1900, and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter of section twenty-eight (28) in township one hundred fifty-four (154) of range forty-seven (47), in Polk county and state of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Polk county, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Crookston, in said county and state, on the 23rd day of March, 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, for cash to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Feb. 6, A. D. 1901.

JEROME W. WHEELER,
Mortgagee.
A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Mortgagee.
Crookston, Minn.

44-50

Summons.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk.
The State of Minnesota to Herman Wallis, the defendant:

You are hereby summoned to be and appear before the undersigned, one of the justices of the peace in and for said county, on the 28th day of February, A. D. 1901, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at my office in the village of Euclid, in said county, to answer to complaint in a civil action. Should you fail to appear at the time and place aforesaid judgment will be rendered against you upon the evidence adduced by said Misner Chapin Fisk, plaintiff, for such sums as he shall show himself entitled to.

Given under my hand this 6th day of February, A. D. 1901.

M. P. LOSEY,
Justice of the Peace.

44-46

Inauguration Day

March 4, 1901, Will Be a Great Day in the History of Washington.

How President McKinley Will Take the Oath of Office. Vice-President Roosevelt's Reception by the Senate Grand Parade and Gorgeous Inaugural Ball.

ALTHOUGH the people of Washington have no part in the election of a president and vice president, they have a large part in the ceremony of inaugurating them. For this reason the subject of the second inauguration of President William McKinley has excited the greatest interest there ever since last November. Work of preparing and arranging the inaugural cermonies and parade is given entirely in the hands of a committee of citizens of the district.

The fund to defray the expenses of the inauguration parades, decorations, etc., is raised by subscription among citizens of Washington, with the understanding that it is to be refunded from the receipts of the inaugural ball. Everything, so far as ceremonies, parades and fireworks go, is free except the ball. Tickets for this function cost five dollars each and there are no deadheads or invited guests outside the presidential party. Even the committeemen buy their tickets.

Just In from the Country.

Congress pays the expense of erecting the stand in front of the capitol, on which the president takes the oath of office, and also the expenses incurred for the ceremonies in the senate chamber and the congressional committees, but all other money required is advanced by citizens of the district, and it is a good investment, for it not only brings crowds to Washington to spend their money here, but the subscriptions have always been paid back in full and a surplus has been left over.

President William McKinley

INAUGURATION DAY.

Congress Could Change Its Date by a Simple Resolution.

Every four years objections are made that March 4 is usually too inclement to make the outdoor inaugural display a complete success. It is not generally known that the fathers of the republic intended April 30 to be the day of inauguration, but the congress of the confederation in 1788 fixed upon a given Wednesday for the next inauguration, and that day being the 4th of March, each succeeding candidate has gone into office on the subsequent quadrennial anniversary. The popular impression that March 4 is established by the constitution as inauguration day is erroneous, and any congress could decree a change to April 30. And so long as the public seems to desire a public show whenever a new president assumes office, such a change would do away with considerable exposure and subsequent illness.

CROWDS OF SIGHTSEERS.

They Come from Everywhere to Satisfy Patriotic Curiosity.

Conservative estimates place the number of people who will witness the inauguration of President McKinley and gaze upon the great inaugural parade at 500,000. All Washington will be on hand to lend cheers, and 200,000 visitors will yell themselves hoarse. In short, Monday, March 4, 1901, promises to be a real red letter day in the history of the national capitol; for no inauguration in the history of the republic has attracted so much popular attention as that of the Ohio statesman who, at noon of that day, will become the executive head of the nation for another term of four years. Compared with the coronation exercises of European monarchs, our inauguration ceremonies are a trifle flat.

Uncle Sam furnishes the dramatis personne for the inauguration show, but when it comes to pay for the staging, he is, to use a slang phrase, "not in it." The expense, as has already been stated, is borne by the business men of Washington, who, months prior to inauguration day, raise a large guarantee fund to defray the cost of the grand pageant on Pennsylvania avenue, relying for reimbursement on the thousands of visitors who usually remain in the city for several days and spend millions of dollars to satisfy their patriotic curiosity. As the raising of inauguration funds has never proved a very difficult task, it is to be presumed that the merchants and hotel keepers realize a handsome profit on their investment.

THE NATIONAL CAPITOL.

Only the Favored Few Can Gain Admission on March 4.

Visitors who expect to enter the capitol building on March 4, to witness the demise of the Fifty-sixth congress, will be disappointed, unless they should be able to secure cards of admission signed by the sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate. Every door of the great building will be guarded by members of the capitol police force, each one of whom has positive orders to prevent the admission of anyone not properly certified as authorized to enter. Members of the senate and house of representatives are given a certain number of cards of admission for themselves, their families and their friends; and each representative of a prominent newspaper, who has the privilege of the press galleries, is given a special card of admission for himself and a woman writer whom he may desire to have there as his assistant to describe the appearance and costumes of the distinguished ladies who may be present. Add to these the members of the diplomatic corps, the justices of the supreme court and the cabinet officers and their families, and you have a complete list of the occupants of the capitol on March 4. Should the regulations governing admission be less stringent such unwieldy crowds would throng the lobbies that the completion of public business and the maintenance of dignity and order would be out of the question.

IN THE SENATE WING.

It Will Attract Most of the Distinguished Visitors.

Although the house of representatives remains in session until noon on March 4, when it adjourns sine die, nobody can be seen in the house wing of the capitol except the representatives and the regular employes of the house. All interest centers in the senate, because the ceremonies preceding and leading up to the inauguration are held in the senate chamber. Although the senate practically concludes all of the business before it by 11 o'clock on the 4th of March, it is required to be in session and actively at work until the hour of noon, when the terms of many of the senators expire. President McKinley sits in the magnificent room set apart for the chief magistrate—known as the "president's room"—either approving or rejecting such bills as may be brought to him for his signature, for any bill which fails to receive the signature of the president before noon of March 4, although it may have passed both houses of congress, cannot become a law. There would not be sufficient time for bills to be sent from the capitol to the white house for the approval of the president, and have them returned to the senate in time, and, therefore, in conformity with usage, President McKinley will be on hand in the president's room by 11 o'clock, in order to complete such legislation as may be of great national importance.

President McKinley Taking the Oath of Office.

THE TWO STAR ACTORS.

Will Be Received by the Senate in Due and Ancient Form.

While the senate and house are in early session, concluding their labors, President McKinley and his escort will pass down Pennsylvania avenue from the white house to the capitol, and thousands of people on the sidewalks will witness this preliminary parade. Meantime the privileged few are thronging the galleries and crowding the corridors of the senate. The members of the diplomatic corps, consisting of the representatives of all nations, many of them in gorgeous costumes, are assigned seats on the right-hand side of the senate chamber, all of the senators having massed themselves on the left of the vice president. Seats are also assigned to the chief justice and associate justices of the supreme court; to the speaker and members of the house of representatives; to distinguished guests, and to all persons who are authorized to have the privilege of the floor of the senate, either by reason of past services or because they have received the thanks of congress for some service of merit. Shortly before noon by the senate clock President McKinley leaves the president's room and enters the main door of the senate chamber. The doorkeeper appears in the main aisle, addresses the vice president pro tem. and announces: "The president and president-elect of the United States." President McKinley walks down the aisle and takes a seat directly in front of the acting vice president. When the senate clock points to noon Vice President Roosevelt enters the chamber and ascends the steps to the vice president's platform.

THE VICE PRESIDENT.

President Pro Tem. Frye Will Administer Oath to Mr. Roosevelt.

The ceremonies attending the introduction of the vice president into his office are very simple. When Mr. Roosevelt has ascended the platform Senator Frye, temporary president of the senate, reaches forth his right hand to greet the vice president elect, and then administers to him the oath of office. After having performed this act he assumes the gavel, raps once and announces: "The senate is adjourned sine die." This ends the ceremony, unless a special session of the senate has been called by the retiring president, as was the case eight years ago. Should the same thing be done this year, Vice President Roosevelt would assume the gavel, after Senator Frye's retirement, rap once and announce: "The senate will be in order." He would then state: "The senators-elect for the Fifty-seventh congress will come forward and receive the oath of office." Immediately thereafter one-third of the members of the senate, who have been reelected, or men who have been elected to take the place of those whose terms have expired, would approach the vice president and from him receive the oath of office. Adjournment would then be had. After adjournment the senators and all the occupants of the senate chamber and the galleries move out in regular order, and proceed to the east front of the capitol. As they emerge from the great bronze doors, from the rotunda, they step upon a platform which has been built over the magnificent marble steps, extending nearly 200 feet upon the grand plaza.

TAKING HIS SECOND OATH.

The Most Impressive and Dignified Event of the Day.

And then occurs the great event of the day. Clear out into the front, and facing the vast multitude of loyal spectators, President William McKinley goes with the chief justice of the United States, and there, in the presence of the representatives of the American people, receives the oath of his exalted office. The oath having been administered, President McKinley proceeds to deliver his inaugural address, and the United States of America has an official head for another term of four years. Simple as the ceremony is, it thrills the thousands who witness it, for they know that in no country but ours is a change of administration attended with less friction. While the ceremony is, as has been said, extremely simple, it has never failed to impress foreigners, who have readily admitted, time and again, that in genuine impressiveness it surpasses the gorgeous ceremonials of royal and imperial coronations, because it enlists the sympathy of the common people instead of pointing out social inequalities and fostering class prejudices. "You have no flow of wines," remarked a noted foreigner, who witnessed the inauguration of President McKinley four years ago, "but the milk of human kindness pours, if I may use the expression, from the hearts of your officials and from the great hearts of your people. Such simplicity is synonymous with loyalty, patriotism and Christianity."

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

After the Review President McKinley Takes Formal Possession.

Immediately after the president has delivered his inaugural address he enters a carriage and rides up Pennsylvania avenue, in advance of the great procession, and takes his place on a stand in front of the white house, where he reviews the gorgeous procession as it passes before him. Four years ago ex-President Cleveland occupied a chair on the right of President McKinley, who stands for three or four hours in full view of the passing civil and military organizations. As the various bands of music pass the north front of the treasury building they cease their music; but when, a few moments later, they come within about 50 yards of the reviewing stand they strike up "Hail to the Chief." The color bearers dip their flags, as they pass the president, and the men in the ranks of the civic organizations give vent to cheers. The military march past silently, all the while keeping "eyes front" as they pass in review before the commander in chief of the army and navy. When the last organization has passed, President McKinley enters the white house and once more takes possession of the mansion which will be his home for another four years.

The Grand Parade.

THE GREAT PARADE.

Most Potent Attraction of the Inauguration Ceremonies.

To the average visitor the grand parade is the most potent attraction of the inauguration ceremonies. It is estimated that 60,000 men will march down Pennsylvania avenue on March 4. The commander of this great procession has decided to start the parade immediately on the conclusion of the inauguration ceremony proper. The parade will be dismissed at Washington circle, instead of the white house, as formerly, and the commander expects that the procession will be able to pass at the rate of 12,000 an hour. Twenty-four files of foot will march in close column, and there will be no change in formation en route. The first division will be divided into three brigades, the first composed of regular United States troops and the national guard of the District of Columbia; the second of the national guard of Pennsylvania, and the third of the national guards of other states, headed by their governors and their staffs, their places in line being assigned as follows: Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, Vermont, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Alabama, Maine, Missouri, Arkansas, Michigan, Florida, Texas, Iowa, Wisconsin, California, Minnesota, Oregon, Kansas, West Virginia, Nevada, Nebraska, Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah. This assignment is based on the date of the adoption of the constitution by the original 13 states and with reference to the admission of the others to the union.

PATRIOTIC DECORATIONS.

Pennsylvania Avenue to Be a Mass of Flags and Bunting.

The decorations on Pennsylvania avenue will be quite artistic, and no reviewing stands will be erected where they might mar the appearance of the thoroughfare and imperil the lives of spectators. In former years stands were erected wherever fancy or greed dictated, and parts of the avenue looked like the main street of a country village on circus day. This year stands will not only be less numerous, but they will be neatly decorated and placed in nooks where they cannot offend the eye. Arches are erected all along the avenue in honor of the visiting governors, and these the various state delegations will be asked to decorate and illuminate. The details of the decorations have been carefully supervised by the committee on decorations and public comfort, to insure good taste and harmony in the massing of color.

Prices for seats from which to see the parade on inauguration day will not be within the reach of all. The best seats on the reviewing stands will cost just as much as tickets to the inaugural ball—$5 each. There will be some at $4 each, others at $3, $2.50 and $2 and a large number at $1.50. On an average, if the parade is an hour in passing, a good chance to see it will cost about five cents a minute. One thousand clerks of the treasury department have bought seats on one stand at $1.50 each. About $20,000 will be spent on the court of honor and the four reviewing stands in Pennsylvania avenue. The presidential box on his reviewing stand will be inclosed with glass. Thirty-eight columns will be erected in the white house grounds, following the line of the semi-circular driveway in from the Pennsylvania avenue gates. The reviewing stands will be built and conducted by the inauguration committee.

Vice-President Theodore Roosevelt.

THE INAUGURAL BALL.

Only Function for Which Admission Fee Is Charged.

As in years gone by inauguration day will close with a grand ball which, as far as display goes, will be incomparable, although "society" may refuse to look upon it as a real "function." Any respectable citizen who is willing to spend ten dollars for tickets can take part in the ball with his wife or sweetheart. It is estimated that 10,000 tickets will be sold this year. New gowns to be worn on this occasion, carriage hire, flowers, etc., will cause an expenditure of at least $1,500,000, so that this ball will be the most expensive and elaborate social display of the decade. The ball will be held in the court of the pension office building. President and Mrs. McKinley will occupy the three rooms of the commissioner of pensions on the second floor, and the vice president and diplomatic corps adjoining apartments. The supper rooms will occupy the entire north side of the building. The dressing-rooms will be provided with every necessity of the toilet, and 12,000 hat and cloak boxes will be in charge of a number of employes from the Washington post office. All these details have been suggested by the chairman of the committee on the inauguration reception. Among the distinguished guests at the ball will be the gentlemen composing the president's cabinet and their wives and daughters.

At the Inaugural Ball.

BALLS IN THE PAST.

First One Was Given in Honor of President Madison.

The music for the ball will be furnished by hundreds of musicians. The president and his wife will visit the scene and hold a reception, though the days have gone by when the chief magistrate and the first lady of the land were expected to lead the cotillon. Balls have been the regular thing ever since James Madison was inducted into office, except for the fact that Franklin Pierce was passed by because nobody cared to get up a ball for him, and Rutherford B. Hayes was similarly omitted from the list of presidents danced into office because he did not establish his title until so short a time before that there was no opportunity to make the necessary preparations, and in fact no one knew for awhile whether he could be inaugurated without the assistance of balls of a more solid character than those now held in the pension office.

Around the Country.

Weekly Reports From the Journal's Corps of News Gatherers.

CLIMAX.

B. B. Larson of Halstad was seen on Climax streets Monday.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spokell, on Friday last, a baby boy. All concerned are doing well.

Messrs. Ackern, Sulerude and Slette were Halstadites taking in the sights of Climax last Saturday.

Gunder Swenson returned from a prolonged visit with his folks at Rushford, Minn., last Saturday.

Miss Agnes Sanderson has gone to Bemidji to accept a position as waitress in one of the hotels there.

Rev. Herman Fisher of rookston expects to give a lecture at the church in Climax on the evening of March 4.

Joel Johnson and daughter Florence of Caledonia, N. D., visited with his sister, Mrs. J. Braseth, last week.

Miss Emma Satermo returned from Donaldson last Friday, where she had been visiting her sister, Mrs. F. C. Taft.

Spokell Bros. are having a large ice house built just back of their saloon, which will be filled with ice for summer use.

Anton Moen, now of Portland, N. D., but formerly having charge of the Climax drug store, spent a couple of days in town visiting his old friends.

P. J. Ele, of Shelly, spent Friday in town representing the [illegible] & M. Cattle company. We understand while here he sold several shares of stock in his company to some of the boys.

The Climax Ladies' Aid Society will give a supper at the church Tuesday, April 26. After the supper an auction will be held, offering the various articles prepared for sale to the highest bidder.

Mrs. F. Bonemie left last Wednesday evening for the Twin Cities, where she will purchase a new stock of spring millinery. She expects to open up a new millinery store in George Schrump's building about March 15.

LENGBY.

The "Grip" has many victims here, both in town and country.

The Synod Ladies Aid Society meets with Mrs. O. O. Lommen Wednesday, March 6th

Robert Johnsson of Winsor visited his brother-in-law, P. A. Sederberg, last Tuesday.

The M. W. A. Basket social Friday eve. was poorly atended on account of the snow storm.

A. J. Olson built a first class ice house last week and will store a large supply of ice for next summer's use.

Mr. McRay, representing the Thoe Mercantile Co., of West Superior, is doing business with our merchants today.

Frank Ostman is engaged to teach the Kanswille school again. He will open school on March 4, for a four months term.

The Synod Ladies Aid Society will give a basket social in Argyle Hall Saturday evening March 2., all are cordially invited to attend.

A lively debate will take place at Argyle Hall next Thursday evening Feb. 28., with Chas Ohlsson and P. A. Sederberg as leading speakers. After the debate a musical entertainment will be given by Halvor Solum.

ERSKINE.

Prof. Dahle and wife were trading in Erskine Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jorgenson are visiting their daughter at Maple Bay.

Basket parties and dances seem to be the order of the day in Winger.

Three farmers in this vicinity talk of selling out and removing to Virginia.

T. A.Jenson went to Crookston Thursday to purchase lumber for a granary.

Gustaf Bradley is very sick. Dr. Mc Kinnon of Fosston is attending him.

Quite a number of young people attended a party at Mrs. Oppegard's last Saturday.

Swen Neslund, who had his leg broken two weeks ago, is reported to be doing nicely.

Rev. Finstad preached last Sunday at 3 p. m. at Gossen church, there was a large attendance.

Lars Meyer, who has been sick since Christmas, will be taken to the hospital at Fosston for treatment.

DUGDALE.

Olle, Johnsrud & Anderson took a trip to Thief River Falls to invest in a farm.

John Jackson has sold his farm to John Boyd of Iowa for $2,400.

John Farden has been sadly afflicted by the loss of his two young sons from diptheria.

Andrew Christianson has lost one of his little girls with the diptheria. His entire family is afflicted.

If any one wants to buy land, write to Herman Comp, Dugdale, Minn. He has several sections to sell at fair figures.

John G. Farrell, who has been sick all winter, died the first of the week. He will be sadly missed as he was a good neighbor to all.

The following named persons have recently sold their farms; Olle, Johnsrud & Anderson, farm and hotel for $2.300. Silas Farrell, $600. Lars Anderson, $1,000 Gilbert Nass, $1.100 Mrs. Kellog, $1,500.

KITTSON.

A. J. Price, wife and children are going to drive to Stephen this week to visit their son Hal.

J. G. Cornwell is expected home this week from Stephen where he has been visiting old friends for the past few weeks.

Charley Duval, W. M. Duval, Mr. Payan, Mr. Hoffman and Mr. Jas. Lariviere received three cars of corn last week.

Mr. Larson, Merchant, Post Master and most important man of Russia was in Kittson last week and purchased a load of coal of the St. A. & D. Elev. Co.

Mr. Davison was called home last week from the woods where he has been working since the first of the year, Mrs. Davison having been hurt by a horse.

The crowd that have been having their Friday night parties all winter are going to round up with a Grand Oyster Supper at R. Smith's next Friday night. A jolly time is expected.

Mrs. Loreland arrived Friday morning from Sheds, Oregon to visit her daughter Mrs. J. Erwin. Mr. Erwin says he has the promise of another section and expects to move next month.

BEMIDIJI.

Logging interests in this vicinity are at their heighth, and the lumbermen are in their glory.

Our people are not in favor of theproposed shape of the new ninth congressional district, it looks to popolied.

The New Great Northern depot will be the most pretentious between Crookston and Duluth, and it is badly needed.

Several new buildings are being erected, and in fact smaller edifices, other than business buildings, have been in course of erection about the city all winter.

Several parties of this place have recently returned from the Grand Falls region, where they have taken homesteads and expect to reap fortunes therefrom in the near future.

Quite a number of people are afflicted with la grippe and fevers of different types St. Anthony's Hospital contains many patients, mostly men from the woods, who suffer quite severely from la grippe and pneumonia this winter.

The parade of the Red Men on the 22d inst., was one of the most unique incidents of the winter. They were regaled in almost perfect native costume and made a most "savage" appearance during their perambulations about the streets. Their ball given at the city hall during the evening was largely attended.

City election next month promises to be the most exciting of any the history of the place, and this early in the day the opposite factions are throwing up fortifications and placing their big guns into position. What the ultimate outcome will be is hard to prophesy at the present time, but it is hoped that better government of city affairs will prevail in the future.

The smallpox scare here has almost entirely abated, and there is little probability that there has ever been a genuine case of the dread disease in the city or neighborhood. Persons who have shown symptoms of a kindred disease have been promptly relegated to the pest house, and as those persons are all getting over their "misfortunes," none having been seriously ill, it is reasonable to suppose that there is no cause for serious alarm.

FISHER.

Miss Lottie Kelly is attending school here now.

Chas. J. Hausen, of Nash, is visiting Albert Olson.

Ed. Everson was called to Perham last Friday evening by the serious illness of his father.

Miss Jennie Quandt has returned from a two weeks' visit with her parents at Grand Forks.

Mrs. Robert Rose, Miss Jessie Sweet and Harry Roberts visited Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Sweet last week.

Dr. Hodgson has been confined to his house for the past week, being sick with the grip. We are glad to say he is recovering.

Warde Neeley entertained a large party of his young friends last Friday night, the occasion being the 14th anniversary of his birth.

Mrs. R. T. McLean, who has been visiting for the past two months with Mr. and Mrs. Holzinger, returned to her home in Great Falls, Mont., last Tuesday.

DONALDSON.

Deputy Sheriff Swanson, from Hallock, was in town Saturday.

Anton Hallberg went to Hallock Friday, returning the same day.

Andrew Lund has been working with Eric Hoglund at the feed mill.

Chas. Lind and B. E. Sundberg, both from Kennedy, visited here Friday.

J. B. Main and wife returned to Stephen Monday, their former place of abode.

Magnus Olson parchased a pair of fine celluloid spreader rings for his new harness.

Peter Lund and E. A. Kindler went down to Stephen Tuesday, returning Wednesday.

O. J. Mulvey now has the habits of a rabbit—hopping—from the effects of a dog bite. Sorry for you, Owen.

Shirts and fine suits washed and pressed by the Crookston Steam laundry. K. J. Lind is their agent here.

A large crowd of people gathered at the depot Friday evening on account of the departure of Mrs. Ole Solem.

A. Lund and Emery Davis were hustled up to Hallock in a hurry Monday as witnesses on A. H. Hallberg's case.

M. P. Hallnut brought a live pig to town, but when Erick and Olson got their hands on him he had to count his existence in minutes.

Dr. E. Smith, from Stephen, is operating on peoples' jaws in this neighborhood lately, putting in and renewing their chewers, Eric Hoglund being an exception this time.

Everyone and everybody is requested to be present March 8th at the school house to take in the hard times dance given by the ladies' guild society. Come one, come all.

Andrew Lund came near bleeding to death from an extracted tooth Thursday. Only for the assistance and quick relief of A. F. Holberg as a blood stopper, it would have went ather hard on Andrew. He is all right now.

An exciting scene was to been seen Saturday evening when Mrs. O. J. Mulvey tried to kill or shoot J .J. Lind's dog. But she failed in her aim and the dog got whole skinned away. The dog had bitten Mr. O. J. Mulvey the day previous, and the bite may prove serious. She had good reason for trying to kill the animal.

Mrs. Ole Solem took leave of Donaldson for good last Friday on the evening train for Utah, where she will join her husband, where he has been for two months. They intend to make their future home there, as Mr. Solem is failing in health, and he thinks that the Utah climate suits him the best.

Wm. Ridgout was here Friday disposing of some of his tickets on his Greenwich watch which he is going to raffle off.

Dire vengeance is shining in the eyes of Swan Heanum and Erick Hogland on account of the Valentines they received the other day. If the sender ever is found, he will wish himself in Maryland before they get through with him. So they say.

B. E. Sundberg and John Bergfelt of Kennedy, came down to invoice some harnes extras last week, which they intend to parchase of Martin Lund. The sale is not completed yet.

A hard times dance will be given by the ladies' guild society March 8th. Everybody cordially invited to attend—not stay home or go somewhere else as some did the last dance we had here. All the ladies are requested to bring a sandwich or whatever they deem most suitable for the occasion. Now, boys here is a chance for you—only fifty cents for the dance and supper free. How does that suit some of you cheap guys? as the expression was used at the last dance we had.

SHEVLIN.

J. H. Olson was in town from Alida Monday.

H. C. Aldrich, of Moose, was in the village Monday.

Charley Halverson, of Moose, was in the village Monday.

Mrs. F. A. Blakesell is visiting for a few days at Bemidji.

A. H. Halverson was a Shevlin caller Monday from Wilborg.

Swan Galvant is sealing lumber for Frank Velliers this week.

Emil Rain is temporarily employed at A. L. Gordon & Co.'s store.

James Revor made a business trip to Bemidji the last of the week.

P. S. Porish is busy as usual, selling land for the Crowell-Crocker Land Co.

James Revor just received a carload of hay, this being the third this winter.

Frank Kuster has smoved his family into the Lee house on Mississippi avenue.

H. A. Dickson has been under the weather for some time, but is some better at this writing.

Several of our young people attended the masquerade ball at Solway Friday evening, and report a swell time.

H. A. Dickman has 120,000 feet of pine for sale on sidetrack at Eckels. Write him for prices at Shevlin, Minn.

Carl Hicks has just shipped to this village a planning outfit, and will dress the big bunch of lumber bought ofKrohn & Thorp before shipping.

MENTOR.

Stormy weather for a week. What next?

Chas. Ohler, the Dugdale merchant was seen on our streets Tuesday.

James Anderson went to Crookston Tuesday to consult Dr. Morely the Ear specialist.

J. O. Sather bought a $5 Plymouth Rock rooster this week of Mr. Bugg of Crookston.

Jos. Tagley spent Thursday of last week at Crookston buying goods for the spring trade.

Mr. C. Morel of the Fosston State Bank, was looking after real estate matters here Tuesday.

The spreading of a switch rail caused the caboose on the west bound freight to jump the track here last Friday, and the west bound passenger that was due a few minutes later, was signaled just in time to prevent it from crashing into the derailed caboose.

EXCEL.

Excel in reality is on the boom.

P. B. Melberg is in town for a few days.

H. L. Bergeron has an attack of the "Coast" fever.

Mrs. Herman Simonson is very ill with the grippe.

Simon Warring expects to soon move in to his new house.

Mr. James Robinson's family are recovering from the grippe.

Miss Johanna Haroldson has closed a sucessful term of school in Dis., 17.

Hugo Otto of Comstock, has bought the Steiner farm and will move over in the spring.

Miss Anna Larson is taking a vacation and enjoying a visit with the Misses Haroldson.

At a special school meeting held the 20th. in Dis. 17, it was decided to move the school house onto the S. W. corner of section 28., for the benefit of all concerned.

This town is quite (I mean the people) stirred up over the question of bonding the town to make ditches and waterways. The majority of the voters are in favor of bonding, there will be a hot time at the town meeting.

KENNEDY.

Drayton's popular liveryman, Al Simmons, had business in town Monday.

E. D. Cross worked here in the interest of th Crookston Journal last Friday

Miss Elna Johnson is at present staying in town and taking advantage of our school facilities.

William Truedson and Gust Peterson of Mattson P. O. made this village a pleasant call Monday.

The well known barrister, J. D. Ferguson, drove through here enroute for Hallock to attend court Tuesday.

Dan McKay maintains that the average woman would rathe have a little flattery than a whole lot of sympathy.

Dr. Grouerud surprised us on day by asserting that the only wholesome part of the old fashioned doughnuts is the whole.

Charley Lansing and John Estlund made a collecting tour through the town of Tein, they also visited with friends at Robin.

The spring term of court convened at Hallock Monday and several of our prominent citizens are attending in different capicities.

Since the departure of Albert Berg for the northwestern territories, Miss Eda Anderson has been employed as assistant postmaster.

Nils Olson, the genial elevator assistant is rapidly developing characteristics which will eventually make him the favorite of the fair sex.

Joe Roney went acourting with the rest of them Monday, but that is nothing new to Joe as he is often known to do that only in another locality.

Two sleigh loads, consisting of the Lund, Taft, Blomsness and Olson families of Donaldson drove up Sunday to view he sights of our city.

Rev. Johnston preached another very touching sermon at the Methodist Congregation hall last Sunday evening. The room was filled to overflowing with interested and appreciative auditors, upon whom, if we miss not our guess, the effect was not lost.

A sad duty falls to our lot this week, that of chronicling the premature death of Miss Edith Anderson which occured early Monday morning. Forsaken by friends and during her sickness wholly dependent upon the charity of strangers, her condition was indeed deplorable, from which death certainly came as a relief.

WARREN.

George Peck came down from Argyle Monday night.

Mrs. Huggard, of Minto, N. D. visited friends in the city Monday.

Miss Helen Franklin of Argyle, visited friends here a few days last week.

Misses Groverson and Nelson attended the masquerade ball at Argyle Friday night.

Mrs. Brady came down from Pembina Thursday night, returning Saturday morning.

Burr Peck drove in from New Solum and visited friends in the city Saturday and Sunday.

The Woodman Ball that was to have occured at the Opera house Friday night was postponed until the coming Friday night.

SKIRMISH IN HAYTI.

BETWEEN HAYTIANS AND DOMINICANS.

Cape Haytian, Hayti, Feb. 26.—A skirmish has taken place between Haytians and Dominicans at Philtobert, on the northern frontier. A party of Haytians was suddenly attacked by a number of Dominicans. The Haytian consul at Dajabon sought refuge at Ouanamlthe, Hayti, about five miles from the frontier. The Dominican consul at Cape Haytian has received orders from his government to repair immediately to the scene of the disturbance and endeavor to put an end to the fighting and cause the Haytian consulate at Dajabon to be respeeted.

PULLED PUGS

GRAND FORKS POLICE GATHER IN TWO LAST NIGHT.

Last evening at Grand Forks the two well known pugilists, Rhodes of Mayville and Nelson, "The Terrible Swede" were arrested for riotous and unseemly conduct in the Troy Laundry of that city. It appears that the two prize fighters entered the laundry and after a brief parley proceeded to administer the hot wallops to those present. They were dealing out jabs and short arm hooks at a merry rate when the police arrived and gathered the two merry scrappers into the clutches of the law. They will be arraigned today on the charge of disorderly conduct.

A CLOSE CALL

YOUNG GUNDERSON OF TENSTRIKE IS SHOT AT.

Blackduck Times:—Last Thursday as young Gunderson was going home, and just as he was passing the forks of the Deer River and Langor andBridgie road, three shots were fired at him one bullet passed in front of his breast and the other two went through a small grip he was carrying in a pack sack he was carrying on his back which tore some letters in the grip.

He ran home, and at first thought he was shot at by mistake, but went the next day, and found the fresh tracks where two men had stood behind a tree and shot at him.

He is of the opinion that he was mistaken for another man, and was shot at by mistake.

FOR M'KENZIE

MOTION FOR HIS RELEASE MADE IN U. S. SUPREME COURT.

Washington, Feb. 27.—In the United States supreme court yesterday, Judge J. M. Wilson entered a motion for leave to file a petition for writs of certeraria and habeas corpus in the case of Alexander McKenzie, now under sentence of the United States circuit court of appeals for the ninth circuit to serve a year's imprisonment in the Alameda county (Cal.) jail for contempt of that court n connection with proceedings connected with his receivership of certain mines in Alaska. The motion also includes a petition to admit the prisoner to bail pending proceedings in the supreme court. The court took the motion under advisement and it is supposed that its decision will be rendered next Tuesday.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

Bingham Lake, Minn., Feb. 26.—Thomas Kennedy was run over today and instantly killed while switching his train at Bingham Lake yards. He has a family at West Superior, Wis.

STOPS THE COUGH AND WORKS OFF THE COLD.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

—J. F. Hawkins came down from Solway Saturday evening and spent Sunday in the city.

BOERS IN RETREAT

Disorganized Bodies of Burghers Said to be Fleeing Before British Columns.

DEWET'S FORCES PURSUED

Though DeWet Should Surrender it is Said the Boer War Would Continue.

London, Feb. 26.—The Daily Telegraph publishes the following from De Aar: "Mr Steyn addressed the Boers Saturday, telling them they must all shift for themselves, returning to Orange River colony as best they could. He and Gen. DeWet took 300 of the best horses with which to escape."

London, Feb. 26.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Kitchener:

"Middleburg, Transvaal, Feb. 24.—French reports from Piet Retief, Feb. 22, that the result of the columns sweeping the country east is that the Boers are retreating in scattered and disorganized parties to the number of some 5,000 in front of him.

"Amsterdam and Piet Retief have been occupied, and troops are protecting the Swazi frontier. French will push on, but is much hampered by the continuous rains.

"Summary of total losses inflicted upon the enemy up to Feb. 16:

"Two hundred and ninety-two Boers known to have been killed and wounded in action, 56 taken prisoners, 183 surrendered, one 15-pounder gun, 562 rifles, 160,000 rounds of small ammunition, 3,500 horses, 70 mules, 3,530 trek oxen, 18,700 cattle, 155,400 sheep and 1,070 wagons and carts captured.

"Our casualties:

"Five officers and 41 men killed, and four officers and 108 men injured. I regret to say that Major Howard, a very gallant officer of the Canadian scouts, was killed Feb. 15.

"Plummer reports that Allen captured DeWet's 15-pounder and pompon Feb. 23, as well as 53 prisoners and a quantity of ammunition. We had no casualties; enemy in full retreat and dispersing, being vigorously pursued.

"DeWet's attempt to invade Cape Colony has evidently completely failed."

Col. Plummer engaged Gen. DeWet Saturday near Disselfontein, on the south bank of the Orange river, capturing a gun and a pompon and taking 50 prisoners. The Boers were scattered and are being pursued by Col. Plummer.

New York, Feb. 26.—S. Pearson, formerly a commissary in the Boer army, who sailed for Rotterdam on the Holland-American liner Staatendam on Jan. 19, returned to New York on the steamship Rotterdam.

M. Pearson says: "The capture of DeWet would not end the war. There are other able generals in the Boer army, and a capable successor to him would be found.

Dr. Galvin B. Clark, who for several years has represented Caithness, in Scotland, in the British parliament, but who was defeated for re-election a few weeks ago because of what he calls the khaki fever, says:

"The Boer was engineered by a group of men who were after the control of the richest gold mines and diamond fields in the world. It was conceived n fraud and misrepresentation, and the Boers have been maligned, slandered and lied about.

"America did not go into the Philippine war with her eyes open, as we did into the Boer war, but on the other hand, we are only pursuing our traditional policy, while you, who believe that all men are free and equal, have sinned against the light."

NO CHANGE MADE.

NO ACTION WILL BE TAKEN TO AMEND NELSON ACT.

It is now regarded as certain that the fifty-sixth congress will adjourn without having enacted any legislation changing existing conditions on the Leech Lake and Red Lake Indian reservations of Minnesota.

The interests of various elements have been so conflicting during the short session that none of the proposed changes in the Nelson act of 1889 have been carried into effect, nor will they be.

This will leave the situation exactly the same as it was at the opening of congress, unless during the remaining four days of the session there should be some amendment attached to some of the appropriation bills bearing upon this question.

But this is very improbable, according to the statements of Judge Morris and Congressman Eddy, both of whom have reviewed the situation within the last day or two.

Meanwhile, Congressman Eddy introduced a bill in the house embodying the principal features of doing away with estimating on the stump and substituting measurement and sale of the white pine in the long. This bill was referred to the secretary of the interior, who, after considerable delay, returned it, with several amendments providing for the establishment of sawmills and dividing the reservations up into districts.

This feature was a part of the plan embodied in a bill presented during the last session of congress by Chairman Curtis, of the house committee on Indian affairs, and which met with the determined opposition of Congressmen Eddy and Morris, although it had the sanction of Indian Commissioner Jones.

ROYAL
Baking Powder

Makes the bread more healthful.

Safeguards the food against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

The Eddy bill was referred to a subcommittee, and there it is sleeping at the present writing. Both Mr Eddy and Judge Morris have informed your correspondent that there will be no legislation whatever on the subject this winter.

And the best the advocates of the park have been able to do is to provide for a little junketing trip by the senate committee on Indian affairs to visit Leech Lake, Walker and the Red Lake reservation for the purpose of investigating the question of whether or not the park plan is practicable. It is very unlikely that any further sale of standing white pine will be ordered by the interior department during the next year.

IN HARD LUCK.

BELTRAMI COUNTY IS ON THE VERGE OF BANKRUPTCY.

Beltrami county is in a bad way financially, according to statements made in the senate. Its credit is gone, its county orders are being rejected, and Senator McCarthy confidently predicts that unless the legislature passes two bills be introduced in the upper house to releive the situation of the prisoners at the county jail will be without food and the sheriff without means to procure any within a week.

A similar situation has never occurred in any Minnesota county. When the county was organized a legislative provision set the amount it could raise for county purposes at $20,000 a year.

It settled up rapidly and during the winter months has an extensive transient population of from 6,000 to 8,000 lumbermen in addition to its permanent residents. The amount raised by taxation has been expended and the county has no more money.

A recent test case resulted in a decision that the county has exceeded its powers. Its creditors immediately refused to extend further accomodations. Storekeepers will not furnish provisions or supplies except at exorbitant figures, and for lack of funds county business has come to a standstill. It is even feared that the state must step in and take care of 21 cases of smallpox in quarantine, since in a week or more there will be no means of securing either medical attendance or food.

Senator McCarthy's bills legalize taxation already levied in excess of the legislative limitation and the county orders outstanding in excess of the amount allowed by law. If the bills pass, the credit of the county will be restored and it will be again able to transact business.

ROMANTIC WEDDING.

MISS ALICE BAGLEY SECRETLY MARRIED AT DULUTH.

Duluth, Feb. 27.—Quite a romance was unearthed in Duluth through tho medium of court house records. Alice Bagley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bagley, of 1326 London road, and Benjamin W. Muliord, a grain dealer of New York, were secretly married by a justice of the peace at West Duluth Feb. 11. The young couple met in the East about seven years ago, and their acquaintance ripened into love. But there was a strong paternal objection. Mr. Bagley is president of the Zenith City Elevator company. The young folks have lived in hope for a year or two that the objections would be withdrawn.

There seemed to be no use in trying to change the determination of the elder Mr. Bagley, and the young people arrange a secret marriage, and were married as stated. The young wife immediately returned home, and it had been her intention to go to her husband next summer.

"I suppose," said the young bride, as the reporter tipped his hat at departure, "that papa will be awfully mad when he goes down to his office in the morning and reads the news of my marriage.

Polk County Journal.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.
Historical Society

VOL. XXV CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1901 No. 48

FOR BETTER ROADS

Hawley Business Men Organize to Further Some Important Local Objects.

OTHERS SHOULD FOLLOW

In the Move of Advancement of Home Interests, and Bettering Town Affairs.

A correspondent of the Hawley Herald says:

I see in reading the Herald that the business men of Hawley have formed themselves into a business association whose object is to further the interests of themselves and Hawley village. We who stand on the outside wish them success, but, with the permission of the editor, I would like to offer a few kindly sugestions.

It is not altogether good roads that you need to bring trade into Hawley. People will come no matter if the roads are not of the very best, if you make it an object. They may make bad roads as an excuse, but the roads are on a whole as good to Hawley as they are to Fargo or Barnesville or Hitterdal, but if the farmer can get more for his wheat and butter and eggs in one of these towns, he will go there.

We need better roads, no one will deny. That we will get better roads under the present system I do not believe. We should do away with our "overseer" system of working out our highway taxes. The construction of our highways should be put under the management of a competent superintendent elected by the people. Our roads should all be made county roads and pay our highway and road tax into the county fund, such funds to be appropriated to each town according to its needs. Some towns are more favored naturally than others, consequently they do not need as much money to use. Take for instance a town like Hawley, we need to have a larger road fund than the town can afford. We have three or four bridges to keep up and several bad culverts, and we ought to have for the next eight or ten years at least $800 or $900 a year to put our highways in good shape. We could accomplish more if we had proper machinery to work with, as it is, in my judgment, the present system of doing work is a waste of time and money. I hope the state will change the present plan of road making in the near future. You must not expect to accomplish all at once.

There are hardly any of our roads of the present day on the same lines that have been used in the past, and right here is one of the reasons for poor roads. All roads should have been laid out and recorded when the land was surveyed into sections and quarters and highways could then be put where they belong—on section lines, one mile apart—and the road would have been there when the settler came and he would have used that road, and fast as the towns were organized the people would have commenced to work upon the roads, and, instead of laying out new roads as we have to do now and pay damages to get the right of way, and using money that should be used in building grades and culverts, if roads had been laid in the start no one would have expected damage for their land. We of course, cannot undo what is done, but we can get better service for our money by doing away with the present system of road work by the township plan.

There is one other thing that ought to attract the attention of our business men's association. Use all of your influence to bring into Hawley some kind of business that will give the laboring man something to do in the winter. He is needed here in the summer, he is in fact a necessity, that you will hardly deny. The summer season is short and when winter comes with its needs we find ourselves hardly recovered from the last winter's siege, and it is only a question of time when we will have to go to some place where the conditions are more favorable.

Where is the flax mill that was coming? Bring something, and when you have work to do, remember that the Hawley laborer buys your sugar and tea and is an important element when it comes to making a town or village. If anyone needs the preference, it is the man who lives here and sends his children to our schools and to our churches and Sunday schools, brings up his little ones to become a part of this community, he is the person that our business men should hold onto rather than the man who comes here to just make a stake and then jump to another place. The laboring men should get together and form an association, the object to be to support the business men that they know are their friends. The man who is the friend of his own town or village is the man who gives his own townsman the preference when he can do so. When the business man, no matter whether he is a banker merchant or wheat buyer, and the farmer and the mechanic and the laborer are willing that each shall have their privileges or rights, there will be less cause for complaint.

In closing I would suggest that the first act that the new association performs is to make out a strong appeal in the form of a request to Andrew Carnegie to give the village of Hawley ten thousand dollars for a library. Put the thing into Frank Eddy's hands. It might bring good fruit. Try it.

GOOD ADVICE

TO THE FARMERS OF THE RED RIVER VALLEY.

A well known farmer who was in the city Tuesday, and who is one of those who is always forehanded with all his work, stated that the farmers generally should remember that spring was rapidly approaching and that it was high time to get in readiness for the seeding time. He said that it was remarkable how many farmers there were who, year after year, neglected getting ready for work till the time arrived to begin work, and when there was a necessary delay of all the way from a week to ten days. There is a vast amount of work on a farm, he stated, that should be done before the ground was fit to receive the seed. He emphasized the fact that none but the cleanest of seed should be sown, and that at this season of the year when there is little else to do, all farmers should see to it that there was not the slightest trace of foul seed in the grain that was to be sown. Harnesses should be oiled before they are used, and everything fixed up in first class shape so that when work began there would be no interruptions that could have been avoided by a little labor at this time. He stated that there were more farmers who would have to buy their seed grain this spring than for a number of years past and for this reason they should purchase it at once rather than waiting till the last moment, take inferior seed and not be able to clean it in good shape. The suggestions made are worthy of consideration.

A MERRY WAR

STARTED IN MARYLAND BY EX-SENATOR GORMAN.

Annapolis, Md., March 6.—The eve of what promises to be one of the most important sessions of the general assembly ever held in this state finds the ancient capital of Maryland crowded with prominent political leaders from all sections of Maryland. Chief among them is former United States Senator Gorman, who arrived yesterday. He will direct the fight which is generally believed will result in his ultimate return to the United States senate or his final retirement from state and national politics. The republicans are prepared for a bitter contest under the leadership of United States Senator McComas. The bill to amend the election laws so as to prevent illiterates from casting their ballots is the principal object for which the special session is called. It has been prepared and will be introduced today. It will provide that the names of various candidates shall be so arranged on the ballot that no one who cannot read will be able to cast his ballot intelligently.

The effect of this measure if passed will be particularly to disfranchise about 90 per cent of the 52,000 colored voters of the state, and make a democratic legislature next year almost certain. The democrats, however, have but a bare constitutional majority in the senate and are visibly uneasy lest the bill fail to pass.

TREATY IS DEAD.

HAY-PAUNCEFORTE AFFAIR EXPIRES BY LIMITATION.

Washington, March 6.—The Hay-Pauncefote treaty, intended to replace the Clayton-Bulwer treaty relative to the construction of the isthmian waterway, died at noon on Monday. The death was caused technically by the fact that the last clause of the treaty allowed only the period of time up to March 4 for its ratification. Neither the government of Great Britain nor the United States appears to have made any formal effort to extend that period. Though the treaty is dead from the point of international law, it may still serve a purpose. It is understood here that the British government either has or is preparing a communication to the United States government based upon the senate amendments analyzing them carefully, pointing out their probable effect upon the original proposition, as seen from the British side, and perhaps suggesting some modifications. While it is impossible to predict in advance of the receipt of this communication just what attitude the state department will assume towards it, there is reason to believe that it will be taken in good part and that negotiations will be resumed for the conclusion of a new treaty with a view of meeting, if possible, the objections raised by the senate to the original treaty.

DEMANDS ARE FREQUENT.

Pine Bluff, Ark., March 6.—W. H. Langford, president of the Citizens' bank of this city, has made public a letter which he received Saturday demanding that he deposit in an alley near his home, $50,000 in cash, under penalty of losing his seven year old son. He was threatened with death should he undertake to apprehend the authors of the letter. Regardless of the threat Mr. Langford at once placed the matter in the hands of the authorities, and every effort has been made to run down the plotters. No clue has been obtained, however.

FAMOUS MARE BURNED.

Minneapolis, March 5.—The Gossman livery barn on Grant street, burned yesterday morning. Thirty-eight horses were cremated, among them being the famous buckskin mare of the Hayward case. The loss is $35,000, insurance $25,000.

Typewriter Supplies at the Journal.

EATABLES AS FUEL

Gunboat Has Perilous Trip to Venezuela, During which Coal Gives Out.

FOOD AND FURNISHINGS USED

In Order to Reach the Port, After Many Mishaps and Bad Storms.

New York, March 6.—The ship's company that left this port on Jan. 21 in J. Gould's former yacht, Atlanta, transferred into the gunboat Restaurador, Venezuelean commission, and equipped with showy navy uniforms, and in hopes of acquiring Venezuelean commissions, have returned on the liner Philadelphia. The members were gone a little over a month, although they expected to deliver the boat to the Venezuelean government within ten days.

The boat was sold to the Venezuelean government early in January and comprises the whole Venezuelean navy. Her armament, when she sailed, consisted of four Hotchkiss 4-pounders, a pompom and two 8-pounders.

The men shipped under a contract, stipulating that a months wages would be paid in any event and all that would be required of them was to deliver the boat at La Guyara.

The first night at sea the ship ran into a storm which damaged her considerably and lasted for four days. It was decided to run into San Juan, but the coal had given completely out before that port was reached.

The cabin furnishings, which had been in the yacht since the days of Jay Gould, were dropped into the furnace; fancy wood paneling, pictures, carpets, tables and finally the provisions that would burn were thrown into the fire.

At San Juan the Restaurador lay from Jan. 3 to Feb. 0, being repaired and refitted. Here she was joined by another agent of the government.

After departing from San Juan, according to the statement of one of the crew, the vessel was ordered to bombard Carputo, held supposedly by the insurgents.

The guns were trained on the town, when it was learned the town had been recaptured by the government.

A number of prisoners were subsequently placed on the gunboat. Among the passengers was the rebel general of that part of the country. He was sentenced to be shot, but it was decided to carry him to La Guayard, whence he was to be sent to Oaracas, where the sentence was to be carried out.

He was hopelessly depressed and spoke to no one. As long as the vessel was in sight his wife and daughters stood on the rocks of the port.

The vessel ran aground on the rocks of Carabo, where she remained until Jan. 12. She was pulled off by tugs. On the same day the vessel stopped at three other small ports, at two of which she took on prisoners and soldiers.

The ship got to La Guayard Feb. 3. The ship was no sooner in port than the soldiers and prisoners discharged than the government put the skipper and his officers and men on shore. They were paid in silver, which was eventually exchanged into American money at 80 cents on the dollar.

The captain learned afterward from the minister of finance that negotiations were in progress for the purchase of the yacht.

Mr. Astor could not be seen last evening about Capt. Mercrew's story. It has been recently announced that the Venezuelan government purchased Mr. Bennett's yacht Nuomi for $100,000.

ARMY BILL IS SIGNED.

SENATOR CLAY OF GEORGIA OCCUPIES ATTENTION.

Washington, March 4.—The president Saturday night signed the army appropriation bill, which contains the provision relating to the relations of the United States with Cuba and the government of the Philippines.

The last of the big supply bills of the government—the general deficiency measure—was passed by the senate, thus clearing the decks for final adjournment of congress. The indications now are that the senate will do little more than consider conference reports during the remainder of the session.

In addition to the general deficiency bill, the measure increasing the cost of public buildings in certain cities, known as the omnibus public buildings bill, was passed. The bill increases the aggregate more than two million dollars.

In the course of the session, Mr. Clay of Georgia delivered a prepared speech in favor of the construction by this government of the Nicaraguan canal.

The night session was devoted largely to listening to a speech from Mr. Chandler urging an investigation of the election of W. A. Clark as a senator from Montana. The galleries were crowded and many senators present were in full dress.

It was a weary senate that convened at 11 o'clock to begin the proceedings of the last legislative day of the fifty-sixth congress. Senators, red eyed and tired looking, showed the effect of the heavy strain of the past week. Curiously enough, many of the older senators exhibited less evidence of the hard work and loss of sleep than some of their younger colleagues. The galleries were thronged with people who were here to attend the inauguration ceremonies.

The conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriations bill was agreed to.

Mr. Hale called up the deficiency bill, but Mr. Pettigrew, by demanding that the deficiency bill be read in full, first forced adoption of his resolution directing the military committee to investigate the charges against Lieut. Col. Heistand. Then the deficiency bill was passed with some amendments, including one by Mr. Hansbrough to give employes of congress a month's extra pay. Mr. Hale remarked that no power in heaven or among men men could prevent the adoption of the amendment.

On motion of Mr. Morgan, an appropriation of $75,000 to defray expenses of the isthmian canal commission, in making certain investigations, was stricken from the bill.

Mr. Tillman offered an amendment which was adopted, providing that officers and enlisted men who served in the war with Spain and were discharged after Aug. 12, 1898, shall be allowed an extra month's pay in accordance with a subsequent act of congress.

At the night session of the senate Mr. Chandler called up the resolution heretofore offered by himself declaring that W. A. Clark of Montana had not been duly elected to the senate. In his speech Mr. Chandler quoted from an address made by Mr. Clark in Montana last January, in which Mr. Chandler was criticised in connection with the senate investigation of Mr. Clark's former election. Mr. Chandler claimed that Mr. Clark's vacation of his seat was a virtual confession of the justice of the decision of the committee. If, he said, Clark had been innocent, he would have remained for the senate's continued inquiry.

"His flight fixed a stigma of criminality upon Mr. Clark which can never be blotted out," Mr. Chandler said.

Mr. Chandler declared that Mr. Clark had spent $1,000,000 in his last election, but said he had followed the plan of corrupting voters before the November election rather than wait for the meeting of the legislature to spend his money. He said the facts could be ascertained if the senate desired to make an investigation. He charged a gross, deliberate and willful violation of the Montana statute requiring that returns should be made of campaign expenditures and that this was sufficient justification for a senatorial investigation.

Mr. Chandler submitted a statement giving in detail his estimate of the expenditures made by Mr. Clark in his various campaigns, placing the aggregate figure at over two millions of dollars.

Mr. Jones of Arkansas presented the credentials of W. A. Clark, which were received and placed on file.

SENSATIONAL DAMAGE SUIT

FOR $15,000 IS BROUGHT AGAINST A FORMER GARY AGENT.

Norman county has a full fledged sensational suit, which will be tried at the next term of the district court, and which may become very troublesome to the defendant before the end is reached. The particulars of the case as told by the Ada Index are as follows:

The papers have been filed in district court by Moen & Matson, as attorneys for Christine Henricks, who resides a few miles from Gary, in which Joe Steele, also Known as Dave Bethel, is made co-respondent to a suit for $15,000 damages. It seems that on the 8th day of January, 1899, Steele, at that time an agent for the Northern Pacific at Gary, was united in marriage to Miss Hendricks, the ceremony being performed at Ada. He then represented himself to be a single man and passed as such among the citizens of Gary, and it was not until nearly a year after the marriage took place that the then Mrs. Steele discovered that he had another wife who went by the name of Bethel, and a separation followed. Since then Mrs. Steele, along with her son, which was born shortly before the separation, have resided with her parents in the eastern part of the county and being in very moderate circumstances has been unable to spend either time or money in an effort to locate Steele, who left Gary for parts unknown. A few days prior to the bringing of this action it was learned that he had returned to the state and was acting as agent for the Great Northern at Bemidji, where the papers were served on him. Steele is said to have property in the south and Miss Hendricks may be able to obtain some redress for the great wrong done her.

PLEADS INNOCENCE.

PAT CROWE WRITES A LETTER TO THE WORLD-HERALD.

Omaha, March 5.—Pat Crowe, one of the alleged abductors of Edward Cudahy, Jr., has written a letter to the World-Herald touching the kidnaping and asserting his innocence. The communication is lengthy and in many respects is a duplicate of the letter written to Cudahy three weeks ago.

Chief of Police Donahue says there is no doubt in his mind as to the genuineness of the letter and of its coming from Crowe. He said to an Associated Press reporter last night that the letter in question tallied with conversations he had had with Crowe some months ago, and of which no one but Crowe had any knowledge and that the language is quite in keeping with Crowe's style of talking and writing.

The letter contains nothing to indicate where its author was when it was written, but it is postmarked "Denison, Ia., March 2."

CUT IT SHORT

The Present Senate Favors a Short Session, Would Adjourn April 15.

RPOVIDE FOR EXTRA SESSION

To Be Held Next Winter In February, If Agreeable and Necessary.

St. Paul, March 6.—The senate has put itself on record as favoring a shortening of the present session and the calling of an extra session next February for consideration of the report of the tax committee. Senator Young called up his resolution heretofore introduced and Senator Ives moved to amend by fixing the time for adjournment at March 26. This was lost. On motion of Senator Young the provision fixing March 26 as the last day for the introduction of bills was stricken out he stating that this would be provided for in a subsequent measure. Senator Knatvold wanted the provision requiring the governor to call an extra session stricken out, but the senate dissented and the resolution was then passed almost unanimously. As finally adopted the resolution reads:

Whereas, the defective condition of our tax laws makes the subject of complete tax revision the most important one demanding legislative attention, and whereas, in accordance with the recommendations of the executive department, this body has deemed it necessary to create a tax commission, to prepare and submit, before Feb. 1, 1902 a complete new tax code for this state adapted to our present needs and conditions, and whereas, as extra session of this legislature will be necessary in order to give prompt legislative consideration to the report of said committee, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the senate, the house of representatives concuring, that in view of the situation and in order that said proposed extra session may be held without expense to the state, the present session be shortened twenty days, and that the date for the final adjournment of this session be and the same is hereby fixed at April 5, 1901, and, resolved further, that we request the governor to convene this legislature in extra session for a period not exceeding twenty days in February, 1902, for the exclusive purpose of considering the tax code prepared by said commission and all other matters pertaining to state taxation that may come before said extra session.

To show that others were in earnest, the senators then proceeded to introduce fourteen new bills, among them an inheritance tax bill by Senator Thompson and a general primary election law by Senator Knatvold, a "pure beer" bill by Senator Daugherty, which provides a penalty for the adulteration or drugging of malt or spirituous liquor, either by the manufacturer or dealer.

The Hurd inspection bill was reported from the illuminating oils committee and at once referred to the finance committee.

Senator Stockton introduced a bill empowering cities and villages to issue bonds for the purpose of parchasing, constructing or enlarging of water works and providing for a board of commissioners to care for and manage the same.

Senator Wilson's school tax bill with a house amendment limiting the extent of the tax of 8 mills came up and the house amendment was concurred in. No bills on the calendar were passed and the senate went into general orders considering Senator Fitzpatrick's "town meeting" bill. Senator Wilson wanted it amended to exclude cities working under special charters and to make it optional rather than compulsory.

Senator Stockwell spoke strongly in favor of the measure and in answer to a question as to whether he desired to have it compulsory, replied: "I certainly do. If I could I would require every legal voter of this state to go to the polls under penalty of six months in the county jail."

Senator Fitzpatrick made a strong plea for his measure, reading numerous letters in its favor, among them letters from Bishops McGolrick and Cotter, Rev. Washington Gladden. Senator Young moved to report indefinite postponement, which was carried. Upon amended the ayes and noes and a roll on the committee rising Fitzpatrick decall adopted the report, 21 to 15.

LOGGERS ARE HAPPY.

Bemidji, Minn., March 5.—The recent warm weather carried away much snow, and the small loggers who had no ice roads were filled with alarm, but all fear of an untimely breaking up of logging operations was removed yesterday. Saturday night a severe blizzard struck this section, bringing sleet and a heavy fall of snow. The wind was the most severe of the winter. The loggers need at least four more weeks of suitable weather to complete their contracts.

A saw mill with a capacity of 3,000,000 feet per year will be established at the new townsite of Hartford, on the Brainerd & Northern railroad extension. Kelso & Co., the promoters, intend to have the plant in operation by April 1.

BURGLARS GALORE

CASS COUNTY, N. D., THE SCENE OF OPERATIONS.

There is an epidemic of burglary along the N. P., in the western part of Cass county, says Tuesday's Fargo Call. A few weeks ago a grocery store was burglarized at Tower City. Last week Wm. Storey's drug store and T. A. Quirk's residence at Buffalo were burglarized and now the enterprise of the cracksmen has gone westward, for last night Tower City was touched up again.

Burglars effected an entrance into H. V. Smith's general merchandise store but were contented with a square meal of fruit and canned goods and several pairs of shoes, underwear and a fur coat. They took with them a cheese knife from this store and wended their way to the drug store of G. C. Ward. There they burst in the door and secured $30 in cash that had been left in the money drawer. They also secured a quantity of razors and fine cutlery, and it is rumored some liquor was also stolen.

The opinion is quite general that this is the work of local talent, though it also bears the earmarks somewhat of foreign handiwork. Whoever it is, however, they are cute, as no clue has yet been secured that may lead to their capture.

COMING TO CROOKSTON.

CROOKSTON SOON TO HAVE ANOTHER LEGAL LIGHT.

Blue Earth Post: We learn with regret that Lawyer R. M. Hayes of this city has decided to locate at Crookston, in the northern part of the state. While this move is undoubtedly a good one from a financial point, yet we are sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Hayes from our business and social circles. He is a young man of sterling worth and is now enjoying a good and rapidly increasing business, yet he feels that the opportunities in the rapidly growing northwestern part of the state are more numerous than in this older settled country. Probably he is right, and we have no doubt of his success in his new home. Mrs. Hayes is a native of this section and is a lady of education and refinement. The Post, while regretting to lose this excellent couple from our midst, takes pleasure in recommending them to the legal fraternity and social circles of Crookston, to which they will be decided and valuable acquisitions. May prosperity and happiness be theirs.

IMPORTANT DECISION

U. S. SUPREME COURT IN MINNESOTA CASE.

Washington, March 6.—In the United States supreme court today an opinion was handed down in the case of W. W. Cargill & Co. vs. the state of Minnesota. The case involved the constitutionality of a Minnesota law of 1885, requiring storage elevators and warehouses on railroad lines, but not at terminal stations, to take up licenses and also making other regulations concerning such institutions. The opinion of the court was confined entirely to the one point of the right of the state railroad and warehouse committee to require owners of such warehouses or elevators to take out licenses and it was held that the commission could legitimately execute functions under the constitution. The opinion was delivered by Justice Harlan.

SAME CABINET.

PRESIDENT SENDS NOMINATIONS TO THE SENATE.

Washington, March 6.—The president yesterday sent the following nominations to the senate:

John Hay, of the District of Columbia, to be secretary of state.

Lyman J. Gage, of Illinois, to be secretary of the treasury.

Elihu Root, of New York, to be secretary of war.

John W. Griggs, of New Jersey, to be attorney general.

Chas. Emory Smith, of Pennsylvania, to be postmaster general.

John D. Long, of Massachusetts, to be secretary of the navy.

Ethan A. Hitchcock, of Missouri, to be secretary of the interior.

James Wilson, of Iowa, to be secretary of agriculture.

CARTER HARRISON.

NOMINATED FOR A THIRD TERM BY CHICAGO DEMS.

Chicago, March 6.—Carter H. Harrison was placed in nomination for mayor of Chicago for the third consecutive term by the democratic party convention yesterday. There was no opposition to his renomination at the primaries or in the convention, where the choice was made by acclamation. Former Drainage Commissioner Frank Wenter was chairman of the convention.

A resolution of sympathy for the Boers was adopted together with a plank favoring municipal ownership of all public utilities.

A VICIOUS ATTACK.

Port of Spain, March 5.—Advices received here from Venezuela are to the effect that the press of Caracas, presumably under the direction of the Venezuelan government, is attacking the government. Minister Loomis and President McKinley are chiefly caricatured by the lower Venezuelan press, the former as being the means of the hostile demonstration. A new outbreak has been started near Coro, on the north coast of Venesuela under the leadership of Rodolofo Hernandez.

TRIP TO THE COAST

A Returned Crookstonite Speaks Entertainingly of the Noteworthy Sights Seen.

SPRING RUSH TO GOLD FIELDS

Thousands of Men Awaiting the Departure of the First Steamer From Seattle.

A Crookston citizen, who at one time resided at Seattle and who recently returned from a month's trip to the coast was interviewed by the Journal reporter, as to the conditions of that section of the globe and was told by him many incidents and facts, which may be of interest to our readers.

"When I reached Tacoma," he said, "I met C. P. Cahoon, a former Crookston citizen, who is now looking after the mining interests of Crookston business men, who are operating mines in the McKinley mining district. Cahoon has been wintering at Tacoma, but started for the Porcupine mining district in Alaska last Saturday.

"The influx of speculators and gold seekers into the gold fields out west, is simply beyond comprehension. Nearly every passenger train entering Seattle comes in two or three sections. Seattle is by all means the swiftest city out there, and the hustle and bustle in business circles reminds a person of the rush in the streets of Chicago or New York. Prosperity is evident on all sides on the border cities of the coast. Very little snow has fallen there this winter, and Spokane is really the only place where we noticed the ground partly covered with the fleecy, and fields and lawns at Tacoma are green.

"Thousands of people are lying at Seattle, awaiting the departure of the first steamer for the Cape Nome gold fields, and the stampede for passage on the first boat leaving for Alaska cannot be foretold at this time.

"While at Seattle we saw the big ocean steamer "Ping Yeng" land. The boat was loaded down with merchandise from the Orient. These large boats are not usual to arrive at this season of the year, and a great crowd gathered at the wharf when the "Ping Yeng" landed. All the boats and vessels in the harbor are just now undergoing a thorough overhauling and the necessary repairing, in order to have them ready for use at the opening of navigation next spring. In my opinion the opportunities for capilists and moneyed speculators are greater at the coast than here, but laboring men and limited business concerns, have certainly a better chance in this section than further west.

Reports so far received from the McKinley mines are very flattering, and operations this year will be rushed with considerable more activity than last summer. Last season's work at these mines was nearly all given up to preparatory construction, such as building of flumes, erecting saw mills, etc., but this summer active mining will be commenced.

On our trip we passed through the new tunnel in the Cascade mountains. This underground cutoff on the Northern Pacific railroad is three miles long and distance has a rise of 300 feet between east and west entrance. At first the engineers and firemen piloting trains through this dark hole experienced great difficulty from smoke and cinders, which were forced into the cabs of the locomotives, because of the small space between the smokestacks and the ceiling of the tunnel, and caused almost suffocation. All sorts of remedies were suggested, but none seemed av[illegible] until an inventive genius solved the problem. His invention is a knee for the smokestack, and when the train enters the tunnel, the smoker is turned down and the cause of former inconvenience passes directly over the train without annoying either train hands or passengers.

"Many of my old acquaintances, whom I met ten years ago, and who invested in the Leroy, B. C., mines, have grown immensely rich since. When I came away from Seattle in 1892 shares in these mines could be bought for 5 cents a piece. These same shares now are sold in the London market for $36 each, and some higher. The Republic mines also made many men rich by the opening of the Colwell reservation, three years ago. There are many opportunities out there for making money and getting rich, but it requires a fortune to develop the opportunity.

"At Lewiston, Idaho, I had expected to meet C. H. Sakce, who at one time conducted a jewelry business in this city, but I was disappointed as he had left a few weeks prior for Alaska. Lewiston is rather a pretty locality, and a great fruit section. Thousands of bushels of apples of last year's crop are still ornamenting the trees at this place. They were not picked off simply because there was no market for them. Nice, big and juicy apples, too.

"On my return, I visited a day at Tacoma, and during the afternoon a friend piloted me through the big saw mill at this point. It was intensely interesting to see the huge logs, measuring as much as eight to nine feet in diameter, ripped up into building lumber. The machinery in this mill is worth any man's time to go and see if an opportunity is offered him.

"Well, after all, and despite the fact that I and my friend, who joined me at Moorhead, had a most enjoyable trip, favored by excellent weather, we were both glad when we reached home again."

At this moment the office devil of the Journal called for copy and the reporter was compelled to part from his friend, John R. Rasmussen, the relator of the foregoing narratives.

Subscribe for the Daily Journal.

JESSEX WAS EASY.

THE GRAND FORKS ICE RACE WAS ONE SIDED.

The horsemen of this city and vicinity, says the Grand Forks Herald, who have been looking forward far some time past to the race between East Grand Forks, owned by P. J. Cavanaugh, and Jessex, owned by Al Shaw of Warren, which was pulled off on the ice track yesterday afternoon, were more or less disappointed, as the race was very far from satisfactory.

The first time that the horses got away from the starting point, East Grand Forks behaved very badly and proceeded to run away, and in the mixup his harness and sulky were knocked askew and it took some time before things could be gotten in shape for another start. East Grand Forks was again out of luck, for after getting away for the second time he went in the air and before he could be steadied down his hobbles were broken and went in the air and another wait was necessary before a new set could be secured and properly placed.

On the third attempt the horses got away, but this time Jessex left his feet and when he settled down to good work East Grand Forks had a lead so great that the heat was not at all interesting, and the former went under the wire away in the lead.

The second heat was about the same as the first, and Shaw's horse lost more at thes tart than it was possible to gain later, and the immense crowd that had gathered was forced to leave without even seeing one close heat.

During the two heats that counted, East Grand Forks was on his good behavior and did some very good work, winning easily. Jessex, however, did not show up well as he should have done, or as well as he is capable of doing. 'Te race was not satisfactory, owing to the fact that when one horse was ready, the other was not. The fact remains, however, that East Grand Forks won the two heats of the race with ease and his friends are consequently jubilant. East Grand Forks was sired by Britwood, while the sire of Jessex is Essex of Fargo.

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

A GRAND FORKS TRAVELING MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE.

While alighting from the train from Crookston Friday evening, says the Grand Forks Herald, D. A. Stewart, W. W. Fegan's traveling salesman, was very severely injured. As he boards at the Hotel Northern he attempted to jump from the train at the Fifth street crossing. He succeeded in jumping but his foot struck an icy spot and slipped from under him and he fell to the ground almost under the wheels of the coach. The hub of one of the wheels struck him on the shoulder and he was knocked several feet and badly bruised up. He managed to walk to the hotel, where he was waited upon by Dr. Orr Saunders, who states that the patient will be confined to his room for several days, but that he does not apprehend serious results. One of his hips is badly bruised, as is the shoulder that was struck by the car. Several people who witnessed the accident were fearful when they saw Mr. Stewart that he would be mangler by the cars, and it is very fortunate for him that he was not more seriously hurt than proved to be the case.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

ELEVATOR MANAGER HAS VERY CLOSE CALL.

A special from Fertile to the Journal Thursday states that J. A. Gregorson, manager of the Thorpe Elevator Company at that place had a narrow escape from having his head blown off, and besides being burned to a crisp yesterday. While filling the gasoline tank, which feeds the engine in the elevator, the gasoline in some unknown manner became ignited and a terrific explosion immediately followed.

The tank was badly shattered and Gregson's clothes were saturated with the burning oil and caught fire, and in less time than it takes to tell it, he was enveloped in a sheet of flames. Fortunately a snow pile was handy, and by great presence of mind, he threw himself into it and rolled himself until the fire was extinguished, but not before he had received several burns about the hands and face.

This is the second time Gregorson has met with a gasoline explosion, and his friends congratulate him for getting off as easy as he did this time.

WANTE $6,000.

STAPLES GIRL SUES NORTHERN PACIFIC FOR BIG SUM.

P. V. Coppernoll, a Wadena attorney, has commenced an action in the district court at Wadena, says the Bismarck Tribune, to recover $6,000 damages from the Northern Pacific railroad company. The plaintiff in the case is Mrs. Lucy B. Carey, of Staples, who appears for the benefit of her minor daughter, Mary, aged 15 years. On the 8th day of last November Mary Carey was crossing the N. P. track at Staples when she was struck a very severe blow on the head with a plank in the hands of some employes of the road. As a result of the accident the girl lost the hearing of one of her ears.

SCRIBES ELECT.

MINNESOTA EDITORS CHOOSE NEW OFFICERS.

Friday afternoon the State Editoral association elected officers, as follows:

President, W. J. Munro, Morris Sun; first vice president, A. W. McKinstry, Faribault; second vice president, H. C. Miller, St. Peter; third vice president, N. S. Gordon, Crookston; secretary, Charles P. Stine, St. Paul treasurer, David Ramaley, St. Paul; executive committee, C. S. Whitney, Mr. Stine and H. P. Hall.

The program of papers was completed this afternoon by one on "City vs. Country Journalism," by A. M. Welles of the Redwood Falls Reveille. His paper was based on experience in both fields.

Subscribe for the Daily Journal.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Opposition to the Plan is Effectively Knocked to Pieces and Sub Comittee Idea Goes

THE COMBINE HAD 22 VOTES

While Only Six Could be Mustered Against it in the Committee Meeting.

The question of congressional reapportionment may be considered as settled. The joint committee Thursday afternoon decided on the plan of the sub-committee. This will be drawn in the shape of a bill and presented to both houses as a committee bill, going directly to general orders.

The plan of division is reprinted herewith:

First District—Dodge, Fillmore, Freeborn, Houston, Mower, Olmsted, Steele, Wabasha, Winona.

Second—Blue Earth, Brown, Cottonwood, Jackson, Martin, Murray, Faribault, Nobles, Pipestone, Rock, Waseca, Watonwan.

Third—Carver, Dakota, Goodhue, Le Seuer, McLeod, Nicollet, Rice, Scott, Sibley.

Fourth—Ramsey, Chisago, Washington.

Fifth—Hennepin.

Sixth—Benton, Cass, Crow Wing, Douglas, Hubbard, Meeker, Morrison, Sherburne, Stearns, Todd, Wadena, Wright.

Seventh—Big Stone, Chippawa, Lac qui Parle, Lincoln, Lyon, Pope, Redwood, Renville, Stevens, Swift, Traverse, Yellow Medicine.

Eighth—Aithen, Anoka, Carlton, Cook, Isanti, Itasca, Kanabec, Lake, Mille Lacs, Pine, St. Louis.

Ninth—Becker, Beltrami, Clay, Kittson, Marshall, Roseau, Wilkin.

With a few exceptions, opponents of this plan have given up the fight. The Daugherty-Ferris-Jones combination was a winner from the start. It had enlisted the support of nearly every element in the party outside of Hennepin county, which was as usual coolly given the go-by. There was no positive opposition to the joint committee yesterday, except from the Hennepin men and from Larson of Redwood. While these men promise to carry the fight to the floor of the house and the senate, it is not likely that they can do anything more than consume time. All other opponents of the plan have thrown up their hands.

HELD MASS MEETING.

POLK COUNTY FARMERS DISCUSSING A GRANGE.

At least two hundred of Polk county's most prominent farmers met at the court house Saturday for the purpose of discussing the formation of a farmers' grange. The benefits of such and organization have long been known to the agriculturists of Polk county, but it remained for a few of them to take up the matter and bring it to maturalization.

The meeting was the result of this effort. County Commissioners Fortier and Eastman, who are both in attendance, were largely instrumental in bringing about the gathering. Interesting discussions on the results to be derived from a grange were delivered by some of the speakers, and the advantages of such an organization, in buying and selling the products of their labor were forcibly illustrated.

A permanent organization was recommended, and the next meeting, to complete the grange, will be held in the near future.

One of the principal features that came up for discussion was the establishment of a regular public market, where farmers can sell their products for cash, and not be compelled to dispose of them in trade. This movement was generally approved by the assembly, and met with considerable enthusiasm.

Ex-County Attorney Holston addressed the meeting on the subject of farming "under the incorporation plan." This idea is rather a new one, and is being made the subject of general discussion.

PETE TOOK A SHOT.

Walter Fee, foreman on the McKinnon farm, several miles northwest of this city, came to town Saturday, a very excited and much bewildered man. Upon his arrival here, he straightway went to police headquarters and caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Peter Heidrich, a young German who is employed on the farm.

The complaint preferred by Mr. Fee charges Heidrich with attempted murder, and promises a serious affair for the defendant. This afternoon the two men got into a wrangle on the farm about some trivial matter, and before Fee could say jack rabbit, Heidrich, the plaintiff says, grabbed a shot gun and blazed away at him.

Fortunately the shot went amiss, and Fee came to the city to make the complaint as above stated. The shootist was soon caught and is now in durance vile in the city jail, awaiting arraignment for attempted murder. His hearing will probably occur Monday.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature on each box. 25c.

Shelled Corn, Oats, Ground Feed, Bran and Shorts, Pillsbury's Best Flour, Baled Hay, Lignite Coal and Wood of all kinds--Car lots only. For prices, delivered anywhere. Address
L. B. GIBBS, GRAND FORKS, N. D.

SAD RESULTS OF DRIMK.

A WIFE AND FOUR CHILDREN ARE LEFT FATHERLESS.

Last Thursday morning Michael Anderson died suddenly at his home at Audubon, says a correspondent to the Detroit Record. The facts connected with his death are at once pitiful and disgraceful. The night preceding his death he was taken home between 11 and 12 o'clock, so drunk that he was unable to sit up. While he was under the influence of the liquor and before he was taken home, one side of his beard and mustache was shaven off by some one, who perhaps thought they were having some "fun" and getting a good joke on Mike, as he was commonly called. It would seem as though it was sad enough for the family to have the husband and father brought home in an intoxicated condition without having his face disfigured but evidently we have gentlemen(?), whether young or old, in our town who have very little true manhood about them or they would not lower themselves enough to misuse even a drunken man. But if they had no respect for the man himself they ought at least to have had some sympathy for the poor wife and not add to the trial of her whose life seems to have been one of sorrow. After being taken home the man was left lying on the floor and in the morning his wife became alarmed at his condition and went for one of the neighbors. Dr. Halvorson was called in and he said the man had been dead several hours.

Coronor Weeks was sent for but when he came it was decided that an inquest was unnecessary, but it seems strange that such a decision was made as, without examination, there is nothing to show the cause of the man's death—whether it came by fair means or foul. Perhaps the reason it is left so is because there are those interested who would object to being brought before the public in connection with such a case, but to any citizen of the town it ought surely to appear that an investigation of matters was necessary as it is stated that at 10 o'clock in the evening the man was sober, or nearly so. The deceased leaves a wife and four small children.

After such things as this occurring in our village there are still those who will cry out, "O, our town could not exist and prosper without the aid of saloons." But shame on such theory. Let us all arise in our manhood and womanhood and use every effort to rid our town of such a curse as the saloon. This should certainly be a lesson to all, both old and young.

FRAUD UNCOVERED.

WALTER C. PHIPPS HELD FOR WRONG LAND ENTRIES.

Walker, Minn., March 5.—The hearing of the perjury case against Walter C. Phipps was held before James G. McGarry, United States commissioner and the defendant was bound over to the next term of the United States district court at Duluth. The examination was conducted by J. M. Dickey, assistant United States attorney, the witnesses being Sylvester Peterson, register of the Crookston land office, and W. E. Culkin, register of the Duluth office. Phipps made two homestead entries, and the charge is that in making the second he swore he had made none before. The evidence brought out officially that the people of northern Minnesota have long known that gross frauds have been perpetrated by the lumber companies in getting hold of pine timber on United States lands by having their straw men" make entries and then sell the plae to the lumber companies.

Phipps testified that he never saw the lands on which he made the entries. The lumber companies made out the papers and he signed them. He got $200 for the first deal and $125 for the second.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED.

GEORGE AND PETERSON KINDLY REMEMBERED.

Just before adjourning the senate at Washing last Saturday afternoon, the names of August F. George and Sylvester Peterson, as receiver and register of the Crookston land office, respectively, came up for confirmation, and without a dissenting vote the two persons were auhorized to dictate the destinies of Uncle Sam's real estate bureau at this point for four more years.

This is only a just reward for faithful service in the past, and no one will attempt to dispute that the business affairs of the land office in this city have ever been conducted more conscientiously, or that the re-appointment could have fallen to more competent or capable men. Both officers have made an enviable record during the last administration, and they will no doubt maintain their record of dutiful servans in the future.

GOLD FEVER.

EXCITEMENT CONTINUES IN THE BLACKDUCK REGION.

Blackduck, Minn., March 2.—Excitement has been occasioned in this vicinity by the discovery of gold in a cut in the new railroad line at the new location of the village of Tenstrike, half way between Bemidji and Blackduck. While blasting, the attention of the foreman was attracted to the peculiarity of the rocks which, upon examination, were declared to be excellent specimens of gold. It is stated that nearly four ounces of gold were obtained by several men in one evening as a result of a crude process of washing. Samples have already been sent to the state department for analysis. There is talk of a company being organized far the purpose of developing the find if it is found to amount to anything.

BELTRAMI AND CASS.

A special meeting of the senate judiciary committee was held Thursday afternoon to consider bills for the relief of Beltrami and Cass counties. A number of leading citizens of Beltrami county, headed by P. H. McGarry, outlined the dilemma of their county and suggested methods of getting out. B. F. Nelson and several big lumbermen of Minneapolis were on hand to protect the interests of lumbermen.

NEW XPERIMENT.

TO ENCOURAGE DIVERSIFIED FARMING IN THE VALLEY.

A Journal reporter Friday interviewed ex-County Attorney Holston, of the law firm of Holston & Hagen, in reference to the company which they propose to organize and incorporate for the purpose of carrying on diversified farming, stock raising, dairying, etc. Referring to the matter Mr. Holston said:

"Our plan is to incorporate a company under the laws of the state with a capital of say $200,000, divided into shares of $100 each, shares to be non-assessable. As soon as enough shares are subscribed for the articles of incorporation will be prepared and filed. A meeting of the stockholders will be called and a board of directors elected. A suitable tract of land will be purchased together with the necessary machinery and live stock, and the business of farming will be begun and carried on in a businesslike manner, the same as the affairs of a bank or other corporation are conducted. This will not interfere with the usual farming operations of the stockholders, who may continue upon their own farm, simply investing their surplus in the stock of the corporation, just as business now invest their surplus in the business of banking or other incorporated business. We claim that the business men ow invest their surplus in more pleasant as well as more profitable for those engaged in agriculture. Persons interested in this matter should call upon or correspond with Holston & Hagen, attorneys, Crookston, Minn., as to further details."

It occurs to the Journal reporter that the plan, while entirely new, is very practical and well worthy of consideration by the farming community and others who would wish to invest or engage in the business of farming.

AUTO STAGE LINE

WILL CARRY PEOPLE BETWEEN GRAFTON AND PARK RIVER.

According to reports North Dakota will start the first automobile stage line to be operated in the northwest. Will Robertson, the leading liveryman of Park River, is in Minneapolis negotiating with local 'mobile agents for the purchase of a first class motor carriage, capable of carrying six or eight persons. He will run between Park River and Grafton, the latter city being the county seat of Walsh county.

There is a great deal of travel between Park River and the county seat, and as there is no direct railroad, and the only route by rail is by way of Grand Forks, making the trip one hundred miles long, most of the travel is done by teams. Mr. Robertson runs an extensive livery business and derives much profit from the Grafton travel, but as the roads are fine, and the country perfectly level, he has concluded that the automobile is the cheapest and quickest means of transportation for the trip.

He will be able to make the journey with a good motor vehicle in less than an hour, and if the plan succeeds as he expects it to, it will doubtless lead to the installation of many more such stage lines throughout the level prairie country.

MINE ACCIDENT.

FIVE MEN KILLED NEAR JOPLIN, MISSOURI.

Joplin, Mo., March 5.—Five men were killed and two seriously injured in a mine accident at the Engleside Zinc mine in Center Valley, eight miles east of Joplin, yesterday. The seven men were in the ground cutting dirt from the main shaft. The five men killed were confined in the drift and the two others were in the main shaft. Early this morning two shots had been fired, but the whole charge failed to explode. This afternoon a whole box of powder was sent down into the mine. One of the men accidentally discharged an unexploded shot and the box of powder was set off, resulting in terrible destruction. A man at the surface entrance of the mine was thrown thirty feet in the air. Center Valley is an isolated place and details are not yet attainable.

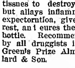
COLUMBIA HOTEL.

SEVERAL DEALS ARE ON TO REOPEN THE HOUSE.

The Journal is reliably informed that negotiations are pending between Mr. Clements, the owner of the Columbia hotel on Roberts street, and an eastern party, for the transfer of the property. If the party in question succeeds to the ownership of the house and the ground it stands on, he will at once remove the frame structure and begin the erection of a fine three story brick building for hotel purposes.

Another party is in the city who is desirous of leasing the present building and re-opening it at once as a hostelry. At any rate, the re-opening of the hotel seems assured.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?
A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in alll civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac. F. H. Hillard & Son.



Bought the first bottle of
DR. ARNOLD'S
COUGH KILLER
in 1878. Have used it ever since when in need of a Cough Remedy.
F. M. SMITH,
Shelbyville, Ill.
Box 296.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS

ATTORNEYS

Miller & Foote,
Attorneys at Law,
Offices, corner Broadway and Robert streets
Crookston, Minn.

H. Steenerson,
Attorney at Law,
Office in Opera Block Crookston, Minn

R. J. Montague,
Attorney at Law,
Room 3
Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn.

James H. aybury,
Attorney and Counselor at Law.
Special Attention to
Business Correspondence,
Land Contest Cases,
Mortgage Foreclosures,
Collections,
Probate Matters.
Room 18 Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

PHYSICIANS

A. A. Just M. D.
Homeopathic and Surgeon cian
Office in McKinnon Block Crookston, Minn

Dr. C. E. Dampier,
Surgeon Great Northern Railroad.
Surgeon Northern Pacific Railroad.
Secretary Board Pension Examiners.
Office, Fournet Block. Crookston, Minn

DR. THOS. SPENCE,
Dentist.
Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

Dr. J. F. BOLES Dentist,
Dental Parlors in the
PEAKE BLOCK.
Crookston, Minn.

CHRISTIANSON & STRANDER
Real Estate, Loans,
Insurance........
Official Abstracters of Title for Polk County.
CROOKSTON MINN.

Make Your Horse Glad
With a new blanket
M. Rauenbuehler
Has them; also Whips, Dusters and all harness and buggy supplies. Harness made to order. Repairing while you wait
105 W. Third St.

A. M. Sivertson
Dealer in Lumber, Shingles Lath, Lime, Cement
All kinds of building material.
We want your business and can please you.
109 S. Broadway.

Stevens
Ideal Rifle.
No. 44.

Price Only $10.00.

Made in all the standard calibers both Rim and Center Fire. Weight about 7 pounds. Standard barrel for rim fire cartridges, 24 inches. For center-fire cartridges, 26 inches.

If these rifles are not carried in stock by your dealer, send price and we will send it to you express prepaid.

Send stamp for catalog describing complete line and containing valuable information to shooters.

THE J. STEVENS ARMS AND TOOL CO.
P. O. Box 2327 CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

A BLANK MIND.

CURIOUS ACTIONS OF A MILWAUKEE MAN.

Milwaukee, March 5.—The mind of Chas. H. Hoff, a teamster of this city, has been totally blank for the past three weeks. He disapeared Feb. 8. Two days ago he found himself in Appleton, Wis., where he was at work with a team hauling logs. Hoff asked his employer how long he had been in Appleton and he was told a week. He had drawn some of his pay, but had two days' wages still coming. This he drew at once and immediately returned to his family in this city. Those who know Hoff well do not believe he would desert his family intentionally. The case is one of the most mysterious on record.

STOPS THE COUGH AND WORKS OFF THE COLD.
Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

WAS SPECTACULAR

The Inauguration of President McKinley and Vice-President Roosevelt Yesterday.

PAGEANT IS MOST BRILLIANT

The Parade Admirably Handled and One of the Largest in History of the Land.

Washington, March 5.—Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, was inducted into the presidential office yesterday, being the eighth president of the United States thus honored with a second consecutive term. Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, became vice president of the United States.

At 3 a. m. a drizzling rain was falling and at sunrise the clouds hung so thickly that the sun was scarcely visible. But about 8 o'clock the clouds began to break, and in an hour broad beams of sunlight swept the avenue. The weather promised to redeem the pledge of the weather bureau that the day should be a glorious one.

The weather took a change for the worse before noon. The skies became overcast and before one o'clock a light rain was falling. While the president was speaking the rain almost entirely ceased, though thousands of umbrellas were still held aloft.

The parade that followed President McKinley on his return from the capitol to the White House, and passed in review there before him, was marked by the predominance of the military. The civil contingent was quite up to the average in point of numbers, yet the men in uniform outnumbered the civilians more than three to one. In the ranks of blue were many soldiers who had carried the country's flag far out into the world. With these younger veterans, and in the place of honor as the president's escort, marched soldiers of the civil war, gray haired and halting. At their head marched the Rough Rider band.

For the first time in a quarter of a century, the president rode from the White House to the capitol without a successor beside him in his carriage. Grant was the last of the presidents that occupied a similar position. In President McKinley's carriage were members of the committee chosen by congress to take charge of the inauguration, headed by Senator Hanna.

The nations of the world paid their tribute to the president in attendance at the ceremonies at the capitol and in reviewing the parade.

The American navy was represented more largely than ever before. Half a dozen warships, more than have assembled in the Potomac since the days of the civil war, contributed through their sailors and marines one of the most unique and enjoyable features of the ceremony, marching over 10000 in the streets. Down on the water front lay moored the famous old flagship, Hartford, and at the navy yard floated the double turreted monitor, Puritan, symbolic of later day warfare. Further down the Potomac lay other vessels, unable to get up the river to Washington. Preparations for holding back the crowd from the line of march along the avenue had been going on for several weeks in the sinking of heavy iron sockets in the sidewalk at short intervals all along Pennsylvania avenue. Early in the morning a gang of workmen started from the foot of the capitol with a wagon load of heavy iron posts and big reels of wire cable with which they made a temporary fence.

The prices of window seats on the line of march reached an almost fabulous rate. It is reported that one very wealthy senator paid $500 for a single room for the day in a hotel near Pennsylvania avenue and Fifteenth street, while ordinary second story windows had been regularly held at from $25 to $50, and single chairs in store windows from $5 up.

Soon after 10 o'clock the street cars were stopped, the scattering groups of soldiers along the curb lined up company front, waiting to take their places.

The splendid avenue never looked in better condition for a great parade. The entire length of the route, lined with human faces, was a sea of color. The national colors were everywhere. The householders along the line of march had avoided cheap decorations and gave the preference to the red, white and blue at all points.

Washington, March 5.— President McKinley at 1:17 yesterday was sworn in on a handsomely decorated stand at the east front of the capitol, in the presence of a surging multitude. This vast central plaza was an expanse of humanity, cut here and there by narrow defiles for the uniformed marchers. Massed half way back were the mounted officers of the military escort and the staff. Off to the left, fronting the senate, troop A, the president's crack organization, sat motionless on their black chargers. Fronting the south wing was the citizens' committee, their horses champing and restless amid the pushing thousands. Back of the glittering front of marshals, generals, aides, with their moving plumes and banners, surged the multitude.

Quite as many women were in the throng as men. Over toward the congressional library the people were banked tier on tier on the marble steps. Far over to the left stretched the military escort, horse, foot and artillery, and to the right the state troops, division after division awaiting the signal to move. It is estimated that 40,000 people were packed in this assemblage. But, despite the crush, no word came of fainting women or serious accident.

Jutting out from the capitol steps and sweeping across the front were acres of seats, hundreds deep, and accommodating 5,000 guests. Off to the right on the high portico of the senate wing were more seats, crowded with the distinguished guests of that body. To the left on the house portico, Speaker Henderson's family and friends mingled with house leaders. Every projecting ledge had been utilized for a stand. Even the capitol roofs were alive with occupants mounting the balustrades and scaling the flagpoles.

Just beneath the Goddess of Liberty, there hung out huge flags to the north, south, east and west. The big dome was surrounded with flags, and farther down mammoth flags hung from between the pillared front of the main portico.

The huge stand had a front of solid color, flag on flag. And amidst this riot of color and of surging humanity rose the central feature of the decorative scheme, the pavilion sheltering the president and the distinguished assemblage about him. It was a Grecian outline with corinthian pillars and low arched roof. The glass windows provided against storm had been removed. From the front of the pavilion blazed the national arms. Just opposite, on a raised platform, half a thousand cameras were trained on the presidential pavilion.

Just before 1 o'clock a drizzling sleet with hail began to fall, and over the sea of heads went up countless umbrellas, some of them of fantastic color and patriotic hue. The crowd held its ground unmindful of the lowering sky and stinging hail.

It was just 1 o'clock when the official party came through the main doorway of the capitol. As President McKinley stepped out upon the portico a great cheer went up, which was echoed and re-echoed until the huge stand fairly trembled with the volume of sound. The president bowed his acknowledgments. With him was Chief Justice Fuller, prepared to administer the oath.

Through the lines of senators and officials, all standing, the president proceeded to the central pavilion, going forward to the railing and facing the assemblage. Then he turned and shook hands with Vice President Roosevelt.

The president and the chief justice advanced to the center of the pavilion. The president removed his hat and then he raised his right hand. In the intense stillness faintly could be heard the solemn words of the chief justice, and the measured response of the president taking the oath to maintain inviolate the constitution and laws of the United States. He spoke in strong voice easily heard by those near the front of the stand.

He turned again to the people, and advancing to the rail of the pavilion began his inaugural address. He spoke in rather low tones at first, gradually growing more distinct until he was heard by all those on the stands and most of those in the front rank of the crowd. He kept his hat off while he spoke. Occasionally he used gestures to emphasize some salient point of his address.

As the president spoke the pent-up clouds gave out their full force and pelting rain came down in sheets. Under his pavilion the president was well protected.

As he raised his voice in a resounding phrase for "free Cuba," there was a mighty shout of approval and frequently he paused to allow some well turned sentence to receive its tribute of approval.

CUBANS UNEASY

NOT SATISFIED WITH ACTION OF THE SENATE.

Havana, March 2.—Senor Capote, president of the Cuban constitutional convention, called on Gov. Gen. Wood yesterday and informed him that the convention felt itself in an embarrassing position owing to the vote in the United States senate.

He said the delegates had not decided whether to continue the sessions or to dissolve.

Gen. Wood advised him to urge the convention not to take any rash action, but to complete its work as originally outlined, drawing up the electoral law.

This afternoon the delegates held an informal meeting and after some discussion agreed to wait until congress had acted upon the Cuban amendment.

The full text of the amendment was received by Gen. Wood Tuesday night and was given the following morning to Senor Tamayo, the chairman of the relations committee.

Senor Tamayo said at the time that the committee had reached its conclusions, but he was urged to withhold an announcement of those conclusions until the proposed amendment had been considered in order to avoid the possibility of radical changes of opposition if the amendment should be adopted.

The convention insisted upon announcing its views publicly and immediately before passing them to Gen. Wood.

The conservative element feels that this act, coupled with the convention's ignoring of the executive department at Washington has placed the Cubans in an inenviable light.

IT DID GO THROUGH.

SENATOR NELSON'S GOOD WORK WITH THE MEASURE.

Washington, March 2.—The serenity of yesterday's proceedings in the senate was in sharp contrast with the tempestuous discussion of Wednesday. An immense amount of business was disposed of and not a single point raised was sharply controverted.

The river and harbor bill carrying appropriations of more than $50,000,000 was passed without a word of discussion and the senate adopted the conference report on the war revenue reduction measure without disturbing in the least the mill pond smoothness of the proceedings.

The house cleared the decks yesterday of a number of important conference reports without much difficulty. The conference report on the war revenue reduction bill proved generally acceptable to both sides and was adopted without division.

Final reports on the diplomatic and consular and agricultural appropriation bills were passed.

Senator Nelson did a neat job in guiding the river and harbor bill. It was not a particularly difficult task, as both sides were eager for it to pass, but his watchful eye kept the way smooth. Mr. Nelson will be chairman of the conference committee, and thus will be able to look after the interests of the northwest.

ANTI-VICE CRUSADE.

ITS EFFECT DISCUSSED BY BISHOP POTTER.

New York, March 1.—Bishop Potter, who has returned from a visit to Jekyl Island, Georgia, discussed briefly the most recent developments in the anti-vice crusade inaugurated by him. He said that the awakening of public sentiment in New York had produced a stimulating effect all over the country and that good people are everywhere aroused to a sense of their responsibility.

"This movement differs from any other that we have seen," said the bishop. "The institution of religion, of education and of social reform, are all united in the work. One of the most hopeful signs is that the men of the labor unions are interested and have their representatives on the committee of fifteen.

"Every previous effort at reform has been attempted by a minority—not a political, but a social minority. Social lines have been broken in the present instance and among all classes there is a growing desire for better things.

"There can be no doubt of the strength of the sentiment that has been created in favor of radical reforms in our city. What is needed now for the coming campaign is the unification of all the forces that are in favor of good government. Everybody opposed to the present system should labor to this end, and then there can be no failure."

THE NEW FIRM.

CROOKSTON ABSTRACTERS ARE HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

Plaindealer:—H. J. Stair and C. O. Stiberg of this city, returned last evening from Crookston, where they have been for the past few days. It is understood that they have made application and have been accepted as abstractors. Their bonds have been approved by the county commissioners and they will soon be established in business.

As is well known Mr. Stair has been in the abstract business in this county for the past seven years and Mr. Stiberg has been in the register of deeds' office for about the same length of time. The two are fully qualified in every respect and the people of Crookston are to be congratulated that they are to welcome a firm composed of two men who are so highly esteemed here.

Herald:—Messrs. Stair and Stiberg are both very well known in this city where they have resided for many years. For the past seven years Mr. Stair has been engaged in the abstract business in this county where he has the highest esteem of all who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

Mr. Stiberg has occupied a position in the office of the register of deeds and is particularly well fitted to continue along the line of abstracting. Both gentlemen are particularly well acquainted with all the details of the abstracting business and their future success can be looked upon as assured. Their many friends in this city trust that the greatest prosperity and success will attend their new departure.

CASS COUNTY ALSO.

THE BELTRAMI COUNTY DIVISION AFFECTS CASS TAXES.

The judiciary committees of the house and senate Thursday held a joint session to hear representatives of the state bar association on the advisability of a revision of the statutes. In view of the coming revision of the tax laws statute revision may not be undertaken this winter. The hearing before the senate judiciary committee on the Beltrami county bill was postponed until tomorrow at 3 p. m. William Feltus, an attorney of Walker, and P. H. McGarry, the Walker hotel man, are in St. Paul. They say that the people of Cass county do not understand the effect of the Beltrami county decision. Cass county is under the same law limited to a tax levy of $20,000 for all purposes. The levy last year was over $57,000, and this is made invalid by Judge McClenahan's decision. An attempt will be made to have the situation explained in Cass county so that an expression of sentiment may be had. Mr. Feltus says Cass county must have some remedy for the condition that threatens it. Representatives of T. B. Walker will appear at the hearing tomorrow.

BIG LAND SALE.

GREAT NORTHERN AGENCY CLOSES A BIG DEAL.

Before breakfast Thursday Geo. Purvis and his corps of real estate hustlers, had sold 4,000 acres of the Great Northern railway company's lands, situated in Polk county, just west of Beltrami. The purchasers of this block of northern Minnesota dirt are Iowa people, who will remove here in the spring and open up farms.

Bob. Purvis left on the morning train for Argyle, where he closed a deal for the transfer of 17,000 acres to the Central Land Co., of St. Paul. In conversation with a Journal representative, Mr. Purvis stated that the great rush for Great Northern lands during the last few days, was the result of a proposed advance of $1 per acre on all of the company's real estate in this section.

BIG POWWOW

INDIANS SHOW POOR JUDGMENT AT THIEF RIVER FALLS.

Thief River Press: The chiefs are all assembled at the Agency and are talking opening of the reservation. The council has been in progress over a week and the sentiment is reported unanimous. The land at the west end of the reservation is offered for $2.50 an acre but there sems to be a disposition upon the part of the reds to sell everything between Thief River Falls and the outlet at one time. This would involve over ten more townships than previously spoken of in the opening agitation and would raise the gross price from $600,000 to nearly $1,200,000. With the Indians in this temper it is hard to see why some sort of an arrangement cannot be effected.

CASS LAKE SCHOOL

The Town Suddenly Discovers a Serious Shortage in Educational Matters.

WILL REORGANIZE A DISTRICT

And Petition to County Commissioners for Proposed District Already Prepared.

Cass Lake, March 5.—The question as to whether Cass Lake will have any public schools after the close of the present winter term is agitating our citizens to a considerable extent. It had been presumed, up to a short time ago, that Cass Lake was included in school district No. 1, which includes the whole of the county. The attorney general rendered a decision a few days ago stating that Cass Lake was not in the district, and was not therefore entitled to any assistance from the organized district, nor had the county any right to levy taxes on the citizens here for school purposes.

The school board had been supplying teachers and conducting schools here, but as soon as the decision of the attorney general was rendered the board, finding that they had no authority to act in the matter, decided to discontinue the schools after the winter term had been completed. The citizens of Cass Lake have held a meeting and unanimously decided to organize an independent school district, containing the platted portion of the village of Cass Lake. A petition to the county commissioners to create the proposed district has been prepared and is being numerously signed. This petition will be presented to the county board at its next regular meeting. In order to raise the necessary funds for the erection of a suitable school building, it is proposed to borrow a sufficient sum from the state, and to provide for the payment of teachers, a janitor, etc., it is suggested to take the necessary amount from the liquor license money of the village. The proposed arrangements will undoubtedly be carried through, and Cass Lake will have a new school house and an efficient corps of teachers in ample time for the opening of the fall term next August.

TANS DEER SKIN.

GAME COMMISSIONER MAKES AN IMPORTANT CAPTURE.

St. Paul, March 4.—Executive Agent Fullerton, of the game and fish commission returned yesterday from Itasca county, where he arrested Dell Lindea for violating the game laws. Linden has probably operated on a more extensive scale than any other man in the state. The capture is the most important in years.

Linden had a well established tannery in the woods at Grave lake, about thirty miles from Grand Rapids, and has been engaged in the slaughter of deer and moose for at least two years. When arrested he had in his possession at the tannery 137 deer skins, 14 moose hides and 19 sacks of hair which he has collected from other skins that he had tanned. All of these were confiscated.

He is accused of employing half a dozen assistants and, Mr. Fullerton believes, has been destroying more than 200 animals every year. He sold the carcasses at nearby lumber camps, and he has been manufacturing moccasins and fur mittens.

He was taken before a justice of the peace and tried on the charge of having a deer skin in his possession. He was given the maximum fine of $100 and costs. A logging contractor named Milan, who, it is supposed, has been purchasing his meat from Linden, was arrested and tried in Grand Rapids yesterday. He was fined $65.

MINE WRECKED

THREE MEN ARE DEAD AND MANY INJURED

Pheonix, Idaho, March 2.—An explosion last night at mine No. 5, one mile northeast of this city, which resulted in the death of three men and the probable injury of many more. The dead are: Steve De Lucas, Bristo Barto, W. B. Welch.

All three men were shot firers, and had just gone into the mine to work when the explosion occurred. It is supposed that the pit was overcharged with gas.

A rescuing party is working heroically to reach the dead men, but as the force of the shock resulted in great damage to the mine, slow progress is made.

The mine is the property of the Osage Coal & Mining Company, and is controlled by the Missouri Pacific Co.

GEORGE AND PETERSON.

Washington, March 1.—The president nominated Aug. F. George receiver of public moneys at Crookston, Minn., and Sylvester Peterson register of the land office at Crokston.

The above telegraphic item confirms the wish of almost every republican in the Crookston land district, and voices the sentiment of everybody who has had dealings at the land office during the past four years. It is a just recognition of faithful services rendered the government during their former term of office.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

THEY TAPPED TILLS.

RED LAKE FALLS LADS GET INTO TROUBLE.

Several weeks ago, J. P. Harren, the shoe merchant of Red Lake Falls, discovered that a $5 bill had mysteriously disapeared from his till, but he was unable to account for in what manner. A few days later J. M. Allard's till was touched, and eight or ten dollars disappeared in the same mysterious way as in Harren's case, and among the amount taken was a new five dollar silver certificate. Learning of this clue Mr. Harren decided to turn detective for a while, and he was soon rewarded for his efforts as a sleuth. He found that three young boys had presented the bill at a small confectionery in payment of a few trivial articles. He took the case before the boys' parents, and after a sweatbox ordeal the youngsters confessed their crime and restitution was made by the parents.

The names of the youthful light-fingered quartette are Philip Thanke, aged 13, Robert Manely, 14, Albert Gervais, 15, and "Dusty" Miller, 19, and upon learning of the facts in the case, Allard swore out warrants for the arrest of all four. They were arraigned before Justice Toupin yesterday afternoon. The three first named plead guilty and were sentenced to pay costs and serve 90 days in jail. Upon payment of the costs, however, the jail sentence was suspended during good behavior in future. Miller concluded to stand trial, and although the general opinion prevails that he is more culpable than any of the others of his associates, and that he really lead them into committing the pilfering, there is no direct evidence against him and he may escape punishment.

The plan of operation, as told by the boys, was to have one of the gang occupy the attention of the proprietor in the rear of his place of business, another one would stand guard in front of the store, and the other two did the business.

GOT A SHAKING UP.

GRAND FORKS WRONG DOERS IN THE TOILS.

There has been rather a merry time in Judge Sullivan's court in East Grand Forks a couple of days lately. The matters being investigated were a couple of robberies that it was alleged occurred in John Kittleson's saloon, one night last fall and the other a week ago Saturday.

The victim of the last robbery was Louis Wautz of Grafton, who claimed to have lost an overcoat, a watch and $35 in cash.

The investigation of the last robbery lead to the arrest in the first deal. The first clew as to the guilty parties in the Wautz robbery was discovered by Officer Lowe of the Forks, when he arrested Peter and Gus Hendrickson while they were attempting to pawn a watch on his side of the river. The watch was the one taken from Wautz and the other arrests followed. After the preliminary examination Thursday Louis Baker, a bar tender at Kittleson's, and Kittleson himself were discharged, but a woman who had been mixed up with Baker was bound over to the district court.

Afterwards the woman turned state's evidence, and Kittleson and Baker were re-arrested yesterday. The woman told a story that implicated Baker in the Wautz robbery, and he was bound over by Judge Sullivan. The case against Kittleson for being implicated in the affair last fall was continued until the 15th.

State's Attorney W. E. Rowe conducted the examination, and it is understood that in the future cases of the kind will receive more attention than in the past, and that the guilty parties will be brought to justice.

DIVORCE BILL.

SENATOR FORD INTRODUCES A "CLOGGER" BILL.

The divorce factories of Minnesota will find the turbine and other wheels clogged, if Senator Ford's bill becomes a law. The bill not only renders it impossible to secure a divorce "on the quiet," in a case of default or upon admissions in the pleadings, for it requires a hearing before the court in open session, but also imposes other restrictions, which, if the bill is passed, will serve to still further distinguish Minnesota from South Dakota.

The first section of Senator Ford's bill shuts out a large percentage of would be divorces by this provision:

"No divorce shall be granted for any cause arising prior to the residence of complainant or defendant in this state, which was not a ground for divorce in the state where the cause arose."

The third section of the bill will also embarrass and discontent couples and their attorneys, who have hitherto earned fat fees in short order. It reads:

"No person shall be entitled to a divorce for any cause arising in this state unless complainant or defendant shall have resided in this state for at least two years immediately before bringing suit for divorce, with a bona fide intention of making the state his or her permanent home."

Section four of the bill is calculated to prevent a husband or a wife desirous of breaking the matrimonial chain from taking snap judgment in case the other party is absent. In such a case the party beginning suit for divorce must keep up a continuous six months' unsuccessful search for the other party before the court can order the service of a summons by publication.

In order to still further discourage man and wife from escaping their obligations to society, section six of the bill provides that in cases in which either has secured a divorce where the summons has been served by publication, neither shall have the right to remarry until six months after the hearing and decision.

PRISONERS ESCAPE.

St. Cloud, Minn., March 1.—Harry Sullivan of LeSueur county, escaped from the state reformatory last night by crawling through the roof of the engine house, where he was employed as fireman. He is also known as Dalley, and is 22 years old. A companion was eating his midnight lunch only a few feet distant when Sullivan escaped. It is believed he caught a west-bound train. Officials will offer a suitable reward for his capture.

THEY WERE KIDNAPPED.

A NORTH DAKOTA BRIDAL COUPLE THE VICTIMS.

Omaha is no longer the city of kidnapping, for Minneapolis has carried on all such fame as may attach to such enterprises. For a time the operations of the kidnappers were confined to valuable dogs, but now it goes on record that a young married couple have been successfully kidnapped, and in spite of their resistance they were made prisoners in a house in South Minneapolis, where ransom has been demanded.

Wednesday night last L. E. Horton and Elsie Hankiason, both of North Dakota, were married amidst a gathering of friends, and it was a merry occasion. The wedding was quite an event in social circles, and the friends of the young people never thought for a moment but that they had departed safely on their wedding tour when they left the portals of the brilliantly lighted house, followed by the proverbial showers of rice and old shoes.

They did not know that a few hours later the young couple would be siezed upon by masked villians, and thrust into a house in South Minneapolis, far from their destination. But such was the case.

After the ceremony and the usual felicitations, the couple took a carriage at the door and ordered the driver to drive to St. Paul, from which city they intended to depart next day on their wedding trip.

The driver buttoned his coat closely about his throat and whipped up his horses. It was a long ride, and even the young couple on the inside finally noticed that it took a long time to get to St. Paul. Finally the carriage pulled up in front of a small house in South Minneapolis, there was a signal, and masked persons emerged from the darkened porch, seized upon the occupants of the carriage, and in spite of their resistance, all cries were smothered and the two people were hurried into the house, their eyes blindfolded and with terror in their hearts.

The next moment a burst of light came, there was a concerted laugh, and there were a score of friends of the young couple in a brilliantly lightly room, where there were refreshments and flowers and everything right jolly.

It was all a joke, and had been well handled. Ralph Boardman, son of the county attorney, had left the gathering early and had bribed the driver, with whom he exchanged coats. It was Mr. Boardman who was the driver when the couple sprang into the carriage, and he had driven them about Minneapolis at a spanking rate for an hour and finally drew within a block from the place here they had started from, and where others had gathered by a prearranged plan, and the kidnapping was carried out.

They kept the young couple there for two hours, refreshed them back into good nature and finally allowed them to take their carriage with the real driver and go on their way.

An hour and a half later there came a telephone message from St. Paul to the crowd which was still lingering and talking over the joke, and all was forgiven.

"It was a great joke," said the bridegroom. "On the whole, wife says she is glad of it. It will [illegible] ething to talk about all our lives.

IS DOING WELL.

Bish Dorsey, the negro who killed a man named McCabe in a saloon row at East Grand Forks, a little more than a year ago, and who was tried in this city for murder and sentenced by Judge Watts to serve twenty-one years at Stillwater, is making a good record for himself at the prison. Warden Wolfer of the Minnesota state penitentiary, was asked as to how Bish Dorsey was getting along. He recognized the name in a moment and answered: "The party that was sent from this place? He's doing well. He has made an excellent record and is very well liked by all."

BLACK DUCK GOLD

GRAND FORKS PARTIES INTERESTED IN THE FIND.

Several parties in Grand Forks are very much interested in the announcement of gold quartz in the vicinity of Blackduck. A party arrived Thursday from a trip to some land he owns near Blackduck, and says that he has known for some time past that there was valuable gold deposits there, and this fact has been known by a number of the property owners, or rather those who have filed on land. An effort had bee made, however, to keep the matter quiet till after patents had been secured for the land, but it was impossible to do this.

B. D. White of Grand Forks owns 24 acres of land between Blackduck Lake and the route that has been surveyed for the new railroad. As soon as he can close up his feed business here he will leave for Blackduck and have his land platted and start a new town. He says that the present town of Blackduck is situated about two miles from his land, and that it is on the shore of the lake, which he believes will be the site of a good thriving town as soon as the railroad is completed. He says there will be a great rush to the country this spring, and he believes that it will have a great future.

NOT LEGAL.

A GARY GIRL SUES FOR HEAVY DAMAGES.

Gary, Minn., March 5.—Mrs. Steele, formerly Miss Christine Hendricks, has begun a suit in the district court where by J. P. Steele, also known as Dave Bethel, once an employe of the Northern Pacific railroad company at Gary, lately at Bemidji, is made defendant in a suit to recover $15,000 damages. Miss Hendricks was married to him about two years ago. She afterwards discovered that he had another wife living. She has now commenced the suit for the purpose of obtaining some redress for the wrong done her.

E W Grove

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day

Polk County Journal,

BY N. S. GORDON.

☞ Subscription $1.50 per year in advance

Entered at the postoffice at Crookston, Minnesota, as second-class matter.

Representative Cummings of this county Tuesday introduced a bill to amend the general tax laws determining rate of interest on tax judgment and providing for disposition of penalties, interests and costs.

The United States will spend more for its army and navy, including the payment of pensions, during the next fiscal year than will be spent by either of the great military nations of Europe. In round figures our military expenses for the year will be $400,000,000. No wonder thoughtful men are beginning to wonder where this thing will stop.

On the question of Cuba's future relations with the United States the editor of the Review of Reviews holds that much more time is required than the advocates of the extra session of congress have allowed for—that, in short, congressional action will not be demanded for many months to come. In Dr. Shaw's opinion it would be a mistake to try to set up the new Cuban government before 1903.

The annual township elections will be held on March 12, remarks the Warren Sheaf. Every voter should take an interest in the affairs of his town and turn out to these meetings. Besides electing town officers, many matters affecting the welfare of the town should be taken up and discussed. The improvement of the roads within the town, the building of bridges and culverts, and the construction of ditches are some of the things that should be carefully considered at every town meeting.

Shelly Signal: A farmers' institute will be held in Shelly next Wednesday. It will be conducted by T. A. Hoverstad, superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Crookston, and he will be assisted by A. J. Glover, instructor at at Minnesota Dairy School at St. Anthony Park. Topics on grains, grasses, forage crops, dairying, etc., will be discussed. Mrs. Hoverstad, who instructs in dairying will in all probability be present. A book embracing the topics above mentioned will be given away to every person who attends the morning session. There should be a large attendance.

Grafton Times-Record: Frank H. Hamilton has been adjudged responsible for the death of Leonard R. Day, the jury in his case having rendered a verdict of manslaughter in the first degree. The jury arrived at their verdict early last Wednesday and within fifteen minutes the news was given to the world. The jury recommended him to the mercy of the court. The penalty is from five to twenty years. When the verdict was read Hamilton, to whom it meant so much, made tremendous effort to control himself; he had kept up wonderfully during the three weeks of the trial, but now that it had gone against him, he showed his great disappointment and went to the jail without a word to friend or counsel. The counsel of Hamilton gave notice of a new trial, which will probably be asked for on the ground of "newly discovered" evidence.

Gov. Van Sant is a tireless worker. He is at his office promptly at 9 o'clock every morning and continues steadily at his desk until 6 in the evening, with only a brief interval for lunch. After a 6 o'clock dinner he again takes up the numerous details of the executive branch of state government, and frequently labors far into the night. During the day his office is besieged with a steady stream of callers and especially at this busy time, during the session of the legislature, he is obliged to spend many hours in answering correspondence and considering state matters long after the average business man has retired to rest. A man of less robust frame would break down under the strain, but Gov. Van Sant carries the burden with easy dignity and his countenance has lost none of its cheery good nature nor his greeting its cordial warmth. He remains the same genial man who made friends wherever he has traveled in years gone by.

It was freely predicted that the river and harbor bill would not pass for the reason that it was so overloaded with appropriations and the total had reached such extravagant figures as it passed the house that the senate would not stand it. These appropriations were greatly reduced in the bill as reported to the senate by Senator Nelson, who had charge of it, and as chairman of the senate branch of the conference committee he managed to induce the house conferees to accept most of the senate reductions. But there were several important items on which no agreement could be reached by the conference committee, and late last night both houses were struggling with the questions. There can be little doubt, however, that it will pass. It will provide the necessary funds for all really necessary and important improvements, with a total outlay close upon $49,000,000 and cash appropriations of $23,000,000. The interests of the northwest are well taken care of in the bill. Senator Nelson is receiving high praise for the skill he has displayed in managing this big appropriation bill in the senate and in the conference committee.

Brainerd Tribune: The latest talk is that in case a new federal judgship is created in Minnesota, the friends of Congressman Morris will work hard for his appointment to the position. It is understood that the Minnesota delegation in the house will endorse Judge Morris, provided he will accept the office. It is likely, too, that Mr. Morris' political enemies would not be displeased if he should be removed from active political life, even though it be accomplished by his elevation to a life position on the federal bench. There are several republican aspirants for his seat in congress, who, while they have no particular love for him, would undoubtedly interpose no objection to this plan, for it would eliminate Judge Morris from the congressional problem and leave the way open for them to fight for his present position among themselves. Judge Morris would therefore prove a formidable candidate.

The Minneapolis Journal is of the opinion that the bill before the legislature, allowing telegraph and telephone companies to string their wires along highways, without let or hinderance, is one that condemns itself. To pass it would set one of the worst precedents that the lawmakers could establish. No person or corporation should have any such privilege except by license from the local authorities of the city, village, town or county, as the case may be. The plea that a separate law can be passed providing for municipal regulation is a silly one. The first grant made for such use of the highways should be made conditional upon such local license. The large cities now need just such a restriction and a city or village that expects to extend its limits hereafter ought to have the reserved right to regulate the use of the streets in its new territory. So, also, every new village or town should have a similar power of regulation whenever the proper time arrives. This rule seems elementary, and to violate it can only make trouble, sooner or later. Let us not now make a precedent which may soon turn upon us and vex us. The bill does not deserve to become a law.

It is improbable that President McKinley will cross the Mexican border for the purpose of meeting President Diaz of that country on his way to California this summer, although he is at entire liberty, so far as law is concerned, to do so. Yet, as no president has ever yet left the United States during his term of office, an unwritten law has grown up that restricts him to the United States about as closely as any legal proviso could do. It will be recalled that a discussion arose when President Cleveland went on a hunting expedition to North Carolina via the ocean route past Cape Hatteras, as to whether he went outside of the three mile limit, and what would ensue if he had gone outside the territorial limitations of the country.

This question has never been legally decided. The constitution deals with the question as follows:

"Article 2, Sec. 6: In case of the removal of the president from office or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office, the same shall devolve upon the vice president, and the congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability shall be removed or a president shall be elected."

THE INAUGURAL.

The address of President McKinley to his fellow citizens has the merit of brevity. It combines with that the merit of a statesman's views of the present and the future. It is vibrant with the patriot's confidence in the destiny of his country and the triumph of its best ideals. It brushes aside the Adullamites and their omens of evil. It tersely states a historic fact when it says that "the prophets of evil were not the builders of the republic, nor in its crises since have they saved or served it." It answers those who have prated of imperialism with the assurance that "the American people, entrenched in freedom at home, take their love for it with them wherever they go and they reject as mistaken and unworthy the doctrine that we lose our liberties by securing the enduring foundations of liberty to others."

Not of less significance, as indicating the change coming over republican policy as a result, largely of our new foreign relations, as an attainment of past purpose and effort, is the suggestion that our industries need larger markets to be reached by broader commercial relations. It is immaterial how these relations are reached, whether by lowering the bars reciprocally or independently, the necessity of lowering them is becoming more and more apparent if we would prevent the erection of bars against our products at the entrance of foreign markets. If the paper halts at any point it is where it touches the Cuban question, and that is due to the perception of the inconsistency between the sentimentalism of the war resolution and the plain drift of destiny, to which the Platt amendment to the army bill seeks to accommodate the situation created by that spasm of embecility.

A PRIMARY ELECTION LAW.

The legislature must not conclude that, because the newspapers of the state are not filled with urgent appeals for the immediate enactment of a primary election law, the sentiment in favor of such a law has abated, says the Duluth News-Tribune. The people of the state expect this legislature to pass an election law based on that of Hennepin county, with such improvements as experience has suggested. This was the understanding, and a failure to do so will be regarded as a breach of public faith.

The sentiment in favor of this reform legislation is stronger in Minnesota than it is in Wisconsin, where the entire public attention is fixed on that one law. There is no doubt that the professional politicians in Minnesota than it is in Wisconsin, where Dakota will oppose the enactment of an election law that will render useless the political machines but fortunately in Minnesota these political machines have not been, and are not now, so nearly omnipotent as they have been in Wisconsin and Dakota. Still, if the friends of clean elections and the primary rights of the people to choose who shall be their candidates allow the matter to drift along to the end of the session, the enemy will be able to postpone the election bill and perpetuate their power for another two years.

It is never wise to allow your powder to become damp in the presence of the enemy, although a flag of truce may be flying.

Now is the accepted time—tomorrow may be too late.

MRS. NATION AN IMITATOR.

Some ancient newspaper paragrapher remarked, "There is nothing new under the sun." We presume it was a newspaper paragrapher who said it, because it was original at the time and has been used as original many times since. Whether original or not, it was true then, and has been accumulating evidences of truth ever since.

We know now that Shakespeare cribbed the plot of most of his plays and that many of his finest and most striking pentameters were written by other men. The Declaration of Independence, which in our youth we were taught to believe was written by one Thomas Jefferson, we now learn was drafted by Thos. Paine.

Now comes the report, supported by indoubtable evidence, that Mrs. Carrie Nation is not the originator of the hatchet crusade against the unlawful Kansas joints. The shock of this revelation is great, but the people must stand it. All things considered, it is better to know it now than to have it made public in the future when the hatchet has been engraved on a certain monument over the words, "Gone but not forgotten."

Up near the northern boundary of Kansas there is a little village known by the euphonious name of Miltonvale. It was about two years ago that the ladies of the "vale" organized a "hatchet brigade" and proceeded to the joint of one Peter Hammerli with the intent to enter and smash, not only the intoxicants, but the ungodly mirrors, which multiply the images of sin, together with the bar fixtures and all other appurtenances thereunto the place belonging.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

A COMPLETE SYSTEM IS INTRODUCED IN CITY SCHOOLS.

To the patrons of the public schools: During the past month a complete system of physical culture has been introduced into our schools. Miss Ada B. Hillman, formerly assistant in physical culture at the University of Minnesota, has instituted the work in the various rooms and has given daily lessons to the teachers.

The financial responsibility for this movement has been assumed by the teachers. In order to meet this obligation and in order to show the people of Crookston something of the character of physical training in the schools, two open lessons will be given by Miss Hillman in the assembly hall of the high school building, Friday and Saturday evenings, March 8 and 9. The first of these will be given by 100 children from grades one to seven. The exercises of the next evening will be given by the eighth grade, by the high school and by a class of teachers.

The assembly hall of the high school contains but 150 seats. All these will be reserved and sold at 25 cents each for each evening.

You are cordially invited to attend one or both evenings.

—R. W. Hitchcock,
Superintendent.

STOPS THE COUGH AND WORKS OFF THE COLD.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

—If you wish to renew your loan, or take up balance on your contract for deed, see Ole Tiegen, Crookston.

—Typewriter paper at the Journal office.

LOST BOTH HANDS

Polk County Farmer Gets Lost In a Snow Storm and Is Badly Frozen.

HARDSHIP CAUSES INSANITY

And Besides Losing His Fingers the Unfortunate Man Gets Demented.

Jno. Vavarina, an aged farmer whose home is in the town of Tabor, is certainly an unfortunate individual, and deserves pity. The old man some years ago had to be sent to the insane asylum on account of his demented mind, but lately he has been at home and was able to be about and do a little work. Several weeks ago he and one of his sons were engaged in hauling cord wood, and in returning towards evening with a load, a severe storm came up and Vavarina, unbeknown to his son, who was driving the team, stepped into a house which stood near the road to warm himself. Young Vavarina had reached home before he discovered his father's disappearance. Search was instituted at once, but as night had fallen, it was difficult to locate the old man, who had left the place where he had been warming himself and started for home. In the severe storm and dark night he soon lost his way and was forced to wander about on the open prairie all night. Towards morning he brought up at a straw stack and was found there by a neighbor about 11 o'clock that day. His hands, feet and face were so badly frozen that all his fingers and both thumbs had to be amputated close to the hand, and as a result of the hardship endured he has again lost his mind.

His oldest son reached here with the unfortunate man yesterday and took him to Fergus Falls last night.

HORSE ON THE FARMER.

AND A VERY DEAD ONE AT ITS BEST.

A farmer from Maple Lake came to town yesterday having a single horse hitched to an old fashioned gig, and before he found time to unhitch the animal he got into a horse trade with Ed Schraeder, who has a barn full of equines on North Main street. The trade did not require a great deal of time, as both men were anxious to exchange what they had, for most anything else that looked like a horse.

The farmer hitched up the new horse and started down Broadway. He had just reached the Hotel Crookston when the animal dropped on the street and died shortly afterwards. The unlucky horse trader didn't mind the loss of his horse so much as he begrudged the one dollar which he had to pay the city scavenger for hauling the carcass to the dumping grounds.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

While coupling cars in the Fifth ward yards of the Great Northern this morning, Milt Atkinson, the night foreman of the switch crew, came very near losing his life. In attempting to make a coupling he stepped between two moving cars and fell square across the rails. The front trucks of the car had reached his body and in some manner pushed it along, allowing Atkinson to roll out of his perilous position, on the side of the track, and thus escape with his life. Eye witnesses shuddered at the accident, as they imagined the deadly wheels to pass over the body of one of their number.

WANT SPECIAL LAW.

Mayor Nat Campbell has forwarded to Congressman Eddy a special bill, authorizing the secretary of the interior to issue a patent for a certain piece of land bought by Mr. Campbell under the isolated act, from the government.

At present there is no law permitting the issuance of patents for these lands and the new bill, if passed, will govern sales of isolated tracts under which at present no patent can be obtained without special legislation.

Skrivseths Gallery

is the place to get good photographs. 216 N. Broadway, Crookston.

NOTES FROM EXCHANGES.

Moorhead Independent: The new city council will meet Monday night and at that time Mayor Tillotson will announce the appointment of chief of police and other appointive officers to be elected by the council will also be chosen at that time. While all of the officers have not yet been selected, the chief of police, as announced last week will be Thos. L. Murphy.

—Roseau Times: This community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. A. E. Wahl, wife of Cashier Wahl of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Badger. Mrs. Wahl died Tuesday night at 10 o'clock, after an illness of a few days, resulting from confinement. The deceased was a most estimable lady of loveable disposition, and during her residence at Badger became largely endeared to her friends. There are left a heart broken husband and two lovely children to mourn the loss of a wife and mother.

HANS' TURN NOW.

Washington, March 6.—The squabble over the postmastership at Grafton was revived today when the confirmation of Roderick Wengenat for postmaster at Grafton failed of confirmation. This will undoubtedly result in the appointment of Wengenat during recess and his eventual confirmation by the senate. He is endorsed by Spalding and opposed by Hansbrough. It is the first open contest between the two and the public will watch with interest the outcome.

MANS GOOD LUCK.

REV. DUNN OF DULUTH STRIKES IT AT HIGH NOTCH.

Through the lucky investment of her late husband, Mrs. C. H. Dunn, the widow of the former pastor of the First Methodist church, Duluth, is now independently wealthy. In 1891 Rev. Mr. Dunn gave his note for $500 for some mining stock on the Mssaba range and a few days ago the widow disposed of it for over $800,000. The original company and property was absorbed by the Consolidated Mining Co., and the stockholders were issued consolidated stock for their interest in the former property, and Mr. Dunn received 1,000 shares, which his widow has just disposed of for the sum stated.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with head aches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. For sale by F. H. Hillard & Son.

ACCUSED OF BASTARDY.

A young and rather good looking Fosston girl named Carrie Ryland appeared before Judge McLean and demanded a warrant for the arrest of Ernest H. Bridger, who conducts a saloon at the above named place, charging him with being the father of her unborn child. Bridger had his hearing this afternoon and Judge McLean held him in $300 bonds to the grand jury, which meets next June.

The same parties had a similar difficulty two years ago and the plaintiff in the case has a little daughter as a result, which she attributes to the parentage of Bridger. This new case will be watched with considerable interest by the friends of both sides.

—The quarantine on the Grand Forks college has been removed and students are now free to come and go as they wish. There has not been the slightest indication of any appearance of smallpox among the students. It has been decided that the supposed case, which resulted in the institution being quarantined, was not smallpox at all.

Consumption

Is a disease of civilization. When the Indian was a stranger to the white man he had no name in his vocabulary for this dreaded malady.

Without arguing as to the curability of consumption, it may be stated positively that Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures weak lungs, hemorrhages, bronchitis, deep-seated and stubborn cough, and other diseases which if neglected or unskillfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption. There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Persons suffering from chronic disease are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is conducted under the seal of sacred secrecy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little over thirty years, Dr. Pierce, assisted by his medical staff of nearly a score of physicians, has treated and cured thousands of men and women who had been given up as incurable by local physicians.

"Your medicine is the best I have ever taken," writes Mrs. Jennie Dingman, of Rapid City, Kalkaska Co., Mich. "Last spring I had a bad cough; got so bad I had to be in bed all the time. My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and before I had taken one bottle the cough stopped and I have since had no sign of its returning."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

NOTICE OF VILLAGE ELECTION.

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held on Tuesday, the 12th day of March, 1901, being the second Tuesday in March of said year, in the village of Climax, in Polk county Minnesota, for the purpose of the annual election of officers for said village for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before said meeting.

The following officers are to be elected:

One village president.
Three trustees.
One recorder.
One treasurer.
One assessor.
Justice of the peace.
Constable.

The polls of said election will be open at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon and will close at the hour of four o'clock of said day.

Dated this 1st day of March, 1901.

H. B. LANAGER,
Village Recorder.

Journal Wants

SEED WHEAT FOR SALE.

Pure Scotch Fife seed wheat for sale. O. H. Richardson, Crookston.

LAND FOR SALE.

150 acres near Fosston,
80 acres near McIntosh,
160 acres five miles southeast of Beltrami.
—Holston & Hagen,
Wallace Block, Crookston, Minn.

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade. We can offer better inducements now than at any other season Prepare for spring rush, no limit to time, tools presented, positions waiting Catalogue mailed free, Moler Barber College, Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company with a solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly, $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses; straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

WANTED—Capable, reliable person in every county to represent large company of solid financial reputation, $936 salary per year, payable weekly. $3 per day absolutely sure and all expenses, straight, bona fide definite salary, no commission, salary paid each Saturday and expense money advanced each week. STANDARD HOUSE, 334 Dearborn, St., Chicago.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., March 4, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the states of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, John Bergquist, of Oakwood, county of Beltrami, state of Minnesota, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 94, for the purchase of the NE¼ SE¼ of Section No. 5, in Township No. 149, Range No. 32, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Crookston, Minn., on Monday, the 20th day of May, 1901.

He names as witnesses:

James B. Girard, Axel G. Osterberg, Emil Falk, Andrew B. Sabe, all of Oakwood, Beltrami county, Minn.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 20th day of May, 1901.

SYLVESTER PETERSON,
Register.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

United States Land Office, Crookston, Minn., March 4, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the states of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, Nels P. Johnson, of Crookston, county of Polk, state of Minnesota, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 95, for the purchase of the NE¼ NW¼ and lots 1 and 2 of Section No. 31, in Township No. 144 N., Range No. 36 W., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Crookston, Minn., on Monday, the 27th day of May, 1901.

He names as witnesses:

Charles Feit, Alida P. O., Beltrami county Minn.; Hans Johnson, Crookston, Minn.; Joseph Johnson, Crookston, Minn.; B. Steele, Vern P. O., Beltrami county, Minn.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 27th day of May, 1901.

SYLVESTER PETERSON,
Register.

Summons.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK,—ss. In District Court.
SHELDON W. VANCE, and
GEORGE F. STONE, Plaintiffs,
vs.
——DUGGAN, TIMOTHY SULLIVAN,
——KINSELLA, Copartners as
DUGGAN, SULLIVAN & KINSELLA,
Defendants.

The State of Minnesota, to the above-named Defendants:

You, and each of you, are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint of the plaintiffs in the above entitled action, which said complaint has been filed and is now on file in the office of the clerk of the district court within and for Polk county, Minnesota, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint upon the subscriber at his office in the city of Crookston, Polk county, Minnesota, within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint, within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

—A. A. MILLER,
Attorney for Plaintiffs,
Crookston, Minn.

Dated Jan. 12, 1901. 42-47

S. C. JOHNSON'S

Feed Store.

Baled hay per ton......	10.00
Baled hay, per bale......	55c
Oats per bu........	28c to 33c
Ground Corn per cwt........	85c
Ground Corn per ton...	$16.50
Ground Feed, oats and barley per 100 lbs........	90c
Shorts, per 100 lbs........	80c
Shorts, per ton........	$15.00
Bran per 100 lbs........	75c
Bran per ton........	$14.50
Shelled corn per bushel...	45c
Shelled corn per 50 bu....	42c
Oyster shells per lb........	3c
Crystal Grit per lb........	3c
Low grape flour per cwt	$1.00

Telephone 108.
Cor. Main and Fletcher Sts.

Subscribe for the Daily Journal.
Subscribe for the Daily Journal.
Subscribe for the Daily Journal.

C. L. DOBNER, Pres. H. G DOBNER, Vice Pres. S. F. STAPLES, Sec. and Treas.

Northern Real Estate and Mortgage Company.

(INCORPORATED)

THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINN.

First Class Farm Mortgages for Sale. Farms bought and sold. List your farms with us Money loaned on improved farms in this neighborhood. Office over First State Bank.

REFERENCES—First State Bank, Thief River Falls. Scandia American Bank, Crookston, Scandinavian American Bank, St. Paul.

CITY AND VICINITY

Mrs. A. W. Page, of Minneapolis, is visiting with the family of Rev. Lawson for a few weeks.

—Geo. O. Buhu left Tuesday evening for California, where he intends to make his future home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fretz, of Warren, came down Saturday to spend Sunday with Mrs. E. Rose.

Miss Ida Shea returned to her home at Neche Friday after a pleasant visit with Miss Maude Gilles.

James Donaldson, of Argyle, who has been sojourning in the south for several months, returned Friday from New Orleans.

—A. J. Dwyer, of Minneapolis, arrived here Tuesday on his way out to Solway, where he has large lumbering interests this winter.

—The Ed. L. Healy Land company, of Red Lake Falls, is branching out in its operations and will soon open another office at Fosston.

—Dick Underwood, the Solway hotel man, came down Monday to take in Sousa's band concert and to transact a little business on the side.

—Carl Riedesel, the Second street shoe man, is all smiles these days, because his wife presented with a pretty little baby girl Monday noon.

—Mrs. O. W. Holcomb and daughter Dora, who have been visiting the family of M. B. Milligan for a few deys, returned to their home at Warren Tuesday.

—Walter Knott, Sam Saulsbury, Sam Dean and H. C. Aldrich form a Mentor quartette who left Monday evening for Kamiah, Idaho, to seek their future fortune.

—I. K. Meseslt, the Mentor postmaster and politician, came down Saturday evening on important business and Sundayed with the good people of the Queen City.

—W. W. Eagle and O. C. Fuglsteth, of Fertile, came up Monday and after taking in Sousa's band performance, found time enough to make the Journal a pleasant call.

—S. D. Felsing, president of the Maple Bay Windstacker Co., came down from Mentor Monday to look after the progress of the company's new factory building in this city.

—Chas. Fellman and Reddy Simonson, two popular St. Hilaire boys, heard Sousa Monday afternoon, and returned home this morning with their hearts full of sweet melodies.

—John S. Dwyer, ex-register of deeds of Polk county, left Monday for St. Paul, where he has accepted a position with one of the leading machinery firms. John's many friends here will be pleased to learn of his good luck.

—Thos. Harborn, who recently had an attack of Montana fever and went out there to look over the country, returned Monday to induce his wife to remove to the western state. Mr. Harborn is highly pleased with Montana and expects to engage in stock raising.

—A little son of Mrs. Shields, while carrying a lamp on Monday, stumbled and fell. In falling he broke the bowl of the lamp and cut his wrist quite badly on one of the pieces. Dr. Skjelland found it necessary to sew up the wound and the little fellow is doing nicely today.

—Fisher Bulletin: Ed Evenson received word Tuesday that his father, John Evenson, Sr., died that day at his home at Spruce Grove, Becker county, after a three months' illness from cancer of the stomach. Mr. Evenson was formerly a resident of this place, leaving here five years ago this spring.

—Owing to the non-apearance of Walter Fee, foreman of the McKinnon farm, who was shot at by Peter Hiler last Saturday afternoon, the latter was discharged from custody Monday. Hiller, it is claimed, is laboring under delusions at times, and Saturday's affair is attributed to one of these.

Chris Sulerud, of Gary, was married on Saturday of last week to Miss Emily Rishoff, sister of Editor Rishoff of the Gary Graphic. The groom is one of the wealthy farmers of Norman county and the happy bride numbers among the most popular people of the community.

—Editor Geo. Sheire, of the Fisher Bulletin, arrived in the city Saturday evening on his way to St. Paul to visit his aged mother. George failed to attend the editorial association meeting at St. Paul last week, rather than to disappoint his mother of a pleasant call.

—Editor C. K. Semling, of the Halstad Reporter, accompanied by his wife and family returned from Gary Tuesday, where they attended the Sulerud-Rishoff wedding last Saturday. C. L. Sulerud and O. J. Nygaard, both of Halstad, were also among the visitors who atended the matrimonial ceremonies, and the Journal acknowledges a pleasant call from the entire party.

—The Chicago Times-Herald of last Friday contains an account of a sleighing party in which three young people well known in this city participated. They were Miss Mayme Goodrich, formerly a resident here, and Earl Marcum and George Couvrette who are attending school in the Windy City. Mr. Marcum is a student at Hahneman medical college and Mr. Couvrette is attending Northwestern dental college.

Monday Andrew Bakken of Fertile, was arrested on a charge of assault preferred by F. C. Barholz, proprietor of the Fertile House, and taken before Judge Julius Schwarz. The defendant plead guilty to an unwarranted assault, and Judge Schwarz, in his unlimited wisdom, did the square thing by imposing upon the prisoner a fine of $25 and costs, amounting in all to $37.50. This case has attracted considerable attention at Fertile, and the end is not yet.

—Itasca News: Ed Nelson, a young man who had become quite well acquainted about town two years ago, and at that time took up a homestead in the Deer Lake settlement, sprung a surprise on his friends Tuesday by stepping off the train all togged up in soldier uniform. He enlisted at Duluth two years ago and has just returned from the Philippines. He says he has had enough of soldier glory and will not leave this healthy climate again unless compelled to.

—Elias Steeuerson will loan money on improved farms at low rates.

—Mrs. Sam Rosenthal will entertain at her home next Saturday afternoon, at a thimble bee.

—The Woman's club of this city is just beginning the study of German literature at their weekly meetings.

Peter Couvrette recently sold his residence property in Jerome's addition to Mrs. Emileue Collins, of the town of Farley, the consideration being $1,200.

The College Comedy Company, of this city, drove over to Fisher last Friday and gave one of their favorite performances in the vening at that place.

A. G. Forseth, formerly of Grand Forks, arrived in the city Friday to accept a position as accountant in the wholesale house of the Ray Mercantile company.

—Prof. Hoverstad was at Mentor Friday, to assist in the organization of a creamery association, and also show the people out there how to conduct a farmers' institute.

K. K. Austin contemplates the erection of a large new barn on his property on Hunter street. Later in the season he expects to erect a fine and commodious dwelling.

Ernst Barholz, of Fertile, returned from a trip to Montana Thursday. He is so well pleased with that country that he has decided to locate there, and he will leave next week.

After a week's absence from the store, through illness, the smiling countenance of Albert Fontaine is again noticable behind the counters of Fontaine & Anglim's establishment.

A quintette of Minneapolis lady bicyclists are anxious to have a bicycle race in this city if they can procure a hall suitable for the event. They need a hall 50x100 feet in size, and would have a seven night race.

Rev. Father Theillon, of Gentilly, has been visiting in Paris for several months, is on his way home again, and reached New York city Saturday. The reverend gentleman is expected here in about two weeks.

Dick Herbert, a Moorhead saloonkeeper, is held to the grand jury for selling liquor on Sunday. Ex-Mayor Aaker filed the complaint against Herbert, who is well known here, having made the investigation personally.

Ovide Marean, of Terrebonne, who visited his son in Manitoba for a few days, returned Friday and passed the night in the city. While in the Canadian province Mr. Mareau witnessed several interesting games of hockey.

Dr. W. H. Smith, A. A. Buckingham and Nic Ershfield, formed a party bound for their claims out in the Big Fork country. They expect to remain a week, and while away bag some of the game which is to be found on their homesteads.

The first meeting of the creditors of Joseph Holland, of Thief River Falls, insolvent, was held before Referee Vaule Friday. Only two minor claims were allowed, the balance being preferred accounts. Carl M. Hanson was elected trustee of the estate.

The comedy presented by the students of the Crookston College, at College hall Thursday night was very successfully rendered, and every part well taken. The only exception to a complete success of the occasion was the lack of a large audience. Those present enjoyed a rare treat.

Argyle Banner: Erick Benson, of Crookston, is here under treatment for ulcer of the stomach, by Dr. WhetStone. Mr. Benson has suffered for months and has been treated without benefit in Grand Forks. He is much improved and will leave for home in a couple of weeks

Red Lake Falls Courier: Pat Morin and Dick Gervais, two lads 15 years of age, tired of home life and started out to see the world for themselves Sunday evening. Wm. Gervais drove to Crookston Monday in the hope of being able to locate the boys but was unable to get any trace of them.

Professor Hoverstad, manager of the Experiment Farm, is in receipt of a letter from the president of the State Experiment Farm, stating that $10,000 would be appropriated for the equipment and support of the substation of the Experiment Farm, viz: for buildings, repairs and live stock, and $1,200 was also to be appropriated for the Dairy Farm at Grand Rapids.

C. U. Nolan, assistant roadmaster of the Great Northern on the Cass Lake division, has a doleful sort of lastlike apearance these days. Asked whether he had an "attack of grip" or a "smashed up road bed," he answered simply, "nit." Mrs. Nolan is visiting friends at Flandreau, N. D., which explains the cause of his lonesomeness.

Thomas Way, of Britt, and J. Phillips of Des Moines, Ia., were here Friday and closed the deal for a good sized chunk of Polk county dirt, which was sold to them by C. E. Stevens, of the Stevens Land Company. The Iowa gentlemen are old friends of Conductor Murray of this city, and the meeting of the gentlemen, after years of separation, proved a very enjoyable surprise.

—A Paris laundry has started a novelty in the drying and purifying of linen, and has succeeded in convincing most of its customers that the notion is a good one. The air about 100 feet from the housetops is particularly good for linen, say the proprietors, and they accordingly send the shirts and collars for a balloon trip. Bamboo frames are attached to a captive balloon, and the linen, "rough-dry," is fixed to the frames and sails away in the air. The balloon makes six ascents daily, and an extra charge is made for each article that undergoes the treatment.—Exchange.

J. A. Button, who has been stenographer and book-keeper in the offices of H. Steenerson and Miller & Foote during the past two years, and who has been teaching an evening business school all winter, has decided to quit his office work and to devote his entire time to his school, which has grown until there is more than he can attend to in the evenings. Mr. Button is a practical reporter, besides an experienced teacher and will certainly make a success in this line of business. As heretofore, Mr. Button will attend to all reporting calls, such as justice court cases, probate court cases, taking depositions, etc.

—Pat Sullivan and wife of Crystal, N. D., passed through here Tuesday on their way to St. Hilaire, where they will reside in the future.

—Little Arthur Challis, who has been attending the St. James Sisters' Home at Duluth, has arrived home and will remain with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Challis.

—Miss Louisa Smith, sister of Agent George Handy of the Northern Pacific ticket office, after visiting here for several months, left Tuesday evening for her home in Terry Springs, Ill.

—Nic Ershfield has returned from his claim out in the Blackduck country, and is glad to be home again. Dr. W. H. Smith and A. A. Buckingham are still out there.

—S. D. Booher is the latest addition to engage in the real estate business. Mr. Booher comes from Nevada, Ia., and has moved into one of E. M. Walsh's dwellings on Ash street.

—Deputy Revenue Collector Johnson left Tuesday for Rothsay, away down in Wilkin county, where he expects to capture a few "sightless porkers," in other words, blind piggers, who have been selling booze without having procured Uncle Sam's permit.

—The ice races yesterday were very exciting and the winning horses came under the wire in the following order: F. C. Brown's mare first, Dan McKinnon's Queen Angus second, and John Moorhead's new horse, Billy Drags, third.

—B. S. Bennett of Fosston received a telegram Wednesday from St. Cloud announcing the death of his mother at that place, at the age of 63. She has been a sufferer from paralysis for the past four years and her death was not unexpected. Mr. Bennett left for St. Cloud on the afternoon train.

—Dick White, of the Marais, who has some lumbering interests in the pine district, was called home Tuesday by telegraph. The missive was accompanied by a further statement informing him of the arrival of a pair of twins at his home, who were anxiously awaiting Dick's return from the woods.

—Dr. Morley Tuesday performed a critical operation upon the left eye of Jacob Kiewel, proprietor of the Crookston brewery. For some time past Mr. Kiewel noticed that the eyelashes of his optic were turning inward, causing a severe inflammation of the eyeball and rendering him almost blind. The operation proved successful and the patient will soon have his eyesight fully restored.

—Several years ago J. D. McPhee, foreman of the Lockhart farm, and a brother of his, invested in some mining stock in Alaska, and recently "Mack" received a letter from the brother in which a large sized nugget, almost pure gold, was enclosed, and informing him that it was taken from one of their mines. Evidently the boys struck a rich gold vein and are receiving good results.

Tuesday evening Rev. Reinertson, of the Norwegian Lutheran church, spoke the words which made R. Johnson and Miss Hilda Storeug man and wife. The young couple reached here from Hallock on the evening train and returned in the morning. The groom is the manager of the Kelso farm at Hallock and the young couple enjoy a large circle of friends, who will extend congratulations upon the happy occasion.

—J. H. Boyd, who recently came here from Nevada, Ia., and opened a real estate office, was somewhat sadly disappointed yesterday. He rented the Dufour residence in Jerome's addition and expected his family to arrive this morning, to occupy the building. Early in the morning, however, he received a telegram from Mrs. Boyd stating that they had missed last evening's west bound train out of St. Paul, and could not reach here until this morning.

BECAME A PRISONER.

MISS MULCAHY IS LOCKED UP WITH SMALLPOX PATIENTS.

Sunday afternoon Miss Eliza Mulcahy, daughter of Robert Mulcahy, the James hotel proprietor, concluded to visit her parents' home, despite the fact that the house was under quarantine for smallpox. The watchman in charge of the place warned the young lady not to enter the house, but in some manner she managed to evade the special policeman's vigilance and get into the building. Before she was able to get out again she was discovered, and, with the balance of the inmates of the James, placed under quarantine, although Mr. Mulcahy, the only smallpox patient in the city, has almost fully recovered from his illness, the authorities have not yet raised the quarantine on the James hotel.

BUSINESS MAN SUICIDES.

Haus Mikkelson, a prominent merchant of Pelican Rapids, committed suicide Sunday by hanging himself while his wife and family were at Sunday school. Mr. Mikkelson had been very despondent over financial reverses of late, and on Friday of this week had turned his property over to a trustee for the benefit of his creditors. He was 46 years of age and leaves a wife and four children. He was regarded for years as one of the county's foremost citizens. He was a member of the legislature of 1895.

FERTILE FIRE.

Early Thursday morning the Fertile fire department was aroused by an alarm turned in by W. W. Eagle, who discovered the Northwestern hotel on fire.

The department responded promptly and to their efforts is largely due the prevention of a general conflagration, which would have resulted in case of headway in the hotel flames.

As it is, the hotel had a very narrow escape, and the loss is practically nominal.

CASCARINE AT ALL DRUGGISTS.
Cures Billiousness, Constipation and Dyspepsia, or money refunded. Price 50 cents. Book explaining cause and cure mailed free. Rea Bros. & Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

MARRIED ANYWAY.

Friends in this city have received information from the former Mrs. Al. Gates, stating that she had been married to Velmer Gates, and now signs herself "Mrs. Velmer Gates."

DIED SUDDENLY

A Popular Citizen of Fosston Suddenly Expires in a Physican's Office.

BEEN HERE FOR TREATMENT

And Although Ailing No One Dreamed Robert Sutor So Near His End.

The startling news yesterday which spread like wild fire, that death had suddenly overtaken Robert Sutor, a farmer who lived three miles south of Fosston, was received with a great deal of regret by the dead man's many warm friends in this city. The particulars of the unexpected death of Mr. Sutor are briefly told. He came to this city some time ago to receive treatment for heart trouble, and had been a patient at St. Vincent hospital. Last evening he felt much improved and was about the Palace hotel and other places up to shortly after ten o'clock, when he stepped outside and went across the street to call on Dr. Dunlop.

He had hardly entered the doctor's office when he reeled and sank into a chair, expiring a few moments later. Heart trouble had caused his sudden death.

The deceased was about 38 years of age and leaves a wife and four or five children to mourn his untimely demise. He was a brother of Sam Sutor, the Fosston hotel man, and was generally honored and respected. His friends were counted only by the number of his acquaintances, and these were legion.

His family and other relatives were advised by telegraph this morning of the sudden death, and they are expected to arrive on the five o'clock train from Fosston, and make arrangements for the funeral. The dead body was removed from Dr. Dunlop's office to Chesterman's undertaking establishment, where they will remain until taken to Fosston for burial.

The Journal joins the many friends of the deceased in extending its sympathy to the bereaved wife and family, as well as other relatives, in this hour of deep sorrow.

CALLED AWAY.

WELL KNOWN POLK COUNTY CITIZEN PASSES AWAY.

Word was received from Euclid on Monday morning announcing the death of Capt. Louis Hancock, which occurred at that place the previous day.

The deceased was born near Detroit, Mich., on July 18, 1835, born near Detroit, Mich., July 18, 1835, and removed to Wabasha county, Minn., in the early fifties. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in the Third Minnesota, and after serving for a time he was advanced to the captaincy of Co. G, of his regiment. After the close of the war Capt. Hancock returned to Minnesota and in 1836 he was married to Miss Ruth Bolton, who with five children survive the deceased, one son and four daughters.

Deceased was always one of the foremost citizens of his locality and held nearly every town office to be voted for. He served as member of the school board for more than fifteen years, and also chairman of the boad of supervisors for many years.

He was honored and respected by everyone whose pleasure it was to know him.

ADOLPH E. KEOPPE

ONE OF CROOKSTON'S PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN IS DEAD.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Thursday eve., the grim reaper claimed as a victim Adolph E. Koeppe, of the firm of Koeppe Bros., cigar manufacturers on Main street, as a result of that awful destroyer, consumption. The deceased has been a sufferer for a long time, but was able to attend to business until shortly after New Year, when he was taken ill with grip, which hastened his end.

Mr. Koeppe was born in 1870, at Fort Atkinson, Wis., and came to Crookston with the rest of the family in 1876. He entered the employ of H. F. Brown and learned the cigarmaker's trade and later on established himself in the cigar business with his brother, the firm continuing until his demise.

Deceased leaves to mourn his untimely death, his aged mother, three brothers and one sister, the latter residing in California.

The funeral services were held from the Congregational church Sunday afternoon, Rev. Fisher officiating.

PASSED AWAY.

Friday morning occurred the death of Joseph Simpson, at his home, one and a half miles west of the city, as a result of grip. The deceased was a well known resident of this city and Polk county, and was highly respected. He had just passed the age of 62 years.

The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the M. E. church.

ANOTHER BUSINESS CHANGE.

Monday afternoon P. L. Reane sold the Star restaurant on Robert street to Messrs. Lewis Simpson, of this city, and John Lester, of Red Lake Falls, who will conduct this popular eating house in the future.

Mr. Renne has not yet decided what he will engage in in the future, but he does not intend to leave Crookston for the present.

PILE AND FISTULA CURE.
Sure cure, quick relief; sample treatment of Red Cross Pile & Fistula Cure & book mailed free. Rea Bros. & Co., Minneapolis, Minn.

Millinery Superiority
Is what we demonstrated at our first spring opening. It was a grand success.

OUR GRAND OPENING will take place in a few days-Watch for it.

We Are Showing the Newest Things in SILK WAISTS, SUMMER DRESSES, PETTICOATS, TRIMMINGS, SPRING HATS.

We are agents for the celebrated MADAME WADE CORSETS.

Our Dressmaking Parlors are the finest in the Northwest. An experienced lady tailoress and fitter. Latest styles and at low prices.

We Deal Exclusively In Ladies' Goods.
MARGARET CHALLIS.
NEXT DOOR TO POSTOFFICE.

Button's Business College
BRANCHES TAUGHT
Shorthand, Bookeeping, Typewriting, Commericial Law, Mimeographic Work, Commercial Arithmetic, General Office Work, Orthography, Reporting, Correspondente,
Both Day and Evening Classes Now in Session. Call on or Address
J. A. BUTTON, PRIN. 506 N. Main Street, CROOKSTON, MINN.

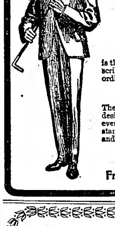
No.9-20 Triumph Steel Ranges
$36.00
Has oven 20 inch wide, 18 inches high, 23 inches deep; six No. 9 lids; 15-gallon copper resevoir, high closet. Extra heavy fire-linings for wood or coal. This is a heavier and better range than what our competitors are selling for a much higher price.

9-18 Gem Laurel Steel Ranges
$26.00
Four No. 9 lids and one No. 6 lid; copper reservoir and high closet.

We carry a complete line of Hardware Stoves and Ranges and invite your patronage.

Our Motto:
What you get for your money is as important s the amount you pay

THOMPSON & BUSTERUD,



HONORABLY MADE AND STAUNCH
FRIEND BROS. CLOTHING
is the kind you are glad to wear. It has that indescribable air of style and refinement not found in ordinary clothing, and Proclaims the Wearer Splendidly Dressed
The materials are very durable and are exclusive in design; the "cut" is superb and breaths of style in every curve. The workmanship is Friend Bros.' standard—best in America. See our clothing, know and respect it.
Sold by leading dealers. Look for our name in right hand breast pocket.
Friend Bros. Clothing Co. Milwaukee, Wis.

The Riverside Dairy
